"We have good news to report from Spartanburg station, Rev. J. A. Porter, pastor. Services have been held in the church every night since April 9. Three services on Sabbaths.) The interest has gradually increased from the beginning. Mourners at the altar every call—from ten to twenty. Up to last Sunday I suppose the converts, numbered from twelve to fifteen. Two candidates for membership. Church revived, especially among the young men, some of whom are working nobly for the Master. Among the converts are two young men, the sons of itinerant ministers. Rev. W. W. Duncan has labored with zeal and efficiency throughout—co-operating with Bro. Porter; and no one has manifested a deeper interest in this extra effort to promote the salvation of souls than Dr. Carlisle, president of Wofford College. Could the parents whose sons are at Wofford witness his earnest and continued labors around the altar and elsewhere, I know they would realize how fortunate they are in having placed their sons under his supervision. Dr. Carlisle conducted the exercises last Sunday afternoon. Near the close, those who had experienced pardon or been restored, or who had cause to be thankful for having labored successfully in winning souls to Christ, were requested to make brief statements.

Let God be your companion, your bosom friend, your instructor, your counselor. Take him into the closet with you, into the study, into the shop, into the market-place, into the railway carriage, into the steamboat. When you make feasts and call guests, invite him as one of them. He is always willing to come, and there is no company like him.

The excitement on the Pacific coast about the continued immigrations of Chinese has induced a San Francisco minister to preach a sermon to show that, according to the Scriptures, the Chinese, having been placed by God in China, had no right to come to this country.

The thing which an active mind most needs is a purpose and direction worthy of its activity.—Bovee.

Publisher's Department.

PAY FIFTEEN CENTS AND SAVE US $1,200.

The subscription price of the ADVOCATE is $2.00 per annum, and we have a number of subscribers who have fifteen cents, some of them twenty-five cents, and some twenty-five cents for each and every thing. We want to ask them if they are taking the ADVOCATE. We cannot afford to take them at these figures, as we go where we must pay for everything we get, and pay the highest prices for printing. We cannot afford to take them at these figures, as we go where we must pay for everything we get, and pay the highest prices for printing. We cannot afford to take them at these figures, as we go where we must pay for everything we get, and pay the highest prices for printing.

To each subscriber this should not be more than fifteen cents, we hope to see it brought down to each subscriber. Amounts to several hundred dollars.

Under the new postal law we prepay the postage for all subscribers. During the year, and from this day, we have paid out One Thousand Dollars for postage. In view of this and the trifling expense to each subscriber we hope they will send the full amount due us. When our agents report what they have collected, without receiving a dime, we cannot expect them to pay the expense.

A GRATIFYING IMPROVEMENT.

No improvement in the vicinity of Lafayette Square for several years has given more general pleasure than that of Mr. James Hogan, the florist on Camp and Lafayette streets, on the latter of which he has erected a handsome and substantial building, in keeping with the neighborhood. It was recently finished by him. Mr. Hogan is preparing a suitable place for his extensive marble works. The Picayune makes the following remarks, which we endorse:

"The corner building has been repaired and painted, new doors and flooring throughout have been furnished, and now it presents a handsome appearance. A high fence runs to the old brick warehouse, which is long enough to afford room for the stone-cutters and artists in Mr. Hogan's employ.

"The ground floor of the former office is large and attractive show-room, where he will display specimens of monumental work, slabs, etc., and the upper room will contain his stock of marble and slate mantels, grates, etc., in which line he has done an extensive trade, and proposes to do more largely in the future.

"Mr. Hogan is well known as a master-workman, skilled and artistic in taste in all matters relating to his branch of business, and he has shown that he will give due attention to every facility for supplying a large and increasing trade, which his enterprise will deserve and he has ever lost sight of in the past. We wish him success, and hope that his many friends will give him a call."

PORTABLE GAS is suitable for lighting school houses, hotels, churches and other public buildings and residences, and brilliant light. For a full description see advertisement headed, "Gas at Living Prices," and for full information write to the Vulcan Gas Company, 106 Camp street. This company have their office in two doors from us. We say the light is beautiful and can testify to the steadiness and brilliancy of light which it makes. We have just been informed that the company have entered into a contract with the city to light the Fifth District Police with their gas.

SPLENDID FURNITURE, at prices in correspondence with the economy forced upon us by the universal depression. HAT Hall, at 106 Camp street, has a stock of most superb furniture, at prices surprisingly low. Now is the time to furnish your houses with articles of taste and elegance. See his advertisement in this week's ADVOCATE.

TRUNKS.—We do not think our readers who are going to travel this summer will find better trunks anywhere than at William Hogan's, 94 and 101 Canal street. Our experience with Mr. Hogan in the shoe and trunk line has been highly satisfactory. See advertisement elsewhere.

THE Phœnix Restaurant at Lake Pontchartrain, we understand, has been thoroughly repaired throughout, and opened in splendid repair. Mr. Miguel, the proprietor, promises to furnish his guests with the very best of everything in the city market.

RICE MILLS.—Let all persons who are interested in the growth or handling of rice call upon or write to Messrs. Jc B. & A. Johnson, at 154, 156 and 158 Magazine street. We invite attention especially to their card in another column.

WHOLESALE GROCERS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.—We call attention to the advertisement, on this page, of Messrs. Flaspoller & Nelson.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending May 6, 1870.

A—B F Alexander two letters $7.50, John W Adams, Saxon A Anderson, American News Company, C G Andrews $2, J E Andrews $12.55, E A Acriman, W F Alexander, J O Andrew $2, P Allen, Edwin Allen.

B—John C C Black, R H Baker $2, W J Bentley Brewer & Tilsdon, J M Barton $2.50, J M Black $1.35, Barnes & Wilkinson, J G Bardon, B Pollard-Tod, A C Brogan $10.25, Mrs E C Bardsdale $36.55, John H Barrett & Co, William Butler, Baker & Sperry, Mrs E H Boyd $3.10, J H Bratner.

C—John Church & Co two letters, Chambers, Whitmore & Co two letters, Beverly Chevallie, H F Cannap 50 cents, W K Chapman 25 cents, Geo A Crosse, Chambers Bro & Co, E A Clark (for Gates) $12, J H Cassity $5, Nicholas Christino $2, Lyman Carley, Thomas F Collins $1, H H Crawford $2, J L Creevy, William F Conant, Robert Carter & Bro.

D—Charles T Dillingham, Joel T Hayes $17, John Derbois $1, W H Dixon $4.75, Joseph Davis, Oliver Ellison & Co, A S Dickenson, Doty & McFarland, William H Dixon 75 cents, Rollin T Davis.

E—O Eady.

F—E N Freshman, R W Freeman $1.55, D N Foose $8.85, Pat Farrelly, S C Forsaith & Co, Julius Feechheller.

G—H Gwinner & Bro two letters, Charles H Galloway, Thomas Green, H M Gillis, A E Goodwyn $2, Mrs Susan Green.

H—W L C Hunnicutt, A L Harper $21, J W Hearne $1.25, W J Hamilton $100, H J Harding $20.75, M L J Hoover, J D Harper $2.

I—Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co, R S Island.

J—H A Jullinson, George Jackson, Mrs L V Jadkins $2, John A B Jones, Ed T Jones, Jackson & Jones.

K—William Kendrick & Son, Kuhn & James, H F Kavanaugh.

L—G R Lyle two letters, L Lobdell, Thomas V Leglyard 10 cents, C A Leglyard, N M Lowry $4, F Laycock, G M Liverman $13, J B Lippincott & Co, Lee, Shepard & Dilingham, L M Lessesum.

M—E McCord, William H Metheny, Morgan Envelope Company, Henry D Moore $25.75, E N Merrill, S C Merchant & Co, R A Morris $2.50, Thomas H McClendon, Mrs M J Gray $2, J M Mason, Lucien Minor 75 cents, J E Mason, J M McKee $10, Miss Mollie Melton 25 cents, A W Mellock $5, George W McMillan $5, Mary A Safford.

N—Thomas Nesbit & Son, two letters, Wesley Nimocks, J P New, Isaac H Nowlin, Joseph Nicholas, A B Nuttall & Co, Joseph H Newman.

O—Johnson & Oliver two letters, Mrs J O'Fallon, Samuel Rodgers & Co.

P—Elias Pairings, Pugh, Wagner Co, Charles A Perce, E Pugh, Samuel L Patterson, Jr, James T Park $2.50, L B Pyle $1.45, A L Phillips, A P Perry, Potter, Wheelwright & Co, W Parris, Peirce & Hamlin.

R—W L Richards, A V Rogers, Christine Rodgers, Hadley, Rodgers & Co, Wm B Rodgers, Rodgers & Co, Wm B Rodgers & Co, F K Richardson, Rodgers & Co, Wm B Rodgers & Co, Wm B Rodgers & Co, Wm B

Farm, Garden and Household.

Growing Rice on Upland.

Let the land be well drained, so that it may be well prepared with the plow. If rice is not planted very early it is best to plant in May, for if planted in April the time of its maturity will be in the driest and warmest time of summer; but if planted the first of March it will mature before that time; if it is planted from the tenth to the twentieth of May its maturity will be in September and the first of October. When the seasons are good and the weather cool I prefer planting old land, unless well drained; in May, for the following reasons: First, the soap water has dried up, and when the time comes to cultivate it the land is in a condition to destroy all weeds and grass.

Let the beds be but little elevated; lay off with a bull-tongue scooter about the size of a man's hand; cover with the same; if any clods are left on the rice, rake off with a hand rake; when the rice is about six inches high, and the weather is dry, run round with six-inch inch Dickson sweep; but if too wet to kill what is plowed up, tear off very shallow with half thimer; then, as soon as the ground is dry enough, scrape off each side with a hoe, pulling off of the rice all weeds and grass except crab grass. As soon as the ground is in good condition, run round again with a Dickson sweep eighteen or twenty inches wide, throwing some dirt against the rice—the dirt and rice will kill the crab grass; after this cultivate as circumstances may suggest.

For lowland rice I prefer what is called flint rice, as it is the hardest rice, and may be cleaned much better than any large, soft rice, as it will not break so badly; but for stock I would as soon have the Cinch or any other hard rice.

After taking off the outside husk the rice is not clean; the grain is covered with a thin, glutinous membrane, that comes off by beating. Three-fourths of a bushel of rice will plant an acre. The rice should be cut when the grains are of a golden yellow. The straw will make, if saved, good feed for mules, horses or cows. If the weather is bad it is best to tie into bundles and hang on poles; but if fair, cut, laying the heads of the rice upon the stubbles, say three or four days, and then up and house.

THRESHING OUT.

Have a close floor; take two saw horses two and a half feet high; put them about three feet apart; take hickory poles about three inches thick, bend the under side at each end, then nail down about two inches apart; let one hand stand on each side and beat on these. One hand can thresh out twenty or twenty-five bushels per day. Wind out the straw that is left in the rice as you do oats; put away very dry, and in the husk it will keep for several years.

I should have mentioned above that your should irrigate, when in your power, after the crop is put in good condition. Good, black swamp land will make, if well cultivated, one hundred bushels of rough rice per acre. Upland rice will do well on almost any good land; is well adapted to pine lands and all sorts hill-sides; if pine lands are well cow penned it will make a very good yield, if the season is favorable.
R. E. Hady, in Southern Planter and Farm.

Angora Goats.

There is a flock of Angora goats in California, owned by the Messrs. Reed, numbering five hundred, for which they paid $22 000. They clip five pounds each, and the last spring clip was sold in New York for $1 50 per pound.

Angora goats are easier kept than sheep, and it provided with shelter they stand the changes of weather better during the winter. They keep in better condition because their food is not exclusively grass, but in a large proportion, twigs and sprouts of trees. They are not so much pestered by dogs, and altogether require hardly any attention. In consideration of these facts our farmers should give the raising of Angora goats more attention. We feel assured that whoever invests and starts properly will be well pleased and be interested.

A good deal of attention, says a Sydney paper, is being given in New Caledonia to the raising of the Angora goat. The hair is said to make a very good "mohair" fabric, but its quality depends very much upon the care of the animals while young. The adults are treated in a similar manner to sheep, and are said to be very hardy, but the young are subject to the diseases of this goat. In early, badly drained pastures they rot, but the hair is better and fetches off very good. The flesh is excellent, and is prized in some parts of Australia to the last mutton. The milk is of good quality, and yields a good supply of butter and cheese. The hair is worth about 6d shearing a pound, and one ram will yield about 100 pounds at each shearing. The best plan is to shear them twice a year as this prevents the hair from falling off and from splitting at each shearing. It is about six inches long. Compared with the Merino sheep the Angora goat seems to have the advantage in the fact that the former produces only three and a half pounds of wool, worth two shillings and six pence per pound, and that six Merinos will eat as much as seven Angoras. These facts are important in view of the extended introduction of the Angora goat to this country.—St. Louis Herald.

A Sydney letter says Mr. S. R. Stuttyvant sends to the Field the following description of a tough forest legend: "Some years ago, when making New Zealand my home, I was one day riding through the bush, when I came upon a Maori village. Being anxious to see a native house, I dismounted and entered one. Its occupants were absent, but I found a fire burning in the middle of the floor, and a large pot of water boiling over it. Thinking that the natives would not object to my tasting their food, I looked into the pot, and saw a large piece of pork and a number of potatoes. Being hungry, I helped myself to a potato, and was about to put it in my mouth, when I noticed that it was quite black. Thinking that it was burnt, I threw it away, and took another, which I found in the same condition. Supposing that the pork was in the same state, I cut off a piece, and was about to eat it, when I noticed that it was covered with hair. Thinking that the natives had singed the pig before cooking it, I threw the piece away, and was about to leave the house, when I noticed a native lying in a corner. Thinking that he was asleep, I went up to him, and found that he was dead. I then left the house, and rode away as fast as I could."

THE MUSKMELON WORM.—Its depredations can be greatly checked by keeping the soil perfectly clear and free from grass, and the leaves kept well dusted with powdered lime; also keep the soil, as far as the vines extend, well sprinkled with the lime. In rainy seasons, when the grass cannot be kept down, lime should be used as often as it is washed off by the rains.

I have found the old English system of growing the musk melon the best—that is the ridge system. It can be done much faster than making hills. The ridge, or at least a furrow, is made with a turning plow; in this furrow the manure is spread, and hoed up like cotton or corn. The furrows may be laid off six feet apart, and the seed planted from two to six inches in the center of the ridge. I have succeeded in this way much better than by planting in hills. It is a good plan to put a flat chip or a piece of a broken pane of glass under each melon, and as they advance in size keep them turned over once a day; this should be done without twisting the stem or injuring its growth.

I find lime to be good also for the cabbage worm, and tomatoes will last much longer if the soil and leaves are kept well sprinkled with lime. Thoroughness, and at always resisted by success. A little labor and careful attention in both the propagation of the soil and killing out the grass and weeds, will overcome the various difficulties.—Judge Peyton, in Our Home Journal and Rural Southland.

NICE GINGERBREAD.—One quart of New Orleans molasses, one quart of thick milk, two eggs, half pound of butter, two ounce of saleratus, two pounds of flour, plenty of ginger. Mix all together in one soft batter; put in pans. Over-bing too hot. Soon. Ready.—Kentucky Times.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 65 Camp Street,
BETWEEN GRAVIER AND NEW ORLEANS.

Barnett's Iodo-Sarza!

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER KNOWN.

Anti-Rheumatic and Blood-Purifying Preparation.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON & SONS, Established 1854, Manufacturers of Ecclesiastical, Domestic and Memorial Stained Glass, Mosaic and Encaustic Tiles, Heraldic Painting, Etc. Churches and Dwellings Decorated and Furnished. Designs and Estimates furnished on application. Works, Nos. 1 and 3 Camac and 1 and 3 Commerce streets, and 1 and 3 Hancock street, New York.

GEORGE W. ROYER,
IMPORTER
Fancy Goods and Millinery,
103 CANAL STREET 103
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,
DEALER IN
Fancy and Staple Groceries,
CORNER MAGAZINE AND PHILLIPS STS.

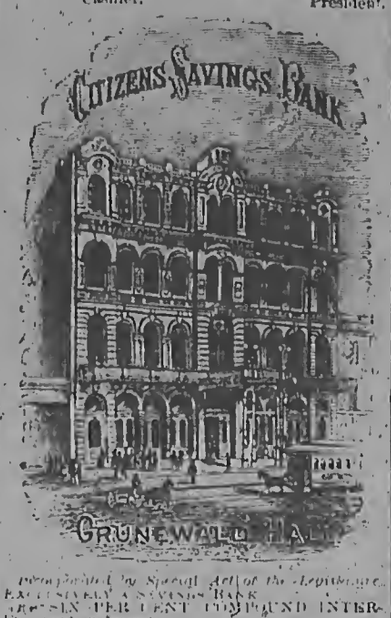
POMPANO! POMPANO!

POMPANO,
Corner Magazine and Phillips Sts.

GLASS STAINERS
GILDERS, AND FIRE PAINTERS.
CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.
WM. COULTER & SON
162 & 164 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

SAVINGS BANKS.

CITIZENS' SAVINGS BANK.
(A BANK FOR SMALL SAVINGS.)
Grunewald Hall, New Orleans, La.
M. BENNER, Cashier. J. L. GUBERNATOR, President.



Incorporated by Special Act of the Legislature.
EXCLUSIVELY A SAVINGS BANK.
SIX PER CENT COMPOUND INTEREST.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION
15 CANAL STREET 15
Incorporated March 15, 1853.

DAVID F. STUART, President.
THOS. J. DAVIS, 1st Vice-President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, 2d Vice-President.
CHARLES KELLOGG, Secretary.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK
SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY
51 Camp Street.
CAPITAL $500,000
P. G. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice-President.
DIRECTORS.
P. G. PALMER, JAS. JACKSON,
E. H. WHEELOCK, W. H. THOMAS,
A. BALDWIN, JAS. JACKSON,
P. G. PALMER.
JOHN S. WATSON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JOHN KENZ,
MANUFACTURER OF
Screwed and Sewed Boots and Shoes
NOS. 16 AND 20 ROYAL ST.,
Between Restaurant and Gross.
Between Great and Custom House Streets.
NEW ORLEANS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
GREAT REDUCTION
IN
BOOTS AND SHOES
AT
378 MAGAZINE STREET 378
Opposite the Magazine Street Market.
New Orleans.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK
SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY
51 Camp Street.
CAPITAL $500,000
P. G. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice-President.
DIRECTORS.
P. G. PALMER, JAS. JACKSON,
E. H. WHEELOCK, W. H. THOMAS,
A. BALDWIN, JAS. JACKSON,
P. G. PALMER.
JOHN S. WATSON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JOHN KENZ,
MANUFACTURER OF
Screwed and Sewed Boots and Shoes
NOS. 16 AND 20 ROYAL ST.,
Between Restaurant and Gross.
Between Great and Custom House Streets.
NEW ORLEANS.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
GREAT REDUCTION
IN
BOOTS AND SHOES
AT
378 MAGAZINE STREET 378
Opposite the Magazine Street Market.
New Orleans.

ELKINS & CO.,
108 CANAL STREET NEW ORLEANS
IMPORTERS OF AND DEALERS IN English Carpetings, Rugs, Etc.
Mosaic Oil Cloths, Matting, Curtain Damasks, Lace Curtains, Window Shadings, etc.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
651 MAGAZINE ST 651
Near the Levee, New Orleans.
Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Lounges, Easy Chairs and Sofas made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and rebuilt. All work guaranteed.

BIOT BROS. & CO.,
80 AND 82 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
HARDWARE,
NAILS AND IRON.
Miners' Stock and Tools.
AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS
IN GREAT VARIETY.
Nos. 80 and 82 Camp St.
The Quarter 49th Stores.

AGENTS WANTED
FOR
CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,
SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.
Presenting a Panorama of the Centennial Buildings, Designs in Relief.
Three Medallions make a Complete Picture, displaying the Horse Chestnut Avenue, Main Building and Machinery Hall, with Portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Grant.
Sent by Mail, Postage Paid, on receipt of Price.
Agents Wanted Everywhere. Send for Circulars.
Address U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway, NEW YORK.
P. O. Box 4584.

J. M. ELKINS, Manager.
ELKINS & CO.,
108 CANAL STREET NEW ORLEANS
IMPORTERS OF AND DEALERS IN
English Carpetings, Rugs, Etc.
Mosaic Oil Cloths, Matting, Curtain Damasks, Lace Curtains, Window Shadings, etc.

H. SPIERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
651 MAGAZINE ST 651
Near the Levee, New Orleans.
Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Lounges, Easy Chairs and Sofas made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and rebuilt. All work guaranteed.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'
INSURANCE CO.
37 CARONDELET STREET.
ASSETS APRIL 30, 1876..... $1,186,213 88.

This Company Issues Policies on Fire, River and Marine Risks
AT LOWEST TARIFF RATES.

J. D. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.
THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

Moses Greenwood,	R. M. Walmsley,
W. A. Johnson,	A. Brittin,
John L. Noble,	A. H. May,
John Chaffe,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	T. Lyle Lyon,
Samuel E. Moore,	Wm. C. Raymond,
J. L. Warren,	James S. Pennington,
R. T. Rucker,	Samuel H. Boyd,
Samuel Friedlander,	Joseph McEvoy,
A. A. Myles,	E. H. Wheelock,
John J. Adams,	Cyrus Bussey,
Isaac Scherck,	William J. Behan,

B. E. Eschleman.

New Orleans Insurance Co.
CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.
ESTABLISHED IN 1805.
Capital
Assets at the commencement of the present year
Income for the year
The Company insures Fire, Marine and River Risks. Issues Marine Policies on Cargoes to all parts of the World.
President, J. B. LYNES.
Vice-President, A. St. CLAIR.
Secretary, A. WILLIS, JR.
DIRECTORS.
Francis Merrill, A. M. Buckner,
Charles Parsons, S. Whitney,
H. Cobbs, J. Dyer,
Charles Lafitte, W. W. Pugh,
W. C. Williamson, H. Lallo,
Pierre Bailly, H. H. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.
Agents Wanted for LYMAN'S
Historical Chart.
This Book Presents a Complete Outline History of the World, and Contains a Universal Record of Nations from the Beginning. Nations in our Repository. Now Ready for Delivery. Over 1,000 Pictures. Agents in the field for the sale and supplying of agents. The Standard and the most popular ever Presented in U. S. History made easy. Wanted in every County in the land. For full description and terms address
NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Memphis, Tenn., or Atlanta, Ga.

DRAYER AND HIS REMARKABLE ANSWERS
A GRAND BOOK FOR AGENTS.
AGENTS WANTED for the New Historical Work, OUR WESTERN BORDER.
A Complete History of Border Wars and Border Men.
100 YEARS AGO.
By Hon. Charles Lanman, Hon. Lewis Cass, Hon. Peter Force, Wm. Cullen Bryant, Rev. Dr. Todd, Wm. H. Prescott, Hon. Jas. Parton, Hon. Jas. Buchanan, Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Hon. Geo. Bancroft, Hon. Edward Everett, Hon. Rufus Choate, Hon. Daniel Webster, Hon. Henry Clay, Hon. John C. Calhoun, Hon. Martin Van Buren, Hon. Andrew Jackson, Hon. John Quincy Adams, Hon. Thomas Jefferson, Hon. James Madison, Hon. John Adams, Hon. James Monroe, Hon. Alexander Hamilton, Hon. Aaron Burr, Hon. Albert Gallatin, Hon. John Randolph, Hon. Henry Wheaton, Hon. Joseph Story, Hon. Wm. Wirt, Hon. Jas. Kent, Hon. Wm. Pinkney, Hon. Jeremiah Mason, Hon. Wm. Gaston, Hon. Jas. Madison, Hon. Jas. Monroe

Religious Intelligence.

One of the trustees of Wesleyan versity, whose name has not been e public, has given $25,000 to- d the $500,000 endowment fund hat institution.

The Reformed Episcopal church he Redeemer, in Baltimore, was cated, March 15, by Bishop Cum- s, who was assisted in the service Rev. Mr. Postlethwaite, the pas-

The subscription to the French atholic university at Lille now unts to $500,000. This sum does include the buildings, which presented by a single indi- al.

Dr. Martin, Bishop of Paderborn, to escape imprisonment by the man authorities, fled to Holland, gone to England. He was re- ed by the Dutch government ve that country.

Dr. Gulick says that it is the sionary's wife who does much of work. In his own case he frankly sses that when they reached r field his wife learned the lan- ge first, and held meetings while held the baby.

The American Presbyterian mis- in Upper Egypt, during its ten s of work, has planted ten Chris- churches, with an average of members. These members hold ional meetings for the study of Scriptures on five or six evenings e week, and have thus acquired familiarity with Bible truths.

A new method of quenching to poor is being tried in Philadel- A house has been built on wine street, near Diamond; where day morning breakfasts are given the occupants of the station- es. After the meal suitable re- ous services are held. Between e and four hundred poor persons ve thus brought together every Sun-

The arrangements for the Scot- Established Church missionary dition to Lake Nyassa are being i forward, now that the Free ch expedition has reached its ation. A medical missionary o artisans have been sta- and a boat for the navigation Lake is being built in London. quisite minds are not yet stu-

Rev. Dr. H. M. Field writes from a of the decline of the power of , and says: "If the movement ld continue to increase in the te in the same ratio as in the fifteen years, the whole population of India—more than 200,000,000 ople—would be converted to stianity in the next 200 years. n Buddhism itself he sees noth- e but what appears to him inex- ably repulsive.

HURT, SYRIA.—The Rev. H. H. ng, of the American Presbyte- mission, reports under date of uary 13: "Amid many trying gs in our work there is just now bright spot. A whole town, six s from Beirut, until now living Stygian darkness, has burst its ds and come out Protestant—some hundred souls in all. We have d a chapel and school-house, and a native preacher and teacher e and last Sabbath Bro. Bird ched four times to a great con- se. On my first visit I preached the open air to some three hund- and the second time I preached a housetop to a multitude. Some y of their young men are work- in a silk factory in Beirut, be- ging to a Moslem, and when they him they had become Protest- he said: 'Well done for you. t is something like a religion. be sure and attend to what you in the Bible.'"

In the Missionary Advocate we the following instance of the ean the gospel: A missionary he Church of England, about to n home from New Zealand, ered his Maori converts around il a farewell communion service. is surprise, he noticed one man had been kneeling at the com- on rail arise, return to his seat e church, and after awhile come and receive the sacrament. On ing the reason of such con- , the man replied, that he had ossible a man whom he found e the murderer of his father, and e life he had at the time sworn ke. At first he could not bear to ve the sacrament with this cou- ed murderer. On resuming his however, he thought he heard a e say: "By this shall all men w that ye are my disciples: if ye love one to another." While natural feelings still rebelled ust the command, he thought he saw the cross and heard the upon it say: "Father, forgive for they know not what they This overcame him, and he ured and received the communi- with his former enemy.

HE GOSPEL IN ROME.—The site a new chapel in Rome, in which ur Grassi is to preach, was se- d before the Jesuits had time to their eyes or rub their spectac- The price of the freehold was 00. The site is a little nearer to Maria Maggiore than the one on ch the friends had originally fixed hopes, but of which they were rived by Italian duplicity. For property they had engaged to about £7,000; but at the last mo- they were told that they could have it unless they took an pining cafe and other property mounting to nearly £4,000. It is a ly interesting fact that the site ted is in the immediate vicinity the spot where, according to tradi- , stood the house of Pudens, the nd of the Apostle Paul. A monk, stly baptized by Mr. Will, is w teaching the school in Rome, ch has been founded by money ained through Grassi's visit to gland. A thousand copies of the w Testament have been sold in a weeks from the depot in the zza San Lorenzo. These are part the fifty thousand copies lately sented by a friend at Manchester, gland. It is a beautiful little book, is sold for six centimes—a little r one cent.

BUSINESS CARDS.

THOMAS OWEN,
DEALER IN
Fancy and Staple Groceries,
CHOICE TEAS, ETC.
Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.
Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET,
AT NEVERS & FERY'S,
SUCCESSORS TO
L. P. PODLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.
LOUIS NEVERS, Of Lafourche. JOHN B. LEVERT, Of Iberville.

BUSH & LEVERT,
COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,
And General Commission Merchants,
30 PERDIDO ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.
Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Sheathing and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

CHEAP AND CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.
D. MORIARTY,
Nos. 249, 251, 253 and 255 Poydras St.,
(Head of Poydras Market.)
A constant supply of fresh Staple and Fancy Groceries. Pure Green and Black Teas a specialty. Goods delivered free of charge, and satisfaction in quality and price guaranteed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.
AIKEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
19 Union Street, New Orleans, La.
Special attention given to orders for the purchase and shipment of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

NEW LEATHER STORE.
A. F. RICAU,
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN
French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,
Shoe Findings, &c.
33 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.
Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, La.
Meat and Fish Kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.
Country Merchants and Planters would do well to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
J. MUSE,
No. 61 Magazine St., and
No. 61 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 CANAL STREET 101
Wedding, Ball, Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,
BOOK BINDER, RULER
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,
92 Camp Street. 92
(over James A. Wickham's, New Orleans)
Magazines, Books and Periodicals bound in any style desired.

F. R. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Between Conti and St. Louis Streets,
NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Brasselmann & Adams) wish to inform the public that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.
MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,
ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,
And General Housesmith,
Iron Railings, Fence Railings, Fences and Wire and Iron of all kinds made to order. Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.
129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.
Box 216, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,
COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,
WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS
AND SILVERWARE.
Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and guarantee that all is suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. B. WALLACE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
70 Carondelet St. 70
NEW ORLEANS, La.
Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will make liberal advances on Cotton. Will also receive orders for purchase of every description of Country Produce.

JOS. H. WOLFE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS,
59 CARONDELET ST. 59
NEW ORLEANS.
Liberal cash advances made on shipments of Cotton.

KIRSHEEDT & HIENVENT,
MONUMENTS, TOMBS,
HEADSTONES, TABLETS, MANTELS, CEMETERY RAILINGS,
And all Kinds of Marble Work
114 CAMP STREET 120
New Orleans, Louisiana.

THE DOMESTIC
LOCK-STITCH SEWING MACHINE
WILL LAST A LIFE TIME.
WILSON & GIBBS' celebrated Twisted Loop-Stitch Sewing Machine, always ready and in order. Needles for all kinds of Sewing Machines.
M. S. HEDRICK,
54 Chartres street, New Orleans.

COAL COAL COAL
B. D. WOOD & BROS.,
108 Common St., opposite City Hotel,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

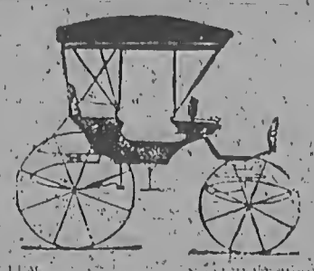
BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.
A full assortment of Paints, Oil Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keeps a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

CRESCENT MACHINE
AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,
Corner of Poydras and St. Joseph Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, runs such new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

E. RATELLE,
DEALER IN CARPETINGS,
669 MAGAZINE STREET 669
Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans.
Floor Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Tables and Piano Covers, Curtain Goods, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Stair Oil Cloths, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticking and Springs, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WHEEL YARD, foot of Lyon street, and Gasket Dalliessaf street. Sixth District New Orleans. Office, No. 154 Tchoupitoulas, between Valcour and Bordeaux streets. L. PARRI, Sr., Agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and spars of all sizes and lengths, Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., also all Kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Roulings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 2289, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.



J. A. LUM & CO. N. ABBEY, Manager.
J. A. LUM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.
102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF PLANTERS' CARRIAGES.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS
AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,
No. 17 TOULOUSE STREET,
New Orleans, La.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD OIL, ETC.
Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee, next to N. O. & Carrollton R. R. Depot.)
New Orleans.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND AND DOOR FACTORY,
ROGERS & CO., PROPRIETORS
201, 203, 205 and 207 Gravier Street,
Between Carondelet and Dryades, New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. CHAS. E. KELIN & DR. E. VIET,
DENTISTS,
12 BAUDIN STREET 12
East Corner Bayou Canal, New Orleans.
Plates inserted without pain; also the finest Gold and Platina Fillings.
Rebasing and Repairing done.

A. L. TICKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
160 COMMON STREET 160
(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL. As I am informed that the various owners of many of my patents I have removed my office from the corner of Natchez and Camp streets to 19 CARONDELET street, the center of the business portion of the city, where I will be pleased to see them, and all others interested in the sale or use of Rubber Stamps, at all hours of business, with an excellent variety of Stamps, and all facilities for their manufacture on short notice.
J. B. WALLACE & CO.

JAMES W. HARNUM,
SURGEON DENTIST,
508 MAGAZINE STREET 508
Near the Market.
NEW ORLEANS, La.

DR. C. J. RICHARD,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE
614 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

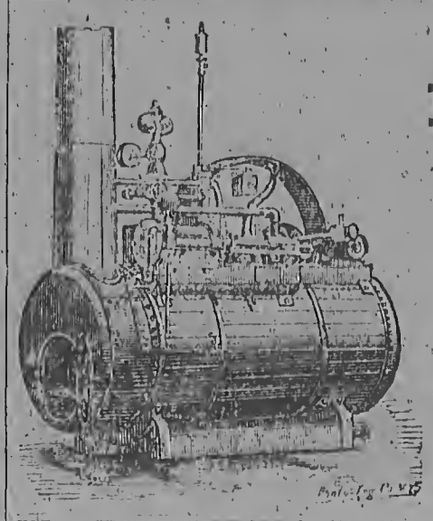
DR. J. J. LYONS,
NO. 210 CARONDELET STREET
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans, La.

E. W. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. O. W. RACE. W. H. FOSTER.
MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
NEW ORLEANS.

BATHS! BATHS!
NO. 108 CONTI STREET
RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 11 A. M. to 12 M. For Gentlemen, from 12 M. to 6 P. M. Sulphur and Fresh Water Baths at all hours, every day. Polite and special attention to guests.
J. KLOPP.

PHIWEIN is the name of a new remedy mentioned in the Journal of Materia Medica for January as particularly valuable in Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and lungs; those of public speakers, and gives several cases of cure.

MISCELLANEOUS.



PAYNE'S
Portable Engines.
2 TO 15 HORSE POWER.
B. J. WEST,
SOLE AGENT,
115 and 117 Magazine Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

MOURNING GOODS.
WE CLAIM THE ATTENTION OF BUYERS TO OUR LARGE STOCK OF BLACK GOODS, WHICH IS NOW COMPLETE IN EVERY ARTICLE.
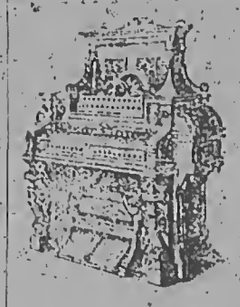
PURCHASERS ARE INVITED TO CALL AND EXAMINE THE STOCK.
D. H. HOLMES,
135 Canal and 15 Bourbon Street, New Orleans, La.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New Valuable Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer. It cleans—thoroughly removes all Dirt, Sand and Trash from it, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.
"No gin house should be without one of these cleaners," as it is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days' work.
Manufactured and sold by
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.
Send for Circulars and Price List.
FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

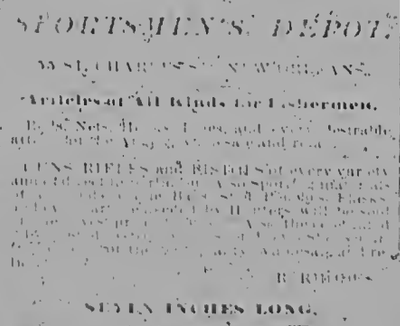


PHILIP WERLEIN,
Nos. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

French Millinery and Berlin Zephyr Worsted.
MME. ROSA REYNOIR,
NO. 94 CHARTRES STREET, NEAR CANAL, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

LOUISIANA! IT IS.
ITS TOPOGRAPHY AND VALUABLE RESOURCES,
BY DANIEL DENNETT.
PRICE, 50 CENTS, POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.
10,000 Copies Just Published. 5,000 Copies Sold.
Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

RICHARD RHODES,
LATE P. CHARLES 124,
SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,
33 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.
Articles for All Kinds of Fishermen.
GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and description. A Specialty made of Fine Guns.
GUNS REPAIRED.

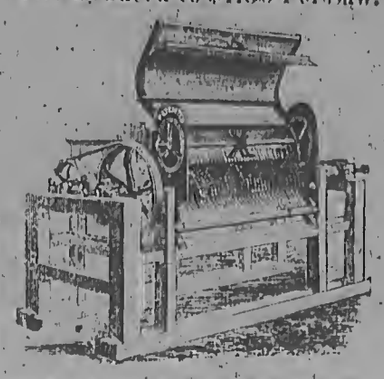


AGENTS WANTED.
A. A. GRAHAM,
Chestnut St., New York.

MAGIC. PUFF! PUFF! PUFF!
Magical Puzzle Box.
Elegant Mahogany Box, Brass Mounted, Glass Cover, Rosewood Interior, Ivory Balls, Ivory Cue, Ivory Arrangement for Counting Game. Sent by express, with full directions, on receipt of 25 cents.
LOUISIANA
PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY,
R. LEUKNER, SR.,
112 Magazine St 112
(Upstairs.) NEW ORLEANS.
HAND BOXES, with address, three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges, except freight for $1.25 per dozen, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use.
The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work, with the same horse while economizing steam or animal power. Many other Gin. The seed being ginned very close to the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton of a finer grade and of greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staples with extra production of lint added to the increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every instance gained. Testimonials sent by mail on application.
JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 Carondelet St 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.
No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.
DEALERS IN
MACHINERY
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPARE OUR PRICES.
MACHINERY
MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.
MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, MILLS
AND COTTON PRESSES

PORTABLE and STATIONARY
STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
Without Patterns.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS
OF IMPROVED DESIGNS, A SPECIALTY.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.
LEEDS' FOUNDRY,
Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.
We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Saw Mills, Sugar Kettles, Dripping Machines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Screws, Cast Gearing, Furnace Meshes, Grate Bars, Andirons of every description, Castings of Plantation and Steamboat work and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.
Orders left at Box 72 Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.
IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY FOR EVERY DESCRIPTION.
COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.
HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING, etc. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and price list.
GEORGE PLACE,
121 CHAMBERS AND 103 READE STREET,
NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York,
Fifth years established. Church Bells and Chimes, Academy Bells, Clock Bells, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837

MISCELLANEOUS.
MRS. ADA GREGG
Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,
NO. 151 CANAL STREET,
Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Is now arranging to deal with the various kinds of
SEWING MACHINES.
Has decided to make a specialty in this line, first class Machine of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $20. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.
Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giving references.
MRS. ADA GREGG
respectfully offers her services in purchasing and shipping to any part of the country personal adornment or domestic goods for Ladies and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.
N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles wanted, or not enumerated will be answered free of charge.
Second hand Machines in good order, at half price. The best New Orleans Machines.
REFERENCE: J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss.
Send for Catalogue and Circular.
GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

ADOLPH SUTTER,
GLASS STAINER.
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.
Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.
212 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive.
ST. LOUIS, MO.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,
GENERAL COOPERAGE,
13 NORTH FRONT ST 13
Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, May 9, 1876.

MONETARY.

No change in our money market this week. Discounts needed for legitimate business are easily obtained upon first-class collaterals or by A1 firms. Rates of interest unchanged.

Gold, 113¼@113¾.

Silver, 101@102 for American.

Sales of stocks and bonds not large. Market quiet.

Below we give the movement among our banks, as reported by the manager:

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,
At the close of business, Friday, May 5, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$119,02[illegible] 13
Currency	4,88[illegible] 50
Clearinghouse exchanges	9[illegible] 70
Checks on other local banks and bankers	17,0[illegible] 75
Domestic and foreign exchange	3,975,[illegible] 47
Due from distant banks and bankers	417,[illegible] 31
Loans and discounts	9,[illegible]712 64
Other cash assets	4,5[illegible]772 51
Total	$21,246,[illegible] 37

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$[illegible]
Deposits	11,[illegible]
Due distant banks and bankers	1,0[illegible] 43
Other cash liabilities	201,6[illegible]
Total	[illegible]

J. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

The following are the changes during the week ending May 5, as compared with the previous week:

	Increase.	Decrease.
Specie	$ [illegible]
Currency		[illegible]
Loans		[illegible]
Deposits		[illegible]

COTTON.

The movement in our staple this week results in sales of 14,500 bales. Market generally quiet but steady until to-day (Tuesday), when the reports from abroad being discouraging, and buyers showing a desire to hold off, factors gave way and sales were made at a reduction of ⅛c. Market quiet and irregular.

Sales reported in New York for the week, 7,083 bales. Middling Orleans, 12¼c.

Sales at Liverpool, 38,000 bales. Market dull and irregular.

The following tabular statement shows the prices for the last seven days:

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	11	12	13⅛
Thursday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	11	12	13⅛
Friday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	11	12	13⅛
Saturday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	11	12	13⅛
Monday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	11	12	13⅛
Tuesday	7⅝	8⅛	9⅜	10⅞	11⅞	13⅛

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

	Middling.
	Mobile.	Vicksburg.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11⅛	11⅛	12
Thursday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅞
Friday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅞
Saturday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅞
Monday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅞
Tuesday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅞

COTTON STATEMENT TO MAY 9.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875	bales
Received from that date to May 1, 1876
Received during past week
Amount of the above from city ginns and packeries
Total
Exported from Sept. 1, 187[illegible] to May 1, 1876
Exported past week
Consumed to-day and to date
Stock on hand and amount not counted
Estimated stock on shipboard
Amount remaining unshipped
Stock at all the United States ports
Receipts at all the ports
Receipts in 1 year to date
Increase at all the ports

SUGAR.—Market very firm; receipts light. We continue quotations of last week, as follows: Fair 8c, fully fair 8⅛c, prime 8⅝@9c, yellow clarified 9@9½c, white 10@10½c. Market firm.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	From	To
Dressed hogs
Orange, fancy demand
Arkansas, demand fair
Western, [illegible]
CHICKENS, per [illegible]
Choice
Choice to fancy
Good to [illegible]
Inferior to [illegible]
Wood, per cord
Hickory
Hard mixed
Pine
Bananas, per bunch
Baltimore oysters
Bay oysters
Shucked
Lake oysters
Shucked
Milk punch
Oysters

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 24 inches and upwards in diameter and over [illegible] feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and punks, [illegible] inches in diameter, [illegible] per foot.

Black walnut logs, averaging [illegible] inches in diameter, and of less [illegible] per foot.

White oak logs, of 20 inches and upwards in diameter and over, [illegible] per foot.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, [illegible] per foot.

All bills are to be cut by measurement, and allowance is to be made for [illegible] in measure.

Cotton wood and other [illegible] logs, [illegible] per foot.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, [illegible] per foot.

Sycamore logs, [illegible] per foot.

Logs measuring [illegible] are the standard, and [illegible] reduced to it.

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for the [illegible], both sound and merchantable.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice cows and heifers are in demand at [illegible] gross.

Fat grass [illegible] cattle sell readily at [illegible] per head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 per head.

Fat calves [illegible] yields $7 @$12 per head. Poor calves very dull at $5 per head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3 per head. Poor ones [illegible].

Hogs corn fed at [illegible] gross. Mast fed dull at 3½c.

Milch cows sell according to quality of milk given. Common cows, milkers, giving 2 to 3 gallons per day, $80@$100 per head. Extra milkers, say giving from 3 to 4 gallons per day, $100@$120 per head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 per head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$1 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	26 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 [illegible]	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Hall do. with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
R. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Thurman's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	1 50 00
Wagon, two-horse thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	100 00	125 00
Fence cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Barrow cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7
Steel	6	7
Nail rods		10
Castings, American	4	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	15 00	17 00
Country	9 00	13 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 60	1 75
Cement	2 [illegible]	2 75
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ M feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands:
Small sizes per particular dealer	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 100 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, long 14 to 17 by 20	4 00	4 50
French, 17 by 18 to 17 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	8	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	— —	— —
Pat. Brown, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights per pair:
Size [illegible]	No. 1 [illegible]	Other [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sash Doors:
1 foot 6 wide	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 feet 6 wide	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 feet 6 wide	[illegible]	[illegible]
Panel Doors:
2 feet 6 wide by 6 feet 6 inches high	— —	$3 25
2 feet 8 wide by 6 feet 6 inches high	— —	3 40
3 feet 0 wide by 6 feet 6 inches high	3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb:
Western, choice	31	31
Fresh, choice	41	42
Coffee, ₱ lb:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	23	24
Java, choice to fine	30	31
Candles, ₱ lb:
Star, full brands	— —	14½
Chocolate, ₱ lb:
Cocoa	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sweet	[illegible]	[illegible]
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz:
Peaches, Standard, 2 pounds	[illegible]	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl:
Bolted, K	2 50	2 65
Cheese, ₱ lb:
Western factory	[illegible]	11½
Fresh, factory	12	13
Cigars:
Manufactured, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	24 00
Manufactured, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Clippings, quarter to keg	— —	3 00
Flour, ₱ bbl:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 [illegible]	5 00
XXX	5 [illegible]	5 25
Choice XXX	5 [illegible]	6 50
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Pineapples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	— —	10
Dried apples, ₱ lb	— —	8
Raisins, ₱ box	— —	1 60
Currants, ₱ lb	— —	10
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Coffee, ₱ lb:
Java	5	6
Laguayra	5	6
Santos	5	9
Other grades	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, straight test	25	35
Lubricating, ₱ gal	35	50
Lard, in barrels, ₱ lb	1 10	1 12½
Molasses, in barrels:
Open oil	— —	45
Syrup	— —	60
Planters' choice	— —	70
Boiled and [illegible] syrups	— —	80
Diamond [illegible]	— —	1 00
Rice, ₱ lb:
No. 1	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ordinary	[illegible]	[illegible]
Fair	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prime to choice	[illegible]	[illegible]
Soap, ₱ box:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's [illegible]	— —	8½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 35	1 40
Coarse	1 00	1 05
Sugar, in bbl:
Fair	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prime	[illegible]	[illegible]
Choice	[illegible]	[illegible]
Yellow clarified	[illegible]	[illegible]
White clarified	[illegible]	[illegible]
Crushed	[illegible]	[illegible]
Powdered	[illegible]	[illegible]
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	15
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	40
Cinnamon	— —	40
Tea, ₱ lb:
Young Hyson	[illegible]	[illegible]
Green Imperial	[illegible]	[illegible]
Tobacco, natural leaf, ₱ lb:
Common to medium	60	80
Good to fine	90	1 10
Shipping	60	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Yellow corn	[illegible]	[illegible]
White corn	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mixed corn	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oats	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bran	[illegible]	[illegible]
Timothy hay, choice	[illegible]	[illegible]
Prime to choice	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mess pork, ₱ bbl	[illegible]	[illegible]
Dry salt sides	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lard, in barrels	[illegible]	[illegible]

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb:
Breasts	11	11
Shoulders	[illegible]	[illegible]
Clear sides	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sugar cured hams	[illegible]	[illegible]
Canvassed hams	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	[illegible]	[illegible]
Dry Salt sides	[illegible]	[illegible]
Lard, in barrels	[illegible]	[illegible]

BAGGING, ETC.

Hemp bagging	[illegible]	[illegible]
Jute bagging	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bales, 2 lbs	[illegible]	[illegible]
Twine, ₱ lb	[illegible]	[illegible]

SUNDRIES.

Leather:
Sole, No. 1 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Sole, No. 2 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Upper, [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Upper, [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Upper, [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Harness, ₱ set	[illegible]	[illegible]
Skirting, ₱ side	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cotton Seed:
Prime	[illegible]	[illegible]

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard	[illegible]	[illegible]
Second quality	[illegible]	[illegible]
Bleached Domestics, ₱ yard:
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Osnaburgs	[illegible]	[illegible]
Stripes	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ticks	[illegible]	[illegible]
Denims	[illegible]	[illegible]

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Brogans, men's, per pair	[illegible]	[illegible]
Brogans, boys'	[illegible]	[illegible]
Calf boots, men's	[illegible]	[illegible]
Calf boots, boys'	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kip boots, men's	[illegible]	[illegible]
Kip boots, boys'	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ladies' shoes	[illegible]	[illegible]
Children's shoes	[illegible]	[illegible]

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES, By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957. No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, July 20, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to [illegible] and to [illegible] the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. B. K. SMITH, P. C.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The trustees will meet on the ground on Thursday, the first day of June, at 10 o'clock. All persons desiring to select lots or [illegible], or seeking information respecting the approaching camp meeting, are invited to be present.

W. H. FOSTER, President.
PHILIP HALLARAN, Secretary.

MOBILE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—Delegates coming to Mobile on the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of May [illegible] to Pollard going and return for [illegible] other stations from Brewton south at the rate of six cents for round-trip ticket. Please [illegible] address to take delegates to Mobile from Pollard on the twenty-fifth.

S. H. COX.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held on the ground on Bay St. Louis, to [illegible] and continuing from eight to ten days, on the Seashore Camp Ground, situated and fronting on the Gulf of Mexico, one mile west of Biloxi, and way between the cities of New Orleans and Mobile, and only distant a few hundred feet from the railroad.

W. H. FOSTER, President Board of Trustees.
P. HALLARAN, Secretary.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS CAMP MEETING.—This meeting is expected to begin on Wednesday before the first Sunday in August, which is the second day of August, and to continue till Thursday, August 10. Preachers and people are cordially invited to attend.

H. HENDRIX, P. C.

THE District Conference for Brandon district, Mississippi Conference, will convene at Newton station, Vicksburg and Meridian railroad, on Thursday, June 29, and will adjourn the first Sunday in July. Bishop Pierce will preside.

The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. Robert S. Woodward, of Brandon station.

Pastors will please inform themselves fully as to the condition of their charges, so as to be able to answer the questions indicated in chapter 2, section 1, page 42 of the Discipline.

We would call this [illegible] upon all ministers and delegates the importance of attending this Conference.

WILL H. LEITH, P. C.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—The Mobile District Conference will convene at Milton, Fla., on Friday, May 26, at nine o'clock A. M. The first to [illegible] will meet at the same time and place.

Preachers in charge will please read section 7, [illegible], page 42, and be ready to report as therein required. To the seventh [illegible] of this section we hope to give special prominence.

S. H. COX, P. E.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

UNION SPRINGS DISTRICT. THIRD ROUND.

Bay Depot	June 10, 11
Belvidere circuit	[illegible]
Chandler circuit	[illegible]
Georgia A	July 1, 2
Rose Hill circuit	[illegible]
Pine Apple	[illegible]
Evergreen circuit	[illegible]
Greenville station	[illegible]
Lapworth	[illegible]
Pine Level	Aug. 26, 27
Ryley Mission	[illegible]
Shiloh circuit	[illegible]

S. P. RICHARDSON, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

HOMER DIST. SECOND ROUND.

Minden, at [illegible]	Apr. [illegible]
Logansport, at [illegible]	[illegible]
Hawkins [illegible]	May 6, 7
Sumner at Camps	13, 14
Mansfield at [illegible]	[illegible]
Keachi at [illegible]	[illegible]
Kingston [illegible]	June 3, 4
Shreveport, at [illegible]	10, 11
Coushatta [illegible]	[illegible]
Natchitoches	July 29, 30
Wards	Aug. 5, 6
Cheneyville	[illegible]
Opelousas	12, 13

J. F. [illegible], P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST. SECOND ROUND.

Opelousas	Apr. [illegible]
Grand Coteau	[illegible]
Washington	May 6, 7
Lafayette	[illegible]
Vermilionville	13, 14
New Iberia	[illegible]
Berwick	[illegible]
Carrollton	June 3, 4
Thibodeaux	10, 11
Madisonville	[illegible]
Ward 8	[illegible]
Algiers	[illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST ISSUED!

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THIS is a complete Historical and Statistical RECORDER, containing [illegible] Blank Pages for Recording Members and Baptisms, Letters, and Deaths. Register of Annual Conferences and Church Officers. Pulpit Service. Church Directory. Sunday School Statistics, and Annual Summary of the Yearly Work, and condition of the Church.

The Register contains also [illegible] pages, size [illegible] by [illegible] inches, of good heavy paper, handsomely bound, and will be supplied to Churches at $5 each.

Address

ROBT. J. HARP, Agent,
NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,
NEW ORLEANS.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay, Pavers, Building Bricks, Arch Bricks, English and Firestone Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
145 Gravier street, and
345 Julia, bet. Rampart and Tight Sts.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 41 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain Decorated (imitating, to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.

1 50 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy the assortment as BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS, first class, [illegible] pieces, $20.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extra low prices, and everything else needful for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of everyone.

Due notice will be given of the [illegible] first class, regular goods, of good shapes and styles, and we give the benefit of [illegible] Charges for packing and drayage. Dinner Sets [illegible] Tea Sets, 50 cents.

We invite [illegible] Catalogue sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY ROUTES QUICKER than any other route, including the shortest [illegible] and requiring less [illegible] speed to reach there, [illegible] equals, where the best and handsomest [illegible] are provided, which [illegible] walk off the MAIN EXTENSION BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of the [illegible] and no other [illegible] accommodate visitors who desire to see the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE. [illegible] Thirty Days' Tickets, good for a [illegible] month, [illegible] either direction, without a single [illegible] or [illegible], will [illegible] trains from New Orleans [illegible] the South. By this route, it must be remembered that from New Orleans, [illegible] Louisville, the [illegible] between New Orleans and New York [illegible] Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia [illegible] change from the main [illegible].

Don't Fail to Call at the Pan-Handle Office, with [illegible] and get [illegible] with [illegible] and reliable [illegible] as well as [illegible] to [illegible] the country. By his [illegible], it must be remembered that from New Orleans, via

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1876. NO. 20.

WHITTIER'S CENTENNIAL HYMN.

SUNG BY THOMAS' POOLE'S OF EIGHT HUNDRED VOICES AT THE OPENING OF THE EXHIBITION.

Our father's God! from out whose hand
The centuries fall like grains of sand,
We meet to-day, united, free,
And loyal to our land and thee,
To thank thee for the era done,
And trust thee for the opening one.

Here where of old, by thy design,
The fathers spake that word of thine
Whose echo is the glad refrain
Of rended bolt and falling chain,
To grace our festal time from all
The zones of earth our guests we call.

Be with us while the New World greets
The Old World, thronging all its streets,
Until a long all triumphs swim
Be set or toll beneath the sun;
And unto sea-girt man, good will,
Joined, freighted with love's golden fleece,
Send back the Argonauts of peace.

For art and labor met in truce,
For beauty made the bridal use,
We thank thee, while withal we crave
The austere virtues strong to save,
The honor proof to place or gold,
The manhood never bought or sold.

Oh make us, through centuries long,
In peace secure, and justice strong,
A mightier gift of freedom draw
The sweepards of thy righteous law,
Add, cast in some diviner mould,
Let the new cycle shame the old!

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Communication with Europe by the Anglo-American cable is now restored.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The annual meeting of the American Bible Society was held to-day. The receipts from all sources for the year were $727,084; expenditures for the same period were $839 281. During the year 876,770 Bibles were manufactured, and 850,150 distributed, by the Secretary. The society has circulated the Bible in twenty foreign countries during the year, and had it printed in nearly as many languages. The next anniversary was decided to be held, May 16, in Philadelphia. Nine members of the board of managers were elected.

William Varley, known as "Reddy the Blacksmith," died of consumption.

Dr. William W. Hall, of Hall's Journal of Health, fell in the street and died in a few minutes, aged sixty-three. Cause of his death unknown.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—The Emperor and Empress of Brazil, and suite of sixteen persons, left at 9 o'clock this morning for the West, on a special train, by the Philadelphia and Wilmington, Baltimore and Ohio, and Ohio and Mississippi railroads, to St. Louis. Tour agents, who have charge of the traveling arrangements, announce that the imperial party, after visiting Louisville and the Mammoth Cave, will on Thursday next leave for New Orleans by the steamer Grand Republic, and return to Washington by way of Mobile, Montgomery, Atlanta and Knoxville. The tour will be completed by visits to Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, the White Mountains, Boston, Saratoga, Albany and New York.

LANCASTER, May 12.—The entire valley of the Connecticut river is a broad sheet of water, from Northumberland to Dalton. Travel is entirely suspended on the Boston, Concord and Montreal railroad, between South Lancaster and Groveton Junction, on the Grand Trunk, a distance of twenty miles.

CHARLESTON, May 13.—The question of admission of colored Protestant Episcopal congregations to representation, which had agitated South Carolina dioceses for two or three years past, was settled last night after a warm discussion in the convention by the rejection of the application of St. Mark's church for admission to that body. A majority of the clergy favored the application, which was rejected by a vote of the lay delegates.

WOODVILLE, Miss., May 14.—The negroes are reported gathering in armed bodies in the northwestern portion of the county. The sheriff, with an armed force of whites, has gone to the scene. No returns yet received.

The report of the riot at Laurel Hill is false. Six hundred whites under arms awaiting developments.

FOREIGN.

PARIS, May 9.—From details of the outrage at Salonica, received here, it appears the United States consul interfered for the protection of a Greek girl, who was the innocent cause of the disturbance, and admitted her to the consulate in a carriage. An excited mob thereupon surrounded the consulate, and the Germain and French consuls, who were brothers-in-law, and both related by marriage to the American consul, believing him to be in danger, proceeded to his assistance, and on their way thither were attacked. The Italian consul informed the governor of the state of affairs, and he sent troops to the relief of the American consulate, which was besieged by the rabble.

LONDON, May 11.—An Odessa dispatch represents the Salonica outrage premeditated. All the consuls except the British had warned the governor general that a massacre was intended. A feeling of insecurity prevails among Christians and Europeans in Turkey. A plot was discovered in Constantinople last week, which Dervish Pasha, then minister of war, was the head. He purposed the Sultan that an attack on the palace was premeditated. The Governor of Prolesdo had also stirred the Mohammedan population of that place, but received orders to disarm them on the news of the Salonica outrage.

The Bulgravian insurrection gains ground. The insurgents hold Bellova and a portion of the Roumanian railroad.

The fleet bearing the Prince of Wales and party arrived at Portsmouth this evening. The Prince, accompanied by the Princess and royal children, landed at the dockyard, where a vast assemblage gathered to meet them. Great cheering took place as his royal highness stepped ashore. The mayor of Portsmouth read an address, and a chorus of three hundred ladies and gentlemen sang "Welcome Home."

ATHENS, May 13.—A vessel from Salonica brings news that the American consul was not in Salonica at the time of the murder of the Christians.

The Provincial Council and mob went into the mosque. The governor was present when the consuls were murdered. He merely protested and took the matter lightly. The Turks defiled past the corpses and spit on them. The French consul had thirty-four wounds.

ST. THOMAS, May 13.—Four hundred and fifty arrests have been made in Barbadoes. The prisons are full. Many have taken refuge on vessels. The destruction of property almost equals the provision crop of the island. A renewal of the riots is apprehended. Hayti is perfectly tranquil.

MADRID, May 12.—Congress passed clause eleven of the constitution, providing for religious liberty, by a vote of 220 to 81.

The Centennial.

OPENING OF THE GRAND CEREMONIES—FIFTY THOUSAND PEOPLE ON THE GROUNDS—THE GATHERING OF DIGNITARIES.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—To-day is a legal holiday and all business is suspended. The gates opened at nine o'clock. The sky was cloudless. The foreign commissioners and other distinguished visitors had a special entrance, and were seated without confusion. Fully fifty thousand on the ground.

The ceremonies opened with the airs of allhittions, under direction of Theodore Thomas; prayer by Right Rev. Bishop Simpson; hymn by John Greenleaf Whittier; presentation of buildings to United States Centennial Commission by Centennial Commissioner Sydney Lauier, of Georgia; presentation of the exhibition to The President of the United States by Joseph R. Hawley.

PROCLAMATION OF THE OPENING OF THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF 1876 BY THE PRESIDENT.

"My Countrymen—It has been thought appropriate upon this Centennial occasion to bring together in Philadelphia, for popular inspection, specimens of our attainments in the industrial and fine arts, and in literature, science and philosophy, as well as in the great business of agriculture and commerce. That we may the more thoroughly appreciate the excellencies and deficiencies of our achievements, and also give emphatic expression to our earnest desire to cultivate the friendship of our fellow-members of this great family of nations, the enlightened agricultural, commercial and manufacturing people of the world have been invited to send hither corresponding specimens of their skill, to exhibit on equal terms in friendly competition with our own. To this invitation they have generously responded. For so doing we render them our hearty thanks. The beauty and utility of the contributions will this day be submitted to your inspection by the managers of this exhibition. We all know that a view of specimens of the skill of all nations will afford to you unalloyed pleasure, as well as yield to you a valuable practical knowledge of many of the remarkable results of the wonderful skill existing in enlightened communities. One hundred years ago our country was new and but partially settled. Our necessities have compelled us to chiefly expend our means and time in felling forests, subduing prairies, building dwellings, factories, ships, docks, warehouses, roads, canals, machinery, etc. Most of our schools, churches, libraries and asylums have been established.

"In an hundred years, burdened by these great primal works of necessity which could not be delayed, we yet have done what this exhibition will show in the direction of rivaling older and more advanced nations in law, medicine and theology, in science, literature, philosophy and the fine arts. While proud of what we have done, we regret that we have not done more. Our achievements have been great enough, however, to make it easy for our people to acknowledge superior merit wherever found.

"And now, fellow citizens, I hope a rateful examination of what is about to be exhibited to you will not only inspire you with a profound respect for the skill and taste of your friends from other nations, but also satisfy you with the attainments made by our people during the past one hundred years. I invoke your generous co-operation with the worthy commissioners to secure a brilliant success to this international exhibition, and to make the stay of our foreign visitors, to whom we extend a hearty welcome, both profitable and pleasant to them. I declare the International exhibition now open."

At 11:51 A. M. Dom Pedro was escorted to a seat by Gen. Hawley.

At 10:40 Gen. Phil. Sheridan and wife passed over from the building to the stand in front of Memorial Hall, and during the rendition of national airs, was greeted with great applause. He was closely followed by Hon. James G. Blaine, Senator Jones, of Nevada, and wife.

At 10:55 the President entered through Memorial Hall, and was conducted to a seat on the front of the platform. Gov. Hartranft, Gen. Hawley and Hon. D. J. Morrill occupied seats on his left, while Messrs. John Welsh and Goshorn were on his right.

Fred. Douglass, by some mischance, worked his way through the crowd and was helped over the ropes by officers, and conducted to a seat on the platform. He was greeted with cheers.

At 11:03 the Wagner Centennial Inauguration March was performed by the orchestra, under the direction of Theodore Thomas; at the conclusion of which Bishop Simpson offered a devout prayer, during the rendering of which the majority of the vast assemblage stood with uncovered heads.

THE IMPERIAL VISITORS.

The Empress of Brazil, escorted by Mrs. Gillispie, visited the women's pavilion this evening, and made a tour of all the aisles and passages. There were no formalities attending the visit. Dom Pedro, also visited the pavilion, and gave emphatic approvals of the work there displayed by American workmen.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE EMPEROR START THE BIG MACHINE.

The reception by the President was omitted. He was fatigued. One of the most impressive scenes of today was the President, assisted by his imperial majesty, Dom Pedro, starting the motive power of the hall.

At a given signal from Gen. Hawley, the President and the Emperor each seized a crank, and opening the valves, turned them several times. At once a sound was heard, which gave the people to understand that the engine was about to move. Then the ponderous seventy-jointly wheel began slowly moving, increasing gradually or rapidly until it was traveling at its full speed. Guy Hawley started the hurrah, which was taken up by the surrounding multitude. Deafening cheers traveled through the building, and as all the wheels in the building began moving, the ringing of bells and other demonstrations told to the world that the Centennial Exhibition was fully opened.

THE MILITARY AND CIVIC DISPLAY.

At half-past seven o'clock this morning the different military organizations which were to take part in the parade to the exhibition buildings formed in line on Broad street. The line of march was taken up toward the Centennial grounds at Twenty-Second and Wilmit streets. The cavalcade was joined by President Grant, who rode in a carriage, accompanied by Gov. Hartranft, of Pennsylvania. The President was escorted by the first troop of the Philadelphia City Cavalry. Then followed Gov. Rice, of Massachusetts, with his staff and escort, the latter consisting of the Boston Cadets and Boston Lancers. The scene along the route was very animating. As the grounds were approached the enthusiasm of the multitude assembled knew no bounds. The appearance presented by the Boston soldiery was commented on in the most complimentary terms, and they were frequently cheered. When the city troop reached the entrance to the main building they formed in a line, saluting the President and his party who filed into the hall amidst the cheers of the men and waving of handkerchiefs and flags by the ladies. Gov. Rice and his staff were the recipients of a similar compliment, and as the distinguished party passed up the aisle and through to the platform the same enthusiasm was manifested on all sides.

SIR EDWARD THORNTON'S GRAND DINNER.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—This evening the President and members of the cabinet commingled in the city dined with Sir Edward Thornton at St. George's Hall.

Sir Edward Thornton, special commissioner from Great Britain to the Centennial Exhibition, gave a grand dinner to-night at St. George's Hall, in this city. There were one hundred and sixty-nine invitations. The room was tastefully decorated. At one end was a full-length portrait of Queen Victoria, on the other side the American and British flags.

The orchestra at the opposite end of the room was profusely decorated with the flags of all nations, those of England and America being gracefully intertwined.

The diplomatic corps was represented by those serving as commissioners from their respective governments, and British Consul Archibald. The President and the more prominent guests, with Sir Edward and Dom Pedro, were at the head of the principal table.

Responding to toasts, the President then thanked Sir Edward for the kind allusion to his countrymen. He knew of no better reply than to ask all to drink the health of her majesty the Queen. This was done while the orchestra played the national air of England.

Thirty thousand persons were at the Centennial Exhibition to-day. Weather dusty.

A ton that should never be watered or adulterated—Charity.

General Conference of the M. E. Church.

BALTIMORE, May 12.—Bishop Peck presided. A. C. George, of New York, presented a preamble commencing:

Whereas, There are a number of distinct bodies of Methodists in the United States, in the Dominion of Canada, in Great Britain and in other countries; And whereas, These different Methodist organizations accept the American theology and maintain usages which distinguish them to some extent from every other denomination of Christians; the following is, therefore,

Resolved, That the Bishops be requested to appoint a commission of nine persons, consisting of two of their own number, four other ministers and three laymen, who shall take this whole subject into consideration, correspond with the different Methodist bodies in this country and in every other country, and endeavor to arrange for a general council of Methodism, at such time and place as may be judged most advisable, to consider topics relating to the position, work and responsibility of Methodism for the world's evangelization.

Resolved, That such convention is hereby empowered to represent and speak for and in the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, and is directed to make a full report of its proceedings to the General Conference of 1880.

Resolved, That the necessary expenses of such convention be met in the same manner as expenses of the fraternal delegates to the Committee on the State of the Church.

E. M. H. Fleming, of Des Moines, submitted a resolution to inquire into the expediency of dissolving the Washington, Lexington and Delaware Conferences, and to merge them into adjacent Conferences, thus thoroughly abolishing the color line referred to.

The Committee on the State of the Church, for reception of fraternal messengers from the Methodist Episcopal Church South, having come, that most interesting ceremony took place.

With the exception of the upper tier, which was well filled, every part of the Academy was crowded, many standing during the entire proceeding.

The desk in front of the presiding Bishop Jaynes, and all the tables of the secretaries and official reporters, ranged at the front of the platform, were decorated with immense bouquets and wreaths of the rarest flowers. The scene was a happy combination of Christian and floral welcome.

Rev. Dr. Foss, president of Middletown University, and Rev. L. P. Newman, of Washington, formally introduced to Bishop Jaynes and the Conference the fraternal messengers, Rev. J. A. Duncan, D. D., president of the Randolph Macon College, Virginia, and Landon C. Garland, LL. D., chancellor of the Vanderbilt University, of Nashville, Penn.

The messengers, on rising to the platform and bowing their salutation to the Bishop and Conference, were cordially welcomed with prolonged greetings. Bishop Jaynes, on welcoming them, expressed in a most feeling manner the regret of the Bishops and the Conference at the absence of Rev. Dr. L. Pierce, one of the fraternal messengers from the Church South, who had started on his way to the Conference, but was detained by infirmity of age.

The secretary then read the credentials of the messengers from the General Conference of the Church South, in which this Conference was also notified of the appointment of a commission of five persons to consult upon and adjust the legal points at issue between the two churches.

An address to the Bishops and delegates of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in conference assembled, written by the Rev. Dr. L. Pierce, was then read.

After expressing the great pleasure he experienced in his appointment as a fraternal messenger, Dr. Pierce says: "As a regular appointee in this fraternal delegation, I furnish an instance in the history of American Methodism such as I think is likely was never known before, in one sent abroad in any diplomatic ministry, and in the ninety-second year of his age and in the seventy second of his effective ministry."

He then alludes to his having been sent as a like fraternal messenger from the first General Conference South after the division in 1845 to arrange for and settle on a basis of intercommunication, so that the two General Conferences, instead of one, should be all the difference between us; the rejection of that messenger by the General Conference in 1848; to the wintry nights of twenty-one years that followed his rejection, succeeded by the star of hope that appeared in the voluntary visit of Bishop Simpson and Dr. now Bishops Harris to the meeting of our Bishops in St. Louis, in May, 1869.

The address then reviews the progress of Methodism generally, and concludes: "And finally, let us, as two companies of brothers, entrusted with a most precious patrimonial estate to enjoy as trustees, and enlarge and increase as guardians for indefinite posterity, see which of us can so use our portion of this Methodist capital as to make its percentage of income the test of comparative fidelity, and its principles of operation as its founders and its fathers turned it over to us. Let us do this as brethren of one heart and one mind, of one great aim and end, and the future will prove that our division into two General Conference jurisdictions was a benediction, instead of a deprecation.

"We will watch each other only with godly jealousy for a faithful propagation of one undivided Methodism. This, in as far as it can be, is my last will and testament, turning over to my successors my estate in Methodism. Finally, brethren, farewell; be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

L. PIERCE, Delegate."

During the reading there were frequent manifestations of sympathy and approval.

Dr. Duncan then made an able address, saluting the Bishops and delegates in the name of his Conference as brethren in Christ Jesus. He was followed by Mr. Garland.

The remarks of both these gentlemen were in the most fraternal spirit, and cordially received.

Resolutions of welcome and regret at the absence of Dr. Pierce were unanimously adopted.

The Conference then rose and sang a verse of the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds."

The matter of appointing a commission to meet that appointed by the Church South, to adjust the legal points at issue, was referred to a special committee of seven to be appointed.

Plan of Episcopal Visitations for 1876.

A PROVIDENTIAL CALL.—Mr. Editor: We have been trying to raise means to build a church at Jeanerette. We succeeded in raising enough to inclose it. We put up the frame last week. On Sabbath, the seventh instant, a tornado blew it down. No doubt a special providence, as they needed help anyhow. This gives them an opportunity to increase their efforts. They are doing so. It also gives us the reasonable opportunity to call on a generous public for assistance; and a generous public have another opportunity of cultivating Christian liberality in a truly needy and worthy cause. Three hundred dollars from abroad will enable them to complete the church. I ask assistance of all in the name of our Master. Send remittances to me at New Iberia, by postoffice order, or other safe conveyance.

Yours, B. F. WHITE.

At the last stated meeting of the board of managers of the American Bible Society it was reported that the receipts for March were $36,880.90, and the entire receipts for the year ending March 31 were $27,198. The volumes issued in March were 50,057. The whole number issued during the year from the Bible House, not including those issued in foreign lands, was 681,128.

The Rev. H. E. Johnson, of the Mississippi Conference, has been elected by the Book Committee a member to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Rev. James D. Evans, of the North Georgia Conference. This election will doubtless give satisfaction to the entire connection.

The Irish correspondent of the London Methodist is gratified to hear that the English and Irish lawyers selected for legal opinions to whether or by representation could be admitted to the Conferences, consistently with the provisions of the "Pall Deed," have decided in the affirmative.

MISSIONARY MONEY.—All money collected for foreign missions should be sent to A. H. Redford, treasurer, Nashville, Tenn., in postoffice orders, in Eastern exchange, or by express.

From the Work.

SUNDAY SCHOOL, OPELOUSAS, LA.

Mr. Editor: The readers of the ADVOCATE may possibly remember an account of a May festival given last year by the Methodist Sunday school of Opelousas. As I take it for granted that they are interested in the growth and progress of Sunday schools throughout the land, they will be likely, on the return of the festal anniversary of these schools, to ask: "What cheer?"

As far as Opelousas is concerned the question will meet with a satisfactory response. The Sunday school here shows not only a marked increase in numbers since last year, but the recitations, exercises, hymns, etc., on the evening of May 1, filled a programme of unusual interest, and were executed with great ability.

Apart from the grace and ability with which each and all the scholars executed the parts assigned them, there was a general and special interest attached to this Sunday school celebration, which addresses itself to the great, broad spirit of Christianity throughout the world. I mean the loving, reverent zeal, the understanding spirit, which seemed to fill the school as a whole, and give it a clear comprehension of its mission in the future.

When I go to the Sunday schools, and where they are large, attentive, reverent, comprehending the full value of gospel truths, well taught, and disciplined by earnest, pious men and women, I say to myself: "Behold the leaven which in good time will Christianize the most godless community!"

The Opelousas Sunday school is prospering beyond the expectations of its warmest well-wishers. They saw on the evening of May 1 how much its numbers had increased, and they understood the zeal which had allowed no lagging among the teachers during the last year, in spite of many difficulties and discouragements. A contribution taken up at the close of the entertainment will, however, provide the school with the books it so much needs.

This Opelousas Sunday school has been fortunate for many years in having the superintendence of pastors fully impressed with the vital necessity of instructing the young of their flock in the truths of the gospel. From the loved, lamented John Wilkinson to the present minister in charge—Rev. S. H. Schroeder—each and all have taken up the work, and carried it on earnestly and faithfully. The results are day by day becoming more satisfactory. A FRIEND.

SILVER CREEK CIRCUIT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: We entered this work as a preacher of the first year, without any experience as pastor. After two months of constant visiting I became very well acquainted with the people, and found them in every way an estimable community, except in a religious point of view. There were fourteen members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. We moved on in the dark, with only the beacons of God's promise, till the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth of March, which was the time of our first Quarterly Conference. During those two days' service there were thirteen admitted into the Methodist Episcopal Church South by baptism and covenant. This cheered our heart, exerting praise to the Giver of all good. We had received six by letter previous to the meeting of the Conference, making a total of nineteen; and still the good work goes on. Two have applied for membership since. Some say they are going to join, while others express themselves as being more thoroughly impressed on the subject of religion than ever before in their lives. Doubtless the Spirit of the Lord is troubling the waters on Silver Creek circuit, and we may expect great things from the Lord here. Our next Quarterly Conference will be held in June, at which time we purpose a series of services, commencing on the second Sabbath, to continue indefinitely.

I remain your brother in Christ's holy gospel,

H. W. BROWN, P. C.

PALMYRA POST OFFICE, Miss., May 4, 1876.

The Pacific Methodist, referring to the Santa Rosa District Conference, says: "Among the delegates present was our venerable friend, Judge D. O. Shattuck. His many friends and acquaintances will be pleased to know that he appears to be stronger and more vigorous than at any time in two or three years. He defeated with his old-time clearness and vigor."

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1876.

IN THE GRASS.

BY SIDNEY AND CLIFFORD LANIER.

SOLO.

Sin's rooster's crowed, O de Maister's air,
De sleepin' time is pas',
Wake up dem lazy Baptists.

CHORUS.

Dey's mightily in de grass; grass,
Dey's unfaithly in de grass.

Ole Mahster's blowed de mornin' horn,
He's blowed it powerful bliss;
O Baptis', come, come, hide de corn,
You's mightily in de grass, etc.

De Meth'dis' team's done hitched; O fool,
De day's a-breakin' fas';
Gear up dat lead ole Baptis' mule,
Dey's mightily in de grass, etc.

De workmen's few an' moans 'rous slow,
De cotton's sheddin' fas';
Whoop! look! jes' look at de flaplis' row;
Hit's mightily in de grass, etc.

De jay bird squeel to de mockin' bird: "Stop!
Do'n' gimme one o' yo' sass;
Better sing one song for de flaplis' crop,
Dey's mightily in de grass," etc.

An' de ole crow croak: "Do'n' work, po, no;
But de fiel' lurk says: "Yass, yass."
An' I spec' you mighty glad, you goldenbilish crow,
Dat de flaplisis' in de grass," etc.

Lord, thunder de up to de plowin' fo'arch;
Lord, peerten de hoe'h' fas';
Yea, Lord, bub mussy on de Baptis' patch:
Dey's mightily in de grass, grass,
Dey's mightily in de grass.

Scribner's Magazine.

Discipline

THE PASTOR'S DUTY IN RECEIVING MEMBERS INTO THE CHURCH.

MR. EDITOR: On page 111 of the Discipline we notice the question: "How shall members be received into the church?" Ans.—1. When persons offer themselves for church membership let the preacher in charge inquire into their spiritual condition, and receive them into the church when they have given satisfactory assurances of their desire to flee from the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins; and also of the genuineness of their faith, and of their willingness to keep the rules of the church;" etc.

We ask: What are "satisfactory assurances?" Are there no standard marks which shall stand as satisfactory evidences, or is the matter simply arbitrary with the preacher?—thus making as many standards as there are preachers. Read the rules and see. From the rules it will be seen that something more than bare promises are to be the satisfactory assurances. There must be "fruits meet for repentance." By the way, I wish it to be noted that the preacher at this point is last sight of as a man, and stands as the church. The church is never loose or careless at this point—her ministers dare not be so. The church militant loves order, or at least an outward conformity to all the precepts of morality and piety. The church militant has no omniscient eye, and cannot therefore go beyond actions of men. "By their fruits shall ye know them," etc. (Matthew vii, 20, 21,) for "satisfactory assurances." Everybody looks to these as the only "satisfactory assurances." All look to the forms of Christianity, such as are laid down in the Discipline, and there will always be doubt the opposite of satisfaction when the forms or fruits are wanting for Christianity in reality or in the spirit. It does seem to me that the probation system was a great help to the preacher in discharging his responsible duty at this point. It was the main-top by which the whole system was screwed up and held firmly together. The Savior says: "Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate." How shall we appear separate from the world to the human eye or judgment except in the forms of religion? There ought to be the power of religion with the form; but as the church militant only sees form, she must have that as evidence. God will judge of the power or life. The bloody finger of persecution always points to the visible marks of Christianity for the true followers of Christ. First Peter iv, 17: "For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God." If the church tolerates disorder in the beginning, may she not expect to have to continue it ever afterward, or have a difficulty?—contending with immoral and impious members—her dignity brought down very low! All know the trouble of removing bad members in attending to the church formalities of trial. Brethren, pardon me for advising that you guard the entrance into the church. Do not accept less evidence than will give satisfaction.

But some one who loves numbers more than piety will object to being so strict. "If you do this you will have no one to join your church." Then let it be so. If a man cannot be a Christian in form, how can he make it appear so by assertions? St. John xiv, 23: "Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me he will keep my words," etc. "He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings," etc. Who will dispute this truth?

But the Discipline says: "And also of the genuineness of their faith, and of their willingness to keep the rules of the church." But we ask: What are the satisfactory assurances of the genuineness of their faith? Let us see. The preacher listens to the account given by the convert. Is this conclusive? Does it give satisfaction? It would be supposed that every converted minister could detect the error of the deceived or the hypocrite. And so he can generally; but he is placed in an awkward situation, and so is the convert—the one required to judge without satisfactory evidence, the other expecting to be believed upon his bare statement. No one, it is true, would expect anything but a sincere and true account; but, should he be in error, any preacher would dislike to say so; hence a little time should be given for the convert to prove his faith by his works. The works or form, if the faith be genuine, will not be contrary to faith. Justifying faith would take one into heaven if he were to die directly after believing; but, while time and opportunity are afforded for the manifestation of faith, the evidence must appear, else faith without works is dead, being alone (St. James ii, 17,) and can never be said to be genuine. The Bible principle is: If the heart is right the life will be right. The life will appear in some visible form of expression, as indicated by the precept and by the nature of the duty. (See the General Rules, as they branch out into the many commandments in the Bible.) We will admit, if you complain of my placing so much stress on formality, that formality is not religion. It is indeed lamentable when even full formality fails to possess, as it was with the Pharisees; but who ever heard of a real Christian without formality? The formality was not condemned, but the hypocrisy—the want of life in the form. Christ requires the form, and he would never be so inconsistent as to condemn it.

But, again, the preacher is to be satisfied of their willingness to keep the rules of the church. Do not numbers join the church without ever examining the Discipline? How can any man or woman or child conscientiously answer in the affirmative to the questions on pages 211, 212, 213, 216 and 217 of the Discipline without having read their obligations? If a man expected to keep his promise, would he not hold family worship the first night after his promise? Would he not read the Bible every day? Would he not take the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, etc., as soon as there was an opportunity? Did ever a church member think that his reputation was lost when he failed to pay his portion to the support of the ministry or for charity? Christians, church members, think, think where we stand!

JOHN W. ELLISON.

Total Depravity.

MR. EDITOR: I noticed an article in the ADVOCATE of February 24, written by J. W. Hall in reply to some articles written by J. M. Weems, in which he controverts the views of Bro. Weems on depravity. The particular point that he dwells on is this: "We do by nature possess the germ of depravity to such a degree that it cannot be added to by any act of personal transgression." On this he differs from Bro. Weems, and says: "If I understand the purport of this language, it implies that depravity, as existing in the human race, is a fixed state of moral perversion, universal in all persons, and not susceptible of change in any degree by the conduct of any individual. Can this be true?" Is it taught either by nature or revelation? We think not. "I know of no such" stereotyped, uniform, invariable depravity as is presented here."

There has been much controversy relative to total depravity, and much of this has grown out of a misunderstanding of the term. The term depravity is derived from the Latin pravitas, and pravus, signifying to be put out of its designed order, or the quality of not being straight; and is characterized by being opposed to order and an established system. It is a vicious state, in which all that is holy, just and good is annihilated, and in which the depraved subject loses its proper manner of acting and existing.

The depravity of Adam after the fall, and before the promise of a Savior, was evidently a total depravity—a depravity as deep and dark as it was possible for it to be. In that state every trace of purity and holiness was obliterated. In the fall he lost the power of conforming to the law of God, and also the will. He could not even think a good thought, or perform an act that would have been acceptable in the eyes of God; and if he could have partaken of the tree of life after he fell he would have lived forever a devil incarnate. (See Genesis iii, 22, 23, 24.) Adam, then, could not have added to his depravity, but could have, in consequence of his depravity, become more corrupt. He was put out of order, crooked, and could only be put in order, and made straight, by the same Almighty power that made him out of the dust of the earth. This same depravity, then, Adam has transmitted to all his posterity; and all that is apparently good in man by nature is by the "grace of God, which hath appeared unto all men," by the promise and gift of Jesus Christ. Consequently, if one man is more corrupt than another, it is not because of a greater or less degree of depravity. The totality of depravity, then, consists not in the amount of sins committed, but in a total inability by nature, and independent of the grace of God, to conform to his law, "which is holy, just and good." Hence, then, in speaking of one man being more depraved than another, we should use the term more corrupt.

W. SPELLMAN.

Jonah a Hardshell.

"The word of the Lord came to Jonah, saying, 'Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it.'" "Lord, I can't go. It is five hundred miles away. There are rugged mountains to climb, rivers without a bridge to cross, a pathless wilderness to go through, robbers and ravenous beasts to encounter. Besides this, Nineveh is a heathen city, full of lies and robbery—outside of thy chosen land. Lord, it is a hard work. What good can I do among the Ninevites? Just let their wickedness come up before thee; thou art a sovereign, and canst manage that without my poor preaching. I'll go down to Tarshish."

He went aboard a vessel, was shipwrecked, and picked up by such a lifeboat as no other man ever rode in—a whale's flukes and fins being to him both oars and rudder. Listen to his prayer as he "cries from the belly of hell;" "I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that which I have vowed." Is there not a little of the Methodistic ring in these words? Jonah then and there became a missionary. That was one step forward.

He went and cried against the wicked city: "Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown." The Ninevites (although not of the elect nation,) "believed, proclaimed a fast, and cried mightily to God." "God saw their works: that they turned from their evil ways; and God repented of the evil that he had said he would do to them, and he did it not." It was not enough that the shipwreck should overthrow Jonah's "faith and practice," making him a missionary; but this act of divine mercy demolished his doctrine also. "Lord, didst not thou say, Forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown? Thou hast said, 'It shall be done; and now thou sayest it shall not. Therefore, Lord, take my life; it is better for me to die than to live."

Jonah's mistake was the same that thousands are making still. The truth is this: when the sinner repents God repents—i. e., the sinner gives up his sins and God gives up his judgments. The moment a man repents the relation of the whole universe toward him is changed. The visitation of God's judgment is therefore contingent upon man's repentance. Jonah might have gone home having performed his work. But "Nineveh shall be overthrown, and God can't lie." He clings with tenacity to his hard doctrine. As he sat waiting for the earth to open and swallow up sixscore thousand infants, the east wind beat upon him with such vehemence that he left his hard doctrine on the hill that overlooks Nineveh. Another step forward! His faith, practice and doctrine are all right now. Jonah wrote the book bearing his name for us before us, in the most glaring colors, his errors, that we might profit by his mistakes.

H. M. MOSS.

Imagination.

What is the imagination? For what was it bestowed on man? These and various other questions are suggested to my mind when I think of this subject. I think it a complex mental faculty, bestowed on us by the benevolent Creator for the purpose of dispelling some of the gloom of our natures. Genius without it may be likened to an immense structure destitute of all architectural beauty. 'Tis true some of us are woefully deficient in this faculty; yet many of our brightest hours are enhanced by the pictures and descriptions of others. Besides, our imaginations are capable of being cultivated. I wonder how large a part of the human race cultivate this talent as they should? I think it the duty of every person to combine the reasoning and imaginative qualities to the best of his ability, and not think it wrong to scatter a few flowers among the truths of life. I have heard it spoken of many preachers and other orators that they made solid intellectual speeches, but so tiresome and uninteresting. Why is this? I think it is because they so entirely dispense with the imagination as if it were useless. They do not exercise it to discriminate between what is interesting to their hearers, and what is otherwise. I find nothing which expresses my views more perfectly than where Upham says that "the debater who combines the highest results of reasoning with the highest results of the imagination throws the light of his own splendid conceptions around the radiance of truth; so that brightness shines in the midst of brightness, like the angel of the apocalypse in the sun." The shock which literature received during the Puritanic period will show the advantage to be had by giving full scope to the imagination. Among all persons of that date only one man showed himself capable of rising above the tendency of the times; and even he believed himself born too late to give full force to his grand intellect. Nevertheless, under all his disadvantages, John Milton left a fame that will never be erased from our memories. Why should not his grand success inspire some of us with the enthusiasm to go forward and do what we can to lessen the shadows of others' lives? Many of our days are "dark and dreary" enough, and we feel justifiable in giving way to circumstances, so that we do not picture the "sunshine behind the clouds," and thereby brighten the lives of others. Of course we all have not the genius of this great man; but we may console ourselves by remembering that we will not be required to give an account of talent which we have not, but our heavenly Father will hold us accountable for that which we have. Let us try to remember this, and "In the world's broad field of battle,

In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife.

"Trust no future, however pleasant;
Let the dead past bury its dead;
Act, act in the living present;
Heart within, and God o'erhead.

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

"Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait."

ANNIE.

Good-By.

Good-by is a hard word to speak. Some may laugh that it should be; but, then, icy hearts are never kind. It is a word that has choked many an utterance and started many a tear. The hand is clasped, the word is spoken—we part, and are out upon the ocean of Time, to meet again, God only knows when. It may be soon, it may be never. Take care that your parting be not a cold one. It may be the last that you can give. Ere you can meet your friend again death's cold hand may have closed his eyes and closed his lips forever. Ah! he may have died thinking you loved him not. Again, it may be a long separation. Tear not yourself away with careless coldness, that defies all love, but make your last words linger—give the heart its full utterance—and if tears fall, what of it? Tears are not unmanly.

B.

George Washington.

George Washington was a conspicuous and beautiful instance of a man who minded his own business. Suppose that an intelligent person living in one of the European centers of civilization had been asked, about the year 1770, what man then over thirty-seven years of age was most likely to be the typical great and good man of the modern world. Would he have singled out the Virginia militia officer, at that time busying himself with the care of his plantation on the Potomac, and whatever social duties and delights, or whatever politic politics were convenient and appropriate? The strong point about Washington was that the duty or the pleasure, the ceremony or the self-sacrifice that lay in his way, he enjoyed or performed without shirking, and to the very best of his ability. He did not, as a youth, lie awake o'nights wondering "what he would be when he grew up to be a man." When he became a man he showed neither imagination nor genius; but he had one of the traits of genius, namely: concentration. He put his mind upon his present occupation, without looking back or looking ahead. He engineered, fought the Indians, rode horseback, wrote letters, went fox-hunting, attended church, proposed to young women, conducted campaigns, and governed the United States—each at the proper time, and each with sincerity of purpose and assiduity. We do not hear of his swearing often; but when he did, it was thoroughly and effectively done. If he seems not to have been as successful in the matter of matrimonial proposals as in other occupations, we must remember that the centennially revived old wives' tales, of early and inflexible refusals of Washington by the said old wives themselves, must be taken with a few grains of deferential allowance.—Scribner's Monthly.

"Spare men," said a stone mason, "become useful citizens, and others become vagabonds—just as same slabs of marble become useful doorsteps and others tombstones."

OBITUARIES.

JOHN L. JONES was a native of Sumner county, Tenn., and born August 10, 1813. In 1829 he was converted at Beech Grove camp meeting, and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and was an active member of said church, in prayer meeting and Sunday school, until he moved to the State of Georgia in 1837. Not finding any organization of that church there, and not feeling that he would make that his permanent home then, he did not connect himself with the church any more till after his removal to Madison county, Miss. At the Annuity camp meeting, in 1855, he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and had his name recorded at Camden, where it remained till about three years ago, when it was transferred to Soule chapel. He was elected steward in the spring of 1856, and filled that office, except in 1874, till the day of his death. As a steward he was faithful, punctual and devoted. He had been successful in business, and was liberal in the use of his means for the support of the enterprises of the church. He was a peace-maker, and sought to have all work in harmony. He was not very demonstrative in the exhibitions of his feelings, yet he was uniform in his religious duties. O how he is missed by his church, and in the Quarterly Conference, where his seat was seldom vacant for nearly twenty years! May the Lord let his mantle fall on his son.

It was my privilege to receive him, as a probationer, into the church, and to have many pleasant hours of conversation at his home with him and his devoted Christian wife, who remains yet with us, and from them to receive many kindnesses. He had been in feeble health for years, and often said to his wife: "Let my call come when it may, I am ready—my way is clear." He died suddenly on Monday night, December 20, 1875, at his home in Madison county, Miss.—the night before our Conference closed in Canton. Sister Jones had but just reached home from Canton in time to see him close his eyes and die. May the kind Father give her his sustaining grace, and bring her and her sons to meet him and their Savior in heaven.

H. H. MONTGOMERY.

MISS HATTIE B. PHELPS, daughter of Dr. J. C. Phelps, of Salem, Lee county, Ala., was born September 27, 1857, and died April 5, 1876. Possessing a good heart and a fair intellect, she was remarkable for indomitable energy and perseverance—a will to do, a purpose that never wavered, an application that never tired. Appreciating her opportunities, she improved them to the best advantage. Her progress was rapid, and her attainments far superior to those of most persons of her age. Though young in years, her intelligence and real worth commanded the respect and esteem of all who knew her; and had she lived to mature life the high hopes of her parents and friends would doubtless have been realized. About eighteen months ago, feeling the necessity of having faith in Christ she connected herself with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, sought and obtained pardon, and henceforth became a decided Christian. Her renunciation of the world was complete, and her consecration entire. Having committed her whole soul, mind and strength to the service of God, she soon found all the ways of religion to be ways of pleasantness, and all her paths to be paths of peace. Ever seeking for more grace, for a nearer approach to the Savior, her faith strengthened and her prospect of heaven grew brighter constantly. She loved the Sunday school, took a deep interest in the church, and was seldom absent from public worship. During the last few months of her life she became more and more spiritual, and made the Bible her almost constant companion. She seemed to have a presentiment of her approaching dissolution, and arranged everything accordingly, talked freely with all, recommended to them the religion of the cross, and requested them to meet her in heaven. Few have lived with a brighter future than hers, and few have died more lamented. Her death was peaceful. Bereaved ones mourn their loss; but faith, strong and sure, views her on high at rest with the saints in light.

JOHN H. LOCKHART.

LAWRENCE P. GRONBERG.

God has taken still another from us, the departed this time being an only son, and but twenty-one and a half years of age. Lawrence P. Gronberg was born in New Orleans September 16, 1854, and died April 18, 1876. Consumption began its work upon him about six months since, though he was not confined to his bed until six weeks previous to his death. He was a kind, warm-hearted, gentle, gentlemanly, good, Christian young man. Reared in the Sabbath school, Lawrence was for many years one of its most efficient librarians. He professed religion and became a member of Morgan Street church October 1, 1869, Rev. T. H. Whitby, pastor. For three or four years previous to his death he was in the employ of the Delta Insurance Company. Attentive to business, and thoroughly competent and trustworthy, he won not only the esteem, but also the affection of his employers. The support of his aged parents, it was hard for him to leave them, yet he was submissive to the will of his heavenly Father. The day before he died, while talking with his mother, he said: "My poor mother, how can I leave you?" and then, embracing her, he said: "God's will be done." In his last hours he saw and spoke to "the loved ones gone before," calling to his angel brother: "Willie, Willie, Willie?" He died in the full assurance of faith and immortal hope, exclaiming: "I am going to Jesus." The Being "who doeth all things well," having taken Lawrence from the fond arms of his parents, will give unto them liberally of his Spirit of consolation and all needful grace. They will be cared for by him of whom it is written, that "he shall give his angels charge over them, to keep them in all their ways." With Lawrence let us say: "God's will be done."

J. T. S.

MRS. SALLIE ALLEN was born in Terrebonne parish, La., May 27, 1847, and on April 7, 1876, in the town of Franklin, La., after three months of severe and painful illness, she entered the gate of death, aged twenty-eight years. While only a few months old her own mother, in the providence of God, was called away from earth, and she is called away from her own little girl five in all—the youngest of whom has not yet passed her first year. Just as they were her example and counsel most she is stricken down by the last enemy.

Sister Allen joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South four years since, but up within a week of her death had not realized that peace which she so earnestly desired. She said: "I pray, but it does not seem to have much effect;" but God heard her prayer and answered it. When told by a friend to put her trust in God, she said: "I have already done that." When it became apparent to her own mind that she was dying, she said: "Tell aunt I am dying for the Lord." The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to her only a few minutes, before she fell asleep in Jesus. Thus with her closing moments she remembered, in this solemn act, the broken body and shed blood of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This is the second time this year that death has visited our church in Franklin, and for the second time their names have to be recorded not as entering it, but as departing from it in peace. While our ranks are being decimated and weakened, the church triumphant is receiving additions to her glorified hosts.

"One by one we cross the river,
One by one we're passing o'er."

J. F. SCRIBNER.

DIED, on Wednesday, April 5, 1876, near Greensburg, La., MRS. NANNIE LINDSEY, consort of Capt. T. D. Lindsey, of Alabama, and daughter of Hon. A. Womack and the late Matilda G. Her illness was of short duration. Her husband and father being absent in New Orleans, a dispatch was sent which brought her husband to her bedside a few short days previous to her death, but in which time there was a lifetime of sorrow, mourning to him, and a world of love, faith to the soaring spirit of the sinking. The stricken father did not reach home after her death, and was denied the privilege of catching the last look of love from his dying child. She was about thirty years of age, and had been a member of the Methodist Church eleven years. Her sad demise threw over the entire community where she resided, and where she was loved and respected, a pall of gloom. The sad effects of which have not yet left the hearts. Her life was characterized as a faithful wife, an affectionate daughter, a devoted sister, a kind mother and a kind friend. Ever cheerful in her temperament, amiable in her disposition, and charitable to the faults and frailties of life, she shone, wherever she went, as one who bore upon her placid brow the stamp of social worth and Christian virtues. She leaves a brother, two sisters and two children to mourn her loss, and longed for the salvation of her father and husband. We would say to the bereaved, Give your hearts to God, that you may be ready to meet the loved one who has gone before, where friends will part no more. "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

M. L. J. BOOTH.

MRS. MARTHA GAINEY died, at her residence near Trenton, La., January 23, 1876. She was born in South Carolina February 26, 1801. When quite young she moved to Franklin county, Miss. From thence, in 1837, she moved to Ouachita parish, La., where sleep her ashes in peaceful slumbers.

Sister Gainey was honored with a long life; and, much to her praise, it was a life spent in usefulness, for she visited the sick and poured balmy words of consolation into the hearts of the sorrowing; she was charitable toward the poor, was given to hospitality and greeted God's messengers with words of welcome when they entered her threshold. Her actions proved that she loved "the sanctuary of the Lord," and delighted in the society of his people. For many years she was a victim of that dread disease—consumption. She bore the pangs and confinement of that fell destroyer with Christian humility and resignation; for although disease preyed upon her vitals, and enervated her physically, her watchword was: "Trust him;" and the solace of her declining years: "He doeth all things well."

In the morning of life she sought the guidance of him who leadeth his faithful followers to the portals of peace and happiness; and when the summons came that she must give an account of her stewardship she was ready.

By her upright walk and godly conversation she has left us indubitable evidence that another soldier of the cross has fought the good fight of faith, crossed the turbid waves of life's tempestuous sea, and entered the pearly gates of heaven, to enjoy the blessings that await the faithful. She has bequeathed to her husband, children and friends a rich inheritance of pious precepts and examples.

C. W. HOOK.

DIED, in Covington, La., February 28, 1876, MRS. MYRTIE HENDERSON, in the twenty-seventh year of her age, leaving a disconsolate husband and four little children to lament her loss.

Sister Babington joined the church about ten years ago. She was married to Mr. M. Magee, September 5, 1867 (whose obituary has already appeared,) and to Mr. William W. Babington June 7, 1875, and in less than one short year the hymeneal chain has been rudely snapped asunder by death. She was constant in her religious duties, and was fully loved by all who knew her. Kind, obliging and cheerful, she had many friends who mourn her early and untimely end.

GEORGE T. VICKERS.

LITTLE EDDY, son of Richard and Hannah L. Welch, was born March 7, 1875, and departed this life January 28, 1876.

We admire commonly those things that are oldest and greatest. Old monuments and high buildings affect us beyond measure. And what is the reason? Because what is of oldest cometh nearest to God in antiquity; and what is greatest cometh nearest his works in spaciousness and magnitude.—Bishop Corbet.

The thorn in "sorrow's crown of sorrow" is the memory of sinful deeds.—Duff Porter.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1876.

BETWEEN THE LIGHTS.

illie pause in life while daylight lingers
Between the sunset and the pale moonrise, hen daily labor slips from weary fingers,
And soft gray shadows veil the aching eyes.

d perfumed wander back to fields of clover,
Seen in the light of suns that long have set;
Saved ones, whose earthly toil is over,
Draw nearer, as if they lived among us yet.

d voices call me; through the dusk returning
I hear the echoes of departing feet;
nd then I ask, with vain and troubled yearning:
What is the charm that makes old things so sweet!

Just the old joys be evermore withholden?
Even their memory keeps me pure and true;
nd yet from out Jerusalem, the golden,
God speaketh, saying: "I make all things new."

ather," I cry, "the old must still be dearer;
While my love, or give me back the past!
ve me the fair old earth, whose paths are dearer Than all thy shining streets and mansions vast."

eace, peace!" The Lord of earth and heaven knoweth
The human soul in all its bend and strife;
nt of his throne no stream of Lethe floweth,
But the clear river of eternal life.

e giveth life, aye, life in all its sweetness—
Old loves, old sunny scenes will be restore;
nly the curse of sin, and incompleteness
Shall faint, chine earth and vex thine heart no more.

ere linger in daily work and earnest living,
And faith shall lift thee to his south heights;
hen shall a psalm of gladness and thanksgiving
Fill the calm hour that comes between the lights.

Religion and Theology.

BY PROF. TAYLER LEWIS, LL. D.

t was many years ago, but the ne is before mine eyes and the rds ring clear in memory. From all-surrounding oblivion there nehow strangely survives, fresh yesterday, the plain talk of some y plain, pious people, that drew attention in earliest childhood.
respect to "culture," they were , perhaps, much above the Bibleght market women to whom nyan listened, "one sunny day," they discoursed, in a style that ght have astonished Pythagoras, out the soul, and Christ, and the glom of heaven. It was years fore such men as Mr. Emerson or atthew Arnold were dreamed of. these plain mothers in Israel the stminster Catechism was the sum their theology. The Bible, with w old books, like the works of vel, Boston and Hallyburton, de the catalogue of pretty much they ever read. Yet it is remem-red well, that far-off summer after-on, and the talk of those uncultred farmers' wives, over their com-ting tea. "I hope he is sound," d one, speaking of the new minis-
. The scene was not in New Eng-d; but there was much said, at t time, about the Unitarian and initarian controversy. "I hope is sound in doctrine. Above all ngs, should a minister be sound the faith." My childish attention s drawn to the unusual words.
e mention, too, of the ministry may ve had an attractive effect; for at early day there had come to me—rdly know from what source—a am of sometime becoming a clerman. This was afterward dispelled some sharp preaching that I ard, convincing me that I could take religion as easy," as many who have little or no difficulty assuming that awfully sacred of e of God's embassador to men.
Sound in the faith! I agree with u," said old Mrs. Jacobs, long since ad and gone to paradise. "That all very true. But then there may a great deal of head light, with but tle heart-light, or none at all."
ese peculiar terms also helped to the impression. I have thought it a great many times. It comes whenever I meet with a phrase-
gy now often used with an im-sing air of culture and profundity, though it covered something far yond the common thinking of the dinary religionist. It is the famous tinction which some of our most nded thinkers are so fond of makg between "religion and theology."
e question is asked with all due pect: Have Mr. Emerson or Dr.
olmes or Mr. Parton, or the host of iters in the Atlantic Monthly, or e Boston Radical Religionists, or e Rev. O. B. Frothingham, or the
v. Moncure Conway, or the Rev.
ing, or the Rev. Beecher—have y all, or any of them, really got eh beyond old Mrs. Jacobs' "head-light, heart-light!" what is re in all their pretentious phrasegy that transcends the meaning d the power of these plain words used by the plainest of evangelristians? To the latter class the ginction has a warm and vivid sig-icance. In the speech of the others, as far as they deny any reality doctrinal statements, the antitheof which they are so fond becomes inkling sound and nothing more.
, too, they say, Christianity is a meaning always by this some-ng opposed to dogma, a word to ich they seem to feel the utmost lpathy. Two apparent extremes metimes meet in the use of this ular phraseology. Dr. Bellows intains that Christianity has no changeable doctrine. Anything igid would have been the death
it. Had it possessed anything e a fixed creed it would have ended existence long ago. Thus mysal High Churchmen and Roman-ng believers in development often k in the same way. Christianity, y say, is not dogma. It is a life.
ey speak with authority, as though s life, whether as fact or idea, was mething peculiarly their own.
ey would represent the old religi-ism as wholly destitute of any h transcendental views, or as alys keeping them in the backound, buried under creeds and mbols.

These advanced thinkers might e easily gained a better experice. This new light of theirs might ve been discovered in many an -fashioned conference meeting, or many a Methodist class-room, ong with a far purer and more
l luster, and, at the same time, h far more of vital warmth, than ever exhibited on the pages of the antic Monthly, or in the published discussions of the "advanced men" who annually send forth their illumination from the city of Boston.

There is other glorious language that may be heard in such humble places and on such occasions. Grander words; in fact, and of grander significance than were ever employed by Matthew Arnold, with all his "culture," and all his "sweetness and light," have been listened to on the camp ground, or at some Baptist immersion scene, or in log school-houses far away on the uncultivated frontier, or among people having little of what some would call refinement or intelligence. They get it from Scripture, it may be said; but they seem to feel it, and to use it understandingly, as though truly "evolved from their own consciousness." There need be no fear of admitting that there may be, at times, something of conventionalism in such usage; but even conventionalisms are evidences of hearty feeling, and hearty intelligence, to which at some period they owe their origin and their tenacity. Listen to these plain men and women when they tell us of things in their experience which would have filled Socrates with awe, and made him think that the "longed-for mediator," the "Glorious Pan," had indeed come down from heaven to earth. Listen to them when they speak of "Christ formed in the soul the hope of glory," of there "being now no condemnation to them who are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit." "Knowledge shall cease" (to be the great, the crowning human excellency;) "but love never faileth." Have Matthew Arnold or Mr. Emerson, those worshipers of culture, ever come up to this? Have they ever shown any hearty admiration or fondness for such ideas, or for such language, whether as spontaneous or conventional?

> "O Love divine, how sweet thou art!
> When shall I find my willing heart
> All taken up by thee?
> I thirst, I faint, I die to prove
> The greatness of redeeming love,
> The love of Christ to me."

The Rationalist has sometimes much to say of love, if, as a "dogma," he can oppose it to those other "dogmas" of the divine truth and justice. "God is love" is one of his few pet texts, when he can condescend to quote Scripture at all. But imagine, now, these warm, glowing words of Wesley, uttered from some full heart, in such an assembly of "advanced thinkers:" "Redeeming love!" "The greatness of redeeming love!" Or take the Savior's equivalent language: "Loving much, forgiving much." The latter idea, or dogma, unacknowledged—could there be any warmth of reality in the expression of the other?

Yet who that has heard language of this kind, on occasions such as those referred to, can doubt of its coming from the very depths of the soul? Who understood this better, Hawthorne or Banyan? The latter derived it from its source; the former got it second-hand. Hawthorne resembled Scott in his perception of the real greatness of religious dogmas, though, like Miss Eliot, having no love for them. In this religious instinct he greatly excelled the ignorant Dickens, and the callous Thackeray, who does his best to picture as most contemptible and most odious of all the only ones in his vile menagerie of "Vanity Fair," who seem to be seeking, however poorly and haltingly, to make their escape from its foul malaria, and to breathe the atmosphere of a purer religious life. Hawthorne saw how intimately connected were theological ideas with all that is strongest, as well as highest in humanity. He seems to have a consciousness that they formed the most vivid element—the grandest and most available element, in fact—that entered into his powerful paintings of the human soul; and yet even of his treatment must we say: How far is it from a true appreciation of their force, as well as of their sublimity!

There is only one kind of dogma that has ever produced this unearthly, psychological state; and however shapeless and undefined the rudimentary Christian feeling may at first be into this "form" (this tupos or type of sound doctrine" will it as surely grow as ever the living plant grew into the form determined for it by its unchanging seminal principle. A true head-light and a true heart-light are reciprocal developments. They will show themselves in spite of all ignorance, as well as of all disguisings and obscurings of culture. The things of which we have been speaking may be expressed in language that would attract the philosophic ear. Dress them up with the "objective" and the "subjective," and even a company of Boston Free Religionists might admire it. In another form this grace-born state of soul might be made the subject of an intellectual rapture, of set forth as a gem from Anselm or Jeremy Taylor. But, after all, and in spite of John Foster's warning against cant, nothing here answers the purpose so well as the plainest Bible language.

It is, indeed, a great question: Who teaches uncultured souls that talk in this transcending way? Religion it certainly is, but only a religion that connects itself with a very peculiar theology. Independent.

A Case of Conscience.

A correspondent of the Christian Intelligencer writes as follows:

DEAR EDITOR: A good Providence has dealt very kindly with us. All our reasonable wants are gratified. We move in the best circles; have means to support the church liberally, of which we are members; take part in all the benevolent schemes of religion; and enjoy the comfort of relieving the poor of our neighborhood, for which we have their hearty thanks and deference. The children are healthy, very handsomely dressed, partaking of the benefits of refined society, and the advantages of the best education, including music, French, drawing, etc. My "turn-out," too, is highly respectable. You say I ought to be satisfied and happy. But there is a pull-back to my happiness—one or two scruples of conscience. Let me give you a portion of my history and then you will be kind enough to give me the relief I need.

Fifteen years ago I commenced business, and in a few years had accumulated $150,000. It occurred to me that my pecuniary safety required that I should liberally endow my wife, in order that our future should not be darkened by financial disaster. I gave her a house which cost $50,000, and is now worth a great deal more. I also settled upon her $50,000 in United States bonds. With the balance of my fortune I went into enterprises which promised by this time to make me a millionaire. My standing in the community, arising from my known prudence and honesty, led many to commit to my care all they possessed. Many of my transactions were of such a character that I was compelled to borrow largely, and had no difficulty in doing so.

From circumstances beyond my control misfortune has befallen me. I have lost everything. The men to whom I am in debt are chiefly men of small capital, and compelled to the strictest economy. Some of them are ruined by my failure. Widows and orphans are among the sufferers. I have just taken the benefit of the bankrupt law, and thus squared up my business obligations. I am very sorry for my creditors, and would gladly relieve them; but you perceive my utterly helpless condition. I actually have nothing. It is true I and mine are abundantly provided with money and means, which I gave away long ago for this very purpose. It was bread cast upon the waters, and according to the promise, it has come back again. Providence kindly arranged that however much others might suffer by me, I should not suffer by my mistakes or mishaps of my own. The law, too, justifies my wisdom. Business men (whom I don't owe anything) think I have been prudent and even shrewd. A number of my neighbors are in precisely my situation, and they are as happy as larks, and their children dance. But as for myself, I have painful misgivings sometimes. Occasionally I wonder how God views this arrangement—the profits of early business transactions put aside for my benefit, which later creditors cannot touch.

True, I gave the money to my wife; but was it not giving it to myself as well? Suppose a man has no wife—ought not the law allow him to make certain investments in his own name, to be kept sacred against any debts afterward contracted? Some of these questions puzzle me. Will there be any trouble about these things in the great day, or are they to pass as trifles, unworthy of being noticed by the Judge? Can I depend upon the law of the land as acting in such perfect accord with the principles of the divine statute book that my debts will be proved to have been righteously settled? Please make it appear that the bed is long enough for me to stretch myself on, and the covering abundantly wide to go round me.

Thomas Paine.

In the journal of Stephen Grellet, a noted and most worthy minister of the Society of Friends, I find the following record, made in the fall of 1807:

I may not omit recording here the death of Thomas Paine. A few days previous to my leaving Rome on my last religious visit, on hearing he was ill and in a very destitute condition; I went to see him, and found him in a wretched state; for he had been so neglected and forsaken by his pretended friends that the common attentions to a sick man had been withheld from him. The skin of his body was in some places worn off, which greatly increased his sufferings. A nurse was provided for him, and some needful comforts were supplied. He was mostly in a state of stupor, but something that had passed between us had made such an impression upon him that some time after my departure he sent for me, and, on being told I was gone from home, he sent for another Friend. This induced a valuable young Friend (Mary Rascoe,) who had resided in my family and continued at Greenwich during a part of my absence, frequently to go and take him some little refreshment suitable for an invalid. Once when she was there three of his deistical associates came to the door, and in a loud, unfeeling manner, said: "Tom Paine, it is said you are turning Christian; but we hope you will die as you have lived;" and then went away. On which, turning to Mary Rascoe, he said: "You see what miserable comforters they are." Once he asked her if she had ever read any of his writings, and on being told she had read but very little of them, he inquired what she thought of them, adding: "From such a one as you I expect a correct answer."—She told him that when very young his "Age of Reason" was put into her hands, but that the more she read it the more dark and distressed she felt, and she threw the book in the fire. "I wish all had done as you," he replied; "for if the devil has ever had any agency in any work, he has had it in my writing that book." When going to carry him some refreshments she repeatedly heard him uttering the language: "Oh, Lord," "Lord God," or "Lord Jesus have mercy upon me."

Thus the poor infidel, wretched in body and mind, received at the last his only ministrations of comfort from hands prompted by hearts filled with the love of the Lord Jesus, whom he had denied and reviled.

Very truly, etc.,

W. H. LADD.

BROOKLYN, 3d month, 7th day, 1876.

New York Witness.

A Western paper tells of an impecunious tramp thereaway who offered a canceled postage stamp for sale at a high price as a sacred relic, declaring that it was from one of St. Paul's letters to the Corinthians. This is a hard winter, requiring great industry to earn an honest living.

Religious Intelligence.

—There are fifty-four Presbyterian ministers in Brooklyn without charges.

—It is reported that the Ohio Open Communion Baptist Association has increased to 134 churches and 7,000 members.

—A collection was taken up at Calcutta, February 10, toward the building of the new church. The subscriptions footed up 7,521 rupees.

—Mr. Spurgeon's church in London now numbers 4,813 members. During the past year 510 were added, 248 dismissed, and 66 died.

—While Philip Phillips was at Bellary, India, 2,618 rupees ($1,324) were contributed toward a church which is to cost 3,000 rupees. A steady revival was going on at this place.

—The Theological Seminary at Bareilly, India, opened its new term with thirty-seven young men in attendance, eleven of them in the preparatory department. The new building is going up.

—The Presbyterians employ seventeen laborers among the Chinese in California, have mission schools at Sacramento and San Jose, with 167 scholars, and have received thirteen church members during the year.

—The proposition has been made in Canada "that the children of the Sunday schools in connection with the Canada Presbyterian Church subscribe to a fund which shall be expended as a memorial of the union of the Presbyterian Churches throughout the Dominion."

—The union between the Reformed Presbyterian Church and the Free Church in Scotland will take place on the twenty-fifth of May. The accession to the strength of the latter church will be 42 congregations, with a membership of some 7,500, and an annual income of about £14,000.

—A Roman Catholic paper of Dublin states that "most of the bishops, in their Lenten pastorals, allude in strong terms to the degrading vice of drunkenness, and some of them make it the principal topic of their discourses. Some of the priests even declared that in future Christian burial would be refused in all cases in which it could not be clearly and unquestionably shown that the excessive use of intoxicating drink had nothing to do with the death of the deceased person."

—Some of the Catholic journals have lately been rejoicing over the decline of Protestantism in Rome, and the proof is that the American Episcopalians, who now worship in a church outside the walls, have offered their property for sale. But they neglect to add the reason of the sale, which is that so much money has been subscribed that a splendid new church is now being built in the Via Nazionale, and was dedicated on or about the twenty-fifth of March. Besides this, the Methodists have recently opened a chapel within the walls, and the Baptists have just purchased another piece of land for the purpose of erecting another Baptist church in Rome. So much for the decline of Protestantism in Rome.

—BUDDHISM IN SIAM.—The last Bangkok Advertiser received at this office says that the King of Siam has issued a proclamation indicating the royal pleasure to promote the interests of the Buddhist religion, and has invited a convocation of Buddhist priests to assign to some of their more learned members the preparation of works that will facilitate the acquisition of the Pali language. It is proposed, adds the same paper, to prepare a grammar of the Pali that may be more simple and more easily taught than the present cumbersome and recondite treatise known as the Kamp'ee Mun. If Buddhism has any power to develop a higher morality than at the present exists in Siam, it will be an advantage to bring its tenets within the reach of all classes of the people. The translation of Buddhist books into simple, intelligible Siamese, that all can understand, will tend to show the masses what of good there is in the system.

—MEXICO.—Dr. H. Chauncey Riley, a devoted missionary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, is connected with an organization in Mexico, called the "Church of Jesus," which has at present fifty-seven congregations. He writes respecting that organization as follows: "The feeling that this Church of Jesus is called to carry the pure gospel far and wide among the fifty millions who speak the Spanish language, and that a most solemn responsibility rests upon it, is deeply realized among its ministers. The services of the church are characterized by earnest faith and Christian joy. Its ministers and its people are deeply in earnest, and they are pressing forward in their Christian work with wisdom, power and zeal. They are now admirably organized and united in good faith. This church is clearly and unmistakably the work of Jesus, who has said: 'I will build my church.' May he move the hearts of his people in this Bible land to continue encouraging this precious branch of his church in Mexico."

—The recent mission of the Methodists in the Kumaon district of Northern India seems to be making good progress. Kumaon is surrounded by heathen States, some of which are as yet inaccessible to missionaries; but their people come into this district for the purpose of trade and employment. Most of the sacred places of Hindoolsm are situated at the foot of the Himalayas, and therefore this country is visited by thousands of pilgrims. The mission has, therefore, opportunities of influencing far more than the one million inhabitants of Kumaon. The converts have thus far been chiefly gathered from the Dooms, an aboriginal but Hindoolized tribe, and the day seems near when multitudes of them will come into the church. The people of these hills are more honest and reliable than the Hindoos of the plains. There have been a good many converts and inquirers during the past year, and in thirty-eight schools more than 1,300 children are being taught.

Our Young People.

JOHNNY'S LETTER.

FOR THE "CHILD'S CORNER" OF THE ADVOCATE.

BY JANIE W[illegible].

Dear Silly, I'se two bears ole to day,
An' 'ou dunt dess wot I did say;
Well, I'll dess tell 'ou—'twas Hello'
Drampuin tell me to say so.

I'se two bears old, an' dess as big,
I roos es fas' es any pig;
I times de fence, dem rubs es fas'
To Aunie's 'ouse, den dimb er sas;

'Cause she does make me dess es mad,
An' den you know sometimes I'se bad.
I'se two bears ole, dear Silly Dat—
I feeds myself, an' I'se so fat.

I folds my hip, an' dlakes es gaid,
Affe takes my bed in de odder hand.
Dear Silly, I dun't whe no mo—
I'se seepy, an' to bed mos' do.

Dive diss fur Nanule, den one fur 'ou.
Dood-by, dear Silly, an' Napple doo.

From Our Little Friends.

PORT GIBSON, MISS., April 24, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: When we get your ADVOCATE I take my chair to mamma's side and listen to her read the nice stories in the Child's Corner. I do thank you for taking such interest in children. I and little sister laughed heartily when we heard "How Barney Milked the Bays' Nest." I will be six years old in May. My sister, Helen Haines, was three last January. Our dear papa was a Methodist minister of the Texas Conference. He has been dead over three years, but I still remember how he would take me out to a grove, and lay his hand on my head and teach me to pray. I have five aunts in Texas—my papa's sisters—all good Methodists. We are living in Mississippi, with grandpa. He will soon be seventy-seven years old. He is very kind. Sister is his "pet." I should like much to go to Sabbath school; but, as we have none near, mamma reads the Bible and teaches us about Jesus. I do love to go to church and hear Bro. Campbell preach. We are glad when our presiding elder, Bro. Montgomery, comes around. I am raising chickens to sell, and get money for them and the missionary cause.

I want to say more, but mamma says I must not write as much as I talk. With love and good wishes, I am

Your little friend,

MINNIE CARDEN.

PORT GIBSON, MISS., April 27, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: As I promised to write you a longer letter next time, I will do so, with much pleasure. I was very glad to see my letter published in your delightful paper. I read it with much care, and thanked you with all my heart for printing it. Times are very dull now in our neighborhood. There is no news at all; but I will tell you all that is in my power. We are going to have a May-day celebration on the second of May, and I anticipate a great deal of pleasure. Our Sabbath school is going on as well as ever. We have a very good organ in our church. Our superintendent is H. P. Wells, and we love him very much. We have a temperance society that meets every Tuesday night, and it has done a great deal of good throughout our neighborhood. I will close this uninteresting letter, hoping that you will believe me, as ever,

Your little friend,

CARRIE TRAVIS.

NEWTON, MISS., May 2, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I see so many children writing to you that I must write a few lines; for I reckon you can, with guessing at some words, make out what I write. But I am a little girl, and can't write as well as I can count, figure and play the piano. My mamma teaches me at home. Papa hears my lessons once or twice a day; but he is gone so much that mamma has to teach me. Come to our District Conference, dear editor, and I will play the organ for you. I play all your nice little Sunday school songs out of our little Gem. But I will not trouble you with a long letter. I wish to let you know I can write to you, and grandma, in South Carolina. So good-by for this time.

Your affectionate little friend,

HETTIE SMITH.

(We shall try to attend the District Conference. EDITOR.)

BAY CASTLE, April 25, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: I am nine years old. We have a very good Sunday school and a good preacher. I do not go to school, but I study at home. I have some flowers, which I delight to work among. Pa takes your excellent paper, and I like to read the Young Folks' column. I wonder if you have room for C. A. W.?

He Did It First.

There were once two sheep who lived in a field. One was black and one was white. In the same field lived a horse and a cow. Now the black sheep was not at all good. It cared little where he chose to go the white sheep would go; and what he did the white sheep would do.

So they both did what they ought not. And when the white sheep was asked why he did what he ought not he would say: "The black sheep did it first!" One day a boy went through the field, and did not shut the gate. The black sheep saw it, and ran out of the field with great glee. The white sheep saw it too, and they both went the same way.

But soon they met a large dog, who knew that they ought not to be out in the road. He ran at them and bit them, and tore some wool off their backs. They were glad to run back to the field; and the white sheep was quite ill with fright all the rest of the day.

"But why did you go?" said the old cow. "The black sheep went," said the white one. "He did it first."

Well, the gate was shut; but one day the black sheep found a way out of the field through a hole in the fence. He crept through the gap; and, of course, the white sheep crept through as well. They got out on the moor, and thought it fine fun to be there, with no one in sight.

Soon the black sheep, who was first, came to the edge of a deep pit. He gave a great jump and leaped in.

The white sheep did not stop to think. He gave a great jump and leaped in too. Down, down, down he fell, on a heap of sharp stones. Both he and the black sheep were much hurt. They could not get out, and were forced to lie there in great pain. By and by some men came by, and saw the sheep in the pit. The men got them out, and took them back to the field, and sent for some one to see what could be done for them.

The horse and the cow, in great grief, came and stood by the side of the white sheep as he lay on the grass. They were fond of him in spite of all his faults. "Oh, why!" cried the cow, with tears in her eyes (and the bell that was hung round her neck shook and rang as she leaned over him), "why did you leave the field with the black sheep?"

"He did it first," said the white one in a faint voice.

"Then why did you jump down that steep place? Could you not see that it was a pit?"

"I did not stop to see. He did it first," said the white sheep. Then, with a groan, he went on to ask: "How is the black sheep? Is he here too? And what does the man think who comes to see us?"

"I grieve to say," said the cow, "that he thought you were both too much hurt to live. The poor black sheep has just died, and I fear that you must die too."

"He did it first," said the white sheep. And with those words he died.

Aunt Daisy and the Boy.

Aunt Daisy lived in a little house in the country, with morning-glory vines running up the front porch, and a big apple tree growing by the back door.

Here, too, lived Manly, the Maltese cat, and her cunning, homely black kitten.

It was a very neat little house, with all the window shutters kept closed in the day-time to keep out the flies; the books ranged in rows like soldiers in the book-case; ever so many nice pictures hanging on the walls, and sweet flowers in lovely cups and vases, on brackets in every corner.

There was a place for everything, and everything was in its place.

Even in the small garden the cucumber vines never strayed out of their own bed, and the tomato plants grew just where they were told to; when one day there came to visit Aunt Daisy a boy.

And when that boy went away, a week from the day he came, every shutter in that little house was flung open, and the flies were having a party in the pretty parlor; the books were scattered all over the floor; the vase, with the robin-redbreast painted on it, was smashed; the spring of the summer door was broken; the morning-glory vines were trailing on the ground; the clothes lines were cut in pieces; the biggest bough of the apple tree was splintered, and Manly and her kitten were hidden behind the wood in the wood shed.

"Oh! dear," said Aunt Daisy to Ellen, the maid-servant, as soon as the boy had gone—and she made a wry face as she said it—"I am going to bed. When you have put the place in order, call me. And mind, after this, let in a lion, a tiger—a whole menagerie—but never again let in a boy!"—Baldwin's Monthly.

A little girl "out West" recently wrote a letter to a missionary, telling how a bad hen was reformed, which is very pleasant for its childlike ingenuousness. She wrote to the missionary: "I inclosed I send $2.25 for missionary purposes. You asked me, when you were here, if I would not ask ma to give me a hen, and then save the proceeds from her eggs and chickens during the year for the mission cause. She gave me a hen; but it was the meanest one on the place about setting. She, however, reformed after she joined the missionaries, and set and attended to her chickens better than ever before. She hatched twenty chickens, and raised sixteen, which I sold for $4, and some eggs for twenty-five cents."

Little Johnny wanted to go to church. His mother was afraid he would make a noise, but his father said: "Johnny knows better than to make a noise in church." So he went. He kept very still till the last prayer. By that time he had grown tired of sitting still, and was standing on the pew cushion with his back to the pulpit. When the lady in the next seat bowed her head for prayer Johnny thought she was crying. He leaned over, and said to the lady in a tone that was meant for a whisper, but which was only too plainly heard: "Poor lady! What ee matter? Do oo stummuch ache?"

A witty moralist says that many a man thinks that it is virtue that keeps him from turning rascal, when it is only a full stomach. One should be careful not to mistake potatoes for principles.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four, new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Merciful and Faithful.

Such is the character of our great High Priest and Savior. He was made like unto his brethren in all things, to the end "that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people." The rejection of Christ's humanity is an older heresy than the denial of his divinity. His proper and complete humanity is emphasized in Scripture. Otherwise he could not have become our substitute to die for our sins, nor could he have given us the perfect example of a holy life, which he did. But, as our ascended and glorified Lord, he is human still, and has carried with him into the highest heavens the manhood with which he was invested on earth.

It is this conception of him that brings comfort to the devout believer, and that enables him to come with boldness to the throne of grace. Christ is exalted, and reigns as "the first-born among many brethren." There is a tie of blood and of near kinship that unites him to our nature and race. He has had experience of our temptations, sorrows and infirmities, and this is an important qualification for his mediatorial work. "For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted."

Mercy and faithfulness are assured to us by his being made like unto his brethren. He is filled with compassion toward his own kindred. He is in complete sympathy with those who are battling with sin and oppressed with sorrow, because he knows by experience what the conflict is. His forbearance, patience and long-suffering in his dealings with us have their explanation largely in this fact. The quality of mercy in his administration is deepened and intensified by the human nature through which it shines. This gives peculiar pathos and power to his intercessions, and strengthens the arm that holds back the thunderbolt of justice.

Faithfulness also is assured by the Savior's human nature. He is faithful as our Advocate to the interests and welfare of his clients, ever watchful over them, and on the alert to guard and shield from harm. He is faithful in his promises, in his admonitions and warnings, and in his love for souls. It is faithfulness toward God on the one hand, securing the honor and holiness of his government, and perfectly satisfying the divine law; and it is faithfulness toward man on the other hand, securing for him space for repentance, the remission of sins and the grace of salvation.

In our High Priest is this wonderful combination—merciful and faithful. The two qualities exist in perfect harmony. Mercy does not degenerate into license, and the obliteration of all moral distinctions and obligations; and faithfulness does not run into the extreme of legal exaction and severity. Christ is merciful—he is also faithful. There is sympathy with us in our weakness and imperfections and sufferings, condescension to our low and degraded condition, and tenderness in ministering to our frail and dependent state. There is faithfulness in pointing to the attainment of holiness as the goal of salvation, and in insisting upon the obedience of faith and love. The two things are beautifully and perfectly blended in our High Priest. We must not look upon the one as separated from the other. There is sometimes a tendency to look only at the merciful, while we lose sight of the faithful. He was made like unto his brethren that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest. He must be faithful in this great office as well as merciful—faithful to God, to himself, to truth and to us.

One quality is as essential to our comfort as the other. It is mercy and faithfulness, thus conjoined in perfect harmony, that unfolds to our faith a Savior whom we can trust, love and adore. The first-born Son, our Brother, is this Mediator and Redeemer. "Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Savior, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins." It is a theme for our meditations, something to inspire our songs and to vitalize our prayers. It is a thought to cheer us in our troubles and temptations, and to disarm "the king of terrors," that our great High Priest is merciful and faithful—a Savior adapted by his own humanity to our infirmities and wants.

Doubtful.

Some scrupulous church member wishes for counsel and advice about going to the opera-house to witness a religious opera given in behalf of a Protestant church. Why does our serious inquirer hesitate? If the thing is of doubtful propriety, the safe course is to keep away. By so doing he will save his money and his conscience, and possibly enjoy religion more. It is time to consider a little in regard to these church fairs and entertainments. They are becoming an evil. People will soon reach a point where straightout giving to religious objects will be out of the question. It will come to pass after awhile that our churches will have to depend upon oratorios, operettas and bazars almost entirely.

It is difficult to keep these various devices for raising money within due limits. They are not generally promotive of piety or spirituality, and may lead to tastes frivolous, sensual and worldly, which at length seek gratification in the ball-room and the theater. The tendency and drift is decidedly away from Christ, and injurious to the spiritual work and ends of the church. In the long run we fear the effect will be disastrous to church finances, and that giving from a sense of duty, and from purely benevolent motives, will be the exception. The more we resort to these expedients the less will the grace of giving become. The process is impoverishing in the end.

The object is to obtain money from a class of people who are not open to solicitation in any other way, and who feel little interest in church enterprises. They must be caught with guile, and they must have some show of a return for what they may be induced to spend. But the church people themselves will gradually fall into the same way of thinking as to their own religious contributions, and the measure of their liberality will be lessened by what they can obtain with such facility from a pleasure-loving community. Paul was good at making collections for benevolent objects, but the happy thought of getting up a fair seems never to have occurred to him. Surely the Phœbes and Priscillas and Dorcases of the primitive church were equal to such an undertaking, and the poor saints at Jerusalem were in great straits. There were town halls and theaters in such places as Ephesus and Corinth and Thessalonica, and even heathen authorities might have permitted their use for such a charity. But the simple-minded apostle directed the faithful to lay by on the first day of the week, as the Lord prospered them, and to give liberally and cheerfully. His appeal was direct. The Lord loveth a cheerful giver, and he that soweth liberally shall reap liberally. If there was to be grudging and constraint about it, he intimates that they had better not give at all.

Mr. Moody bears his testimony against church fairs as being in the way of revivals, and as obstructions to spiritual progress. He will not allow his friends in Chicago to build a tabernacle for him in this way. That wonderful collection at the Hippodrome suggests a better way. A revival will ordinarily lead to better financial results than any amount of worldly expedients, and money contributed out and out, from right motives, will be a means of grace and a blessing to the giver.

Is it not time to consider whether these sensational methods of raising funds for church purposes are not being carried too far? Memorial windows and memorial devices generally, and all expedients in the same line, may not be quite as objectionable as the average church fair, but the appeal is not to the conscience, nor altogether to the piety of the giver. There may be a golden mean in these things, and many entertainments are merely pleasant social reunions in themselves, scarcely open to serious objection. But the trouble lies in stopping at the right point, and in avoiding the demoralization to which they seem inevitably to tend. A church, both in its building and its support, should be an exhibition of devotion and generous liberality, a gift to God as a free-will offering, and not the result of arts and persuasives addressed to the love of pleasure and worldly vanity. If this furor for expedients cannot be abated altogether, possibly it may be moderated. So we hope.

Letters to a Young Preacher.

MY DEAR NEPHEW: I made two observations in former letters upon which I wished to put special emphasis, that you might ponder them long and well. One is that the presence of the Holy Ghost is necessary to all preaching, from the conception of a sermon to its delivery. The other is that he acts upon the soul not as a mechanical force, but as a principle of life, never violating the psychological laws of our nature, but always moving in harmony with them; and hence requires, as a condition of co-operation, that we observe those laws ourselves—in other words, that we be natural. Now I wish to make this further observation, viz.: that this vital contact of man with God, as the branch with the vine, implies not only that man derives his life from God, but also that his life flows back into God—that there is a mutual interpenetration of the two spirits—the human and the divine. God dwells in man, and at the same time man dwells in God. Humanity never reaches its true peace until it rests in him, nor its true glory until it enshrines him; for until this two-fold indwelling takes place God is to man hardly more than a vague idea—a dreadful conception of embodied omnipotence working without law. But the moment he makes his abode with us, that moment does he become a realized personal being, instinct with life and love, omniscient, almighty, forgiving; and this indwelling becomes the supreme fact of man's life. In one lit he finds himself translated from the kingdom of darkness and death to the kingdom of life and light—exalted from the condition of slavery to sin and nature to lordship actually regnant over sin and nature. His relations to all things sensuous and spiritual are changed, and in the change he obtains control of all the conditions of permanent happiness. There is an elevation of motive and aim which nothing can reach—a sustained flow and buoyancy of purified affection which nothing can interrupt. But, further, this supreme fact, this vital interpenetration of his own spirit and the divine Spirit, immeasurably enlarges the area of his consciousness, and thereby immeasurably enlarges also his power to labor and to suffer. His energies become God-like. His life is a kind of divine life, "hid with Christ in God." His consciousness becomes a kind of divine consciousness. Strong in the strength of God, he is mighty to the pulling down of strongholds, and counts not his life dear unto him, for already "he hath eternal life."

I am strongly tempted to digress, just here, in several directions, but refrain, lest speculation should draw me away from my purpose, which is purely practical. I will not attempt to define humanity thus intertwined and interlocked with its Maker—in thought and affection, in purpose and aim—nor say wherein and how far the expressions of the divine Spirit appear humanized, and those of the human spirit deified, in this wondrous and blessed communion; but will ask you to pause and reflect whether a sublimer elevation of personal character can be reached than that conferred by this association. It resembles somewhat the incarnation of the eternal Son which so amazingly exalted humanity; and yet this is the condition of every believer, whose true glory is just in proportion to the grasp of his own faith and the fullness of the divine presence in him. But, my dear nephew, grand as is this character, there is a new luster added to its glory in the case of that man whom God appoints his own embassador—who is "inwardly moved by the Holy Ghost to take upon him this office and ministry;" for St. Paul calls this an "honor, which no man taketh upon himself but he that is called of God." The work of the ministry clothes the preacher with a dignity independent of that which inheres in his personal character as a believer.

Now the plain question to be put to your common sense is this: Can a man of so much personal and official dignity condescend to any course of social conduct or business dealing such as all good and sensible people agree to despise as pusillanimous and mean. Take a case: Conference is coming on, and the Rev. Mr. Sycophant wants another coat. Well, he goes round to Bro. A.'s store, looks and prices and goes away—a routine which he repeats every few days. At every visit, however, he is careful to tell of the hardships, self-denials and poverty of the ministry, and how society justly requires us to go well dressed, but that clothes will wear out, and the rule of the church is small salaries. What fine worldly prospects some of us forsook, and what large fortunes we could have made and what luxury we would have enjoyed had we not gone into the regular work. Praises Bro. A.'s liberality to the church and generosity to the poor. Tells what a nice Conference dress Sister B. gave his wife last week, and with how much real pleasure she quoted the text, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," after the present was made, and what a hundred-fold reward awaits all such folks in heaven. All this, or such, is repeated with varying emphasis and tone, as the case demands, until the scene closes; the end of which is that Rev. Mr. Sycophant gets a new coat for only a few obsequious smiles and bows and windy thanks, or at a price much below that justly asked by the merchant. In the same fawning, flattering way, by begging and jewing, he manages to get books, and to feed and clothe himself, at the cost of a very little money paid out, and a very great amount of contempt received. "Hinting" is the technical word invented to define this conduct; and they say he hints in their parlors, on the street, in the market, in the store, and even in the pulpit. How such dignity and pusillanimity can dwell together in the same soul is a problem too subtle for me. I have studied it frequently, but never yet have been able to solve it. My dear nephew, I never want to study it in your case; and am sure will never have it to do so long as you do nothing to degrade your own "spiritual worthiness," and "walk worthy of your high vocation."

Affectionately, etc.,

UNCLE JOHN.

Dearer than Life.

"All this time Mr. Wesley and I lay on the floor; he had my great-coat for his pillow, and I had Burkitt's Notes on the New Testament for mine. After being here nearly three weeks, one morning, about three o'clock, Mr. Wesley turned over, and, finding me awake, clapped me on the side, saying: 'Bro. Nelson, let us be of good cheer—I have one whole side yet, for the skin is off but one side.' We usually preached on the commons, going from one common to another, and it was but seldom any one asked us to eat or drink. One day we had been at St. Hilary Downs, where Mr. Wesley preached from Ezekiel's vision of dry bones, and there was a shaking among the people while he preached. As we returned Mr. Wesley stopped his horse to pick the blackberries, saying: 'Bro. Nelson, we ought to be thankful that there are plenty of blackberries, for this is the best country I ever saw to get a stomach, but the worst that I ever saw for getting food. Do the people think we can live by preaching?' I said: 'I know not what they may think; but one asked me to eat something as I came from St. Just, when I ate heartily of barley bread and honey.' He said: 'You are well off; I had a thought of begging a crust of bread of the woman where I met the people at Morvah, but forgot it till I had got some distance from the house.'"

Thus, John Nelson tells us, he and Mr. Wesley fared while preaching the gospel to the people of Cornwall, in England, in 1743. Think of the great apostle of Methodism "sleeping on a floor," the "skin rubbed all his side," "picking blackberries" for food, and "begging a crust of bread," or purposing to do so, but so absorbed in his work as to forget it, in fact! Think of Wesley starving himself to preach the gospel to the destitute of his native land! Meanwhile they are so ignorant and degraded as not to think of offering him such lodging as they could afford, nor necessary food. These, too, are the people who hear the word of God gladly from his lips. Those who rejected the word stoned him, beat him, and imperiled his life on many occasions. But those whose souls he feasted starved his body. Yet he uttered no word of complaint, but cheerfully "endured hardness as a good soldier of Christ." One less constrained by the love of Christ than was he would perhaps be ready to say: "Mr. Wesley was a fanatic; neither duty nor justice could require, and common sense, yea, even self-preservation would forbid that he should thus distress and destroy himself to preach to them (who were not heathen,) while they would not provide for him even the simplest necessaries of life." Yet did not the soldiers on both sides during our late war undergo willingly, and with the applause of their friends, similar hardships and privations to secure those things which perish with their using? Shall Mr. Wesley, then, be thought fanatical or over-zealous because he counted not his life dear unto him in his efforts to rescue souls from the eternal burnings? No doubt some have thought thus of him. But now let lukewarm zeal and puny faith stand reproved and disparaged, and, with the angels, behold the mind which was in Christ Jesus mightily working in Wesley to seek and to save that which was lost! Behold him, at every cost, carrying the unsearchable riches of Christ to the perishing of our race! O that such an estimate of the value of souls might fill many hearts in our day! The world could not long withstand an army of Christians moved by that devotion to duty and that divine compassion for sinners which filled the soul of John Wesley. H.

Uncle John.

An "Itinerant's Wife," writing from Texas, has a word of commendation for our venerable and rather sharp contributor. She writes as follows:

"DEAR UNCLE JOHN: Lately we have been getting the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, and enjoy your letters. Now, to prove to you that you are doing good, I will state that we live away out in Texas, and keep up an itinerant's home. After my husband had read your article on the mustache question he felt convicted (he having the whole patch well cultivated.) "But," says he, trying to ease his conscience, "well, now if Uncle John lived here, and traveled over these broad prairies where the strong winds defy the use of the umbrella, he would not be so hard on us." But after a good night's rest he was still ill at ease, and I do, sincerely wish you could have seen him next morning, scissors in hand, before the glass, clipping his great protector. We have a young preacher who makes his home with us. It is his first year; has been to college, and has, as he thinks, a handsome mustache—nothing more, nothing less. I will tell you I believe he is really afraid he is your nephew, and eased his conscience with three clippings; disliked to part with his new favorite, but really kept cutting until he got within the range of decency. I like your pieces. Let us hear from you often. These little things help to make up life, and everything should be done "decently and in order."

The New Orleans District Conference began its session on Thursday night, and closed on Saturday night, May 13—the presiding elder, Dr. Walker, presiding. The reports from the several charges were generally favorable as to spirituality and growth. The district love-feast on Friday night was well attended, and an occasion of great interest. The reports indicated that class meetings and love-feasts in our city churches are kept up, and that they are greatly blessed as means of grace. Bishop Keener reached home on Saturday, and was present during the Saturday evening session.

Delegates to the Annual Conference—W. H. Foster, R. W. Knickerbocker, John L. Dunnica, S. K. Russ. Alternates—Dr. J. J. Lyons, D. L. Mitchel.

Trustees Seashore Camp Ground—W. H. Foster, J. H. Keller, R. S. Rickey, Phillip Hallarun, G. W. W. Goodwyn, B. O. L. Rayne, William Otis, H. G. Hopper, Dr. Griffin.

One of our oldest and best citizens, J. A. Maybin, Esq., died on the fifteenth instant. Mr. Maybin was an elder in the Presbyterian church, and for many years an active and useful preacher. He preached twice on Sunday, retired to rest on Sunday night somewhat indisposed, and on Monday morning was found dead in his bed. Mr. Maybin was eighty-one years of age, and for sixty years a resident of New Orleans.

Another venerable matriarch of McKendree church, says the Nashville Christian Advocate, has crossed the flood. Mrs. Ann T. Elliston, mother-in-law of the late Dr. A. L. P. Green, died May 3. We had the mournful satisfaction of visiting her during her illness, which we apprehended would result in death. She was suffering great pain from an injury received by a fall from the bedside. But she was ready for her change. A large company attended her funeral at McKendree, May 4, the obsequies being performed by her life-long friend, Bishop Paine, assisted by Dr. Kelley, the pastor, and the editor of this paper.

Bishop Marvin has been designated by the College of Bishops to make an episcopal visit to China, after holding three Conferences on the Pacific coast.

Reverend is not enough even for a Methodist Bishop. So, every now and then, right is prefixed. Sometimes it is the Right Reverend Bishop Paine that marries somebody, officiates at a funeral, or preaches somewhere. It was the Right Reverend Bishop Simpson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who made the prayer at the Centennial opening. Probably reporters mean well in this, and adopt the custom of the Anglicans herein. Our English Episcopal friends make much of their title. A mere preacher is reverend, a bishop is right reverend, an archbishop most reverend, a dean is very reverend. In this country we believe the Protestant Episcopal ministry has but the two grades—reverend and right reverend.

We protest against the foisting of this right reverend upon our Methodist Bishops. They do not need any higher title than plain reverend, and neither right, most or very would add to their influence, or secure greater respect with sensible people. How much importance some English churchmen attach to reverend was seen some time ago, when the attempt was made to prevent its inscription on the tombstone of a dissenting minister. Our Bishops are as much Bishops as any in the Episcopal Church; and perhaps more after the scriptural order, and they are worthy of all honor, but they do not need, nor will they accept, any extra title.

In order to guard against all pontifical nonsense and error we should not object to the entire disuse of reverend in connection with the name of ministers. We should not weep over the fact if all the reverends, right, most, very, and the rest, were consigned to everlasting disuse. But, as this is not likely to be for the present, let us assert the primi inter pares, by having one simple reverend for all.

Salonica, the city where a Mussulman mob recently murdered the German and French consuls, is the Thessalonica of ancient history, and of the New Testament. It is the same place where Paul preached and planted a Christian church. In 315 before Christ the ancient name Therma was changed by Cassander to Thessalonica, in honor of his wife, the daughter of Philip. Its subsequent history has been notable. Xerxes rested his army here. Under the Roman empire it was the capital of the Illyrian provinces. Cicero took refuge here during his exile. It was captured by the Saracenes in 904, when the population amounted to 220,000. The Normans from Sicily took it in 1185. It was held during the first half of the thirteenth century by Boniface, of Montferrat, and afterward by the Venetians. It fell into the hands of the Turks in 1430. It is at the present day the second city in European Turkey, and has a large population and an extensive commerce. The recent outrage perpetrated by Mohammedan fanaticism may help in connection with the Herzegovinian war to hasten the dismemberment of European Turkey, and to drive the Turks out of Europe altogether.

The thirtieth anniversary of the New Orleans District Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was held at the Candelet Street church on Sunday, May 14, at three o'clock P. M. The spacious house was filled to overflowing, and the exercises very appropriate and entertaining. The singing was in charge of Prof. Beardslee, and was delightful. W. H. Foster, president of the Union, conducted the exercises with as much vigor and interest as at the first anniversary thirty years ago. Among the veteran Sunday school men who participated in the first anniversary we noticed Capt. R. L. Robertson, William G. Sherry, James F. Fowler, and a few others. Perhaps the editor might count himself in also, as in those days (1846) he was a member of Bro. Sherry's Bible class. Our Sunday school work in New Orleans is in a healthful and growing condition, and never more flourishing than at the present time.

Our news columns are unusually full this week. Items in extenso, concerning the Centennial opening and the proceedings of the General Conference at Baltimore, will be found in those columns on the first page. Next week we shall publish in full the addresses of our fraternal messengers to the General Conference.

The steamship Hudson, Captain Unger, from New York, drawing fourteen and a half feet, entered the South Pass on Friday, May 12, and came up through the jetties without any detention or trouble. This is regarded as the precursor of the general passage of large ships through the jetty channel.

The Bishops have appointed Gen. Robert B. Vance, of North Carolina, to fill the place of fraternal commissioner made vacant by the death of Gov. Polk.

...eting of Our Missionary Board.

...r. Haygood, writing to the St. ...is Christian Advocate, says:

...he board met on Thursday morn... May 5, the president, Dr. T. O. ...mmers, in the chair. Both the ...retaries, Dr. J. McFerrin and Dr. ...C. Kelley, were in position, and ...ly with elaborate and careful re... ...s. So was the treasurer, Dr. A. ... Redford. The committees had ...pared the way for the board by ...eful auditing of accounts, and by ...paring well-digested estimates for ...appropriations to be made by the ...rd. At no annual meeting dur... ... six years have we had such ...r, full, satisfactory presentations ...f the business of the board. The ...retaries did their work well, and ...y deserve the thanks which they ...ived, not in formal resolutions, ...in hearty expressions of satisfac... ...among the members. No doubt ...another year the reports will be ... more satisfactory.

...uring our connection with the ...rd there has been at no annual ...eting so encouraging a state of ...gs as exists at this time. In the ...place, the receipts for foreign ...sions are, if we remember rightly, ...re $12,000 in excess of last year's ...rus. This is, indeed, remarkable ...this hard year—this year of dis... ...pair, scarcity, bankruptcy. ...e figures speak volumes for the ... of the preachers and the liber... ... of the people. Besides this ...ey evidence, there are other ...ns of good. The correspondence ...he secretaries, as we were in... ...ed, reveals a growing interest ...e cause of missions, particularly ...gn missions. There has been a ...deal of earnest preaching, im... ...assioned praying and diligent col... ...ing. We were told that no other ...d of Missions in this country, so ...s heard from, can show any ad... ...e in collections. And we are ... to do better. The mission-tide ...ing. May it swell into a great ..., inundating that it may enrich ...church! The reports from our ...on fields are encouraging. Chi... Brazil, Mexico, the Cuban mis... Key West, Fla.,) our proper ...n fields, as well as the Western, ...erman and the Pacific Confer... show progress that is unmis... ...le. Truly we may thank God. ...ake courage."

The following items are from the ...ville American of May 6:

...e Board of Missions of the Meth... Church South, after two days ...ose application, got through ... labors at seven o'clock last ... An assessment of $73,168 for ...n missions, to be paid in quar... installments, was levied. This ... increase of $17,000 over the ...ment of last year. The amounts ...be distributed to the missions as ...ws:

...gent fund	$8,650 00
...n Border	3,000 00
... Mission Conference	6,000 00
...n Mission Conference	10 0.0 00
...ru Conference	4,500 00
...r Conference	3,000 00
...	6,000 00
...cluding Key West	2 000 00
...	5,500 00
...can work—
...ore and Virginia	1,000 00
...gion	500 00
...ary mission	10,578 00
... Conference	2,500 00
...gdes Conference	4,700 00
...ia	5,000 00
...ials	5,100 00
...	$73,168 00

... Dr. D. C. Kelley was unanim... re-elected assistant mission... ...ecretary.

...was decided to send a Bishop to ... during the summer, the Col... of Bishops to decide as to who ...go.

...was resolved that the assess... on the Annual Conferences ...e ensuing year be $100,000, and ...tributed as last year, viz.:

ASSESSMENTS.

...ERENCE.	AMOUNT.
...ore	$5,625 00
...	6,220 00
...n	1,010 00
... Carolina	5,850 00
... Carolina	2,910 00
... Georgia	5,620 00
... Georgia	4,160 00
...	830 00
...	4,750 00
... Alabama	3,750 00
...	3,330 00
...ppi	3,540 00
...Mississippi	3,340 00
...	5,000 00
...	2,000 00
...ee	6,850 00
...y	4,160 00
...le	5,000 00
...	208 00
...ds	2,080 00
...st Missouri	2,080 00
...	1,250 00
...ck	416 00
...	2,500 00
...	1,250 00
...ivers	1,250 00
...Mission	104 00
...	1,800 00
...exas	1,870 00
...xas	1,460 00
...st Texas	1,560 00
...xas	1,040 00
...	208 00
...cles	104 00
...	625 00
...	1,040 00
... Mission	420.00
...	$100,000 00

...lutions of the Book Committee.

...reas, There is owing to the ...ing House from our travel... ...achers more than thirty thou... dollars; And whereas, This ..., if in the hands of our book ... would enable him to liquidate ...dre floating debt, and thus re... ...rause of annoyance and em... ...ment to the House; *And ..., It is important to all the ... concerned that these accounts ...sted and closed without delay;

...re,

...ved, That the Annual Confer... ...e requested to appoint, at ...next sessions, committees of ... than three members, and to ...ze said committees to confer ...ose indebted to the Publish... ...ouse, and effect settlements ...em under advice and instruc... ...om the book agent.

...ved, That the secretary be in... ...d to furnish the Bishops with ...of the foregoing preamble and resolution, and that they be requested to bring the same to the attention of the Annual Conferences for their action.

Resolved, That we are highly gratified to hear of the general approval which has been given to Dr. Cunnyngham in the conduct of our Sunday school department, and the success attending his work; and that we cordially approve the introduction of the international texts into our system of uniform lessons.

Resolved, That after patient and careful inquiry into and consideration of the affairs of the Publishing House for the last twelve months and especially in view of the stagnation in business circles and the financial distress which has prevailed in the country, we cordially approve and commend the policy and management of our interest by our agent, Dr. A. H. Redford.

P. A. PETERSON.
J. S. LITTLOW.

Resolved, That our admiration for the learning, industry and skill of Dr. Thomas O. Summers, editor of the Christian Advocate, remains unabated, and we hereby pledge to him our sympathy and support.

THOS. D. FITE.
W. H. MORGAN.

THE BISHOPS.—All the Bishops—except Bishop Kavanaugh, who is in California—says the Nashville Christian Advocate, were present at their annual meeting. Besides the special business of their own college, they attended the four meetings of the Board of Missions on Friday and Saturday; also the meeting of the Book Committee. Bishop Paine was to have preached at Elm Street on Sunday morning, but a temporary indisposition kept him from the pulpit, which was well filled by the Rev. F. A. Owen. Bishop Pierce preached during the week at North Edgefield, and on Sunday at Columbia. Bishop Wightman filled the Arlington pulpit on Sunday. Bishop Doggett preached at North Edgefield on Sunday morning, and delivered his Centennial discourse at McKendree in the afternoon. Bishop Marvin preached at the Alex. Green Church on Sunday morning and night. Bishop Keener preached at McKendree and North Nashville on Sunday.

The Bishops, Book Committee, Board of Missions, and Committee on Fraternity, of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, says the Nashville Christian Advocate, have just held their meetings in Louisville. A member of the Committee on Fraternity informs us that a letter was received from the Bishops of the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church, proposing to receive our colored brethren, with all their property, into the bosom of the loving mother, relieving the colored Bishops of episcopal responsibility—in other words, "unfrocking" them, and reducing them to the regular itinerant ranks. We are told that the committee respectfully declined the gracious proposal. Here is fraternity with a witness!

Messrs. Hammond and Bently began their revival services in Baltimore April 22. They expect to remain in that city six weeks. Mr. Hammond stated, as the result of their work in Washington, that two thousand persons had professed conversion in their meetings. The Rev. Mr. Earle was to hold his last meeting in Buffalo April 25. His preaching has been listened to by large crowds, and he has been requested to remain longer in the city. The next place which he will visit will be Ilion. Messrs. Hall and Cree, in their tour of the Southern and Southwestern cities, have reached St. Louis.

Our Morgan Street friends had a lecture on Tuesday night by Dr. Walker, on Clothes—a lecture well reported of by those who heard it. On Tuesday night, May 23, they are to have microscopic views, serious and comic, and on the evening of May 30 there will be a lecture by Rev. Alfred E. Clay on "Roughing It." Refreshments will be provided by the ladies in the basement of the church. We are indebted to the pastor, Rev. J. T. Sawyer, for tickets.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—To All Parties Interested.—Don't forget that the trustees meet on the camp ground on Thursday, the first day of June.

The meetings begun by Moody and Sankey in Ireland are still kept up, and increasing earnestness is manifested.

THAT BUTTER.—We are indebted to the courtesy of Albert G. Phelps, grocer, on the corner of Prytania and Felicity streets, for a lot of the finest butter we have ever tasted in this country. Indeed the first taste of it, and before we knew where it came from, made us think of blue grass meadows and Alderney dairies. We could scarcely believe that it could have been transported from the State of New York, and its freshness and flavor so perfectly preserved. Mr. Phelps makes fine butter a specialty, and he has certainly succeeded in getting it here in splendid condition.

FIRE INSURANCE.—In our advertising columns will be found the last statement of the Hibernia Insurance Company. The exhibit certainly shows a healthy condition of the company's affairs, and must be highly satisfactory to the stockholders; and well calculated to strengthen the confidence of policyholders. We think the management of the corporation is in safe hands.

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS.—Messrs. Levy Bros., at 580 Magazine street, have a most inviting and attractive stock of dry goods, dress goods, hosiery, alpacas, cassimeres, merinoes, and bleached and unbleached cottons. They pay particular attention to alpacas. This is a live and enterprising firm, and they deserve patronage.

RESTAURANT AT THE LAKE END.—Boudro's Restaurant, at the lake end of the Pontchartrain railroad, has always been one of the best places to get finely-cooked fish and satisfactory meals to be found anywhere. We know of no one more thoroughly qualified to give a first-rate dinner than Boudro.

AT NAYRA & OFFNER'S China Palace, on Canal street, all articles of China and glassware can be procured at reasonable prices.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending May 13, 1876.

A—T Y Abernethy, Edwin Allen $36.75, Philip Allen $1, J W Arendall $2, W B Ashford $2, T G Atwood.

B—George W Brown, Bigbow & Main, George W Brown (of Pearlington) $11.30, D A Beardsley, Mrs C Bunting $22.15, Ritchie J Briggs, H F Bates, Baker & Sperry, Bourum & Pease two letters, J M Baggette, M F Block 30 cents, Mrs E H Baxter, Miss Julia Batt $2, W L Baker $2, J O Braswell $1.10, Robert Bonner, M Birmingham $1, A S Barnes & Co, S M Bradford $6 10, Robert Babington $25.

C—John Church & Co., W A Cook $1, Leander C Calhoun $3, J S Chaver $2, Chamberlin, Whitmore & Co, H Crawford, J G Calloway, A Campbell, G S Chevis, S H Cox, C K Caron, H Dudley Coleman & Bro, Richard M Crowson $4, Baxter Clegg $1, S G Colburn $1.25, M E Compton, J Frank Chambers, Mrs Mollie H Cox.

D—Oliver Ditson & Co $21, C L Dobbs $1.25, W John De Lacey, P M Dangerfield, T H Davis & Co, Charles T Dillingham two letters, Charles A Dewell, J T & John Dowgard $6.50.

E—Thomas H Emerson & Co, John D Emack, Peter J Everette.

F—John L Ferguson, J M Franklin $2.50, E N Freshman & Bros three letters $50.58, E A Flowers $10.15, Charles S Fredricks, D W Furr $2, Patrick Farrelly $1, Lewis R Featherston, B Farquhy $1.

G—Malcom M Graham, J W Good $12, C C Gibson $1.50, H Gwinner & Bro two letters $10.30, J J Gage, James A Gibbs, E C Grail, Mrs Eliza J Hargett, Mrs A E Gray.

H—H J Harding, F W Harper, 75 cents, R J Hammel, A G Haygood, J D Hudson, Mrs Lee Hardeman, R M Houston & Co 25 cents, T J Hunter $2, L M Horton $3, F G Harrell, A M Howard, C S Hurst $5, Thomas Hervey $1.

I—Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co.

J—Henry Jernigan $1.50, J A Johnson $8.25, K A Jones.

K—John G Kramer two letters $10, Abe Katz, Amos Kendall, H F Kavanaugh-Kain & Johns.

L—John H Lockhart, J S Leffingwell $2, H P Lewis $2.50, Elias Langley, W B Lewis $1.10, F Lefpoht, David Livingston, Mrs M W Lynch $2.

M—J McGiverin, Thomas McVay, McFarland & Avery, Morgan Envelope Company, John A Miller, $1.80, Irvin Miller, R J Mallett, David, Merchant, J E Marsh two letters, J W McCann $6.55, William P Mosely, A DeWitt Miller.

N—J Niles & Co, New York Safe Rooting Company, H C Newton $2, S S Norwood, A B Nicholson, Ed F Newman $2, Evan Nicholson, P E Nicholson $1.90.

O—Nat Ogilvie.

P—A H Poindexter & Co, F T Patterson $3, W T Pepper $5, J B Preble & Co, S M Pettengill & Co, D G Pipkin $3.50, T B Peterson & Bros, J A Peterson & Co, Porter $3.50, S M Pettengill & Co Boston $5, T B Phillips $3.50, Levy Pearce, J K P Price, Potter, Ainsworth & Co.

Q—L J Quinn.

R—George P Rowell & Co $1.50, Rowell & Chisman $10.31, John R Randall $2, S S Rickards, S D Read, A H Redford agent, Robinson & Co.

S—Smith, Dixon & Co, Sower, Potts & Co, A J Sutherland $1, George H Stinson $10, Malcolm H Shurlbrough, Charles M Stoll, Miss L A Smith, Green F Scales, James S Sharp $2, H C Smith, J P Sparks, Thomas Stubbs, J F Sperlock, Burton W Stone $2, T B Steel, P J Shiles, C E Shearer, A S Super & Co $10.15, Mrs E Simpson $2, J H Shockley $1, F W Skinner 62 cents, J B K Smith $2.50, J W Shores $1, Green F Scales Jr. $2.50, J H Stone $2, H Stone.

T—Mrs M C Timmis, F H G Taylor.

U—United States Piano Company.

V—F D Van Valkenburg.

W—H H Wright $5.75, W C Watts & Co, J W Ward, John Wanamaker & Co, H R Wood & Co, J M Wade $2 cents, J C Ward, Heir of H Wade $2.50, A A Woodward, T E Williams $1, J M Watson, W L Walker, J S White, C C Weeks $1.50, Rudolph Wolff & Co, B A Wright, C B Williamson $5, A C Wood $6, A B Williford 50 cents, W Wootton $2.

Y—M Yantzkey, A Yarbrough $15, Mrs A Young $2.

PAY FIFTEEN CENTS AND SAVE US $1,200.

The subscription price of the ADVOCATE is Two Dollars per annum—not $1.75, $1.85 or $1.85. A few subscribers deduct fifteen cents, some twenty cents, and some twenty-five cents for expense of remitting. We wish to assure them they are taking our money to pay their agents. We cannot afford to take the risk of remittances, as we do when sent in money orders or registered letters, and pay the expense of remitting.

To each subscriber this should not be more than fifteen cents, which to us, a few thousand cents by each subscriber, amounts to over Twelve Hundred Dollars.

Under the new postal law we prepay the postage for all subscribers. During one year, ending this day, we have paid out One Thousand and Seventy-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents expenses for postage. In view of this, and the trifling expense to each subscriber, we hope they will send the full amount due us. When our agents remit what they have collected, without receiving commissions, we cannot expect them to pay the expense.

SURGEON DENTIST.—Dr. John W. Adams, surgeon dentist, at No. 51 Dauphine street, has, in our opinion, but few competitors, if any, who excel him in good and faithful work. The doctor is well posted in all the improvements and discoveries of the profession, and has the credit, from those who know him well, of being a conscientious as well as a safe practitioner. We take pleasure in directing attention to his card in another column. His charges are on the principle of "Live and let live," and many of our country friends who come to the city to have their teeth treated, and suffer from incompetent or unscrupulous men, would do well to take notice.

RAILWAY GUIDES.—Everybody going to the Centennial Exhibition should provide themselves with a railway guide for the journey. The best one to purchase is either the Travelers' Official Guide, containing all the through time tables and list of railway officers, sold at fifty cents per copy, or the pocket edition of the same, called Official Time Tables, price, twenty-five cents. With the last-named they can ascertain the population of all the cities they pass through, and their principal business interests, etc. It also contains a fine lithographic map of Philadelphia, showing the Centennial buildings. Both are issued by the National Railway Publication Company, Philadelphia.

[illegible] Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO 219 CAMP STREET.

LEVY BROS.' dry goods establishment is at 580 Magazine street.

READ the Good News in Ditson & Co.'s advertisement.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A GUARANTEE that any one affected with Constipation or Torpid Liver can be relieved by taking regularly, as directed, Simmons' Liver Regulator. It has been known to cure in hundreds of cases, and will do it again.

"As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever used anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced. It seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels. W. J. McELROY, Macon, Ga."

EXTRACT of report from the celebrated physician, Erasmus Wilson, of London, England: "Several severe cases of Consumption have come under my observation that have been cured by the timely use of Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Turtle Invigorator." Sold by all druggists.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENT'S, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camp street, under City Hotel.
New Orleans, La.

FOR SALE
ON MOST LIBERAL TERMS,
A
SURVEYOR'S TRANSIT,

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT, GOOD AS NEW.

LIST PRICE.....$200.

INQUIRE OF
ROBERT J. HARP,
110 AND 112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel.

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING
OF PARASOLS!
THIS DAY,
AT DANZIGER'S,

203.....CANAL STREET.....203

Betz Burgundy and Rapid Part, and

NOS. 228 AND 230 ROYAL STREET,

Corner St. Philip.

25,000 PARASOLS, bought at a large bankrupt sale in New York, will be sold at less than half of importation cost. All NEW, FRESH GOODS.

We beg to call particular attention to these Parasols and offer:

Children's Percale Parasols at 25 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, 2 ft. fluted, at 50 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk fluted, with fringe, at 62 cts.
Ladies' Silk Centennial Parasols at 75 cts.
Ladies' Silk Parasols, ruffled, at 90 cts.
Ladies' Summer Parasols, silk fluted, at 62 cts.
Ladies' Black Silk Ruffled Parasols, silk fluted, for mourning and half mourning, at $1.25.
Ladies' extra size Silk Parasols, silk fluted, at $1.50.
Ladies' Tourist Parasols, silk, silk fluted, with, Fern covering, at $2.00. Very stylish and new.
And scores of many other novelties in Parasols, Half Embrellas, etc., all at less than one-half the importer's cost, at

DANZIGER'S,
204 Canal street,
And 228 and 230 Royal street.

"Every Piano in America Should be Graced by a Copy."

$5,000!
—IN GOLD—
WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committee
FOR
RICHARD WAGNER'S
Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.
Now Arranged for Piano by
THEODORE THOMAS.
(Played by his Orchestra nightly.
And Published by
JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.

Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

H. CASSIDY,
SAIL-MAKER,
AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,
No. 55 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
ESTABLISHED IN 1836.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS, etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON DENTIST,
Office and Residence—NO. 51 DAUPHINE ST.,
(Late Greatmon street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,
AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,
Jary & Hauss, Proprietors.

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED.....WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES. Rev. H. F. Johnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

FAVORITE SONGS

New Collection Items of Sacred Music, by the Pastors, Singing Classes and Congregations. Prof Mehaffy of the Vanderbilt University, says it is the best book of the kind. Price 60cts. by mail. Specimen leaves free. Address R. W. Carroll & Co., Cincinnati, O.

5,000 AGENTS WANTED.—Samples sent free by mail, with terms to clear from $5 to $10 per day. Two entirely new articles, salable as flour. Address H. B. WHITE & CO., Newark, N. J.

WANTED. All persons who have read my double column advertisement in this paper, describing the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend, to send for new terms. 500,000 have been sold. J. C. TILTON, Pittsburg, Pa.

$15 to $5! Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 10 Nassau street, New York.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HIBERNIA
INSURANCE COMPANY.
OFFICE—NO. 37 CAMP ST.

JOHN HENDERSON, President
P. IRWIN, Vice President.
THOS. F. BLAGG, Secretary.

Earnings	$213,121 60
Losses Paid	74,711 89
Net Profits	68,458 01

At an election held on Monday, the first inst., the following-named gentlemen were chosen Directors of this Company to serve for the ensuing year:

P. Irwin,	John Henderson,
Thomas King,	John G. Ryan,
Thomas Gilmore,	W. J. Castell,
John T. Gibbons	James A. Gardner,
William Hart,	Emile Gauche,
David Jackson,	John H. Burns,
	F. J. Crosquet.

And at a meeting of the Board, held May 8, JOHN HENDERSON, President, P. IRWIN, Vice President, and THOS. F. BLAGG, Secretary, were unanimously re-elected.

The Board declared out of the net profits of the Company for the past twelve months 10 per cent. interest; also 4 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital, and 25 per cent. dividend on premiums paid by stockholders, making, with the rebate, 40 per cent. on premiums. Said interest and dividends to be placed to the credit of the stock notes.

Interest and dividends on full-paid stock payable in cash at the office of the Company on and after June 15 proximo.

THOS. F. BLAGG, Secretary.
NEW ORLEANS, May 12, 1876.

JUST PUBLISHED.

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL
SABBATH SCHOOL SONG BOOK

GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!

Good News is loved by Sabbath School singers, young and old, who are waiting for just such a book. It is edited by R. M. McIntosh, and ten editions exhibit-ed by talented writers and composers.

Both music and words are new, fresh and attractive. Witness:

"Sunny Shore." "To Canaan." "Christ is Here." "Tell Me Again." "The Astray." "Kingdom Coming," and others.

GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!

Price of Good News 35 cents. Reduction for quantities. Mailed, post free for retail price.

Revised, greatly enlarged and improved new edition of

CARMINA COLLEGENSIA.

This magnificent Book has been revised and improved; the songs of many new colleges added, and, besides being the most complete collection of Students' Songs, embodying those of all the colleges extant, it is one of the most attractive books for use in parties and all informal social gatherings. Price, in Cloth, $1; Gilt, $1.50.

Keep in remembrance Living Waters. The collection is a book for Praise Meetings, etc. Thirty cents.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

WALTHAM ELGIN AND HOWARD WATCHES.
Prices reduced 15 per cent. Gold Cases, having prices of the American Watches, handed free to any address by W. H. WHITE 41 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES
The Cheapest and Best
Farm Machinery,
OF ALL KINDS,
Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,
Lime, Plaster and Cement.
C. H. STOCKELL & CO.
NASHVILLE, TENN.

WILSON PACKING COMPANY,
CHICAGO.
HERMETICALLY SEALED COOKED MEATS.

CORNED BEEF.

We have no comments to make in reference to our Corned Beef, except to call the attention of the trade to the fact that our Fourteen-Pound Cans are warranted perfect, and are comparatively cheaper than the old-style package. The popular way of handling this article is for the Retail Dealer to open the Can and cut the meat in quantities to suit his customers.

SUGAR CURED HAM.

To meet a demand from the trade which we have had for over a year, we are now packing SUGAR-CURED, CORN-SMOKED HAM, packed in the same style as our other goods. Successful as we may have been with our Cooked Corn Beef, we have no doubt of having more marked success with this article. The package is sightly, and the MEAT IS SIMPLY PERFECTION. We guarantee perfect satisfaction, and you cannot fail to handle this article profitably.

BEEF TONGUE.

We take special pride in offering this article to the trade; it is the "Creme de la Creme" of all our goods. Nothing of the kind has ever been offered to the trade that can compare with it in excellence. It is cured by ourselves, and is entirely free from the BURNT OF THE TONGUE, which is really nothing but Corned Beef. Try a case, and recommend it to the highest terms to your trade. The goods warrant it.

FRESH BEEF.

This article is excellent for Pot Pies, Stews, Mince Pies and Sandwiches, and is a delicacy for Lunches or the Tea Table.

We have appointed, as our sole agents for the State of Louisiana,

SMITH BROS. & CO.,
NOS. 83, 85, 87 AND 89 POYDRAS STREET,
NEW ORLEANS. 5p

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,
OCULIST,
11.....DAUPHINE STREET.....11
NEW ORLEANS.
Office hours from 10 to 3. 5p

FLASPOLLER & NELSON,
WHOLESALE
Grocers and Commission Merchants,
NOS. 84 & 86 TCHOUPITOULAS ST.,
Cor. Lafayette, New Orleans, La.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples worth $1, free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the intermittal-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 3, 1872: "I cheerfully use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator which gave effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5ptc.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE ASSORTMENT OF
Crockery, China, Glassware
PLATED WARE, CUTLERY
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS
IN THE SOUTHWEST.

Look at our price and judge for yourselves:

Real French China DINNER SETS, comprising 125 pieces, for	$20 00
TEA SETS of the same quality, 44 pieces	6 50
Gold Band and Decorated TEA SETS	7 50
English Stone China or Granite DINNER SETS, comprising 124 pieces, for	14 50
TEA SETS of the same quality, 44 pieces	3 75
Stone China CHAMBER SETS only	3 50

Flint Glass GOBLETS at 75 cents per dozen. The Best SILVER-PLATED WARE in the country, and at the Lowest Prices. Also the best CUTLERY made, and at very low Prices. Our Tin BEDROOM SETS are only $1. Every variety of Tin and Wooden Ware can be found at our immense store. All goods are carefully packed.

NAVRA & OFFNER,
129 Canal St. (Town Buildings.)
New Orleans.
5p

P. L. CUSACHS
HAS REMOVED HIS DRUG STORE
TO
37.....ROYAL STREET.....37
Between Iberville and Customhouse, one block from Canal street, where he will, as heretofore, continue his well-known business of importation of DRUGS, CHEMICALS, ESSENTIAL OILS, DISTILLERS', DYERS' AND TANNERS' MATERIALS, Etc. 5p

LADIES' HAIR STORE.

THE UNDERSIGNED is now established in his new quarters, the most elegant of their kind in the South, and, having just received the latest styles in FANCY AND JET GOODS, hopes to merit the patronage of his friends and the public.

He also manufactures all kinds of HUMAN HAIR GOODS, Braids, Switches, Curls, etc. All kinds of Hair Work repaired. Also a Ladies' and Children's Hair-Dressing, Curling and Cutting Saloon.

Parties from the country ordering will save money by addressing him at either of his stores.

GEO. F. SCHILLING,
159 Canal street, and 381 Dryades St., New Orleans.
5p

TRY THE CHOICEST NEW
GOSHEN BUTTER
THIS SIDE OF PHILADELPHIA.

This week's shipment is especially fine.

Extra Selection of "Alderney" Dairy, New York.

ALBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,
Cor. Prytania and Felicity Sts.
5p

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Complaints—product of our Swamps—is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and Isobelicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase! Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 106 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Tonic Infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever, etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE
OF THE
FOURTH DISTRICT,
595.....MAGAZINE ST.....595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

LATEST NOVELTY IN PAPER LAP BOARDS.
SIZE, 21x26. PRICE, $1.50.
Liberal discount to the trade. Call and see them.
E. C. PALMER & CO.,
93 and 95 Camp street.
5p

WOOD.....COAL.....LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood, at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Attala Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.—A lady who had suffered for years from Deafness and Catarrh, was cured by a simple Indian Remedy. Her sympathy and gratitude prompt her to send the recipe free of charge to any one similarly afflicted. Address MRS. M. CLARA LEGGETT, Jersey City, N. J.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Breeding Turkeys.

The following suggestions by a correspondent of the American Stock Journal, upon raising turkeys, may prove beneficial to many of our farmers who are engaged in poultry-raising on a small scale, as turkeys always bring from $3 to $4 each in the fall and winter:

Turkeys kept for breeding stock should not be fed as high as those intended for market, but should be fed well; give shorts mixed with boiled potatoes for morning feed. The feed at night should be oats, buckwheat and corn, but do not feed corn every day. The turkeys should have plenty of cracked bone and oyster shells kept by them. They should be taught to roost under cover, but should run where they please in the day-time. Turkeys do not do well shut up. Begin to slack up the feed of the turkeys when they show an inclination to lay too early. After the turkeys get to laying, feed all they will eat. Teach them to lay under cover. A good way is to shut them into the shed where they roost every forenoon until they get to laying. Nests can be made in flour barrels put on the side, and make a nest in them. After the turkeys get to laying they will rarely ever leave their nest. The eggs should be removed from the nest daily, and the date laid marked on the egg. Then the oldest egg can be set first. The eggs should be kept where they will not chill.

I usually set my eggs under turkeys. If set under hens the young turkeys should be put under turkeys when hatched, for if they run with hens they will stay around the house and will not forage enough. Set the turkey on the ground, or make the nest on damp earth, covered with straw. A turkey will cover from sixteen to twenty eggs, according to size of the turkey. After the turkey has set two weeks sprinkle the eggs two or three times a week when the turkey is off. Sprinkle a little sulphur in the nest to kill lice. See that the turkey comes off regularly, and has plenty to eat. My practice has been to shut the turkey on the nest twenty-four hours before she is expected to hatch. Then she will not leave her nest till the chicks are all out. I coop the old turkeys and let the young ones run until about six weeks old.

If the turkeys do not ramble too much, and can have a dry pasture where there are plenty of insects, it will do to let the old ones have their liberty after the chicks are two weeks old. They must come up every night sure. It will not do to run any risks of loss by vermin.

I feed very often—say every two hours at first. I feed curds and shorts, with a little coarse ground corn meal, at first. After the chickens get older feed boiled potatoes or shorts, and the last feed at night of cracked corn. Keep plenty of fresh water by them, and use the "Douglass Mixture" regularly in the water that the dough is wet up in. I consider it a great help to the successful raising of turkeys, and it costs but little.

After the chicks get out the "red," so called, the danger is past. If nothing troubles them they will be all right. They should have plenty to eat if they do not come up with full crops. Begin to feed boiled potatoes and meal about September, and feed them all they will eat. About the first of November begin to feed more meal and corn. It usually pays to keep the gobbler over until Christmas.

Care should be taken in dressing. It makes a wonderful difference in the price if the turkeys look well. I will not give directions for dressing, as every farmer has his own way. Remember and keep the best for breeders.

A good lot of turkeys will always sell at a good price. It don't pay to raise little runts that will not dress more than six or seven pounds. With good location, good care and good stock, turkey-raising will pay, for you can raise a pound of turkey as cheap as a pound of pork.

BE SUITABLE WITH YOUR CATTLE.—Said a farmer to me last spring: "When we were drawing out manure I let the boys drive to the lot, and I stayed in the yard, because I could put on better loads. And the cows commenced to give more milk right off." Now this man is an active, industrious, intelligent, experienced farmer; and yet, when he is piling manure in the yards, his cows give a perceptible increase in their milk. Why? One of his handsome grade Short Horns that he is so proud of, seeing him around, goes up to him and says, as plain as a cow can say, "Give me a lock of hay," and he gives it to her. Another says, "Mr. Stevens, don't you think that rack wants cleaning out?" and on looking, he finds to his surprise that there is a lot of dirt, and, wet hay seeds and rubbish at the bottom. He scrapes it all out and puts it clean with some straw, and as soon as his load is filled, and while he is waiting for the next wagon, he gets a little feed and puts it in the rack, and the cows eat it and feel grateful. Between the next loads he takes the curry-comb and brush, and gives one of the cows a good cleaning. The other cows come round him, and he has a gentle word and a friendly pat for each of them. He is a good-looking man, and the cows like to look at him. He is a gentleman, and his presence has a soothing effect. They chew the cud of contentment and peace. As he goes past the pump he asks the cows if they want a little fresh water. They had not thought about it, but they drink a little just to please him. And so it goes on all day. No wonder the cows give more milk at night.—American Agriculturist.

TO ARRANGE VIOLETS.—Take an ordinary saucer and fill it with fresh-looking moss, such as grows by the roadside, and which has been previously well washed. Build up the moss in the form of a little mound in the saucer, keeping the fresh points of the moss to the front, so as to make it look as fresh and velvet-like as possible. The water should be well pressed out of the moss, but enough moisture should be left in it to keep the flower stems placed in it fresh. Round the edge of the saucer fern fronds should be arranged so as to hide the China, and for this purpose the tips of the common wild fern are best. Take the violet blossoms, make them into bunches—say eight or ten in each bunch—and bind their stems together with a piece of binding wire. Keeping the stems together makes them firm, and renders them capable of being bent into any position required. When a sufficient number of these little bunches have been made they should be dotted over the green ground-work of moss. A few snow-drops, if procurable, placed here and there among the violets, produce a charming effect, and a mixture of white violets add to the appearance. The addition of a few fronds of maiden-hair fern, too, tends to heighten the general effect. The moss should be well damped every morning, and if this be not forgotten the violets will keep fresh and emit their sweet perfume for many days. Some use the leaves of sweet-scented geraniums in place of fern fronds, but the perfume of the geranium quite overpowers that of the violets. Ferns, therefore, are best, and there are few places where a frond or two of them cannot be obtained.—Floral Decorations for the Dwelling-House.

FISH AS FOOD.—There is much nourishment in fish—little less than in meat, weight for weight; and in effect it may be more nourishing, considering how, from its softer fiber, fish is more easily digested. Moreover, there is in fish a substance which does not exist in the flesh of land animals, namely: iodin—a substance which may have a beneficial effect on the health, and tend to prevent the production of scrofulous or tubercular disease, the latter in the form of pulmonary consumption, one of the most cruel and fatal with which civilized society is afflicted. Comparative trials have proved that in most fish the proportion of solid matter—that is, the matter that remains after perfect digestion, or the expulsion of the aqueous part—is little inferior to that of the several kinds of meat, game or poultry. If we give attention to classes of people—classes as to the quality of food they principally subsist on—we find that the ichthyophagous class are especially strong, healthy and prolific. In no class do we see larger families, handsomer women, more robust and active men than among fishers, or a greater exemption from the maladies just alluded to.—Manufacturer and Builder.

POTATOES FROM SEED.—How many years does it take potatoes to mature from the seed? The first year the seeds produce many very small potatoes, which are planted the second year, as other potatoes are. The second crop may be called mature, though it requires a third, and even a fourth to determine their qualities as to size, flavor, etc. The balls are usually kept in a warm room or cellar till toward spring, when they are washed out, dried, and at proper time sowed in drills half an inch deep and treated as other plants. They can be transplanted or left to grow in the original bed. If your seeds were properly kept through the winter there is no reason why they should not grow, unless they were immature when gathered. In attempting to raise seedlings, care must be taken to keep the tubers separate, as hardly two kinds will be alike. If earliness is sought for, take those whose tops die first. Different varieties are produced by shaking the pollen from the flowers of one kind on the pistils of another kind—hybridizing.

A CENTENNIAL CHEESE.—We see it stated, says the Rural New Yorker, that an Ohio dairyman proposes making a mammoth cheese for the Centennial Exhibition, which will require one day's milk from 20,000 cows. The proposed weight of this cheese is 25,000 pounds, and a car will be made for it and upon which it will be put to press. This will much surpass the great Canada cheese which was made at the Ingersoll factory. This cheese was six feet ten inches in diameter, three feet high and twenty-one feet in circumference, and weighed 7,000 pounds. It required thirty-five tons of milk to make it, or one milking from 7,000 cows. It was exhibited at the New York State Fair at Saratoga, and was afterward exported to England, and caused a sensation when it passed through the streets of London, and other cities on its way to the place of exhibition.

Rythm, melody, precision and force are, in the words of the orator and poet, necessary to their greatness, but not the tests of their greatness. It is not by the mode of representing and saying, but by what is represented and said, that the respective greatness either of the painter or writer is to be finally determined. The highest thoughts are those which are least dependent on language, and the dignity of any composition and the praise to which it is entitled are in exact proportion to its independency of language or expression.—Ruskin.

Fontenelle was very fond of salmon. He was dining out one day in Paris, when a pretentious guest at the table, upon hearing the author ask for a second plateful, exclaimed: "Oh, ho, M. Fontenelle, I didn't know philosophers liked good things so much." "Probably," was the philosophical reply, "the gentleman is under the impression that God made good things only for fools."

A Virginian accidentally stumbled and fell. A lady, thinking to commiserate with the mishap, observed that she regretted his unlucky faux pas. "I didn't hurt my forepaws," he replied; "it was my knee."

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

151 ..... CANAL STREET 156

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jonas,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Morton, T. L. Wayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Leathard.

☞ Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to depositors.

On all Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Buffalo Lithia Waters.

REMARKABLE relief of GRAVEL, and still more remarkable relief of DYSPEPSIA of thirty years' standing. A person who for five years lived upon Crackers and Tea, Oats, Bacon, Cabbage and Turnips.

Case of Capt. James Covington, a well-known and highly respectable citizen of Halifax county, Va.:

MT. LAUREL, HALIFAX CO., VA., February 9, 1876.

COL. T. F. GOODE—Dear Sir: Some eighteen months ago I was attacked by a very painful affection of the bladder. Under the treatment of two physicians of note, shunning I grew steadily worse, and my sufferings were beyond description, and I was compelled to resort to morphia almost constantly for relief. I was unable to give any attention to my business, and had despaired of relief from any source, when in September last I was advised to try the Buffalo Lithia Water. Though within less than a day's ride of the Springs, my condition was such that I was unable to get to them, and consequently sent for the Water and used it at home. After using for a few days I was so far relieved that I could do without the morphia and continued to improve for some six weeks, when I had an attack of mild Violence, from which I was relieved by the discharge of a large gravel, since which I have discharged three smaller ones, with but slight pain. I am now able to ride on horseback or to work at pleasure, and I am now attending regularly to my business affairs.

I had been for thirty years a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and for the last fifteen years had been throwing up watery water from the stomach.

For five years I had not been able to eat Animal or Vegetable food of any description, and during that period lived upon Crackers and Tea, and other similar articles. In using the Waters for gravel I was relieved of Dyspepsia.

I now eat Bacon, Cabbage, Turnips, and anything else that I want, without inconvenience. I used the water of Spring No. 2, and expect it to be all that is claimed for it.

Respectfully Yours,

JAMES COVINGTON.

Capt. Covington has made a slight change in the foregoing testimonial since its first publication. It is but one of many similar cases related by these Waters. They are for sale in cases of one dozen half-gallon bottles at $5 per case, in advance. The Springs pamphlet sent to any address.

THOS. F. GOODE, Proprietor,
Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

GREAT REDUCTION IN BOOTS AND SHOES AT

378 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 37

Opposite the Magazine Street Market,

(Sign of the Lady's Boot.) New Orleans.

This is the greatest Boot and Shoe House in the south, where Boots, Shoes and Hats can be purchased at THE LOWEST PRICES—Cheaper than the Cheapest. A call is all that is asked to convince any one that this is the cheapest and best place to purchase Boots, Shoes and Hats in the South.

Parties at a distance from New Orleans can take their own measure and purchase their Boots, or Shoes by mail with the aid of our Card of Measurement. Send, or call and get one.

We guarantee all descriptions of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters at the very lowest prices. All work warranted to be of the best material.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

TRUNKS.

HO! FOR THE CENTENNIAL!

WILLIAM HOGAN,

99 CANAL STREET 101

HAS READY FOR THE

CENTENNIAL

Gent.'s English and Ladies' TRUNKS of the celebrated Victoria, Empress and Monitor patterns.

Also CENTENNIAL TRAVELING BAGS in great variety, all of the finest importation, and to be sold at ten per cent. below cost for the next sixty days. With the finest stock in the city of BOOTS, SHOES and GAITERS for Gentlemen, Ladies and Misses; all at REASONABLE PRICES. Call and See.

AGENTS WANTED.

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

Struck in solid Aluminum Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade dollar, being 1¾ inches in diameter, handsomely put up, and sell readily at sight. The most popular Souvenir and Memorial ever issued. A complete outfit at magnificent samples for agents to velvet lined morocco case, including the bust of "George Washington." Grand Entrance International Exhibition; Memorial Hall (Art Gallery); Horticultural Hall; Main Building, and the grand representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence (designed by Trumbull) in gilt, sent by mail on receipt of draft or postoffice order for $4.50, or will ship by express, C. O. D., upon receipt of one dollar. Agents' circular and price list, and one sample, sent upon receipt of 50 cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Extensive field for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P. O. Box 5256 NEW YORK.

GEORGE W. ROPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103 CANAL STREET 103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Lace Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

J. M. ELKIN, F. STRINGER

ELKIN & CO.,

163 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS OF ALL VARIETIES OF

English Carpetings, Rugs, Etc.

Also Oil Cloths, Mattings, Curtain Damasks, Lace Curtains, Window Shades, etc.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

INSURANCE.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'

INSURANCE CO.

37 CARONDELET STREET.

ASSETS APRIL 30, 1875 ..... $1,186,215 85

This Company Issues Policies on

Fire, River and Marine Risks

AT LOWEST TARIFF RATES.

H. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.
THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

Moses Greenwood, R. M. Walmsley,
W. A. Johnson, A. Brittin,
John I. Noble, A. M. May,
John Chaffe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, T. Lyle Lyon,
Samuel E. Moore, Wm. C. Raymond,
J. L. Warren, James S. Prestidge,
R. T. Buckner, Samuel H. Boyd,
Samuel Friedlander, Joseph McElroy,
A. N. Yates, E. B. Whitcher,
John F. Adams, Cyrus Bussey,
Isaac Scheick, William J. Behan,
H. F. Eschleman.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $200,000 00
Assets at their market value 652,827 96
Income for the year 1875 ..... 621,660 91

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable at London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES,
Vice President—A. STIERLEIN,
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith, A. M. Buckham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Eaflin, W. A. Bell,
W. Vaux Benthuysen, H. Fatio,
Pierre Poutz, R. H. Rogers.

AGENTS WANTED.

Agents Wanted for

LYMAN'S Historical Chart.

THIS BOOK PRESENTS A COMPLETE OUTLINE HISTORY of the World, in a series of beautifully-colored Plates, brought before the eye in Contemporary History of all Nations in each century. Novel, vivid, picturesque. Fixes permanently in the mind the time, order and sequence of events. The grandest aid to the memory ever invented. It is "History made easy." Will sell to every family in the land. For full description and terms address

NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Memphis, Tenn., or Atlanta, Ga.

PRAYER AND ITS REMARKABLE ANSWERS

A GRAND BOOK FOR AGENTS.

One Agent writes "Orders [illegible] 3 days." Another "Has sold 100 in a week home." Another "The first thing I ever canvassed for." Sales, E. C. Goodwin, $1,000 a year. Circulars of postage on the subject of prayer, a better book adapted to meet the practical wants of the people never published. For circulars and terms address A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., 720 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

AGENTS WANTED for the New Historical Work, OUR

WESTERN BORDER.

A Complete and Graphic History of American Pioneer Life

100 YEARS AGO.

Its thrilling incidents of Red and White foes. Exciting Adventures, Captivities, Perils, Scouts, Pioneer Women and Girls, Indian War Paths, Camp Life and Sports. A book for Old and Young. Not a dull page. No competition. Enormous sales. Agents wanted everywhere. Illustrated circulars free. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 26 S. Seventh St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's safety guard is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Silver-plated sample prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 48 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first-class. Particulars sent free. Address WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

MISCELLANEOUS.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassiday & Miller)

SAIL MAKER,

107 ..... POYDRAS STREET 107

Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions. Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other work in my line made to order at shortest notice and at lowest prices.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp st., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Boarding, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS.

GIROD ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND PRYADES, NEW ORLEANS.

SHAKSPEARE & SMITH, Sole Proprietors.

Manufacturers of Iron Railings, Balconies, Verandas, Iron Stairs, Iron Fronts, Iron Doors, Iron Shutters, Iron Bedsteads, Wire Work, Etc.

Estimates furnished on application.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.

CHOICE ICED SHRUBS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home-Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream by quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

130 ..... POYDRAS STREET 130

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent.'s, Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

T. W. ROTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE PUBLIC.

ASCERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "best manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish, Louisiana, respectfully state that I am of the following manufacturers of Grand Point:

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No 19 Conti street.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

95 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Hope XXX,
Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX,
Grangers' Best XXXX,

which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar section.

OCEAN SAW MILL.

W. G. TOOMER (late of Danner & Toomer.)

SUPERINTENDENT.

LUMBER shipped up or down the Mississippi river can be longest at the Mill Wharf, and save damage by extra handling.

Cargo orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Walnut, Oak, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar LUMBER AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge Timber and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths.

P. O. Box 98. Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. Cable address—TOOMER.

RICE BROS. & CO.,

80 AND 91 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,

NAILS AND CUTLERY,

Tinners' Stock and Tools,

AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

The Charter Oak Stoves.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gent.'s, Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES,

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Cor. Blenville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK

And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN ROSS.

Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, CURTAINS, LACE AND NOTTINGHAM CURTAINS, MIRRORS, MOULDINGS, CORNICES, ENGRAVINGS, ETC.

☞ Frames made to order a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

BLACKMAN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 ..... CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.

Goods delivered free of charge to all parts of the city.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY.

Estimates and Samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

102½ HOLE 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

EPILEPSY OR FITS cured by Dr. Ross' Epileptic Remedies. Trial package free. For circulars, evidence of success, etc., address ROSS BROS., Richmond, Ind.

MEDICAL.

DUCONGE'S

PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, its well-established virtue and its high reputation in all ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Breast and Throat is so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at any length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Bowels, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Gout or Dysentery and Summer Complaint, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into Asiatic Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on consumption, it has been found most effectual in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure, this truly extraordinary medicine has, over all compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, as it requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition this Sirup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families whenever required by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup.—Grown persons can take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night should take two tablespoonfuls of the Sirup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a good night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three or four hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 39 Carondelet street.
And by all druggists.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.

INDUCED by the demand, especially existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved, by extensive experience, to be safe, generally useful, and peculiarly suited in family use. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions and general advice as to the treatment of the case. Nos. Its—

1. Fever, 2. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3. Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4. Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5. Whooping or Spasmodic Cough.
6. Diarrhœa, & Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
7. Diarrhœa, & Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
8. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
9. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10. Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11. Worm Colic or Fever.
12. Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
13. Toothache, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache.
14. Sick Headache, Vertigo.
15. Sore Throat, Quinsy.
16. Ear Discharges, Deafness.
17. Sore Mouth, Thrush, Nursing Sore Mouth.
18. Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19. Kidney Affections, Strangury.
20. Suppressed, Scanty or Delaying Periods.
21. Profuse Periods, Profusions.
22. Painful Periods, Itching, etc.
23. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Pains.
24. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Pains.
25. Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fetters, Itch.
26. Sore or Weak Eyes.
27. Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28. Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29. Biliousness.
30. Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions.
31. Chronic Congestion, Irritation.
32. Disease of Heart, Palpitation, etc.

Mailed free on receipt of price each. Also Phosphorated Bitters, and Chill Powders for Fever.

Agent for BANNING'S BRACES and DENTAL MATERIALS.

Agent for HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices reduced to suit the times of expense.

Twenty vials, plain case and book.
Twenty Vials, morocco case and book.
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book.

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy,

152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

R. ANGELL, M. D., and S. M. ANGELL, Homeopathic Physicians.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PURE HAIR COLORER

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint,

HARMLESS, BEAUTIFUL, PERFECT.

This preparation has received the highest encomiums of the scientific world, and, together with its unfailing efficacy, has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, and contains no Lead, Sulphur, Nitrate of Silver, or any other mineral substance which often ruins the hair. It is a Vegetable Preparation, and is warranted by the proprietor.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month, restores the hair or whiskers to their original color, being so perfectly assimilated to the natural detection. It is great recommendation, as it produces a variety of tints, producing any desired shade from light brown to the deepest black, and the absence of that, dye and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery when applied to a single hair, or spots that have become bleached, will soon be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, $1 per box, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER,
P. O. Box 2531. New York.

Wholesale Agents: L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finney & Co., New Orleans; Hall & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

Cures All Nervous

Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt

CURES a Continuance of Current of Electricity Applied to the Body, and cures all diseases resulting from a Loss of Vital Force, Exhaustion, Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Diseases, Functional Derangements, Paralysis, Impotency, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaints and Loss of Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE

After all Other Remedies Have Failed

It is used by the most Eminent Physicians of Europe and America, and thousands have tested its merits, and have been restored to health and strength, as to its great curative powers. Pamphlets and circulars forwarded free of charge on receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

☞ Say in what paper you saw this.

PRICES FROM $6 AND UPWARDS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

M. H. APPLEGATE

PLUMBER

AND DEALER IN

Cooking Ranges and Boilers,

16th Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Kitchen Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Ale Pipes, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns.

146 Poydras St., New Orleans.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvets, Brussels, Tapestry, Three Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—300 rolls, White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
RUGLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BROUSSE.

McKENDRICK,

PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER,

623 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 623

Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials, Bath Tubs, Pumps, Hose, Lead Pipe, Fixtures, etc. Paints mixed ready for use. Agent for the New Beauty, Elevated Oven Range, Gas and Hearth and Home Cooking Stoves.

Scientific.

An extensive vein of amethyst been found near Monticello, Ga. e of the stones are very large brilliant, and sell for $100 a d.

A lighthouse of granite has been tructed in England, which is to hipped to Ceylon, and there set It is circular in plan, about a dred feet high, and thirty broad e base; it is built in sixty-four ses, of which the lower fourteen solid. Above these are seven s vaulted and floored with stone.

The committee appointed by the ect de la Seine to superintend the truction of lightning conductors ris has been changed into a permanent one. A sum of £8,000 has appropriated by the Municipal ncil for reconstructing all the ning conductors in Paris, or at all those which may be found tive or inefficient. Until the appointment of the committee lightconductors were constructed by ary blacksmiths, under the superintendence of architects who knew ng of physics. A competitive dication recently took place before a number of competent electors for the construction of all the ning conductors on the Paris cipal monuments.

The London Lancet thus comments a notice of the "Report of the Commission on Vivisection:" commission recommends the ment of a law by which animal mentation should be placed the control of the secretary of who should have power to and withdraw licenses; and o unlicensed person should be itted to perform such experi-. The holders of the licenses be bound by certain conditions, ject of which would be to minthe avoidance, or the reduction minimum, of suffering; but the ation of these conditions, in and the necessary modificamust be left to the responsible ter, who will, of course, be d by the opinion of advisers of cent knowledge and experi-

NTS AS SANITARY SCOUTS.—alon journal raises the ques-"How comes it that such a known and sensitive plant as amellia suffers so much in sitting-rooms and windows that have given it up for these purs" and proceeds to answer for : "It is an easy matter to go the plants and to substitute of less value. But might it far wiser to inquire into the of the leaves turning yellow, he buds dropping off, as they ntly do in living-rooms and w gardens? Is it not, in fact, than probable that the causes njure such plants as camellias, injure the human occupants? are the chief causes that turn aves of plants yellow in the rooms, or make their buds They are chiefly these: Gas-dried atmosphere, sudden s and extreme alternations of erature. Are these more salutary s injurious to plant than to They are more mischievous an to plants. The parched atere of our rooms is a constant of irritation to weakly or disungs. It dries up the natural of the body, excites thirst and exhaustion, and perhaps one most grateful and wholesome es that could be effected in our g houses would be the genially some skillful means of our up and fire burnt atmosphere elicate women and children inll day and all night long. The cannot stand it with impunity, r can we."

om advance sheets of the delphia Academy's Proceedings part not yet out) we learn of a important discovery made by Cope of a gigantic fossil bird ig Eocene of New Mexico. If dications afforded by the specie correctly interpreted, this ry introduces to the fauna of America a bird of the struthiclass hitherto unknown and ected as a component of the una of this country, and is only in significance to the ry by Prof. Marsh of a subbirds with true teeth. The ers it tursometatarsus defect to the outer condyle for articuwith the corresponding digit, king also an intermediate porthe shaft. The characters of ximal extremity resemble in joints those seen in the Struthiostriches) and Dinornithidæ of New Zealand;) while those distal extremity, as far as can mined, are like those of the g Cnemis of the Paris lasthe size of the bone indicates a with legs twice as large as an The specimen is elaborately ed, and the former owner of the named Diatryma gigantea. same place Prof. Cope treats Tæniolonta, a new group of alls, likewise from the Eocene Mexico. These animals are ed as allied to the Insectivora. present some peculiarities of from which the name is d. Among other things may ced the enameling of the sucisors with two bands, an and posterior. This sub-order esented by two families, the uidæ and the Calamodontidæ former the molars have sevots apiece, while in the latter olar has a single conic fang. the enamel of the molars is ally a band on the outer side teeth; the deficiency being d in Calamodon by a deposit entum, which invests the suand superior incisors, covering the excepting where the enamel are present, and being thick to form a raised layer all the line of suture of the two ces. Such condition of the becomes interesting, as affordve points of approximation to ers of the Edentata of the day, in which the teeth are aneled at all, and indicates e Tæniolonta partially fill the ich exists between the Edend the Insectivora.

BUSINESS CARDS.

THOMAS OWEN,
DEALER IN
Fancy and Staple Groceries,
CHOICE TEAS, ETC.,
Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans
Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET,
AT
NEVERS & HERY'S,
SUCCESSORS TO
J. C. POOLEY, 345 JULIA STREET.

LOUIS BUSH, Of Lafourche. JOHN B. LEVERT, Of Iberville.
BUSH & LEVERT,
COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,
And General Commission Merchants,
31 PERDIDO ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.
Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

CHEAP AND CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.
D. MORIARTY,
Nos. 249, 251, 253 and 255 Poydras St.,
(Head of Poydras Market.)
A constant supply of fresh Staple and Fancy Groceries. Pure Green and Black Teas a specialty. Goods delivered free of charge, and satisfaction in quality and price guaranteed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.
AIKEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
46 Union Street, New Orleans, La.
Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

NEW LEATHER STORE.
A. F. RICAU,
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN
French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,
Shoe Findings, etc.,
536 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS.
Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Peytonia Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, La.
Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

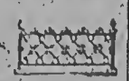
BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES
At Low Figures for Cash.
Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.
H. MUMME,
No. 51 Magazine street, and No. 61 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 CANAL STREET 101
Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Crests, Monograms etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked in artistic style.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,
BOOK BINDER, RULER
AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,
112 Camp Street. 112
(Over James A. Gresham's, New Orleans.
Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Canal and Custom-house,
NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Brasselmann & Adams) wish to inform the community that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and finish cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.
MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM ERERT,
ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,
And General Housesmith,


Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences and Verandas of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.
129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.
Box 213, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. H. GRISWOLD & CO.,
COR. CANAL AND BOYAL STS.,
WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS
AND SILVERWARE.
Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
79 Carondelet St. 79
NEW ORLEANS, LA,
Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS,
59 CARONDELET ST. 59
NEW ORLEANS.
Liberal cash advances made on shipments of Cotton.

KTRSHERDT & RIENVENU,
MONUMENTS, TOMBS,
HEADSTONES, TABLETS, MANTELS CEMETERY RAILINGS,
And all kinds of Marble Work
111 CAMP STREET. 120
New Orleans, Louisiana.

THE DOMESTIC
LOCK-STITCH SEWING MACHINE
WILL LAST A LIFE TIME.
WHANON & GIBBS' celebrated Twisted Loop-Stitch Sewing Machine, always ready and in order. Needles for all kinds of Sewing Machines.
M. S. HEDRICK,
53 Chartres street, New Orleans

COAL.....COAL.....COAL.
B. D. WOOD & BROS.,
106 Common St., opposite City Hotel.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans
A full assortment of Palms, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

CRESCENT MACHINE
AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,
Corner of Faubher and St. Joseph Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS,
JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, constructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

E. RATELLE,
DEALER IN CARPETINGS,
609 MAGAZINE STREET 609
Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans
Floor Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Tabs and Piano Covers, Crumb Cloths, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Enameled Oil Cloths, Burlaps, Pins, Gimps, Tassels, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticking and Springs, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of Dufossat street, Sixth District, New Orleans; office, No. 154 Tchoupitoulas, between Valiance and Bordeaux streets. L. CARBO, Sr., agents. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths, Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc.; also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order, in Pine or Cypress. Address communications to Box 259, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.

J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.
J. A. LUM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,
103 Gravier and 43 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S VEHICLES.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.
LANGE & LEGENDRE,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,
Office and Warehouse—17 TOULOUSE STREET, New Orleans, La.
Refer to Kohn, Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Grocers, New Orleans; Julius Denis, President Levee Steam Cotton Press; Jules Cassard, Vice President Louisiana National Bank; Pike, Brother & Co., Bankers, New Orleans; Cashier of People's Bank; Louis Legendre, St. James; Felix P. Poche, St. James.

JOHN E. ADAMS. JAY E. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.
JOHN E. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,
Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS
301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. CHAS. E. RELIS & DR. M. VIET,
DENTISTS,
12 DAUPHINE STREET 12
First door from Canal, New Orleans.
Teeth extracted without pain under the influence of Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Established since 1850.

A. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
160 COMMON STREET 160
(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL. A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, 69 Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Delord street. This office has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and the light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.
My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.
J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNUM,
SURGEON DENTIST,
308 MAGAZINE STREET 308
Near the Market.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
119 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,
NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET
Between Julia and St. Joseph,
New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. W. W. RACE. W. R. FOSTER.
MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS
AND SOLICITORS,
Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,
NEW ORLEANS.

BATHS! BATHS!
NO. 102 CONTI STREET
RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. For Gentlemen, from 12 M. to 6 P. M.
Sulphur and Fresh Water Baths at all hours, every day. Polite and special attention to guests.
J. KLOCK.

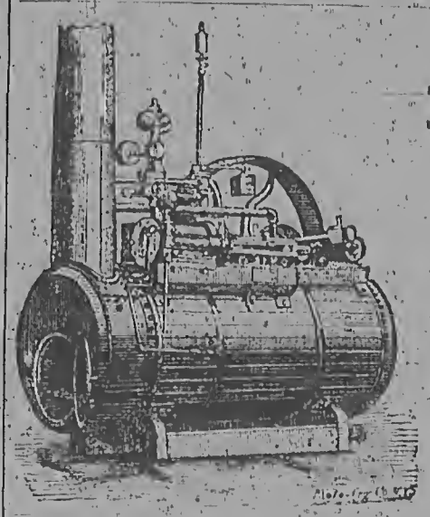
FIRWEIN is the name of a new remedy mentioned in the Journal of Materia Medica for January as particularly valuable in Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and lungs; those of public speakers, and gives several cases of cure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.
Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,
FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR-HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful GAS, equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

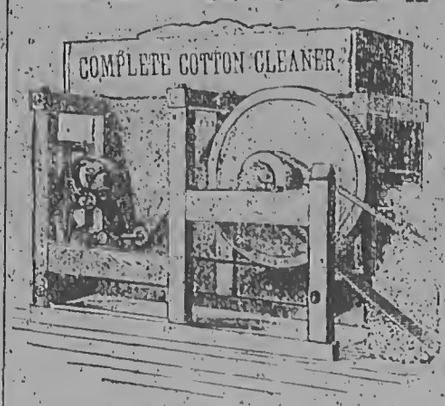
THE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.
There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasant light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—we use no Drums, Pumps or Blowers to corrode or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all burdensome and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Lead. Our Works are so Compact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas-meter and gas-making business, could suggest, devise or practice, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be placed on or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.
Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.
State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,
106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



PAYNE'S
Portable Engines.
5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.
B. J. WEST,
SOLE AGENT,
115 and 117 Magazine Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.



The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner.—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.
No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners." It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.
Manufactured and sold by
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.
Send for Circulars and Price list.
FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.
The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as the Chickering, Knabe, Decker Bros., Haines Bros., Peloubet & Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs.
The largest stock, the best Pianos and Organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices at the South. No trashy unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA IT IS.
251 PAGES,
Its Topography and Valuable Resources,
BY DANIEL BENNETT.
PRICE 50 CENTS—POSTAGE 12 CENTS.
AGENTS WANTED—LIBERAL TO DEALERS.
10,000 Copies Just Published—3,000 Copies Sold.
The Editors of New Orleans have given this book unstinting indorsement.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.
It is a book which has long been wanted and often called for. I am selling copies daily that are mailed to all parts of the world.
GEORGE ELLIS, Bookseller,
Opposite the Postoffice.
During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work. Mr. Bennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS is expressly the book that has been called for. It gives general satisfaction to my patrons in the city and country. It is the character were generally known it would require ten times the present edition of 10,000 copies to supply the demand.
C. C. HAILEY, Bookseller,
19 Commercial Place,
Branch, 143 Poydras street.
An experience of twenty-five years as bookseller in New Orleans will justify me in saying that the book just issued by Mr. Daniel Bennett, LOUISIANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by residents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing.
JAMES A. GRESHAM,
92 Camp and 94 Canal street.
Dealers in the city and country can obtain supplies of the above book at the wholesale establishment of ROBERT J. HARE, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Barnett's Iodo-Sarza!
THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER KNOWN, is now introduced for the first time in the South, having already been in use in other parts of the country, where its marvelous properties as an Anti-Miasmatic and Blood-Purifying Preparation have been fully established. Circulars, containing a complete treatise on the qualities of this WONDERFUL MEDICINE can be had from FREDERICKSON & HAFFE,
Sole Agents for the South,
No. 181 Canal street.

STAINED GLASS WORKS
GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.
WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS.—Established in 1833. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic Buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs artistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

RICHARD RHODES,
LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,
SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,
55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS,
Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.
Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.
GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety kind of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters; will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.
R. RHODES.

FOR THE LAKE!
OFFICE OF THE
NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO.,
No. 121 Canal St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.
FOR THE LAKE. The regular trains over the New Orleans, Metairie Cemeteries and Lake Railroad will begin running on SATURDAY, APRIL 29.
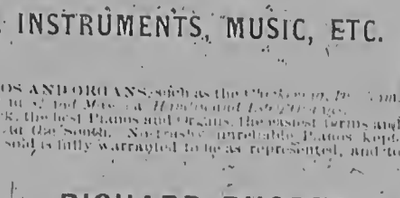
For the present trains will leave Metairie Ridge and the Lake EVERY HALF HOUR from 6 o'clock A. M. to the last train leaving the Lake at 10 o'clock P. M. Fare, from City Station to the Lake TEN CENTS.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.


WIMBLEDON
Long Range Breech Loading
Practice Pistol & Targets.
Carries a ½ inch ball with great accuracy fifty feet, without powder or percussion. Rises barrel, hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with permanent ammunition for target practice in-doors and for sporting out of doors.
AGENTS WANTED.
A. A. GRAHAM,
97 Liberty street, New York.

MAGIC. PUFF! PUFF! PUFF!
Magical Puzzle Box.
Thousands of Magical Rings out of this wonderful Box.
Endless amusement for the children. Sent to any address, with full directions, on receipt of 25 cents.
LOTTRIDGE & CO.,
27 Dey street, New York.
LOUISIANA.
PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY.
R. LUCKNER, SR.,
113 Magazine St. 113
(Upstairs.) NEW ORLEANS
BAND BOXES, with address, three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges except freight for $1.15 per dozen, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 18, 1871.
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.

THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed Cotton any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time, while economizing steam or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every 100 bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.
JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 Carondelet St. 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

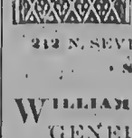
H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.
No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.
DEALERS IN
MACHINERY
SEND FOR CIRCULARS
COMPARE OUR PRICES
MACHINERY
MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.
MAKE FLOUR CORN SAW MILLS
AND COTTON PRESSES

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE Without Patterns.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS OF IMPROVED DESIGNS, A SPECIALTY.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use.
ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.
LEEDS' FOUNDRY,
Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.
We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Draining Machines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Screws, Gin Gearing, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Judson's Governors and Kinds of Plantation and Steamboat work and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.
Orders left at Box 54, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.
IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING,
HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING etc. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list.
GEORGE PLACE,
121 CHAMBERS, AND 103 READE STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.
FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES, ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.



BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837.
Manufacture Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Plantations, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.
Vanduzen & Tift, 102 & 104 Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG
Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,
NO. 131 CANAL STREET,
Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Are equipped with the various kinds of
SEWING MACHINES
and intend to make a specialty in this line. Use Machines at all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $20. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.
Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giving references.
MRS. ADA GREGG
respectfully offers her services to purchasing and furnishing any article of apparel, personal adornment or domestic goods for Ladies and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured to the latest style, under her own supervision.
N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles mentioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.
Sewing Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.
REFERENCE, J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss.
Send for catalogue and circular.
GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

ADOLPH SUTTER,
GLASS STAINER.
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.
Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.
212 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,
GENERAL COOPERAGE,
13 NORTH FRONT ST. 13
Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, May 16, 1876.

MONETARY.

Our banks and money-lenders still manifest great caution in discounting paper, but when satisfied, supply the demand at reasonable rates. We quote A1 at 10@12 per cent. per annum. Mortgage paper—First-class quiet at outside prices.

The condition of our merchants is generally good. There have been comparatively few failures this season, and business has moved slowly, it is true, but is winding up more satisfactorily than was anticipated. Our real estate sales show more animation and prices are a little better.

Gold—We quote 112@113."

GENERAL MARKET.

There is an advance in corn and corn meal, owing to an increase in country orders and light receipts. Up to this week the dealers were complaining of getting so few orders from the interior, which is a good sign; and if our good friends in the country will only increase the corn crop as they should we will have but little use for Western corn and meat.

Dry goods, boot and shoe, hardware men and crockeryware dealers are very anxious to reduce their stocks, but are not desirous of selling on long credit, nor to any but good names.

COTTON.—The market for the week just closed presents a quiet aspect, with no change in figures since Wednesday. Sales, as reported by the Cotton Exchange, 13,850 bales, against 14,500 bales last week. New York market quiet to steady; sales, 8,072 bales for past week. Liverpool—Sales, 50,000 bales; against 38,000 bales last week. Middling Orleans 6 5-16d. Tone less firm.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13
Thursday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13
Friday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13
Saturday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13
Monday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13
Tuesday	7	8	9¼	10¼	11¾	13

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11¾	11¾	11¾
Thursday	11¾	11¾	11¾
Friday	11¾	11¾	11¾
Saturday	11¾	11¾	11¾
Monday	11¾	11¾	11¾
Tuesday	11¾	11¾	11¾

COTTON STATEMENT TO MAY 16.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875	bales	9,766
Received from that date to May 16, 1876		1,515,297
Received during past week		6,851
Amount of bales from city gins and pickeries		18,768—1,540,682
Total		1,550,535
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to May 16, 1876	1,377,761
Exported past week	10,258
Consumed by factory and burned	1,379—1,388,088
Stock on hand and amount not cleared	151,547
Estimated stock on shipboard	40,000
Amount remaining unsold about		311,547
Stock at all the United States ports		385,295
Receipts at all the ports		3,077,850
Receipts last year to date		3,052,698
Increase at all the ports		25,152

SUGAR.—Market very firm; receipts light. We continue quotations of last week, as follows: Fair 8c., fully fair 8¼c., prime 8¾@9c., yellow clarified 9¼@9½c., white 10¾@10¾c. Market firm.

MOLASSES.—With light receipts the market has stiffened. Prices unchanged, as follows: Centrifugals 28@35c., fair 38@41c., prime 42@45c., strictly prime 46@48c., choice 49@50c.

RICE.—Small stock, and trade is active at firmer prices. Louisiana No. 2's quoted at 2¾@3¼c., common 4@4¼c., ordinary 4¾@5c., fair 5@5½c., good 5¾@6c., prime 6¼@6¾c. ₱ lb.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	FROM	TO
Eggs, ₱ doz.:
Creole, good demand	—	18
Arkansas, demand fair	—	17½
Western and country	—	16
Chickens, ₱ doz.:
Creole, grown	$4 00	$5 50
Creole, half-grown	2 00	3 00
Good fat country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creoles
Wool, ₱ lb.:
Burry	10	15
Free of burrs	15	25
Beeswax, ₱ lb.	22	24
Hides, ₱ lb.:
Green salted	6	7
Dry	9	11
Deer skins	25	28

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $66@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and peck, and 24 inches in diameter, $75@$80 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 31 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $11@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over, in diameter, $56@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood—For large sound logs, $2.25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2.75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₱ lb. gross.

Fat grass-fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@7c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given: Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do. with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
B. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	8	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	11 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails (at best brands	13 50	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 6 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 14 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 26	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb.	—	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb.	21	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb.	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb.	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb.	— —	1½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal.	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights: Size.	Sash per Box. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8 by 10	$1 70	— —	$2 00
10 by 12	65	1 95	2 25
12 by 16	1 90	2 95	3 25
Sash Doors:		Single.	Double.
2 feet x 7 feet		$3 50	$3 70
3 feet x 8 feet		4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches		— —	4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 6 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick		— —	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick		— —	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick		$3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	30	32
Goshen, choice	40	42
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio prime	23½	25
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15½
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	38	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Cocoa Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	3 00	3 25
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	13	14½
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	2 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	5 25
Choice XXX	6 50	6 75
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb.	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb.	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	7	8
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	28	28
Benzine, in cans	— —	30
Coal, in barrels, best	17	18
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	40
Fair	— —	45
Prime to choice	50	60
Golden and Rapidan syrups	75	80
Half bbls. 5c. and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3½
Ordinary	— —	4½
Fair	5¼	5¾
Prime to choice	6½	7
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb.	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 50	1 75
Coarse	1 00	1 25
Sugar, in bbls.:
Fair	7½	8½
Prime	8¼	8¾
Choice	9¼	9¾
Yellow clarified	9¾	10
White clarified	10½	10¾
Crushed	11½	11¾
Powdered	11½	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb.:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	50
Cinnamon	— —	45
Tea, ₱ lb.:
Black oolong	— —	1 00
Green imperial	— —	1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb.:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	80
White, mixed	— —	70
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis to Galena	15	18
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs.	85	90
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	23 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton Seed Meal	24 00	25 00
Corn Peas, ₱ bushel	1 50	2 25

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11	11½
Shoulders	9¾	10
Sides, clear rib	12½	13
Sides, clear	13¼	13½
Hams, sugar-cured	14	14½
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl.	22 50	23 00
Dry Salted Meat:
Shoulders	9	9½
Hams	— —	12½
Clear rib sides	12¼	12¾
Clear sides	— —	12¾
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	— —	15
Choice, in tierces	— —	14½

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	— —	12
Jute	— —	13½
Ties, Arrow, best	— —	6
Beard	— —	6
Twine, hemp	— —	17

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	33	38
Calf skins, Wolcott	70 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb.	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stone's raw bone superphosph.	$55	— —
Stone's one ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands A	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands	— —	7½
Choice brands, A	10	12½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	6½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	12
Good	13	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	11
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Russetts' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

THE Meridian District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, Miss., beginning on Friday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock, Bishop Paine presiding.

Members should report at Turner & Taylor's store on Thursday, if possible, for assignment to quarters.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Watts the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. B. K. SMITH, P. C.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The trustees will meet on the camp ground on Thursday, the first day of June next. All persons desiring to select lots or tents, or seeking information respecting the approaching camp meeting, are invited to be present.

W. H. FOSTER, President.
PHILIP HALLARAN, Secretary.

MOBILE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—Delegates can buy in Mobile, on the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of May, tickets to Pensacola and returning for $7.50, at other stations from Brewton south at the rate of six cents for round-trip tickets to Junction. A boat will be in readiness to take delegates to Milton from Pensacola on the twenty-fifth.

S. H. COX.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held, commencing on Wednesday, July 19, and continuing from eight to ten days, on the Seashore Camp Ground, situated and fronting directly on the Gulf of Mexico, one mile west of Biloxi, midway between the cities of New Orleans and Mobile, and only distant a few hundred feet from the railroad.

W. H. FOSTER,
President Board of Trustees.
P. HALLARAN, Secretary.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS CAMP MEETING.—This meeting is appointed to begin on Wednesday before the first Sunday in August (which is the second day of August) and to continue till Thursday, August 10. Preachers and people are earnestly invited to attend.

H. H. MONTGOMERY, P. E.

THE District Conference for Brandon district, Mississippi Conference, will convene at Newton station, Vicksburg and Meridian railroad, on Thursday, June 29, and will include the first Sunday in July. Bishop Paine will preside.

The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. Robert S. Woodward, of Brandon station.

Pastors will please inform themselves fully as to the condition of their charges, so as to be able to answer the questions indicated in chapter 2, section 3, page 31 of the Discipline.

We would kindly urge upon all, ministers and delegates, the importance of attending this Conference.

WILL. H. LEITH, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—The Mobile District Conference will convene at Milton Fla., on Friday, May 26, at nine o'clock A. M. The district stewards will meet at the same time and place.

Preachers in charge will please read section 3, Discipline, page 69, and be ready to report as therein required. To the seventh division of this section we hope to give special prominence.

S. H. COX, P. E.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

HOMER DIST.—SECOND ROUND.

Minden, at Flat Lick	After 21, 22
Lisbon, at Harmony chapel	20, 21
Haynesville, at Gray's schoolhouse	May 6, 7
Homer, at Tulip	13, 14
Arcadia, at Salem	20, 21
Farmerville, at Farmerville	27, 28
Dawtsville, at Falkesville	June 3, 4
Vernon, at Vernon	10, 11
Sparta, at Castor	24, 25
Lowesville, at Rochester	July 1, 2
Indian Village, at Pleasant Grove	8, 9

4 JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising a General Index; Alphabetical Register for Church Members; Register of Official Members; of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Register of Annual, Quarterly and Church Conferences; Tables for Church Collections; and an Annual Summary of the Yearly Work, and Condition of the Church.

The Register contains about 250 pages, size 10 by 15 inches, of good heavy paper, handsomely bound, and will be supplied to Churches for $5 each.

ADDRESS

ROBT. J. HARP, Agent,
NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,
NEW ORLEANS.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,
DEALER IN ICE,
No. 135 Harmony Street,
Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S

EXTRA OLIVE SOAP.

FULL WEIGHT.

For sale by all Grocers,
A. A. FRENCH, Agent;
59 Common street, New Orleans.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building, Country and Arch Brices, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
150 Gravier street, and
259 Julia, bet. Ramparts and Basin Sts.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers;	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

25 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
40 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Food Pan.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET.
Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 100 pieces $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices, and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, 75; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other route, including the shortest, and not requiring excessive Speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, where the new and handsome Hotels are erected, within ten minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels—a great advantage to visitors who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE.

Three Daily Express Trains to the Centennial, making close connection, without a single walk or lay-over, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be remembered that from New Orleans, via Louisville, the time between New Orleans and New York is only Seventy-two Hours and Eleven Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Stop Both Ways at Niagara Falls, the entire route, with double and treble tracks, and the best system of railroad telegraphing in the country—which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historical—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—bleading, as it does, hill and dale, mountain and valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and tumbling brooks; in fact, as the European tourists says, "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great thoroughfare.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is wonderful, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion, as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will so state.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans.

SIDNEY B. JONES,
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WILLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875,

AT 5.30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Hope street Depot:

DEPART.
Express	7.30 P. M.
Mail	5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE.
Express	11.30 P. M.
Mail	12.30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10.30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELTON, Agent,
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

☞ REFER TO

R. J. Harp, E. S. Keep, W. H. Foster.

D. L. MITCHEL,

Economical Purchasing Agent,

NO. 12 COMMERCIAL PLACE.

Bargains obtained and orders filled at auction when practicable.

PICNICS!—PICNICS!

ORLEANS RAILROAD CO.

By taking the cars of this Company passengers going to the Fair Grounds will find all accommodations to enjoy a pleasant trip to that fashionable place of amusement.

The cars at the company leave City Station as follows: The Green cars direct and the Blue cars via Bayou St. John and Magnolia Garden all landing passengers at the central gate of the Fair Grounds.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents wanted to sell a Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary & Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton; Calicoes, Flannels, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA KID Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they ripper tear while putting them on.

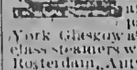
Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent, if requested.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency.

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE



Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first-class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rosterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unexcelled. Shortest sea route, superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Safety the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage the very best in all respects—through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from $5 up on any city in Europe Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and trains sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet.

FOR CINCINNATI, Louisville, Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Paducah, Cairo, Memphis and all intermediate points, the Passenger Steamer

MARY HOUSTON,

Charles Miller, Master—A. Elliott Miller, Clerk. Will leave as follows, viz.:

SATURDAY, April 29, at 5 P. M.
May 20, at 5 P. M.
June 10, at 5 P. M.
July 1, at 5 P. M.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to C. G. WAYNE, 118 Gravier St.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House: 33 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

J. H. MCHAFFEY, COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for Merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to sugar Planters. Office, 32 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

$77 A WEEK TO AGENTS. Old and Young, Male and Female, in their locality. Terms and Outfit Free. Address P. O. VICKERY & CO., Augusta, Me.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SEWING MACHINE SALES FOR 1875.

	Machines.
The Singer Manuf'g Co.	249,...
Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Co.	...
Remington Sewing Machine Co.	...
Howe Machine Co. (estimated)	...
Weed Sewing Machine Co.	...
Domestic Sewing Machine Co.	...
Grover & Baker S. M. Co. (estimated)	...
Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Co.	...
American B. H., etc., Sewing Machine Co.	...
Gold Medal Sewing Machine Co.	...
Wilson Sewing Machine Co.	...
Victor Sewing Machine Co.	...
Florence Sewing Machine Co.	...
J. E. Braunsdorff & Co. (Etna)	...
Secor Sewing Machine Co.	...
McKay S. M. Association	...

This it will be seen that nearly ONE-HALF of the Sewing Machines sold in the United States in the year 1875, by the fifteen different companies, were of the SINGER patent—a sufficient evidence of its superiority over all.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List and ask for club rates. Address

The Singer Manufacturing Co.
111 ..... CANAL STREET .....
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Organs & Melodeons

The Oldest, Largest and Most Perfect Manufactory in the United States. Nearly 56,000

NOW IN USE.

No other Musical Instrument ever attained such popularity.

Send for Price Lists.

Address BUFFALO, N. Y.

The fact of there being the largest and best manufactory in the United States, with such instruments now in use, is a sufficient guaranty of our responsibility and the merits of our instruments.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

CHAS. D. LALLANDE

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

HARDWARE, CUTLERY,

38 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

AND

No. 36 Peters Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

CUTLER'S PATENT POCKET INHALER & CARBOLATE OF IODINE INHALANT

A certain remedy for all NASAL, THROAT, LUNG diseases, affording relief in from a few min

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1876. NO. 21.

WINTER WHEAT.

BY WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

...e maples reddon by the sun;
In auth ro gold the beeches stand;
...ch, faithful plow, thy work is done
Upon the deeplog land.

...ordered with trees whose gay leaves fly
In every breath that sweeps the sky;
...e fre h, dark acres furrowed like,
And ask the sower's hand.

...see the first steed, and let him go
...pasture, where the gentians blow,
...d we, who fill the grateful ground,
...ing we the golden shower around.

...ing while the generous grain; we fling
...er the dark mold the green of spring;
...r flick the emerald blades shall grow
...hen first the March winds melt the snow,
...nd to the sleeping flowers below
...The early blue bir..is sing.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

...w YORK, May 16.—The address ...e political conference is mainly ...ted to the ethics of politics. The ...ey feature reads: "Our solemn ...often repeated pledge faithfully ...scharge all national obligations ...t be fulfilled not only by the ...ent of the principal and inter... of our bonded debt when due, ...also by the removal, not later ...the time provided by the exist... law, of the curse of our redun... irredeemable paper currency, ...h not only impedes the return of ...prosperity, but has largely con... ...ted to the existing demoraliza...

...e following resolution, offered ...r. Schurz, was then adopted: ...Resolved, That an executive com... be appointed by the chair, ...sting of the present business ...mittee, with power to add to ...number at least one from each ...n the Union, as far as practica... and that the committee be di... ...d to use all proper means to ...mit the purposes indicated in ...dress to-day adopted, and also ...convene this conference, or a ...r meeting of assimilar character... ...mstances require it."

...ry Randall Waite said: "We ...lead enough of the Mortons, the ...lings and the Pendletons of ...es. We need men like Charles ...is Adams. If we could not ...him, we hope to have E. H. ...aw or Samuel J. Tilden." Ap...

...ney Thomas, of Chicago, moved ...the conference recommend the ...onsideration of the country the ...e of Charles Francis Adams, ...anson.

...Etter offered as an amend... ...resolution that the conference ...the presidential nomination, ...e resolution was unanimously ...ed.

...Schurz moved that the confer... adjourn sine die, saying that he ...ld would leave with the con...sion of having done something ...ake the national election of 1876 ...worthily the memories of the ...nnial year. The resolution was ...d.

...e executive committee, consist... of Carl Schurz, Parke Godwin, ...Foster, John W. Hoyt and ...n Bremner, then went into ...utive session.

...N FRANCISCO, May 17.—The ...ner Peking arrived from Hong ...g with a thousand exiles.

...coast steamer sunk near Mong ...; two hundred lives lost.

...e Chinese steamer Pelican was ...dby pirates, and the captain and ...en of the crew were murdered. ...inese advices state the railway ...een Shanghai and Washung ...mes to excite the hostility of ...aval officials. It is apprehended ...eking authorities will order its ...ntinuance.

...e Chinese made a fresh attack ...e Christian natives of the in...

...VANNAH, May 18.—The General ...mbly of the Presbyterian Church ...e United States met this day in ...irst Presbyterian church. There ...the largest attendance since the ... One hundred and fifty dele... were present. The session open...th religious services.

...e introductory sermon was ...ched by Rev. Dr. M. L. Hodge, ...dwood, Va., Rev. William S. ...r, of Columbus, S. C., assist...

...Dr. D. B. Smith, of Virginia, ...lected moderator.

...J. E. Dutasr, of Tennessee, is ...rary clerk.

...session will probably last ten ...to be continued daily.

...ermon was preached to-night ...ev. Dr. Mallard, of New Or...

...veral important questions — ...g them the Pennsylvania pres... question, and the proposed ...on with the Northern Church — ...ll be brought up.

...W YORK, May 18.—The Presby... General Assembly convened ...ooklyn to-day. The inaugura... ...ermon was preached by Rev. ...orris, of Cincinnati.

...CINNATI, May 18.—The boilers ...e steamer Pat. Clebrne ex... ...d near Shawneetown, Ill., last ...causing the death of several ...ns and injuring a number.

...EYENNE, May 18.—Emigrants ...Black Hills are returning with ...holy stories. The mining set... ...nts will soon be deserted. The ...s are infested with bloodthirsty ...

...Custer City, which had one ...and two hundred inhabitants, ...nly three hundred remaining.

...KSON, Miss., May 20.—The ...ling dispatch from the sheriff ...kinson county will explain the ...les in that section:

...particulars as to the number of ... and wounded have been re... ...It is known that the num... ...s been greatly exaggerated.

...ville, Miss., May 19.—To Gov. Stone: Quiet is restored throughout the county. The trouble could have been avoided had not the colored people lired into my posse. They were advised by their leaders to kill the white people, from the cradle up. I have arrested some of the ringleaders, and may get more. Politics had nothing to do with the affair. Prominent colored men were with me, attempting to pacify them. They would listen to no advice. I apprehend no further trouble.

W. H. NOBLE, Sheriff.

SAVANNAH, May 20.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church convened at nine A. M., and opened with prayer. After the usual reports Rev. Dr. Mandeville, of the Reformed Church of New York, was formally received by the moderator, and made an eloquent response. Dr. Phillips, associated with the Reformed Church South, was also present, and invited to a seat on the floor. The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported recommendations concerning the proposed alliance of the Presbyterian churches.

On motion to adopt, a discussion opened, Dr. Stuart Robinson, of Louisville, in an exhaustive speech of over two hours, warmly advocating the proposed council, and favoring a free and earnest discussion of doctrinal questions. The address excited unusual interest.

The large church is crowded. Rev. Dr. Adger, representing the opponents of the proposed council, speaks to-night at six o'clock. Final action will be deferred until Monday. The pulpits of the different churches will be occupied to-morrow by members of the Assembly.

PORT EADS, May 20.—The Cromwell line has again made use of the jetties, making the third ship belonging to that line that has passed here within a week.

The New Orleans, Capt. Dearborn, went to Southwest Pass for yesterday at 3:30 P. M., but as she drew fifteen feet eight inches she could not enter there.

Capt. Dearborn steamed over here and anchored outside just before sundown, to await daylight and high tide this morning. About four o'clock this morning, by the aid of the accomplished pilot, Capt. Francis, she came through the jetties without a minute's detention and with perfect ease. The course run was the same as that used by the Hudson in passing out, and over which no sounding, taking or scraping of any kind has ever been done except that performed by the river current. It is rumored that Collector Casey has consented, at Capt. Eads' request, to detail an inspector of customs to this point for the accommodation of vessels in the foreign trade. There is no question as to the necessity of having such an officer here.

GALVESTON, May 20.—A Galveston News special, under date of Brownsville, May 20, says: "Gen. Bonneville, with the advance of the government forces under Escobado, reached Matamoras last night at eight o'clock, and the American and German consuls turned over the city to him. Escobedo arrived here this morning. Diaz is reported to be at San Fernando, in the interior, whither Gonzales has gone to join him."

SCRANTON, PA., May 20.—George Peck, D. D., the pioneer of Methodism in this region, and brother of Bishop Jesse Peck, died here to-day, in his seventy-ninth year.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The following nominations have been made: Attorney General Pierrepont to be minister to England; Secretary Taft to be Attorney General; Don Cameron, son of Simon Cameron, to be Secretary of War.

Nominations and Confirmations.—Attorney General Pierrepont, minister to England; Secretary Taft, Attorney General; Don Cameron, Secretary of War.

These nominations were referred to the committee, reports were made immediately, and without debate the three important nominations were confirmed. These appointments surprised every one, especially that of Don Cameron.

The nomination of Mr. Pierrepont reads: "To place of Schenck, resigned."

NEW YORK, May 22.—In the Presbyterian Conference a resolution was adopted that an hour be appointed for prayer and thanksgiving, to almighty God for prosperity during the last one hundred years of the nation's existence, and that the people of Brooklyn be invited to participate. A committee was appointed to make arrangements.

The Church Board of Education reported the board clear of debt.

There are 222 theological, 218 collegiate and 18 academic students on the rolls. Dr. Evans, of Dayton, made an address, in which he stated that more attention should be paid to the habits of some of the candidates for the ministry. The Baptists and Methodists were more strict than the Presbyterians; the Presbyterian students smoked, chewed and attended places of amusement.

Rev. Dr. Speire thought this was an unjust reflection on the church, and the brother should not make such a statement to be spread over the whole church, when the case probably belonged to his own church. If there were any such among the students they should be expelled.

Report adopted. Recess.

SAVANNAH, May 22.—A number of interesting reports were read at the session to-day. A communication from a local temperance society was referred—will probably escape discussion. The committee reported favorably on the establishment of an institution for the education of colored preachers. The matter was referred to the Educational Committee. The committee recommend a more rigid examination of candidates for the ministry.

LAYVILLE, Clay county, Iowa, May 22.—Many houses were torn down by the storm to-day. The hail is four inches deep; some of the stones are three inches in diameter.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., May 22.—A hail storm to-day killed chickens and birds on the wing. The ground was covered with hail stones, some of them six and three-quarter inches in circumference. Not a greenhouse nor skylight escaped. Many stained panes in the churches were broken. The storm did not reach the great fruit growing regions.

OMAHA, May 22.—A heavy snow storm is reported west of Laramie City, Wyoming.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, May 17.—Advices from Salonica state that six of the principal culprits in the recent outrages there have been publicly executed. Perfect tranquillity prevails now.

LONDON, May 18.—The Turks refuse to allow Greek men-of-war within the Golden Horn. The Russian telegraph agency reports the population still dissatisfied. The panic among Europeans is increasing and diplomatists are taking every precaution.

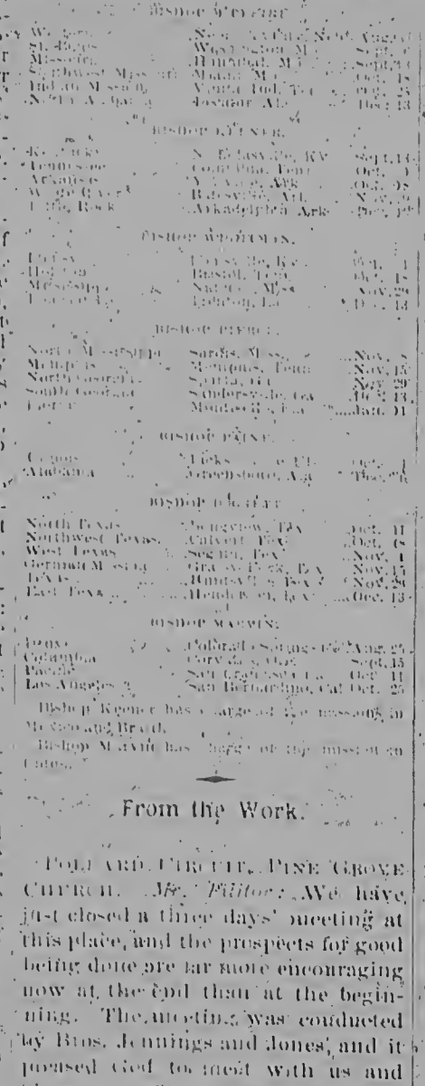
LONDON, May 22.—The Times' Berlin dispatch says there seems to be little doubt that the lives of the European residents of Constantinople were in peril.

The powers would notify the Sultan of their wish to send a squadron to the Bosphorus.

A Times Madrid dispatch says thirty thousand infantry and three thousand cavalry regiments, under arms for Cuba, will sail on September 1.

MADRID, May 22.—Queen Christina has arrived at Lerida, and will come to Madrid immediately, accompanied by King Alfonso.

Plan of Episcopal Visitations for 1876.



From the Work.

POLLARD, ESCAMBIA, PINE GROVE CHURCH. Mr. Editor: We have just closed a three days' meeting at this place, and the prospects for good being done are far more encouraging now at the end than at the beginning. The meeting was conducted by Bros. Jennings and Jones, and it pleased God to meet with us and bless us. The membership was greatly revived and stimulated, and sinners came to the altar desiring the prayers of the church. We do thank God that, though we wander in the valley sometimes, we are again upon Pisgah's top, where we can view the promised land.

Your brother in Christ,

THEODORE E. KELLY.

May 7, 1876.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—To All Parties Interested. Don't forget that the trustees meet on the camp ground on Thursday, the first day of June.

The Emperor of Brazil gives thirty minutes to his dinner, and insists that everything shall be placed on the table at once, instead of being served in courses, when he is at home. But he is more economical of time here, and dispatches his dinner in ten minutes.

Mr. Philip Phillips has been conducting a campaign of sacred song in India. He commenced his series of meetings at Calcutta, and then visited the chief cities of northern India. His reception at Calcutta is said to have been encouraging.

The Annual Meeting of the Board of Missions.

We condense from the proceedings of the board, giving items not published last week:

The report of the Committee on Estimates was presented by Dr. Kelley, the chairman, which was read, and on motion of Bishop Marvin it was received, and the board proceeded to make the appropriations for the ensuing year:

1. China, beginning Oct. 1, 1876	$8,650 00
To wit: Salary of superintendent, one foreign missionary and six native preachers, including rent of three churches, support of two boarding and three day schools	$3,000 00
Chinese Magazine, Rev. Y. J. Allen	500 00
Balance on traveling expenses of Rev. A. P. Parker	150 00
Total	$8,650 00
2. Bombay Mission	$9,010 00
Begins with the time of the meeting of the West Texas Conference.
Superintendent's salary and five Mexican preachers, including furniture and care of Mrs. Hernandez	4,180 00
Contingent	260 00
Church-building if the Bishop deems it necessary	1,000 00
Total	$5,010 00
3. City of Mexico	$10,578 19
Begins June 1, 1876, as follows:
Superintendent's salary and house-rent	$2,500 00
Native assistants	3,000 00
Translating and printing	500 00
Opening work at Leon, preacher, $720; rent, $180	1,200 00
Opening work at Tlaxpan—preacher, $720; rent, $180	1,200 00
Exchange	1,182 48
To one Methodist school in United States	300 00
Total	$10,578 18

On motion of Dr. Rush a supplement to this amount was agreed upon, allowing an appropriation from February to June, 1876, the sum to be ascertained by the Committee on Estimates.

On motion of Bishop Marvin it was resolved that the Bishop superintending the Mexican mission be authorized to draw his drafts for support of said mission in monthly installments.

6. Central Mexico Conference, including $2,000 paid in building a church in Mexico, in the Electo-

On motion of Bishop McTyeire the board adjourned to meet at three o'clock in the afternoon. Benediction by Bishop Paine.

7. Africa	$1,500 00
8. Texas, on behalf of the Texas Conference of the Conference, and the other half for Montana and other Territories	6,000 00
9. Foochow	2,000 00
Of this amount $1,000 is appropriated to the general work in the Conference. Of the remaining $2,500, $250 may be appropriated to the superintendent of the Ouran mission to Key West. The remainder to be applied to the said Cuban mission. It is understood that if the Bishop presiding at the Florida Conference shall judge it expedient, $1,000 of the remaining $2,250 may be applied in the building of church in Key West for the benefit of the Cuban mission.	3,500 00
10. Los Angeles Conference	1,700 00
If this $2,000 may be applied to the building of a church in Santa Barbara, or other places, as the Bishop presiding at the Los Angeles Conference may judge proper.

The following resolution respecting the Rev. J. W. Lambuth, superintendent of the China mission, was adopted:

Resolved, That in consideration of his long and faithful services as a missionary, and the present feeble state of his health, the Board of Missions does hereby invite the Rev. J. W. Lambuth, superintendent of the China mission, to visit the United States or any other part of the world he may choose—leave of absence from his work, and the funds to defray all necessary expenses, being hereby granted.

W. G. E. CUNNYNGHAM.
D. C. KELLEY.

On motion of Dr. Kelley it was resolved that a contingent fund of $1,500 be set apart in view of meeting the traveling expenses of the Rev. J. W. Lambuth, should he find it necessary to leave his field of labor for the purpose of recruiting his health; and that $1,500 be set apart to bear the expenses of one of the Bishops in case he should visit our missions in China before the next annual meeting of this board.

A letter from the Rev. A. G. Haygood, D. D., tendering his resignation as a member of this board, was read, and his resignation was accepted. The Rev. Weyanan H. Potter, D. D., of the North Georgia Conference, was elected to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Haygood's resignation.

On motion it was resolved that the assessments on the Conferences for the ensuing year be $100,000, and distributed as last year, as follows:

ASSESSMENTS FOR 1876.

CONFERENCE.	AMOUNT.
Baltimore	$5,625 00
Virginia	6,220 00
Western	1,010 00
North Carolina	3,330 00
South Carolina	2,000 00
North Georgia	5,620 00
South Georgia	4,160 00
Florida	800 00
Alabama	1,750 00
North Alabama	3,750 00
Louisiana	3,330 00
Mississippi	3,500 00
North Mississippi	3,540 00
Memphis	5,000 00
Holston	2,500 00
Tennessee	1,250 00
Kentucky	1,100 00
Louisville	5,000 00
Denver	200 00
St. Louis	2,250 00
Southwest Missouri	2,250 00
Missouri	1,550 00
Wisconsin	1,250 00
Little Rock	400 00
Arkansas	1,250 00
White River	1,250 00
Indian Mission	100 00
Texas	1,800 00
North Texas	1,350 00
East Texas	1,000 00
Northwest Texas	1,500 00
West Texas	1,000 00
Colorado	200 00
Los Angeles	1,000 00
California	2,000 00
Pacific	1,000 00
Oregon	1,000 00
German Mission	100 00
Total	$100,000 00

On motion of Dr. Rush the board proceeded to elect an associate secretary, who shall serve one year without pay. Dr. Kelley was duly elected.

The board met May 10, at its regular monthly meeting. Present: Drs. Summers, president; Drs. Redford, Cunnyngham, Hargrove, Young, Kelley, the Rev. J. M. Sharpe, Maj. Bransford and J. B. McFerrin. Prayer was offered by Bro. Godbey, of St. Louis. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that no appropriation made to any mission, or specific object in a mission, shall be otherwise applied without the consent of the board.

Resolved, That no contingent appropriation shall be drawn for till the object for which it was made is clearly defined and reported to the secretary or treasurer of the board.

Resolved, That in the appropriations to any mission, where missionaries are to be employed, the appropriations shall begin at the time the missionary begins his work, and his salary shall be estimated from the time he enters upon his field of labor.

Resolved, That the secretaries be required to send a copy of these resolutions to each Bishop having charge of missions.

The board then adjourned, with the benediction by Dr. Redford.

J. B. MCFERRIN, Sec.

General Conference of the M. E. Church.

BALTIMORE, May 17.—Bishop Bowman presided at the General Conference to-day.

A letter from Rev. Lovick Pierce, of the Church South, was read. A reply was ordered through Dr. Hunt.

Dr. H. D. Whedon was elected editor of the Quarterly Review; Dr. S. H. Vincent, editor of the Sunday school papers and tracts; Hitchcock & Walden were elected agents of the Western Book Concern; C. H. Fowler was elected editor of the New York Christian Advocate.

BALTIMORE, May 18.—Bishop Harris presided.

The address of the Irish Conference was presented.

Bishop Cummins, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, was introduced. He will address the Conference to-morrow.

Dr. William Nast was elected editor of the Christian Apologist, at Cincinnati. Dr. E. H. Fuller was elected editor of the Methodist Advocate, at Atlanta, and Mr. Dashiel was elected one of the missionary secretaries, at a salary of $5,000.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Bishop Foster presided in the General Conference to-day.

A resolution was offered to amend the Discipline to expel ministers who rent houses for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The Committee on Communication from the Church South presented a resolution that, in order to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity of the two churches, the Board of Bishops will be instructed to appoint a committee of three ministers and two laymen, to meet a similar committee appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church South and digest all difficulties. Adopted.

J. M. Reid was elected second corresponding missionary secretary.

Dr. Cummins said all he was he owed to Methodism, and proceeded to give reasons for the organization of a Reformed Episcopal Church.

The order transferring the Pittsburg Christian Advocate to the New York Book Concern was revoked.

The ballot for editor of the Ladies' Repository resulted in no choice. Adjourned.

BALTIMORE, May 20.—Bishop Wiley presided in the General Conference to-day.

Programme for the Centennial services to-morrow: Bishop L. Ames presides; Bishop Simpson, Revs. S. Brown and Matthews deliver addresses.

C. L. Robinson, of Florida, introduced preamble and resolutions looking to the placing in civil offices only such as are known to possess and maintain a true Christian character and principles. Referred to the Committee on the State of the Church.

Bishop Harris announced the special commission on relations with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, as follows: Rev. M. D. Crawford, Central New York; Rev. E. Q. Fuller, Georgia; Rev. J. P. Newman, Baltimore; Clinton B. Fisk, St. Louis, and Enoch L. Fancher.

A resolution was offered removing the disabilities of women from holding office in the church. Referred.

Dr. Curry was elected editor of the Ladies' Repository.

The report of the fraternal messenger of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, assembled at Atlanta, was presented. Dr. Sherman and Bro. Tate addressed the Conference. Adjourned.

BALTIMORE, May 22.—Bishop Merrill presided in the General Conference to-day.

The Book Concern committee presented a report that the Southwestern Christian Advocate be placed under the management of the New York book agents, with an annual allowance of $2,000, to be an official weekly paper. Adopted.

Rev. Dr. Damien, fraternal messenger from the Methodist Episcopal Church South, took his leave. He briefly addressed the house, counseling the most cordial fraternity and Christian bearing between the churches North and South. His affectionate and brotherly reception by this Conference was deeply gratifying, and would be appreciated by his church.

Church Fairs.

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT CONFERENCE RESOLUTION, PASSED MAY 15, 1876.

Whereas, The raising of money to pay church debts by fairs, sometimes improperly called entertainments, seems to ignore the obligation of paying church debts as we pay other debts, and to put them upon the basis that we put public amusements, to which it is no duty to go or to contribute, but a mere matter of taste and pleasure, and to stay away and refrain from contributing is no omission of duty;

And whereas, The methods sometimes resorted to at these fairs to raise money are, in our apprehension, of questionable morality and expediency, partaking much of the character of lotteries and games of chance; as if we had adopted the maxim that "the end sanctifies the means"—that if we mean well and obtain money for good purposes, it does not particularly matter how we get it;

And whereas, Whatever may be the cause, it is not an infrequent thing that these fairs give rise to unpleasant rivalries, collisions and jealousies, that are of unhappy effect upon the peace and brotherly love of the church;

And whereas, As a matter of financial policy fairs, in the judgment of many, are not the wisest expedients to raise money—the same effort to raise money by direct application would realize nearly as much, and, by saving large incidental expenses, net more than fairs;

And whereas, The getting up of fairs sometimes humiliates the pastor by putting him before the community as an object of charity, and subjects our godly women to mortifications in raising supplies and subscriptions, and to exhausting efforts in working out the details; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the New Orleans District Conference, That this District Conference cannot approve the principle involved, and the methods sometimes adopted, to raise money for church expenses by fairs, sometimes improperly called entertainments, and that we advise a discontinuation of the custom.

Dr. Samuel Wesley, the well-known organist and composer, died at Gloucester, April 19, aged sixty-six years. He was the great nephew of the founder of Methodism, the grandson of the poet of Methodism.

"Why should we celebrate Washington's birthday more than mine?" asked a teacher. "Because he never told a lie," shouted a little boy.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1876.

RECEPTION

OF

FRATERNAL MESSENGERS

FROM

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

The great feature of the General Conference session yesterday May 12 was the reception of the fraternal messengers appointed by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

As the hour eleven A. M. fixed for the reception arrived, Bishop Peck, who had presided thus far during the morning session gracefully gave place to Bishop Janes, senior Bishop. Four large baskets of elegant flowers, contributed by a well-known Baltimore Methodist family, were brought forward, and, amid the cheers of the audience, were placed upon the table on the front line of the platform—two on the president's table, one on the table of the secretaries, and one on the table of the reporters of the Daily Christian Advocate. This beautiful floral tribute to the sentiments and purposes of the hour gave great pleasure to the members of the Conference, and to the immense number of visitors present.

It is not necessary that we comment upon the several addresses made. They were fitting, able, eloquent, and the universal expression at the close was that of approval. We print them in full, even to the exclusion, in this number, of much other matter prepared for it.

The absence of the venerable nonagenarian, Dr. Lovick Pierce, was sincerely regretted by all present; but his written words of love and fraternal counsel, presented by his associates of the commission, and distinctly and impressively read by our secretary, were gratefully listened to and most fully reciprocated. But we proceed to report in full the address and papers.

INTRODUCTORY ADDRESS OF DR. FOSS.

C. D. Foss said:

MR. PRESIDENT: To this hour myriads of Methodist Christians, scattered from Plymouth Rock to the Golden Gate, and from the fountains to the delta of the Father of Waters, and others in distant continents and islands, have long been looking forward with eager hope and joy; glad, so far as may be, to put behind, and to cover with the veil of oblivion, every painful recollection of the untoward events which have, alas! too long separated fellow-Christians who rejoice in the same history, doctrines, life and ature, hymns, and experience, and in a substantially identical ecclesiastical polity.

We hail our honored guests this hour not only as brethren beloved in the Lord, but also as bearers to us, and to the church we represent, of the Christian greetings of a sister church with more than 3,000,000 adherents. We hail them just now in the first outburst of the centennial rejoicing of our common country, trusting that the denominational fellowship and heading of which their advent is at once the index and the promoter will be largely helpful to that perfect national healing which shall, in the near future, transform our national union into a complete and perpetual national unity.

The deep joy of the greeting we give to them is indeed chastened by the absence of that venerable man, their co-delegate, the Rev. Dr. Lovick Pierce, whose honorable career has been coeval with almost the entire history of American Methodism. He is detained from our fraternal festival to-day by physical infirmity. But though absent in body, he is present in spirit; and, if we cannot hear his voice, we shall feel the pulsations of his heart through the medium of his pen.

I have, the great pleasure, Mr. President, to present to you for introduction to the Conference one of the two other fraternal delegates from the Methodist Episcopal Church South—a man enthroned among the very foremost of his brethren for his natural endowments, his varied culture, his lofty character and his impressive eloquence, and who has rendered very distinguished service to the church in three great departments of its work, as a pastor, a religious journalist, and a laborer in the cause of the higher education—the Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., president of Randolph Macon College, Virginia.

Dr. Duncan was introduced, the entire Conference rising to receive him.

INTRODUCTORY ADDRESS OF DR. J. P. NEWMAN.

MR. PRESIDENT: Is it too much to say that the chief interest and the highest pleasure connected with the reception of fraternal delegates by this General Conference have been enthusiasm in this hour? We hailed with unfeigned delight our kindred trans beyond the seas. We received with sincerest joy the hearty congratulations from the Canadas. We responded joyfully to the kindly greetings of other Methodist bodies in the United States. Any other representatives, yet to come, will be received with Christian cordiality.

All the delegates of this body, comprising the time-honored Baltimore, and more than 2,000,000 of Methodists, North and South, have awaited with prayerful anticipations the coming of this day, when words of love and peace will be spoken that will be borne on accents of gladness to the savannas of the South, to the snow-capped hills of the North, and to the green prairies of the West.

After the storm of strife and passion through more than three decades, the bow of promised peace spans the heavens of our love. And to-day the angels sing: "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity! It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard; that went down to the skirts of his garments; as the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion; for there the Lord commanded his blessing, even life forevermore."

Sir, there is a manifest propriety in the appearance of a layman on this platform as the co-fraternal delegate. If Dr. Duncan is to speak for 1,000 ministers to our 10,000 pastors, Dr. Garland is to speak for more than 700,000 laymen to our membership of more than 1,500,000. If the former is to represent the sons of Aaron, the latter is to represent the commonwealth of Israel.

This eminent layman comes from classic halls. From earliest manhood he has been identified with schools of learning in Georgia, in Alabama, in Virginia, and is now the chancellor of the Vanderbilt University, whose ample endowments are the munificent gifts of an American citizen.

Himself a Methodist from his youth, loving peace and pursuing it, he is a garland of beauty from the sunny South—the chosen bearer of Heaven's olive branch of fraternity. Sir, it is my distinguished privilege to present to this reverend body through you, its honored senior Bishop, a layman, Mr. L. C. Garland, doctor of laws.

Bishop Janes then presented Dr. Garland, who was most cordially received by the Conference standing.

The credentials of the delegates of the Methodist Episcopal Church South were here read by the secretary:

To the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to assemble in Baltimore, Md., May 1, 1876.

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN: The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at the session in Louisville, Ky., May 23, 1874, adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this General Conference has received with pleasure the fraternal greetings of the Methodist Episcopal Church, conveyed to us by their delegates, and that our College of Bishops be and are hereby authorized to appoint a delegation, consisting of two ministers and one layman, to bear our Christian salutations to their next ensuing General Conference.

Resolved, That in order to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity between the two churches our College of Bishops is authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of three ministers and two laymen, to meet a similar commission authorized by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and to adjust all existing difficulties.

I certify that the foregoing is a true copy from the journal of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

THOS. O. SUMMERS,
Sec. of General Conference.

In accordance with the first of the foregoing resolutions, I hereby certify that the Rev. Lovick Pierce, D. D., and the Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., and Landon C. Garland, LL. D., have been duly appointed by the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

H. N. McTYEIRE,
Sec. College of Bishops.

NASHVILLE, April 27, 1876.

Bishop Janes said:

I hold in my hand the address of Dr. Lovick Pierce. I am sure that every member of this Conference shares with me in great disappointment and regret at his inability to be present at this time. We have all heard of him by the hearing of the ear, and we came here feeling that to see his genial face and shake his hand, and hear his kindly words, would be one of the greatest among the privileges of this General Conference. This disappointment and regret are not felt because the honored messengers who are with us do not fully comprehend the character and importance of their mission and work, but Dr. Pierce has been, in his able, faithful and spiritual ministry, for more than two generations the common inheritance of Methodism, and, when in the days of his strength, he had few equals, and perhaps no superiors in the church, when such men as Longstreet, Winans, Capers, McCluntock, Bangs and Olin were in our pulpits and our counsels. So deep was his interest in this cause, and so heroic his spirit that, though more than ninety years are upon him, he commenced his journey toward this place, but his strength failed, and he was obliged to stop on the way and to give up the performance of this mission. We can understand how great was his disappointment; and I think he is entitled to, and I know he will receive, our profoundest sympathy and our earnest prayers, and the blessing of God may be with him. You will all be glad to hear in another form the message which he would have brought to us if he had been permitted to be present and speak to us. The secretary will now read the address of Dr. Pierce.

PRELIMINARY NOTE OF EXPLANATION CONCERNING DR. PIERCE'S ADDRESS.

The fraternal messengers of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, who are present, beg leave to explain that, although the General Conference very kindly and cordially consented that Dr. Pierce's address should be read, yet the messengers present, on examining it with a view to its being read, find that some of it depends so largely, if not indeed wholly, for its force and interest, upon the personal presence of their venerable colleague, that they have taken the liberty of omitting only that portion of the address which seems entirely appropriate to be read in his absence.

While this will not needlessly trespass upon the valuable time of the Conference, it will, nevertheless, give to Methodists, both North and South, the most interesting part of this address which its venerable author characterizes as his "last will and testament" concerning his "estate in Methodism."

JAMES A. DUNCAN,
L. C. GARLAND,
Fraternal Messengers of M. E. Church South.

BALTIMORE, May 12, 1876.

ADDRESS OF REV. LOVICK PIERCE, D. D.

To the Bishops And Delegates of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in Conference assembled:

BELOVED BRETHREN: It affords me unspeakable pleasure to address you to-day in the presence of what I suppose to be the largest assembly of Methodist ministers and laymen ever present at any General Conference before. And this pleasure is greatly intensified because I am one of the three fraternal delegates sent from the Methodist Episcopal Church South to hear to you the Christian salutation and greetings of more than seven hundred thousand of as loyal Methodists as the sun rises and sets upon.

I beg your indulgence while I mention a few things which crowd in from the memorial past.

I am addressing you to-day, by the blessing of God, with a past history, partaking in a large degree of the wonderful. My official activity is perhaps a rare instance of human longevity. As a regular appointee in this fraternal delegation, I furnish an instance in the history of American Methodism such as I think it likely was never known before in one sent abroad on any diplomatic ministry—a ministry of the ninety-second year of his age and in the seventy-second of his effective ministry.

When this appointment was made it took me greatly by surprise, as our College of Bishops knew me to be, at least physically, unfit for such onerous duties as it involved. But it was because, as I was still a living man, there were special reasons why I should be one of the present fraternal delegation.

I had been sent as a lone fraternal messenger from our first General Conference, after the division in 1846, to arrange for and settle on a basis of intercommunication, so that two General Conferences, instead of one, should be all the difference between us.

To bring about this state of things we were so deeply anxious that we lost no time, but sent a fraternal messenger with plenary powers to establish a fraternity of intercourse between us, that the world might see we had not fallen out and parted, but simply divided, in order that we might carry out our great work with less difficulty and greater success.

But the General Conference of 1848, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, at that time rejected the fraternal messenger, whereupon our fraternal messenger left, after having apprised that body that as things then stood the Methodist Episcopal Church South could never send a fraternal messenger to them; but pledging his church that if ever the Methodist Episcopal Church reconsidered its act, and sent to the Methodist Episcopal Church South a fraternal delegation, he or they, as the case might be, would be received and treated with true Christian courtesy. And he now respectfully appeals to this enlightened body to answer whether the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church has not redeemed the pledge of Christian courtesy to the extent of the opportunity afforded her.

With a sad heart the messenger left; foreseeing, as he feared, years of alienation and a demoralizing disaffection; and, accordingly, it was followed by a wintry night of twenty-one years before any morning star, foretelling the approach of a better day, ever rose above the gloomy horizon that encompassed our beloved Methodism. This star of hope appeared in the voluntary visit of Bishop Simpson and Dr. (now Bishop) Harris to the meeting of our Bishops in St. Louis, May, 1869.

This move was in the right direction, and was followed by another in May, 1870, when Bishop Janes, accompanied by the same warm-hearted brother, visited us at our General Conference in Memphis, Tenn. They came with hearts brimful of loving favor, and made speeches with cordial affection. And then your General Conference in Brooklyn, May, 1872, took up the matter in good earnest, and sent to us a noble delegation of three fraternal messengers at our General Conference in Louisville, May, 1874. This action of your General Conference in Brooklyn we regarded as the official recognition of the Methodist Episcopal Church South as a legitimate organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church into a second General Conference jurisdiction, as provided for in 1844 by the last ecumenical General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Here began our official intercourse on this fraternal relation. These brethren came to us in love. We received them with loving hearts. They did their work nobly and well. That General Conference determined to send to you, at this meeting, a like delegation, and by the blessing of God we are here. How we may do our work will be for you to say. We will never be outdone by you in this good work, in as far as Christian enmity and effort are involved. Neither can we, in this good work, ever come in ahead of you. Your delegates were sent to us without plenary powers in the pending issue. So, likewise, have we come to you. On both sides it seems that we, in our humbler sphere, like John the Baptist, have been sent to prepare the way of the Lord in this important fraternal embrace.

Besides these winning ways there have been other mighty agencies at work, and foremost among them has been your Round Lake fraternal camp meetings. All that go there come back thoroughly imbued with the spirit of immediate fraternization. Insist on it as a pastoral minister's duty will soon satisfy us that we cannot successfully preach holiness unless we ourselves are leaders in the experience of holiness. Whichever wing of this overshadowing church would be the wisest must know that, whenever the Methodist Church ceases to feel that this is her special ministry, she ceases to be God's elect body as a church; and that to avert such awful repudiation she must watch most carefully, preach most earnestly and scripturally, and live most faithfully according to this distinctive doctrine of our beloved church.

That division of this great church that excels in this grand mission will be the chosen bride of Christ as between the Northern and Southern Methodist Churches.

And I am glad to say the buds, blossoms and fruits of holiness show, beyond denial, that the spring-time of a revival of religion is upon us.

And, finally, let us, as two companies of brothers, intrusted with a most precious patrimonial estate to enjoy as trustees, and enlarge and increase as guardians for indefinite posterity, see which of us can so use our portion of this Methodist capital as to make its percentage of income the test of comparative fidelity, industry and devotion to its polity, and its principles of operation as its founders and its fathers turned it over to us. Let us do this as brethren of one heart and one mind, of one great aim and end, and the future will prove that our division into two General Conference jurisdictions was a benediction, instead of a deprivation.

We will watch each other only with godly jealousy for a faithful propagation of one, undivided Methodism. This, in as far as it can be, is my last will and testament, turning over to my successors my estate in Methodism. Finally, brethren, farewell; be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

L. PIERCE, Delegate.

The reading of Dr. Pierce's address was interrupted with frequent and hearty demonstrations of approval. As its conclusion, Dr. Duncan came forward to address the Conference, and was greeted with great and prolonged applause. Heathen spoke as follows:

ADDRESS OF REV. JAMES A. DUNCAN, D. D.

MR PRESIDENT AND BRETHREN: As I stand in your presence to-day, a solemn joy in my heart takes precedence of all other emotions.

The responsibility of my mission and of this hour is solemn, but its hope is an inspiration of joy.

Around me I behold the venerable and distinguished representatives of a great church; beyond them are millions of Methodists in America and Europe, who feel deeply concerned in the issues of this hour; beyond them, in still more distant circles, stand a great cloud of witnesses, composed of all who care for the peace, the unity and the prosperity of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus. And, sir, above us is "the general assembly and church of the first-born, who are written in heaven;" and among them, high-seated in their own radiant places, are our spiritual fathers; and over all, upon that eternal throne before which we all reverently worship, reigns "the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named." In such solemn presence, where all dissensions seem profanities, where all temporal and sectional distinctions disappear, and where "there is neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, neither male nor female, but all are one in Christ Jesus, through whom all have access by one Spirit unto the Father, and are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God," As an humble citizen of that kingdom, and member of that household, in the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and by her authority as a fraternal messenger, with brotherly kindness in my heart, and words of peace upon my lips, I salute you this day as brethren in Christ Jesus, our Lord. (Great applause.)

Mr. President, the church which I have the honor to represent is, as you are aware, next to your own, the largest body of Methodists in the world. By our statistics of 1874—the latest I could obtain, and I may explain that I presumed upon the presence of Dr. Pierce, and that he would sufficiently set forth our latest statistics; and when I found he would not be here, these were the latest I could obtain—we have 712,765 members. Among these are 1,497 Indians and 2,663 colored members. As you are aware, most of our colored members, since the war, have been, by their own preference, formed by us into an independent Methodist Episcopal Church. They have now a flourishing church of 71,799 members, 45 Annual Conferences, 607 traveling preachers and 518 local preachers. They have a self-sustaining church paper, and 219,955 Sunday school scholars. Their College of Bishops, addressing our Bishops in 1874, expressed the highest gratitude for this fraternal organization of a church for their welfare, and the result of the experiment has been most gratifying.

Notwithstanding the loss to our membership occasioned by this measure, we have since then, by God's grace, added to our church 207,661 souls.

In respect to education, we are doing all our means will allow. We have in all, male and female, 61 colleges and universities.

By these facts, sir, it appears that, as we join hands this day with you, more than two million Methodists in our land salute each other in fraternal Faith, Hope and Charity. (Applause.)

If individual members of these churches shall, at any time, indulge in tempers, words and actions inconsistent with this fact, they should bear the responsibility of it. (Voices: "Hear, hear!" and applause.) But it should be distinctly understood that officially, by solemn act of the highest legislative and judicial authority of both churches, a declaration of peace and brotherly kindness has been made.

Mr. President, you will agree with me that a sound, healthful fraternity between Christian churches ought to rest on no uncertain ground, but should give an intelligent and explicit account of itself.

It has been well said: "The angle that wisdom knits not, folly may easily untie." I trust, sir, that wisdom may knit the fraternal bond between our churches, and that which may be the "wisdom that is from above," that is "first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy"—so shall we prove that "the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace."

The grounds on which fraternity may rest safely and firmly, the limits to which it will be naturally subscribed, and the obligations that our churches are under to respect all legitimate conditions, are matters concerning which it becomes us, as Christians, to think soberly, speak calmly, frankly and candidly.

WHAT IS FRATERNITY?

Is it only a quadrennial ceremony—a sort of ecclesiastical court of courtesy—a specious parade of public addresses? Is it a mere form?

Sir, I humbly conceive that Christian fraternity is something more than such a solemn mockery—something deeper, more vital and more sacred. It is a great Christian movement, giving concurrent expression to the brotherly kindness of more than a million hearts. It is a sublime Christian alliance, in which charity becomes supreme over disputations, and realizes its meaning, its power and its consequence.

The essential conditions of fraternity are provided not by accident, not by a combination of fortuitous circumstances, not by an absolute oblivion of all differences of opinion, but by the Spirit of Christ.

Peaceful associations of men unpressingly deranged by conflicting currents of multiform prejudices, heterogeneous tastes, as well as narrow views and honest misapprehensions. But the responsive power of the Christian spirit, which rubs the advancing intelligence of mankind, tends to bring about a higher generalization that diminishes minor specific differences, organizes even moral discrepancies under one great law of love.

How to blend all sects into one combination, and obliterate all former distinctions in church government will perhaps continue to be an unsolved problem until the millennium. Schemes for realizing the engrossing vision have been projected repeatedly, but it still remains a beautiful chimera, a brilliant fabric in the air, which good men occasionally create for their own delectation.

And yet, while weak, mortal, corruptible men may never, perhaps, be able to find a comprehensive formula for a concordant expression of all their religious phases, let us at least hope that the penetrating spirituality of our holy religion is more perfectly diffusing itself through all the branches of the Christian church, vitalizing them with such grace that presently they shall together sweetly bloom in the same beautiful lines of divine life, and become richly fruitful in that heavenly vine to which they all belong.

The true and inviolable terms of fraternal grace, which ought to be glorified in the Christian name, and concentrate the united energies of the sacramental host for the highest conquests, are not the "conventions" of diplomatic ingenuity, but old and very simple principles. The love, respect, courtesy, confidence and good will which the Holy Scriptures require all God's people to illustrate in their intercourse with each other, furnish the simple and solid basis for fraternal relations.

Especially I would say that healthful fraternity requires Christian candor.

Distrust, suspicion, doubt, all of open, honest, candid behavior will always coldly relegate men to independent and hostile attitudes. A heathen poet said:

Wish were the kings who govern each area
Till with us Reps they had commanded
And keep the bottom of his respect [illegible]

The poet was right in his philosophy; it wrong in his expedient.

But Christians need no wishes to unmask their souls. As one well said: that candor, which is a Christian virtue, consists not in openness of speech, but in fairness of heart.

It is charity that thinketh no evil. It is more than the blandishments of formal courtesy—more than smooth and smooth words; and it is more than the worldly prudence which, while it avoids offensive epithets, cherishes secret ill will.

It rises above infirmities, [illegible] weaknesses, expects human imperfections; is quiet, and moderate in temper, honest and manly in words and deeds.

How often would such candor dissipate, in a moment, the ill will whose false foundation it would instantly expose! Alas! that human pride should so frequently be so stubborn for such generous behavior. It is so humiliating to confess faults, acknowledge and explain errors, retrace steps hastily but falsely taken. And then, sir, there seems to be in many people an instinctive papal longing after the prerogative for infallibility.

But we have to learn to respect the rights of private judgment. We must remember that we must credit intelligent people with rationality, and good people with sincerity. And we must also remember that there are honest and honorable differences of opinion which divide men into classes which compromise and would dethrone reason and principle.

These centrifugal forces in the highest and purest regions of human thought should be candidly recognized; and Christian charity, which is the bond of perfectness, should supply the centripetal attraction ch all these seemingly repellant al elements may move peacefully orld. circles around a common er of eternal truth. (Applause.)

so is it true that charity is a pron not for unity, but for diversity.
ow, "seeing," says the apostle, have purified your souls in ying the truth through the Spirit,
n unfeigned love of the brethren, that ye love one another with a heart fervently."
his candor cannot be too earnestly sted upon. The world's code of orable intercourse may counte-ce enmity concealed under comments. But we have not so learn-Christ. On this point the apostle pecially bold and plain-spoken.
eries: "Let love be without dismulation. Lie not one to another, ng that ye have put off the old with his deeds, and have put on new man, which is renewed in wledge, after the image of him created him; where there is ther Greek nor Jew, Barbarian, thian, bond or free; but Christ is and in all. Put on, therefore, as elect of God, holy and beloved, els of mercies, kindness, humble-
s of mind, meekness, long-sufferforbearing one another and for-ng one another, if any man have uarrel against any, even as Christ ave you, so also do ye. And ve all these things put on charity, ch is the bond of perfectness, and the peace of God rule in your rts, to the which also ye are call-in one body, and be ye thankful."
his, sir, is the Scripture ground fraternity, and on this holy olle foundation it may be firmly blished. But some may say they not so much concerned about the ory of fraternity as they are about practice. If they rain, they will its practical benefits, and leave hers, who may enjoy such af-ctions, the discussion of its prines. Sir, such a position, on a e church question like this, is personal or safe. The practical of fraternal relations will ondepend upon the character of principles and the respect which command. Let us, then, clearly erstand the exact ground we oc-
, so that we may not be easily ed from it.

ere allow me to specify a few ts: 1. I will say we do not lish fraternity between those urches for any genius of llyrod. I am frank to say this, se it has been intimated that Methodists are seeking a closer in this country, merely to give greater political influence. We not lower the dignity of the rch of God to the government of lar motives. Secular blessings always, of course, attend the ress of Christian truth, and secu-peace be promoted by the ex-sive diffusion of the charitable iments of religion. But impor-as we regard the peace of civil ety and the secular welfare of es to be, we must look higher n to these temporal and political siderations for our principles of on.

here, herein and around all the political interests of a State, preservation and strength, we the obligations of Christian
ter. The laws of duty for ions is, first of all, God's law, scend above the plane of earthly sions, to receive our theology divine hands. Our Master, a efore come from God, is the King nust first honor. He said: "My gdom is not of this world. If my gdom were of this world, then ld my servants fight." To the ews who tempted him respect-his return to earthly governnts he said: "Render to Cæsar things that are Cæsar's, and to the things that are God's." To men he cries: "Seek first the gdom of God!" And "the king-of God is righteousness, peace joy in the Holy Ghost." Apse. Now, because we belong to kingdom, and are bound by g principles, we are bound to tain, as far as we can, a right- ous, peaceful and joyful brotherhood the Holy Ghost.

am careful to state this point dis-ly, because these two churches e been for thirty years past reded as respectively representing different political sections of this ntry. But the wall of separation ween these two sections has been en down forever. Tremendous ues! Now the point I wish ecularly to make is this: that le the political representatives of South can and do truthfully as-the world that a true, brave and devotion to the Union of these es animates the whole Southern ple (applause), we, as ministers of ist, take still higher ground, and you our hands, not in the name ose political interests, but in the e of Christ. (Applause.) Not we love secular peace less, but we love God's peace more; not we lack loyalty to the government under which we live, but that highest and holiest loyalty is to s Christ and him crucified! (Apse.)

We do not establish fraternity ely as a judicious measure for ing unhappy controversies. But hope it will end them. (Voices: men." We do not underrate sweet fruits of it. They are atctive and palatable. But what we especially concerned to secure is an understanding as will be perently productive of these fruits.
tree that bears them must be a l tree, or the good fruit will soon
A tree not rooted in love—a en fraternity, bearing nothing leaves—a quadrennial General ference pretension—would merit the Master's blessing, but his se.

et our fraternity rather be a tree nted by the rivers of water, that geth forth its fruit in its season, se leaf also shall not wither, from whose living branches our dren's children shall gather good till the end of time. (Applause.)
l then, sir, let me add, if in this of paradise restored, that "old pent" should enter and entwine his s among those mystic branches, would pluck him hence and h him beneath our feet. (Great lause.)

r. President, I am sure that you will join with me yourself, for I have been an editor, and even the editorial staff will join with me, I have no doubt, when I say: Heaven send us rest from these miserable, unhappy controversies! (Voices: "Amen!") Heaven send us rest from that pen-and-ink warfare which has so long fatigued Christian patience, and blotted the fair pages of the extensive family of Christian Advocates! I am aware, Mr. President, that some persons will not cease from that kind of warfare in which they have so much pleasure, and which we technically term logomachy. But, sir, harmony with such people is simply impossible; the only harmony they ever know is of some unhappy tune that they alone can sing. (Laughter.)

Perhaps they were converted once—a good while ago. (Laughter.) But if then, in their first love, they were ready to pluck out their own eyes for their brethren, now they seem only anxious to pluck out their brethren's eyes for themselves. (Laughter.)

Some people have a great talent for making mischief. An eminent Frenchman once said: "Nothing is more dangerous than a friend without discretion; even a prudent enemy is preferable." If we cannot manage such people, then we must not mind them. The quickest method of reducing them to decent silence is not to listen to what they say. Our proposal is: Let us appoint wise men to adjust all questions of real conflict between these two churches; let us pray the God of wisdom and peace to direct them to right conclusions, and then bury forever the weapons of war, and move on to better, brighter conquests of peace! (Applause.)

We also not establish fraternity merely as a policy measure.

We should always be mindful that the Christian standard of action is higher than policy. Less noble considerations should not be allowed to subordinate or supersede true ideas and imperative principles. In these days, when we have to lament the prevalence of low motives and loose morals, I think the church ought to be specially careful in all her actions, to give pre-eminent distinction to the purest and loftiest sentiments.

It is true that Christianity has questions of expediency as well as questions of law, and yet all its expedients must be sanctioned by sound principles. More policy, as ought is wholly an earthly thing. It lives and dies on the earth. "Not only is his kingdom is of this world, but this world is its kingdom." But in Christian economy let it be always manifest that the church of Christ has no policy that is not first piety.

We do not establish fraternity as a measure of sectarian ambition as Methodists.

No church in America, perhaps, has greater temptation to sectarian pride and ambition than that which comes to Methodism in the name of its rapid and marvelous growth. Success has its own perils. Prosperity sets its own peculiar snares. Triumphs often contain elements of subsequent defeat. How to succeed wisely is a profound philosophy; we need to study diligently and continually.

History tells us how churches, as well as individuals and nations, become sad victims of their own prosperity.

When once wealth, numbers and power become objects of church pride, and sectarianism fights chiefly for its own aggrandizement, bigotry banishes charity, partisan zeal prefers church to Christianity, the standard of piety degenerates into loyalty to a creed, and a scarlet-robed ecclesiasticism, enthroned in pomp, pride and power, worships its own image, and disgraces the name it bears. (Applause.

Not, then, for sectarian purposes do we seek a more cordial alliance between these two great divisions of American Methodism, but because we believe that brotherly kindness is right in itself, and because to be devoid of it Methodists, among ourselves, would add inconsistency and unrighteousness to an obvious fault.

And yet, sir, we are not without Methodist feeling in this movement. We are not indifferent to Methodist history, not unappreciative of the present power and glory of our church, and not unconcerned for its future achievements.

That banner which, at the head of a little company of believers, John Wesley in sublime faith uplifted in the name of the Lord, has become venerable with historical associations and resplendent with world-renowned conquests.

It is now the honored standard of a vast army of Methodists, numbering millions, containing representations of every nation and people and tongue under heaven.

What Methodism has already accomplished in these States is now known and read of all men. What it shall accomplish in future depends upon our fidelity to the spirituality that gave it birth, the courageous zeal that conquered for it a high place of honor among the churches, and a proper comprehension of those conditions which will most wisely fit it for prolonging its own peculiar mission among men. And, Sir, I say it with emphasis: in my humble judgment, not the least among the forces now shaping the future of American Methodism is the issue of the fraternal movement in which we are concerned at this hour.

Brethren, what an opportunity is ours! Well for us if we can discern the signs of the times to know the things which make for our peace!

Our glorious land that blooms between the seas is a magnificent field for Methodist work. I pray God we may have wisdom to cultivate it in the spirit of peace and Christian fellowship. (Applause.) Shall we show ourselves worthy of such an inheritance?

From the northern border of it, where God's perpetual bow of peace glorifies Niagara's cliffs, to the sea-girt southern line where God's gifts make earth almost an Eden of fragrance and beauty; and from the rock-bound Atlantic, where the Eastern song of the sea begins its morning music, away to the far-off Pacific, where the Western waters murmur their evening benediction to our land as the tide goes out beneath the setting sun—everywhere we feel the inspirations of our country, and devoutly pray: "God bless our native land!" (Great applause.) God give it 'the glory of Lebanon, and the excellency of Carmel and Sharon;' and may all the inhabitants thereof see the glory of the Lord and the excellency of our God!"

Ah! brethren, in our fraternal fellowship I pray God we may uplift the banner of Methodism to a still higher summit of honor in this land, and make it everywhere the welcome signal of a zeal for Jesus worthy of our heroic ancestry, and worthy of that posterity who shall receive it as something sacred from our hands if we shall transmit it to them uncorrupted in principle and in doctrines, pure in faith, humble in spirit, powerful in method, and having for its highest distinction God's abiding seals to its gospel preaching.

And now, sir, again I ask: What is Christian fraternity? and on what grounds do we establish it? I answer explicitly:

Christian fraternity is the reciprocal recognition of Christ in each other. Fraternal relations are the relations we sustain to each other through Christ.

Where no such relations to Christ exist there can be no fraternity. Where such relations do exist we are bound to recognize them; and when we recognize them we are under solemn Christian obligations to maintain them and provide for them.

It is not a matter of discretion whether Christians shall live in proper fraternal relations to each other. If these two churches fail to establish and maintain this relation, the sin of it must lie at the door of one of these churches.

There is but one principle of communion in Christianity. St. John has stated it clearly and beautifully: "Our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. If we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." This is the spirit and doctrine of true Christian communion.

The manner in which this spirit should manifest itself is also explicitly taught in the Scripture: "With all lowliness and meekness, forbearing one another in love, endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

The head of this communion of saints is Christ, "from whom the whole body, fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love."

Said the divine Master: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another." As he said this to his disciples, perhaps naturally they turned their eyes to look upon each other; but, if so, he quickly recalled their attention to gaze on him. For he well knew that if their love for each other should depend on what of excellency they could discover in each other if it had to be attracted and maintained by the grace that was in them—then reciprocal affection would lack the depth and strength he wished to give it. Accordingly, he instantly supplies the moral element of power in such fraternal love would need by adding: "Love each other as I have loved you!" Applause.) Could a commandment be more touchingly and powerfully sanctioned? "As I have loved you!" With these words he emphasizes his command with the whole of his sublime life and sacrificial death! He pours into it his tears, his sorrows, his agony, his blood—the whole matchless eloquence of his own redeeming love!

Oh by what divine influence would our Master cement Christian hearts indissolubly together? Let us answer him: The love of Christ constraineth us! This sentiment, which the fathers of Methodism, in all their heroic zeal, illustrated in the noblest manner—the sentiment that inspiration inscribed in pentecostal fire upon the hearts of the apostles, the sentiment sacred in all the history of the church. To-day let us, in true Christian fellowship, write upon our banner and proclaim as our sentiment: The love of Christ constraineth us!

With this inspiration in our hearts, and with this cry upon our lips, we tear down all hostile barriers. We trample under foot every obstacle to brotherly kindness. We consign bitterness and strife to oblivion. We crush the serpent of discord with our heel, and unite anew all the vast army of American Methodists in the celestial shout: "Glory to God in the highest! on earth peace, good will to men!" (Applause.)

The Master has ordained that this brotherly love shall be the great power of Christian testimony:

"By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples: if ye have love one to another."

Our Christian power is wholly dependent upon our relation to Christ. It is not us that men feel, but Christ in us.

To show that we are Christ's is to acquire a title to human respect and an influence with the human conscience. And to love each other as brethren is to illustrate a spirit so unworldly and unselfish that all men take cognizance of us that we have been with Jesus.

This love has always been the most powerful, because the most practical and obvious testimony which Christianity has given the world of its real, abiding, living connection with the divine Jesus. It is recognized at once as the spirit and power of Jesus in his disciples.

It was this love that astonished mankind in the early ages of the Christian church, and confounded the foes of Christianity by a new weapon which they knew not how to resist.

Political and military resources were unable to cope with it. Kings were as impotent to crush it as Pharaoh was to arrest the power of God in Moses. Thrones fell before it. Swords and spear-points melted at its touch of divine fire. It was so far above the level of ordinary conception that history tells us the pagans attributed it "to some secret spell or charm that had the power of inspiring violent and irresistible attachment." "Their teachers," exclaimed the heathen, "have acquired the wonderful art of persuading these Christians that they are all brethren." Alas! that this wonderful art should have been lost by Christian teachers. This sacrificial love, the most beautiful of all Christian graces, born in the bosom of the Father's glory, God's unchangeable gift to man, the music of the beatitudes, the sublimity of the cross, the power of forgiveness, the invincible Spirit of the gospel—this holy love is the very life-fire of Christianity. Woe to the man who would quench it! He is worse than a hypocrite—he is a murderer. For it is written: "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer; and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him."

No matter whether priestly vestments adorn his hypocrisy, or ministerial ordination gives a deceitful sanctity to his name—"whosoever he be," whether bishop, elder, deacon or layman—he is an apostate, a traitor to his cause and his Master, and by the authority of almighty God he is pronounced a murderer!

Mr. President, perhaps I have already said enough for your patience; but indulge me for a moment longer and I will be silent.

In this age of natural science, abounding in highways of intercommunication, and facilities for rapid interchange of thought, when words are electric sparks, and a speaker's audience is the civilized world, it seems to be we are living in the Lord's great day of preparation.

Men who mean only to serve themselves, or to serve science, or to serve some industrial interest, have unwittingly served the kingdom of Christ. "Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain, and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

The currents and counter-currents of human civilization are rapidly mingling into one mighty river, deepening and broadening as it rolls its accumulating contributions of immortality tributaries; under the direction of redeeming grace, to that peaceful millennial sea whose waves of light are shining in the prophetic visions of the Bible.

In such an age shall Christian churches not comprehend the great day of God's opportunity? Shall they be discordant with each other? God forbid! Nay, rather let them bring their several divisions closer together and move forward as the Lord's host, with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads.

If fraternity is anything, it is at least an end of strife—it is peace; it is a delightful silence after a long battle; it is the calm after the noise of the waters; and the summit of the elements when the Master has said: "Peace, be still!" It is an end of the calamitous spectacle of Christian antagonisms which only last men applaud. It is exchanging discord for harmony, and broken and jarring strings for harps sweetly tuned and full of sacred music. Ah! brethren, in that eternity to which we are all rapidly advancing, when earthly enmities and all the fiery passions that consume human peace shall have sunk into ashes, and petty strifes of time shall seem but miserable follies of which we are ashamed, how many men will then wish their bitter words had been unsaid!

We shall know better there. Contention will be never. When all the triumphant legions of God's mighty host shall celebrate redemption's eternal peace; when all sectarian distinction shall be forever obliterated, and all discordant tongues shall be translated into the sweet language of Heaven; when we see no longer through a glass darkly, but face to face—no longer shall I am of Paul, or I am of Cephas, I am of the North or I am of the South, but only I am of Christ; and in that clearer knowledge of sublime worship

> "We'll join the everlasting song
> And crown him Lord of all."

Applause.

If any reward shall be brighter, or any joy deeper than another, I think it will belong to those poor and outcast ones whom Methodist preachers have toiled to bring to Jesus. When England's colliers, New England's sons of toil, and the red men of the West, and the Africans of the South shall join that mighty song, every division of Methodism will represent its noblest earthly work in that song of praise. Applause.

If divine grace would touch my lips with hallowed fire to speak but a single word to all the hosts of American Methodism, I have asked myself the question, Could I desire that word to be something new, strange and more heavenly than any inspired utterance ever heard before? Through the ages God has sent angels, prophets and apostles to bear his messages to men, and has even spoken also by the mouth of his Son; but no angel, nor prophet, nor apostle, no, not even Jesus Christ himself, could teach me to utter any word whose height and depth and sweetness of meaning can surpass that word I proclaim as the gospel of fraternity: CHRISTIAN CHARITY!

Other words there are that are full of meaning, full of music, full of power; but in this word is condensed the divinest life ever lived upon earth; and when this word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld its glory, it was the glory of the only begotten of the Father—full of grace and truth! Other gifts of God to men are munificent, but this gift is unspeakable! Other virtues are illustrious in the armor of light. Faith is its shield; Hope is its helmet. Why is Charity not named among them? Because the celestial material of which the whole armor is made is charity, and because charity is not for now only, but also for peace; not for time only, but also for eternity; and when the Christian armor shall have served its purpose of warfare upon earth, and be refined into raiment fit for the palace and presence of the King in his beauty, its transfigured glory shall exceed all material splendor, and "it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but when he shall appear, we shall be like him," and our eternal completeness in Christ shall be this: that we are made "perfect in love!"

The speaker took his seat amid great and prolonged applause.

The chair then said: "We will now have the pleasure of receiving the address of Dr. Garland."

Mr. Garland, as he came forward, was received with hearty applause, and proceeded to address the Conference as follows:

ADDRESS OF L. C. GARLAND, LL. D.

Mr. President and Beloved Fathers and Brethren of the Conference: I am very deeply sensible of the honor placed upon me by the Church South in associating me among its fraternal delegation to this Conference, but I am painfully conscious of inability on my part to reflect back upon them any portion of the honor which they have put upon me. My lips have never been the seat of eloquence; my speech is cumbersome and lame, and I would be discouraged in addressing myself to my task if it were not for that kind and cordial reception which I have received at your hands since my presence at the seat of the Conference. For this kind reception you have my gratitude, and for it I give you the thanks of the entire Southern Church. (Applause.) And this courtesy on your part encourages me to hope that in the few remarks I propose to make upon this occasion, if I speak any word which you would prefer not to have spoken, you will think kindly of one who feels, as he stands here, that he must discharge his duty as unto God, and not as unto man.

Following, as I do, the clerical brethren associated with me in bearing to you fraternal greetings from the Methodist Episcopal Church South, there is no occasion for any saying much; and indeed so exhaustive have been their remarks that there is but little left me to say. But coming, as I do, from the laity of the church, I may be supposed to sympathize with them in some respects, more closely than it is possible for the clergy to do. It may, therefore, not be uninteresting to you to receive from me a statement of the sentiments and feelings that prevail generally in the South in regard to the subject of our mission. The regret that an occasion should ever have arisen for the division of the Methodist Church was, at the time, and still is, profound and universal. Applause.

This regret, however, did not extend beyond the occasion; because the occasion, as it presented itself to our apprehension, was of such a nature as to render division not only necessary, but desirable. In the Conference of 1844 the Northern and Southern delegates found themselves surrounded by a complication of difficulties out of which they saw no way of escape but by separation. They came to this conclusion reluctantly, and were forced by necessity into the positions which they respectively assumed. Neither party could have receded from its position without infidelity to the section it represented. Methodism would have been seriously damaged, if not fatally destroyed, in the one section or the other, had any other policy been adopted.

It is impossible for any unprejudiced and candid mind to study the proceedings of that Conference without a conviction that what was done by either party was done with a view to preserve the church and to promote its best interests. Those holy men who figured in those transactions maintained consciences void of offense to both God and man; and when they parted from each other in mutual respect and with regretful tears they carried with them the hope that, out of seeming evil great good might ultimately come. And that the course they pursued did advance the interests of the church in both sections cannot be doubted. Each portion threw off its clogs and impediments to progress; each brought itself more fully into sympathy with the popular mind; and the aggregate membership of the two churches is to-day larger than it would have been if division had not taken place. The Northern people failed around you, in consequence of the division, as they had never done before, and so the Southern people did around us. By this increase of local sympathy you have been greatly enlarged, and so have we.

In this view of the matter I assure you that the enlightened portion of the Church South have always been disposed to think kindly of their brethren at the North, so far as the division itself is concerned. They never saw in the division a ground for hostile feeling. They never dreamed that an unpleasant antagonism would spring up between the two sections in consequence of it. On the contrary, as division had removed all the elements of strife and discord either party to homogeneity, they expected that the two sections of the church would move on, each in the accomplishment of its own mission, in its own way, not only without jostling and jarring with each other, but even with a warmer Christian sympathy than had previously existed between them for several years.

If, therefore, an estrangement has taken place, it must have arisen out of events that transpired subsequently to the division.

That difficulties in the way of a cordial fraternity have existed, and still do exist, cannot be denied. The circumstances that surround us to-day are but too conclusive an evidence of the fact.

Of these difficulties themselves, and of the modes in which they may be removed, it does not become me to speak. But this I can say: We of the South are anxious that they should be removed; of which disposition we have given satisfactory proof by the appointment of a commission, to meet a similar one on your part, if it shall be your pleasure to organize it, invested with the full powers to inquire into the grounds of all complaints, the nature of all grievances, real or imaginary, and to ascertain the terms on which there may be a full restoration of a real and heartfelt fraternity. (Applause.)

And I will say, further, that it will bring a reproach upon both you and us, as Christians, as Methodists and as patriots, if a satisfactory solution of all difficulties shall not be reached. Applause.

To us as Christians, because we will show ourselves destitute of the spirit of Christianity. This spirit is one of meekness, forbearance, forgiveness, peace and love. Where this spirit exists estrangement cannot be prolonged; and when it is wanting in those professing it, irreparable injury is inflicted upon the cause of Christ. If inconsistency of conduct in an individual professing Christianity is a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense to all about him, how much more so is it in Christian bodies, which are supposed to be less under the influence of the evil tempers and passions which lead individuals astray, and more under the control of the principles of wisdom and justice and truth.

To us as Methodists, because it will be a repudiation of the ties that should bind us together. We are substantially one in doctrine, in polity and usages. We have a common origin; and down to the General Conference of 1811, the last held by the united churches, we had a common history, and a common inheritance in the great mines that have adorned the church.

And what would our illustrious founder, whose last letter to Mr. Asbury contained a charge to maintain the unity of Methodism throughout the world (applause), think of us, were he alive, if we do not compose our strifes, and dwell peacefully together in the bonds of Christian sympathy and love?

And as patriots, how vast is the responsibility resting upon us to restore, as far as power lies in us, a kind political feeling between the two sections of the country, so lately arrayed against each other in the struggles of an internecine war! It is useless to preach unless we practice. And what influence can we exert in that direction if we fail to restore friendly relations between ourselves? If the two churches could bring about the utterly cordial, it would accomplish more toward the restoration of good feeling between the two sections, North and South, than a score of Centennial Expositions.

Politics appear to me to be a centrifugal force, tending continually to engender sectional strife, and to the rending asunder the bonds of civil society; and where shall we find a force to antagonize it—a centripetal force, to draw together and cement in one the dismantled parts, if not in the grand unity of a common Christian faith? Applause.

We do therefore sincerely desire the restoration of good feeling between the two churches, upon a basis derogatory to the honor of neither. Applause. If I know my own people, they do and expect, much less do they demand, of you any sacrifice of right, of duty or of honor. "Hear, hear!" and applause.) In adjusting the difficulties between us; and we will not believe that you will demand any such sacrifice of us. Applause.

In this matter may we both be guided by that wisdom which is from above; and not only in this, but matters that may come before you as a Conference, may your deliberations be overruled for the good of the church and the glory of its divine Head. Applause.

D. A. Wheeler presented the following resolution, which was read by the secretary and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we welcome among us the distinguished representatives of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., and L. C. Garland, LL. D., greatly regretting, at the same time, that their associate, the venerable Lovick Pierce, D. D., could not be present, who, for his eminent character and services, it would have specially delighted us to receive; and we heartily recognize their coming as the harbinger of a more intimate union between the two chief branches of Methodism. We have listened with great satisfaction to their words of love in response to the fraternal greetings extended to them by our General Conference at its last session, and we will give early and most considerate attention to their communications.

John W. Ray suggested that the Conference unite in singing one verse of the hymn:

> "Blest be the tie that binds
> Our hearts in Christian love."

The Conference arose and complied with the suggestion most heartily.

C. B. Fisk moved that a committee of seven be appointed, to whom shall be referred the question of the appointment of a commission corresponding to the commission provided for by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The motion prevailed. Daily Christian Advocate.

Mr. A. V. Stout, president of the Shoe and Leather National Bank, New York city, has generously come to the rescue of the embarrassed Drew Seminary, of Madison, N. J., and endowed its president's chair with $40,000. He gives a like sum to endow the chair of President Foss, of Wesleyan University, Conn. He accompanies his gift with the statement that he owes all that he is to the Methodist Church, and is glad to thus recognize his debt of gratitude.

Frogs were the original greenbacks, and since they first drew breath they have been inflationists.

Some prayers have a longer voyage than others, but they come with a richer lading at last.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. Harp, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. Linus Parker 112 Camp street New Orleans

Agents—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with Eight Dollars.

Knowing that Which Passeth Knowledge.

Among the blessings which Paul prayed for in that truly wonderful prayer for the Ephesians was this: "And to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God." The love of Christ is something beyond comprehension when we reflect that it is the love of a divine as well as of a human nature. It partakes of the infinite, and consequently goes beyond all that men or angels can know or experience. Christ's love to us is such as only a divine nature can feel and exhibit. The object of this love—that it is for sinners—lifts it above our ordinary conceptions of benevolence. Love was before redemption, and all the provisions of mercy flow from it, as the stream gushes from the fountain. The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which is lost, and "while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." It was compassion for a world of sinners, for the vilest and worst. It is love for his enemies, for those who revile, reject and crucify him.

The manifestation of the Savior's love transcends all our thought. Though he was rich, yet for our sakes he became poor. He took on him the form of a servant, and was found in fashion as a man. Let us dwell upon the moral suffering, the mental agony, as these occasionally come to the surface in the temptation, in Gethsemane, and on the cross. Travail of soul is the most prominent feature of our Lord's sufferings. None but God can know what that travail was. The shame, pain and humiliation of the cross were conjoined with this burden of sorrow that broke the heart of Christ when he poured out his soul unto death.

The love of Christ has a continuous and present manifestation in his glorified state in heaven. There he still pursues his work of mercy. The barren tree is spared for his sake, the Spirit continues his strivings because of his intercessions, and through his ministrations as their Priest and King weak and infirm believers receive the timely grace and the needed strength. Love in the glorified Christ, when we consider the wickedness of sinners and the culpable negligence of believers, is not less striking than that which he exhibited in his earthly sufferings. And when we reflect that the end of Christ's love is to save, to deliver us from degradation and misery, and to invest us with immortal dignity and glory, we can, at least partially, comprehend the declaration that this love passeth knowledge. It is love superhuman, more than angelic, above anything that falls within the range of our observation. It is a love that stands alone in the universe, so much higher in its expression, and so much deeper in its tenderness, that all other love is cold and heartless in comparison.

And yet it is this that passeth knowledge that we are to know. In science and in all knowledge there is something analogous. The astronomer with his most powerful reflector, and with all his mathematical aids, barely touches the frontiers of the heavens. What he knows is all of that which stretches indefinitely beyond his explorations. Scientists have ever been moving, as they hope, toward the solution of what is simple matter, and what is the nature and cause of life. Their knowledge is of that which passeth knowledge. The mountain top is above the clouds, and there is no path to its summit, while we stand at its base and explore the foundations of the towering pile. We bathe in the wavelets that come rippling and singing to the shore, while the ocean is unmeasured. We know that which passeth knowledge. The love of Christ is known by experience. Through faith it is grasped in part; it is realized in the purified heart, it is felt in the regenerating power of the Holy Spirit.

It is something progressive. The advance in the christian life is in this direction. It is the love of Christ ever unfolding, ever growing upon the soul. As this love becomes more absorbing, we rise higher in the life of faith. It is the gauge and mark by which our spiritual growth is measured. To know Christ's love is the maturity of christian attainment. It is holiness in its truest condition—that state in which fear is cast out, in which we walk in the light and have perfect fellowship, and wherein we confidently testify that "the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin." A definite blessing for believing souls it was, and yet one that embraced that which in itself eternity alone can measure. It is the first and the last, it is the germ and the stalk, the bud and the bloom, the flower and the fruit. It is a horizon of light that arches over us, and yet lifts and expands as we proceed. It is the goal that we have reached, and that toward which we are ever pressing. A blessing for the tyro in grace, and for him whose clusters are ready for the vintage. All the sublime and wonderful things that an apostle's faith could enumerate are compressed into the single petition: "To know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge."

But there is an end beyond the knowing: "that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God." The knowledge of Christ's love is the condition of this fullness. The infinite comes into the finite through this channel. The fullness of God comes into the soul through the knowledge of Christ's love. It is the fullness of the Spirit, the abounding graces in all their perfection and symmetry, and a divine communion which knows no withdrawal of comfort. It is the knowledge of Christ's love that gives us all in all. Every grace gathers around it, every gem brightens in its rays. He who knows the love of Christ is filled with God. He has perfect peace and supreme blessedness.

Letters to a Young Preacher.

My Dear Nephew: In this my last letter on these special topics, I wish to warn you against the habit of complaining at your appointments. Considering the large number of our preachers, their various social, domestic and financial interests, and how these interests are affected by the changes annually made, there is really a very small amount of complaining so small, indeed, as to be the source of the unfeigned admiration of all outsiders, and of constant rejoicing among ourselves. Now and then, however, you will meet a genuine grumbler.

Usually he receives his appointment in a sulky mood, and rarely speaks much about it on the way from Conference. Occasionally, though, he breaks over, and cries and boohoos like a twelve-year-old boy with the toothache. Then nothing can please him. All the year, as opportunity offers, he is going on about the Bishops' partialities and the presiding elders' prejudices, and telling how old men of ability are overlooked and neglected, and "starved to death on the outside rows," and young men of zeal and talents are kept hid out in obscure places. His favorite theme is that the Conference is governed by a clique, which always manœuvers so as to have themselves put on the most important boards and committees, and sent to the most prominent and best-paying stations. His memory, very tenacious of some facts or parts of facts, and very forgetful of others, travels through the long-forgotten doings of bygone years, and, with much appearance of correctness, shows how and why some things came about, and others did not. "Sending for persons and papers," he gives you strange and startling views of motives and character, and presents the history of the past few years in an aspect never dreamed of before by yourself or anybody else. And if you will hear him all through you cannot help feeling that you are in the presence of one who honestly believes himself to be the victim of an intended conspiracy against his success, and to be now enduring the agonies of a martyrdom as real as any believer ever suffered. He generally winds up his diatribe with the emphatic declaration that though he is in heart a true Methodist, yet human nature can't stand everything.

Now you must not suppose that all grumbling goes to this extent, and settles down into this permanent state of chronic biliousness. When it does, I think it comes sometimes in part from a poor skin or bad liver; but I am fully persuaded it generally grows out of that old rootsin of the clergy, which makes one "think of himself more highly than he ought to think." It is consequently to be guarded against, not as a physical but as a moral evil—and one very destructive in its nature. Its indulgence will hatch a brood of evils—suspiciousness, evil speaking, bad tempers—any one of which will sooner or later ruin you. But the principal reason why it should be allowed no place at all is this: It will break your religious and ministerial integrity. By your integrity I mean a settled and sustained purpose to fulfill the distinct terms of the original covenant you made with the Lord Jesus when you accepted from him a commission to preach the gospel, and the distinct terms of the promise you made at the altars of the church when you were admitted into the fellowship of the Conference. You remember when you consented to preach, like Moses at Horeb, you were talking with God, in a lonely spot, "at the back side of the desert"—on "holy ground." Oh! what an awful struggle! What a sacred hour! You there and then gave up the world, with its flocks and herds, lands and houses. All your old dreams of wealth and fame vanished in the air, and you accepted privation, peril, toil and dying as the conditions of your future earthly life, looking for your reward not here, but hereafter. Yes, when you accepted the commission you gave all, even life itself, up to your Master; for the great Captain would not have enrolled you or any other man on any other condition. You ought frequently to recall the feelings and motives and purposes of that hour, and keep them distinctly in your mind; for it is that covenant which binds you, and the stipulations your soul then made and accepted can never be changed. Your church vows were not intended to substitute or modify them. Your church agreement is only subsidiary to this original contract with Christ, the church proposing only to furnish you with opportunities and occasions of executing the original covenant, and of doing so to the best advantage. So many things come in to obscure the specific conditions upon which we consented to preach that it is one of the most difficult of all things to keep a clear and vivid consciousness of them, and we ought to be devoutly thankful to Providence for any occurrence that will bring them up fresh, and keep them clearly before the soul.

Now I wish to say that our church is pre-eminently calculated to do this very thing; and in this respect there is no other that approaches her. The one fact of the superior preaching power of Methodist pulpits is enough to prove this, for it shows that the church is articulated about the great idea of preaching, and that its practical operations are in perfect harmony with this idea.

Now let me ask: Suppose the church sends you to Hardscrabble circuit, where the work is very heavy and the pay very small—has it violated its contract with you? Or has it forced you to violate your contract with Christ? Suppose it sends you into regions of pestilence, where your life is exposed—does it thereby transcend its authority? Did you not promise to go anywhere? And did you not agree to face death when you were at Horeb with God? Have you any right to complain either against Christ or his church so long as your work is within the limits of the contract? I submit it to your common sense and honesty to answer these questions, and feel sure that you can give only one answer. You never knew a soldier who shrank from the work or danger of any post assigned him to use to the highest knowledge of the art of war, or adorn his name with any glorious achievement. Nor have you ever known a soldier of the cross who shrank from any work of hardship and peril to rise to the full measure of a man in Christ. Great generals and great preachers all are men who have suffered hunger and endured hardship, and done hard work, and stood in the very jaws of death and never grumbled. Instead of whining and complaining and skulking, they have gone on in duty's path, maintained their integrity by keeping their vows, and the country and the church honors them, living and dead.

Now, my dear nephew, having gone over some of the temptations to which you are most exposed, and warned you against them as faithfully as time and space would permit, I will close with this one bit of advice: Study Paul's letters to Timothy and Titus. These letters are the best "preachers' manual" I have ever seen; and "may the Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit!"

Yours, etc., Uncle John.

Pay as You Go.

Bishop Marvin's warning against going in debt has been extensively published. A great many thinking people are beginning to believe that debt is the root of our financial and business troubles, and of many of our moral difficulties. Irenæus, in the New York Observer, writes an extended article on the subject of paying debts, from which we make the following extract:

Mr. Stewart, fifty years ago, had a little money; he bought a lot of dry goods with it, sold them at a profit; bought more, paid for them, sold them at a profit; and so on till he had fifty millions of dollars and died. That is his biography. It is not great, I grant. But it proves that patience, prudence, perseverance, paying as you go, may be just as profitable as the most rapid, hazardous, enterprising credit system can be. The most successful merchant in the world bought for cash.

In the year 1857, when commercial houses were falling in the panic as if an earthquake shook the city, I heard that a business firm of large capital had failed. I rushed to their counting-room and asked what it meant. "I hear you have suspended payment?"

"Certainly, we owe nothing; why should we pay anything?"

And sure enough, their immense establishment, employing hundreds of men, had been carried on for years without giving a note to anybody. And when business became so dull that it was better to suspend doing than to go on, they lay still six months, and continue to pay wages to all their men, who could not get employment elsewhere. They bought for cash, and now they use their millions for the good of their fellowmen.

A flourishing concern, doing a large business, took in a new partner who found the plan of buying on six months was the rule of the house. He prevailed on his partners to alter the practice, and gradually to work in a better. In two or three years' time everything was paid for when bought; the firm never gives its note to anybody for anything, and stands A No. 1 on all the mercantile agencies' lists.

Let me not be misrepresented as saying that it is wrong to incur debt. I only say that success in business does not make it necessary. Slow and sure is a very unfashionable motto, and quite antiquated, but it is good nevertheless. And as it is right to pay as you go, so it is right to insist that every customer shall pay you when he promised to pay. If that rule is in harmony with the will of God, on which the law of love is founded, then the law of love does not require me to release my debtor from his promise to pay. I do unto him as I would wish to be done by in the same circumstances. This application of the law would work a healthful revolution in the business world. It is in the line of the greatest commercial prosperity that pecuniary obligations should be held sacred as personal honor. There was a time in London and Frankfort and New York, when to let a note go unpaid at the hour it was due was a stain that no water could wash out. But now it is not so there or there. It is not considered dishonorable even for a church to wipe out a debt by selling its property for what it will bring. For a church, or a railroad company, or any association or individual to do so, is a sin and a shame.

Misfortunes may overtake the best of men, and make it impossible for them to pay their debts. Of them I am not speaking, but only of those who, being able, are yet unwilling to be honest.

If the merchants of New York would set their faces against debt, and practice upon the principle of paying as they go, if all donations for building churches and colleges were made on the condition that no debt is to remain when the building is completed—if this principle were made active and universal by the firm adherence to it of men who are in trade, and men who give of their wealth to works of Christian benevolence, there would be an immediate revival of honesty that would be of more advantage to the business of this country than the discovery of a thousand gold mines richer than all of Peru or California.

He is a philanthropist who aids in maintaining sound, commercial integrity between man and man. And he does not feel the first element of Christian character who wants his debts discharged in any other way than by paying them. To shirk them, to wriggle out of them, to compromise them, is not to get rid of the obligation to pay them. It is God who says: "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thy hand to do it." The law of love requires you to pay your debt when you have the ability, and no bankrupt law that human wisdom or folly ever devised can release you from the law of God.

Rev. James E. Bradley, writing from Harrisburg, Ore., April 20, informs us that Rev. Dr. Skipworth has lately been quite low with an attack of bilious pneumonia, but was improving at last accounts. Bro. Bradley also mentions the rain as continuing. It is only six and a half months since it began to rain, and still it rains. Our brethren from Louisiana, now in Oregon, are doing faithful work there, and their old comrades and friends will not forget them. We are always glad to hear from them. May God bless their and their families.

Toplady's "Rock of Ages" is the Centennial hymn, having been written in 1776.

On our second and third pages will be found the addresses of our fraternal messengers and the entire proceedings in connection with their reception. The addresses of the venerable Dr. Pierce and Drs. Duncan and Garland were such as we think will meet with the hearty approval of the Southern Church. Dr. Bennett, of the Richmond Christian Advocate, was present, and witnessed the proceedings, of which he writes as follows:

By eleven o'clock the seats were all filled on the lower floor and in the first gallery, while some looked down from the heights of the second gallery. A few minutes before the hour pages brought in four splendid bouquets of rare and rich flowers, which were placed on the tables of the president and of the secretaries. Bishop Peck, who had the chair for the day, vacated it, and it was occupied by the senior Bishop Janes. Dr. Foss, chairman of the Committee of Fraternal Delegations, came forward, and in a handsome speech introduced Dr. Duncan; he was followed by Dr. Newman, who in a most chaste and felicitous manner introduced Dr. Garland. Bishop Janes in a few appropriate words expressed his great regret that the venerable Dr. Pierce was not with them. He had started for Baltimore, but in his extreme feebleness was compelled to pause in his journey, and content himself with sending on his written sentiments, which were then read impressively by Dr. Woodruff secretary of the Conference. Dr. Duncan then came forward, and for an hour spoke in an eloquent and masterly style on the question of fraternity. He showed what true scriptural fraternity is, and was listened to with profound attention by the vast audience. I shall not attempt to give even the outlines of the address, as it will, of course, be printed in full. Dr. Garland followed, and spoke just twenty minutes; but every word seemed to weigh a pound, and every thought was as bright as a sunbeam; of course our readers will have the pleasure of reading this address. The impression on the Conference and the spectators was most pleasing, if one can judge by the frequent and hearty applause which greeted the speakers, and by the words of good feeling expressed after the close of the session. One brother from the North; a nephew of the great Bishop Soule, said to me that he had not wept as freely for many a day.

I have not been able, having arrived here only last evening, to exchange views with any of the members of the Conference, but the very kindest feelings seemed to fill the hearts of the brethren to-day, and all would doubtless rejoice to unite in some plan by which all the Methodist bodies of the world might be brought to labor in love and harmony for the salvation of men.

The Methodist, referring to the interesting occasion, says:

The reception of Drs. Duncan and Garland was strongly marked by Christian feeling, but lacked the melting intensity of the corresponding day at Louisville in 1871. The latter could not be repeated, and we are glad a repetition was not attempted. The temperate, restrained, frank and yet thoroughly cordial manner of the Southern messengers became men who wished to establish fraternity without prejudice to candid discussions and negotiations concerning outstanding differences. Dr. Duncan was eloquent, courteous in bearing, and evidently full of restrained emotion. His address contained passages of remarkable eloquence, and there was no indefiniteness or restraint in his thought. He was thoroughly fraternal. Dr. Garland admirably represented the Southern laymen. His words were plain, candid, clear, business-like; and there need be no surprise that such a speech commanded the profound respect of the General Conference.

A press dispatch announces the appointment of a commission to meet ours and to settle pending questions. The commissioners are: Rev. M. D. Crawford, Central New York; Rev. E. Q. Fuller, Georgia; Rev. J. P. Newman, D. D., Baltimore; Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, St. Louis; E. L. Fancher, New York.

The New York Evening Post has this just estimate of missionaries, and those who criticise them: "Here and there are little households—they do not deserve the dignified name of 'class' which exert a precious influence in favor of decency and morality and respectability; I mean, of course, the missionaries. When a man speaks ill of missionaries it is prudent, before accepting the dictum, to examine the critic's life to see if there be anything there which the missionary and his religion condemn. There may be men of perfect virtue, deep sympathy for man, and spotless morality, who find, as the fruit of candid study, that missions are a failure and missionaries impostors; I have not met such; but I have met a great many rakes, infidels, drunkards and blackguards who have a thorough contempt for missionaries and their work. Some classes of men have just as instinctive a dislike for missionaries as the devil for holy water."

Rev. Jesse W. Carroll, a superannuated member of the North Georgia Conference, died May 11. This is the sixth member of that Conference who has passed away since last December.

The new Roman Catholic cathedral in Baltimore will be consecrated this month. It has been in course of construction seventy years, but the ecclesiastical authorities refuse to consecrate it until it shall be free from debt.

During the last six years England has expended the vast sum of £783,857,061 for intoxicating drinks. This is £40,000,000 more than the national debt.

The Lay Evangelists in Nash...

Messrs. Moody and Whittle, ... holding a brief series of meetings ... Augusta, Ga., spent Thursday of ... week in Nashville, on their way ... the Northwest, where they have ... gagements for some time. The Y... Men's Christian Association of N... ville had made plans for work by ... lay evangelists quite beyond ... physical strength. They were ... however, as much as they could ... during their brief stay. At noon ... First Baptist church was filled ... people. Gospel songs were sung, ... prayers were offered by Drs. ... and Young and the Rev. T. A. H... and then followed discourses ... Messrs. Whittle and Moody—the ... mer's text being First Corinthians ... 11–20; and the latter's Psalms ... xxiii, xxiv. There was singing ... close, with a prayer by Mr. Wh... In the evening, at the First Pre... terian church, the spacious audi... room being well packed with old ... young, after singing, prayers ... offered by the Rev. F. R. Hill, ... M. B. DeWitt, and then Mr. Mo... discoursed on grace, quoting and ... menting on several passages of S... ture, and relating numerous ... dents. At the close there was a ... lection for the benefit of the Y... Men's Christian Association. M... persons were unable to hear ... Moody, as before their arrival ... church was filled to its utmost ca... ity. There was at the same hour ... immense audience at the First U... berland Presbyterian church. ... singing was excellent. Prayers ... offered by Drs. Kelley and Baird, ... by Mr. Whittle, who announced ... his text St. Luke vii, 36–50, on w... he discoursed with great earnest... After a brief season of silent ... sion for the unconverted, Mr. W... led in prayer. Then followed sing... by the congregation, and the ... diction by Dr. Baird. Messrs. M... and Whittle went from Nashv... St. Louis.—Western Methodist.

The recent letter of the Pope ... Alfonso, says the Irish position, ... testing against the toleration ... which has at last been passed, ... swered by Don Alfonso in a let... claring that Spain was Catholic, ... the Catholics need fear nothing ... the new constitution, and main... ing that the religious liberty ... was not inconsistent with the ... of the concordat of 1851. The ... has replied, thanking him for ... ter, but avoids discussion. The ... with which the Vatican will ... the inevitable is illustrated ... controversy with Austria over ... far concordat, not twenty years ... There were many wry faces and ... threats made at that time; but ... the concordat was abolished the ... can was content to make the best ... the situation. Unfortunately for ... fonso's declaration that the ... has nothing to fear from the ... tion clause is too true. It reads ... "The Roman Catholic ... the religion of, and shall ... elusively maintained by the ... that within the limits of ... morality freedom of religious ... shall be lawful, but no public ... festations other than those of ... church."

With the most liberal interpretation this concession is the ... possible, and in the hands of an ... hostile it could be easily ... preted so as to forbid all public ... ship whatever on the part of ... Catholics. Nothing could show ... conclusively the intolerance and ... otry of the Ultramontane element ... the absolute need of watching ... the wretched opposition to a ... sion so harmless as this. In the ... time American and German C... lics will continue to preach liberty ... conscience.

R. G. Porter, writing to the ... Western Methodist, says:

Columbus, Miss., has been ... with a gracious revival of re... The good work commenced so ... Conference last fall, and con... until it grew into protracted ... some three weeks ago. The ... sults of this meeting will not be ... known until revealed by the ... eternity. Nearly every member ... the church in Columbus expects ... the "direct witness of the Holy Ghost." Many woke up in a ... place, and were astonished at ... richness and fullness of the ... offered in the gospel, on the ... tion of simple faith in Christ. ... whole church has taken a step ... ward. After a few days' ... with the church there, one who ... all spiritual could not help ... mind the words of the one hun... and thirty-third psalm. The ... the members are knit together ... bonds of love. The church is ... More than two score have been ... verted and added to the churches ... the city.

The Daily Christian ... says: "The number of missionaries ... under the supervision of the Methodist Episcopal Church on the first ... January, 1876, are shown by the ... joined official summaries:

Foreign missionaries and assistants
Foreign native preachers
Missionaries' helpers
Missionaries' helpers (not officiating)
Domestic missionaries
Total missionaries

The foreign missionaries are ... ed into classes thus: American ... Methodist Episcopal missionaries ... foreign lands, 103; assistant ... sionaries, 559; missionaries of ... Woman's Foreign Missionary ... ciety, 28.

The value of Methodist Episcopal ... church property in foreign missions ... is estimated at $791,353. This ... mary includes only the value of ... churches, of which there are [illegible] ... of parsonages, of which there are ...

There is in the plan of episcopal ... visitations a serious and misleading ... error as to the place of the meeting ... of the Western Virginia Conference. ... But the list furnished us, as well as ... that published in the Nashville Advocate, Cutlettsburg is given, which ... it should be Charleston, W. Va. We ... presume it was an oversight of ... Bishop Wightman, or an error of the ... secretary. Will our exchanges please ... make a note of this, and correct their ... list accordingly?

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending May 20, 1876.

—E Irelu Alden $1, C G Andrews, N W Ayer & Son three letters, American News Company, E & T Anthony & Co, William T Ashford, Thomas Adams, American Sunday School Union, E A Ingraham $10.

—L Bielow & Main, John F C Black $1.50, James Baxter $12, James J Billingsley, J Bancroft (two letters, Boulton & Reese, Robert Babington, J M —— Mansfield, W R M Blocker, Barnes & Dawson, H Bradford $1.25, George W Bragg, —— Bagnell, D P Bradford, J W Bates $1.55, Gayle —— J W Burke & Co, J T Blaine.

—D Odell $5, S H Cox (for W H Morris) $15, —— Dalfogel, Mrs A G Carpenter 25 cents, T E —— r, Thomas S Campbell $2, J B —— sity $5, —— s A Carney $2, W B Crenshaw, S M Cherry, B Carson, R Crawford $2, Mrs Laura A Col- —— $2.

—W H Demilatek three letters $7, J W Dawson Charles T Dillingham two letters, Daniel Dent, Logan D Palmerton, Robert A. Davis $1.75, B —— pshield $2.

—T C Evans $10.50, A M Ezell, Z Elijah.

—H W Fobb $1.50, W H Ferris $50, Mrs Fred- —— & S, E N Freshman & Bros, Lewis R Feather- —— Mrs E A Fullilove $1.80.

—Harper & Bros, William T Hardenbrook, —— ck & Walden, Mrs S E Hardwicke $4, A C —— ley, D R Harris & Co $2, W S Harrison $2.35, —— lusk $1.25, H P Hubbard $7.40, N Hodger —— Hudson $2, Joshua L Harris, J D Harper W E Hallsman $11.50, R S Hurt $5, John T —— R S Isbell.

—Mrs F A Jennings $2, M C Jordan, Stephen —— son $1.60, A M Jones, Thomas James, B F —— R Kingsbury, Theodore E Kelly.

—James L Labdell $7.75, W H Lewis $2, Thomas —— ard $2 cents, F H Lockhart $1.80, Daniel —— B Legette, William Lazarone, Elias Long.

—Henry Metcalf, R B Mountain, W H Morris, —— & Co cents, J H McTerrin, W P Mosby Mobile Daily Mercury, T L Monn, J H —— Tom L Mellen $20 D J McKee, H H —— E W Martin, E P McCabe, C McDonald, —— & Carr, P H Moss, M S Martin, M C —— $2, L Myers $1.

—Adams Nelson Woodie, J W Newman $1, J —— Palmer $40, Joseph D Nesmith.

—Lafayette Orphan Asylum, J A O'Hara $2, —— $10, W H Owen ——.

—W H Pugh, Mrs De Pugers $2, P R Pitt- —— Pratt, C L Pinckney, B F Pearson $5, L —— $1, Thomas Price $2.50.

—A Robins, John Ruggles, A H Rayford —— four letters, R S Ricketts $2, William N —— George P Rowell & Co, T Richardson, —— A Zadkiel $2, Robertson Rowlwood.

—St Louis Advertising and Publishing Com- —— Two letters $50, Joseph Smith, M Stevens —— W Sandell $2, H B Singleton $10, W R —— T N Searcy Co two letters, M H Shar- —— 25 cents, J Rosenbaum $5, Joel Saunders —— H Schroeder, George Seefield, Pat Sullis- —— H Sellers $1, H A Skinner.

—Mrs Hattie L Talbot, A S Turner $50.

—University Publishing Company.

—S M Williamson & Co, W F Watts & Co, —— Wates, J White, D L Wright $2, Landon —— $2.50, Joseph F Wynne, J Weaver & Co, —— F Wade 20 cents, Wimberly & Rea $2.70, —— M Whipple $1.85 P Walker, Jul as Wilkinson —— P K Young, Henry Yandell $5.

—FIFTEEN CENTS AND SAVE $1,200.

—subscription [illegible] of the Advocate is [illegible] per annum, not $1.75, as for $1.85. A few —— orders deduct fifteen cents, [illegible] twenty-five cents, twenty-five cents for expense of remit- —— We wish to assure them they are taking a —— Advocate rates. We cannot afford to —— 8 cents for remittances, as we do when sent —— dollars or registered letters, and pay the —— ing. This dollar this should not be more than —— 8. While to us it will be fifteen cents by —— per cent, and quite a loss to every honest man —— to [illegible] Advocate. Hundreds —— [illegible] now receive, every day, calling this —— [illegible] having one year, calling this —— have paid only [illegible] and [illegible] —— [illegible] Twenty-five cents expenses for —— interest of this, and the trifling expense —— [illegible]. We hope they will send the full —— [illegible]. Many our agents permit what they —— [illegible] to [illegible] receiving commissions, we —— them to pay the expense.

—Cotton Ties.—Messrs. R. W —— [illegible] are generalizing us in the Ameri- —— Cotton, my [illegible] American. They have —— up in the market. The Beard & Bro- —— Brooks & Dorse are regarded —— known Arrow Tie. The great extent —— [illegible] are all well known, have —— engaged in this business since the war. —— [illegible] to their advertisement, and if —— any of our friends who may have occa- —— inform that they will do what they say.

—Equitable Mutual Insurance Co. We publish today the twenty-sev- —— statement of the above named com- —— The statement shows a prosperous condi- —— for the company. A dividend of —— per cent will be paid to assured on and after —— to those insuring with the company. This —— company, and must necessarily be sa- —— men in the belief of Hon. Thomas A. Wil- —— and H. W. Peabody, [illegible], with —— board of trustees.

—Millinery and Dressmaking. —— [illegible] to the advertisement of Mrs. H —— on this page. Mrs. Mogridge has been —— years engaged in this business and her —— as a careful and competent dressmaker is —— established. We can cheerfully recommend —— ladies' friends as one which will do a good —— of very reasonable prices. The latest —— and summer styles of ladies' dresses just —— [illegible].

—Messrs. Navra & Ofener deserve —— for their tasteful display of China, crockery —— ware at the Canal Depot, 128 Canal —— It never fails to attract the attention of —— interested these lasting. This is one of the —— places to buy, in this line, in the city. Prices —— right, and first-class goods can be ob- —— See their advertisement on this page.

—Coal. Messrs. B. D. Wood & Bro, Common street, have been long engaged —— business in this city, and are too well —— need an extended notice. We will sim- —— say that in all our dealings with them we have —— fair and liberal gentlemen. See their —— [illegible].

—Union Insurance Company. —— company has been established here since —— A good company, and well managed. —— [illegible] is prudent, wise. M. Cram —— secretary. Protection against loss by —— [illegible]. See the card on this page.

—Pamphlet Charles Morgan —— steamer, one of the finest on the river, leaves —— for the White River and intermediate —— That clever gentleman, Albert Stein, is —— will Harry W. Stein in the office. Capt. —— [illegible] is agent, at no traveler's street.

—Enterprise. Dr. R. Otto Moses has —— [illegible] among us, and will practice his profession —— [illegible]. The doctor is highly spoken of by —— who have been under his treatment. We —— [illegible] to his card in this issue.

St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre Haute Railroad.

—Parties going to the Centennial by way of St. Louis will bear in mind that the above line will land them in Philadelphia several hours in advance of any other road, being perfectly free from dust, with double track, stone ballasted, and every precaution against danger that is practicable.

Col. John E. Simpson is the polite and obliging general manager, at St. Louis, to whose energy an [illegible] of the success of the road is due, and ranks second to none in the country as a railroad manager.

We have traveled over the road several times, and must say that it seems of the smoothest and best-regulated lines in the country.

Those who have not seen the great bridge at St. Louis will find that an inducement to go by way of the Mound City to Philadelphia and New York by the Vandalia road.

It is with pleasure we call the attention of our readers to the tenth annual statement of that well-managed and first-class insurance company—the Factors' and Traders'. We have watched its career with unusual interest, knowing it was carrying risks for several of our largest cotton factors, and, frequently meeting with heavy losses, testing the ability of its able officers, who were not found wanting, as this exhibit fully shows, for they have met all just demands promptly, and now add $31,600 to their reserve fund, which shows prudence, and also declare a dividend of twenty per cent., as well as ten per cent. interest on capital. May our friends, Col. Palfrey, the president, Maj. Walker, the secretary, and Moses Greenwood, Esq., the vice president, long live to manage this successful company!

Adolph Finck has lately opened a family grocery store, corner of Felicity road and Dryades street. This will be very convenient for many in that part of the city, and we bespeak for him their custom. For particulars see his advertisement.

Boots and Shoes.—Parties desiring to secure bargains before visiting the Centennial should read L. Glimbel's advertisement. His stock is large and prices moderate. We can recommend our readers to this house, feeling confident that they will be well treated.

Messrs. Levy Bros. advertise their large and select assortment of dry goods in to-day's paper.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, Fine Boots and Shoes, 8 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit unrivalled.

LADIES', GENTS', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
8 Camp street, under City Hotel
New Orleans, La.

FOR SALE ON MOST LIBERAL TERMS,

SURVEYOR'S TRANSIT,

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT, HEAD AS NEW.

LIST PRICE $200.

UNDER COST.

ROBERT M. HARP,
110 AND 112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel.

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep no "job" lots, so advertised and stuck up to catch country customers. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal discount made to them.

At the Charleston races the finest thoroughbred in the country are to be seen, and the coal obtained for the races is a wonder to all who behold the ice, as it has only recently been discovered. Also to any one looking for pure Rock coal for family use, Lehigh is the best. It is also known to cook by.

During the Franco-Prussian War Lorillard Fenner & Bro was found sufficiently advertising to sustain the soldiers with solid food, and must be obtained. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY
OF NEW ORLEANS,
3 CARONDELET STREET 3
Near the First National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1873, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

V. CHAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Marignan,	H. Bailly,
L. D. Sarpy,	A. Chiarella,
B. Salomon,	J. Bay,
H. L. Grasse,	A. B. Brousseau,
	A. Bonneval.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet,

Leaves WEDNESDAY, May 24, at 5 P. M.

FOR CINCINNATI, Louisville Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Cairo, Paducah and Clifton, Memphis and intermediate points. The Passenger Steamer

CHAS. MORGAN,

Albert Stein, Master Harry W. Stein, Clerk,

will leave as above. For freight or passage apply on board, or to

C. G. WAYNE, 103 Graveir St.

CENTENNIAL BOOK OF BIOGRAPHY
of the great men of the
FIRST 100 YEARS OF OUR INDEPENDENCE.

The glory of America is her great men. Everybody wants to read their lives at this centennial season. AGENTS WANTED. Agents seeing Historic sells and see this book also. Everybody buys it. The great success of the year. Send for circular. P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa., and Chicago, Ill.

SULLIVAN & BULGER,
NO. 97 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,
DEALERS IN
Gas Fitters' and Plumbers' Materials,

Gas Fixtures, Pumps, Bath Tubs, Burners, Iron, Lead and Tin Lined Pipes, Sheet Lead, Fittings of all descriptions, Brass, Steam Water and Gas Cocks, Valves, Pipes, etc. Thirty per cent. discount on Iron Pipe; all other goods in proportion.

ROSES 700 SUPERB VARIETIES ROSES! Half a Million Greenhouse Plants! Mailing Plants a Specialty. Illustrated Catalogue Free. E. Y. TEAS & CO. Richmond Ind. cow

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE

Crescent Mutual Insurance COMPANY.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 20, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity to the amended charter, submit the following statement of the affairs of the Company on the thirtieth of April, 1876:

Fire premiums	$231,006 26
Marine premiums	37,185 97
River premiums	114,811 26	$383,003 49
Earned premiums, less reinsurance and return premiums		284,357 38
Losses paid and estimated, including all known and unpaid:
On fire	$56,980 10
Marine	15,068 58
On river	71,471 90	$147,520 58
Taxes, expenses, rebate on fire of participation, less Interest, discount, etc.		83,728 71—231,116 60
Leaving, after paying for per cent. in cash, interest on capital stock, profits		$52,248 79

The Company have the following assets:

Bills receivable	$53,728 78
Loans on bond and mortgage	56,413 34	$110,772 11
Loans on pledge at call	$150 711 37
Cash	37,388 04	188,099 41
Real estate		127,631 12
City bonds, bank and other stocks		126,191 00
Premium's in course of collection, 1876		22,684 77
Total assets		$585,088 71

The above statement is a true and correct transcript from the books of the Company.

THOS. A. ADAMS, President.
HENRY V. COLLEN, Secretary.

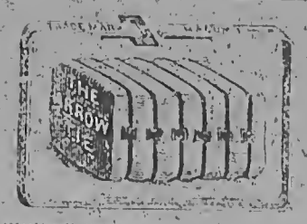
Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-fifth day of May, 1876.

WM. H. HOLMES,
Second Justice of the Peace, Parish of Orleans.

The Board of Trustees resolved that, after paying the annual interest of ten per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, a dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. be paid in cash on and after the twelfth day of June next, to those parties subscribing with the Company who shall have received the same.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	Edward Pilsbury,
Sam'l B. Newman,	John E. King,
Sam'l H. Kennedy,	Frank Dumontier,
Jedia Pugh,	J. G. Harris,
Alem Thomas, jr.,	Andrew Stewart,
Henry Abrahams,	Joseph Stone,
C. Nestrong,	George Martin,
Victor Meyer,	Alfred Moulton,
Joseph Bowling,	L. Jones,
Edward L. Gay,	Edward Nalle,
John M. Sand, jr.,	George W. Scripps,
Simon Hernsheim,	A. Levy,
Simon Forchheimer,	Hugh Bontanel,
Joseph B. Walt,	Wm. H. Matthews,
R. B. Post,	John V. Moore,
	Paul E. Moulinier.



OFFICE OF THE
American Cotton Tie Co.,
LIMITED,
17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regular established Agents, to supply the trade to any quantity with the following celebrated ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLIP.
BEAVER DANGEROUS LOCK TIE.
BRANCH BROOKES & CO'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to call your particular attention to the interest of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Brooks & Dorse, who are now engaged to and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO., LIMITED, the following are the N. Orleans Agents:

Soniat & Fell,	Cogdell & Bell,
Beard & Boyd,	Archer & Bardgd.
William Brook,	D. L. Rankin & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. Limited

R. W. WAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE ASSORTMENT OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

PLATED WARE, CUTLERY

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

IN THE SOUTHWEST

Look at our prices and mail for our clubs:

Real French China DINNER SETS, complete, 130 pieces, for	$30 00
TEA SETS of the same quality, 44 pieces	6 50
Gold Band and Decorated TEA SETS	7 50
Kaolin Stone China or Ironstone DINNER SETS, complete, 132 pieces, for	11 50
TEA SETS of the same quality, 44 pieces	3 75
Stone China CHAMBER SETS only	5 50

Flint Glass TUMBLERS at 75 cents per dozen. The Best SILVER PLATED WARE in the country and at the Lowest Prices. Also the best CUTLERY, finished at very Low Prices. Our FINE BED-ROOM SETS are only $4. Every variety of Tin and Wooden Ware can be found at our China house store. All goods are carefully packed.

NAVRA & OFENER,
128 Canal St. (Touro Buildings)
New Orleans.

DR. R. OTTO MOSES,

DENTIST,

247 BARONNE STREET 247

Solicits the patronage of the public, assuring them careful attention in all operations pertaining to his profession, at charges in keeping with the present depressed pecuniary condition of the people. Consultation free.

COAL COAL COAL

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

100 Common St., opposite City Hotel.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL, Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat load or less on the levee, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

WANTED AGENTS for the GREAT CENTENNIAL UNIVERSAL HISTORY

to the close of the first 100 years of our National Independence, including an account of the coming Grand Centennial Exhibition. 700 pages, fine engravings, low price, quick sales, extra terms. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 630 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo.

ADOLPH FINCK,

(Formerly with N. Burke,)

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE

FACTORS' & TRADERS' INSURANCE CO.,

37 CARONDELET STREET 37

NEW ORLEANS, May 18, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity with the charter of the Company, publish the following statement of its affairs for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1876, to-wit:

Premiums for the year—
On Fire risks	$499,951 30
On River risks	243,902 19
On Marine risks	163,765 13	$906,851 62
Less—
Unterminated premiums, 1875	$86,750 00
Return premiums	11,023 21—	97,773 21
Net earned premiums		$809,078 41
Losses paid:
On Fire risks	$92,311 24
On River risks	15,564 58
On Marine risks	19,761 07
Total	$127,176 79
Reinsurance	26,283 81
Rebate account	11,016 12
State and City Taxes and Licenses	55,488 21
New Orleans Board of Underwriters	3,581 05
Gross general expenses	11,555 20	$235,855 37
Balance		$573,223 04
Add Interest and discount and savings		108,255 52
Less first semi-annual interest paid on capital stock, five per cents, and second new one, five per cents		$681,501 76
Net profits		$445,901 76
Reserved		30,000 00
Balance divided on net premiums		$476,901 76

The Company have the following assets:

Cash on hand	$178,814 71
Accounts in course of collection	40,926 05
Bills receivable on pledge	48,850 21
Bills receivable for premiums	28,600 53
Bank and other stocks	237,418 16
City and other bonds	105,401 95
Bonds of Masonic Grand Lodge	5,000 00
Bonds of I. O. Odd Fellows' Hall Association	5,001 00
Bonds of Association for relief of Jewish Widows and Orphans	2,000 00
Real estate	158 [illegible]
Total	$1,188,654 46

The foregoing is a true and correct statement from the books of the Company.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-first day of May, 1876.

EDWARD IVY, Notary Public.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the eighteenth instant, it was resolved to pay on demand a second semi-annual interest of FIVE PER CENT. to April 30, 1876, making ten per cent. per annum on the capital stock of the Company, payable, and a cash dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. to stockholders on the amount ($185,000) of their net participating premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

W. A. Johnson,	W. C. Ravinal,
John Nobl,	T. Lyle Lewis,
Jean Conelis,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Reed,
Edward Sparrow,	Joseph M. Fero,
C. P. Bierbower,	E. E. Wheeler,
Caspar Feistlander,	Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yates,	Wm. H. Lemon,
Isaac L. Adams,	R. F. Robertson,
Isaac Smith, jr.,	Wm. H. Bisso,
R. M. Wadsworth,	Charles Pfister,
A. H. May,	L. C. Marr,
	Wm. Hartwell.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any articles of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies and Children's wear, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAU, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

She guarantees great saving with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and establishment that she does correspondents, will be satisfactorily carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, and Scarfs of the Fashionable Style.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

No. 96 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

BOOTS AND SHOES

AT

378 MAGAZINE STREET 378

Opposite the Magazine Street Market,

(Sign of the Lady's Boot.) New Orleans.

BRANCH STORE, 585 MAGAZINE STREET,
Corner of St. Andrew's.

It is opened with a fresh stock of Boots and Shoes of the very lowest prices.

It is the greatest Boot and Shoe House in the South, where Boots, Shoes and Rubbers can be purchased at THE LOWEST PRICES. Paper Soles Do Cheapest. A visit is all that is asked to convince any one that this is the cheapest and best place to purchase Boots, Shoes or Rubbers in the South.

Parties at a distance from N. Orleans can take their own measure, and receive their Boots or Shoes by mail with the aid of our Rule of Measurement. Send, or call and get one.

We manufacture all descriptions of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters at the very lowest prices. All work warranted to be of the best material.

LOUIS DIMMEL, Agent.

LOUISIANA

PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY

R. LUCKNER, SR.,

112 Magazine St 112

(Upstairs.) NEW ORLEANS

BAND BOXES with or without three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges except freight for $1 in value, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,

DEALER IN ICE,

No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the North St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

ROGERS' EFFERVESCING CITRATE OF MAGNESIA,

In six ounce bottles, in powder. This Magnesia is a mild purgative and aperient, very acceptable to the stomach for sick Headache, sour or sick Stomach, and all febrile cases. Used for all seasons of the year. Prepared by A. RIEPE & ROGERS, 195 Spring St., N. Y. For sale by all druggists; E. J. Hart & Co., Wholesale agents, New Orleans. cow

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar, Light, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay, Paving, Building Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Tarred and Sand White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Flues, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
154 Gravier street, and
200 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AN

EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING

OF

PARASOLS!

THIS DAY,

AT

DANZIGER'S,

203 CANAL STREET 203

Bet. Burgundy and Rampart, and

NOS. 228 AND 230 ROYAL STREET,

Corner St. Philip.

20,000 PARASOLS, bought at a large bankrupt sale in New York, will be sold at less than half cost of importation cost. All NEW, FRESH goods.

We beg to call particular attention to these Parasols and offer:

Children's Percale Parasols at 25 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, at 50 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, with fringes, at 75 cts.
Ladies' Silk Pentagonal Parasols at 50 cts.
Ladies' Silk Parasols ruffled, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Sublimer Parasols, silk lined, at 90 cts.
Ladies' Black Silk Ruffled Parasols, silk lined, for mourning and half mourning, at $1.25.
Ladies' extra size Silk Parasols, silk lined, at $1.50.
Ladies' Tourist Parasols, silk lined, with Gent Covering, at $2.00. A very stylish and new thing.

And a great many other novelties in Parasols, Silk Umbrellas, etc., all at less than one half the importation cost, at

DANZIGER'S,
203 Canal street,
And 228 and 230 Royal street.

FOLEY'S

Celebrated Gold Pens

AND PENCILS.

THE FINEST AND BEST.

CAUTION.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of extensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Prominently upon are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of the GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is testified by the long time he has been engaged in our city in the manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who, whether they use it or not, perfect that Pen ever made.

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others.

A. E. Williams, Pres. Metropolitan National Bank, G. S. Lane, Pres. Atlantic Exchange Nat'l Bank, J. A. Boardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America, Wm. A. Hall, President Corn Exchange Bank, R. H. Ewing, Pres. Nat'l Bank of the Republic, [illegible] Pres. Gallatin National Bank, C. E. Thompson, Cashier Equitable Bank, [illegible] Cashier New York Co. Nat'l Bank, Clark, Dodge & Co. George G. Arthur & Co. Ashlie, Morris & Co. J. P. Morgan & Co. Vermilye & Co. American Express Co. Winslow, Lanier & Co. Adams Express Co. Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co. Daniel D. Sheldon, Commercial Ins. Co. Edward Walter, Pres. Manhattan Mutual Ins. Co. Wm. L. Jenkins, President Bank of Attica, &c. J. W. Lewis, Cashier Union National Bank. Wm. H. Cox, Cashier Mechanics' National Bank. J. Buell, Pres. Importers and Traders Nat'l Bank. J. M. Crane, Cashier Shoe and Leather Nat'l Bank. Wells, Fargo & Co. [illegible] & Co. Limited list of Exp. Co. S. B. Chittenden & Co. Hartley & Linkinson. [illegible] & Co. A. E. Willmarth, Vice Pres. Home Ins. Co. Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,

GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,

No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by many of the leading Stationers and Jewelers of New Orleans. 1 cow

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.

Liberal Terms of Exchange for Second-hand Machines of every description.

"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.
The Best Publication of the Kind. Send for sample copy.
Address DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.
AGENTS WANTED. 7th NEW YORK. cow

Gold Rings

Diseases of the Eye and Ear,

DR. C. BEARD,

OCULIST,

11 DAUPHINE STREET 11

NEW ORLEANS.

Office hours from 9 to 3 sp

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON & SONS Executed in Gothic, Ecclesiastical Decorations, Painted Ornamental Windows for churches and domestic buildings. The idea of Art applied to Windows artistically carried out. Designs furnished. Windows of specialties. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

Delivered free of cost, per mail, at your door. Splendid assortment of ROSES, Six for $1 Thirteen for $2. Send for New Descriptive Catalogue and Floral Guide, gratis. HOOPES, BRO. & THOMAS, Cherry Hill Nurseries, West Chester, Pa. cow

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.—A lady who had suffered for years from Deafness and Catarrh, was cured by a simple Indian Remedy. Her sympathy and gratitude prompt her to send the receipt free of charge to any one similarly afflicted. Address MRS. M. CLAVIA LOCKETT, Jersey City, N. J.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator.

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is more offensive, nothing so common and loathsome, and it is nearly every case all comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, cure [illegible] and [illegible] health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden, and taking existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use system naturally the remedy that has permanently cured. One suffices. No drastic, violent purge, but a specific assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment, in fact nature demands the most regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from it is demanding, paves the way to more serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels, as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affection comes most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known, as Sick Headache.

Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated Marietta, 1872: "I cordially use, when my constitution requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than any active remedies." 5p6t

MISCELLANEOUS.

P. L. CUSACHS

HAS REMOVED HIS

DRUG STORE

—TO—

37 ROYAL STREET 37

Between Bienville and Customhouse, one block from Canal street, where he will, as heretofore, continue his well-known business of importation of

DRUGS, CHEMICALS, ESSENTIAL OILS, DISTILLERS', DYERS' AND TANNERS' MATERIALS, ETC. 5p

LADIES' HAIR STORE.

THE UNDERSIGNED is now established in his new quarters, the most elegant of their kind in the South, and, having just received the latest styles in FANCY AND JET GOODS, begs to remind the patronage of his friends and the public.

He also manufactures all kinds of HUMAN HAIR GOODS, Braids, switches, Curls, etc. All kinds of Hair Work repaired. Also, Ladies' and Children's Hair-Dressing, Curling and Curling Saloon.

Parties from the country ordering will save money by addressing him at either of the stores.

GEO. F. SCHILLING,
Cor. Bienville street, and
351 Dryades St., New Orleans.

TRY THE CHOICEST NEW GOSHEN BUTTER

THIS SIDE OF PHILADELPHIA.

Fall week's shipment is especially fine.

Extra Selection of "Alderney" Dairy, New York.

ALBERT E. PHELPS, Grocer,
Cor. Bryanda and Felicity Sts.

BEAUTIFUL EVER-BLOOMING ROSES

STRONG POT ROSES, suitable for Immediate Blooming, sent safely by mail, postpaid. Five splendid varieties for 25 cents, $1.00; 12 for $1.75; 19 for $2.50; 26 for $3.50; 40 for $5. For prices and description of the magnificent Premium Rose Given away to every subscriber, see our new GUIDE TO ROSE CULTURE, and choose from over 300 finest sorts. We are the largest Rose growers in America, and can offer you the choicest stock at reasonable rates. Satisfaction guaranteed. Address THE DINGEE & CONARD CO., Rose Growers, West Grove, Chester County, Pa. cow

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Complaints, product of our swamps, is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is free from all the principles overwhelming, and daily increasing. Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of testimonials of HOME REFERENCES of the Depot, 100 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Time Infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE OF THE FOURTH DISTRICT,

395 MAGAZINE ST. 395

The finest COFFEES purched and ground fresh every morning by steam and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS. Depot—Saigare, and at twenty per cent. above cost prices, by

J. F. SHAW, Proprietor.

LATEST NOVELTY IN PAPER LAP BOARDS,

SIZE, 2,4x30; PRICE $1.50.

Liberal discount to the trade. Call and see them

E. U. PALMER & CO.,
81 and 83 Camp street.

WOOD. COAL. LUMBER.

No. 451 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Philip streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at the lowest rates. Peishurs and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber Sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office or by sales street, or at 282 Carondelet street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH

POLITHO'S RESTAURANT,

AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,

Jaux & Blusse, Proprietors,

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES: Rev. H. P. Johnson, Wadsworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Water, Prv., Ark. 5p4t

REFERENCE & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

WANTED. All persons who have read my double column advertisement in this paper, describing the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend, to send for price, terms, &c., as I have reserved it. J. C. FULTON, Pittsburg, Pa.

Farm, Garden and Household.

The Narragansett Turkey.

Rev. Mr. Clift writes to the Poultry World that the Narragansett turkey is one of the largest and hardiest of all the breeds of turkeys, and is raised in the greatest perfection in southeastern Connecticut and in Rhode Island, a region famous for its fine poultry. Turkeys do remarkably well along the seaboard, and almost every farmer remote from the village has his flock of from one hundred to two hundred, the product of about a dozen hens, under skillful management of a woman or boy; of course they do some damage to grain, but this is counterbalanced by their destruction of insects. From June to September they subsist mainly on grasshoppers, crickets and other insects, ranging for the most part in the pastures and woodlands. They are fattened in October and November, and it is not uncommon for a lot of early turkeys to reach the average weight of fourteen pounds, dressed, at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The common run of turkeys sent to the New York market do not average more than eight or nine pounds. The Narragansett is a very large, healthy bird, and has been bred for size for many generations. Most of them sold in the Boston and Providence markets, under the name of Rhode Island turkeys, or extra No. 1, are of this breed. The farmers are careful in the selection of their breeding stock, taking young gobblers that will weigh from twenty-two to twenty-eight pounds, and hens that will weigh from twelve to sixteen pounds. Where kept over, gobblers will sometimes dress thirty-two to thirty-four pounds. For making poultry for market, the Narragansetts have no superior. The prevailing colors are white and black, with a large patch of white upon the wing bow, giving the general impression of a gray bird. They are not uniform in the shading, but with sufficient painstaking could be bred to a feather.

Bermuda Grass.

A friend of mine, a "retired merchant," who has retired on a "blind ox" and four acres of woodland, wishes to know all about Bermuda grass. After struggling for ten years with the "world, the flesh and the devil," he now firmly believes that "all flesh is grass," and that Bermuda is the grass. About the center of his four acres is what was years ago a piny woods pond, but is now covered with the usual growth of better ponds, and the land, apparently greatly improved. It is well drained, and he is having all the timber removed from it, and wants to set it in Bermuda. Now he wants to know how to do it. What is Bermuda—whence it comes? Are there two kinds—one that seeds and one that does not? Which is best for grazing? He expected his ox to do the mowing by night. In fact he wishes any practical information about this grass which you will plainly impart. And I can assure you that it will be duly appreciated by one of your SUBSCRIBERS.

BLAKELY, Ga., March 1-76.

Bermuda is a foreign grass, probably from the East Indies. There are two varieties,—one, which perfects seeds in this country, is worthless—the other does not perfect seed, and for summer grazing far surpasses anything we ever saw. Land is easily "set" in it by planting pieces of its underground stems, or roots, as they are generally called. A little bunch will, in the course of a season, extend over considerable space. Its spread will be stopped by a hedge row or any other thick growth. It is easily transplanted from one spot to another by the plow, but otherwise there is no danger. After the land is well set in Bermuda, make it very rich, and it will supply an indefinite amount of grazing or of hay.—Southern Cultivator.

History of the Onion.

Very few members of the vegetable kingdom exist that can boast an older record than the onion. Theophrastus alluded to it as follows: "There be divers sorts of onions which have their surnames of the places where they grow; some also lesser, others greater; some be round, and divers others long." This is ample proof that, even in his early days, a variety of sorts were grown, and in many places. Pliny adds the questionable information that "none grow wilde." The onion is also spoken of in holy writ, where, in connection with the leek and other vegetables, it is referred to as a luxury belonging to the Egyptians, at the earliest date we possess any history in regard to them. Though Theophrastus shows by his statement above that distinct sorts existed, we are inclined to believe that there were not more than two or three distinct types then. They derived, however, a variety of names from the various places where they were known to be grown freely. Old authors describe a kind known as "Ascalonitides," a name said by Gerarde to be "of a towne in Judæa, otherwise called Porophoum." Singularly enough, however, the English name of this kind is given by this latter authority as "Scallions," and along with it is given an illustration and the following statement: "This hath but small roots, growing many together; the leaves are like to onions, but lesse. It seldom bears either stalke, floure or seed. It is used to be eaten in sallads." Both Theophrastus and Pliny refer to this, the latter in the sixth chapter of his nineteenth book, where he says: "The one serving for a spice or to season meat with." Can it be, then, that in Purpell of old, chives, as we know them now, were used popularly.—Gardeners' Chronicle.

APPLICATION OF LIME.—E. H. Libbey, in a recent number of the Scientific Farmer, from an investigation of the nature and action of lime, draws the following conclusions in regard to its application to the soil:

Soils rich in organic matter, even though they already contain it in considerable quantities, drained peat swamps, stiff clays, and coarse, heavy soils, and especially those destitute of it, are all benefited by an application of lime. Good results also follow its use on light soils after an incorporation of organic matter, as green manure, muck, or a thick sod of green crop plowed under. Sterile soils are rapidly rendered more sterile by its application. Wet lands show least effect from treatment with lime. Hence such lands must either be drained or receive an extra amount. Clay should also have organic matter applied in connection with lime. It sets more effectually near the surface. The apparent effect is greater the second season than the first; so the most satisfactory results are obtained by sowing broadcast in the early fall, with at most only a light harrowing or brushing. It should be applied in an air-slaked, fine mechanical condition. The most profitable quantity to apply depends much on the land; wet soils, those well tilled with organic matter, and clays, taking most—from ten to forty bushels being recommended, according to the circumstances.

CARE OF SHEEP.—Suitable inclosures should be provided as near the homestead as possible, and it should be made the business of some one on the farm to pen them every night. Until a few years back the writer, in common with others, was a constant sufferer from depredations from dogs and rogues. But about three years ago he determined to try this remedy of fencing, and the result has been that he has not lost a sheep in this way since. And for the benefit of others I will give my plan of management. For this purpose I have two small lots, of two to three acres each, inclosed, very near my dwelling house. On one of them is a large, comfortable shelter, closed up on the north and west sides, and open to the east and south. During the winter months the sheep are penned regularly, and fed, when necessary. In spring they are taken off this lot, which, having been manured and enriched by the droppings of the sheep during the winter, is plowed up and cultivated in vegetables. The sheep are then penned in the other lot, and continued there until fall, when they are returned to the winter lot. The second lot has been put down in grass, and furnishes the sheep with grazing during the night. This lot is also enriched by the droppings of the sheep, and my plan is to put it in turnips every third year. This plan might be improved upon, by having three lots, instead of two, so that the summer lots might be alternated by grass and turnips.—Smithside, in the Planter and Farmer.

RAISING TOMATOES.—Burr tells us that the French mode of raising tomatoes is as follows: As soon as a cluster of flowers is visible they top the stem down to the cluster, so that the flowers terminate the stem. The effect is that the sap is immediately impelled into the two buds next below the cluster, which soon push strongly and produce another cluster of flowers each. When these are visible the branch to which they belong is also topped down to the level; and this is done five times successively. By this means the plants become stout dwarf bushes, not above eighteen inches high. In order to prevent their falling over, sticks or strings are stretched horizontally along the rows, so as to keep the plants erect. In addition to this, all laterals that have no flowers, and, after the fifth topping, all laterals whatever are nipped off. In this way the ripe sap is directed into the fruit, which acquires a beauty, size and excellence unattainable by other means.—Boston Globe.

MEALY POTATOES.—It has been found from experience that potatoes are very watery from the first of March till the market offers us new ones. In our kitchen, we overcome the soggy disposition of these valuable vegetables by soaking them a few hours in cold water, and putting them into hot water to boil, without salt; then, when they are tender nearly all the way through, turn the water off, and refill the saucepan with cold water. Put in salt, and boil till they are quite done; drain off, that water also, cover as tightly as possible, and set on the back of the range to steam, lifting the cover for an instant once or twice; then, with one hand holding down the lid, shake the saucepan gently, quickly and steadily for a moment, and serve your potatoes hot. If rightly managed they will be like snow-balls.—The Housekeeper.

GRAHAM GEMS.—Two teacupfuls of buttermilk, a little salt, three even cupfuls of Graham flour, and one teaspoonful of soda. Stir well and bake in iron gem pans, which should be hot on the stove before filling; put them into a very hot oven and bake from fifteen to twenty minutes. If you want them of extra quality, take one teacupful of buttermilk, one egg, two teacupfuls of the flour, with soda and salt as before. Very good gems are made by taking one teacupful of sweet milk or water, one and a half teacupfuls of the flour, half a teaspoonful of soda, one of cream tartar, with a little salt, and a spoonful of sugar; beat well until it looks smooth.

Zion's Herald says: "The Pope still insists on 'Catholic unity' in Spain, and not on the ground of expediency, but of principle. Catholic unity—i. e., non-toleration of any religion but the Catholic—is declared to be right. The contrary is false and hurtful. But how can that which is flesh in one country be fowl in another? Principles have no geographical boundary—they are universal and unchangeable. Catholic unity would, therefore, be the right thing in every country in the United States, for instance."

Pride is an extravagant opinion of our own worthiness; vanity is an inordinate desire that others should share that opinion.—Cummings.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION,
150 ..... CANAL STREET 150
Incorporated March 15, 1855.
OFFICERS.
DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KILSHAW, Treasurer.
TRUSTEES.
Thos. A. Adams, George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Monlton, T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.
☞ Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,
51 Camp Street.
CAPITAL $500,000
F. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.
DIRECTORS.
F. C. PALMER, FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.
This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.
Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.
JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TRUNKS.
HO! FOR THE CENTENNIAL!
WILLIAM HOGAN,
99 ..... CANAL STREET 101
HAS READY FOR THE
CENTENNIAL
Gent.'s English and Ladies' TRUNKS of the celebrated Victoria, Eugenie and Monitor patterns.
Also CENTENNIAL TRAVELING BAGS in great variety, all of his importation, and to be sold 10 per cent. below cost for the next sixty days. With the finest stock in this city of BOOTS, SHOES and GAITERS for Gentlemen, Ladies and Misses, all at REASONABLE PRICES. Call and see.

AGENTS WANTED.
CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,
struck in solid Aluminum Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to
SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.
Presenting a fine gallery of beautiful Designs in Relief.
These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade Dollar, being 1½ inches in diameter, handsomely put up and sell readily at sight. Ten thousand Souvenirs and Mementos ever issued. A complete outfit of magnificent samples for agents in velvet-lined morocco case, including the list of George Washington's Grand Entrance International Exhibition Memorial Hall, Art Gallery, Horticultural Hall, Main Building, and the grand representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence (designed by Trumbull), on gilt, sent by mail on receipt of draft or postoffice order for $4.50, or will ship by express, C. O. D. upon receipt of express charges. Agents' circular and price list, with one sample, sent upon receipt of, cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Extensive fields for enterprise. Address
U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P.O. Box 5270. NEW YORK.

CISTERN-MAKER.
R. BRODERICK,
NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,
Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.
Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS,
GRUNT ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND DRYADES, NEW ORLEANS.
JAS. A. SHAKSPEARE. A. SMITH. S. SMOOT.
SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.
manufacturers of every variety of Steam Engines, Saw Mills, Saws, Shafting and Countersunk Machinery, Mining Iron Gearing, Grate Bars, etc. Store Fronts, Columns and Ventilators. Blacksmith Work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY,
590 MAGAZINE STREET.
COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.
HOT COFFEE AT SIXTIES.
Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and per quality guaranteed to.
We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream in quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

ATTENTION!
M. ANDRIEU,
150 ..... POYDRAS STREET 150
Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.
City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other Store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent.'s, Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

GEORGE W. ROPER,
DEALER IN
Fancy Goods and Millinery,
103 ..... CANAL STREET 103
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
La Mode Corsets and Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

J. M. FARIN. F. STRINGER.
FARIN & CO.,
138 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS
IMPORTERS OF ALL VARIETIES OF
English Carpetings, Rugs, Etc.
Also Oil Cloths, Mattings, Curtain Damasks Lace Curtains, Window Shades, etc.

ADOLPH SUTTER,
GLASS STAINER.
Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.
Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.
212 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

WILLIAM E. WALSH.
GENERAL COOPERAGE,
13 ..... NORTH FRONT ST. 13
Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

H. SPERING,
UPHOLSTERER,
651 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 651
Near Jackson, New Orleans.
Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and all work guaranteed.

T. W. BOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
871 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Embalming and Disinfecting. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

INSURANCE.

HIBERNIA
INSURANCE COMPANY.
OFFICE—NO. 37 CAMP ST.
JOHN HENDERSON, President.
P. IRWIN, Vice President.
THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.
Earnings $214,671 16
Losses Paid 71,711 00
Net Profits 93,438 00
At an election held on 2 inst., the first inst., the following-named gentlemen were chosen Directors of this Company to serve for the ensuing year:
P. Irwin, John Henderson,
Thomas King, John G. Ryan,
Thomas Gilmore, W. J. Castell,
John T. Gibbons, James A. Gardner,
William Hart, Emile Gauche,
David Jackson, John H. Hanna.
F. J. Gaspio.
And at a meeting of the Board, held May 8, JOHN HENDERSON, President, P. IRWIN, Vice President, and THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary, were unanimously re-elected.
The Board declared out of the net profits of the Company for the past twelve months 10 per cent. interest; also 1 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital, and 25 per cent. dividend on premiums paid by stockholders, making, with the regular, 40 per cent. on premiums. Said interest and dividends to be placed to the credit of the stock notes.
Interest and dividends on full-paid stock payable in cash at the office of the Company on and after June 15 proximo.
THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.
NEW ORLEANS, May 12, 1876.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'
INSURANCE CO.
57 CARONDELET STREET.
ASSETS APRIL 1, 1876 ..... $1,180,213 88
This Company issues Policies on Fire, River and Marine Risks
AT LOWEST TARIFF RATES.
E. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.
THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.
TRUSTEES.
Moses Greenwood, R. M. Walmsley,
W. A. Johnson, A. Britton,
John I. Noble, A. H. May,
John Chalfe, S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken, T. Lyell Lyon,
Samuel D. Moore, Wm. C. Raymond,
J. L. Warren, James St. Prosthike,
R. T. Beckham, Samuel H. Boyd,
Samuel Friedlander, Joseph McElroy,
A. A. Yates, E. B. Wheelock,
John I. Adams, Cyrus Bussey,
Isaac Scherck, William J. Behan.
E. F. Eschleman.

New Orleans Insurance Co.
CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.
ESTABLISHED IN 1805.
Capital $200,000 00
Assets at their marked value 655,857 76
Income for the year 1875 ..... 1,240,000 91
The Company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine Policies payable in London in case of loss.
President, J. TUYES.
Vice President, V. SCHEIFFER.
Secretary, J. W. HINCKS.
DIRECTORS.
Ernest Meyer, A. M. Buckham,
Placide Esquisito, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lafitte, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, D. Fallo,
Pierre Pantz, D. D. Withers.

AGENTS WANTED.
PRAYER AND ITS REMARKABLE ANSWERS
A GRAND BOOK FOR AGENTS.
One Agent writes "I took 40 orders in 2 days." Another sells the best selling 1 year canvassed in." Rev. E. P. Goodwin, D. D., says: "I know of nothing on the subject of prayer which is better adapted to meet the practical wants of Christian people." For territory and terms address ANCHOR PUB. CO., 720 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's Safety Guard is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Silver plated sample postpaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 718 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$5,000 AGENTS WANTED. Samples sent free by mail, with terms to clear from $5 to $10 per day. Two entirely new articles, salable as flour. Address C. H. WHITE & CO., Newark, N. J.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted to sell our Rubber Printing Stamps. Particulars free. P. O. VICKERY & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

MISCELLANEOUS.
J. C. MILLER,
(Formerly of Cassiday & Miller)
SAIL-MAKER,
107 ..... POYDRAS STREET 107
Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions. Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other work in my line made to order at shortest notice and at lowest prices. J. C. MILLER,
No. 107 Poydras Street.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
No. 174 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture.
Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,
DEALER IN
Fancy and Staple Groceries,
COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.
Goods delivered free of charge to all parts of the city.

GLASS STAINERS
CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.
CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY
Estimates and Samples on application.
WM. COULTER & SON
102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

FAVORITE SONGS
New Collection Gems of Sacred Music, by the Christies, for singing classes and congregations. Prof. McIntosh and the Maple Gift Quartette say it is the best book of the kind. Price 35 cts. by mail. Specimen pages free. Address R. M. Carroll & Co., Cincinnati, O.

EPILEPSY OR FITS cured by Dr. Ross' Epileptic Bullets. Trial package free. For circulars, evidence of success, etc., address ROSS BROS., Hedlund, Ind.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.
"Every Plank in America Should be Graced by a Copy."
$5,000!
—IN GOLD—
WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committees
FOR
RICHARD WAGNER'S
Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.
Now Arranged for Piano by
THEODORE THOMAS,
(Played by his Orchestra nightly,)
And Published by
JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
CINCINNATI, O.
Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S
STEEL PENS.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.
MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,
No. 91 John Street, New York.
JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON,
HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

MISCELLANEOUS.
TO THE PUBLIC.
ASCERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "Most Magnificent Perfume Tobacco" at Grand Point St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am for the following manufacturers of Grand Point:
THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT
GUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 13 Conti street.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.
ODELL & WRIGHT,
85 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.
Obtain Always Best Market Prices.
The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specialty attended to. Liberal advances on cotton or other readily salable produce with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the "RANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:"
Grangers' Choice XXXX, Grangers' Hope XXXX,
Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX,
Grangers' Best XXXX,
which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those who do the sugar sections.

OCEAN SAW MILL.
W. G. TOOMER late of Lumber Act'l Comm'r,
SUPERINTENDENT.
LUMBER shipped up or down the Mississippi River can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and save damage by extra handling.
Large orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Wild and Oak, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar.
LUMBER AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge Timber and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths.
P. O. Box 98. Railroad office at Pascagoula, Miss. Cable address, TOOMER.

RICE BROS. & CO.,
80 AND 82 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
HARDWARE,
NAILS AND CUTLERY,
Tinners' Stock and Tools,
AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
SOLE AGENTS FOR
The Charter Oak Stoves.

J. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.
Ladies', Gent.'s, Misses' and Children's
BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.
Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods, at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

H. J. RIVET,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines
AND PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,
Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
Proprietor of the celebrated Peychaud's Bitters

TO THE PUBLIC.
Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to 152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,
WHERE HE CONTINUES TO
BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK
And Repair Furniture
of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN BOIS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LAHA,
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN
Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,
UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, Cornices, Lace and Nottingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.
☞ Frames made to order—a specialty.
No. 90 Camp Street,
NEW ORLEANS.

BLACKMAN'S
COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
131 ..... CARONDELET ST. 131
Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to
J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

MEDICAL.
DUCONGE'S
PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP
NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, well-established virtue and its high reputation in all ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Breast and Throat, is so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Bowels, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.
It has been found highly beneficial in all Inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Diarrhœa or Dysentery, and Summer Complaint, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.
In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found almost efficacious in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.
Besides its acknowledged certainty of curing every extraordinary medicine has, over many pounds of the same nature, the decided advantage, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children. It requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, and only because the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar excellence this Sirup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families where only occasionally keeping the bottle well corked.
Directions for Taking the Sirup.—Grown persons can take from half to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.
Persons much troubled during the night can take two tablespoonfuls of the Sirup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a night's rest.
Children from three to five years old may take from four to six teaspoonfuls, during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three to four hours. For sale by
A. FARBOUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 39 Chartres St.
And by all druggists.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS
INDUCED by the demand, especially existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved, by extensive experience, to be safe, generally useful, and peculiarly suited to family practice. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions, general advice as to the treatment of the sick, etc.
No. For—
1. Fever. 2. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3. Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4. Croup, Hooping Cough.
5. Whooping or Spasmodic Cough.
6. Diarrhœa. 8. Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
9. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10. Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11. Worms, Colic or Fever.
12. Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
13. Toothache, Neuralgia, Neuralgic Headache.
14. Sick Headache, Vertigo.
15. Sore Throat, Quinsy.
16. Ear Discharges, Deafness.
17. Sore Mouth, Thrush, Ulcerated Sore Throat.
18. Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19. Kidney Affections, Gravel.
20. Suppressed, Scanty or Painful Periods.
21. Profuse Periods, Prolapsus.
22. Painful Periods, Bearing-down Pains.
23. Whites, too Profuse Periods.
24. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Pains.
25. Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fever Sores.
26. Sore of Weak Eyes.
27. Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28. Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29. Dropsy.
30. Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions, Impotency, Sexual Decline.
31. Chronic Complaints generally.
32. Disease of Heart, Palpitation, etc.
Mailed free on receipt of price. Humphrey's Phosphorated Bitters, and Chill Powders sent free.
Agent for BANNING'S HOMŒOPATHIC DENTAL MATERIALS.
Agent for HUMPHREY'S HOMŒOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices reduced 33⅓ per cent. of expense.
Twenty vials, plain case and book ..... $ 5 00
Twenty vials, morocco case and book 7 00
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book 10 00
Angell's Homœopathic Pharmacy,
152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.
B. ANGELL, M. D., and S. MAY, Homœopathic Physicians.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER
THE MYSTERY
Or Turner's Hair Tint
HARMLESS—BEAUTIFUL—PERFECT
This preparation has received the approval of the scientific world, and is conceded to have superseded all other preparations for the hair.
No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.
Applied to any hair, it imparts a beautiful and lasting color, which can neither be washed nor rubbed off, and which will not injure the hair or the skin in any way.
Prepared by Mr. Turner.
Applied to white hair, it restores it to its original color, making it perfectly natural in appearance, and leaving the hair soft and glossy. It is the only preparation that will restore gray hair to its original color, from light brown to the deepest black, without the appearance of dye, producing any desired shade from light brown to the deepest black without the appearance of that dry and harsh appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery may be applied to a single hair or spot that is gray, and it can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when using other Hair Dyes.
Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, 50 cents, by the inventor and proprietor.
JAMES TURNER,
P. O. Box 2331. New York.
Wholesale Agents—J. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finlay, & Co., New Orleans; Hall & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE
Cures All Nervous
PAOLI'S
ELECTRO VOLTAIC
CHAIN BELT
Registered 1876.
Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt
GIVES a Continuous Current of Electricity, Combined with the Body, and cures all diseases arising from a Loss of Vital Force, Pain in the Back, Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Diseases, Functional Derangements, Paralysis, Sciatica, Impotency, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaint and all Diseases of Vital Energy, and will
EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE
After all Other Remedies have Failed.
It is endorsed by the most Eminent Physicians of Europe and America, and thousands that have been sick, and have been restored to health, give testimony as to its great curative powers. Pamphlets, journals and circulars forwarded on application, or on receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address
PAOLI BELT CO.,
42 Union Square, New York.
☞ Say what paper.
PRICES FROM $5 AND UPWARDS.

MISCELLANEOUS.
M. H. APPLEGATE,
PLUMBER
AND DEALER IN
Cooking Ranges and Builders' Hardware,
Bath Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Force Pumps, Lift and Force Pumps, Ale Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns.
110 Poydras St., New Orleans, La.
REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.
17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17
CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvets, Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers, Furniture and Curtain Cloths, Curtain Materials, Hollands, Table and Enamel Oil Cloths.
A. MORSELL.

MCKENDRICK,
PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER,
623 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 623
Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials, Bath Tubs, Pumps, Hose, Gas Fixtures, etc. Paints mixed ready for use. Agent for the New Beauty, Elevated Oven Range, the good, and Hearth and Home Cooking Stoves.

Scientific.

A composition has been invented replace the coloring matters now d for printing paper-hangings, ker, etc. Its base is caoutchouc the natural state, though gutta-ha and other like gums are etimes employed; the base is re-d to a paste with benzine, and e organic coloring matter added.

The old system of fog bells on geron's coasts is being fast supper-ed by the steam whistle and the al gun. The use of gunpowder e to means a modern experiment such purposes, and it only re-ns for scientists to add certain tle adjustments to the guns, to sify the sound and send it in direction, to make the use of sig-guns an important feature in our service.

The Tyrian purple was one of principal articles of luxury among ancients. The color was com-nicated by means of several spe-of univalve shell-fish. Pliny ions two of these, one called mus, the other purpura. One only of the liquid dye could be ined from a small vessel or suck the throat of each mollusk. The r appears to have been very ble. Plutarch observes in his of Alexander that at the taking sa the Greeks found in the l treasury of Darius a quantity rple stuffs, of the value of 5,000 nts, which still retained its ty, though it had lain there for ears."

The great reflector of the Paris rvatory is at last completed. Its or is of silvered glass, 1.2 meters ost exactly 4 feet) in diameter, with a focal length of 8 meters, ttle more than 26 feet. The in-ment is arranged as a so-called onian—i. e., the observer is d near the open end of the tube looks into it at right angles to direction in which it is pointed, light being sent to the eye by a l flat mirror set at an angle of grees in the center of the tube, performance is said to be very lent of this we can judge better its work appears. The telescope unted in the open air, on an orial stand of peculiar construc-which from the figures looks as night be troubled by vibrations, gular axis, supported at both after the old English fashion, es rather long and springy. observer reaches his position by t of movable tower, which ls on a circular railway. When nstrument is not in use it is cov-by a shed, which can be rolled. portrails when not wanted. Our flector of greater power than it s ever been constructed—that of Rosse, 6 feet in diameter. Three s have been built of the same the famous 4-foot telescope of elder Herschel long ago dis-tled, the great reflector of Mr. ell, and the telescope of the Mel-ne Observatory. Next to it rank reflectors the smaller instru-nt Lord Rosse, 3 feet in diame-the instrument of the Marseilles ratory, which has a silvered rror 0.5 m of a meter 31 s in diameter; and that at y Draper, of this city, with an ture of 28 inches. The optical of the Paris telescope is by Mu-the mechanical by Eichens. It be under the charge of M. Wolf, will employ it chiefly upon the ets and their satellites. A gigan-factor is also under way for the observatory, to have an aper-of 31 inches; but it will be some before its completion.

Prof. B. S. Hedrick, of Washing-read a paper at the Detroit meet-the American Association for Advancement of Science, ex-atory of the modes and the essen-character of the operation by h soft iron is made to cut hard. The development of heat by on has been known for ages. A recent discovery is that the ations of rolling and rubbing the effect of changing the mole-structure of iron and steel, ening and rendering more com-even cold iron, and hardening ll as condensing steel. In the nt's letters from Pittsburg, at ime of the Engineer's Conven-here, during last June, the oper-s of a soft-iron circular saw, at h velocity, used in cutting steel, described. Mr. Jacob Reese, of city, had been endeavoring to ruct a machine to cut hardened steel. He accomplished it at by means of a saw of soft ght iron—merely a circular disk ating at high velocity. With low this would not cut at all; but running at about twenty-five and feet per minute the disk cut gh steel rapidly, giving out an use cascade of sparks in the ation. It was found on examin-the débris beneath the disk that rticles of steel were not simply ed off. They were welded to er in a pyramid like stalagmite, e snow icicles formed on the top ument Washington. Prof. Hedrick tained that real fusion had taken aming the particles of steel. disk is very little heated, but the is actually melted and drops . Yet the bar on each side of cut is not heated enough to draw temper or oxidize the metal: l bars of steel two inches or three es in diameter are thus cut, gh in as many minutes. The metal disk is about forty-two es in diameter. The naked hand be passed through the jet or m of flying sparks during the ation without being burned, since particles of melted metal are in condition known as the sphe-l state.

"What! no more ammunition?" the captain of a military com-on a field-day. "No, no more," sed his men. "Then cease fir-replied the officer."

In New Hampshire temperance is assuming vast proportions. ty-five thousand persons have sign-the pledge since the movement an.

BUSINESS CARDS.

FLASPOLLER & NELSON,
WHOLESALE
Grocers and Commission Merchants,
NOS. 84 & 86 TCHOUPITOULAS ST.,
Cor. Lafayette, New Orleans, La.

THOMAS OWEN,
DEALER IN
Fancy and Staple Groceries,
CHOICE TEAS, ETC.
Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.
Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET,
AT
NEVERS & HERY'S,
SUCCESSORS TO
I. C. POOLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

LOUIS BUSH, Of Lafourche. JOHN B. LEVERT, Of Thibodaux.
BUSH & LEVERT,
COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,
And General Commission Merchants,
31 PERDIDO ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MARTIN WEYDIG,
NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,
MANUFACTURER OF
SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.
Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

CHEAP AND CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.
D. MORIARTY,
Nos. 249, 251, 253 and 255 Poydras St.,
(Head of Poydras Market.)
A constant supply of fresh Staple and Fancy Groceries. Pure Green and Black Teas a specialty. Goods delivered free of charge and satisfaction in quality and price guaranteed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.
AIKEN & WATT,
COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.
Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

NEW LEATHER STORE.
A. [illegible] CAU,
IMPORTER AND DEALER IN
French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,
Shoe Findings, etc.,
40 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS.
Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,
DEALER IN
WOOD, COAL AND ICE,
Corner Philip and Peytonia Streets,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Meal and Feed kept on hand. Free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,
OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES.
At Low Figures for Cash.
Country Merchants and Planters will do well to call before purchasing elsewhere.
B. MUMME,
No. 50 Magazine street, and
No. 61 Levee street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,
GENERAL ENGRAVER,
101 CANAL STREET 101
Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.
Special attention given to Crests, Monograms etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,
BOOK BINDER, RULER AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,
Camp Street, ... 92
(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.
Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,
DEALER IN
MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,
Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,
Bet. Canal and Customhouse,
NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Braselman & Adams') wish to inform the community that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be excelled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.
MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,
ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,
And General Housesmith.
Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences and Verandahs of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings,
129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.
Room 24, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. H. GRISWOLD & CO.,
COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,
WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS
AND SILVERWARE.
Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
70 Carondelet St. 70
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
COTTON FACTORS,
59 CARONDELET ST. 59
NEW ORLEANS.
Liberal cash advances made on shipments of Cotton.

KRIEGER & BIENVENU,
MONUMENTS, TOMBS,
HEAD-STONES, TABLETS, MANTELS AND PERY RAILINGS,
And all kinds of Marble Work.
Nos. 119 and 121 CAMP STREET,
New Orleans, Louisiana.

THE DOMESTIC &
LOCK-STITCH SEWING MACHINE.
WILL LAST A LIFE TIME.
WILCOX & GIBBS' celebrated Twisted Loop Stitch Sewing Machine, always ready and in order. Needles for all kinds of Sewing Machines.
M. S. BUSHNIK,
53 Charlton street, New Orleans.

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,
And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.
Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,
Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.
An full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Ropes. Keep a complete assortment of Froelen and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

CRESCENT MACHINE
AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,
Corner of Forsher and St. Joseph Sts.,
NEW ORLEANS.
JOHN BLACKADIEH, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, constructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

E. RATELLE,
DEALER IN CARPETINGS,
609 ..... MAGAZINE STREET, ... 609
Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans.
Flour Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Table and Piano Covers, Crumb Cloths, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Enameled Oil Cloths, Barbups, Pins, Gimps, Tassels, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticking and Springs, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP-TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of DeKalb street, Sixth District, New Orleans. Office, No. 45 Tchoupitoulas, between Valence and Bordeaux streets. L. CAIRO, Sr., Agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths. Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc. Also Wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order at Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 226, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 2, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.

J. SCHUM. S. ALBRIGHT HOSKIN.
J. SCHUM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.
102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.
A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.
LANGE & LEGENDRE,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS
AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,
Office and Warehouse, 47 Tchoupitoulas STREET,
New Orleans, La.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,
WHOLESALE GROCERS,
AND DEALERS IN
PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,
Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,
(Formerly New Levee Street.) New Orleans.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
MORRIS & CO., PROPRIETORS
401, 403, 405 and 407 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,
SURGEON-DENTIST,
Office and Residence: NO. 508 ROYAL STREET,
(Late of 49 Canal street.) Three doors from corner of Spain, New Orleans.
Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Telephonic Call No. 1,048.

A. L. TUCKER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)
1030 COMMON STREET 1030
(Up Stairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL. A CARD. To customers of the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to 714 ST. CHARLES, next door to corner of Julia street. This will be found a convenient location for all parts of the city, and for my personal business and ease of access by car lines.
My patrons need scarcely be reminded that on this new location I shall continue to devote my time to the practice of Dentistry, the duties of which I have endeavored faithfully to discharge.
J. H. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNUM,
SURGEON DENTIST,
508 MAGAZINE STREET 508
Near the Market.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
419 Magnolia St., Corner of Jackson,
NEW ORLEANS.
Office Hours: Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,
No. 219 CARONDELET STREET,
Between Julia and St. Joseph
New Orleans, La.

C. E. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice of Louisiana. W. RANKIN. W. H. TOMPKINS.
MERRICK, RANKIN & FOSTER,
ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS AND SOLICITORS,
Office: Carondelet street and Commercial Place,
NEW ORLEANS.

BATHS! BATHS!
NO. 107 CANAL STREET.
RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS are Sanitary. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. Turkish or new Improved Vapor, Sulphur and Fresh Water Baths at all hours every day. Ladies and Gentlemen attended by Ladies.
J. KLOTZ.

PERWEIN is the name of a new remedy introduced in the Journal of Materia Medica for January as particularly valuable for Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and lungs. Those of public speakers, and gives several special cures.

MISCELLANEOUS.

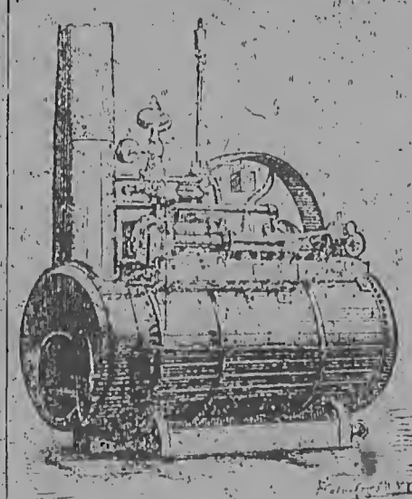
GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, STORE HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful flame equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

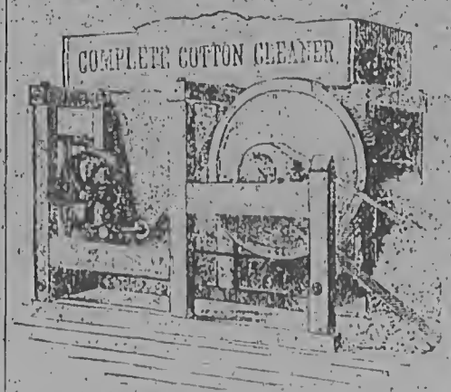
THESE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.
There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, Lighted this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—see page two No Dross, Pumps or Blowers to corrode or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of mud and all foreign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Tar, Odor or Dirt. Our Works are as Compact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter business, making it is impossible to add, suggest, devise or produce, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in Economizing gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, the cost from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; They are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.
Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.
State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,
106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



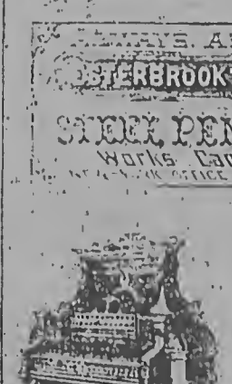
PAYNE'S
Portable Engines.
3 TO 15 HORSE POWER.
B. J. WEST,
SOLE AGENT,
115 and 117 Magazine Street,
NEW ORLEANS.
SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.



Manufactured and sold by
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.
Send for Circulars and Price list.
FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

The Compress Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer of ginner.—thoroughly removes all Dirt, Dust, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.
No gin house should be without one of those "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.



PHILIP WERLEIN,
NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 84 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

LOUISIANA ILLUSTRATED.
2 VOLS. 1,251 PAGES.
Its Topography and Valuable Resources.
BY DANIEL DENNETT.
PRICE, POSTAGE PAID, $4.00.
10,000 Copies Just Published. 3,000 Copies Sold.
The Literary Notices of New Orleans have given Mr. Dennett's work high commendation.
Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.
It is a book which has long been wanted and of great value. I can safely and cheerfully recommend it to all interested in the world.
C. F. HOLT, Bookseller,
Opposite the Postoffice.
During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had about as much information of Louisiana as any one. Mr. Dennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS supersedes it. The book that has been called for. It does full justice to the many patrons in the city who consider it a perfect gem, and were generous with their praise. I would regard it as useless to attempt to sell any other work on Louisiana.
C. C. HALEY, Bookseller,
Commercial Place,
Between Baronne and Carondelet Sts.
Any specimen of book or literary knowledge of Louisiana will find much interesting that the work just issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, LOUISIANA AS IT IS, supplies, and long felt want. It is a complete encyclopedia of information. The whole world for the book to be in every and to every person.
JAMES A. GRESHAM,
Camp and Diamond Streets.
Readers in the city and country everywhere should send for the "Louisiana as it is," also valuable document of HOUSE EX. DOC. No. 11, 43d Congress, 1st Session, 1873-74, 1,000 pages, 8vo, and 12 Camp Street, New Orleans.

Barnett's Iodo-Sarza!
THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER KNOWN. Now in use for the first time in the South, having already been in use in other parts of the country, where its merits are appreciated.
Anti-Rheumatic and Blood-Purifying Preparation.
Have been fully established. Circulars containing complete treatment of the afflictions of this WONDERFUL MEDICINE can be had from TRUE, RICKSON & HARTE,
Sole Agents for the South,
No. 540 Canal Street.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamps for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 152 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

RICHARD RHODES,
LATE E. CHARLEVILLE,
SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,
509 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS,
Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.
Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and everything requisite with the Gunner, Waterside and Field.
GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of every Importation. Also sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and everything in the line of the Hunters, will be sold at the Lowest prices for cash. Also, the only first-class Pistol Shot Gallery in the South. Open from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Entrance on St. Charles St.
Fishing Tackle, Guns repaired, Locks, Stocks and Barrels made to order.

FOR THE LAKE!
OFFICE OF THE
NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO.
No. 1 Union St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.
FOR THE LAKE. The regular trips over New Orleans and Metairie Railroad to the Lake Road will begin running on SATURDAY, APRIL 22.
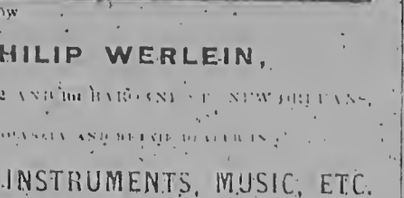
For the present trains will leave Magazine Railroad Depot, corner Magazine and Canal streets, at 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. The last train leaves the Lake at 6 o'clock P. M. Large Hotel Car Steam to the Lake Resort.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.

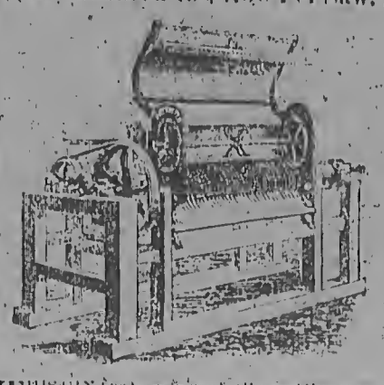


Pistols Pistol & Fancy
CAN BE CARRIED IN THE POCKET. THEY ARE NOT A WALKING CANE OR UMBRELLA. THEY ARE NOT A WALKING STICK. THEY ARE NOT A WALKING CANE OR UMBRELLA. THEY ARE NOT A WALKING STICK. Blues Barrel, Rifle Bore. For sale by dealers. Pocket Rifle Bore Pistols, with Patent Cartridges, sent by mail, post paid, to any address in the United States, on receipt of price, $2.50.
AGENTS WANTED.
A. A. GRAHAM,
Dey Street, New York.

MAGIC. PUFF! PUFF! PUFF!
Magical Puzzle Box.
Thousands of Magical Boxes out of this world. Endless amusement for the children. Sent to any address, with full directions, on receipt of 25 cents.
LOTHRIGE & CO.,
23 Dey street, New York.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED
"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.
PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.
Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It reduces all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head holders the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, producing a great deal more work within the same time, while consuming less steam or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton of this account of a greater market value. This improved saw, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every bale ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.
JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,
GENERAL AGENTS,
59 ..... Carondelet St 59
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.
No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.
DEALERS IN
MACHINERY
SEND FOR PRICES
COMPARE OUR PRICES
MACHINERY
MILL STONES,
IRONS & PORTABLE
STEAM ENGINES.
MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW MILLS
AND COTTON PRESSES

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES
The Cheapest and Best
Farm Machinery,
OF ALL KINDS,
Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,
Lime, Plaster and Cement.
O. H. STOCKELL & CO.,
NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE AND STATIONARY
STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS,
SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
Without Patterns.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS
Of the Latest Designs and Best Quality.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL. 7000 in use.
Address POOLE & HUNT,
SEND FOR CIRCULARS BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.
LEEDS' FOUNDRY,
Cor. Delord and Fourcher Sts.
We are now prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Sugar Kettles, Drawing Machines, Shafting, Gearing, Pulleys, Hangers, Screws, Gudgeons, Furnace Doors, Grate Bars, and everything connected with Cast and Wrought Iron and Steam Work. Also Repairing of Machinery for Cotton, Sugar and Rice Planters. Orders from the country promptly attended to.
LEEDS & CO.
Mechanics and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.
IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION
COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.
HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING, Etc. Send for Price List and Catalogue and Price List.
GEORGE PLACE,
121 CHAMBERS AND 104 READE STREET,
NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,
Bell Founders, West Troy, New York,
FIFTY Years established. Church Bells and Chimes. Academy or Factory Bells, etc. Improved Patent Mounting. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.
Established in 1837.
Manufacture the celebrated Church, Academy, Factory, Locomotive, Plantation, Steamboat and other Bells. Improved Mountings. Warranted satisfactory. Illustrated Catalogue and Price List sent free.
E. A. & G. L. ARMSTRONG,
Cincinnati, O.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM BERGEN. MRS. ADA BERGEN.
Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,
NO. 131 CANAL STREET,
Next to the New Orleans Savings Institution.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.
A new, satisfactory way to buy Sewing Machines of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Lever Feed Lockstitch Hand Machine, $15. Warranted Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part pay for new ones. Second-hand Machines for sale. Orders from the country promptly attended to. Send for circulars.
MRS. A. A. GREGG.

Experience offers her services in purchasing and forwarding to order, at lowest possible rates, Furniture, Dress Goods, Carpets and Clothing, Fine Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Luxuries and Useful Articles, Perfumery, Patent Medicines, Bridal Presents, etc. Also to call on Ladies and children at their residences, and assist them in the selection of articles, etc. Best of references given. Address Miss E. H. BUTLER, 1,000 Fifth Ave., New York City. All inquiries promptly answered. When stamp or return postage will be appreciated. Orders filled on commission, which will be refunded if not satisfactory.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples worth $1, free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, May 23, 1876.

MONETARY.

Money is abundant in all the large cities of this country, as well as in Europe, which shows a lack of confidence in business circles. We are in no wise behind our sister emporiums; and as soon as the present crop is up and out of danger, so that factors know what they are advancing upon, the $14,000,000 on deposit in bank will find an outlet, as in former years. Rates of interest unchanged. Prices of stocks about the same.

Gold, 112¼, and in New York 112¼.

COTTON.

We have had a steady though quiet market during the past week; sales, 10,500 bales. New York market reported dull; sales, 5,464 bales; Orleans middling quoted at 12c. Liverpool market—Sales, 44,000 bales; middling Orleans, 6¼d.

The following, taken from W. C. Watts & Co's report from Liverpool, shows the state of that market, May 5:

"The Position, Etc.—There are so many and such world-wide causes affecting the course of prices for a great article of commerce like cotton that it is impossible for any one, even the most careful statistician or the most experienced operator, to determine with anything like certainty even the immediate future course of prices. Six weeks ago—say on the twenty-third of March—American cotton was practically ½d. to ¾d. per pound dearer than at present. It is safe to say no one then expected such a decline as this. Prices have now gone down to within about an ¼d. of the extreme depression at the end of February. This much is certain, that during the first three weeks in March the demand, whatever may have been its origin, was so very active that prices for American were forced up fully ¼d. on the better and about ¼d. on the lower grades. At the time this improvement set in there was, we think, more general depression in the trade, both here and at Manchester, than there is at present. The most prominent cause of the present depression appears to us to have grown out of the small spot demand. During the past six weeks the home trade have taken from this port an average of only 34,995 bales per week, and, including the 13,798 bales per week forwarded, makes the total deliveries from this port only 48,793 bales per week. If we take into account the deliveries from London, and assume the consumption of this country at 6,000 bales per week, which is generally considered a conservative estimate, it appears English spinners now hold 61,000 bales less than on the twenty-third of March, when the decline set in, and about 9,000 bales less than at the close of February, the commencement of the upward turn.

"The depression in nearly every article of commerce has, of course, enormously decreased the demand for money to carry on the ordinary trade of the country, and, hence we hear this week of short loans on government securities having been made in London at the unprecedentedly low rate of one half of one per cent. interest per annum.

"Taking, then, a broad view of the situation, cotton seems to be holding up as well, if not better, than money, or almost any article of produce, if we except provisions—American bacon, etc."

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Mid.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday			9	10¼	10¾	11
Thursday			9	10¼	10¾	11
Friday			9	10¼	10¾	11
Saturday			9	10¼	10¾	11
Monday			9	10¼	10¾	11
Tuesday			9	10¼	10¾	11

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

	Middling	Middling Fair	Good Ordinary
Wednesday			11
Thursday			11
Friday			11
Saturday			11
Monday			11
Tuesday			11

COTTON STATEMENT TO MAY 6.

Receipts at the Ports this week
Receipts at the Ports to May 6
Receipts at the Ports same time last year
Stock at Interior Towns May 6
Stock at Interior Towns last year
Stock at this and other Southern Markets May 6
Stock at this and other Southern Markets last year
Stock at Northern Ports May 6
Stock at Northern Ports last year
Amount afloat for Great Britain this week
Amount afloat for Great Britain to May 6
Amount afloat for the Continent this week
Amount afloat for the Continent to May 6
Total
Exported to Great Britain this week
Exported to Great Britain to May 6
Exported to France this week
Exported to France to May 6
Exported to the Continent this week
Exported to the Continent to May 6
Total exported to foreign ports this week
Total exported to foreign ports to May 6
Net deliveries to consumers this week, including overland to May 1
Net deliveries to consumers since September 1, including overland to May 1
Stock in Great Britain and Continent not cleared
Estimated stock in Great Britain and Continent
Actual stock in Great Britain and Continent
Stock in Great Britain and Continent last year
Increase as compared with corresponding week
Increase as compared with last year
Decrease as compared with corresponding week
Decrease as compared with last year

SUGAR. Market very firm; receipts light. We continue quotations of last week, as follows: Fair 8c., fully fair 8⅛c., prime 8¼c., yellow clarified 9@9¼, white 10@11c. Market firm.

MOLASSES. With light receipts the market has stiffened. Prices are as follows: Centrifugals 14c., fair 15c., prime 16c., strictly prime 16@18c., choice 19@20c.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 7@7½c. gross.

Fat grass-fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12.50@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$4 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@5½c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 4½ to 3 gallons per day, $50@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	1 35	11 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do. with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
B. J. West's corn mill	2 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	80 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4	4½
Nail rods	8	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	11 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 30	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 30	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights: Size of lights.	Sash, per pair. Unpainted.	Painted.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	$1 70		$2 00
10x12	1 95		2 25
12x16	2 95		3 25
Sash Doors:	Single.		Double.
3 feet 6 inches x 7 feet	$3 80		$4 50
3 feet x 7 feet	4 50		5 —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —		4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 6 ft. 6 in. thick			$3 25
3 feet x 7 ft. 6 in. thick			3 75
3 ft. 6 x 7 ft. 6 in. thick	$3 75		4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	28	30
Goshen, choice	34	38
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	22	23
Java, choice O. G.	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15½
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	28	30
Sweet	28	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, Strawberries and Pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	3 50	3 75
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	13½	14½
N. Y. cream and Limburg factory	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	—	20 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	—	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	—	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	4 25	— —
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	5 25
Choice XXX	6 00	6 75
Choice family	7 00	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	1 50
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb:
Soda	8	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12
Oils:
Coal, in cans, ₱ gal	23	26
Benzine, in cans	—	50
Coal, in barrels, best	17	19
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels,
Centrifugal	— —	15
Fair	— —	16
Prime to choice	15	18
Golden and Rapid strips	18	20
Half bbls. to and kegs 100 more	— —	— —
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb
No. 2	— —	2½
Ordinary	— —	4
Fair	— —	5½
Prime to choice	— —	6½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6
Starch, ₱ lb	— —	5
Salt, in sacks
Fine	1 00	1 10
Coarse	1 00	1 05
Sugar, in bbls:
Fair	— —	8½
Prime	— —	9½
Choice	— —	9¾
Yellow clarified	— —	10
White clarified	— —	10½
Crushed	— —	11½
Powdered	— —	11½
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	60
Cinnamon	— —	52
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong	— —	1 00
Green Imperial	— —	1 20
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow choice	— —	80
White, mixed	— —	70
Oats, ₱ bushel:
Sold to feed dealers	45	48
Bran, choice, ₱ cwt	85	90
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	25 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton Seed Meal	24 00	25 00
Cow Peas, ₱ bushel	1 50	2 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb:
Breakfast	11	11½
Shoulders	9	10
Sides, clear rib	11½	12
Sides, sm'd	12½	13
Hams, sugar cured	14	15
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	22 50	24 00
Dry Salted Beef:
Shoulders	9	9½
Hams	10	10
Clear rib sides	12½	12½
Clear sides		12½
Lard, ₱ lb:
Choice in kegs		13
Choice, leaf		11½

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India		10
Jute		10½
Ties, Arrow, best		6
Beard		6½
Twine, hemp		15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	38
Calf skins, Galveston	50 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stern's raw bone superphosph.	60 00	— —
Stern's fine ground Bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed (
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands,	— —	8
Standard brands,	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands,	— —	7½
Choice brands,	— —	10½
Cotton, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	10½
Stanton, Allen & Hamilton	— —	9
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	15½
Good	19	25
Osnaburgs:
Light	11½	12
Heavy	10	11
Stripes	11	15
Checks	11	15
Denims	12	25

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelder and Jones boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common hand pegged, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	14 00
Batchelder brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Kossuth brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	17 50

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES, By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

EAST MISSISSIPPI FEMALE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The closing exercises of the present term will begin with the commencement sermon, by Rev. C. B. Galloway, on Sunday, June 4, 1876.

Monday, June 5.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Readings by pupils, and lecture by Rev. T. S. West on "American Archæology."

Tuesday, June 6.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Exhibition.

Wednesday, June 7.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Musical concert.

Thursday, June 8.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Commencement. Baccalaureate address by Rev. Benjamin J. Jones. Annual meeting of the board of trustees at 3 P. M.

Friday, June 9.—Levee in honor of graduating class from 9 to 11 P. M.

The visiting committee will take due notice, and are expected to attend. J. W. ADKISSON.

THE Meridian District Conference will convene at Waynesboro, Miss., June 23. Preachers will please forward to me the names of all the delegates and local preachers from their several charges. H. R. SINGLETON.

THE Meridian District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, Miss., beginning on Friday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock, Bishop Paine presiding.

Members should report at Turner & Taylor's store on Thursday, if possible, for assignment to quarters. JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Wells the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. B. K. SMITH, P. C.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The trustees will meet on the camp ground on Thursday, the first day of June next. All persons desiring to select lots or tents, or seeking information respecting the approaching camp meeting, are invited to be present.

W. H. FOSTER, President.
PHILIP HALLORAN, Secretary.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held, commencing on Friday, July 14, and continuing from eight to ten days, on the Seashore Camp Ground, situated and fronting directly on the Gulf of Mexico, one mile west of Biloxi, midway between the cities of New Orleans and Mobile, and only distant a few hundred feet from the railroad.

W. H. FOSTER,
President Board of Trustees.
P. HALLORAN, Secretary.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez and Kingston at Natchez	June 24, 25
Fayette, at Bellevue	July 1, 2
Rocky Springs, at Grindstone	" 9
Vicksburg	" 16, 17
Port Gibson	" 22, 24
Clover Hill	" 29, 30
Rolling Forks	" 31, Aug. 1
Carthage, at Lake	Aug. 5, 6
Mount Olivet	" 12, 13
Scott's Warren	" 19, 20
Scott's Warren	" 26, 27
North's Warren	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will begin at Port Gibson on Wednesday, July 19. A Bishop is expected to be in attendance.

25 F. M. FEATHERSTON, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Forest Street, at Homewood	June 17, 18
Morton Circuit, at Orange House	" 17, 18
Hickory circuit, at Spring Hill	" 24, 25
Newton circuit, at Newton	July 1, 2
Fannin Circuit, at Richland	" 8, 9
Prentiss circuit, at Folkville	" 15, 16
Raleigh Circuit, at Mount Zion	Aug. 5, 6
Lake circuit	" 12, 13
Union mission	" 19, 20
Pinkneyville circuit	" 19, 20
Walnut Grove circuit	" 26, 27
Brandon station	Sept. 2, 3
Pelahatchie circuit	" 9, 10

25 WILL H. LEITH, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Woodville station	June 24, 25
Clinton station	" 30, July 1
Wilkinson circuit	29, 30
Jackson and Pinkneyville, at Salem	" 30
Silver Creek, at Concord	Aug. 5, 6
Bullard	" 12, 13
East Feliciana	" 19, 20
Franklin, at Clear Creek	" 19, 20
Woodville, at Antioch	" 19
Mount Carmel, at Mount Moriah	" 22, 23
Centreville, at Centreville	" 26, 27
Pontchartrain	" 26, 27
White Plains	" 26, 27

25 THOMAS PRICE, P. E.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising a General Index, Alphabetical Register for Church Members, Register of Official Members, of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Record of Annual, Quarterly and Church Conferences; Tables for Church Collections, and an Annual Summary of the Yearly Work, and Condition of the Church.

The Register contains about 250 pages, size 10 by 15 inches, of good heavy paper, handsomely lined, and will be supplied to Churches for $5 each.

ADDRESS

ROBT. J. HARP, Agent,
NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,
NEW ORLEANS.

$15 to $5! Send for particulars; Catalogue free. I. NASSON & CO., 111 Nassau Street, New York.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeFerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 134 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Tub.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice), 130 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage, Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common Street,
New Orleans.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other Route, being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, where through cars are stopped, without change, within two minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of the Main Entrance and principal Hotels—a great advantage to all persons who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Three Daily Express Trains run over this route, making direct connection, without a single wait or lay-over, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route it will be seen that from New Orleans and New York is only Seventy Hours and Eleven Minutes. There is no change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Sleeping Cars and Stone Ballast. The entire route, with double and treble tracks, and the best system of railroad telegraphing in the country, which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is unrivalled—combining mountain, valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and winding streams; in fact, as the European tourists say, "It is the Alpine country of America." "All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great thoroughfare."

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is wonderful, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion, as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will testify.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans.

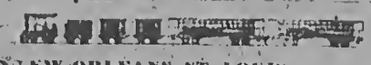
SIDNEY B. JONES,
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati, O.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Cincinnati, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.



NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS

AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE!

On and after October 31, 1875,

AT 5:30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Hospital street Depot:

DEPART.
Express	7 00 A. M.
Mail	5 30 P. M.
ARRIVE.
Express	12 30 P. M.
Mail	12 30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10 30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

☞ REFER TO

R. J. Harp, E. S. Keep, W. H. Foster.

D. L. MITCHEL,

Economical Purchasing Agent,

NO. 12 COMMERCIAL PLACE.

Bargains obtained and orders filled at auction, when practicable.

PICNICS! PICNICS!

ORLEANS RAILROAD CO.

By taking the cars of this company passengers going to the Fair Grounds will find all accommodations to enjoy a pleasant trip and the delightful place of amusement.

The cars of the company leave Clay Statue as follows: The Green cars direct, and the cars via Bayou St. John and Magnolia Garden and landing passengers at the central gate of the Fair Grounds.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents wanted to sell a Skirt Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. ORISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary and Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

We persistently confound a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Cambrics, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

"A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA KID Gloves are guaranteed and money returned or another pair given if not as they appear or wear when putting them on.

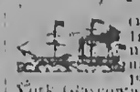
Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent if requested.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency.

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE.



Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Havre, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Hamburg and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamships run regularly between New Orleans and Liverpool via Baltimore.

Passage, all rates, to and from principal points in Europe and America. Cable and sailing communications interchanged. Shortest sea route, superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Safety the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage either way to all points through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates. Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from £1 upwards, payable in Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or other agencies, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B. Tickets drafts and exchanges sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to have arrangements at this office.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet.

"FORTUNE INN" A. No. 1 PACKET between Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Padiucah, Cairo, Memphis and all intermediate points. The Passenger Steamer

MARY HOUSTON.

Charles Miller, Master—A. Elliott Miller, Clerk.

Will leave as follows, viz:

FOR LOUISVILLE, Monday, May 29, at 5 P. M.
" " May 29, at 5 P. M.
" CINCINNATI, Saturday, June 3, at 5 P. M.
" LOUISVILLE, Monday, July 3, at 5 P. M.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to C. A. WAYNE, 14 Gravier St.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House 53 Camp Street,

FAIRBANKS & CO.

J. H. MEHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Heading, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to Sugar Planters. Office, 222 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard corner Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

$77 A WEEK TO AGENTS. Old and Young, Male and Female, in their locality. Terms and Outfit Free. Address P. O. VICKERY & CO., Augusta, Me.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1875.

The Singer Manuf'g Co.	249,858
Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Co.	[illegible]
Remington Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
Howe Machine Co. (estimated)	[illegible]
Weed Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
Domestic Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
Grover & Baker S. M. Co. (estimated)	[illegible]
Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
American B. H., etc., Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
Gold Medal Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
Wilson Sewing Machine Co	[illegible]
Victor Sewing Machine Co	[illegible]
Florence Sewing Machine Co.	[illegible]
J. E. Braunsdorff & Co. (Etna)	[illegible]
Secor Sewing Machine Co	[illegible]
McKay S. M. Association	[illegible]

Thus it will be seen that nearly ONE HALF of all of the Sewing Machines sold in the United States in the year 1875, by the fifteen different companies, were of the SINGER patent, which is sufficient evidence of its superiority over all. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List and ask for club rates. Address

The Singer Manufacturing Co.
91 CANAL STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Organs & Melodeons

The Oldest, Largest and Most Perfect Manufactory in the United States. Nearly 56,000

NOW IN USE.

No other Musical Instrument ever attained the same popularity.

☞ Send for Price Lists.

Address BUFFALO, N. Y.

The fact of ours being the oldest and largest factory in the United States, with nearly all instruments now in use, is a sufficient guarantee for our responsibility and the merits of our instruments.

GEO. A. PRINCE.

JUST PUBLISHED.

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL

SABBATH SCHOOL SONG BOOK

GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!
GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!
GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!
GOOD NEWS! GOOD NEWS!

Good News is full of Sabbath School songs, duets, quartettes, choruses, etc., for first class schools. Solos for Singing Classes, Conventions and Concerts. Nothing in the market can compare with it. Send for specimen pages and terms. Address

The Singer Manufacturing Co.
91 CANAL STREET
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Revised, correctly enlarged and improved edition.

CARMINA COLLEGENSIA.

This magnificent book has been revised, improved, and, besides being the most complete collection of Students' Songs, embracing three times the matter extant, is the cheapest. It is one of the most attractive books for use in parties and all informal gatherings. Price, in Cloth, $4; Gilt, $4 50.

Keep in remembrance Living Waters. Send $3 for a book for Prayer Meetings, etc. Thirty cents.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.

C. H. Dilson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Success

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1876. NO. 22.

SHARPS AND FLATS.

Down through the orchard wandered we
Where, bending low, each burdened tree
Hung full of foliage yellow.
'Twas morning, and the autumn sun
Shone on the leaves of gold and dun,
With radiance soft and mellow.

There came a blush upon her cheek
I thought my time had come to speak,
She seemed so sad and tender;
I toyed her snowy, dimpled hand,
But found no words at my command
My burning love to render.

At last we passed beneath a tree,
The branch that sheltered her and me
Reached low its luscious fruit.
"Be seated, pray," I gently plead;
"I cannot—cannot," soft she said,
"For to my walking suit."

Bric-a-Brac, in Scribner.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Committee on Overtures from the Synod Missouri, with reference to Roman Catholic baptism, reported they had carefully considered the subject and referred it back to the Assembly for its future consideration. The Committee on Home Missions made a very favorable but partial report. There are now one thousand and forty-five men engaged in the work, and the church should sustain them. Commodore Vanderbilt is very weak. His physicians are in constant attendance.

GALVESTON, May 23.—A fire destroyed the Southwick building, a three-story brick, corner of Strand and Twenty-Fourth streets, and two wooden buildings adjoining. Losses estimated at $80,000, partially covered by insurance.

The first sack of Texas flour shipped from Dallas to Galveston was sold at auction to-day for $305, and purchased by Brazil college importers. They will send it as the first Texas wheat to Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil.

SAVANNAH, May 23.—An important report on the nature and functions of the Presbyterian Church was submitted in the session this morning. The committee read from the address of 1861, that only full, unambiguous, and deliberate and authorized exposition of our views are contained therein. The foreign mission committee report it necessary to raise $75,000 the coming year. The report was accepted; and presbyteries urged by resolution to assist in raising funds. The discussion of the Pan-Presbyterian Council was renewed.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A report on promiscuous dancing, deploring the practice and regretting parties for dancing by members of Christian families, and counseling the church to arrest the evil, was adopted. There was a discussion, during which Dr. Talmage rose and said he had telegraphed to Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of Savannah, asking if any steps could be taken by this Assembly to get the views of the Southern Assembly in promoting a union between the Church of the North and the Church of the South, and received a reply that any spontaneous action of our Assembly would receive most respectful consideration. Dr. Talmage then offered resolutions setting forth that all expressions of an offensive nature between the two sections of the Presbyterian Church be buried, and that hands of fellowship be stretched to their Southern brothers to unite with them in fraternal relations, and requesting the Assembly at Savannah to send two delegates to the meeting in Brooklyn, advising them of their departure, and promising to send two delegates to Savannah, so that both bodies would not adjourn until the churches on earth and in heaven have begun the jubilee of glorious consummation.

After discussion, the resolution was referred to the Committee on Correspondence.

SAVANNAH, May 25.—The discussion on the Pan-Presbyterian question elicited amid considerable excitement in the General Assembly.

Dr. Bardwell opposed the recognition of the council in the sending delegates in an eloquent speech. He was followed by Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of Richmond, Va., in an expositive address, two hours in length, presenting an unanswerable argument in favor.

A vote was then taken on the resolutions providing for the purposes of the council, and providing for the representation of the Southern Presbyterian Church at the Pan-Presbyterian Council to be held in Edinburg in 1877. The resolutions passed by a vote of 78 to 39.

The Assembly is now holding three sessions daily.

SAVANNAH, GA., May 26.—At a session of the General Assembly to-day a report of the standing committee on the commissioners' fund, recommending abandonment of the system of per capita tax and the adoption of the old system of assessment, was adopted.

A resolution passed authorizing the appointment of one member from each synod represented in the Assembly as select delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council in Edinburg in 1877.

A resolution was adopted commending the Bible Society to the confidence and support of the churches. The following was adopted, with one dissenting vote:

Resolved, That in appointing delegates to the General Presbyterian Alliance, it is with the distinct declaration that it is not to be regarded as another higher court, but as an ambiguous committee appointed."

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Presbyterian Assembly holds its next session in Chicago. The committee on correspondence in regard to the relations with the Church in the South read the following:

The committee appointed to confer with the Presbyterian General Assembly now in session at Savannah, in reference to a basis of union between the two bodies, being unanimously and heartily in sympathy with the object which they were appointed to accomplish, and recognizing the fact that the two assemblies accept the same form of government and directory of worship:

"Resolved, That this Assembly reiterates its cordial desire for the establishment of fraternal relations with that Assembly on terms of perfect equality and reciprocity as soon as it is agreeable to it to respond to this assurance by a similar expression."

The report was adopted, and it was resolved to telegraph the report and resolutions to Savannah.

GALVESTON, May 26.—A Galveston News special from Brownsville, Tex., dated the twenty-sixth, says: "Escobedo remains at Matamoras. He has received reports of an engagement near Monterey between the government forces under Fuero and the revolutionists under Naronjo and Trevino, in which the latter were defeated. No confirmation or particulars. The revolution seems to be at a low ebb. Two Mexican war vessels, with provisions and reinforcements for Escobedo, arrived off Brazos from Tampico. All quiet along the border."

RICHMOND, May 26.—The municipal elections occurred yesterday. No disturbances. The Democrats were successful here by 2,000 majority. The Republicans carried Lynchburg only.

SAVANNAH, May 27.—The General Assembly closed to-day. The following delegates were nominated by a special committee and unanimously elected to the Pan-Presbyterian Council at Edinburg in 1877: Alabama—Rev. G. H. Webb, D. D., Hon. W. P. Webb; Arkansas—Rev. T. P. Welsh, D. D., John B. Hamilton. Georgia—Rev. Donald Frazer, Gen. A. J. Hensel. Kentucky—Rev. Stuart Robinson, D. D., James A. Mitchell. Memphis—Rev. J. J. Rice, D. D., Col. J. W. Clapp. Louisiana—Rev. B. M. Palmer, D. D., W. R. Lyman. Missouri—Rev. R. G. Brank, D. D., John Phillips. Nashville—Rev. John E. Bryson, D. D., C. Gordon. North Carolina—Rev. James R. Wilson, D. D., Judge David Schenck. South Carolina—Rev. J. B. Adger, D. D., J. J. Smythe. Texas—Rev. John W. Neil, James Lawley. Virginia—Rev. Moses D. Hoge, D. D., Col. J. T. L. Preston. At large—Judge Robert Ould, Rev. B. M. Smith, D. D., Rev. Allen Wright, Judge B. M. Estes.

The committee to whom were referred the resolutions from the Northern Assembly in regard to fraternal relations reported the following, which was unanimously adopted and telegraphed to Brooklyn:

"We are ready and most cordially enter on fraternal relations with your body on any terms honorable to both parties, and there is no explanation of what our feelings are. We send the action taken in the answer to the overture from the St. Louis Presbyteries, which is:

"Resolved, That the action of the Baltimore Conference, approved by the Assembly at St. Louis, explains with sufficient clearness the position of our church; but inasmuch as it is represented by the overture that misapprehension exists in the minds of some of our people as to the spirit of this action, in order to show our disposition to remove on our part real or seeming hinderances to friendly feeling the Assembly explicitly declares that, while condemning certain acts and deliverances of the Northern General Assembly, no acts or deliverances of the Southern General Assemblies are to be construed or admitted as impugning in any way the Christian character of the Northern General Assembly, or of the historical bodies of which it is the successor."

The Assembly selected New Orleans as the next place of meeting, on the third Thursday in May, 1877.

The Assembly is in session to-night, to await any message from the Northern Assembly.

Adjournment takes place to-night. Many members have already left.

LINCOLN, NEB., May 27.—A company hence a month ago, known as "Col. Storrs' squad, was attacked by Indians. Eleven out of twenty-two, composing the party were killed. Sons of wealthy Cincinnatians are among them.

NEW YORK, May 24. The Rev. Dr. Prime made a report from the Committee on Correspondence. He said that the South wind blew pleasantly this morning, and that the overture to the Southern Assembly adopted by this Assembly on Friday had been received by the members of the former body in the spirit of gentlemen and Christians. (Applause.)

Dr. Prime then read the answer of the Southern Assembly, and continued his report as follows:

The overtures of this Assembly having been received by the General Assembly in the South with such a cordial expression of gratification, the committee recommend that the same resolutions declaratory of the spirit in which this action is taken be adopted by this Assembly, namely: In order to show our disposition to remove on our part all real or seeming hinderances to friendly feeling, the Assembly explicitly declares that, while condemning certain acts and deliverances of the Northern General Assembly, or of the historical bodies of which the present General Assembly is the successor, they are not to be construed or admitted as impugning in any way the Christian character of the Southern General Assembly. The reading of this resolution was followed by loud applause.

Judge Strong moved the adoption of this resolution, which he believed would aid in the restoration of the fraternal relations between the two assemblies. All, he said, could meet on this common platform without taking back anything which could not conscientiously be retracted. He hoped that the resolution would be passed by a unanimous standing vote.

Rev. Drs. Fowler and Musgrove spoke in favor of the motion, which was then unanimously adopted in the manner suggested by Judge Strong. The result was followed by three rounds of applause, after which the whole Assembly rose and sang the doxology.

Commodore Vanderbilt is conscious, but very low. The members of his family are not permitted to see him.

FOREIGN

VIENNA, May 23.—The Turkish embassador to Austria, now at Pesth, has received a telegram announcing that the Porte is opposed to the scheme of the Berlin conference.

SALONICA, May 23.—Four more rioters who took part in the murder of the consuls have been sentenced to death, and thirteen to various terms of penal servitude, some for life.

LONDON, May 24.—The Standard of this morning says that one hundred tons of gunpowder and a million cartridges have just been dispatched from Woolwich to Gibraltar, Malta and the Mediterranean fleet. This is quite independent of the ordinary supply.

It was stated in Portsmouth on Saturday that all available workmen are to be placed at work on the ships which are nearest to a sea-going condition. The turret ship Thunderer is understood to be the first whose completion will be thus pushed forward.

Lloyds commenced taking war risks on Friday.

General Conference of the M. E. Church.

BALTIMORE, May 25.—Bishop Andrews presided over the General Conference to-day.

Rev. James H. Johnson, B. Tanner and W. F. Dickinson, fraternal delegates from the African Methodist Episcopal Church, were presented, and each addressed the Conference.

Cincinnati was selected, on the second ballot, as the next place for holding the Conference.

There was an exciting debate over the report excluding persons from appeal under sentence of censure, and without reaching a vote the Conference adjourned.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—Bishop Peck presided over the Conference. The report on freedmen was taken up. The amount collected in three years and four months for freedmen was nearly $200,000. The report says there is real danger that freedmen may to a large degree be perverted to Rome. The emissaries of this church are already at work among them, and they are meeting with success. They are filling their schools with the children and their asylums with orphans of the colored people.

The plans of the papal propaganda are far-seeing, and they never make haste. It is very well understood that whoever shall educate the freedmen will also possess them ecclesiastically, and the Romish Church has earnestly entered upon this work. It is said that a large class of colored young men from the South—some say nearly a hundred—are under training in Rome for the priesthood, who will, after a few years, reappear in their native land as propagators of the Romish faith. It is not as alarmists that we state these things, but, simply as utterings warning that the Protestants of America should hear and heed at the peril of their own religious faith. The duty of educating and evangelizing the people belongs peculiarly and exclusively to ourselves.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—Bishop Janes presided. Literacy reports were discussed all day, the question being the manner of appointing presiding elders. No conclusion was reached.

BALTIMORE, May 27.—In the General Conference to-day Bishop Scott presided. It was agreed to hold three sessions daily and adjourn on Wednesday. The majority report on the mode of electing presiding elders was adopted. It leaves the matter unchanged.

BALTIMORE, May 29.—Bishop Ames presided. The state of the church was taken up, the question of mixed Conferences, or a division of Conferences on the color line in the South, being the point under consideration.

The majority report recommended that the question of division in a white and black be left to the Conferences interested in the matter.

The minority report recommended that no new Annual Conference should be organized or new Conference lines established because of any difference existing between persons of African and Anglo-Saxon origin.

A rule was adopted limiting speeches to five minutes, and under this rule thirty or forty were made, principally in favor of the minority report. A number of amendments, as well as the minority report, were voted down under the previous question.

Afternoon Session.—Bishop Simpson presided.

The majority report, under discussion this morning, was adopted with amendments. As amended it provides that whenever it shall be requested by a majority of the white and colored members of any Annual Conference that such Conference should be divided into two or more Conferences, it is the opinion of this Conference that such division should be made, and the Bishop of the district is authorized to carry such request into effect. The provision applies to all Conferences, without regard to geographical position.

On motion of Dr. Fuller, a resolution was adopted providing for a division of the Georgia and Alabama Conference into two Conferences, each in accordance with the unanimous request from these Conferences.

The report of the Committee on Temperance, utterly opposing the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks, and in favor of legal prohibition, and advising all members of the church to abstain from the use of tobacco as injurious to both soul and body, was adopted. The report also recommended the Conferences not to pass candidates for the ministry who use tobacco. Adjourned until to-morrow.

The Christian Weekly makes some pertinent suggestions as to what can be done to get hold of non-churchgoers, and says:

It remains to be seen what churches and ministers can do for them after they are gotten hold of. To be personal, we mean, sir, that it is your business, not your minister's, to gather in a congregation; yours to open the church-doors wide, and then your own pew-door, and, above all, the door of your own heart; and, having done this, to go to your butcher, your baker, your porter, your clerk, your neighbor on the cars, or the ferry-boat, or across the street, and find out if he goes to church, and, if he does not, invite him to go with you, and give him a seat and a welcome when he comes. We mean that it is your business to take part in a visitation committee to visit all the households in your village and urge them to come in. We mean that it is your work to provide a series of cottage prayer-meetings as a step toward bringing in the regulars into the church, that nothing be lost.

But the work of the laymen to preach the gospel; it is the work of the clergy to teach all things which Christ has commanded. This is the general lesson inculcated by what is called the Moody movement.

A. L. O. E.—These cabalistic letters have occupied the attention of the reading world, especially of the young, for nearly a generation. The author, who uses them as her signature, has just started, as it were, upon a new life. These four letters, as now generally known, signify "A Lady of Old England," and this lady, it has more recently transpired, is Miss Charlotte Maria Tucker, late of England, but now a volunteer missionary in India. She is a grand niece of James Boswell, the author of the life of Dr. Samuel Johnson, and received her taste for letters by inheritance. Several years ago she commenced writing for the young, and displayed a happy talent for conveying moral and religious instruction in narrative form. One book grew out of another, and she continued to write, and her books continued to be read, until she had published more than fifty volumes, which have delighted and instructed the minds of hundreds of thousands in Britain and America.

WOLCOTT GO BACK ON HIM!—Recently a small appropriation for the Washington monument was up before the House of Representatives, and when his name was called, Mr. Cook, of Georgia, voted lustily for the bill. Congressman Butlington, a staid, old Puritan member from Massachusetts, crossed over to Cook and shook his hand, remarking: "Gen. Cook, I thank you for your vote. When one from the South, who occupied so distinguished a place there as yourself, joins in this patriotic spirit, it is peculiarly refreshing." Phil. bowed blandly, but a merry twinkle in his eye caused the crowd surrounding him to listen for his reply, which came out enthusiastically: "Not at all, sir, not at all; for, Mr Butlington, I never go back on a rebel and a slaveholder!" A peal of laughter followed the sally, and Speaker Kerr had to threaten the group with the offices of the sergeant-at-arms.

GIVE YOUR CHILD A PAPER. A child beginning to read becomes delighted with a newspaper, because he reads of names and things which are familiar, and he will progress accordingly. A newspaper in one year is worth a quarter's schooling to a child. Every father must consider that information is connected with advancement. The mother of a family being one of its heads, and having a more immediate charge of children, should herself be instructed. A mind occupied becomes fortified against the ills of life, and is braced for emergency. Children amused by reading or study are, of course, more considerate and more easily governed.

It is a remarkable fact that, although common sheep delight in verdant fields, religious flocks are not anxious to have green pastors.

An old bachelor says he always looked under the head of "marriages" for the news of the week.

Is it right that "Lent lectures" should very often be composed of borrowed sermons?

Centenary College.

ITS RAISON D'ETRE.

Every educational institution, as indeed every other institution that commands the patronage of a practical age like this, must have an objective point—a reason for its existence. To state the point in extremis, a university endowed with all the wealth of the Rothschilds could not flourish on the desert of Sahara or in the wilds of Africa. If Centenary College has this raison d'être, it will, with the well-directed aid of its patrons and friends, work out its destiny; if not, it matters but little what be its endowment, or what efforts be put forth to sustain it, it must go to the wall. We propose in this article briefly to consider this question.

And first, a chief ground on which the permanency of this institution rests is that it is and claims to be a real old-fashioned college—not a university, but a college. That we need universities there is no doubt; but there seems to be a popular skepticism as to whether colleges have any place in the modern curriculum. The old-fashioned idea of a university was an institution where graduates from colleges, and none others, might pursue their studies in higher branches, and study whatever profession each student had elected for his life work. The curriculum was, first, the school; second, the academy; third, the college; fourth and last, the university. The modern idea—which, is, by the way, an outgrowth of the mushroom development of the West—is that the university is a place where all sorts of people are taught all sorts of things, in all sorts of orders and in all sorts of ways, or not at all; so only the candidate will pay the bills, and not disturb the complacency of the board of control by any irrelevant suggestion that the mongrel concern does not rank next to Oxford and Cambridge in point of usefulness. There are not a few cases in which institutions of learning, so called, have sought to bolster up a feeble condition by an act of the Legislature changing their name from a college to a university, generally spelled with large capitals, increasing in size as the number of pupils diminishes; while in marked contrast with such ostentatious ambition we find the cases of Dartmouth College, which, though originally chartered as a university, abandoned the name for the less presumptuous name of college, under which it has done a genuine, and, since it was called forth by actual demand, a useful work; and also the case of Yale, which to this day, though possessing in perhaps a fuller degree than any institution in the land all the adjuncts of a true university, still modestly shrinks from the name of university, though conscious of its appropriateness. Centenary is, and is struggling to be, in a fuller sense a college, neither more nor less; and among colleges one of the strict conservative type, and as such deserves and will receive the patronage of the Southern people. This latter feature is no less important than the first. The old-fashioned idea is to drill the mind first, and store it afterward. "First build your barn, then harvest your crop." The modern idea is: "Cram whatever of mind you can get hold of with practical knowledge; get into it, in whatever way you can, and in any order, item knowledge; store it full of facts; subject every proposed study to the practical test: 'Cui bono?' Only be sure and express it in English, and ask: 'What is the use of it?'"

The trustees of Centenary College believe that, in spite of this prevalent and widely-spreading idea, there is left enough respect for the experience of mankind, and a sufficient consciousness that the real test of manhood is not so much what a man knows as what he is; and in any event they have a sufficient respect for themselves, and reliance upon the ultimate triumph of what is actual and right and true, to have fixed them in the resolve to adhere to the old landmarks, and trust to the good sense of the communities from which their patronage comes, and is sought, to sustain them in their course.

In this age of preference for "optional studies" we believe that there is left a better class, who will prefer a college where a man must learn A before he can attempt to learn B. At any rate, we mean to test this fact. The preparatory department in Centenary College has been objected to by some of the warmest friends of the institution, and not without cause. It is no part of the real self of the establishment. No one regrets its existence more than the trustees and faculty of the institution. No appeals are ever made to the public for its support or patronage. It results, first, from the lack of patronage of the college proper, and consequent necessity of giving employment to the faculty as an auxiliary merely; and, second, from the lack of preparation of the candidates for admission, and consequent necessity for extra drill before the regular course can be entered upon. It is a necessary adjunct of all colleges in the early stages of their life and growth; and Centenary has been born again since the war—as completely raised as though it had never lived before; happily, however, with no Lethean draft to bring to itself or its friends oblivion as to its glorious past career of usefulness.

We see that we must continue this paper, and we desire to close each part of it, indeed to make each line and word, pregnant with an earnest appeal to all the members of our Conference, and all friends of sound education, of thorough mental training, in the Southwest, to patronize this institution. Send your boys there. Make up your minds that training is better than stuffing—that mental power is better than cyclopedic learning. Fit them to enter the regular course by all means first; if you can; but send them at all events. Send money with them, if you can get it; but send the boys, with or without money, and let them worry if through, as many a brave lad has done before them.

W. H. GOODALE.

History of the Mississippi Conference.

MR. EDITOR: Permit us, through the columns of the ADVOCATE, to call special attention to a resolution of the last session of the Mississippi Annual Conference. The resolution referred to provided that each preacher should forward at least the sum of $10 to Rev. J. A. B. Jones, Port Gibson, Miss., to secure the publication of the first volume of the History of the Mississippi Conference, by Rev. J. G. Jones. We regret to say that up to this period nothing has been received on this account. We hope that the preachers will not be unmindful of the obligation incurred by this resolution, and also by the original unanimous request that the history should be written.

The venerable author is approaching the conclusion of the task, to which he has given years of labor, and it is time that it should be placed before the public. It is evident to those who have been permitted to examine his perfected work that he alone is the proper historian of the Mississippi Conference. His own experience has been large and varied, he has had access to original sources, and has diligently and faithfully collected materials of the rarest character out of which to construct these annals. It is believed that here we have a work reliable, unique and of permanent value. Thousands will delight to read the incidents which illustrate the faith and heroism of the brave and holy men who first preached the gospel and planted Methodism in these Southern lands. There are also references to social and secular matters in the past which give additional interest to the production. The book will be read, and it will do good.

Not only are we of Mississippi concerned in it, but it is of equal interest to those of Alabama, Louisiana and Texas, since these States were once included in the original Mississippi Conference. Facts long forgotten in the localities where they occurred have been rescued from oblivion, and will first appear in these memorials. Let the volume which records them see the light. The plan suggested in the resolution is a practical one. By this co-operation of effort, and by it alone, the first volume of this history may be speedily published. It is suggested that subscriptions be taken at $2 per copy, and the cash forwarded immediately.

A circular setting forth these things has been addressed to each preacher in our Conference, and it is hoped that they, as well as all others under whose eyes this may come, will exert themselves in the matter.

Respectfully,

F. M. FEATHERSTUN.
E. H. MOUNGER.

PORT GIBSON, MISS., May 11, 1876.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1876.

THE SUN AND THE INSECT.

BY ELBERT S. CORTELYOU.

Oftimes I sit alone at close of day
And gaze with rapture on the glowing sky,
Which holds a mystery which no prophet may
That carries thought beyond the mind's eye.

Their clear reflection of [illegible]
In which are [illegible]
Somewhere [illegible]
In regions farther than the eye can view.

Two worlds expand diverse as [illegible]
The one a shaded [illegible]
Yet still embedded in [illegible]
Prophetic glory or infant's [illegible]

Above this world of [illegible]
Another lifts its vast and [illegible]
Beyond's he faith where [illegible]
Its flaky spirit [illegible]

St. Paul Baptized Standing Up.

MR. EDITOR: Of all the apostles of the Lord Jesus Christ, the baptism of only one is explicitly mentioned. This is a remarkable fact in view of the hue and cry of modern times about baptism. It cannot be proven by scriptural statement that the original "twelve" were baptized with water. However, the baptism of Paul is recorded; and the language employed and circumstances detailed warrant the belief that he was "baptized standing up." The fact of his baptism is twice mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles. In the first instance it reads: "And he received sight forthwith, and arose and was baptized." In the second instance the record says: "And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." "Arose" and "arise" are translations of the participle anastas, which is the aorist participle of the verb compounded of ana, up, and istemi, stand—stand up. With these definitions the first quotation may be read: "And having stood up, he was baptized." There is but one conjunction "and" in the Greek. In the second quotation there is no conjunction "and" between "stand up" and "be baptized." Besides, the verb "baptize" is in the aorist infinitive, and not in the imperative. The Latin is baptizare. With these explanations the passage will read: "Stand up to be baptized, and to wash away thy sins," etc.

St. Paul was baptized "in the house of Judas," on "the street which is called straight," in the city of Damascus. While yet blind, Paul had a vision in which he saw a man "named Ananias coming in" where he was. This vision was actually fulfilled. "Ananias went his way, and entered into the house;" and, putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost." And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales; and he received sight forthwith; and, having stood up" in the house where he had been for three days, "he was baptized."

The mode of his baptism is settled by the use of two words. These words are baptidzo and louo. However, louo is united with apo in this use of it. The reading is as follows: "Anastas baptisthi, kai apolousai tas hamartias sou," etc.; which is translated: "Stand up to be baptized and to wash from thy sins." Here it is very clear that baptidzo and louo are interchangeable. If the words are equal, as here employed, to find the meaning of one settles the meaning of the other. The meaning of louo is found, as used in the instance of the Philippian jailer. It reads: "And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes." The original reads: "Elousa apoton plegon"—he washed from the stripes. If the jailer washed from the stripes only, he did not wash the whole body; therefore the water was applied to the stripes, and not the stripes to the water. Now this word—louo, wash—is interchanged with baptidzo in Paul's baptism; and as louo means the application of the cleansing element to the subject, and not the subject to the element, and as Paul was baptized by the water applied to him in the house of Judas while he was standing up, therefore Paul was baptized by pouring. And to the manner of pouring the water upon Paul, the work of the Holy Ghost, as to mode, was symbolized. Accordingly the Holy Ghost was poured upon him until he was filled."

So long as we have such example as is furnished in the conduct of the great apostle to the Gentiles we are upon solid and safe principles in administering baptism by pouring upon subjects, either standing, sitting or kneeling. ANDES DOWLAND.

LAWRENCEVILLE, ALA., May 9, 1876.

The Way to Do It.

MR. EDITOR: When the writer of this paper was a boy he knew another boy who perhaps was not over thirteen years of age at the time of which he writes. He was the son of a poor and almost deaf blacksmith, who was running a smith's shop on a small scale in Kentucky's largest and most beautiful city. This boy, whose name was Louis, had managed in one way and another to save several dollars; and when the melon season opened he invested his small capital in watermelons, placing them in a prominent corner of his father's old brick shop for sale. His father's customers, who brought in their horses and mules to be shod, and their wagons and plows to be repaired, patronized his small pile of melons. The first lot was soon disposed of at a good profit; and then he laid out the whole of his money in the same commodity; and in this way he continued till the end of the melon season, when he counted his profits at about $100.

His hard-working, Methodist father was both surprised and flattered by the remarkable success of his boy; and continued to encourage him by giving him ten feet square of his shop, which was cut off by partitions and fitted up as a little store-room. Louis laid out his $100 in such things as coffee, tea, sugar, rice, flour, etc., not forgetting a stick of candy or a cake for the little ones who came to buy. He arranged them in a very showy way in his little store-room, and was then prepared for business. By this time the neighbors, for two or three blocks around, had heard of the enterprise of the blacksmith's boy, and began to feel some interest in him; and a desire to see him succeed, and some curiosity to see the boy and the boy's store, led them to drop in and make their small purchases. "The world moves," and so did he. In a little time he wanted another ten feet square of his father's old brick shop; and after a while, still another slice, and then another, until the old gentleman was obliged to sell out his tools and material, and give up the remaining space to the increased business of his boy, while he himself was employed as porter in the store. After a little longer the old shop had to be enlarged, and a second story was added to it. But even this was not enough. Another store-room on the next alternate corner was filled with his goods, and proper helps employed to run the rapidly-growing trade. About that time he married a suitable companion, who brought with her some means. Some time after a large wholesale merchant on Main street felt anxious to have him as a partner, and he accepted the offer. At this point of his history we see him at the head of two large stores, all his own, and a partner in an extensive and flourishing wholesale establishment. The last time the writer heard of Louis he had gathered untold thousands of earth's riches, and was still extending his lines of business, while he was also one of the chief men of the city.

So it is with men who gather the true riches of the eternal world. They commence at the very "bed-rock" of religious attainment, being at the outset "poor and blind and naked." They, however, in due time learn the true way to Jesus. They improve the time and the opportunity, and soon find themselves at the very feet of the Master, with Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus. They have a hearty repentance toward God "a repentance to salvation not to be repented of." They exercise a faith which justifies; and thus they lay a proper foundation for a fortune, exhaustless in time, and eternal in the heavens. They are diligent in the grand work of the soul, adding "to their faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge, and to knowledge temperance, and to temperance patience, and to patience godliness, and to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness charity. For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Look at St. Paul, or at Martin Luther, or the Wesleys, or Mr. Whitefield, and hosts of others, as vivid illustrations of the grand fact that "the hand of the diligent maketh rich," not only in the fading and perishing things of earth, but also in the momentous things of the eternal world. O brethren beloved, let us keep his "precepts diligently."

JAMES E. BRADLEY.

HARRISBURG, OHIO, April 29, 1876.

The Grave of President Polk.

MR. EDITOR: Near the beautiful State capital of Tennessee is situated the plain yet imposing tomb of President Polk. It is in the front yard of his late residence, where his widow can often look on the sacred spot of her departed companion.

The President was a member of our church, and held his membership a long time at Columbia. Bro. Orumn, the pastor at Columbia, is trying to raise money to insert a window in the new church to the memory of President Polk. Much success to his worthy undertaking. I am much pleased with an inscription on his tomb, declaring that "the excellency of Christianity was exemplified in his death." What a panegyric! Methinks these nine words are consoling to his wife—a member of the Presbyterian Church—who is still awaiting to be called to "the home of the soul."

I give you the words on his tomb:

"James Knox Polk, tenth President of the United States. Born November 2, 1795. Died June 15, 1849. The mortal remains of James Knox Polk are resting in this vault beneath. He was born in Mecklenburg county, N. C., and emigrated with his father, Samuel Polk, to Tennessee in 1806. His life was devoted to the public service. He was elevated successively to the first places in the State and federal governments—a member of the General Assembly; a member of Congress, and chairman of the most important committees; speaker of the House of Representatives; Governor of Tennessee, and President of the United States. By his public policy he defined, established and extended the boundaries of his country. He planted the laws of the American union on the shores of the Pacific. His influence and counsels tended to organize the national treasury on the principles of the constitution, and to apply the rule of freedom to navigation, trade and industry. The beauty of virtue was illustrated by his life—the excellency of Christianity was exemplified in his death."

C.

WESLEY HEIGHTS, D. C., May 15, 1876.

Westminster Wesley Tablet.

We have already made brief mention of the unveiling, in Westminster Abbey, of the tablet in honor of John and Charles Wesley. The monuments situate midway between the "Poets' Corner," in the southern transept, and the nave of the abbey, being near to the smaller monument of Dr. Isaac Watts, and in close neighborhood to memorials of men of genius and theological learning; so that the position and associations are highly satisfactory.

It occupies a space of two feet nine inches wide, and about nine feet high. This is filled with a massive white marble tablet of crystal purity; and is so divided by sculptured heads and figures, and by lines of inscription between, as to secure for it as much unity and symmetry of design as practicable. The monument is somewhat broader at the bottom than at the top. The upper part of it bears the simple record:

JOHN WESLEY, M. A.,
BORN JUNE 17, 1703. DIED MARCH 2, 1791.

CHARLES WESLEY, M. A.
BORN DEC. 6, 1708. DIED MARCH 29, 1788.

Within a sunken circle under this record are medallion profiles, in life size, of the two brothers. Great care has been taken to have these modeled from the authentic busts and portraits of the founder and poet of Methodism, taken when they were in middle life, and were possessed of full energy of character, and also of fully developed features.

Immediately below these medallion heads of the two Wesleys are inscribed the living and dying words of the elder brother:

"THE BEST OF ALL IS, GOD IS WITH US."

Under this quotation is sculptured, in bold bas-relief, John Wesley preaching on his father's tombstone in Epworth church-yard; thus at once memorializing his birthplace and the beginning of his great itinerant and out-of-door work for God. This portion of the marble tablet includes, within a sunken square, some fifty figures, representing John Wesley and his rustic congregation. It is most deservedly pronounced to be chaste in style and masterly in execution. The figure of Wesley presents him in comparative youth. The form and proportions are admirably brought out by one hand being stretched forth, indicative of earnestness, and the other grasping the Bible and pressing it to his side. Behind the preacher, in the right-hand corner, are grouped together representatives of the "helpers" of the founder of Methodism. These appear in the dress of Wesley's period, and are admirably associated in their profile representations. Before and at the sides of the preacher are seen hearers of both sexes, and in different positions, among tombs and grave-stones, some seated and others standing.

Immediately beneath the sculptured picture of the scene in the church-yard is John Wesley's great philanthropic declaration:

"I LOOK UPON ALL THE WORLD AS MY PARISH."

And under this, on the sloping line at the bottom, is graven Charles Wesley's exultant exclamation:

"GOD BURIES HIS WORKMEN, BUT CARRIES ON HIS WORK."

All the letters are what is technically termed "imperishable," being deeply sunk in the marble, and filled up with lead; so that they will not need renewal. The tablet is the work of Mr. John Adams. Actaa, and reflects great credit on his genius.—Western Christian Advocate.

Guizot's Declaration

The first page of the will of Mr. Guizot contains the following:

"I die in the bosom of the Reformed Christian Church of France, in which I was born, and in which I congratulate myself on having been born. In remaining always connected with her, I exercised the liberty of conscience which she allows her members, in their relations with God, and which she herself invoked in establishing herself. I examined, I doubted, I believed that the strength of the human mind was sufficient to solve the problems presented by the universe and man, and that the strength of the human will was sufficient to regulate man's life according to its law and its moral end. After having long lived, meted and reflected, I remained, and still remain, convinced that the universe and man are neither of them sufficient to explain and regulate themselves naturally by the mere force of fixed laws which preside over them, and of the human wills which are brought into play. It is my profound belief that God, who created the universe and man, governs and preserves or modifies them, whether by those general laws which we call natural laws, whether by special acts which we call supernatural, emanating, like the general laws, from his perfect and free wisdom and from his infinite power, which he has enabled us to recognize in their effects, and forbids us from being acquainted with in their essence and design. I thus returned to the convictions in which I was cradled; always firmly attached to the personal liberty which I have received from God, and which are my honor as well as my right on the earth, but again feeling myself a child in God's hands, and sincerely resigned to so large a share of ignorance and weakness. I believe in God, and adore him, without attempting to comprehend him. I see him present and acting not only in the permanent government of the universe, and in the innermost life of men's souls, but in the history of human societies, especially in the New Testament—monuments of the divine revelation and action—by the mediation and sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ for the salvation of the human race. I bow before the mysteries of the Bible and the gospel, and I hold aloof from scientific discussion and solutions by which men have attempted to explain them."

The Tomb of Elizabeth and Mary.

In the south aisle of Henry the Seventh's chapel, in Westminster Abbey, lies in royal pomp she who so long was Britain's liege—"the daughter of debate, who discord still did save"—poor Mary, Queen of Scots. But English and Scots alike have forgotten the streams of noble blood she spent in their nations, and look sadly and pityingly upon her effigy—why not?

Nothing is left of her
Now but pure whiteness.

And on the corresponding aisle upon the north, in a like tomb—which the voice of the English people demanded from the son of Mary Stuart—lies even a sadder figure still—poor Queen Elizabeth. To her indeed, in her last days, vanity of vanities—all was vanity. Tyrone's rebellion killed her. "This fruit have I all of my labors which I have taken under the sun;" and with a whole book of Ecclesiastes written on her heart the old crowned lioness of England coiled herself up in her hair, refused food and diet, and took her place henceforth opposite to her "dear cousin," who she really tried to save from herself—who would have slain her if she could, and whom she had at last, in obedience to the voice of the people of England, to slay against her will. They have made up that quarrel now.

Ay, and that tomb is the sacred symbol of a reconciliation even more pathetic and more strange! Elizabeth lies—seemingly by her own desire—in the same vault as her own sister, Mary Tudor, "Bloody Mary," now no mere. James the First, who had no love for either of them, has placed at the head of the monument "two lines," as has been well said, "full of a far deeper feeling than we should naturally have ascribed to him:"

"Fellows in the kingdom and in the tomb, here we sleep; and Elizabeth, the sisters; in hope of the resurrection."

I make no comment on those words or on that double sepulcher. But did I not say well that the great abbey was a place of peace—a place to remind hard-worked, perplexed, and often, alas! embittered souls—

"For mother earth shall gather all
Into her bosom, great and small,
Ah! could we look into her face,
We should not shrink from her embrace."

Yes, all old misunderstandings are cleared up by now in that just world wherein all live to God. They live to God; and therefore the great abbey is to me awful indeed, but never sad.—Charles Kingsley.

OUR KALEIDOSCOPE.—"In the country where I was last summer, one of my friends was trying his luck at shooting swallows on the wing. One was struck. In an instant as many as twenty others surrounded it, and while some, extending their wings, bore their wounded companion along between them, others flew round and round the assisting party, uttering plaintive, sympathetic cries. This curious spectacle, which was well calculated to move to pity the author of the barbarity, lasted several minutes, when the intelligent little creatures, perceiving that their companion was dead, let him fall and abandoned him." The writer suggests that it may be by supporting their weary comrades in the manner described above that swallows succeed in making such long journeys, sometimes even crossing the ocean.—Nature.

THE HELPER IN DEATH.—It was not a little curious that almost the only printed page found in the far-off Polar seas, when the relics of the Sir John Franklin expedition were discovered, was a leaf from "Todd's Students' Manual," with this dialogue on it:

"Are you afraid to die?"

"No."

"No? Why does the uncertainty of another state give you no concern?"

"Because God has said: 'Fear not; when thou passest through the waters I will be with thee.'"

The poor victim perhaps treasured the page, read and reread it, and gazed at it until the mists of death crept by. He was not found, but this page told those who were searching how one man at least had died.—Christian Mirror.

OBITUARIES.

DIED, on the twenty-fifth of April, at the residence of her son, Thomas C. Bradford, in Beauregard, Copiah county, Miss., Mrs. RACHEL A. PIPKIN, consort of Rev. B. Pipkin, of the Mississippi Conference. Her illness was pneumonia. She was sick only eight days. Her suffering was great, though borne with fortitude and without murmuring. She was born in the parish of East Feliciana, La., February 3, 1818, and was consequently a little past fifty-eight years old when she died. At what age she was converted and joined the Methodist Church is not known, but in a note from her grief-stricken husband he says that "in the days of primitive Methodism in this country, and when quite young, she was a very bright Christian." Again he says, in reference to her religious habits: "She read her Bible, and prayed much and fervently. Few persons of her opportunities read and prayed more than she did." So much for the testimony of one who, perhaps, knew her better than any one else. "Aunt Rachel," as we younger people always called her, was a woman in whose life the domestic virtues were conspicuous. She loved her children and her home, and devoted the best energies of her life to their welfare, and shrank from no sacrifice of her own ease and comfort for their happiness.

Full of energy, and skillful in the manipulation of her household, in other days, and with fairer fortunes, she delighted to bestow an abundant hospitality. Her friends were always welcome at her board, and nothing was thought to be trouble that could minister to their enjoyment. Such she was when the writer first formed her acquaintance in 1853, when, as a young itinerant, as junior preacher under her venerable husband, on the St. Helena circuit, he found a grateful welcome and comfortable home beneath her roof. As a neighbor and friend she was ever willing and ready, with heart to sympathize and hands to minister to the suffering and sorrow in the neighborhood. She had a tear and deep reflections for all, and knew, thereby, how to sympathize with others in their bereavements. She had suffered the loss of many loved ones, and nursed a beautiful and sweet children, besides [illegible] Fortified by superior [illegible] For years, yet sought to get self and become a [illegible]

During a long experience in her [illegible] incident of her domestic life that developed a wonderful [illegible] and gathered much valuable information relating to [illegible] she displayed prudence in the [illegible] ever ready to use it for the honor and [illegible] of neighbors and friends; so it seemed natural for them to call on "Aunt Rachel" in [illegible] her counsel was sought and [illegible] published.

When the [illegible] was prostrated for [illegible] she was somewhat startled when informed [illegible] her end was near; and the writer, being near, she asked him to pray for her. This was done; and when she knew it was spoken of encouragement to trust in the Savior of sinners, as were deemed [illegible] she rose [illegible] and after she had wrestled with God in prayer for a brief space, she was unable to shout aloud the triumphs of [illegible] love, crying: "Thank God I am at last!" one of the [illegible] to apply to the writer for baptism and church communion, she was not, ever characterized by her exemplary consistency as a Christian character. Having baptized and received her into our church, it was my privilege to visit her during her last illness, and found her resigned to the will of God. She calmly declared her faith and reliance on Jesus, the friend of sinners. She knew that she was nearing her home of everlasting rest. Her children and her grandchildren and numerous friends present cannot forget her calmness and patience in the hour of extreme physical suffering and dissolution. Throughout it all her faith was triumphant. I never saw any one upon death with a more certain hope of a glorious immortality. Desiring to [illegible] she was not afraid to die. It was truly encouraging to see a pilgrim, after fifty-one years of travel, quietly resting in Jesus.

JAMES S. WHITE.

MARTHA E. GILLY, wife of Rev. J. G. Maughan, of Red River parish, died, at home, April 21, aged forty-eight years.

Sister Maughan was converted in early life, the evidence of which was strong, and which she never lost. She was no mere professional or emotional Christian, but lived and served her God from principle. She was a most decided Methodist, and loved her church devotedly. Her place in the sanctuary was never vacant if she could go there. Her daily life—her conversation and her actions—was in harmony with her profession of discipleship. The testimony of her neighbors and most intimate associates was that she was a true, noble, pure Christian woman. Loved and revered by her children, she was a wise, prudent, devoted mother. She was not lacking as a wife.

Doing the will of God, always and well, she was prepared to suffer his will as patiently and well when the hour came, for three years past she had, at times, been a great sufferer. The last four or five months she was confined to her bed. During my visit to the neighborhood, in March, it was my privilege to sit by her bedside, and learn anew the lesson of dying grace. She told me that her final hour was very near. She talked of dying as if on the eve of a pleasant journey. In the midst of her most severe sufferings—sometimes so agonizing as to extort screams and strong cries—she possessed a spirit of rejoicing. Gathering her children and friends around her, she gave to each final words and counsels. These were aptly and wisely chosen, suitable to each. It fell indeed that the chamber of the dying saint was very near heaven. In all my ministry, but once before have I seen such a perfect triumph over bodily sufferings, death and the grave. "She hath done what she could." Safely over the stormy waters she is now sweetly housed with God.

JOEL T. DAVIS.

IDA, eldest child of Rev. G. W. and Ophelia Berry, was born July [illegible] and quitted earth on Sunday, February [illegible] 1876. She always refused to see the [illegible] bath. How fit, then, that she should [illegible] her entrance upon an eternal Sabbath day. Never have we known the [illegible] "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength," more [illegible] verified. On her last Friday night, [illegible] being undressed, she said to Mamma, [illegible] little darling's head aches, and she [illegible] the good Lord's house." Her mamma said: "I hope not, my darling." "Yes, mamma, I know I will go." When asked by [illegible] and loving sister, she said: "Never mind, [illegible] the good Lord will bring you also." [illegible] talked of dying as if on the eve of a pleasant journey. In the midst of her most severe sufferings—sometimes so agonizing as to extort screams and strong cries—she possessed a spirit of rejoicing. Gathering her children and friends around her, she gave to each final words and counsels. These were aptly and wisely chosen, suitable to each. It fell indeed that the chamber of the dying saint was very near heaven. In all my ministry, but once before have I seen such a perfect triumph over bodily sufferings, death and the grave. "She hath done what she could." Safely over the stormy waters she is now sweetly housed with God.

JOEL T. DAVIS.

IDA, eldest child of Rev. G. W. and Ophelia Berry, was born July [illegible] and quitted earth on Sunday, February [illegible] 1876. She always refused to see the [illegible] bath. How fit, then, that she should [illegible] her entrance upon an eternal Sabbath day. Never have we known the [illegible] "Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength," more [illegible] verified. On her last Friday night, [illegible] being undressed, she said to Mamma, [illegible] little darling's head aches, and she [illegible] the good Lord's house." Her mamma said: "I hope not, my darling." "Yes, mamma, I know I will go." When asked by [illegible] and loving sister, she said: "Never mind, [illegible] the good Lord will bring you also." [illegible] talked of dying as if on the eve of a pleasant journey. In the midst of her most severe sufferings—sometimes so agonizing as to extort screams and strong cries—she possessed a spirit of rejoicing. Gathering her children and friends around her, she gave to each final words and counsels. These were aptly and wisely chosen, suitable to each. It fell indeed that the chamber of the dying saint was very near heaven. In all my ministry, but once before have I seen such a perfect triumph over bodily sufferings, death and the grave. "She hath done what she could." Safely over the stormy waters she is now sweetly housed with God.

JOEL T. DAVIS.

ROBERT FALLS was born in Davidson county, N. C., January [illegible] 1815, and died at his home, near Tuskaloosa, Ala., April [illegible] 1876. In early life he professed religion, and joined the Methodist Church, in which he lived a life of members, demonstrating the sincerity of his profession by a consistent life. He was kind and [illegible] disposition, energetic in business, [illegible] in the performance of his duties. He [illegible] with the interests of the church, and was punctual in attending the means of grace. He was an exemplary [illegible] and when did he fail that office, he was [illegible] assuming in his manners, prudent in [illegible] Sabbath, circumspect in conduct, and [illegible] the extent of his ability. He was a man of fidelity and integrity. For about [illegible] ye's previous to his death he was afflicted with a disease of the heart, during which time he suffered much, and manifested a spirit of resignation and patience that characteristic of the true Christian, and [illegible] that God's grace was sufficient for [illegible] time of need. A friend, writing to the [illegible] relative's death, says: "He gave [illegible] evidence of preparation for death, and after requesting his family and friends to meet him in heaven, he laid them down and died in perfect triumph." He [illegible] wife, three children and many [illegible] mourn his death. His influence will be [illegible] for good. In life he was faithful; in death he was triumphant.

ELIAS NICHOLS.

IN MEMORIAM.

Whereas, God, in his all-wise and gracious providence, has seen fit to take from us this week the soul of our deceased father in Israel, JOHN FELDER, who had served the church for more than three score years; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Quarterly Conference of Summit circuit, Mississippi Conference, that in a father in Israel, a patriarch indeed, passes from us when John Felder was translated to the skies.

Resolved, That we bow in meek submission to the divine will, knowing that he doeth all things well.

Resolved, That we sympathize truly with the afflicted family, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them, and also spread upon the minutes of this Quarterly Conference.

Resolved, That a copy be sent to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication.

IRA H. ROBERTSON,
G. W. HUTTMAN,
W. C. BARNES.

ROBERT SUMTER HEAVES, only son of Jesse and Lizzie Heaves, was born in Burnell, at their home in Wilcox county, Ala., April 27, 1876, and died the next day, aged fifteen months. We weep not as those who have no hope.

W. W. GRAVES.

The Free Church of England is considering a proposition to accept the revised Book of Common Prayer of the Prayer Book Revision Society.

Nightmare is caused by remaining so long in one position that the blood ceases to circulate.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1876.

ON THE "VERGE OF JORDAN."

I love the "old, old story"—
On earth I've loved it well;
And now I go to sing it
Where holy angels dwell—
To sing with heavenly music,
And the choirs above
Of Jesus and his glory,
Of Jesus and his love."

Fell off, through pain and weakness,
My lips must silence keep,
While yet my heart is singing
Sweet songs that never sleep.
Pain would I break the silence,
For doubting thoughts will rise
To question if my Father
Is glad as well as wise.

But then the dear old story
Comes to my heart again,
As up some parched desert
Falls the refreshing rain,
So gratefully and softly
Within my weary soul
Is breathed the heavenly voice of "Christ Jesus makes thee whole."

I thought to tell the story,
So beautiful and true;
But he has given his servant
Another work to do—
To stand beside the river,
And wait his holy will,
Whether he says, "Go forward,"
Or bids me linger still.

Though storms of pain sweep over me,
They cannot do me harm;
I only cling the closer
To Jesus' loving arm.
He knows whether I suffer—
He suffered more for me,
Whose, O the deepest anguish,
He died on Calvary.

The work the Lord has left me,
To take up day by day—
While others bear the burden,
He bids me for them pray.
He'll find another servant
To labor in my room,
If souls are brought to Jesus,
What matters it by whom?

O ye who love the Savior,
Who hear your King's command,
Ye, to whom he is given
Both strong and willing hands,
Go, tell the gospel banner,
Go! in the Spirit's might,
Lift up with its bright anointing,
If this the world with light.

Turkey and Its Dependencies.

The question of pure or of death for Turkey is near solution. The jealousies of the great European powers, no attempts to prop up a sinking empire in the interests of peace, only delay the doom of Turkey. Its arrival is near, and the handwriting on the wall proclaims the divine decree. The Mussulman is a stranger in the land of the farthest regions of southern Europe and the Levant must be taken from him, and given to other husbandmen who will bring forth fruits in their season. Turkey has ceased to be a living entity. It profits neither the interests of its own subjects nor the good of the world. Its government is a system of tyranny, arbitrary, unjust and oppressive, discouraging industry, enterprise and wronging its people. The Sultan has no care for his people's interest in establishing institutions of good government, or in keeping pace with modern civilization. Absorbed in sensual pleasures, squandering his revenue in the gratification of his unbridled tastes, he leaves the care of the empire to statesmen, who find it impossible to awaken enterprise or stay corruption. The treasury is bankrupt, the masses are in a hopeless paralysis, discontent is universal.

At the question at issue between Turkey and its provinces, the provinces are clearly in the right, and the central government in the wrong. The rebellion is legitimate, and ought to receive the sympathy of the neighboring Christian nations. It is a struggle of Christian against Mussulman, of progressive and aggressive civilization against the effete race, of the nineteenth century against the civilization of the fifteenth. Christian provinces are wronged by Mussulman rulers, and there is no redress for wrongs. On the side of the oppressor is power, unrestrained by law. These Christian populations have been goaded to madness by a series of outrages, and, in the hope of improvement, they are ready to unite in a common rebellion to throw off the yoke and achieve independence. Their united forces can overcome freedom, for the Turkish army has proved its weakness by the failure to subdue Herzegovina, the smallest of the provinces, and combine, with the enthusiasm springing from the combat of the oppressor, the whole would be brief and decisive. Russia, jealous of the sympathies of Slavonian races with Russia, fearing that the provinces would form an integral part of the vast Russian empire, has held the provinces in check, by threatening an armed intervention.

Of the internal difficulties in Turkey, and the provinces refuse to pay the salvage or to fear the threats of Austria. They see their opportunity, and are eager to improve it, and look for Russian sympathy and help. Now looks as if the hour had come when these Christian peoples, who have so long fretted under the yoke, should strike a final blow for freedom. They deserve to succeed, and the only peril in their way is the possibility of a general war in Europe, in which their movement may involve. The Turks seem incapable of a high civilization. Like the other Eastern races of Asia, whose progress has been arrested, and who have settled into apathy and social indolence, they do not assimilate with the vigorous life of Europe, or feel the stir and impulses of the busy life of the West.

In the fifteenth century the Osmanlis were a noble race. Simple in their habits of life, with fine personal qualities of character, and glowing with martial enthusiasm, they swept before them the weak forces of the decayed Roman empire, and gained possession of its capital and many provinces. They ruled by right of superior worth. The early sultans were better sovereigns than the later Christian emperors. They were statesmen of broad views and an enlightened policy, wise alike in developing their internal resources and in pushing their conquests. They governed their Christian subjects with moderation, and their whole empire with vigor and energy. Justice reigned, peace and letters were cultivated, industry and commerce flourished. For two centuries the Turks were a conquering race in Europe. Their armies were the hard, and their fleets ruled the sea; and all eastern Europe trembled in fear of Muhammedan conquest. They gave birth to a long line of great warriors and statesmen, and deserved the success they won.

But, whether from defects of race or of religion, they have lost their early virtues, and have fallen behind the other nations of Europe in enterprise and in all the elements of social strength. They still produce able statesmen, but no monarchs worthy to rule. The people are indolent, and the officials corrupt. The soldiers are brave and patient under hardships, but have incompetent leaders, and the old military-genius is obsolete. They are no longer worthy to hold an empire in Europe, and the interests of civilization demand that they should be pushed back into Asia, and leave the beautiful regions they have misgoverned to worthier races, capable of a larger growth and a more beneficent rule. Any change can hardly fail to be an improvement, and the wise Providence that sets up one nation, and pulls down another, is guiding political movements for the overthrow of a Mohammedan power which has forfeited its title to a European home.—Methodist.

Dwellings a Hundred Years Ago.

We desire to consider some of the immense changes which have occurred in the interior plans and arrangements of dwellings during the past century. In 1775 the science of chemistry had no existence, no special attention had been given to geology, and what was known of botany, astronomy, etc., seems as nothing when compared with the extent and accuracy of our present knowledge. Our fathers were groping in almost utter darkness, so far as a knowledge of the sciences was concerned, and but little progress had been made in invention and the arts; scarcely one of the modern contrivances for cooking, and for warming and lighting dwellings, was known. Not a pound of coal or a cubic foot of illuminating gas had been burned in the country. No iron stoves were used, and no contrivances for economizing heat were employed until Dr. Franklin invented the iron fireplace-stove, which still bears his name. All the cooking and warming in town and country were done by the aid of a fire kindled upon the brick hearth, or in the brick oven. The knots or tallow candles furnished the light for the long winter evenings, and sanded floors supplied the place of rugs and carpets. The water used for household purposes was drawn from deep wells by the creaking "sweep," and it is a curious circumstance that both the well and the building no long the impressions of a watercloset were often at long distances from the house. In a cold, windy night in winter, to be called to either of them, was something dreaded to think of. No form of stove was used in this country, as far as we have been able to ascertain, until after the commencement of the present century. There were no furnaces in those early days, by the aid of which a fire could be speedily kindled; and if the fire went out upon the hearth over night, and the tinder was damp, so that the spark would not "catch," the alternative remained of wading through the snow a mile or so to borrow a brand of a neighbor. Only one room in any house was warm unless some of the family were ill; for all the rest the temperature was at zero during many nights in the winter. The men and women of a hundred years ago undressed and retired to their beds at night in an atmosphere colder than that of our modern barns and woodsheds, and they never complained. No hot-air furnaces or steam pipes tempered the wintry air in their dwellings, and they slept soundly in the cold even after eating heartily of shag-barks or butternuts, and then washing them down with a quart or two of hard cider. The cooking was very simple, and the nature of the food plain and substantial. But few dishes were seen upon the table; pork and cabbage, corn bread, and milk, with "bean-porridge," were the every-day forms of food consumed.

Now this brief glance at the manner of life of the founders of our republic suggests thoughts regarding the changes which have occurred during the century, and the question arises: Is life now easier, happier or more desirable? Judged from one standpoint, it is; from another, it is not. Life—that is, animal existence—it seems to us, was as satisfactory and happy then as now—that is, as satisfactory to those who then lived. The care and anxiety which follows the adoption of any device of art in households certainly detract from the comforts and advantages. A simple life, with few complex devices to care for, has strong attractions to many who are annoyed by the care of the steam, gas and hot-water pipes which are found in modern dwellings. A dweller in the city, who retires to the country, finds in a short time that he can dispense with most of the city household conveniences without any serious disturbance to personal comfort or happiness. Looking at the home life of our ancestors from the luxurious drawing-rooms in modern cities, where we have never had experience in other modes of existence, there is little that seems attractive or even endurable in that life. The race, however, enjoyed the superlative happiness which springs from robust health, and the cold we so much dread was not sensibly felt by them. They accomplished a great work, and left for us a heritage which we shall do well to preserve and hand down to future generations.—Journal of Chemistry.

The annual grasshopper legislation has begun in Kansas with the passage of a bill giving a State bounty of five dollars a bushel for grasshopper eggs, and fifty cents a bushel for young grasshoppers.

The London Lancet says it is not healthy to sit for more than half an hour at a time. S'pusin' a fellow is sitting on the sofa with his girl, is he going to be particular to a minute?

Thunder and Eloquence.

The manner in which Whitefield once turned a thunder storm to his purpose has been thus narrated. Before he commenced his sermon, long, darkening columns crowded the bright, sunny sky of the morning, and swept their dull shadows over the building, in fearful augury of the storm.

His text was: "Strive to enter in at the strait gate; for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able." "See that emblem of human life," said he, pointing to a shadow that was flitting across the floor. "It passed for a moment, and concealed the brightness of heaven from our view; but it was gone. And where will ye be, my hearers, when your lives have passed away like that dark cloud? O my dear friends, I see thousands sitting attentive, with their eyes fixed on the poor, unworthy preacher. In a few days we shall all meet at the judgment seat of Christ. We shall form a part of that vast assembly that will gather before the throne, and every eye will behold the Judge. With a voice whose call you must abide and answer, he will inquire whether on earth you strove to enter in at the strait gate; whether you were supremely devoted to God; whether your hearts were absorbed in him. My blood runs cold when I think how many of you will then seek to enter in, and will not be able. Oh, what plea can you make before the Judge of the whole earth? Can you say it has been your whole endeavor to mortify the flesh, with its affections and lusts? that your life has been one long effort to do the will of God? No! You must answer: I made myself easy in the world by flattering myself that all would end well; but I have deceived my own soul, and am lost."

"You, O false and hollow Christian, of what avail will it be that you have done many things; that you have read much in the sacred word; that you have made long prayers; that you have attended religious duties, and appeared holy in the eyes of men? What will all this be, if, instead of loving him supremely, you have been supposing you should exalt yourself in heaven by acts really polluted and unholy?"

His eye gradually lighted up as he proceeded, till toward the close it seemed to sparkle with celestial fire.

"Oh, sinners," he exclaimed, "by all your hopes of happiness I beseech you to repent! Let not the wrath of God be awaked now. Let not the fires of eternity be kindled against you. See those gay youths," pointing at the fashionable, which played on the corner of the pulpit. "'Tis a glance from the angry eye of Jehovah! Hark!" continued he, raising his finger in a listening attitude, "as the distant thunder now bursts around, and broke in the heavens crash over the building. "It was the voice of the Almighty as he passed by in his anger."

As the excited man swayed to and fro with his hands and knees beside his pulpit, apparently in unwonted and intense prayer. The storm passed rapidly away, and, the sun bursting forth in his might, threw across the heavens a magnificent arch of peace. Rising and pointing to the beautiful object, he exclaimed: "Look upon the rainbow and praise him that made it. Very beautiful it is in the brightness thereof. It compasseth the heavens about with its glory, and the hands of the Most High have bended it." Early Christian.

AN OBSCURE SENTENCE.—A good story, no doubt mythical, is told of Jacob Boehme, the cobbler, famous for his profound philosophical works. On his death-bed his disciples came to him, eager to obtain explanations of obscure passages in his writings before he was taken away. He relieved their difficulties with a single exception. One passage puzzled him, and he said: "My children, when I wrote this I understood its meaning, and no doubt the omniscient God did. He may still remember it, but I have forgotten." A similar incident is told of the German poet Klopstock, which has the advantage of being true. Some of his admirers made a journey from Gottingen to Hamburg, to see him in his old age, and ask him to explain a difficult passage in his works. They were young students, full of enthusiasm. Klopstock received them graciously, read the passage, and then said: "I cannot recollect what I meant when I wrote it; but I remember it was the finest thing I ever wrote, and you cannot do better than devote your lives to the discovery of its meaning."

WHAT THE MICROSCOPE REVEALS. Lewenhoeck tells us of an insect seen with the microscope, of which twenty-seven millions would only equal a mite.

Insects of various kinds may be seen in the cavities of a grain of sand.

Mold is a forest of beautiful trees, with the branches, leaves and fruit.

Butterflies are fully feathered.

Hairs are hollow tubes.

The surface of our bodies is covered with scales like a fish; a single grain of sand would cover one hundred and fifty of these scales, and yet a scale covers five hundred pores. Through these narrow openings the perspiration forces itself like water in a sieve.

Each drop of stagnant water contains a world of living creatures, swimming with as much liberty as whales in the sea.

Each leaf has a colony of insects grazing on it, like cows on a meadow.

An Englishman has analyzed the causes of railroad accidents, and comes to the conclusion that human machinery is responsible for 41 per cent. of them; defective signals for 28 per cent.; defective railways for 18 per cent.; and defective rolling stock for 13 per cent.

A geologist says that he never heard of secondary formations without pleasure—the ladies being the secondary formations, for they were formed after the men.

Religious Intelligence.

—The Baptists of Connecticut have collected $25,000 toward the proposed Centennial fund of $100,000 for Suffield Institute.

—The year's receipts of missions of the Reformed Church in America, to April 7, have been $45,552.50. The treasurer needs $21,500 more.

—Rev. E. Faber has brought out three volumes of a Commentary on Mark, in Chinese; and Rev. Samuel Dodd, of Shanghai, has recently published in Chinese a Commentary on the Epistle to the Hebrews that is well spoken of by competent critics.

—In England the total number of the clergy of the Established Church is 23,738, as follows: "Dignitaries, 172; incumbents, 13,300; curates, 5,765; masters in schools, 701; chaplains, heads of training schools, etc., 485; unattached, 2,893; clerical fellows in universities, chaplains in India, and missionaries, 431."

—Lau-Yeef, an island, had a short visit from Dr. Medhurst in 1835, as he was on his way to North China, who distributed books and tracts. Some years after some of the Lau-Yeef people visited Foochow, and were delighted to find the missionaries preaching the same doctrines they had read in the little books and had learned to love. A mission was soon established on the island, which has grown prosperously, and those who as boys read the tracts given by Dr. Medhurst are now efficient native preachers.

—The Spanish Epoca declares that the Cortes will approve the principle of religious toleration. The Vatican will be compelled to accept it. But the Epoca says it is authorized by the papal nuncio and the Archbishop of Toledo to deny the statement that the Vatican ever granted Senor Sagasta's ministry the least concession in relation to liberty of public worship. Of course it never did, and never would. It only accepts seemingly the situation when it cannot help it, and then does its best to change it.

—Dr. S. Wells Williams, of Peking, has recently published the concluding portions of his Syllabic Dictionary of the Chinese Language, a work which he has been engaged upon for forty years. The amount of moral help to [illegible] which is known that the dictionary contains about [illegible] characters, and [illegible] under [illegible] articles, the number of [illegible] as the [illegible] but [illegible] Canton [illegible] believe [illegible] relief and [illegible] love, is [illegible]

A [illegible] to that [illegible] confident. The [illegible] to the mind of [illegible] Mr. [illegible] To save the [illegible] from [illegible] which [illegible] the [illegible] throughout the [illegible] small scale, we may yet [illegible] Roman Catholic Church in Italy and an Old Catholic Nicholas Copernicus [illegible] Dr. Wiseman [illegible] the recent radical [illegible] throughout the [illegible] seems to indicate that [illegible] section of the [illegible] patience.

The Christian Intelligencer [illegible] Philpotts, has with great [illegible] ed the shortcomings of the Venerable [illegible] edist Episcopal Church [illegible] lishes them as follows: [illegible] 24; church schools, [illegible] pel, 1; printing house, 1; paper, 1; bishops, [illegible] preachers, 1,331; local preachers, [illegible] hundred; members, [illegible] ballooners, 28,789; churches, [illegible] estimated value of the same, [illegible] 1,097; parsonages, 141; estimated value of the same, partial, [illegible] 1,486; Sunday schools, 1,644; superintendents, 1,646; teachers, 9,414; scholars, 79,008; volumes in Sunday school libraries, 135,511; contributed money for 1875, [illegible] dollar money, [illegible] 584,488; presiding elders' support, $253,672.38; Sunday school money, $16,537.11; missionary money, $1,748.97; church-building, $119,491.61; traveling expenses, $7,308.43; total members, probationers and preachers, 200,730; total of moneys raised for the year, $507,309.56.

Our Young People.

THE CASTLE BUILDER.

A gentle boy, white soft and silken locks,
A dreamy boy, with brown and tender eyes,
A castle-builder, with his wooden blocks,
And towers that touch imaginary skies.

A fearless rider on his father's knee,
An eager listener unto stories told
At the Round Table of the nursery,
Of heroes and adventures manifold.

There will be other towers for thee to build,
There will be other steeds for thee to ride,
There will be other legends, and all filled
With greater marvels, and more glorified.

Build low, and make thy castles thick and fair,
Rising and reaching upward to the sky,
Listen to voices in the upper air,
Nor lose thy simple faith in mysteries.

Our Young Folks.

From Our Little Friends.

PASS CHRISTIAN, MISS., May 8, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: As so many little boys and girls are writing for the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, we thought we would get Bro. Brown, our preacher, to write for us, as we can't write. We have no mamma now, for she is dead. Our papa is gone on business, and we are boarding with Cousin Jack and Agnes Williams. We have one little sister, who has gone to Tennessee, with Aunt Eliza Byrd. All three of us were baptized into the church by Bro. Hines, our presiding elder, at Conference, and are trying to be good children. There are some children here who don't belong to the church, but they ought to, ought they not, Mr. Editor? We have a good home, and we love God and Jesus for giving it to us. We always glad when the ADVOCATE comes, so we can hear from the little children in the Child's Corner, which Cousin Agnes reads for us.

Bro. Brown says when Jesus was on earth he took little children up and blessed them, and that he will bless us too if we say our prayers. Good night; and we are going to do it. Every child ought to try to get to heaven, so Jesus can bless them. Don't you think so, Mr. Editor? We want you to pray for us, and for sister in Tennessee.

Your little friends,

LIZZIE & CHARLIE BROWN.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I have been reading your paper for the last two months, [illegible] by Mr. Fisher. I am delighted with the Child's Corner. I [illegible] little child, [illegible] girl. I would [illegible] about our school. We have several [illegible] Sabbath school and church. We have [illegible] Sunday school [illegible] Mr. Brown is our [illegible] Would be glad to see [illegible] may be an [illegible] of the Lord's hands, in [illegible] Many souls. We all love [illegible] especially the little folks. I [illegible] hoping to hear from [illegible] Your little friend,

MORTIE JOHNSON.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: I see a copy [illegible] paper almost every week, and I enjoy it very much. My father and mother are Episcopalians, but I attend a Methodist church and Sunday-school. Our Sunday school numbers seventy-three, and is superintended by Mr. Ritter, a young man of the right kind of the [illegible] We all like [illegible] much. He is so kind and [illegible] Christianity. We [illegible] questions on two [illegible] in the Bible every week. I [illegible] paper, as I am a subscriber, [illegible] brothers and boys [illegible] paper, as nearly [illegible] Methodist [illegible] Sunday at [illegible] Christian Advocate. I hope you will [illegible] paper, as I [illegible] a little girl ten years old, and have [illegible] Sisters.

DEAR WILLIAMS.

True Courage.

MR. —— is a bad observer, that boy you dare not appear as cheerful as usual on his return from school, and, in questioning him, he said:

"You see, by that, there is a clique of boys who do not believe in going to church or the Sabbath-school, because these people do not; and they make all manner of fun of those who do go, especially to Sabbath-school. Quite a number of these are in my class, and I cannot help coming in contact with them. To-day I came upon a crowd of them rather sudden'y. They had found a Sabbath-school book, and were making game of it. I didn't want to hear it, and tried to run away, when one of them called out:

"'Ho, Jim! here's a pious book; don't it belong to you?'

"'No,' said I.

"'I bet it does! Don't you go to Sabbath-school?'

"'I do,' I said, for I was determined not to be ashamed of it. Then Jack Hill said:

"'I thought so. Going to make a parson of him, ain't they?'

"'Perhaps so,' I said, and then walked away. So after this, for the rest of the day, they've been shouting out: 'Parson Manton, Parson Manton.' I shall get it now often enough."

"Keep on, my boy, quietly, not saying much, except when there is occasion, and then never be afraid to show your colors. Besides benefiting yourself, this will influence others, and may, very likely, draw the well-disposed to your side."

"But it's real aggravating, this pestering."

"Yes; but they will weary of it after awhile, if they find you steadfast. Did you ever hear the incident of Frederic of Prussia and the pious sergeant?"

"No. I wish you would relate it, mother," replied Jamie.

"The King would frequently speak lightly, and even jestingly, of some who seemed to be mere professors of religion, yet he was quick to discern real piety when manifested in a consistent manner, and he always showed respect for such persons. There was one of the sergeants whose conduct was particularly pleasing to the King, and he made inquiries of him relative to his bringing up, and in regard to the religious belief in which he was educated. The man informed him that he belonged to the Moravian Church. 'Ah, ah? then you are a Pietist,' replied the King. 'Well, your men do you credit; only keep on faithfully in your duties.' After this, whenever he met him, Frederic would always say: 'How do you do? How are you all getting on in the Moravian chapel?'

"In conversation with the sergeant's colonel, the King, hearing good accounts of him from that officer, resolved to promote him, and made known his design to the colonel. Thinking to encourage his sergeant, the colonel informed him of the King's decision. Sad to say, this prospect of promotion had the effect to make the man remiss in his religious duties. He forsook the meeting at the little chapel; and when his minister inquired the cause he replied: 'Oh, my heart is with you; but I must please my King.' 'Take care,' said the minister, 'that your heart do not deceive you.'

"Not long after the King met him and said: 'Well, how are you all getting on at the chapel?' 'I do not know,' was the reply. 'Not know! Surely you have not been sick?' 'No, please your majesty; but I do not deem it essential to go there as often as formerly.' Now, when the colonel waited upon the King to receive the commission intended for the sergeant, he was surprised at the answer: 'I shall not give it to him.' As he stood in silent astonishment his majesty continued: 'No; he has forsaken his brethren. I fear he may not be faithful to me.' On receiving the decision of his sovereign the disappointed sergeant humbled himself before God, returned with greater devotion to his religious duties, and became a wiser and a better man."

"Why, papa, he did not keep on as at first. He would, if he had known how this King would judge him," said Jamie.

"Yes," replied his mother; "and we may learn from this to render to the King of kings the obedience of the heart, and not mere profession or regard to what others may think."

His mother left the room, and Jamie sat thinking.

"I'm afraid my obedience was not as much from the heart as it ought to have been. I felt skinky, and did not want the boys to think me a coward; that was partly the reason that I owned up so manly that I was a Sabbath-school scholar. And afterward I felt proud that I had been so brave; but it need something more than this to help me. I'll keep on and bear their ridicule day after day. I think I had better tell God all about it, and ask him to aid me, and to keep me faithful."

He did so; and by seeking this help each day he was enabled to persevere, and so to become more and more steadfast in adhering to the truths which he had learned in the Sabbath-school.—Kind Words.

WHAT COMES OF SUNDAY STROLLS. I have heard of lads who have gone out walking on Sabbath afternoons, because they were too big for Sunday-school, and I very sincerely hope that you are not bent on the same folly. Perhaps you say to me: "What's the harm of walking out on Sundays?" Well, I will tell you. I have seen some of the best lads I ever knew, whom I really hoped were converted, who have taken to this walking business, and not one of them is now worth a button for any good purpose whatever. My hope was that in time they would have been among my best workers, flourishing in business and happy in the service of God, but it is not so. The day they left the house of God for "pleasant strolls" was the day of their doom; they became, by degrees, careless, idle, boastful, loose in talk and loose in life, and made sugar more and more their lord. Whether a thing is bad or not may be seen by its fruit, and there's the fruit of being too old for Sunday schools and classes."—Spurgeon.

WHIPPING THE SEA.—You've heard about Xerxes? Of course you have; every history scholar that comes into my field to study talks about Xerxes of old, and his great armies. Well, I heard a very queer story about this same Xerxes the other day, picked out of one of the big books, you know. In one of his wars he wanted his soldiers to cross a piece of water a mile wide. So he caused a bridge of boats to be made. But before his men had crossed a storm came up and destroyed the bridge; whereupon this brave general flew into a passion, like a little boy, and ordered the sea to be whipped with three hundred lashes, and a set of fetters cast into it, to punish it for its disrespectful conduct!

Dear, dear! I'm told the little waves are sobbing on the beach to this day.—"Jack in the Pulpit," in St Nicholas.

"You don't buy bouquets of me as you used to," said a Madison florist to a sad-eyed man the other day. "No," was the pathetic reply, "I'm married now."

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER, 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. BUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates; including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Value of Some Lives.

Fears as to the result of Commodore Vanderbilt's illness caused a fall of 4½ per cent. in New York Central shares to-day—the price being 108½ against 112½. The whole market was feverish and uncertain. There is no doubt, however, but what the "short" interest is very large.

This afternoon Vanderbilt's brokers came to the rescue of his pet stock, and jumped it back to 112, at which a block of 1,500 shares were taken; also, a lot of 400 shares at 112½. It was then offered at 112, seller 3. The lowest sale of the stock was at 108. The commodore's illness is now watched as a cat watches a mouse.

So writes "Antelope" to the Picayune. A fall of 4½ per cent. in New York Central shares because the commodore was sick, and his illness is "watched "as a cat watches a mouse." We suppose just such an estimate as this of a man's life is inevitable where great financial interests depend upon his living or dying. And yet it seems like a cold and heartless way of expressing concern for a sick man. There are doubtless those who never thought about the effect upon the shares, in their affectionate anxiety and sympathy, and who would readily sacrifice all the New York Central is worth to restore the health and prolong the life of one whom they love. The value of a life may be great financially, and a fluctuation in the patient's pulse may send the stocks up or down. The great, hard world of speculation and trade may think of that life only as it affects the market and affairs on 'change, but still it is to the credit of our kind that there are affections stronger than the love of pelf, and that the inner domestic surroundings of the rich are often purer and nobler than covetous greed.

It may be, however, a certain pleasure to some men to feel that the world takes this sort of interest in them, and that it makes a vast difference with thousands whether they are sick or well. As some may regard the matter, it is very humiliating to be sick, to be laid upon beds of suffering and pain, and to go down to death while the world at large knows and cares nothing about it. The fever may rage in their veins, but stocks and shares are not excited thereby. Neither bulls nor bears watch them "as a cat watches a mouse." To Wall street it is all one whether they are sick or well, whether they live or die. Scarcely are they inquired of by their next-door neighbor; and when death comes it is only another funeral on the street, and everything moves on as usual. It is passing little that is cared for the most of us common mortals outside of the family group and the limited circle in which we move. And yet within this group and circle there is an interest usually for the most obscure, a wealth of sincere attachment and warm affection which are sometimes denied to the rich and great.

The welfare of a nation may depend upon the life of such a man as Cavour was, or of such a man as Bismarck is. The Czar of Russia may have a policy which involves the happiness of his subjects and the peace of Europe, and it is natural that any rumors of unfavorable health should be received with general anxiety. When a great poet ceases to sing, when a great orator becomes silent, when the greatest preachers are taken away, thousands, and millions even, are touched, and in a manner bereaved. Falling stars are witnessed by many eyes, while the glow worm's death is unnoticed.

There is this compensation, however: The obscure are loved more for themselves, and they may be the objects of more real and disinterested affection, than those who have reached the summit of power and fame, and who wield the largest influence in political and monetary affairs. As in the case of the generous old commodore, where better feelings of esteem are not wanting, it almost shocks the finer sentiments of our nature to see how much of selfishness and sordidness is revealed. It is a circumstance that cannot be helped. When the lives of millionaires, monarchs and great statesmen tremble in the balance, or when they go out, the merely material consequences must be estimated and felt. To some natures the consciousness of this standard of value may be a gratification; but the love and sympathy of a few real friends is of far more worth to those who can appreciate what is noblest and best in man. The infant that is watched over in sickness by a mother's loving vigilance is more to be envied than the dying king whose last breath is watched by millions, not one of whom has anything but a material interest in the event.

It must be indeed far from gratifying to men of wealth and distinction that they should be measured and estimated by this material standard. "My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horsemen thereof," was a lofty tribute to the moral and spiritual value of the life of a great prophet. The holy and courageous servant of God was a better defense and a stronger bulwark to Israel than men and chariots of war. "As poor, yet making many rich," was what Paul thought of himself and his co-laborers in the gospel. Neither the translation of Elijah, the death of Elisha nor the death of Paul had any startling effect upon stocks, or upon the councils of monarchs; but the world was poorer when they were taken from it. The lives of such men as Luther, Wesley, Chalmers, have a value above everything material. Indirectly they contribute to the wealth and material prosperity; but the moral results, and the spiritual, are sublime and eternal. A single life holds the fortunes of thousands, and that life is watched "as a cat watches a mouse." They are ready to make the most of the event, and their chief, perhaps their only concern is to gamble and speculate on the solemn issue. But another single life, surrounded by comparative poverty and obscurity, may be radiating the light and warmth of salvation, and sending out pulsations that travel beyond the stars.

Besides these human watchers—watchers of greed or of love—there is an unseen community, and a world to which men go, as there is one which they leave. There are watchers on the other side, and ministering spirits feel the weakening pulse, and the tidings fly swiftly. Was there any great commotion when the rich man died? Jerusalem may have had its Wall street. But there was some stir in heaven when the poor beggar, with his angelic escort, was carried to Abraham's bosom. What the real value of a life is to the higher interests of the world cannot always be measured by the price of shares. A religious university, built and endowed, is worth more to the world than a hundred railroads, and is a more lasting monument than millions unexpended and left behind when the earth fades from the glazing eye.

Mobile District Conference.

From New Orleans to Milton, Fla., by way of Mobile, Pollard Junction, Pensacola. With the best of company—to wit: Bishop Keener—we left the Crescent City by the five P. M. train, reached Mobile about eleven P. M., Pollard Junction at two A. M., and found ourselves in Pensacola in time for breakfast. Here we remained, enjoying the hospitality of Bro. W. L. Witfield, looking a little at the town and harbor, until three o'clock in the evening, when we took passage on the steam yacht Marie, Capt. Blakeney, for Milton, distant thirty miles, which point we reached a little after sundown. We were in the neighborhood of Pensacola at daylight. What sort of a country we passed through during the night our readers know as well as we. A level, piny woods for the most part, we are told.

The approach to Pensacola by rail is not particularly picturesque. It is flat and poor, the suburbs denuded of trees, and as we come to the city it is still flat, and the city is spread over a large area, fronting on the bay. The view from the water, as we approach from the upper bay, was much better, and the town is seen to advantage. The wharves and the shipping are the main features, and of course the centers of the business activity and life. Here is a population of six or seven thousand. Timber and lumber are the sole articles of trade and export, and annually between five and six hundred ships are brought in and loaded. At this time we counted about twenty vessels, some at their piers, and others at anchor; but we were told that over two hundred may sometimes be seen at one time. Pensacola bay, one of the noblest harbors in the world, spreads out before us southward, and east and west, as we look from the city front, six miles southward in its breadth, and more than forty in its length. This capacious basin is land-locked, completely sheltered, and deep enough for the largest ship. To the west, six miles down the bay and toward the entrance, we have a glimpse of the navy-yard and Warrington. To the south and east the eye may follow the shore lines and islands as the bay curves and expands, and is lost from view in the distance. The finest water view on our Southern coast is Pensacola harbor.

Our voyage up the bay and the return were pleasant exceedingly. Our little boat was filled with good company, consisting of the Bishop, the most of the preachers of the Mobile district, and a goodly company of ladies and gentlemen from Pensacola. Blackwater river enters the head of the bay about twenty-five miles from our starting-point. Three miles up this stream is Bagdad, a handsome village, with its saw mills and wharves piled high with lumber; and two miles further up is Milton, a town of no small dimensions, of say three thousand souls, and the busy center of an extensive lumber business. It is on tide-water, level, sandy, finely shaded with the live oak, and fanned by the refreshing sea breeze.

Rev. James O. Andrew, the pastor, received our company at the landing, and soon had all distributed to their temporary homes in an agreeable and most hospitable community. With a partiality duly appreciated, Bro. Andrew took the editor to the parsonage, where we were most kindly entertained. The District Conference opened on Friday morning, May 26, nearly all the preachers of the district and a pretty good delegation of laymen being present. The reports of the pastors showed an encouraging condition of the district as to spiritual affairs, and finances far from gloomy. The business of the Conference was concluded on Saturday afternoon. The Mobile district has a fine body of preachers, and especially a number of choice young men, educated, zealous and effective. Dr. Cox leads his district worthily, and is a model in the important office which he fills. Bishop Keener's presence was a great gratification to all. Milton had never before been visited by one of our Bishops, many of our people there had never seen one, and the Bishop magnified his office in the chair, in the pulpit and among the people.

During the Conference there was preaching morning and night. Large and serious congregations filled our commodious church, and a remarkable revival was in progress when we left on Monday. On Saturday and Sunday nights there were multitudes at the altar and round about, and numbers were converted. The love-feast on Sunday afternoon was a wonderful occasion. The house was full, and all were moved exceedingly. On the whole, we have never witnessed a greater display of the divine power. The awakening and converting power of the Holy Ghost was manifest at nearly every service. The meeting was to be continued during the present week, the Bishop and several preachers remaining to help in the good work.

In concluding this hurried and meager account of a most delightful and interesting trip, we take occasion to express our sense of the cordial reception given to the editor of the ADVOCATE by the Mobile District Conference. Resolutions were passed, and the brethren promised increased effort to extend the circulation of the paper.

Nor must we fail to mention the thoughtful provision made by Bro. Lightfoot and the friends in Pensacola for the entertainment of the members and visitors on their way to Milton. We hope to hear in a few days of the progress and results of the revival.

Connectional Character of Methodist Polity.

The following extract from the address of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church clearly exhibits the connectional character of both branches of American Methodism:

It has seemed to us that a church organization and government which have stood nearly a century, and which have been found well adapted to all phases of society, and changes of public sentiment, and conditions of the public mind; in the newest settlement, in the oldest State, in the rural district, in the crowded city, in heathen lands, in civilized countries, under the reign of royalty, in our great republic, in time of peace, in time of war, among the lowest and most ignorant, among the highest and most learned, everywhere and all the while pre-eminently useful, and proving itself to be one of the most aggressive and one of the most progressive forms of Christianity in the world, is too venerable and too sacred to receive any other than the most profound consideration and the most jealous guardianship. Thus impressed, we have endeavored, by our example and teaching, to promote a just appreciation of our Discipline and usages.

The connectional character of our church we regard as of the highest importance and greatest utility. An army in detachments under independent authorities would be feeble and ineffective in comparison with the same army moved by one supreme authority, having unity of purpose and action. Germany under the empire is much more potential among the nations of the earth than when under the government of independent petty sovereignties; so the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the sublime unity of her grand purpose, and under the government and direction of the General Conference as her supreme authority, is much mightier in her action and influence than she could possibly be in independent divisions. She can better antagonize great errors, contend with enormous vices, overthrow combinations of wickedness, and press forward the triumphs of divine truth and grace in the earth.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is not a confederacy of eighty-one Annual Conferences, nor a mere association of some nine thousand pastoral charges. It is a single body, of which these pastors and churches and Conferences are component parts, and all members one of another. For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one body. Whether in America, or in Africa, or in Europe, or in Asia, we have been all made to drink into one Spirit; and this incorporation is so vital and so vital that if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or if one member be honored, all the members rejoice with it. Consequently the members should have the same care one for another. We cannot give attention to one portion of the church to the neglect of another portion. This General Conference cannot rightfully legislate for the part of the church to the disadvantage of another part of the church. The legislation of this General Conference, the administration of the general superintendents, and the oversight of each pastor must be with equal eye to all, as their exigencies and interests demand. There is no constitutional way by which any member or members can be excluded from the church or placed beyond her supervision and pastoral oversight, except by judicial process for wrong-doing.

The connectional character of the church is maintained largely by the law of affinity. The remarkable agreement in doctrines, the sameness of religious experience, and the similarity of usages which prevail throughout the connection give us a oneness of character and assimilate us into one body. Where men think and feel the same, "like kindred drops they mingle into one." The great agencies of the church are bonds of union.

The nearly 20,000 Sunday schools, auxiliary to the Sunday School Union of the church, and the more than 1,000,000 children in these schools, under the tuition of more than 200,000 officers and teachers, constitute an organized cadet force which promises in the near future to add greatly to the strength and efficiency of the church. The more specifically Methodistic their religious training is, the greater will be the power and usefulness they will contribute to her future unity and progress. If they are not taught the scriptural character of our doctrines; if they do not have explained to them our church polity; if in their Sunday school years they are not enlisted in the support of our institutions and benevolent agencies, but are left to believe that any other church will be as useful to them as ours, we must bear the blame if they are easily proselyted from us, or if they grow up to be dissatisfied and restless members of the church.

Our Missionary Society, with its numerous auxiliaries, is another of these bonds of connectional union. The parent society, as the central organ, like the heart of the human body, receiving from all the veins of the church her missionary blood, and then sending it through all her arteries to every extremity of the church, to nourish and support the whole, is an indissoluble tie between all the parts of the church, however distant from each other. Every preacher on an obscure circuit border mission who is laboring and suffering on a very inadequate support for his family, and yet encouraging his people from their very poverty to contribute to the treasury of the society, and the humblest member and the infant Sunday school scholar who contribute their pennies and their prayers to this cause, as well as the missionaries in the foreign field, are all real factors in this great united work of evangelism. This not only binds us together, but also equalizes the dignity and honor of all the laborers in the sight of God and in the annals of eternity.

The Book Concern has also exerted a unifying power upon the church. Its books and its periodicals have generally had that tendency. Its management has been in the interests of the whole connection. So long as it shall be conducted on these principles, and its profits shall be appropriated for a palpable and common interest, it will still have that influence. But if it shall ever fail in either of these respects, it will not only lose its centripetal force, but become a source of contention and strife, if not a cause of corruption and disintegration.

Clearly convinced that these institutions greatly promote the unity of the church, as well as its extension and progress, we have felt it our duty, as far as our authority and opportunity would permit, to labor for their greatest prosperity.

The general superintendency has always been, and still continues to be, a strong bond of unity. Watching, with an impartial eye, the conditions and wants of all portions of the church, and the labors and interests of all the ministers; holding the same relation to all, and having a common sympathy with all, without special obligations to any; strictly amenable to the General Conference for their character and administration; where every member and every minister has a right to challenge their every exercise of authority, the general superintendents, so far as their relation to the ministers and churches is concerned, are well prepared to travel through the connection at large, and oversee the temporal and spiritual interests of the church. Having been thus employed during the ecclesiastical year, they meet and report and consider the condition, both temporal and spiritual, of all parts of the church. Our interchangeable administration in the Conferences makes several members of the board, by personal inspection and observation, acquainted with the more recent condition of each particular part of the work, and thus gives us a united judgment upon the state and claims of every part of the field. This judgment thus formed has been sought and sometimes deterred to by the General Missionary Committee, and also by the General Committee on Church Extension, in dividing their funds, and not infrequently on different subjects by former General Conferences.

And, what is also of great importance, it enables them to understand where ministers are needed, the qualifications required for the exigencies of the work, and by transfer and otherwise to meet such necessities; thus providing for the poorer and more difficult fields of labor, and the advancing, aggressive action of the church. To a limited extent it enables us to meet the urgent emergencies of ministers and their families by changing their climate in cases of sickness, and by placing them where their family wants and educational necessities are more fully met. This can only be done partially, but much more extensively than it can be done by any other church; and the amount of ministerial health and service thus preserved and secured to the church can only be known and appreciated by those who are parties to it.

Owing to the great extent of the connection, we can perceive no other way by which a uniform administration can be maintained; and without uniformity, without oneness of executive authority and administration, we do not see how the unity, the connectional character of the church can be preserved. Our profound convictions on this subject have led us to great care and constant effort to secure a uniform administration.

It is no wonder that, so far as making the appointments is concerned, our administration should be sharply criticised by parties in interest. In those denominations where ministers are left to find their own pastoral relations, if they fail to secure such as they judge themselves adapted to and desire, there is no third party of whom they can complain. In our church, when they fail to receive such appointments as they deem suitable for themselves, they complain of the presiding elders and the Bishops. This is perfectly natural. Every one who has any official agency in making appointments must take it into account. In performing this difficult and responsible part of our official duty we have constantly kept in view the claims of the work and the claims of the preachers. Before any one can intelligently criticise the appointments of an Annual Conference, he must carefully consider the fact that every appointment is entitled to receive a preacher, and every effective preacher is entitled to receive an appointment. This other fact must also be considered: that the Bishops cannot alter the character of the pastoral charges, nor the endowments or aptitudes of the preachers. They must take these as Providence has furnished them, and adapt the pastoral relations between them as happily and usefully as they may be able to do after the most careful and prayerful consideration for the circumstances and claims of all the preachers and of all the churches.

Dr. Pierce to the General Conference of the M. E. Church.

The following letter from Dr. Pierce was read, and Dr. A. S. Hunt was instructed to reply on behalf of the Conference:

SPARTA, GA., May 12, 1876.

To the Bishops and Members of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church now in session in Baltimore, Md.:

MY BELOVED BRETHREN: This salutation is not in fashionable courtesy, but in old-fashioned Methodist brotherhood. It is two months today since I took my bed and room, and have been closely confined most of the time to my bed. I am, of course, very weak. I never was so much reduced in flesh before. My desire to fill my place in our fraternal delegation at the session of your General Conference, together with the apprehension that I would not be able, preyed upon me along with my sore sickness. But this I held in check by leaving the issue entirely with God. I never question the right or the wisdom of God in events of this kind. I never felt surer of a pure motive, in any desire of my life, than in this one, to be with you at this time as a messenger of peace and good will. For the privilege I had prayed all the intervening year. In it more people took an interest than in anything in all my life. And it is the only official work I have ever been called to in the church to which I did not respond in person. Why the Lord has laid me by at this critical juncture I know not. I am satisfied, without believing a Calvinist, that in all these providential preventions God works things after the counsel of his own will. And, if I was rightly chosen in this gracious commission, it was because God could make my absence of more value than my presence. And here I will wait and see.

I was in the first delegated General Conference in New York in 1812. There and then I formed my acquaintance with your chief men, whom I knew and loved until 1844, when, by the division, we were separated. The last of this class whom I came to know in 1812 was Dr. N. Bangs. Between us to the last hour of his life I believe there existed an old-fashioned Methodist preacher's love. I cannot here give the names of these noble men. I believe they are all gone home. I am left alone, and I am traveling swiftly to my tomb. When I was a boy singer often did I sing:

"There is nothing true but Heaven."

Laying aside for awhile the higher and holier motives which made me so much desire to meet you in light more, I will come to the more common and human. I wanted to look upon the faces of a General Conference, most of whom have been since I was well worn in Methodist itinerancy. A few of you I have seen in other days, but most of us would have looked upon each other for the first time, and in as far as I am concerned, as you will all see, for the last time. To me, brethren, it is a matter of soul-stirring interest what is to be the fate of Methodism as it passes through new generations. As for me, I took Methodism as I did my wife—for better and for worse—and, blessed be God, as I found it in her, so have I found it in Methodism—all better and no worse.

And now, after wearing and weeping in this itinerant harness with it chafing for seventy-one years, if I was clothed with the right and the power to reform Methodism as to evangelical organism, I would leave it just as I found it. All I would ask would be to energize it in its administrative department. As it is a system of churchism which furnishes pastors and makes itself judge of the premises, I would dismiss any preacher from its effective roll as soon as he made it evident by failure that it was not in him to take care of the church of God as its appointed leader. It is not new modification of Methodism we need, for in this respect we cannot be ameliorated. It is vigorous enforcement of our discipline, and a closer walk with God will bring us up to be the most ecclesiastical in the world.

Excuse me, brethren, for obtruding off upon you these remarks. I shall live and die easier by this deliverance of myself.

But my business with you was doctrinal. In this I took great delight. Rejoiced I might be of some use as God has seen good to cut me off from personal interference in this blessed work. But I hope the work will proceed to a speedy and glorious consummation. I sent on my address in written form; for if I could have gone on, I can no more make speeches. For sixty-seven years I was blessed with one of the finest voices ever given to man. But now it is gone. I can seldom speak aloud. Sometimes cannot pray in the family. The last time I preached was March 12, from "Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing." If I close here the text was a fine ending. Excuse my nervous scrawl.

I am yours in fraternal love,

L. PIERCE.

The following note from Rev. D. Norsworthy will be read with not prayerful interest and sympathy by the many friends of the bereaved family. The little one has doubtless fulfilled its mission in drawing the parents' hearts nearer to God.

YAZOO CITY, MISS., May [illegible]

Dear Brother: We buried our little born babe, twelve days old, this morning (Sunday) at eight A. M. She was sick only forty-eight hours. After much painful suffering she closed her short earthly career and went to live with the angels. This is our first bereavement. Pray for us. We have many kind friends and band to help and comfort. Our wants are all supplied.

Fraternally yours,

R. D. NORSWORTHY.

A telegram of yesterday, the [illegible]eth of May, brings the not altogether unexpected intelligence that Commodore Vanderbilt is worse, and that his death is looked upon as [illegible]. Some time ago his condition was reported as favorable, and his recovery confidently expected. From the latest news we fear that the end is indeed near, and that before the number of our paper is mailed Cornelius Vanderbilt will have passed away.

A GRACIOUS WORK.—Rev. A. Campbell, writing from Moss Point, Miss., May 25, says:

I recently closed a series of meetings at Zion chapel—an [illegible] appointment, one and a half miles from this point—which resulted in forty-three accessions to the church and forty conversions. The church was graciously and powerfully revived. At Moss Point and Zion we have had fifty-five accessions to the church this year.

The Southwestern Christian Advocate, published in New Orleans, the organ of the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church, has been put under the control of the New York Book Concern, and $1,000 a year appropriated. Henry R. Revels, colored, has been elected editor by the General Conference.

The revival in Amherst College is the most powerful and general of any that Institution has ever experienced. Only about fifty out of three hundred and twenty students remain unconverted.

Books and Periodicals.

NAEL, OR IN THE DEPTHS. By Emma D. E. N. Southworth.

his is represented to be the best k of the gifted and popular er. Mrs. Southworth, in the ace to "Ishmael," says: "This y, in book form, has been called y thousands during several years but the author has reserved it 1876 as her contribution to the tennial, not only because she ilers it to be her very best work, because it is peculiarly a nal novel, being founded on the and career of one of the noblest ur countrymen, who really lived, ered, toiled and triumphed in land—one whose inspirations of om and goodness were drawn the examples of the heroic war- and statesmen of the Revolu- , and who having, by his own gy, risen from the deepest ob- ity to the highest fame, became himself an illustration of the ele- ing influences of our republican itutions." It is published in a deodecimo volume of over seven dred pages, with a portrait of Southworth, engraved on steel, a photograph taken of her on ch 22, 1876, being a life-like and king portrait of Mrs. South- that the present time, with her graph under it.

S, FROM THE SUN OF RIGHT- ness. By Rev. Richard Newton, D. D. York: Robert Carter & Bros., 1876.

n sermons for young people on subjects as these: Jesus the n of Righteousness, The Light of World, The Bright and Morning The Plant of Renown, Jesus Shield. The sermons are all t Christ, in clear and simple , and happily illustrated. It is utifully bound 12mo, and well, h buying. If there are young le in the family, get it by all s. For sale by R. J. Harp, Hi 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

News, Songs and times for day schools, Christian associations and spe- meetings. By R. M. McIntosh. Philadel- Oliver Ditson & Co.

of McIntosh is a sufficient rantee of the excellence of this work. Our musical critic says volume is full of the best of c. All competent judges whose ions we have heard unite in pro- cing it a very superior collec- One of our city schools (Felicity t has ordered a supply.

NTED ROOMS. A Tale. By A. D. E. New York: Robert Carter & Bros.;

story religious, and evidently en to benefit the religion and s of the young. The author es to claim an interest in the rs of her readers, and an- ces that she is preparing to a new field of labor in the East honorary member of the ma mission in India. For sale R. J. Harp, Camp street, New ans.

STORY OF THE APOSTLES, OR CTS EXPLAINED TO CHILDREN. By the or of the Peep of Day. New York: Robert ter & Bros., 1876.

others will find this a good vol- to read to their children. The is put into the simplest words, is told in the order in which it nal on the inspired page. We examined it with great interest, cordially commend it to our ers.

ES, OR THISTLE DOWN. By A. Mathews. New York: Robert Carter & s., 1876.

excellent story, by a most gift- uthor. 12mo, 286 pages. For of the Depository, 810 and 112 street, New Orleans.

Volume 3 of Bancroft's History e United States of America has ed us through R. J. Harp, olist Depository, 810 and 112 street. This centenary edition ittle, Brown & Co. is very hand- y gotten up, marvelously neat, the volumes of convenient size. me 3 brings the record down to and nearly one-half of it is up with the causes and begin- of the American Revolution.

The Atlantic Monthly for June Facts Concerning the Recent ival of Crime in Connecticut, American, A Prophet of the le, The State and the Railroads; Baker Village, Old Woman's ip, The Quaintness of the Judi- Hooker, In the Quantick Stage. departments of recent literature, and music in the Atlantic are rkably full and able.

Record of the Year is something ely new and original in the of a monthly magazine, being t of reference scrap book, or thly record of every important t of any nature that happens in part of the world, together with ection of the choicest current ellany, prose and poetry, for- and domestic. Edited by Frank e. We have received the June ber.

St. Nicholas for June is a wonder he way of pictures and lively instructive stories. We might ion especially: The Cat and the ness; Talk with Girls; Seven up in the Air; A Frog and His Neighbors; The Boy Emigrants; Jack in the Pulpit.

—The Aldine for May contains the following illustrations, all very superior: Old Stock Bridge, Le Favori, The Shady Pool, The Wayside Trough, Preferring his Pipe, Against Orders, Lichfield Cathedral, West Door, Parting with the Baby.

—The Galaxy for June has: The Pre-Raphaelites in England, Have we a National Character? The Display of Washington Society, Peripatetic Madness, Souvenirs of a Man of Letters, War Memories, American Women Abroad, Brazil and her Emperor, and other articles.

—The Aldine, part 10, has the following illustrations: Columbia's Reception; Mount Jardin; Abandoning the Action; The Dark Entry, Canterbury Cathedral; Pieeda; Piccolo; Thereby Hangs a Tail; The Moated Grange.

—We have received from Leggo Bros. & Co. a fac-simile of the Declaration of Independence. It is printed from a photo-engraving of the original copy now in the Patent Office at Washington.

—Appleton's Journal of May 20, besides other excellent articles, has: Salmon Fisheries on the Columbia River, Illustrated; A Century Ago in New England; The Old Senate Chamber.

—Golden Hours and Ladies' Repository for June are among the very best numbers of these elegant and entertaining periodicals.

—The Southern Musical Journal for May has been received. Ludden & Bates, publishers, Savannah, Ga.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL.

For the Week Ending May 27, 1876.

A—Thomas Y Armstrong $1, W D Allen $10, N W Ayer & Son $36.75, J H Anderson, Oscar M Addison, J B Ashley $1.50, S T Adams, Ashford Addison, Daniel Appleton & Co, C D Andrews.

B—R J Briggs, R N Brown $2, P B Bridges 75 cents, John Marion Brown, Daniel F Beatty, Robert Bonner, Mrs Rebecca Bennett $2, James Betts & Co, J T Booth $2, J C Bancroft $1, Thomas C Barrow $7.72, A S Barnes & Co, J W Burke & Co, R W Bonds $1.50, J Hervey Brigham.

C—S S Connor two letters, W W Carr $2, W N Childress $2.50, M M Cockrane, Chickamauga Med. Company, R B Crawford, J S Collins $1.50, S Cleveland $2, R Crawford, Manassell Cely, A H Crane $1, A M Campbell, W F Causey, Lydian Corley $2.50.

D—B F Davis $2, John N Dixon, Joel T Davis $5, R A Davis $11.50.

E—John D Emack, A Estill, C F Evans $2.00, L Ercanbrack $5.

F—Lewis R Featherston, $25.50, E N Freshmuth two letters.

G—H M Gillis two letters $2, W W Graham, Jas A Goza $2, A E Gray 50 cents, A M Galloway, Mrs E J Garrett, Ed P Goodwin $11.25, Gould & Co, Mme Griswold $6.25, W T Gibbon $2.

H—R D Howe, J McHammer, John H Hall, J S Halbert $2, William J Hardenburg, Alexander Hood $17.85, John D Hunter $2.25, P Howard $1.50, Miss Jennie E Haigler $2, J W Haskew, John Hudson, P Heathman, W B Hines, Geo C Howze $2, W A Hackler $2.

I—H F Johnson two letters $17.85, Mrs L A Jungler $2.25, Mrs S Echackson.

K—Christian Keener two letters, Leonard Kimball $2, R C Kelly.

L—E L Loveless $7, H P Lewis $1, Thomas A Ledyard $1.50, Henry Lindenmeyer.

M—A D McVoy, John L Methen, W B McElroy $4, J E Mason, J A McCreary $22.25, F M Martin & Co, John A Miller $1, J M Mason, D McRee & Sons, Charles W Menard, W H Murrah, Matthew Mims $2, W E Meckle, R F Mauntain, Mrs Isaac A Morris $2, R W Millsaps $6, O M Marsh $1, Lacy E Mann.

N—Henry N Norwood, J Nicholson two letters, V B Nicholson $1, E F Newman, Joseph D. Newsom.

O—James Ormond, Oates & Worrell.

P—Mrs J A P Padmuz $2, J A Peterson $6.50, A H Pomeroy & Co, S L Proctor $8, W C Pipes, E Pate $2, F Pasco $2.50, E Phillips & Co, Mrs H W Pearce $2, Pott, Young & Co.

R—A H Rolfe 3 agent five letters, J M Reuss, John K Randall, Bryce Mills $30, S D Head $10, J W Rush $5.10, Mrs M F Robertson $2.10, Benjamin S Rayner $6, Thomas Richardson 90 cents, W J Rogers, H Rash, J B Robertson, E K W Ross $2.

S—E Steiger, L D Smith $2, M J Sharbrough, W R Stewart, George Schaither $2, A C Smith, William Sorsby, S C Schwing $3, Samuel H Schraeder $31.84, Louis Advertising and Publishing Company, J D Shigall $1.25, Henry St John Smith, Dixon & Co, George S Schofield, J S Smythe $15, John D Salut, Nolan J Stuart $2.50.

T—M D Tatum $1.50.

U—Thomas J Upton $20.75.

W—M E Waters, J A Wilking $1.50, James A Woods, A A Wright, W C Wilkinson, B J Wright $2, Mrs M E Weeks $2, Joseph Williams, W Williams, J H Walker, F M Williams, John F Witherspoon, Wilson, Hinkle & Co, W H Watkins.

Y—W P Young, P K Young.

PAY FIFTEEN CENTS AND SAVE US $1,200.

The subscription price of the ADVOCATE is Two Dollars per annum—not $1.75, $1.80 or $1.85. A few subscribers deduct fifteen cents, some twenty cents, and some twenty-five cents for expense of remitting. We wish to assure them they are taking our money to pay their expenses. We cannot afford to take the risk of remittances, as we do when sent in money orders or registered letters, and pay the expense of remitting.

To each subscriber this should not be more than fifteen cents, while to us, if we lose fifteen cents by each subscriber, it amounts to over Twelve Hundred Dollars!

Under the new postal law we prepay the postage for all subscribers. During one year, ending this day, we have paid out One Thousand and Seventy-nine Dollars and Twenty-three cents expenses for postage. In view of this, and the trifling expense to each subscriber, we hope they will send the full amount due us. When our agents remit what they have collected, without receiving commissions, we cannot expect them to pay the expense.

A ONE HUNDRED PAGE BOOK, containing desirable information regarding new roofs, and instructions as to the best methods of repairing and preserving old roofs, together with useful hints on house-painting, will be sent, free of charge, to the readers of this paper. Write to the New York Slate Roofing Company, 8 Cedar street, New York, and ask for it.

ONE of the best places to buy dry goods in New Orleans is at Levy Bros.', 580 Magazine street.

SEE the advertisement of Navra & Offner's China and glassware establishment.

MARRIED.

CAPELL—MASSEY.—At Scotland, Monroe county, Ala., April 20, 1876, by Rev. T. Y. Abernathy, Mr. H. C. Capell and Miss M. E. Massey.

JONES—BARLOW.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Natchitoches, La., May 8, 1876, by the Rev. J. S. White, Mr. T. M. Jones, of Shreveport, La., to Miss Virginia A. Barlow.

BROWN—FAUST.—At the Methodist church in Pensacola, Fla., April 20, 1876, by Rev. P. H. Lightfoot, Mr. J. Joseph Brown to Miss Elizabeth Faust.

HANDSON—McCLASKEY.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Pensacola, Fla., April 27, 1876, by Rev. P. H. Lightfoot, Mr. John Handson to Miss Ellender McCluskey.

NICHOLSON—BRIGGS.—At the Methodist church in Pensacola, Fla., May 3, 1876, by Rev. P. H. Lightfoot, Mr. Charlie Christian Nicholson to Miss Julia Agnes Briggs.

STARR—CARY.—At the residence of the bride's mother, in Montgomery, Ala., May 4, 1876, by Rev. J. W. Christian, Mr. W. H. Starr, of Opelika, Ala., to Miss Pauline Cary.

GIBSON—BERRY.—At the Methodist church in the city of Natchez, Miss., on the third of May, A. D. 1876, by Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt, Mr. Samuel M. Gibson and Miss Lizzie Berry, both of Adams county, Miss.

BILLINGTON—SIMS.—At the residence of the bride's father, on Bayou Bullmower, March 16, 1876, by Rev. Fred. White, Mr. G. W. Billington to Miss E. L. Sims, all of Avoyelles parish, La.

BUCK—CAPPEL.—April 27, 1876, at the Baptist church, Evergreen, La., by Rev. Fred. White, Dr. W. P. Buck to Miss Sallie Cappel, all of Avoyelles parish, La.

DASE—BAXTER.—In the Methodist church at Escatawpa, Ala., on the twenty-second of April, 1876, by the Rev. J. C. Johnson, Mr. H. Dase to Miss Sarah Baxter, all of Washington county, Ala.

VEGAS—KARSTIEN.—On the twenty-fourth of May, 1876, at the residence of the bride's mother, by the Rev. John Mathews, Mr. John Vegas, of St. James parish, La., to Miss Lizzie A. Karstien, of New Orleans, La. No cards.

GUICE—SHAW.—At Union church, Miss., at the residence of Mr. E. B. Smiley, May 11, 1876, Mr. W. McLaurin Shaw to Miss Hybia Annie Guice, of Hunter's Lodge, Miss. No cards.

The true Christian is ever ready to receive on himself the blow aimed at the cause of Christ.

A Frankfo gill said she would rather be a dozen widows than one old maid.

Cultivate an equable temper; many a man has fallen dead in a fit of passion.

To the blessed eternity itself there is no other handle than this instant.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENT'S, MISSES AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as low for the article as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camp street, under City Hotel.
New Orleans, La.

FOR SALE

ON

MOST LIBERAL TERMS,

A

SURVEYOR'S TRANSIT,

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT, GOOD AS NEW.

LIST PRICE ..... $200.

INQUIRE OF

ROBERT J. HARP,

110 AND 112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,

CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

SCRIPTURAL.—"Simmons' Liver Regulator" is certainly as specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure, that its beneficial effects we all know something, and from personal experiments, it is our opinion that its virtues have not been exaggerated by the many flattering notices of the press. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from bilious disorders, and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel: "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy, and then you can judge for yourselves.

REV. DAVID WILLS,
President of Oglethorpe College, and Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.; Professor University of South Carolina.

PROF. JAMES A. SEWELL, of Medical Faculty Laval University, Quebec, States: "I have found Dr. King's Lung Balm, Extract of Best and Purest Cubeb Cubebs, particularly useful in advanced stages of Consumption, Weakness, Dyspepsia and all nervous affections. In pregnancy where it has been tried, while every other article of food was rejected. It is recommended as convenient, palatable and easy of digestion." Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THAT MAGIC NAME!

LIVINGSTONE!

Kindles the enthusiasm of the world wherever heard. AGENTS WANTED everywhere to sell his Complete Life and Explorations, and Last Journals, 630 pages only $2.50. Prof. by facts, and our splendid illustrated circulars, that it will sell many other book, sent free. Write at once; or, if in haste to work, send $1 for full outfit for it and another fine book gratis, to combine address, LIVINGSTONE'S PUBLISHERS, St. Louis, Mo.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT
A SOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED for the DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITIES

a new work, by Dr. WM. SMITH and 37 others, being a continuation of the "Dictionary of the Bible." 800 Engravings. It explains every subject, rite, ceremony, article, word, or thing pertaining to the Church and Christian life of which anything at all can be said. Agents are reporting immense success. One sold 112 first week, others 83, 36, 12, etc. First-class Agents wanted for this standard, fast-selling work. Circulars with unusual terms free. Address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Gold Pens

OUR New Illustrated Price List of Gold Pens, Pen Holders Pen Cases, Pencils, Tooth Picks, showing nearly one hundred different styles, sent free of postage to our address this week. Pens especially adapted for fine writing. We send any of these Goods by mail to any address on receipt of price. Our Pens are all warranted the best quality and diamond pointed. Gold Pens repaired if sent by mail with 50c. and stamp each. BARNES & BRO., Gold Pen Makers, Main St., bet. 8th and 7th, Louisville, Ky.

efw

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1876, by the National Art Co., in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.

"God's Promise."

The Finest WORK OF ART ever issued in this Country,

GIVEN AWAY

To every Subscriber to this Paper.

Reproduced in 17 Chromatic Water Colors, under the artist's personal supervision, and acknowledged to compare favorably with the best Water Color Chromatic Painting ever produced in America. This unsurpassed work of art, through the splendid liberality of the National Art Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, can be secured by every subscriber of this paper, as a

Grand Premium Gift,

It being delivered Free of Purchase Charge to every patron of this paper. It consists of Four Complete Chromatic Paintings,

Embodying the fullest and richest conception of God's glorious promise: "While the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." America's most favored landscape painter, Mr. E. D. Grafton, has grouped together, on a large plate, four splendid Landscape and Figure Paintings, and clothed them in the richest and warmest colors. To show in what light this splendid work of art is regarded, one thousand copies have been sold in Cincinnati and New York, at $10 per copy, and $3.00 in cash was offered the National Art Co. for its exclusive use as a Premium, by one of the most prominent newspapers in the country.

So large has been the demand on the National Art Co. for former Premium Engravings, and so universal the request that their works should not be confined to any one paper, that the Company have determined to make "GOD'S PROMISE" the crowning triumph of their art publications, and have steadily refused all offers for its exclusive control by any one paper, in order that the better classes of newspapers generally may be benefited by being able to advertise it as the last and best Premium Gift of the National Art Co. Hence the announcement is made that arrangements have been made which secure to every reader of this paper a perfect copy of this richest, largest, and best American art publication.

The only requirement exacted is, that each reader shall cut out the following Premium Certificate, showing that it is sent in by a bona fide patron of this paper, together with 25 cents, the actual cost of postage, wrapping and mailing charges, and forward the same to the National Art Co. for redemption. In return you will receive a perfect copy of this grand work of art, mailed in a strong tube, postage fully prepaid, and every copy guaranteed to reach its destination uninjured. Any copy that should be broken in transmission through the mail, will be duplicated free of any charge, upon your notifying the National Art Co. of the fact in the case. Postage stamps may be sent at their face value, as the amount is nearly all used in preparing return postage on the Picture.

Cut out this Certificate and forward to the NATIONAL ART CO. for redemption. It is worth $10.

PREMIUM CERTIFICATE. On receipt of this Premium Certificate, together with 25 cents to pay cost of tube, postage, and packing we hereby agree to return to the sender, postage prepaid, safely wrapped and packed, a perfect copy of Grafton's four celebrated paintings, entitled

"GOD'S PROMISE."

This Certificate good until September 1, 1876, after which 10 cents additional will be charged. No copy will be sent without this Certificate accompanies the order, to show we that you are a bona fide patron of this paper. (Signed) NATIONAL ART CO., 230 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

(Street No.)

NOTE THESE INSTRUCTIONS. All Certificates should be sent in by Sept. 1, 1876. Those sent in thereafter, require 10c. additional, as a new edition will then become necessary. A Certificate for each Painting must in all cases be sent, otherwise persons who are not subscribers will not reap the benefits intended solely for the patrons of this paper. Letters should be plainly written, and properly addressed in a strong tube, and postage will be paid thereon out of the 25c. sent in. THE CERTIFICATE WILL NOT BE AGAIN PRINTED IN THIS PAPER, hence the importance of cutting it out. Address all letters relating to redemption. Address all Certificates to the National Art Co., 230 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and you will receive by return mail the largest and handsomest Premium Painting ever given away.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

CUTLERY, PLATED WARE

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for $25 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces, for 11 00
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 3 25
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 3 50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 6 00

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes.

All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Baths, &c.

Traders from the country will receive our best attention.

35ap NAVRA & OFFNER,
128 Canal, Stone, New Orleans.

1776. The Great Centennial. 1876.

PARTIES desiring information as to the best routes to the

CENTENNIAL,

or to any of the Summer Resorts, or to any other point in the country, should address

R. W. WRENN,
General Passenger Agent, Kellogsaw Route,
Atlanta, Ga.

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer—For a Short Time Only.

Will send free of charge, to each new subscriber of the NEW YORK AGENTS' MONTHLY, a magnificent CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL MEDAL (in large bronze) struck in Albata Plate Silver, larger than a silver trade dollar, 1 inch in diameter. Price, 50 cents each. The AGENTS' MONTHLY is a handsome, spicy 16 page paper. Subscription price, 75 cents a year. Send 2 cents, and you will receive the AGENTS' MONTHLY for one year, postpaid, and the above medal gratis. Address

PENTON PUBLISHING CO.,
Eq Broadway, New York.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,

OCULIST,

11 DAUPHINE STREET 11

NEW ORLEANS.

Office hours from 10 to 3.

H. CASSIDY,

SAIL-MAKER,

AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,

No. 95 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.

ESTABLISHED IN 1836.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS, etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on Storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in full, done at the lowest possible rates on application to

HENRY PFHOFF,
155 Camp street.

BLYMYER M'F'G CO.
BELLS
CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE-ALARM
Fine toned, low priced, fully warranted. Catalogue giving full particulars, prices, etc., sent free.
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.,
664 to 690 West Eighth St., Cincinnati, O eow

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS,

J. B. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors;

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at ¼c. per pound; No. 2 at ⅛c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 2367.

$15 to $51 Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 111 Nassau street, New York.

TRADE MARK. REGISTERED.

OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

(LIMITED)

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT,
BEARD & BRO'S LOCK TIE,
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED). The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Steele & Tutt, Ogden & Bell,
Chism & Boyd, Archer & Borland,
William Dillon, D. L. Rankel & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited)

R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

AN

EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING

OF

PARASOLS!

THIS DAY,

AT

DANZIGER'S,

203 ..... CANAL STREET 203

Bet. Burgundy and Rampart, and

Nos. 228 AND 230 ROYAL STREET,

Corner St. Philip.

20,000 PARASOLS, bought at a large bankrupt sale in New York, will be sold at less than half of importation cost. ALL NEW, FRESH GOODS.

We beg to call particular attention to these Parasols, and cite

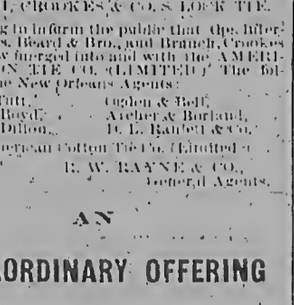
Children's Percale Parasols at 25 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, at 40 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, with fringes, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Silk Centennial Parasols at 50 cts.
Ladies' Silk Parasols, ruffled, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Summer Parasols, silk lined, at 75 cts.
Ladies' Black Silk Ruffled Parasols, silk lined, for mourning and half mourning, at $1.25.
Ladies' extra size Silk Parasols, silk lined, at $1.50.
Ladies' Tourist Parasols, silk, silk lined, with Kerit covering, at $2.50. Very stylish and new.

And a great many other novelties in Parasols, Half Umbrellas, etc., all at less than one half the importation cost, at

DANZIGER'S,
203 Canal street,
And 228 and 230 Royal street.

WALTHAM, ELGIN AND HOWARD WATCHES.

Prices reduced 15 to 20 per cent. Clear Dial Key winding Watches, Hunting Cases, Stem Winding Watches, Dialled free to any address by N. H. WHITE, 41 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.



The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Complaints—product of our Swamps—is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is delicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase! Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 106 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Tonic infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever, etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building, Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
135 Gravier street, and
249 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator of Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 5, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5plc

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden, and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of all sufferers who use Simmons' Liver Regulator, by one who will use systematically this remedy that has permanently cured thousands. No drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment; in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance at the stomach, arising from the imperfect digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator of Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 5, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5plc

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RICHES AND KERCHIEFS, according to the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

NO. 90 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

BOOTS AND SHOES

AT

578 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 578

Opposite the Magazine Street Market,
(Sign of the Lady's Boot), New Orleans.

BRANCH STORE, 585 MAGAZINE STREET, Corner of St. Andrew.

It is opened with a fresh stock of Boots and Shoes at the very lowest prices.

This is the greatest Boot and Shoe House in the South, where Boots, Shoes and Hats can be purchased at THE LOWEST PRICES. Cheaper than the Cheapest. A call is all that is asked to convince any one that this is the cheapest and best place to purchase Boots, Shoes and Hats in the South.

Parties at a distance from New Orleans can take their own measure and purchase their Boots or Shoes by mail with the aid of our Card of Measurement. Send, or call and get one.

We manufacture all descriptions of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters at the very lowest prices. All work warranted to be of the best material.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

TRY THE

CHOICEST NEW

GOSHEN BUTTER

THIS SIDE OF PHILADELPHIA.

This week's shipment is especially fine.

Extra Selection of "Alderney" Dairy, New York.

ALBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,
5p For Prytania and Felicity Sts.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE

OF THE

FOURTH DISTRICT,

595 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPERIAL TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine sawed and split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Allt-hentie Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

BOLDRO'S RESTAURANT,

AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,

Jory & House, Proprietors.

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED ..... WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES.—Rev. H. F. Johnson, Wiltworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. D. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

106 Common St., opposite City Hotel,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

ADOLPH FINCK,

(Formerly with N. Burke,)

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CARRIE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRIE & CO.,
No. 350 Belford street.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Toulouse Geese.

This variety is doubtless the largest known. Men in general have an aversion to geese, and we don't blame them either, for what could the little, noisy, voracious, unruly, common geese be considered on a farm but a nuisance, unless they were securely penned in some swampy field? This natural aversion we were not exempt from till we tried the magnificent Toulouse, and then it was changed to a liking for these geese. In appearance they are noble and dignified, and will thrive without water to swim in, if plenty be provided for drink. They are never unruly, and can be fenced as easily as sheep; are very quiet, not noisy, and extremely hardy. They are good layers, averaging about forty eggs each in a season, and are seldom broody. If the old stock is not kept fat, and after spring opens, only on pasture and vegetables, without grain, nearly every egg will hatch.

The goslings are much stronger when young than the common, and are more easily raised than a pig. We use hens for hatching, and in summer have placed them on a fresh grass plat, and reared them without any mother. Their growth is so rapid that at four weeks old they will weigh from six to eight pounds each, and at three months from fifteen to eighteen pounds. At four weeks old they need no further housing, and can be taken from the nursery and placed in the open pasture to graze and shift for themselves, provided they have their regular meals of soft feed, which should be continued till they are three or four months old. In France and England Toulouse geese are highly prized for their great size, excellent flesh, and abundant yield of soft, fine feathers, of which they will average about half a pound to the "picking," and would be profitable for this purpose. In the severest weather they require no shelter, and we never feed mature birds any grain when the ground is bare, where they have access to pasture fields.

In color geese and ganders are just alike, viz.: a uniform, handsome gray, with breast and under parts of body a shade lighter. They are so mild and tractable in disposition, and possess so many good traits, that they are profitable where they can be kept, and especially where grain and grass are cheap. There are hundreds of waste places upon which, with a trifling expense, large numbers of these geese could be raised. To show how prolific they are, we have known, for two seasons past, one hundred goslings to be raised each year from the eggs of eight females, besides a large number being sold for hatching purposes. For all purposes the Toulouse should be voted the "goose of the period."—The Poultry Nation.

Chicken Salad.

Chickens, Lucca oil, sweet cream, yolks of eggs, mustard, salt, pepper, vinegar, lettuce, olives, pickled beets, a very little sugar. The great object in making a good salad is not to have any one ingredient predominate. Boil the chickens perfectly tender, in water in which a handful of salt has been thrown. When they are cold cut them up very fine, discarding all the very dark meat, such as legs, etc. Add salt, if it is needed. A little extract of celery, with enough rich, sweet cream to thoroughly moisten the chicken; but not enough to make it as moist as salad should be, must now be added. To each chicken the yolks of at least two raw eggs. Rub them thoroughly with a silver fork. Add to them as much mustard as is thought necessary, a very little sugar, and a soupçon of cayenne pepper, also salt. Then add slowly, drop by drop, stirring all the while one way, pure Lucca oil. A good-sized dish of salad will require at least a large-sized bottle of oil. If the oil is added slowly enough, it will become very thick, without the appearance of oil about it. Just before it is done, add vinegar to the taste. Then mix a portion of the dressing with the chicken and lettuce, the lettuce having previously been broken fine with the fingers, not cut. Pour the remainder of the dressing over the chicken after it has been placed on the dish in which it is to be served. Garnish it with slices of hard-boiled eggs, olives with the pits taken out, and bits of pickled beets cut in fancy forms.

1. Salad Dressing.—Yolks of four eggs, five tablespoonfuls of Lucca oil, one cup of cold new milk, one-half cup of vinegar, salt, mustard, pepper. Beat the eggs and oil slowly together. Add milk and vinegar. Set the saucepan on the fire. Let it remain there until the mixture becomes thick as custard. Stir all the time it is over the fire. Set away to cool. When cold, season with salt, mustard and pepper. This mixture will keep one or two weeks.

2. Salad Dressing.—Lucca oil, milk, vinegar, mustard, salt. One teaspoonful of mustard wet with one teaspoonful of milk. Rub to paste. Add a little oil, then milk, then oil and milk again, repeating this until you have as much dressing as you wish to have. Then add a pinch of salt, and one tablespoonful of vinegar (more or less, according to taste.) Mix in a cool place. Have the oil cold.—From "Choice Receipts," published by J. R. Osgood & Co.

How and When to Salt Dairy Cows.

I would say that, until five or six years ago, I had the old fashioned idea that to throw them a handful of salt once a week along a path, in the pasture was all they required. About that time my attention was called to the fact that once a week, for a couple of days after salting, there was an increase in the quantity of milk. Acting on this suggestion, I tried salting twice a week, and found a decided improvement. I then thought that if twice a week was good, perhaps every other day would be better. Here, again, my attention was called to the fact that on the days they were salted they gave more than on the other days. I milk some eight or ten of my cows myself, so that I note these things more closely than I otherwise would. I therefore concluded to try it every day, and liked the result, and noticed that when they missed their salt there would be a decrease in the milk. When salted every day, a very small amount will do, say a tablespoonful just before they are turned out of the stable in the morning. I tried salting in the evening in the stable, but found that had a tendency to shrink the flow of milk; so, after several trials, I gave that up. In trying the above experiments it was not for a period of a few days or weeks, but of a year or two.

Another thing: I find that the corn I feed my cows which I grind and rescald to mash, if it is salted, will decrease the percentage of cream, all other feed being just the same. The reason, I presume, is that the salt in this case has a tendency to run more to fat than to the production of milk.—William S. Nivins, in Rural World.

TRAINING A HEIFER TO MILK.—Cows usually become addicted to kicking when heifers, from being milked by abusive milkers. I have never seen an old cow become a kicker unless abused. Instead of cows being averse to being milked when giving a large quantity, I have ever found it the reverse. When pasturage is good, and cows come home at night with udders distended with milk, they seem grateful to have it removed. Milking a heifer for the first time requires patience, for they will almost invariably kick. In such a case put a broad strap around their body, just in front of the udder, and buckle it up moderately tight, and as soon as she gets quiet (for she may dance around a little at first) take your pail, sit down and go to milking, for she is as helpless as a kitten. Do not attempt to use a rope instead of a strap, for it will not answer. This is a much better method than tying the legs, etc., as it does not hurt the animal in the least. A few applications of the strap, with plenty of patience and kindness, will cure the most obstinate case.—Farm and Stock Journal.

The Herald of Health recommends the frequent anointing of the body with cocoa butter in scarlet and other fevers. It is said to lower the temperature of the body, and hasten the desquamation, besides producing a soothing and refreshing effect on the patient.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TRUNKS.

HO! FOR THE CENTENNIAL!

WILLIAM HOGAN,

99 CANAL STREET 101

HAS READY FOR THE

CENTENNIAL

Gent's, English and Ladies' TRUNKS of the celebrated Victoria, Eugenie and Mortlake patterns

Also CENTENNIAL TRAVELING BAGS in great variety, all of fresh importation, and to be sold at ten per cent. below cost for the next sixty days. With the most stock in this city of BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS for Gentlemen, Ladies and Misses, all at REASONABLE PRICES.—Call and see.

LOUISIANA

PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY.

R. LUCKNER, SR.,

112 Magazine St 112

(Upstairs) NEW ORLEANS

BAND BOXES, with address, three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges, or kept freight for $1.5 per dozen, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS.

GODCHAUX, BETWEEN BARONNE AND DERBIGNY, NEW ORLEANS.

JOS. A. SHAKSPEARE. A. SMITH. P. SWORD.

SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

Manufacture every variety of Steam Engines, Sugar Mills, Saw Mills, Draining and Levee Machines, Mill and Gin Gearing, Grate Bars, etc., etc. Store Fronts, Columns and Ventilators, Blacksmith work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY,

590 MAGAZINE STREET.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.

CHOICE FRUIT SHRUBS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., satisfied and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream by quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries.

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.

Goods delivered free of charge to all parts of the city.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,

DEALER IN ICE.

No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,

GENERAL COOPERAGE

13 NORTH FRONT ST. 13

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

H. SPIEHING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651 MAGAZINE ST. 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

INSURANCE.

TENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

FACTORS' & TRADERS'

INSURANCE CO.,

37 CARONDELET STREET. 37

NEW ORLEANS, May 18, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity with the charter of the Company, publish the following Statement of its affairs for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1876, to wit:

Premiums for the year—

On Fire risks	$590,651 30
On River risks	251,092 49
On Marine risks	1[illegible]
		$[illegible]
Less—
Unterminated premiums, 1875	$[illegible]
Return premiums	41,[illegible] 21	97,[illegible] 21
Net earned premiums		$[illegible]
Losses paid:
On Fire risks	$96,311 21
On River risks	121,653 85
On Marine risks	19,503 67
Total	$277,478 76
Reinsurance	36,231 83
Rebate re-insured	14,016 43
State and City Taxes and Licenses	55,188 91
New Orleans Board of Underwriters	3,519 05
Gross general expenses	14,578 39
		$130,555 37
Balance		$132,716 54
Add interest and discount and savings		108,285 52
		$241,002 76
Less first semi-annual interest paid on capital stock, five per cent., and second now due, five per cent.		110,000 00
Net profits		$131,002 76
Reserved		30,000 00
Balance divided on net premiums		$97,002 76

The Company have the following assets:

Cash on hand	$[illegible] 71
Accounts in course of collection	41,623 [illegible]
Bills receivable for premiums	28,691 53
Bank and other stocks	27,418 16
City and other bonds	10,303 98
Bonds of Masonic Grand Lodge	5,000 00
Bonds of Odd Fellows' Hall Association	5,000 00
Bonds of Association for relief of Widows and Orphans	2,[illegible] 00
Real estate	77,5[illegible] 85
	$[illegible] 10

The foregoing is a true and correct statement from the books of the Company.

E. A. PALFREY, President.

THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

STATE OF LOUISIANA, Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans:

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-fifth day of May, 1876.

EDWARD IVY, Notary Public.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the eighteenth instant, it was resolved to declare and pay a second semi-annual interest of FIVE PER CENT. of April, 1876, making ten per cent. per annum on the capital stock of the Company for the year, and a cash dividend of TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. to stockholders on the said stock, being of their net participating profits for the year ending April 30, 1876.

E. A. PALFREY, President.

MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.

THEOPHILUS T. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

W. A. Johnson	C. C. Raymond,
John L. Noble,	T. Lyd. Lyon,
John Phalle,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Boyd,
John T. Warren,	Joseph McElroy,
E. T. Buckner,	E. H. Wheelock
Samuel Friedlander,	Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yates,	Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams,	B. F. Eschleman,
Isaac Scherck,	Wm. C. Black,
Jos. M. Walmsley,	Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May,	L. C. Emery,
	Wm. Harwell.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 CARONDELET STREET 3

New Rochester National Banks.

This Company, chartered in 1857, insures against loss by Fire, River and Marine, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. CHAPELL, President,

J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maurian,	H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy,	N. Chapella,
B. Sohn,	L. Bayle,
H. Labatut,	A. R. Brunswan,
	A. Delmigaze.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS

SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

131 CANAL STREET 130

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID C. ROTHART, President.

THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.

THOS. ALLEN CLARK, Second Vice President.

CHARLES A. LEIDS, Third Vice President.

CHARLES ELSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams	George Jonas,
Thos. Allen Clark,	Thomas Fenn,
Charles J. Leids	Christian Mueller,
Samuel Jamison,	Cyril Rolli,
A. Moulton,	C. L. Bayle,
E. A. Palfrey,	David Zaphiel.

Interest on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK

AND

SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

P. C. PALMER, President.

JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

F. C. CONERY,	PHILIP WINN,
J. B. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. H. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
	P. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Safes Deposits received and six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

93 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash on merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Hope XXX, Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX, Grangers' Best XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar districts.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

INSURANCE.

TWENTY-SEVENTH

ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

Crescent Mutual Insurance

COMPANY.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 20, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity to the amended charter, submit the following statement of the affairs of the Company on the thirtieth of April, 1876:

Fire premiums	$201,66[illegible] 26
Marine premiums	37,[illegible] 87
River premiums	114,[illegible] 26	$[illegible] 40
Earned premiums, less reinsurance and return premiums		$[illegible] 48
Losses paid and estimated, including and known and unpaid:
On fire	$56,980 [illegible]
Marine	1,[illegible] 58
On river	71,471 [illegible]	$117,[illegible] 58
Taxes, expenses, rebate in lieu of participation, less interest, discount, etc.	$3,72[illegible] 11	230,[illegible] 61
Leaving, after paying ten per cent. in cash, interest on capital stock, profits		$[illegible] 79

The Company have the following assets:

Bills receivable	$51,72[illegible] 78
Loans on bond and mortgage	50,[illegible] 93	$1[illegible] 11
Loans upon pledge of call,	$15[illegible] 37
Cash	6[illegible] 91	18[illegible] 41
Real estate		120,031 42
City bonds, banks and other stocks		1[illegible] 00
Premiums in course of collection		27,62[illegible] 77
Total assets		$5[illegible] 71

The above statement is a true and correct transcript from the books of the Company.

THOS. A. ADAMS, President.

HENRY V. OGDEN, Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-fifth day of May, 1876.

WM. H. HOLMES,

Second Justice of the Peace, Parish of Orleans.

The Board of Trustees resolved that after paying the annual interest of ten per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, a dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. be paid in cash on and after the two-fifth day of June next, to those parties holding with the Company entitled to receive the same.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams	Edward Pilsbury,
Samuel B. Newman,	John E. King,
Sigel H. Kennedy,	Fred'k Cameron,
John Phelps,	A. L. Harris,
Adam Thomson,	Andrew Stewart,
Henry Abraham,	Joseph [illegible],
P. N. Strong,	Hugo Marcus,
Victor Meyer,	Alfred Montjoy,
Joseph Bowling,	H. C. Lurey,
Edward L. Lee,	Edward Naffe,
Josiah M. Smallidge,	George W. Scott,
Samuel Hemenway,	A. Levy,
Hugh McCloskey,	John Emmanuel,
Joseph H. Wright,	Wm. H. Matthews,
R. A. Hess,	John N. Moore,
	Paul E. Montauge.

HIBERNIA

INSURANCE COMPANY.

OFFICE—NO. 37 CAMP ST.

JOHN HENDERSON, President.

P. IRWIN, Vice President.

THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

Cash	$213,[illegible] 66
Losses Paid	74,71[illegible] 00
Net Profits	68,[illegible] 66

A dividend of Seventy per cent. on the net earned premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876, has been declared by the Board of Trustees, payable on demand.

The following named gentlemen were unanimously elected Directors of this Company to serve for the ensuing year:

P. Irwin	John Henderson,
Thomas Kinsella,	James Ryan,
Thomas Gilmore,	W. L. Joseph,
John T. Gibbons,	James A. Gardner,
William Hart,	Isaac Gaudet,
David Jackson,	John H. Harris.

P. J. Gaudet,

And at a meeting of the Board, held May 2, JOHN HENDERSON, President P. IRWIN, Vice President, and THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary, were unanimously re-elected.

The Board declared out of the net profits of the Company for the past twelve months, six per cent. interest, also 1 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital, and 2½ per cent. dividend on premiums paid by stockholders, making, with the rebate, 10 per cent. on premiums. Said interest and dividends to be placed to the credit of the stockholders.

Interest and dividends on full-paid stock paid in cash at the office of the Company on and after June 15 proximo.

THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

NEW ORLEANS, May 12, 1876.

FACTORS' AND TRADERS'

INSURANCE CO.

37 CARONDELET STREET.

ASSETS APRIL 30, 1876 ..... $1,186,215 88

This Company Issues Policies on

Fire, River and Marine Risks

AT LOWEST TARIFF RATES.

E. A. PALFREY, President,

MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President,

THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

Moses Greenwood,	B. M. Walmsley
W. A. Johnson,	A. Britton,
John L. Noble,	A. H. May,
John Phalle,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	T. Lyd. Lyon,
Samuel E. Moore,	Wm. C. Raymond,
J. L. Warren,	James S. Prestidge,
E. T. Buckner,	Samuel H. Boyd,
Samuel Friedlander,	Joseph McElroy,
A. A. Yates,	E. H. Wheelock
John L. Adams,	Cyrus Bussey,
Isaac Scherck,	William J. Behan,
	B. F. Eschleman.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital	$500,000 00
Assets at their market value	632,827 06
Income for the year 1875	621,630 91

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith,	A. M. Hickman,
Placide Forstall,	A. Schreiber,
H. Gilly,	J. Tuyes,
Charles Laffite,	W. A. Bell,
W. Van Heuthuysen,	D. Fatjo,
Pierre Pointz,	D. D. Rogers.

FAVORITE SONGS

New Collection Gems of Sacred Music, by the Christies, for singing classes and congregations. Prof. McIntosh of the Vanderbilt University says it is the best book of the kind. Price 60 cts by mail. Specimen leaves free. Address R. W. Carroll & Co., Cincinnati, O.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

"Every Piano in America Should be Graced by a Copy."

$5,000!

—IN GOLD—

WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committees

FOR

RICHARD WAGNER'S

Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.

Now Arranged for Piano by

THEODORE THOMAS,

(Played by his Orchestra nightly).

And Published by

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI, O.

Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY Hoe, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED.

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

struck in solid Albata Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade dollar, being 1½ inches in diameter, handsomely put up and sell readily at sight. The most valuable Souvenirs and Mementos ever issued. A complete outfit of magnificent Samples for agents, in velvet-lined mirrored case, including the Bust of "George Washington," Grand Entrance International Exhibition, Memorial Hall, Art Gallery, Horticultural Hall, Main Building, and the grand representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, designed by Trumbull, in gilt, sent by mail on receipt of Draft or Post-office order for $2.0, or will ship by express, C. O. D., upon receipt of [illegible] charges. Agents wanted and prices reduced one-half upon receipt of [illegible] cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Exclusive deals for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,

P. O. Box 5270. NEW YORK.

CENTENNIAL BOOK OF BIOGRAPHY

of the greatmen of the

FIRST 100 YEARS OF OUR INDEPENDENCE.

The glory of America is her great men. Every body wants to read their lives. We are booming this season. AGENTS WANTED. [illegible] pages, splendid steel engravings, low price, quick sales, large profits. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 55 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Sheets Safety Guard fits any bed. Agents wanted everywhere. Sells at sight. Sample prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SHEETS, 18 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$5,000 AGENTS WANTED.—Send 25 cents for [illegible] and terms. Agents can make from $5 to $10 per day. Two articles in new articles; saleable as ever. Address H. [illegible] & CO., Newark, N. J.

$250 A MONTH.—Agents wanted everywhere. [illegible] Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE PUBLIC.

ASCERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the first manufacturers of Perique Tobacco in Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

of the following manufacturers of Grand Point:

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. SE. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 19 Conti street.

RICE BROS. & CO.,

81 AND 83 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,

NAILS AND CUTLERY,

Tinners' Stock and Tools,

AND HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

The Charter Oak Stoves.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gent.'s, Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK

And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed.

JOHN HOLS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

BLACKMAN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For Terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

MEDICAL.

DUCONGE'S

PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, well-established virtue and its high reputation in all ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Throat, etc., is so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to speak at length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach, Lungs, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Gout or Dyscntery and Summer Complaint, especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most efficacious in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of effecting truly extraordinary medicine has, over many compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, as it requires no particular diet. It is also a great relief, not only because the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar consistency this Syrup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families whenever needed by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Syrup.—Grown persons can take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night can take two tablespoonfuls of the Syrup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day, at suitable [illegible], at intervals of three hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 59 Carondelet street.
And by all druggists.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.

INDUCED by the demand, especially existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following list of HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, as having given extensive experience, to be safe, genuine, reliable, and peculiarly suited to families. Each Medicine is accompanied by explicit directions, and a pamphlet containing general advice as to the treatment of disease, etc.

No. For—

1. Fever. 2. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3. Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4. Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5. Whooping or Spasmodic Cough.
6. Diarrhœa. 8. Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
9. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10. Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11. Worm Colic or Fever.
12. Colic, Teething and Wakefulness.
13. Toothache, Neuralgia. 14. Croup.
15. Sick Headache, Vertigo.
16. Sore Throat, Quinsy.
17. Sore Mouth, Thrush, Salivation.
18. Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19. Kidney Affections, Gravel.
20. Suppressed, Scanty or Painful Periods.
21. Profuse Periods, Flooding.
22. Painful Periods, Delirium, etc.
23. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Pains.
25. Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fever Sores.
26. Sore or Weak Eyes.
27. Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28. Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29. Biliousness.
30. Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions, Sexual Impotence. 31. Chronic Congestion.
32. Disease of Heart, Palpitation.

Mailed free on receipt of price. Five Phosphorated Bitters, and Chill Preventive and Fever.

Agent for BANNING'S BRACES.
DENTAL MATERIALS.
Agent for HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices reduced to cost of expense.

Twenty vials, plain case and book. Twenty vials, morocco case and book. Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book.

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy,
352 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

R. ANGELL, M. D., and a. M. A. S. Homeopathic Physicians.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER.

THE MYSTERY

OF PHYLOPHILE'S Hair Tint

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERFECT!

This preparation has received the highest medals of the Centennial World's Fair, and wherever it has appeared it has completely distanced all other preparations. It is now [illegible] by the most [illegible] before using.

*Do not [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Scientific.

mong the strongest statements ting the hypothesis that seeds emain in the earth a long of time, and yet retain vital- one by G. H. Wollaston, who, eview of Dr. Hooker's "Science r" (botany,) says in the Acad- mat Graphaldium Pompeianum from excavations thrown up Pompeii, and that this species erent from anything known in icinity. Some time since a er statement appeared—that is , an entirely new species of was found to spring up from earth taken from under an old of lava. In all these state- we have only probabilities to ns. We know that botanists ges make "new species" on ender grounds. We know es- y that Continental botanists y much given to these things. now also that plants "not to exist" in certain districts are continually being found well-known botanical locali- We have, then, a choice of ations. The plant found may grow in the vicinity and may en overlooked. It may not w species in the sense that a ose botanist would call new; hange of character, through rities of soil or situation. Or he that a seed has been pres- the soil for over a thousand True science should consider ardly before assenting to the learn from The Popular Sci- onthly that in his lecture at on "Common Flowers in sects," Sir John Lub- quired into the causes of closing their petals during d of some flowers remaining r a longer or shorter period hers. The habit of closing als during rain is obviously ntage, since it prevents the ings spoiled or washed away. ody, however, has observed en in fine weather, certain close at particular hours, bit of going to sleep is surely ions; why should flowers do why should some flowers the approach of night, and not? Moreover, flowers keep hours. The daisy opens at and closes at sunset, whence me, dayseye; the dandelion t seven and closes at five; our dris said to wake at eight to sleep at two; the scarlet nd wakes at seven and closes er two; while Tragopogon pra- tensis at four in the morning es just before twelve, whence dish name, "Jo'n-go-to-bed- Other flowers, or this y, open in the evening. Now ations, that flowers which are d by night-flying insects derive no advantage from be- n by day; why, it would be a ntage, as rendering them les e robbed of their honey and by insects not capable of fer- the it. Hence the feature what the wind-fertilized flow- sleep, and that some of ers which attract insects mit their scent at particu

MISCELLANEOUS.

EAN SAW MILL.

OOMER late of Wagner & Toomer,) SUPERINTENDENT.

ing up or down the Mississippi ended to at the Mill Wharf, and ery extra handling.

especially for Pine, Cypress, Wal- Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge. Ties, Shingles and Laths. Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. TOOMER.

J. C. MILLER,

late of Cassidy & Miller.)

AIL MAKER,

POYDRAS STREET, ...107

COTTON DUCK of all widths and de- lers, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly Awnings, Boilers Curtains and all other to be made to order at short notice and ther prices. J. C. MILLER, No. 107 Poydras street.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS, DEALER IN

Second-Hand Furniture.

ought, sold and exchanged. New and ge and spacious store, 172 Camp St., ffel and Attia, just above St. Patrick's r the purpose of taking Furniture on the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing promptly attended to.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Chemicals, Paints and Medicines

EFINERY, AND IMPORTER OF D PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Chartres and Chartres Sts., NEW ORLEANS.

Sole Agent for the celebrated Peychaud Bitters.

H. PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

ils, Floor Oil Cloths,

TERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WIN- ades, Cornices, Lace and Notting- Curtains, Mirrors, Mouldings Chromos, Engravings, Etc. ings made to order—a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive, ST. LOUIS, MO.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS. CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY. Estimates and Samples on application. WM. COULTER & SON 102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

PSY OIL FITS cured by Dr. Ross Epileptic Remedies. Trial pack- For circulars, evidence of success, etc., ROSS BROS., Richmond, Ind.

BUSINESS CARDS.

FLASPOLLER & NELSON,

WHOLESALE

Grocers and Commission Merchants,

NOS. 81 & 86 TCHOUPITOULAS ST., Cor. Lafayette, New Orleans, La.

THOMAS, OWEN,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

CHOICE TEAS, ETC.,

Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.

Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET,

AT

J. L. NEVERS',

SUCCESSORS TO

L. C. POOLEY, 345 JULIA STREET.

LOUIS NEVERS, of Lafourche; JOHN B. LEVERT, Of Iberville,

LEVERT & LEVERT,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

And General Commission Merchants,

31 PERDIDO ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

No. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS, MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to or- der. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips and all kinds of Sundry Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

CHEAP AND CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.

D. MORIARTY,

Nos. 249, 251, 253 and 255 Poydras St., (Head of Poydras Market.)

A constant supply of fresh Single and Extra Groceries. Pure Green and Black Teas a specialty. Goods delivered free of charge and Satisfaction in quality and price guaranteed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN, JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANT,

10 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce. Agricultural Implements and Planters' Supplies.

NEW LEATHER STORE.

A. F. RICAU,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

French and American Calf, Kip, Hungarian and Sheep Skins,

Shoe Findings, etc.

35 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS. Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish Kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES,

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to call and see the stock before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUNIE, No. 93 Magazine street and No. 45 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

for ..... CANAL STREET 104

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware finished artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LERDY,

BOOK BINDER, RULER AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,

92 ..... Camp Street. 92

Over James A. Gresham's, New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any de- sired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Charles Street,

Bet. Canal and Custom-house, NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over the- solicitude Admirers) wish to inform their numerous patronage that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in gradating something elegant and tasty. Prices always ordered.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,

ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,

And General Housesmith.

Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Feeders and Ve- randas of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shut- ters, Doors, Window and Door Guards.

120 and 122 Magazine St., Cor. Girod, Box 213, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best man- ner. Goods sent C. O. D., and repairable and suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as repre- sented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COM- MISSION MERCHANTS,

79 ..... Carondelet St. 79

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

JOS. H. WOLFE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS,

59 ..... CARONDELET ST. 59

NEW ORLEANS.

Liberal cash advances made on shipments of Cotton.

KRIEHEEDT & BIENVENU,

MONUMENTS, TOMBS,

HEADSTONES, TABLETS, MANTELS CEME- TERY RAILINGS,

And all kinds of Marble Work

111 ..... CAMP STREET 120

New Orleans, Louisiana.

CRESCENT MACHINE AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,

Corner of Foucher and St. Joseph Sts., NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, cons tructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St., Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans

A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a sample to assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

E. RATELLE,

DEALER IN CARPETINGS,

ROD ..... MAGAZINE STREET ..... ROD

Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans.

Floor Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Tidies and Piano Covers, Crumb Cloths, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Enameled Oil Cloths, Barnaby Pins, Fringes, Tassels, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticks and Spring Covers.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon Street, and foot of Dauphine street, South District, New Orleans. Office, No. 15 Tchoupitoulas, be- tween Valence and Bordeaux streets. L. CARRO, agent. Always constantly on hand a large as- sortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths. Square, Cabinet, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc.; also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pick- ets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Direct communications by Box 2289, New Orleans Postoffice or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.

J. A. LUM. ALBERT HOOKER.

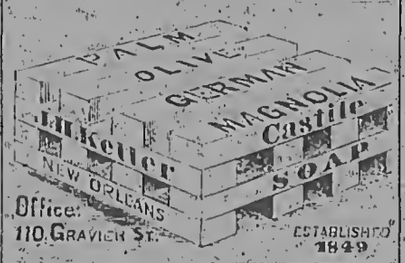
J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.



FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,

Office and Warehouse—47 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET, New Orleans.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OILS, ETC.,

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee Street,) New Orleans.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY E. ADAMS. WM. H. BENAS.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND AND DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Contracts solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. E. OTTO MOSES,

DENTIST,

217 ..... BARONNE STREET 217

Solicits the patronage of the ladies, assuring them of the perfect satisfaction guaranteed to those who may favor him with a call. Charges to suit the times, and pecuniary condition of the people of Louisiana.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence No. 311 DAUPHINE ST.,

Between Conti and Bienville Sts., Square in front of Opera House, New Orleans.

Natural Gum Teeth inserted on Gold, Sil- ver and Vulcanite Bases.

A. L. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Lake Providence, St. Mary Parish, La.,

AND ..... COMMON STREET ..... AND

(Up stairs) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—CARD. In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to 114 CARONDELET CIRCLE, west side, and one block below Coliseum Place. This office has been se- lected on account of its affording excellent rooms and true light, and also its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that, in others as well as the spacial Consider them the highest satis- fac- tion. Dentistry the Science always Cheerfully.

J. B. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNES,

SURGEON DENTIST,

508 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 508

Near the Market,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

613 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS,

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. R. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 218 CARONDELET STREET,

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. W. W. HACK. W. H. FOSTER.

MERRICK, HACK & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS

BATHS!—BATHS!

NO. 102 CONTI STREET

RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tues- day, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. For Gentlemen from 12 M. to 6 P. M. Sulphur and Fresh Water Baths at all hours every day. Polite and special attention to guests.

J. KLOCK.

FIRWEIN is the name of a new remedy men- tioned in the Journal of Materia Medica for January as particularly valuable in Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and lungs; those of public speakers, and gives several cases of cure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR HOUSES FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful gas, equal in every re- spect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

THESE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known New Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, Using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—we use no Drums, Pumps or Bladders to get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all for- eign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Leaf. Our Works are as Com- pact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas making business, could suggest, derive or produce, and think we have at last gained the Ne Plus Ultra of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and sim- plicity of manufacture. The Works, occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man Its Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all gas companies. The Works can be moved on or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change with the retail pipes or fixtures.

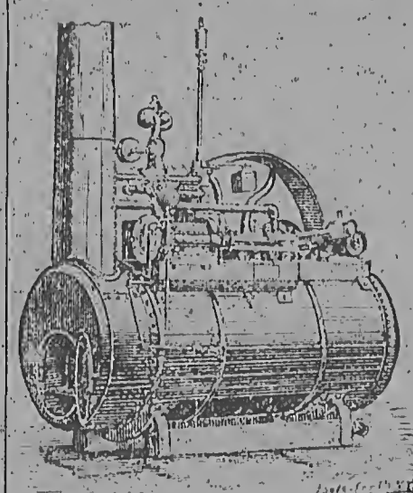
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating pur- chasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

3 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST,

SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes all Dirt, Dust, Sand and light Trash from cotton be- fore ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

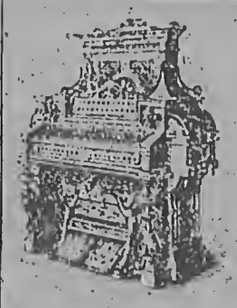
No gin house should be with- out one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, sim- ple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for it- self in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.



PHILIP WERLEIN,

NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as the Chickering, Davilson, Peloubet & Hale Brothers, and Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs.

The largest stock, the best Pianos and organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices in the South. No trashy, unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA AS IT IS.

251 PAGES.

Its Topography and Valuable Resources,

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

PRICE 50 CENTS POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO DEALERS.

10,000 Copies Just Published—3,000 Copies Sold.

The Editor of the New Orleans Bulletin has given this book a long notice in which he says:

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

"It is a book which has long been wanted and obtainable for." "I am selling copies daily that are mailed to all parts of the world."

GEORGE ELLIS, Bookseller, Opposite the Postoffice.

"During my long experience as a bookseller in this city, I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work." "Mr. Dennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS, is just exactly the book that has been called for. It is the key to all such inquiries in our counting-rooms and offices." "Its truthful character were generally known it would supercede in future the present edition of Bancroft's absurdities."

C. C. HALEY, Bookseller, 19 Commercial Place, Branch, 141 Poydras street.

"My experience of twenty-five years as book-seller in New Orleans will justify me in saying that the book just issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, LOUISI- ANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by resi- dents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing.

JAMES A. GRESHAM, 92 Camp and Exchange Alley.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain sup- plies of the above book at the wholesale establish- ment of ROBERT J. HARP, 110 and 112 Camp Street, New Orleans.

Barnett's Iodo-Sarza!

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER KNOWN, is now introduced for the first time in the South, having already been in use in other parts of the country, where its marvelous properties assn

Anti-Miasmatic and Blood-Purifying Preparation

have been fully established. Circulars, containing a complete treatise of the qualities of this WON- DERFUL MEDICINE can be had from FREDERICKSON & HARTE, Sole Agents for the South, No. 131 Canal street.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECO- RATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS,—Established in 1854. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic Buildings. The Ideas of Artists and Architects ar- tistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

WANTED. All persons who have read my double column advertisement in this paper, describing the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend; to send for new terms. 500,- 000 have been sold. J. C. TILTON, Pittsburg, Pa.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE F. C. HARTWELL,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS,

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Reels, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every var ety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also, the celebrated "Bond Shot" Orange powder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Car- tridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and re- tail.

R. RHODES.

FOR THE LAKE!

OFFICE OF THE

NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO., No. 121 Canal St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.

FOR THE LAKE.—The regular trains over the New Orleans Metairie Cemeteries and Lake Rail- road will begin running on SATURDAY, APRIL 22.

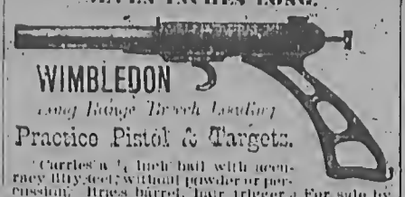
For the present trains will leave Metairie Ridge and the Lake EVERY HALF HOUR from 6 o'clock A. M., the last train leaving the Lake at 10 o'clock P. M. Fare from Play Statue to the Lake TEN CENTS.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Carries a ¼ inch ball with accu- racy fifty feet; without powder or per- cussion. Fires barrel, hair trigger, &c. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with pam- phlet manual on fine target practice for boys, and for sporting out of doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. A. GRAHAM, 65 Liberty street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

150 ..... POYDRAS STREET. 150

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Ready-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and work- manship, and at less prices than any other Store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gents', Boys', La- dies' and Children's wear.

GEORGE W. ROPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103 ..... CANAL STREET. 103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Lace Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

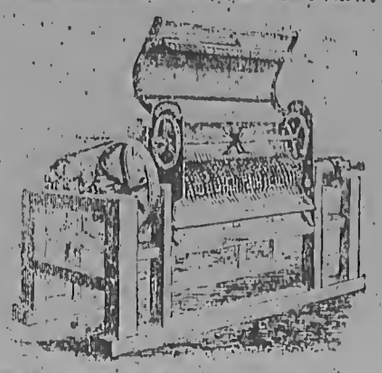
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three sea- sons, and several recent improvements have been added, to obviate all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time while consuming less of animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater mar- ket value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to the increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every purchase ginned. Testi- monials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO., GENERAL AGENTS,

59 ..... Carondelet St. 59

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.

No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.

DEALERS IN

MACHINERY

SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPARE OUR PRICES

MACHINERY

MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.

MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW MILLS AND COTTON PRESSES

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best

Farm Machinery,

OF ALL KINDS;

Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,

Lime, Plaster and Cement.

C. H. STOCKELL & CO., NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS. SAW, FLOUR AND GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE AFTER ANY Patterns. SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS. A GENERAL REPAIR SHOP SPECIALTY. The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use. ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT. SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.

We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Draining Ma- chines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Screws, Iron Fronts for Stores, Mantles, Grate Bars, and solicit orders for Repairs of Machinery, Plantation and Steam- boat work and every description of Machinery for the South.

LEEDS & CO. Orders left at Box 73, Merchants' and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.

IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.

HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELT- ING etc. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list.

GEORGE PLACE, 121 CHAMBERS AND 103 READE STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church BELLS and CHIMES, ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings for Church- es, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Full Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

VanDuzen & Tift, 102 & 104 E. Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,

NO. 151 CANAL STREET,

Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

A large acquaintance with the various kinds of

SEWING MACHINES

has induced us to make a specialty in this line. First-class Machines of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $25. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.

Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giv- ing references.

MRS. ADA GREGG

respectfully offers her services in purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adorn- ment or domestic goods for Ladies' and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles men- tioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCE.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss. Send for catalogue and circular.

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples, worth $1, free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, May 30, 1876.

MONETARY.

The demand for money grows less as the business season draws to a close. Our merchants are not generally overstocked, and are able to sail through the dull season without help from banks and money-lenders.

The movement in stocks is confined to a few favorites, as reported by the Stock Exchange:

	By	Cents
Factors' and Traders' Insurance Co.		101 00
Crescent Insurance Co.		77 00
Sun Mutual Insurance Co		87 25
Louisiana Savings Bank		102 50
New Orleans Insurance Co		32 50
Mechanics' and Traders' Insurance Co.		6500
Gaslight Co.		128 25
Gold.		112¾

Rate of interest unchanged.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,

At the close of business, Friday, May 26, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$939,644 83
Currency	4,501,647 75
Clearing-house exchanges	755,991 40
Checks on other local banks and bankers	10,985 27
Domestic and foreign exchange	4,425,875 40
Due from distant banks and bankers	700,506 31
Loans and discounts	9,222, 44 96
Other cash assets	3,971 58 19
Total	$23,981,892 64

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$879,028 50
Deposits	14,156,441 66
Due distant banks and bankers	881,051 2
Other cash liabilities	586 857 86
Total	$16 668,979 29

I. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

GENERAL MARKET.

Breadstuffs remain unchanged, except for corn meal, which has declined, owing to the supply exceeding the demand. Flour of all grades is firm, but not quotably higher.

Provision dealers are still complaining of no demand for bacon or pork. The Liverpool and Western markets have been daily growing weaker, and we learned while on 'change that the Chicago market had declined, and rates of futures—say July delivery—were made at a decline of nearly $1 ₱ bbl. for mess pork. Our dealers in grain also say orders from the country are quite small for this season of the year.

COTTON.

The market during the past week was easy, then quiet, and to-day firm; sales, 14,250 bales. New York—Sales, 6,632 bales; price for middling Orleans, 12c. Liverpool—Sales, 48,000 bales; market steady at 6⅛d. Rate of discount, Bank of England, 2 per cent.

Stock of cotton in Liverpool, 1,942,000 bales, of which 636,000 bales is American. World's supply, 2,707,449 bales.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7	7⅞	9¼	10⅛	11	12⅝
Thursday	7	7⅞	9¼	10⅛	11	12⅝
Friday	7	7⅞	9¼	10⅛	11	12⅝
Saturday	7	7⅞	9¼	10⅛	11	12⅝
Monday	7	7⅞	9¼	10⅛	11	12⅝
Tuesday	7¼	8	9¼	10⅝	11⅝	12⅞

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	11	11⅝	11
Thursday	10⅞@11	11⅝	11
Friday	10⅞@10⅞	11⅝	11⅝@11⅝
Saturday	10⅞@10⅞	11⅝	11⅝@11⅝
Monday	10⅞@11	11	11⅝@11⅝
Tuesday		11

COTTON STATEMENT TO MAY 26.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875 ... bales	6,074
Received from that date to May 25, 1876	1,327,518
Received during past week	12
Amount of bales from city ginns and pickeries	18,396—1,352,448
Total	1,358,522
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to May 25, 1876	1,317,621
Exported past week	17,031
Consumed by factory and burned	1,457—1,15 625
Stock on hand and amount not cleared	126,120
Estimated stock on shipboard	3,000
Amount remaining unsold, about	30,120
Stock at all the United States ports	47,702
Receipts at all the ports	4,012, 56
Receipts last year to date	3,387,346
Increase at all the ports	627,310

SUGAR.—Market very firm; receipts light. We continue quotations of last week, as follows: Fair sc., fully fair 5½c., prime 5⅝@6c., yellow clarified 6½@6¾c., white 6½c. plic.

MOLASSES.—With light receipts the market has stiffened. Prices are as follows: Strictly fancy centrifugals 40@42c., fair 38@40c., prime 47@50c., strictly prime 46@48c., choice 50@52c.

RICE.—Small receipts and dull, but at unchanged prices. Louisiana No. 2 is quoted at 2¼@3c., common 4@5c., ordinary 4½@5c., fair 5⅝@6c., good 6½@6¾c., prime 6¾@7c. ₱ lb.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

Eggs, ₱ doz	13@ 14
Cheese, good demand	— 18
Arkansas deboned ham	— 12
Western and country	— 10
Chickens, ₱ lb:
Creole, grown	$1.00 $1.50
Creole, half grown	2.00
Bonaparte's chickens brought in coops per dozen less than retail
Wood, ₱ lb
Hay	1.1
Fine at home
Rosin, ₱ bbl
Oats, ₱ bush
Grass seed
Tar	3.00
Beef skins

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $6@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and pecks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 24 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood.—For large sound logs, $2.25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2.75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$1 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, 1-tam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	30 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 25	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
H. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	11 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	18 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 50	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 24	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	$1 60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	1 85	1 95	2 25
8x16	2 00	2 05	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$4 70
3 feet 6 x 7 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 6 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	28	30
English, choice	30	35
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	22½	23¾
Java, choice O G	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb:
Star, best brands	— —	15¾
Chocolate, ₱ lb:
Cocoa	28	30
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl:
Best, K-D	3 00	3 25
Cheese, ₱ lb:
Western factory	13½	14½
N Y cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	8 00
Salmon, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl:
superfine	4 25	4 50
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	5 25
Choice XXX	5 50	5 75
Choice family	5 50	6 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bunches, ₱ dozen	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	24
Distillate, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, bc	17	19
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	— —	60
Golden and Boquet strips	80	85
Hogsheads 5c and Kegs 10c, more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb:
No. 2	— —	2¾
Ordinary	— —	4¼
Fair	— —	5¾
Prime to choice	— —	6¾
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb:
Kegler's magnolia	— —	5
Kegler's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 00	1 05
Sugar, in hhds:
Fair	8½	8¾
Prime	9	9¾
Choice	9¾	10
Yellow clarified	10¼	10¾
White clarified	10¾	10¾
Crushed	11½	11¾
Powdered	11½	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	21
Cloves	— —	44
Cinnamon	— —	32
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong		1 00
Green imperial		1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fine	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	10	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	80
White, mixed	— —	70
Oats, ₱ bushel:
35 lbs to bushel	40	45
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	80	90
Hay, ₱ 100 lbs:
Prime timothy	— —	2 00
Ordinary	— —	2 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00
Cow Peas (unshelled)	1 50	2 25
Whippoorwill	— —	1 00
Mixed and clay	1 00	1 00

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb:
Breakfast	11	11½
Shoulders	9½	10
Sides, clear rib	11	11½
Sides, clear	— —	12½
Hams, sugar cured	11	11½
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	21 00	21 75
Dry S Bed Gent:
Shoulders	8	8¼
Hams	— —	10½
Clear rib sides	— —	10½
Clear sides	— —	11½
Lard, ₱ lb:
Choice, in kegs	— —	11½
Choice, in tierces	— —	10¾

BAGGING STUFFS.

Dogging:
Lodia	11
Jute	13½
Ties, Arrow, ₱ 1	11
Hoard ₱	6½
Twine, hemp	15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	45	40
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	70 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stevens's raw-bone superphosph	45 00	— —
Stevens's ring ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands, C	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands	— —	7½
Choice brands, C	10½	11¾
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	10½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	11½
Local	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Light colors	11½	13
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	17	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor and top boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mid boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	18 00
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 00

Special Notices.

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES.

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to

DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957)
No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

EAST MISSISSIPPI FEMALE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The closing exercises of the present term will begin with the commencement sermon, by Rev. C. B. Galloway, on Sunday, June 4, 1876.

Monday, June 5.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Readings by pupils, and lecture by Hon. T. S. West on "American Archæology."

Tuesday, June 6.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Exhibition.

Wednesday, June 7.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Musical concert.

Thursday, June 8.—Examination of classes from 9 to 12. Evening.—Commencement. Baccalaureate address by Rev. Benjamin J. Jones. Annual meeting of the board of trustees at 3 P. M.

Friday, June 9.—Levee in honor of graduating class from 9 to 11 P. M.

The visiting committee will take due notice, and are expected to attend. J. W. ADKISSON.

THE Meridian District Conference will convene at Waynesboro, Miss., June 23. Preachers will please forward to me the names of all the delegates and local preachers from their several charges. H. R. SINGLETON.

THE Meridian District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, Miss., beginning on Friday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock, Bishop Paine presiding.

Members should report at Turner & Taylor's store on Thursday, if possible, for assignment to quarters. JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Waits the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. B. K. SMITH, P. C.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—A camp-meeting will be held, commencing on Wednesday, July 19, and continuing from eight to ten days, on the Seashore Camp Ground, situated and fronting directly on the Gulf of Mexico, one mile west of Biloxi, midway between the cities of New Orleans and Mobile, and only distant a few hundred feet from the railroad.

W. H. FOSTER,
President Board of Trustees.
P. HALLARAN, Secretary.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Brookhaven station	June 17, 18
Impregard and Wesson, at Franklin chapel	24, 25
Hazlehurst station	July 1, 2
Scotland circuit, at New Hope	8, 9
Crystal Springs station	15, 16
Bacon Pierre circuit, at Tabernacle	22, 23
Providence circuit, at New Hope	29, 30
Georgetown circuit, at Georgetown	29, 30
Crystal Springs camp meeting	Aug. 2, 10
Brandywine circuit	12, 13
Spring Ridge circuit	19, 20
Raymond circuit	26, 27
Providence camp meeting, sixteen miles east of Hazlehurst	30, Sept. 1

The District Conference will be held at Crystal Springs, July 13 16. The introductory sermon will be preached on Wednesday night, at eight o'clock, by W. Wadsworth. A sermon on the work of the ministry, and the spiritual qualification necessary to insure success in it, will be preached on the thirteenth instant, at eleven A. M., by John Lusk.

H. H. MONTGOMERY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez and Kingston, at Natchez	June 24, 25
Fayette, at Belle Grove	July 1, 2
Rocky Springs, at Grand Gulf	8, 9
Vicksburg	15, 16
Port Gibson	22, 23
Flower Hill	29, 30
Rolling Fork	Aug. 5, 6
Payuga at Uticа	12, 13
Mount Hazel	19, 20
South Warren	26, 27
North Warren	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will begin at Port Gibson on Wednesday, July 19. A Bishop is expected to be in attendance.

25 F. M. FEATHERSTON, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Forest circuit, at Hopewood	June 24, 25
Morton circuit, at Orange Home	17, 18
Hickory circuit, at Spring Hill	24, 25
Newton circuit, at Newton	July 1, 2
Enon circuit, at Richland	8, 9
Preston circuit, at Pelkville	15, 16
Raleigh circuit, at Mount Zion	Aug. 5, 6
Lake circuit	12, 13
Union mission	14, 16
Philadelphia circuit	19, 20
Walnut Grove circuit	26, 27
Brandon station	Sept. 2, 3
Pelahatchie circuit	9, 7

25 WM. H. LEIPH, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST. THIRD ROUND.

Woodville station	June 24, 25
Clinton station	31, July 1
Wilkinson circuit	22, 23
Jackson and Pipkin's chapel, at Salem	29, 30
Bayou Sara, at Conrad	Aug. 5, 6
Bullaly	12, 13
East Feliciana	19, 20

The District Conference will meet at Midway church, fifteen miles east of Woodville, on Friday, August 25, at ten o'clock. Delegates and preachers, be present, if possible. I hope the preachers will prepare their reports in writing.

25 J. L. FOSSYTH, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST. THIRD ROUND.

East Pascagoula, at Moss Point	June 24, 25
Ocean Springs, at Biloxi	July 1, 2
Gretna mission, at Cross Roads	5
Ellen, at Soule chapel	8, 9
Taylorville, at Hebron	12
Franklin, at Clear Creek	15, 16
Westville, at Antioch	19
Mount Carmel, at Mount Moriah	22, 23
Columbia, at Columbia	Aug. 12, 13
Pearlington	19, 20
White Plains	26, 27

25 THOMAS PRICE, P. E.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 41 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China (gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain De Terre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates,	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but slop Jar and Foot Tub.
1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.
Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices, and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.
The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes; and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.
Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.
We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other route, it being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed, to reach the Centennial Grounds, where the new and handsome Hotels are erected, within ten minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels—a great advantage to visitors who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE.

Three Daily Express Trains from Cincinnati, making close connection, without a single walk or layover, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be remembered that from New Orleans, via Louisville, the time between New Orleans and New York is only Sixty-two Hours and Fifteen Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Steel Rails and Steel Ballast the entire route, with double and treble tracks, and the best system of rail road telegraphing in the country—which insures safety and safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historic—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—blending, as it does, hill and dale, mountain and valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and rippling brooks; in fact, for the European tourists say: "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great thoroughfare.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is wonderful, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will so state.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans.

SIDNEY B. JONES,
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS

AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875,

AT 5.30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Thalia street Depot:

DEPART.

Express	7 C. A. M.
Mail	5.31 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Express	11.51 P. M.
Mail	12.30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10.30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping-cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

MISCELLANEOUS.

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD.

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising a General Index; Alphabetical Register for Church Members; Register of Official Members, of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Register of Annual, Quarterly and Church Conferences; Tables for Church Collections; and an Annual Summary of the Yearly Work, and Condition of the Church.

The Register contains about 250 pages, size 10 by 15 inches, of good heavy paper, handsomely bound, and will be supplied to Churches for $5 each.

ADDRESS

ROBT. J. HARE, Agent,
NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,
NEW ORLEANS.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents wanted to sell a Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary AND Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select Stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cottons, Ticknes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

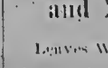
Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent, if requested.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet.

Leaves WEDNESDAY, May 24, at 5 P. M.



FOR CINCINNATI, Louisville, Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Paducah, Cairo, Memphis and all intermediate points. The Passenger Steamer

CHAS. MORGAN,

Albert Stein, Master—Harry W. Stein, Clerk,

will leave as above. For freight or passage apply on board, or to

C. G. WAYNE, 106 Gravier St.

European Passenger Agency.

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE

Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first-class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamers (the quickest and the Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unrivalled. Shortest sea route. Superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Strictly the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage the very best in all respects through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates. Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country. Sight drafts from $5 upon any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or statements, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and coins sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet.

FOR CINCINNATI, Louisville, Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Paducah, Cairo Memphis and all intermediate points. The Passenger Steamer

MARY HOUSTON,

Charles Miller, Master—A. Elliot Miller, Clerk,

Will leave as follows, viz:

SATURDAY, April 29, at 5 P. M.
May 20, at 5 P. M.
June 10, at 5 P. M.
July 1, at 5 P. M.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to

C. G. WAYNE, 106 Gravier St.

J. H. MEHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to sugar Planters. Office, 22 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

$77 A WEEK TO AGENTS, Old and Young, Male and Female, in their local-ity. Terms and Outfit Free. Address P. O. VICKERY & CO., Augusta,

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1876. NO. 23.

LOUISIANA'S CENTENNIAL DOVE.

INSCRIBED TO MRS. M. K. WILKINSON.

BY KARLE SCRIMER, OF EAST FELICIANA, LA.

On Ohio dreary, desolate space
From the ark a dove was sent,
And over all the cheerless face
Of the shoreless waters went.

No resting-place for her weary feet,
No food for her wasting frame,
No hope of rest her eyes to greet,
But with olive branch she came;

And gladden'd the hearts of watchers there,
For tokens of hope she brought;
The gloom had ceased, and everywhere
A joyful change was wrought.

The sun shone forth, and the floods of rain
Roll'd back to the ocean's bed,
And man stepped boldly forth again,
On earth's green sward to tread.

Louisiana sends a dove to-day,
From her ruined castle halls,
Of State, where grim and dark decay
Broods over her crumbling walls.

A token of love and greeting springs
To the nations of the earth
In this centennial year, which brings
Our nation's hundredth birth.

Tis all she sends from her pillaged store:
She offers naught which wealth can buy;
The garden spot of the world of yore
In ruins lies 'neath her sunny sky.

Lay the olive branch of peace and love,
Extended thus from her ravaged shore,
As harbinger to greatness prove,
And our noble ship of State restore.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

ALTIMORE, May 30.—Bishop Ha presided in the General Confer to-day. A committee of fifteen been ordered to revise the hymn No hymn now used to be ex of new ones introduced with three-quarters vote of the con ce.

the Conference the reports of Committee on Episcopacy were ted. The first recommends that character of each of the present ops be passed, and that they all ntinued on the effective list. second recommends that this erence elect no Bishops.

ASHINGTON, May 30.—The Turk minister received the following ram from the Grand Vizier: the presence of the unanimous of all the people Abdul Aziz s been dethroned to-day, his majesty Sultan Murad, their mpuive to the imperial throne, been proclaimed Emperor of the Assembly Dr. Prime said he had been requested to draw ies of resolutions, which were et written out, the routine of h he would indicate. The first ese was one of acknowledg for the favor of God to the As ly, and the most unprecedented ony and good feeling which prevailed during its delibera the revivals through the coun the success following the de ons of the Assembly in regard bbath observance, and the es hment of fraternal relations the Southern Assembly, were ubjects for thanksgiving. The bly dissolved.

W YORK, May 31.—In the Pres Assembly the moderator a private letter from the moder of the Southern Presbyterian mbly, which, after giving a y of the course of the Southern mbly on the subject of fraternal ions, said: "The point of this le history is to make it clear that original action was adopted irre ive of your telegram to me, h, though unofficially announ to the Committee of the Whole, not officially brought before the mbly for action until the paper e Committee on Bills and Over had been accepted by a vote of 6. The six subsequently with their dissent. (Applause.) The , containing the former over was then sent to you, and er was offered in thanksgiving od for bringing us to this unani s conclusion." (Applause.)

Norwich (Conn.) dispatch says pedition is now being fitted out, ich several famous investiga of the Polar seas participate. pears that during the search of ress for the Polaris, over a go, rich veins of graphite were ered in Cumberland Inlet. On turn to St. John Lieut W. A. er, United States naval en chartered a small steamer ent back and continued his al survey. He found large beds mplite and mica, but owing to teness of the season was unable ring any away. The topsail ner Era has been recently fit t New London, and will sail Monday, under Mintzer's com , and under government au to get a cargo of these min and make further collections retic flora and fauna for the sonian Institute. Capt. James ington, of Groton, Conn., is the sailing-master. Esquimaux companies this expedition, as er Arctic voyagers of long ex ce. The Era is a vessel of one ed and sixty tons burden, for the coasting trade.

T EADS, May 31.—The Morgan teamer Brashear, Forbes, mas r New York, Capt. Francis, went to sea through the jetties ven A. M. No detention. It is stood that all Morgan's steam ll hereafter use this channel.

4 P. M. the Spanish steamer Cartlez, master, bound for Liv , Capt. Francis, pilot, went to rough the jetties without de n, drawing sixteen feet two , Capt. Cartlez was much d with the channel, and says that hereafter he intends to come in and go out through the South Pass.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Tobins Gibson, of New Orleans, and Owen, representing the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, appeared to-day before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to urge the Senate to modify the bill carrying out the Hawaiian treaty so as to exclude rice and sugar. Gibson urged that the Western trade largely depended on the prosperity of Louisiana.

Allen, chief justice of the Sandwich Islands, replied, but did not make a favorable impression.

Spencer was seated to-day by nearly a party vote. A large majority of the Louisianians here are much gratified at the result.

BALTIMORE, May 31.—Bishop Merrill presided in the General Conference to-day.

A commission of two Bishops, four ministers and four laymen, to make suitable provision for an ecumenical council, were appointed. Adjourned sine die.

DESMOINES, IOWA, May 31.—The Episcopal Convention assembled. A bishop will be elected to-day. Dr Eccleston and Dr. Perry, of Geneva, N. Y., are the most prominent candidates.

BOSTON, May 31.—The fifty-first anniversary of the Unitarian Association was celebrated to-day. Henry P. Kidder was elected president. The secretary reports the receipts short of the expenditures, and the debt $250,000.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—A detachment of the fifth cavalry at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, and Fort Hayes, Kansas, are under orders to proceed to the Black Hills country, and will start as soon as relieved by the infantry now en route to these posts from Fort Leavenworth. It is the intention of the government to mass all the cavalry in the Black Hills region and garrison the frontier posts with infantry.

FOREIGN

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 30.—The dethroned Sultan is kept under guard in a kiosque. The ministers informed Murad Effendi that he was proclaimed Sultan on Monday night. A popular demonstration took place the next morning, but no resistance was offered to the new regime. Perfect tranquility prevails. Both Christians and Mussulmen express great satisfaction at the change. The city will be illuminated to-night. The festivities will continue three days.

LONDON, June 1.—France, Italy and England have recognized Murad.

The latest Constantinople advices indicate that the deposed Sultan is in close confinement. A hundred thousand dollars' worth of treasure on his person was seized. He will be sent to a distant town in Asia, where he will be confined with his family.

The ministers planned a revolution, and the soldiers and mob acted according to their programme.

It is stated that the new Turkish government notified England of their determination to maintain the integrity of the empire and the sovereign power of the crown, and that England approves their determination.

LONDON, June 2.—The Post says it learns that Abdul Aziz, late Sultan of Turkey, is confined in a splendid palace called the Cage. The Post also says that it has reason to believe that his life is perfectly safe, and adds that it understands that Queen Victoria, immediately on learning of the deposition of Abdul Aziz, took steps to obtain satisfactory assurance of the personal safety of her former guest.

In the House of Lords Lord Derby said he believed the revolution at Constantinople was due to spontaneous feeling on the part of the people, and was not influenced by foreign agencies. The consequences might be extremely important, but he had no reason to anticipate anything but good results.

PARIS, June 3.—The governments of Austria, Russia and France have instructed their representatives at Belgrade to counsel the Servian cabinet to exercise moderation.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 4.—The Porte is drawing up a very liberal constitution in seven clauses, which will soon be promulgated.

It is officially announced that ex-Sultan Abdul Aziz committed suicide this (Sunday) morning by opening the veins of his arm with a pair of scissors.

LONDON, June 5.—The Russian Gen. Tchernayeff, who assumed command of the Servian forces on his arrival at Belgrade, handed the Servian government $250,000, as a donation from the Slavonic societies of Russia. Bulgaria is crowded with well armed volunteers from Russia.

Servia, Roumania and Montenegro have established fortified camps. They are amply supplied with cannon.

A crisis is unavoidable unless Russia retracts. Russia is unprepared for the present contingency, and is slow to decide. The feeling in Berlin is that we are on the eve of a momentous change.

The declaration of the Montenegro Official Gazette that the insurgents are determined immediately to fall upon the Turks with the whole Servian race must be considered authentic. Servian troops are ranged on the frontier ready to act at a moment's notice.

The Berlin telegraph agency asserts that England has concluded an alliance with Turkey, and guaranteed the latter's integrity.

The Russian telegraph agency declares Murad will be recognized on all hands as soon as his accession is officially announced.

The Times' Berlin correspondent, commenting on the tone of the German press, remarks that there is too much reason for these apprehensions.

The King of Greece has ordered his army on a war footing. A Greek commissioner arrived in Germany to negotiate a loan. This serious movement, the correspondent adds, is accompanied by others of like import.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 5.—It is officially announced that a report has been drawn up and signed by nineteen physicians, of different nationalities, which certifies that the death of Abdul Aziz resulted from the opening of veins and arteries below the bend of the left arm, and the vein of the right arm.

All the ministers attended the funeral of the late Sultan.

The Porte has officially notified the foreign embassadors of Murad's accession, and has demanded recognition.

From the Work.

ROCKY MOUNT CIRCUIT, ALABAMA CONFERENCE.—Mr. Editor: Our second Quarterly Conference met at Panola church on Saturday, the twenty-seventh instant. It is said to be the first quarterly meeting that has been held at this church in eight years, the last one having been held by Bro. J. B. Cottrell in 1868. The quarterly meeting was a good one. We have attended a good many, but the Christian feeling and sentiment at this one far surpassed anything we have ever witnessed. All seemed to be of one heart and of one soul; and I am quite sure, Mr. Editor, if you had been with us you would have been impressed that we had all things common. The presiding elder, pastors and stewards were all happily surprised at the financial report, it having exceeded anything that has been on the circuit at this season since the war; for which let us thank God. Panola church is a praying church. The good work has been going on for over two years; and, while the church is being revived, the Spirit of God is permeating the entire community. A few are yet procrastinating or standing still "to see the salvation of the Lord;" but, thank God, many are going forward in the discharge of duty, aspiring after the heights and depths of godliness, adhering to the old landmarks of Methodism—prayer and class meetings. They are regular, they are prompt; hence the secret of success.

Most assuredly there are no sleeping devils in and around this church. They are while awake, seeking whom they may devour. Let me explain, and then close. A man dreamed that he was traveling; came to a large white church, and in the vestibule he saw only one devil, and he lying asleep. Continuing his journey, he soon came to a log cabin, surrounded by devils all awake, the inmates of which were often at the mercy seat. The man asked why it was that there were so many wide-awake devils around the log cabin, and only one at the white church, and he asleep. The reply was: One sleepy devil can control that cold, lifeless church, but it takes many wide-awake ones to control the praying inmates of the log cabin. So much for prayer.

"Restraining prayer, we cease to fight;
Prayer makes the Christian's armor bright
And Satan trembles when he sees
The weakest saint upon his knees."

Glory to the Lamb!

J. A. GIDDENS.

RAMER, ALA., May 30, 1876.

PLEASANT HILL, LA.—Mr. Editor: On the sixth day of May we had the pleasure of attending the Sunday school picnic at Pleasant Hill. At ten A. M. the school convened at the church, under the supervision of Bro. Chapman. Our attention was attracted by the singing of that beautiful song, "We come with songs," etc.; after which prayer was offered, and then Master Walter Harrel gave us good advice in a short speech. He was followed by Miss Jenule and Carrie in appropriate speeches. To tell of Masters Jake, Lee, Amos, and Miss Annie, would require too much space. The valedictory was spoken by Miss Lizzie Hulenswarth, after which Prof. Moss gave us and the school an interesting speech, showing us the importance of cultivating the moral nature. We were then conducted to a table that had been arranged, under the beautiful shade of an oak tree, by the kind ladies of Pleasant Hill and vicinity. To have looked on the table as it bore up its precious contents, covered from one end to the other, one would have concluded that no one about Pleasant Hill would grumble about hard times.

J. M. FRANKLIN.

PLEASANT HILL, May 13, 1876.

Sentence of Whisky Men.

On Friday, June 2, several persons, some of them well-known citizens of New Orleans, were sentenced to the penitentiary for defrauding the government. The sentence delivered by Judge Woods closes as follows:

The offenses charged against these parties were deliberately planned and sedulously carried on, in one case for months, and the other for years.

Since I have occupied a seat upon this bench I have been constrained by my sense of duty to sentence to the penitentiary for terms of three years each five poor and ignorant foreigners for the offense of counterfeiting nickels. I have sentenced for the same term a negro boy for stealing from the mail a letter containing $10. These offenses, although deemed felonious, were not, in my judgment, more injurious in their effects upon the public than the crimes of which these persons now before me have been found guilty. After passing such sentences, can I as a judge, sworn to "administer justice without respect to persons, and to do equal right to the poor and the rich," spare these persons, or any of them, from the rigors of the penalty which the law imposes for their offense? Shall those who are intrenched in the affections of friends, who have means, or standing, or respectability, get off with a nominal punishment, while a heavy hand is laid upon the poor and friendless? Would not this be to allow, in a sense, offense's gilded hand to shove by justice?

I am distressed for those innocent persons who must suffer with the guilty, as well as for the guilty themselves; but I must do my duty, and leave to the pardoning power any mitigation of the sentence I am about to pronounce.

John Henderson appears to be the only person of substance among the six who have been convicted.

Edward Fehrenbach is a young man, who, in my judgment, was put forward by his employer to carry on the illicit distilling in his own name as a shield and cover to his employer.

I mention these facts to explain some inequalities in the sentences about to be pronounced.

John Henderson, the sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary of the State of West Virginia, at Moundsville, for the period of sixteen months, and that you pay a fine of $6 000.

William G. James, the sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary of the State of West Virginia, at Moundsville, for the period of sixteen months, and pay a fine of $1,000.

Otto H. Karstendiek, the sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary of the State of West Virginia, at Moundsville, for the period of sixteen months, and pay a fine of $2,000.

John R. Beales and William M. Todd, the sentence of the court is that each of you be imprisoned in the penitentiary of the State of West Virginia, at Moundsville, for the period of sixteen months, and that each of you pay a fine of $1 000.

Edward Fehrenbach, the sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary of the State of West Virginia, at Moundsville, for the period of thirteen months, and pay a fine of $1,000.

And it is ordered that in the case of the United States vs. Dennis O'Brien and others, that John Henderson and William G. James pay each one-half the costs of prosecution; and that in this case of the United States vs. Edward Fehrenbach, the said Fehrenbach, Otto H. Karstemliek, John F. Beales and William M. Todd pay each one-fourth the costs of prosecution.

The scene in court was a very affecting one. Mr. Karstendiek seemed to be overcome with emotion, and bowed his head while the sentence was being pronounced. The spectators and the officers of the court seemed to be impressed by the circumstances of the occasion, and watched the proceedings in grave silence.

The defendants were taken into custody by the marshal, and subsequently conveyed to the Parish Prison.

It is probable that they will not be taken to Moundsville before June 10, and in the meanwhile will be permitted to arrange their affairs.

To the Alumni of Centenary Female College, Summerfield, Ala.

At a meeting of the resident alumni, held in Summerfield, May 8, 1876, the undersigned was instructed to extend a cordial and earnest invitation to the alumni of this institution, which includes all who have graduated here, numbering now three hundred and seventy-five, comprising many married as well as many young ladies. All are urged to attend our approaching commencement exercises, which begin on the twenty-fifth of June, and continue four days.

It is true that many of these graduates are residing at a great distance from this place, for the daughters of old Centenary can be found in nearly every State in the Union, and doubtless there are others so situated as not to be able to meet with us. Those that cannot come are desired to write to the secretary of the alumni, Mrs. S. I. Canning, Summerfield, Dallas county, Ala., and state postoffice address, and anything they may think of interest to the alumni, their alma mater or themselves.

Provision will be made by the president, Rev. A. D. McVoy, to bring out from Selma all who will come, at a very small sum, and ample accommodations will be extended to them by the ever hospitable citizens of Summerfield.

We all cherish with fondness the pleasant hours spent together in Centenary, which has provided us with the advantages of a liberal education. Therefore our interest in our alma mater should not be abated, and we should exert our influence in its behalf, and make all the efforts we can to enlarge her sphere of usefulness.

On Tuesday morning, June 27, there will be a lecture delivered before this society by ——.

The alumni will give an entertainment on Wednesday night, June 28, for the benefit of this institution. Any contributions in the way of eatables or money will be thankfully received. We also expect to keep during commencement week such refreshments on the college grounds as the people will want.

It is expected that each member of the alumni pay $1 annually into the treasury of this society, to assist in keeping the buildings and grounds in repair.

Come one, come all, and assist us in this grand enterprise. You will be cordially welcomed.

I remain your obedient servant,

SALLIE I. CANNING, Sec.

SUMMERFIELD, May 18, 1876.

Letter from DeSoto Parish, La.

MR. EDITOR: These are times of stirring emotion—Centennial exhibitions and revivals, government frauds, elections and political strife. In the meantime the work of the Lord seems to keep pace with other events.

Hammond, Moody and Sankey, and Whittle and Bliss are a sort of vanguard in advance of the organized regulars in the army of the Lord, leading on the sacramental hosts to final victory. We were a good deal stirred up yesterday, and it may appear that we have not altogether cooled down to-day. A year ago we commenced to agitate the subject of building a new church in a neighborhood where it was much needed. The people were poor, as they are now everywhere. The times were hard, as they always are when churches are built. We have never had anything to do with building a church—and we have seen a good deal of that sort of service—except in hard times.

We talked and prayed and worked; and worked and prayed and talked for it. We had not much money, but a good deal of muscle, and we felled trees, split boards, hewed sills and sawed blocks. We finally succeeded in getting up a substantial framed house, twenty-six by forty feet, well seated, with pulpit, doors, and sash in the windows. The first thing then was to name it. Some wanted one thing and some another, and some even proposed Pipes chapel. We demurred, and they finally agreed on Woodside chapel, which we think beautiful and appropriate. The next thing was to have it dedicated—formally given to the Lord. Rev. J. M. Brown kindly consented to leave his work to preach the sermon and perform the consecration service. At the close of the sermon, which was good and appropriate, a collection was taken sufficient to pay the balance due on the church, when the consecration service was performed and the exercises closed. Thanks to the many good friends for their sympathy and benevolence in helping us pay off this debt. Some of them are not religious. May the Lord yet make the occasion the means of their salvation. DeSoto circuit, now only two and a half years old, can boast two new chapels—Wesley and Woodside. What our next enterprise will be we do not know, but we feel very much like taking rest for awhile.

Other events are occurring worthy of note. The board of managers have renewed the insurance of $10,000 on the Mansfield Female College, re-elected President Thomas Armstrong for another term, and the church has given him license to preach.

"Sigma," on the tithe law, in your issue of May 11, deserves a passing notice, but we have not space in this paper for it. If any of the subscribers to the ADVOCATE have not read the article in your issue of May 4, headed "About Many Things," and Bishop Marvin's letter, we suggest that they look up the paper and read them. They are too valuable to be lost.

Well, Bro. Harp, the first good business day he has, which makes him feel like making a thank-offering, that we will be happy to receive from him a suitable hymn book for Woodside chapel.

J. P.

MANSFIELD, LA., May 22, 1876.

A Note to Uncle John.

MY DEAR UNCLE: Your kind and suggestive letters have been read with great interest, and I hope to profit by your wise counsels. Many doubtless will join me in the request that you resume them at an early day. I wish now, dear uncle, to ask you a question, and hope you will not regard it intrusion nor impertinence. In my short experience as a member of Conference I have observed that the preachers often address and speak of each other, using only the surnames. The fathers, I notice, indulge this familiarity, and the younger preachers follow their example, even at the expense of a seeming irreverence for age and holy office. In speaking of our chief pastors, I have heard you—ever my model of ministerial propriety—call them flatly Paine, Kavanaugh, Pierce, etc. Now, my dear uncle, I wish to ask your godly judgment as to the propriety of such familiarity? Does it not detract from the respect due the high and hallowed calling of the gospel ministry? In my pastoral visitations I have observed the laity following in this the example of the preachers. Our editor they call Parker, without prefix or affix—title or relation. The venerable editor at Nashville is known generally as Summers. With the great names of history this is allowable, but among the living and present it has seemed to me an unwarranted and hurtful freedom. It may be proper to say Milton, Shakespeare, Macaulay, Doddridge, Wesley and Asbury, but it always grates harshly to hear, without some prefix, Keener, McFerrin, Cunningham, etc. "Brother" is a blessed, historic word among us. It is not so formal as the Anglo-Saxon minister, and expresses the tender relationship of all the family of God. Would it not be better and more respectful, in speaking of our brethren, to give them a title, if proper, or else say brother? A word from you on this subject, dear uncle, might be of service to your younger brethren, and will be read with great pleasure by your AFFECTIONATE NEPHEW.

A Proclamation by the President.

Whereas, A joint resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives was duly approved on the thirteenth day of March last, which resolution is as follows:

"Be it resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That it is hereby recommended by the Senate and House of Representatives to the people of the several States that they assemble in their several counties or towns on the approaching Centennial anniversary of our national independence, and that they cause to have delivered on such day a historical sketch of such city and town from its formation, and a copy of such sketch may be filed, in print or manuscript, in the clerk's office of said county, and an additional copy of the same be filed in the office of the Librarian of Congress, to the intent that a complete record may thus be obtained of the progress of our institutions during the first century of their existence;"

And whereas, It is deemed proper that such recommendation be brought to the notice and knowledge of the people of the United States:

Now, therefore, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby declare and make known the same, in the hope that the object of such resolution may meet the approval of the people of the United States, and that proper steps may be taken to carry the same into effect.

Given under my hand at the city of Washington, the twenty-fifth day of May, in the year of our Lord 1876, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundredth.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:

HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

The General Conference, says the Methodist, made a capital hit in electing Dr. H. Revels editor of the Southwestern at New Orleans. Dr. Revels is one of the foremost men of his race. He has been a United States senator, has affiliations with all the colored Methodists, and he unquestionably has the ability to fill his place with honor. Our church in Louisiana is mostly colored. We have one white church in New Orleans, and a slight mixture of white in one or two others. The rest of the patronizing territory is covered by colored churches. There is therefore a local fitness in the choice. A wider fitness is seen when we remember how willing we have been to honor our colored brethren, and how difficult it has seemed to find the right honor. We are mistaken in the main facts if this election does not tend powerfully to the unity of colored Methodists in the South.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1876.

FOR THE ADVOCATE.

THY WILL BE DONE.

Whene'er we drink of sorrow's cup,
Though bitter tears these drops conjoine,
May we in patience meekly sup,
And say, "Thy will be done," not mine.

If deep afflictions bring us low,
O then beneath the chastening rod
In calm submission let us bow,
And yield unto the will of God.

If life's dull cares should tiresome days,
If all our earthly joys shall cease,
Then may his Spirit guide our ways,
And lead us unto perfect peace.

If every earthly tie be riven,
And forced to part from those we love,
To our aching hearts there still is given
Sweetest comfort from above.

We look beyond this earthly sphere,
And see a Father's plying eye,
Beaming with love to mortals here;
Then to his outstretched arms we fly.

'Tis then we say: His will be done;
Our Father doeth all things well:
And when our life work here is done
He'll call us home, with him to dwell.

Then, leaning on the Savior's breast,
All sorrow, pain and suffering o'er,
We'll find in him eternal rest,
And praise our God forever more.

L. W.

Women Preachers.

MR. EDITOR: Will "you bear with me" once more? Mr. Dowling, I think, misrepresents me in his third paper by saying that I advocate that women should preach. The assertion was "that women had no standard authority to preach." In the cases I have noticed I think I have proved that they certainly did have some very plain authority. If prophets preached, then prophetesses preached. St. Paul, in First Corinthians xi, 4, 5, says: "Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoreth his head. But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoreth her head." All commentators agree that what is here meant by "praying and prophesying" in respect to the man has precisely the same meaning in respect to the woman. Dr. Clarke remarks that this kind of prophesying or teaching was predicted by Joel (ii, 8,) and referred to by Peter (Acts ii, 17.). And had there not been such gifts bestowed on women, the prophecy could not have been fulfilled. And that some women, as well as some men, might speak to others "to edification," etc. St. Paul, in speaking of spiritual gifts, enumerates "the word of wisdom, the word of knowledge, faith, the gifts of healing, working of miracles, prophecy, diverse kinds of tongues, the interpretation of tongues;" but nothing about the gift of preaching. Prophecy here, according to the learned Dr. Clarke, means two things: "the predicting future events, and as implying the faculty of teaching or expounding the Scriptures." Priscilla expounded the Scriptures to Apollos.

Mr. Dowling says no woman "was authorized to preach or teach," and that St. Paul "said nothing about a deaconess." Phebe is distinctly called (in the original) "a deaconess of the church at Cenchrea." She was "sent" on some important embassy or mission to the Romans. St. Paul recognized and indorsed her official character, and commended her to the church at Rome, and sent his epistle by her. Beyond all doubt she held a recognized office in the church at Cenchrea. St. Paul mentions Phebe, Mary, Priscilla, Tryphena, Tryphosa, Euodias, Syntiche, and many other women as "fellow-laborers in the work of the Lord." Chrysostom speaks of Perpetua and Olympias in the same sense. What does "fellow-laborers" mean? Mr. Dowling would say it means "all the work of the Lord" for man merely—to "pray" for woman. Mr. Dowling says: "Miriam, the prophetess," "consecrated the other women." "Deborah, a prophetess," merely "said, Awake! Deborah, awake! utter a song;" and gives all the glory to Barak. "Huldah, the prophetess," was one of the singing women; or, a little better she was "chief singer." Josephus, the Jewish historian, makes honorable mention of all three, and sneers at Barak's cowardice. "Anna, the prophetess," was a good old shouting Methodist woman, simple in mind and feeble in body. He makes her shout, and does not even give her credit for that; but it was Simeon's "burning words" that inspired her, not the Spirit of God at all. After saying there were no deaconesses, he admits that "Phebe was of the table deaconship." We are all pretty good table deaconesses, Mr. Dowling, if you will allow us that much, and give us something to put on the "table." Granting that a woman may pray in public, and that she has all the authority needed for so doing, she "must" have her head covered." Will Mr. Dowling allow that the present covering for the head that women wear would come under St. Paul's restriction? Dr. Clarke, commenting on the word covering, or covered, remarks that the covering or bonnet of his day would scarcely have answered St. Paul's idea. What would he say of the present style? What would the blessed old saint of Tarsus himself say? I opine that he would be amazed, and not only tell them to "keep silent," but to keep out of sight also. They would not have his authority even to pray. And he would be none the less startled at the garb of the men.

But, after all, why should women pray? St. James, in chapter fifth, says: "Is any afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms. Is any sick? let him call for the elders (not the good old shouting Annas), and let them pray. The prayer of faith shall save the sick," and "the effectual, fervent prayer of the righteous man availeth much." Nothing is said about the "effectual prayer" of a righteous woman. But the veriest tyro in Bible lore knows this means women as well as men. All Bible scholars know that our version of the Scriptures is, in some respects, faulty. A word is sometimes translated to express different meanings, or another word supplied. The translators were men—liable to err. There ought to have been one woman among them. Then she could very naturally have borne all the faults with perfect ease. One woman has translated the whole Bible from the original Greek. The manuscripts are now in the hands of the publishers. Of course it will not have standard authority, but it will show what a woman is capable of doing. No one man has ever done the same.

To return from this digression to women preachers, I do not think that women, as a common thing, ought to preach, in the modern acceptation of the word. But if here and there, in long intervals of time, a few have that talent, it is certainly God-given, and ought not to be hid "under a bushel." "Let your light so shine as to be seen of men." I do not think that women ought even to pray in public, only in the absence of able men.

I only claim for woman equality—an equal share in God's love, gifts and care. God created man and woman equal. That the woman was first to fall only proves that she was the first tempted. Adam exhibited no superiority whatever.

Our blessed Savior first declared himself to be the Messiah to a woman. One of his last speeches before his death was to the weeping women who followed him to the cross, while his disciples stood "afar off." His first words after the resurrection were to a woman. Let me ask: Who doubted his resurrection? Who denied him three times vehemently? Who betrayed him? Men, and they his own chosen disciples.

I thank Mr. Dowling for the kind and brotherly sentiments expressed in his last article, and reciprocate the same. We stand on the same ground, but see different landscapes by looking in different directions. "Charity beareth all things."

L. CRARY SADLER.

WEST FEARR RIVER, La., April 17, 1876.

Receiving Members According to the Discipline.

MR. EDITOR: In the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE of May 18 my attention was arrested by a communication on "The Pastor's Duty in Receiving Members Into the Church," over the signature of John W. Ellison. His views certainly run in the right direction, but he fails to notice certain points of incongruity in the practice, and a misconception of duty on the part of pastors. It has ever been the economy of Methodism to look narrowly into the religious practice of its candidates for membership, and to school them into practical and experimental religion. Hence the six months' probation and class meeting. I closely read the debates of the General Conference which relieved the probationary relation of its fixed length of time. I never understood from those debates, nor from that action of the law-making power of our church, that there was to be no probation at all, as some ministers have with whom I have been associated. They would urge that all probation was done away with, and receive persons into the church during the same services in which they presented themselves as candidates. This, in effect, is calling them forward not to present themselves as candidates, but to be received into full membership, which is clearly, to my mind, "mending" and not "keeping the rules." The directions given to pastors as to how to proceed with candidates (see Discipline, pages 111 and 112) say: 1. "Inquire into their spiritual condition." What have been their convictions? What the state of their religious feelings? Can questions of less signification be used? 2. Their "desire to flee the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins." How have they been living? What are their resolves for all time to come? A great deal more might be said, but certainly nothing less can reach the point. 3. "Of the genuineness of their faith." Do you believe that God has, for Christ's sake, pardoned your sins? This question can be universally understood, without pages of theology to explain. It may be relieved of some of its rigidness, but never diverted from its aim. 4. "Their willingness to keep the rules of the church." Have you read, do you know, do you understand the General Rules? I do not see how the pastor can satisfy his own conscience, do justice to the church and the candidate, without somewhere—say in private—reading the General Rules, and offering such comments as he deems necessary to a plain illustration of the principles involved. I have ever found this course religiously profitable, and gratifying to myself as pastor, as well as instructive to the candidates. I do not see how the candidate can respond intelligently to the second question in the form of receiving members into the church, especially the clause, "Will you be subject to the Discipline of the church?" without the reading and explanation of the rules. Nor can I understand how the pastor can be satisfied on this point, as the Discipline directs, without knowing that the rules are understood. I do not consider that any amount of cultivation, or extra amount of intelligence on the part of the candidate, is a safeguard against this regulation.

The Discipline says, on page 112: "When satisfied on these points the points alluded to above,) let the minister bring the candidates before the congregation whenever practicable, and receive them," etc. This certainly contemplates that he is to be satisfied on these points previous to bringing them before the congregation. The carrying on of an investigation on these points before the congregation is too embarrassing to most of our candidates to be satisfactory, and is certainly guarded against in the wording of the direction given in the book. This private investigation gives a plea to the pastor for a personal interview with his young converts, and will sometimes bring to his knowledge their peculiar troubles, which otherwise he might never know; and it enables him to discover peculiar traits in his young members, so essential to a successful pastorate. I am certain this course is commendable were there no Discipline on the subject. I think some of these points upon which a minister is required to be "satisfied" have been greatly weakened and perverted from their original design by some things I have heard in public discourses, and in remarks made upon occasions of opening the doors of the church for the reception of candidates for membership: to the effect that mourners ought to join the church. Truly our system is a nursery for the kingdom of heaven. This idea does seem to enter somewhat into our economy, but in all our examinations of candidates our minds should ever revolve around this: "There is only one condition previously required of those who desire admission into these societies—a desire to flee the wrath to come, and to be saved from their sins." The candidate may not be able to give satisfaction as to his conversion, but the pastor can satisfy himself that he is determined to leave off his sins, to live in the discharge of duty, and in the use of the means of grace, as laid down in the General Rules. This, I think, can only be done satisfactorily by waiting for a time (probation) to test their sincerity, and direct inquiries on the points upon which the Discipline requires the pastor to be satisfied.

JOSEPH D. NEWSOM.

LOUISVILLE, May 27, 1876.

Pride and Vanity.

Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.—Proverbs.

They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy.—Jonah.

From the various uses made of the term pride it might be inferred that it was sometimes good, and under other circumstances bad, or that it is an innate good principle implanted in the breast of man, and is only reprehensible when improperly exercised. We often hear the expression that this or that "man has too much pride of character to commit a mean act;" and of another that "nothing better could be expected of him, because he has no pride of character." Another says: "A man ought to be proud, but he should not be vain; for pride is commendable, but vanity is ridiculous." It is often said of the man of well-earned fame that "he has something to be proud of." The advice is sometimes given: "Be always too proud to do a mean act; but never be vain of a good act you may have done, for vanity is a surrender of the good intentions which prompted the act." Sometimes a "noble and praiseworthy pride" is spoken of. Even lexicographers have run into this error. Webster gives as one definition of pride: "A generous elation of heart; a noble self-esteem, springing from a consciousness of worth." Worcester says: "It is a generous elation of heart." Crabbe, in his Synonyms, says: "Pride is applicable to every object, good or bad, high or low, small or great; * * * pride is therefore good or bad. * * * Pride is the inherent quality in man; and, while it rests on noble objects, it is his noblest characteristic. * * * A noble pride seeks to display itself in all that can command the respect or admiration of mankind." Crabbe further says: "Pride assumes such a variety of shapes, and puts on such an infinity of disguises, that it is not easy always to recognize it at first glance; but an insight into human nature will suffice to convince us that it is the spring of all human actions." I have now given a few of the erroneous views of pride; and if all were true that has been said of it, every man should seek after a Benjamin's portion. Difficult as it may be to define that quality in man that we call pride, still it is not impossible, with the aids of lexicographers and the revealed word of the Almighty, to determine what it is and does.

Webster's first definition of pride is: "Inordinate self-esteem; an unreasonable conceit of one's own superiority." Worcester says: "It is inordinate self-esteem, causing a person to overrate what he possesses." In First Timothy iii, 6, the Greek word Typhoomai, which is derived from Typhoo, means empty pride, to raise a smoke, to inflate with pride, and puffed up with pride, and is translated, lifted up with pride; and in Second Timothy iii, 4, heady, high minded (literally, puffed up). With these definitions no good qualities can be found associated with pride. It is something that "goeth before" or leadeth to "destruction," often manifesting itself by a "haughty spirit," culminating in a great fall. Pride is something that the Almighty has said he will "bring down," "cut off" and "scatter." Solomon says: "A high look and a proud heart, and the plowing (light) of the wicked is sin." Pride, then, generically and specifically, is a sin, and is placed with the worst of sins by the Savior of the world in Mark vii, 22. See also First Epistle of John ii, 16. Herod was puffed up with pride when he arrayed himself "in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration, and the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a God, and not of a man; and immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory." His great sin was inordinate self-esteem, which is the proper definition of pride. His case is also an apt illustration of Proverbs xvi, 18. The Pharisee that went up into the temple to pray was a proud man. "He stood and prayed thus with himself." His whole mind was concentrated on himself; consequently he did not pray at all, but boasted of what he was, was not, and did. This man "exalted himself," and our Lord said that such an one "shall be abased."

Pride is something that proceeds out from within—from the heart. It is a moral disease, to which all are liable, and which the hands of bishops or presbyters cannot eradicate; consequently it is often manifested in the pulpit, and is sometimes very fatal with young ministers under the appellation of Bighead. As pride, then, in all its phases, is sin, in the pulpit or the pew, it becomes us to seek after its eradication by the only infallible remedy—the blood of Jesus Christ, which cleanseth from all sin. Yea, if we expect to be delivered from all the slaves of pride and roots of bitterness,

"Our flesh and senses must be denied—
Passion must enjoy, lust must be slain;
While justice, temperance, truth and love
Our inward piety approve."

W. SPILLMAN.

ESTHEROSE, Miss., April, 1876.

Is It a Sin to Join the Methodist Church?

MR. EDITOR: The above question was suggested by the following paragraph in the Alabama Baptist of May 11, 1876:

Warning. W. H. Franklin joined the Sulphur Spring Baptist church, by letter, January, 1872. He was dismissed by letter, May, 1874. Joining the Methodist Church, he was excluded by the Sulphur Spring church, August, 1874. At the same time the church requested him to return the letter she gave him. He refuses to give it up unless the church return to him the letter upon which he was received, in January, 1872. We therefore warn all Baptist churches of the above facts. Done by the order of the Sulphur Spring church, March, 1876.

E. B. WALDROP, Mod.
J. A. BAKER, C. C.

Now, Mr. Editor, I repeat my question: "Is it a sin to join the Methodist Church?" I ask further: Is there no way to get out of the Baptist Church but to die or be expelled? If not, does it become our Baptist brethren to be always setting themselves up as the heroes of religious liberty?

PHILO.

OBITUARIES.

WILLIAM B. GILL was born in Chester district, S. C., April 9, 1821. At the age of nineteen or twenty he professed religion and joined the Methodist Church. With his father he moved to Cave Spring, Ga., from which place he removed in 1853 to Homer, Claiborne parish, La., and engaged in the mercantile business. In 1855 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary E. Hutchings. After a protracted physical affliction and great suffering he died in this place, May 8, 1876.

Though Bro. Gill had been in declining health for over a year, and for several months confined to his room, his death was a shock to the community. Only two days before his death he was sitting up in his easy chair, conversing cheerfully with his friends. A greater gloom has not been cast over this community than that produced by the death of this good man. He is universally lamented. He has been a successful and highly respected merchant in this place for over twenty years.

His opinion was sought and relied upon by all on almost every subject that related to the private or public enterprises of the country. He was a man of few words, but he possessed a clear, sound judgment, and an unselfish, pure heart. He was a firm, devoted supporter of the church, a warm-hearted, fast friend, a safe counselor, and a pleasant companion. As a son any father might have been proud of him. He was a kind and indulgent parent, a devoted husband, and a faithful, consistent Christian. In a word, he filled all the various duties and responsibilities that were imposed upon him with dignity, sobriety and faithfulness. But few men possessed so many excellencies of character.

His funeral took place on the ninth instant, and the very large attendance, from the town and country around, showed how highly he was esteemed and respected.

His aged father, his widow, son and relatives have the entire sympathy of the community. May the God of all grace comfort and sustain them in this sad bereavement; and may we all emulate his character, and may our end, like his, be calm, peaceful and triumphant.

JOHN A. MILLER.

HOMER, La., May 15, 1876.

MR. WILLIAM J. ALDRIDGE died at his residence near Many, La., March 31, 1876, aged thirty-one years. He was the eldest son of W. H. and Julia Ann Aldridge; was married to Miss Lucia Sibley February 1, 1866; and joined the church in October, 1865, being clerk of the church to which he belonged for many years. He was ever true and faithful to his duty, and leaves a bright evidence of his acceptance with God, and of his safe exit from this world of suffering, to that world where "sickness, sorrow, pain and death are feared and felt no more."

A few days before he died, he had a spasmodic spell, and was apparently dead for about an hour. He revived a little, and could talk in a whisper. He called for his wife to come to him, and told her he was going to die, and that he was ready and willing to go; begged her to raise his little children right, and to meet him in heaven. After that time he often spoke of his departure with great composure, entreating his aged father and mother, brothers, sisters and friends to live right, and meet him in the better land. He sang three verses of "Amazing grace, how sweet the sound!" and his voice failed. He then requested his friends to sing that good old song, "I'm on my way to Canaan," He was aware of his near approach to the grave, but it had no terrors for him. It was indeed an affecting scene. After he entered the dark and chilly stream of death he put his arms around the neck of his dear, aged father, and exhorted him to live a Christian, and then prayed a most touching prayer for him. He had his children brought to him and kissed them a long farewell. "Blessed thought" to have that consolation in Christ, and the full assurance of hope that claims the victory over death! It is seldom death summons one from the walks of life whose loss is more deeply and generally felt. He was a dutiful son, a loving brother, an affectionate companion and an indulgent father.

A FRIEND.

MARY CATHERINE KAVANAUGH, only daughter of E. D. and Harriet Kavanaugh, and wife of John M. Williams (son of Rev. James N. Williams, of the Mississippi Conference), died near Morton, Scott county, Miss., on the eighth day of March, 1876. Sister Williams was born in Hillsboro, Scott county, Miss., on the sixth of June, 1848; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South and professed religion in 1862; and was married in December, 1865. Her life was essentially Christian, and for a great while was one of self-affliction. Her sickness was of several years' duration, and much of that time she could not speak above a low whisper; yet she did not murmur, and often assured her friends that "all was well."

"Jesus could make a dying bed Soft as downy pillows are."

Her sufferings were intense, but her soul was calm. Her death-bed was hallowed as the battle field of victory, where the last foe is met and vanquished. She had "fought a good fight" and "kept the faith," and died as she had lived, trusting in Jesus. Her husband and three little children were all the ties that bound her to earth. These she committed to him who said: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not;" and, like a fatigued child going to sleep, gently gave back her spirit to God.

With Sister Williams there had been obstacles to the closest fellowship. The body, with its infirmities, as a material veil lay between her and the Father. Here she had worldly cares, inward depravity, great physical suffering, and all the evil influences of the world to resist. These things are now removed, and her soul has doubtless passed from the material and corruptible into the immediate presence of the Father.

PASCAL.

JOHN CLOWER was born in Lawrence county, Miss., March 1, 1819, and died at his residence in Sweetwater, Holmes county, Miss., May 1, 1876.

Bro. Clower was stricken with paralysis, and lived about a week afterward. He united with the Methodist Church in early life, and was ever a faithful servant of his Master's cause, serving the church in the capacity of steward, district steward, and was at the time of death a delegate to the District Conference.

Bro. Clower was a Christian from principle, and moved on in his religious duties quietly but firmly, making no vain show of the piety that was in him. He was a true friend to the church, and was always content when religion was prosperous. He loved the people of God, and but few men, if any, were better friends to the preacher; therefore he was always proud to have them partake of the hospitalities of his comfortable home. He died as he lived—quietly, calmly and without fear—bowing the evidence of his acceptance with God.

Just before the final struggle he spoke words of comfort and advice to his bereaved wife and children, remarking that he would rather stay with them for their comfort, but if the Lord willed otherwise, he was ready.

He was married to Miss Mary Johnson, daughter of Rev. Stephen Johnson, of Hawkhurst, Miss. She now survives him, with a large family of children, to mourn their loss. After his funeral was preached to a large congregation of sorrowing relatives and friends, he was buried, with our beautiful and solemn church ritual, in hope of a blessed immortality. A good man has passed away. Earth is poorer—heaven, if possible, is made richer. Oh! that the children may follow in the footsteps of their father, as he followed Christ.

K. A. JOY.

THE following resolutions on the death of MISS JACQUELINE L. BYRD, who died took place at the residence of Dr. C. Moore, Summerfield, Ala., March 10, were adopted by the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in Summerfield, May 21, 1876:

Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to call to her reward our sister in Christ, Miss Jacqueline L. Byrd, in the seventy-second year of her age, and in the fifty-third of her membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church South; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the members of this church, do deplore her death, while we bow to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That in her death this church has lost a faithful and consistent member, an earnest and sincere Christian—one whose hand was ever ready to do good, and whose influence was always exerted to benefit those around her.

Resolved, That we cherish her memory as one who served the Lord with gladness during a long life, and as one who was peaceful and triumphant in her death, departing eagerly, as the final hour approached, to be with Christ.

Resolved, That we sympathize deeply with the relatives of the deceased, while it is a privilege to point them to the consolations that the world cannot give—that the departed loved one is now, and ever shall be, a redeemed spirit, forever with the Lord.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the relatives of the deceased, and that they be published in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

A. D. McKEE,
M. TANNER,
E. GARRATT,
Committee.

BRO. ELIJAH CRIDER was born in South Carolina, and died at his residence in Lincoln county, Miss., March 8, 1876, in the seventy-fifth year of his age. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Wilkes in 1821, and still survives him, and feels more keenly than all others the pain of this great bereavement. Never was married life happier than theirs.

He was happily converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Wright's Camp ground, in Franklin county, Miss., and was ever after an exemplary Christian.

The disease that terminated his life was paralysis. During his long and painful illness he seemed to fully comprehend his situation. It was his great concern to get everything in order against the time of his departure. He called his wife, children and grandchildren around him, and gave to each his parting counsel, and commended them kindly to them and good book that had been a lamp to his feet for so many years. He requested his funeral to be preached by the pastor at his residence, which was done. Many expressions full of triumph fell from his lips during his illness. He seemed anxious to be numbered with the dead, and the calm triumph of a living faith, which grew stronger and stronger to the last,

W. WYNNE.

CALISTA W. SMITH, daughter of W. D. Smith, of Atlanta county, Miss., and wife of Whitefield Smith, was born November 11, A. D. 1811. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1877, and in which she lived a very humble Christian life until April 10, 1876, when God called her home to rest. Sister Smith was a woman of deep piety, and dearly loved her church and pastor. As a neighbor she was hospitable and kind, and charitable in all things. As a mother she was tender and gentle, firm and decisive in all her management. As a wife she was devoted and affectionate. None possessed more amiability and Christian integrity. In short, her life was almost a matchless outline of Christian virtue. She died as she lived—in the full triumph of a living faith.

During her last illness she suffered very much, but bore all with great fortitude and patience. She was conscious of her approaching end, and exclaimed, just before her last breath: "Jesus, receive my spirit. Jesus, take me." Then in great peace she passed over the river, forever to rest.

She leaves a kind husband, four little children, and one infant daughter, who now mourn, yet not without hope; and may their hope be as an anchor to their souls, both sure and steadfast, which enters into that within the vail.

A. C. HUNTER.

EDWIN THOMAS MCCLESKEY was born in the State of Mississippi, July 1, 1847, and died in Fillmore, La., April 23, aged twenty-eight years, nine months and one day. When informed that he could live but a few days he received the information calmly, saying he was not afraid to die, though the news was unexpected. He sent for a Baptist minister to receive him into the church. He came, but thought him too sick to be immersed. It must be a source of consolation to the bereaved that christianity in heaven does not depend on external ordinances, but on internal grace. By means of affliction God doth wean us from earth and school us for heaven. May the aged father and mother, the bereaved companion and the orphans take courage, and not sorrow as those who have no hope.

G. M. L.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1876.

YELLOW JASMINE.

BY MARY DAUB.

...begin come as flowers, ye golden stars!
...at I can hold within my scroll white palms?
...ere you dropped from o'er the crystal bars,
...ed with the perfume of celestial psalms?

...ild you come? For fear I should forget?
..., but, sweet flowers, you would, not judge
...me so.
...there not memories between us set,
...ader love, no future thys can know?

...bosky wreathlets that were jasmine bowers,
...ir misty haze of bloombells up the glade;
...had I lost amongst pilfing flowers,
...ad not been astonished or afraid,

...ittul children, innocent and bright,
...Golden Jessoline! for Love kissing you;
...them yet, with hair like braided light,
...d eyes like purple pansies, wet with dew.

...d I have known, could I have but foreseen
...w near the pearly gates their feet had won,
...and I clasped those hands my hands be...tween—
...ose thy hands, whose little work is done.

...graves, lapped in sweet grasses, cool and ...deep,
...here winds do sing and whisper through all
...hours;
...ery flowers, for me Love's vigil keep,
...th scent and shadow, and sweet dropping
...flowers. Independent.

The Venerable Bede.

...n the sea coast, at the extreme
...th of the county of Durham, lies
...llage called Jarrow. It is a quiet,
...ewhat desolate spot, with a low,
...dy beach, on which the waves of ...German ocean have encroached
...degrees. There is little in the ...ighborhood to attract the notice of ...tors, yet Christians must always ...interested in it for the sake of the ...old man who was born there.

...A. D. 673 Bede was born, and ...was educated partly in his native
...age and partly at Wearmouth, in ...monastery schools—the only
...es of instruction then in exist-
...e. When he was an old man he
...d to say of his young days: "I
...lied myself wholly to the study
...Scripture, and to singing in the ...rch. I always took great delight
...earning, teaching and writing."
...ks were far less common then
...n now, but Bede, made good use
...ll which came in his way. Be-
...s history, astronomy, rhetoric
...poetry, he gained a knowledge
...Greek and Latin tongues, and
...ned something of Hebrew.

...is piety and learning were so
...t that the Bishop of Hexham
...ore was at first time to Bishop of ...ham ordained him deacon at
...early age of nineteen; but he
...tinued his studies till he was
...ty years old, and only ventured
...that time to teach children and
...g people. Then he was ordained
...st, and began to write and pub-
...books for the use of Christian
...—translations of Psalms and New
...tament into his native Saxon
...gue. He wrote a history of the ...glish Church from the days of ...gustine, as well as homilies and
...mentaries of Scripture, and other
...ks, although forty-five in num-
..., before he had finished his fifty-
...th year—to last, as an ancient
...r says of him, "to see him pray
...ould have thought he left him-
...f time for study; and when we
...k his books we wonder he could
...ve to do anything but write."
...se books were read throughout
...gland, and were even sent for
...Germany; but their author
...ghtfully at Jarrow, the trouble of ...youth, till his friend and pupil
...bert, the nephew of the King of ...thumberland, was made Arch-
...op of York, and begged him to
...e and help him in the cares of his
...ese. Bede complied, and travel-
...to York, where he gave the arch-
...hop as much assistance as he
...d especially by opening a school
...d teaching in it. Having set things
...order, he returned home; but Eg-
...bert missed him so much that he
...t for him again next year. This
...e Bede was not able to go, so he
...te a letter of advice to him in-
...d, in which he used these words:
...Above all, avoid useless conversa-
...n, apply yourself to meditate on ...Holy Scriptures, especially the
...ks of blessings, Paul, the master
...to Timothy and Titus."

...time passed and Bede became an ...d man, though he was still a busy
...d useful one. In the opening of ...year 735 his health began to fail.
...The ways, troubled by shortness of ...athing, though without much
...in. One of his pupils writes: "He
...ly read lessons to us, his disciples,
...spent the rest of the day in sing-
...thanks to God with uplifted
...ds. Of a truth, I declare I
...er say with my eyes or heard
...any mortal living God."

...ceived to Ascension day,
...s to repeat a prayer much
...ed by him called for the Sab-
...after. A session: "O King of
...y, Lord of might, who didst as-
...d in triumph above the heavens,
...e us not orphans, but send down
...n us the promise of the Father,
...Spirit of truth." When he came
...the words, "Leave us not orphans,"
...would burst into tears, but, re-
...ering himself, would repeat the ...er again. Often he would give ...thanks for the cross which was
...upon him, and comfort himself
...h the text: "He scourgeth every ...whom he receiveth." And all
...time he labored on with the ...slation of St. John's gospel. On ...Tuesday before Ascension day,
...ugh suffering a great deal in his
...st, he worked hard at it, dictat-
...g to his scholars while they sat
...ling. "Go on quickly," he would
...from time to time, "for I know
...how long I may be here, or when
...Master will take me away."

...e passed the next night for the ...part in thanksgiving, and at
...n he called his scholars around
...to go on with their writing. At
...o'clock of the Wednesday
...rning, one of these boys, being
...with him, said: "There is still
...little chapter wanting, dearest
...ster. Do you feel it troublesome
...be asked any more questions?"
"No," he answered, "it is no trouble; take your pen and write; only do not lose any time."

Wilbutt, the boy who had spoken before, said: "Dear Master, there is still one sentence not written."

"Write quickly," he answered.

The boy wrote, and then said: "Now the sentence is written—it is finished."

"It is well," replied his master; "you have said the truth—it is finished. Now take my head into your hands and support me so, for I love to sit with my face turned up toward the little chapel where I used to pray; and although I am no longer kneel, I may sit and call on my Father."

They did as he desired them, and with a faint voice he sung: "Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost!" Ill as he named the last holy name he breathed his soul away, and passed into eternal life.

At the west end of the cathedral church of Durham, overlooking the river Wear, stands a chapel of exceeding beauty, called the Galilee. If we enter its walls we should find a slab of blue marble, telling that beneath it are laid the bones of the Venerable Bede, by which name he is always known. When we think of this good man, whose latest task was to translate God's word into the language of his countrymen, we surely feel that he, being dead, yet speaketh, bidding us prize dearly our precious English Bibles.—Soldiers and Servants of Christ.

The Miracles of Christ.

A miracle is a miracle, and we see no possible advantage in trying to understand the means by which it was wrought. In accepting the evidence for it—and it is for each man to be fully persuaded in his own mind, and to accept or to reject at his pleasure, perhaps even it may prove to be at his peril—we are avowedly accepting the evidence for something which transcends, though it by no means necessarily supersedes, the ordinary laws by which nature works. What is gained—in what single respect does the miracle become, so to speak, easier or more comprehensible—by supposing, with Olshausen, that we have here only an accelerated process of ripening, or with Neander, that the powers of water were magnetized into those of wine; or with Lange apparently, that the guests were in a state of spiritual exaltation? Let those who find it intellectually possible, or spiritually advantageous, freely avail themselves of such hypotheses if they see their way to do so; to us they seem not "irreverent," not "rationalistic," not "dangerous," but simply embarrassing and fruitless. Indulgence then in the artful concessions to the spirit of skepticism may end in the surrender of a violent and Pharisaic theology, but is unworthy of that sober charity which should be the purest fruit of Christian faith. In matters of faith it ought to be to every one of us "a very small thing to be judged of your or of man's judgment;" we ought to believe, or disbelieve, or modify belief, with sole reference to that which, in our hearts and consciences, we feel to be the will of God; and it is by his judgment, and by his alone, that we should care to stand or to fall. We as little claim a right to scathe the rejecter of miracles by abuse and anathema as we admit his right to sneer at us for imbecility and hypocrisy. Jesus has taught to all men, whether they accept or reject him, the lessons of charity and sweetness; and what the believer and the unbeliever alike can do is calmly, temperately, justly, and with perfect and solemn sincerity—knowing how deep are the feelings involved, and how vast the issues at stake between us—to state the reason for the belief that is in him. And, this being so, I would say that if we once understand that the word nature has little or no meaning unless it be made to include the idea of the Author; if we once realize the fact, which all science teaches us, that the very simplest and most elementary operation of the laws of nature is utterly beyond the comprehension of our most exalted intelligence; if we once believe that the divine providence of God is no far off abstraction, but a living and loving care over the lives of man; lastly, if we once believe that Christ was the only-begotten Son of God, the Word of God who came to reveal and declare his Father to mankind, then there is nothing in any gospel miracle to shock our faith; we shall regard the miracles of Christ as resulting from the fact of his being and his mission, no less naturally and inevitably than the rays of light stream outward from the sun. They were, to use the favorite expression of St. John, not merely portents or powers or signs, but they were works—the ordinary and inevitable works which ever he does to exercise them—of One whose very existence was the highest miracle of all. For our faith is that He was sinless; and to borrow the words of a German poet: "One might have thought that the miracle of miracles was to have created the world—such as it is; yet it is a far greater miracle to have lived a perfectly pure life therein." The greatest of modern philosophers said that there were two things which overwhelmed his soul with awe and astonishment: "The starry heaven above, and the moral law within;" but to these has been added a third reality no less majestic—the fulfillment of the moral law without us in the person of Jesus Christ. That fulfillment makes us believe that he was indeed divine; and if he were divine, we have no further astonishment left when we are taught that he did on earth that which can be done by the power of Godhead only.—Rev. Dr. Farrar.

It was in a New Jersey Sunday school. The superintendent approached a youth of color who was present for the first time, and inquired his name for the purpose of placing it on the roll. The good man tried in vain to preserve his dignity when the answer was returned: "Well, massa calls me Cap'n, but my maiden name is Moses."

A New England Parson of 1800.

A remarkable generation of preachers passed off the stage of action during the last decade of the last century and the first of the present. One of the extreme rear of that memorable host I remember—Parson Eaton, of Harpswell. His parish, the township of Harpswell, comprised a fine promontory jutting out into Casco bay from the east. His spacious meeting-house loomed up as a landmark across the bay. The parson was a man of work—a bachelor, small of stature, prompt and active. Skilled in medicine, he prescribed for both the temporal and the spiritual ills of his flock. His costume was of the old style—a roomy, broad-tailed coat, reaching to the calf of the leg; breeches meeting silk stockings at the knee, where they were fastened by large, bright buckles; broad shoes, with bright buckles half the size of your hand; a long waistcoat, that parted leisurely below and spread out its ample pockets on the thighs; a wanderful wig, white and curled, from beneath which a sizable queue (pigtail) overshot his coat collar, pendant, a fit steering apparatus for a head of straight intent, the whole surmounted by the bold three-cornered cocked hat of Frederick the Great. The parson was not shut up in his parish. He was called abroad to officiate on public occasions. He was a member of the august board of overseers of the neighboring college, and was always on hand at the commencement. We boys, on those holidays, looked out for the "old parson," awed by his reputation for Hebrew, and gaping at his antiquity. "There he goes! See, see, there is Parson Eaton!" We shall never see his like again.

He had a vein of humor, and was tempted sometimes to let his practical jokes cut rather deep. What man is perfect? The following was told of him: His housekeeper called him before the church for breach of promise. She said he had promised to marry her if she would keep house for him a certain length of time. She had performed her part of the obligation, but he neglected his. His summary answer was: "She has me brought herman."

On the public rounds he was bold, open and direct. In his prayers his words were plain and explicit, sometimes even to bluntness, so that none should mistake his meaning. He stopped over with one of his neighbors, and conducted family worship in the morning. It was spring, and the young corn was miserably spoiled by the cut worm. The parson remembered this in his prayer—first, in general terms: "O Lord, we pray thee to avert the calamity that threatens the husbandman." A pause, and then very distinctly: "I mean the worms that are eating up the corn, Lord." In accordance with the times, he was a stout and strenuous politician. A Federalist, he contended mightily for Adams and hated Jefferson. But Jefferson was elected President. The parson being called on to pray on some public occasion, he said, in substance: "O Lord, thou hast made it our duty to pray for our rulers. We beseech thee to bless our chief magistrate." A pause, and then very emphatically: "I mean the Governor of the State. We are also commanded to pray for our enemies; and let us begin with Thomas Jefferson."—Interior.

A LITTLE FABLE.—Southey used to say that his means lay in an inkstand; and Byron somewhere says that a drop of ink may make a million think. Ink has been very aptly designated as the black slave that waits upon thought. "Take away the sword," said the famous Cardinal of France; "States can be saved without it. Bring the pen." It is the engineer's wand, in itself nothing, yet taking sorcery from the master's hand wherewith to move the world. But we had a fable in our mind which we would depict for our readers. The sword of the warrior was taken down to be brightened, though it had not been long out of use. The rust was rubbed off, but there were spots that would not disappear, dark, significant spots; they were of blood. The sword was on the table, near the pen of the secretory. The pen took advantage of the first breath of air to move a little farther off. "Thou art right," said the sword; "I am a bad neighbor." "Fear thee not," replied the pen; "I am more powerful than thou art, but I love not thy society." "I can flash like lightning," said the sword. "Ah! but my rays are eternal," said the pen. "I exterminate," added the sword. "And I perpetuate," answered the pen. "Where were thy victories if I recorded them not? Even where upon thyself shall one day be—in the Lake of Oblivion!"

Like the child with the stalk of grapes, who picked one grape after another from the cluster, and held it out to her father, till, as affection waxed warm and self faded, she gayly flung the whole into her father's bosom, and smiled in his face with triumphant delight; so let us do, until, loosening from every comfort and independent of the help of broken cisterns, we can say: "I am not my own." "Whom have I in heaven but thee? And there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee."—Bonar.

More than three fourths of the students in Princeton College, says the Observer, are now believed to be devoted to a Christian life, a larger portion than in any recent previous period of the history of the college. A recent revival in the college is also extending through the town.

There is no question that it is far preferable to remain under the influence of moderate errors than to be handled about for the whole of life from one opinion to another, at the pleasure and support of superior intelligence.—Sidney Smith.

A little five-year-old, after shopping with her mother at leading dry goods shops, remarked: "Seems to me there are a good many boys named Cash."

Religious Intelligence.

—Rev. J. Lees has just brought out at Shanghai a Chinese version of ten of Sankey's hymns, "Hold the Fort" being one of the selection.

—At Thongzal, Burmah, a number of converts were baptized, among them a man so zealous that, on the same day, he went down to the river and preached to the boatmen. The same evening he died. Recently other converts have been baptized, and among them was one man led to the truth by that half day of effort.

—Mrs. Mather, of Mirzapure, India, who has spent thirty-five years among the Hindoos, has just issued, "in clear and terse Urdu," a Bible dictionary, containing 1,676 articles, and filling 578 super-royal octavo pages. It is also illustrated with 157 wood cuts. This is one of the most valuable books ever published for the use of native Christian preachers and teachers.

—Bishop Steer returned to Zanzibar from his journey of missionary exploration in February. All the Europeans who started with the Bishop on his expedition to the Nyassa country having been turned back by the coast fever, he went on alone. The Bishop reached Mataka's capital. He is one of the Yao chiefs, and the Bishop was received so kindly that a mission is to be formed in one of these towns.

—The fourth annual meeting of the Italian Bible Society was held in the new Methodist church in the via Poli, March 8. The report of the secretary, Mr. Gay, was very encouraging. Since 1872—that is, in three years—the first edition of ten thousand copies of the New Testament has been entirely exhausted. Of course this is independent of the work of the Foreign Bible Societies. An edition of three thousand volumes of a large and beautiful family Bible was last year prepared.

—The domestic missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church are in a flourishing condition. According to the annual report, just published, there are in Arizona, missionaries 3, and members 52; in New Mexico, missionaries 6, members and probationers 127, and churches 4; among the Welsh, missionaries 4, and members 153; the Germans have missionaries 206, the Scandinavians, missionaries 73, and members 5,193, probationers 718, local preachers 93, churches 76, worth $281,525, and parsonages 28, worth $41,150; among the Chinese in America, 1 missionary laboring with 10 local preachers and 35 members and probationers; among the Indians are, missionaries 16, members 2,197, probationers 518, churches 11, worth $17,750, and parsonages 5, worth $7,500. In all these are missionaries 309, members 7,993, probationers 1,823, local preachers 92, churches 103, worth $252,875, and parsonages 36, worth $78,850.

ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONS IN INDIA.—The so-called "apostle of the Indies," Francis Xavier, died at Goa in 1552. It is true that Jesuit and Dominican went in Portuguese ships prior to this, and in their way sought the conquests of the heathen, but Xavier's intense zeal and missionary ardor gave a new impulse to their endeavors, and soon thousands were flocking to him, so that in one month, he says, he baptized in Southern India, with his own hands, ten thousand idolaters. We cannot follow him in his labors or those who preceded him, or speak of their artifices to deceive the natives, and how their followers were, and remained, baptized pagans; neither can we refer to the quarrels and bitter rivalries among the different orders of the Romish priesthood. It is sufficient to say that the boasted successes to their faith did not continue. With the decline of the Portuguese power Romanism declined in many regions, so that churches, colleges and monasteries fell into ruin. In later times there has been a revival of missionary zeal, and some increase of adherents has been made. There is, however, little or no direct preaching to the heathen; considerable attention is paid to education; orphanages exist in different places; a large proportion of converts are Eurasians. The present number of Roman Catholics in India is about 800,000. From 1862 to 1872 their increase in the whole country was 12 per cent., against 91 per cent. gain among Protestant missions.—Foreign Missionary.

Dr. Colin Valentine was for nine years connected with the court of the enlightened Prince of Jeypore, India, as resident physician. He expressly stipulated, on entering this service, to be allowed to maintain his missionary work, and although his efforts as a missionary has been established at Jeypore. During these years the influence of this gentle Scotchman has been deeply felt in the Maharajah's capital. In the prison 1,000 prisoners are now taught reading and useful trades, instead of spending their time in fighting and eating opium. A school of arts has been founded, in which young men of all castes are instructed by skilled workmen, gathered from the chief cities of India. A library of 7,000 selected volumes, a museum, a philosophical institute, a board of health, a medical store, where dispensers are trained, and sixteen or seventeen local dispensaries opened in various parts of the country, all owe their origin to this indefatigable worker. Another result of his labors is the building of a large hospital at Jeypore, to be called the Mayo Hospital, and which has been publicly opened by the Prince of Wales. Dr. Valentine is now engaged in a further enterprise, which will greatly benefit all the missions in India, and the Indian people through them. He proposes to raise an endowment of $25,000 in order to found a medical mission school in connection with the government college at Agra. In this institute male and female students, gathered from the different missions, are to be educated for medical services among their people. Dr. Valentine is at present in Scotland, where he has recently been ordained a full missionary of the United Presbyterian Church.

The busiest of living agents are certain dead men's thoughts.—Bovee.

Our Young People.

THE LITTLE BIRD.

A little bird, with feathers brown,
Sits singing on a tree;
The song was very soft and low,
But sweet as friends be.

And all the people passing by Looked up to see the bird
That made the sweetest melody
That ever they had heard.

But all the bright eyes looked in vain,
For birdie was so small,
And with a modest, dark-brown coat
He made no show at all.

"Why, papa," little Gracie said,
"Where can this birdie be?
If I could sing a song like that,
I'd sit where folks could see."

"I hope my little girl will learn
A lesson from that bird,
And try to do what good she can—
Not to be seen or heard.

"This birdie is content to sit
Unnoticed by the way,
And sweetly sing his Maker's praise
From dawn to close of day.

"So live, my child, all through your life,
That be it short or long,
Though others may forget your looks,
They'll not forget your song."

Exchange.

Tried and Proved.

A TRUE STORY.

"Jessie's grandfather is sick, ma'am," said one of my little scholars, as I inquired after the absent Jessie.

"I am very sorry," said I; and, to prove that I was sorry, I started bright and early the next morning to visit Jessie and her grandfather. I knocked at the door of one of their two rooms, and the grandfather's voice said: "Come in." I found only old Mr. Fuller in the room; he said he felt better, and that Jessie had gone with her marbles as usual.

Mr. Fuller was a shoemender, and near his work-bench stood a little table that held all the books he and Jessie owned between them. I noticed that from one of them a number of threads were hanging, and said: "Does your Bible need binding?"

"No, miss," said he; "those threads all tell me something. I will tell you," he added, as he saw the puzzled look. "When I was a young man I was very bad and wild, and did not care for God and the Bible; but when my poor old mother died she had nothing to leave me by way but a Bible and her marriage Bible. I didn't care for it any more than I did, before. But one day I found a tract. Inside was headed 'Come unto me,' and underneath were the words of my text, and as I went to my work the words seemed to say: 'Come, and go.' I was tired, and didn't want to, and therefore did not get the words out of my head. But God won't have it so, and so he took his own way to bring me. A few weeks after I had found the tract Jessie's mother died, and then her father went off to Australia, and left little Jessie for me to take care of.

"Then I was hurt so that I couldn't walk, and still came the word: 'Come.' At last I thought: 'May be God will give me rest from my pain, if I try him.' So I took the old Bible, and, strange to say, I opened just at the very words: 'Come.' I thought: 'I will try and see.'

"But you see, miss, I wasn't used to the Bible, because I had wasted all the best years of my life, and it took a long time to find the places. So one day, as I was sewing on an old shoe, I thought, 'I'll just put a thread in it, my verse, so that I can find it when I want to read it, and think if God really wants me to come to him,' for by that time I had begun to think of my sins and wasted life. So I put the thread in, and after that I found many other verses, and at each one I put a thread.

"At last I really came to God with my sins, and found that he was waiting for me. And so I tried the 'Come' and then proved that the 'Come' was for me; then I put a knot in the end of the thread to show that it was proved; for my eyesight is poor, and I can't read very well, and the thread saves time and eyes. I have found many other verses to try, and at each I put a thread, and as they become clear and I gain use them and prove them, as I call it, I put in the knots, as you see."

"And God has been very good to me, and Jesus has drawn me off, for I have tried and proved him through his word. There are many others just as good. Seek, and ye shall find,' has a ring to it."

Old Mr. Fuller's way was not entirely new to me. "Tried and proved," I thought, as I walked homeward soon after, thinking of how he had found God's words so kind that they can be tried and proved.

The Pilot.

A ship was ... into port with a valuable cargo ... merchandise on board, and ... of precious lives. When nearing the destined port a heavy storm arose. There was no hope for the ship, unless she could reach the harbor before the heaviest fury of storm fell upon her. But, alas! her pilot was an incompetent one; he did not know the waters through which he professed to guide her. The peril was seen from the shore; and quickly a pilot-boat, with a few resolute men on board, set out through the furious sea to come to the crew's rescue. Soon a new pilot was on deck, the old one displaced, and the men assigned to their various posts. The captain took the wheel, and followed implicitly the direction of the new leader.

The ship was headed directly toward the foaming breakers.

"Shall I put about?" cried the captain.

"Steady," said the calm reply; and in a moment more came the order: "About ship!" The ship sailed steadily through a narrow pass between two sunken rocks, and soon all danger was over, and the vessel safely anchored in the harbor.

O what a crawling about that noble pilot who had risked his life to come to them—who had guided them so steadily and safely through the storm and the breakers! The captain left the wheel, and threw his arms about him in the transport of emotion. The passengers and crew were all eager to grasp his hand, and testify by words and gifts their gratitude to one who had saved them from death.

Do you not think that in the last day there will be such a gathering about the great Pilot of souls, who has brought his chosen ones safe into the heavenly harbor? Do you suppose they can ever forget that he not only risked, but gave his life to rescue them? We must begin this song of loving gratitude on earth if we would share in the joy of Christ's ransomed ones in heaven.

The Count and His Monkey.

The quiet which pervaded the hotel was strangely disturbed by an accident which, though it will appear but a trifle to the reader, became, nevertheless, a very serious thing for the servants, and, above all, for me. Cupid, the monkey I have spoken of—his master's particular pet—wishing to jump one day from one window to another, managed it so badly that he fell into the court and dislocated his leg. The count no sooner heard of the accident than he began to cry like a woman, and in the vidence of his grief, blaming all his attendants without distinction, he was not far from clearing the house of them altogether. However, he contented himself with censuring our negligence, and apostrophizing us without sparing reproaches. He sent immediately to summon the surgeons who were the most celebrated in Madrid for fractures and dislocations of the bones. They examined the leg of the patient, set it, and bandaged it up. But, although they assured him that it was nothing, that did not prevent my master from keeping one of them to stay with the animal until it was perfectly cured.

It would be wrong for me to pass over in silence the troubles and anxiety that the Sicilian noble had during this time. Can you believe it that during the day he did not leave his dear Cupid? He was present when they bathed him, and in the night she got up two or three times to see him. What was more, I regret was that all the servants, and myself especially, were obliged to be always on foot, to run wherever they thought it convenient to send us on the service of the monkey. In a word, we had no peace in the hotel until the troublesome animal, feeling nothing more of his fall, resumed his usual pranks and somersaults. After this, shall we refuse to credit the account of Suetonius, when he says that Caligula was so fond of his horse that he gave him a house richly furnished, with officers to wait upon him, and that he even wished to make him consul? My patron was not less enchanted with his monkey; he would willingly have made him a corregidor.—Le Sage.

Sagacity of Dogs.

The following remarkable instance of the sagacity of colley dogs was related to the writer by Charles Hancock, Esq., the celebrated animal painter. Mr. Hancock said: "I was once staying with Lord Kinnaird, at his seat in Scotland, when his lordship expressed a wish that I should see some of his prize sheep which were then feeding with some hundreds more on the brow of a hill, about three miles from the house. Calling his shepherd, he kindly asked him to have the prize sheep fetched up as quickly as he could. The shepherd whistled, when a fine old sheep dog appeared before him, and, seated on his hindquarters, evidently awaited orders. What passed between the shepherd and the dog I know not, but the faithful creature manifestly understood his instructions.

"'Do you believe that the dog will bring the sheep to us out of your flock?' I asked.

"'Wait awhile, and you will see,' said his lordship.

"The dog now darted off toward the sheep, at the same time giving a significant bark, which immediately called forth two younger sheep dogs to join in the mission. Accustomed as I was to the remarkable sagacity of colley dogs, I was amazed at what now took place. On one side of the hill was a river, on the other side a dense forest. One of the younger dogs, on arriving at the foot of the hill, turned to the left; while the other darted off to the right hand. The former stationed himself between the sheep and the river, while the latter stood between the sheep and the forest. The old dog now darted into the middle of the flock, when the sheep scampered right and left; but were kept at bay by the two watchers. The old dog speedily singled out the particular sheep desired, and in a few minutes the three dogs were quietly driving them toward us.

"Within about an hour of receiving the instructions the dogs brought the sheep up to the door of the mansion." Children's Friend.

"Jack!" screamed a bright-eyed, golden-haired, hair-faced little girl of no more than six summers to her younger brother, who had damaged himself under the wall where he was digging sand with a strip of shingle. "Jack, you good-for-nothing little scamp, you are the torment of my life! Come right into the house this minute, or I'll take the very hide off'n you! Come in, I say!"

"Why, Totty?" exclaimed her father, who chanced to come up at that moment, "what in the world are you saying? Is that the way you talk to your little brother?"

"Oh, no, papa," answered the child promptly, and with an innocent smile, "we was playing keep house, and I am Jack's mamma, and I was talking to him just as mamma talked to me this morning."

Trousers obtained on credit are breeches of trust.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.
ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D.
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Fainting Ministers.

The discouragements are often great. The anguish that sensitive and conscientious men experience is seldom known to any but themselves. The depression that follows the apparently fruitless labors of a Sunday can only be measured by those who have felt it. After weary months of earnest work little seems to be accomplished; and to be forced to continue this toil, to keep up the seeming of faith and courage, and to inspire and comfort others, while baffled and fruitless in every endeavor. It is not a new nor an exceptional thing under the sun. There is a cloud of witnesses around the disheartened prophet. Moses, Elijah, Jeremiah, were sometimes in like case. Paul was sorely pressed, but he did not faint. There were these elements of support: "Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not."

There was something in the character of the ministry with which he was charged that sustained him. "It was the ministry of the Spirit, to declare the unsearchable riches of Christ—a ministry of hope and consolation, in which he had the commendation of God and the approval of his own conscience. How could he faint in a ministry, the burden of which is to bind up the broken-hearted, and to comfort all that mourn? Let the discouraged preacher take the message to himself, and partake of the offerings of the sanctuary. Let him appropriate some of the treasure that he bears to others, and brace and strengthen his own soul with the promises that he knows so well how to apply to those who hear. Paul evidently fed upon the store that he distributed, and was strengthened in his own heart by the gospel that he proclaimed. Shall a man point others to the Lamb of God, to the fountain opened, to the pure river of water of life, and not be refreshed and invigorated himself? The man who has a warehouse of bread ought not to go hungry. Let the fainting minister think of the ministry he has—divine, glorious, abounding in all manner of cheer, and for its chiefest theme One who is able to save to the uttermost.

The balm he commends to a suffering world is also for his own healing. He must turn upon himself the streams of grace he so urgently importunes all men to receive. If he faint, what wonder that others despair? and if he find no sufficient comfort, is it strange that others remain indifferent or disconsolate? He must gird himself with truth, sometimes rebuke himself sharply, and spur and prompt his own laggard and doubting soul. Having this ministry—a ministry of life and power, laden as a fruitful vine with the goodly clusters of salvation—he is the last man in the world who should give way to despondency and fear. "For God hath not given us the Spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." He is sure of his credentials; and sure of his message; let him see to it that he is faithful in his ministry, and then be of good cheer. The cure for fainting is in the character of the ministry we have—a ministry that in its very nature is the source of all hope and consolation.

But another consideration lies in the preacher's own experience of mercy: "As we have received mercy." This might reconcile to any lot, however hard, that God has been merciful in bringing the preacher to the knowledge of Christ. Such a blessing is more than a compensation for all the trials incident to the most rugged itinerant life. Amidst the greatest sufferings and persecutions, and enduring the loss of all things, it is enough that we have received mercy. As a return for such love there is no privation, no poverty, no trials of faith and patience, that are worth mentioning. The mercy, however, might rather include the grace of assurance and confidence which dispels despondency.

The preacher's own conversion is a reason of faith in the conversion of others. In Paul's case, there were none more hopeless than himself. John Newton, since his own conversion, had no doubt that the world could be converted. Preachers inclining to doubt should recur to their own experience of salvation. Since they have received mercy, why should they distrust the power of the gospel to arrest anybody? History, it is true, has many illustrations; the Scriptures furnish instances of grace and power equal to any aspect of hardness and unbelief; but in himself the preacher has a demonstration nearer home, and one that he can better analyze and comprehend. This is precisely the argument from mercy received. Why despair of the people, why waver in our convictions of the sufficiency of the gospel, so long as we are ourselves such manifestations of infinite compassion?

That the apostle should declare that "we faint not" shows how terribly beset with discouragements he was, at the same time that he indicates the grounds of his steadfastness. This ministry of salvation—the ministration of the Spirit, the ministration of righteousness—was "rather glorious." It shone out in marvelous resplendence, vivid with the light of the heavenly place, and bearing in every line the divine impress. Then his own experience of mercy comes in to fortify and establish his confidence. The scene on the road to Damascus, the vision of Christ, the regenerating power, were all fresh in memory. Cast down at times he might be, overwhelmed with the greatness of the responsibility he was; but he did not faint. There was abundant cheer in so glorious a gospel, and an evidence in mercy received, that no opposition could gainsay. While preachers are men, they will have their hours of depression, and their times of darkness and temptation. But, while this is so, they need not faint. It is their privilege to turn to the stronghold, and to find shelter in the Savior whom they preach, and in the gospel they are sent to proclaim. None more than they need the shadow of the great rock in a weary land, and none should know so well how to reach it.

Morbid Disciples.

Such I conceive, from the notices in the gospels concerning them, Judas, Philip and Thomas to have been—Judas criminally, Philip occasionally, and Thomas constitutionally so.

There is perhaps no one phase of religious weakness which presents so many and such variable forms, running up from simple discontent, through many grades, to its climax in stubborn perverseness.

Dissatisfaction and impatience are the unmistakable tokens of morbidness. Philip, in his reply to Christ, "Show us the Father, and it sufficeth us," betrayed its presence in his spirit. "Have I been so long time with you, and hast thou not known me, Philip?" detects it. He had brooded over the idea of the personal manifestation of the Father until he could be satisfied with nothing else; and, although that manifestation, in its own chosen form was constantly before him, his perverseness defeated the gratification of his desire. "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou, Show us the Father?"—a commentary to the thoughtful upon the blindness of the morbid habit; a sufficient answer to it that it cannot recognize what is shown. There may have been little or no difference in the diseased condition of Philip and Judas. The difference that distinguished them so widely marked only their sphere of action. The broodings of Philip had no outlet for hasty and criminal action.

While Judas' discontent could seek a remedy in measures to force an issue to his own liking, his distempered mind, in its impatience to realize its own visions, overlooked the character of the personal acts necessary thereto. He committed crimes with ease and relish in the interest of the revolution he sought to precipitate, which, after his failure, filled him with insupportable shame and guilt by their open atrocities.

So also of Thomas. His morbidness produced no such result as Judas'; not because there was any difference in the disorder, but because the matters over which he brooded could be forced to take no other shape. What he really thought of Christ he nowhere divulged; but that he was visionary, and that his mind was not altogether satisfied with Christ, is evident from the few opinions that escaped him.

His opinion, indirectly expressed, that life was not desirable, even under the auspices of Christ, if Lazarus, his friend, must needs die, also is not lacking in significance to express his dissatisfaction with Christ. At the moment that Philip exhibited his weakness Thomas muttered open discontent and impatience in a characteristic speech: "We know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the way?" He does not hesitate to contradict his Master, not with designed offensiveness, but in an overweening confidence in his own opinions.

For eight days of the great crisis he withdrew from the company of the disciples, and shut himself up alone, partly, it may be, in fear for his personal safety, and partly from a paroxysm of morbidness. His brooding over recent events ministered so greatly to his discontent that he was unable longer to endure his self-imposed solitariness. He joins the other disciples, who greet him with joyous assurance that the Lord was risen again. His morbid spirit returns this greeting with cold, repelling distrust: "I will not believe." It is of no significance to him that the company unite their testimony to assure him of the truth of their report, nor that their peace and joy contrasted strikingly with his troubled spirit and unstable temper. To all they had to say he would reply: Unless I am allowed like opportunities with those you claim to have had, and "I can put my finger in the print of the nail, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe." Extreme as is this case, it establishes a type which is repeated in many Christian circles. Fortunately for Thomas, his Master was patient with him, and considerate of his great weakness, in that for once he allowed him to have his own way, even though he touched the wounds in his body.

Owing to morbid feelings among religious people, it is painful to observe how very few are really satisfied with Christ and his work. They would have it otherwise than it appears, and are impatient with their brethren for not being able to discover a way to have it according to their liking.

The Judases take matters in their own hand, and soon make for themselves a disastrous end of it. The Philips know exactly what will satisfy them, although they overlook it in the means of grace instituted for the purpose. The Thomases have lost sight and use of the evidences by which they began to believe, and, in proofs which the brotherhood cannot furnish, see their only way to settled belief, dissatisfied with the gifts, graces and evidences current in the church. Morbidly anxious for the outcome of visionary projects, they ill conceal their discontent with things in their real, every-day shape. They are almost contemptuous, as well as critically severe and exacting with their brethren.

In Judas morbidness was crime, in Philip presumption, in Thomas defiance. In you, what?

DOUBLE F.

General Conference of the M. E. Church.

This body adjourned on Wednesday, May 31. The following is the report as adopted on the presiding eldership. The question of allowing the Annual Conferences to determine the number of districts is to be submitted to the Conferences. This may prove the entering wedge to impair if not destroy the efficiency of the episcopacy.

The following is the report of the Committee on Itinerancy, as modified and finally adopted by the General Conference:

First. The duties of the presiding elders, as defined in the Discipline, in paragraphs 231 to 242 inclusive, invest the office with great dignity and responsibility, making it in fact essential to the maintenance of "the plan of our itinerant general superintendency," and when these duties are faithfully performed the incumbent must and will receive the respect of all loyal members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Second. The change of the Discipline so as to allow of the election of presiding elders, for which many have petitioned, we cannot recommend.

Third. As to the proposition to transfer the power of fixing the number and boundaries of the districts from the Bishops to the General Conferences, we have to say that the judgment of the whole church ought to be taken on this subject, and in order thereunto we recommend that the following changes and resolutions be adopted:

Resolved, If two-thirds of this General Conference shall recommend it, and three quarters of all the members of the several Annual Conferences, who shall be present and voting on the recommendation at their session next ensuing, shall concur, the third restrictive rule shall be suspended in order to permit a modification of the plan of our itinerant general superintendency by adding to paragraph 218 of the Discipline these words: The Conferences have authority to determine the number of districts, provided no Conference shall have less than two or more than eight; nor any district more than sixty charges; so that the whole paragraph shall read: "To form the districts according to his judgment, the Conferences having authority to determine the number of districts, provided no Conference shall have less than two or more than eight; nor any district more than sixty charges."

Resolved, That paragraph 235 be amended by inserting after the word "meetings," in the third line, the words "especially the first and fourth," and beginning with "at," at the close of the third line, strike out "at each quarterly meeting," so that the whole will read: "To be present, as far as practicable, and to hold all the quarterly meetings, especially the first and fourth, and call together the Quarterly Conference to hear," etc.

Resolved, That paragraph 238 be amended by striking out of the second line the word "and," and the remainder of the paragraph, so that the whole will read: "To hold quarterly meetings in the absence of the presiding elder."

Resolved, That paragraph 129 be amended by striking out beginning with the word "any," in the second line, and including the word "present," in the last line of the paragraph, so that the whole shall read: "The presiding elder shall preside in the Quarterly Conference, and in his absence the preacher in charge shall preside."

The Committee on Correspondence reported:

The Committee on Correspondence, in obedience to their instructions to report the number of persons to be appointed as delegates to the several Christian bodies in fraternal correspondence with this General Conference, respectfully recommend that two delegates be deputed to the British Wesleyan Conference, two to the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and one to each of the other bodies that have sent either a fraternal messenger or letter to us at the present session, viz:

The Irish Wesleyan Conference.
The Methodist Church of Canada.
The Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada.
The African Methodist Episcopal Church.
The Methodist Church.
The Methodist Protestant Church.
The Evangelical Association.
The National Council of Congregational Churches.
The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.
The Reformed Episcopal Church.

Founder's day at the Vanderbilt University, May 27, was a high day. Bishop McTyeire and Chancellor Garland delivered addresses, Prof. Lipscomb furnished an ode, and at night there was an oratorical contest by the students for the university medal. The following is Bishop McTyeire's address:

Ladies and Gentlemen: We welcome you to this festive occasion, celebrating the birthday of the founder of the university. To-day Mr. Vanderbilt is eighty-two years old.

We do well to mark the twenty-seventh of May in our calendar. If good works are rewarded in heaven, why should they not be honored on earth? The world might be richer in benefactions if it were more grateful to its benefactors. We put the name of ons on the institution founded by him. We print it in our diplomas, and his profile is to be engraven upon all its medals. While the university stands, let the twenty-seventh of May be ushered in by the ringing of the tower bell; let it be gladdened with music and adorned with flowers as it is this day.

At one time it was proposed to bring forward commencement day, so as to make it coincide with founder's day. But conferring degrees and other exercises peculiar to the former would, after awhile, overlay the latter and destroy its memorial significance. It was concluded, therefore, to let it stand alone, with its own celebration. Founder's day will become an era—a reckoning-point—a terminus a quo and a terminus ad quem. By founder's day, hereafter, the landscape gardener will have finished mowing the lawns; the faculty will have the annual announcement out; and the board of trust will be up with certain business, in all which they are all behindhand now a trifle. From founder's day the students will see posted on the bulletin board the order for final examinations. Then those who contend for honors and distinction will enter upon the last stretch of the noble contest. Now flowers for decoration are blooming, and the sod is green—all time for natal festivities—a month before commencement day.

Personally you have heard with sorrow of Mr. Vanderbilt's sickness. By the latest news, this morning received, you will be pleased to hear that he is more comfortable and suffering less pain. Far distant be the day when the massive frame of that portrait is hung with anything else than the emblems of life and gladness.

(Here the eyes of the audience rested upon the commodore's portrait, which had been tastefully garlanded with evergreens and flowers by the children of the families resident on the university grounds.)

On last Monday the one hundred and twenty-sixth birthday of Stephen Girard was celebrated at Girard College, Philadelphia, with orations and other ceremonies. Our benefactor yet lives, and at this hour, a thousand miles away, is receiving the greetings of family and friends. Let us send greetings. The following message has been prepared and placed in my hands for your concurrence. To you, professors, students and citizens, I submit it:

"To Commodore Vanderbilt, New York: The Vanderbilt University joyfully celebrates founder's day.

"The trustees, faculty and students, with the assemblage present, send their greetings to Mr. Vanderbilt, and their wishes for his health and prosperity.

"May his days be prolonged, so that he may receive many thankful birthday congratulations from those who enjoy his wise and large liberality. The blessing of the Lord be upon him now and forever."

The whole audience rose to their feet and cheered heartily at the request that the message be sent by telegraph. It was at once dispatched to the office.

Good at Home.

Rev. H. F. Johnson, in a funeral sermon on the death of John Felder, preached at Topisaw, Miss., speaks of the character of the deceased as follows:

This is an occasion of more than usual interest. It does not often happen that a community has the privilege of doing honor to the memory of so good a man as John Felder. This large congregation will bear testimony to his great worth as a neighbor, a citizen and a Christian. You have been very greatly blessed in having before you, so many years, the example of one who was above reproach.

He was born in South Carolina in 1793; moved to this State in 1819, and settled but a few miles from this place, where his dust now sleeps. The year following he professed religion, and joined the Methodist Church at a camp meeting held near the present site of Magnolia. His conversion was very clear and satisfactory; of its genuineness he never had a doubt. He continued an active and zealous member of the church to the day of his death. He filled various offices in the church with usefulness and acceptability. He was a Christian not merely in name or sentiment, but also in deed and in truth. He honored God in his heart, with his lips, and with his substance. He was a regular attendant at church, and greatly delighted in the service of the sanctuary. In the weakness of old age he was assisted there by his children. With truth he could say: I was glad when they said unto me, "Let us go into the house of the Lord."

To use the language of his widow, he was good at home. Many are good when at the church, in the social gathering, or in the presence of the outside world; but the petty annoyances of every-day life too frequently overcome them, and they exhibit ill temper that does not become those professing godliness. He was good at home! A more honorable epitaph cannot be written.

His end was peaceful and triumphant. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." He rests from his labors, but his works do follow him. His sons and daughters, grandchildren and great grandchildren, number about one hundred, and a pleasing fact is that they are devoting themselves to the active service of God. May they ever follow their father as he followed Christ!

The Richmond Advocate gives the following item, and comments sharply but rightly:

The Episcopal Church, in its annual council in Alexandria, has a matter of curious interest under discussion. A layman, with a fair following, introduced a measure looking toward a recognition of the other sects as churches. There were some thirty of the council who voted in favor of showing courtesy to the ministers of the dissenters in Virginia. The opposition outnumbered these amiable persons, and decreed that clergymen must not come in contact, sacerdotally, with the preachers of the sects in Virginia.

This ingratitude is sharper than a serpent's tooth. The Methodists have given a bishop, many ministers, and probably a third of the communicants to that church in Virginia. Yet Doggett is too unclean and unworthy for their pulpits. Why this insult to men whose labors keep the Episcopal Church from collapse?

Just think of a clergy who report a net increase of only one hundred and sixty nine for the last twelve months in their church in Virginia and West Virginia—two States—declining to recognize the Methodist ministers, who, in the same field and time, have brought to Christ more souls than there are communicants in the Episcopal Church after two hundred years of preaching and proselyting.

At one o'clock A. M., June 1, a train left New York and made the trip to San Francisco, three thousand miles, in less than eighty-four hours. The slowest time during the excursion was twenty-five miles per hour, the fastest sixty-two miles per hour. From New York to San Francisco in a trifle over three days! This is doing pretty well.

On the second instant Commodore Vanderbilt's condition was regarded as more favorable. We hope to hear of his continued improvement and final recovery.

The Western Methodist announces that Bishop Pierce has changed the time of the North Mississippi Conference from November 8 to November 22.

The programme of commencement of Wesleyan Female Institute, Staunton, Va., will be found on our eighth page.

A season of great political excitement is before us. All good citizens feel an interest in the canvass, and it is their duty to do what they can to secure the election of honest and able men, and to promote the public welfare by the means of good government. Christian men will follow the things that make for peace. However engaged in the campaign they will be Christians still. But the political fervor reaches its height it will be well to push the work of the church with energy. It is our harvest-time of souls in the South—the time most favorable for protracted and camp meetings, and the revival of religion. The best way to save the country is to save the people from sin, and to get as many of them converted as possible. This year, as in all years, the preachers have nothing to do but to win souls, and they should be even more zealous and watchful than ever. Excitement on other subjects is not necessarily unfavorable to the progress of religion. The minds of the people, already stirred, may be diverted into a religious channel, and the awakened thought and attention may be turned toward their eternal interests. There are tokens for good in many places, and we have reason to look for powerful revivals. Let us as a church pray and work for this result. At any rate, let not the great political contest to slacken effort or to weaken faith. Let us go forward and press the matter of present personal salvation upon all. Especially let us insist on a deeper work of grace in the hearts of believers—a more complete consecration to God. Our great work is to cry aloud and spare not, and not to hold our peace until the righteousness of Jerusalem go forth as brightness, "and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth." Every District Conference and every quarterly meeting should be made an occasion of heart-searching in the church, and a time for prophesying upon the dry bones of Israel.

PANS.—The Southern Presbyterian General Assembly discussed the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance for nearly a week, and finally, by a vote of 93 to 39, decided to enter the alliance.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Baltimore appointed a commission to arrange for a Pan-Methodist council and to report at the next General Conference, in 1880.

The Episcopal Church has its Pan-Anglican. The Greek and Roman Catholic Churches are pans ex necessitate rei, and we suppose all sects and denominations will fall into the fashion, and the Christian world will be pained out. Besides their separate organizations, all of kindred polities and doctrines will have their ecumenical councils. And then over these, and embracing everything, the biggest pan of all will be the Evangelical Alliance of the world. We trust it will work for good, exhibiting the unity of the Spirit, and promoting harmony. We believe strongly in the mission of sectarianism, as opposed to organic union of the Christian churches, and are very devout pan-worshipers any way; but Christian people may be the better for these mutual conferences.

HONORARY.—Through a note from the secretary, William B. Palmore, we have notice of our election to honorary membership in the Dialectic Literary Society of Vanderbilt University. We need scarcely say to the young gentlemen how much we appreciate this token of their consideration. May they live long and prosper. In accordance with their kind invitation, we hope that may be in our power some day to drop in on them and see how they do.

We have received a copy of the annual catalogue of Emory College, Oxford, Ga. We are glad to see that this old and sterling institution, under Dr. Haygood's presidency, is enjoying a good degree of prosperity. The commencement exercises open on Sunday, July 16, with a sermon by Bishop Pierce.

People continue to send us articles, obituaries and marriages without giving the full address of the writer. Let none blame us if these communications never appear. We must have the address of the writers. In writing for our columns write only on one side of the paper, use very black ink, and, as a rule, be short.

For notices and programmes of various college commencements, District Conference appointments, and other religious notices, see eighth page, where matters of this kind are always placed.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Bishops at their late session appointed a week of prayer to be observed throughout the connection, beginning with the fast on Friday, August 4.

e Presbyterian Assemblies, North South, from what we can gather, to have made up their unpleasess in some way. In the North- Assembly there was something shouting, and the doxology was . We cannot, however, under- d what was effected, nor how. confrere of the Southwestern Syterian, in attendance at Savan- and writing of the Southern mbly, says:

the evening (Friday) the Com- e on Bills and Overtures report- answer to the overture from resbytery of St. Louis, asking Assembly to do something to ote our fraternal relations. It s follows:

Without stopping to inquire in sense or to what extent these pprehensions are justified, but der to show our disposition to ve on our part all real or seem- hinderances to friendly feelings, Assembly explicitly declares that ts nor deliverances of the South- General Assembly are to be con- d or admitted as impugning in way the Christian character or ing of the Northern General mbly, or of the historical body dies of which it is the suc- ."

at dissatisfaction was manifest- the Assembly with this paper, t soon became evident that it not be adopted. Dr. Mallard d a substitute, reaffirming the on taken by the Baltimore Con- ce. It was evident that a very al debate was on hand, and hairman of the committee next ing requested that the subject be recommitted, which was Several persons were added to ommittee.

SATURDAY, May 27, 1876.

e paper under discussion was up. It was said that since it before the committee a dispatch the Northern Assembly had proposing fraternal relations, suggested that action on the re might be taken of such n s to answer both, but it was d to consider the St. Louis pa- dependently, and an answer eported, slightly modifying the aper, but prefixing it with the ation that "the position of the h is explained with sufficient ess" by the Baltimore Con- e.

e paper was accepted, and was nt as an answer to the North- sembly. The result was tele- d to them, and as they ad- d till Monday morning no answer could be received. e dispatches, however, came, ting great anxiety that our bly should not adjourn till uld send delegates. As soon r Assembly met they adopted, is mutandis, the last part of per, ignoring the reference to Baltimore Conference. Judge rged the adoption of it, "be- as he said, "they could do hout taking anything back." hey take nothing back, and stand by the Baltimore Con- e, it seems to us that the posi- not materially changed.

Books and Periodicals.

GREEKS AND THE PERSIANS. e Rev. G. W. Cox, M. A. New York: er, Armstrong & Co., 1876.

is the initial volume of a se- titled Epochs of Ancient His- dited by Rev. G. W. Cox, M. d Charles Sankey, M. A. Not ory of Greece and of Persia, the renowned struggle be- them, the invasion of Greece Persians, and their defeat. So however, of the general his- these nations as is important author's purpose is related. It ork of rare discrimination, nd graphic in style, and nim- the attainment of the facts e significance of the conflict: lume is a 12mo of 212 pages, ished with colored maps, sup- with copious index, tables of ts, chronological table, printed ted paper, and handsomely Price, $1.

ST PRETENSIONS. Met and the Rev. B. F. Sedwick. Nashville, Southern Methodist Publishing House.

mphlet of 65 duodecimo pages. 5 cents.

ELL'S LIVING AGE.—Num- 68 and 1669 of the Living Age, date May 27 and June 3 re- ely, contain: Sunday School ending Library Literature, Quarterly Review; Recent Novels, Edinburg Review; ly Candidate, Blackwood; Side of the Water, By One ows This Side, Temple Bar; d Letters of Lord Macaulay, g Review; Justin Vitali's a French "Cause Celebre," ; Mrs. Thrale, the Friend of nson, part 2, Macmillan; l Antipathies of Individuals, or; The Conditions of Busi- cess, Spectator; Furnishing, g Review; Soul-Traps, Sun- Home; A Frenchman on Women, Standard; Incl- f African Travel, New Quar- Magazine; Instalments of She Came Through," a g serial by Sarah Tytler, usual select poetry and mispincott's Magazine for June he Century—Its Fruits and dyals; Glimpses of Constan- Modern Huguenots; The Mediæval Wood Sculptors; from South Africa; and other.

de Awake for June is finely ed, and abounds in useful and entertaining articles for the young. Some of the articles are: The White Mountain Hot Springs; The Cooking Club of Tu-Whit Hollow; Poets' Homes; Behaving, or Papers on Children's Etiquette; Young Rick; A Hero in Peace and in War.

—Scribner's Monthly for June has: Old Landmarks in Philadelphia, Illustrated; Beds and Tables, Stools and Candlesticks; Pilgrims and Puritans; How America was Named; Union College; Some Experiments in Co-Operation; Charlotte Cushman, and other articles.

—Our Sunday school publications for July have been received. The Magazine has a good table of contents. The first article, on the Life and Character of Dr. A. L. P. Green, by Dr. R. A. Young, is excellent.

—We have received from Philip Werlein, Baronne street, New Orleans, a piece of music entitled "Roll Back Again Those By-Gone Days." Words and music by P. O. Hudson.

—Morton's Monthly Home and School for June has been received.

—The American Agriculturist for June has been received.

The State Female College, near Memphis, Tenn., opens its commencement exercises, with a sermon by Rev. J. W. Atkins, on Sunday, June 11.

A rable dispatch has been received by Mr. George H. Stuart, of New York, from Thomas Nelson, Edinburg, announcing that an organic union had (May 25) been effected between the General Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland and the Reformed Presbyterian Synod of Scotland.

Dr. Punshon has sent £20 Stirl. to aid in the erection of the Wesley Memorial Church at Savannah, Ga. He writes to Dr. Wynn, pledging his hearty co-operation in the noble work, and sends this donation as the earnest of his zeal and love for the common cause of Methodism.

At a semi-annual meeting of the Bishops of the Zion Methodist Church Bishop Clinton was appointed to confer with Bishop Mikes, of the Colored Methodist Church, in reference to a union of these two branches of Methodism.

MARRIED.

YOUNG—BRADFORD.—On the eleventh of May, at the Carondelet Street Methodist church, New Orleans, La., by the Rev. John Mathews, Mr. Willie P. Young, of Anite City, La., and Miss Seraphine M. Bradford, of Woodville, Miss.

GIBSON—BERRY.—At the Methodist church in Natchez, Miss., on the third of May, 1876, by Rev. W. L. C. Hunnicutt, Mr. Samuel M. Gibson and Miss Lizzie Berry, both of Adams county, Miss.

SHARP—PIKE.—At the residence of the bride's father, F. W. Pike, Esq., Bellewood, parish of Assumption, May 30, 1876, by the Rev. Lewis A. Reed, Mr. William H. Sharp to Miss Fannie L. Pike.

VERRET—MOODY.—By the same, May 31, 1876, at the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Tigerville, Mr. Alphonse A. Verret to Miss Jennie C., eldest daughter of Capt. William M. Moody.

COOPER—PALMER.—On Wednesday, May 24, 1876, at the residence of James Ramsey, in East Feliciana parish, La., by Rev. D. C. Ledgford, Mr. H. S. Cooper to Miss H. O. Palmer.

Publisher's Department.

THE GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.—The traveling public are much indebted to the indomitable energy and skill of the general manager, Col. Frost, for so fully restoring this route to its original condition of security and good order. Trains leave daily, and travelers may be sure that the improvements of the facilities and provision for the comfort of passengers have kept pace with the most advanced enterprise of the country. Maj. Carey, general ticket agent, will be found to be a most courteous and obliging officer, a cultivated gentleman, and fully acquainted with his duties.

FANCY AND STAPLE GROCERIES. Mr. James Clarke, at the corner of Magazine and Seventh streets, is prepared to serve the trade and supply families with the best articles in the market, and will deliver free of charge, and at moderate prices. In any part of the city. Those who may call at Mr. Clarke's store will find Mr. H. J. McCormack, assisted by Mr. A. M. Kelly, ready to extend to them the most polite attention. Call and see them.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.—It is a great convenience to those who have moss, rags, bones, metals, wool and hides for sale to have some reliable person to whom consignments can be made, and who will turn into money that which is, unmeshed, at home, and which is in the way. In this connection we hope all interested will read the advertisement of W. M. Evans, Esq., at 33, North Peters street, to be found in our columns of this issue.

PAINTS, OILS AND GLASS.—The paint store of Col. Samuel M. Todd is extensive and well assorted with good articles in every branch of the business. He is one of our best and most reliable merchants and citizens, and we heartily recommend whom it may concern to send their orders to him and we guarantee they will be as faithfully attended to as if they were present themselves.

TEN THOUSAND CATALOGUES TO GIVE AWAY.—By calling on Mr. Humble, at the Singer sewing machine depot, 91 Canal street, you can get a catalogue of Butterick & Co.'s, which may be of great service to you, and which will cost you nothing. Give a call. You cannot help being pleased with Mr. Humble, and you will be pleased with the appearance of things at the depot.

FARMERS who are growing sorghum or the tropical cane will do well to consult the advertisement of Mr. S. S. Connor, which appears in another column.

FOR China or glassware go to Navra & Offner's China Palace, 91 Canal street.

STAPLE and fancy dry goods for sale at Levy Bros.', 580 Magazine street.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE following testimonial is signed by twelve of the leading physicians of Halifax, N. S.: "Hickey's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator is a very agreeable article of diet, and particularly useful in Diphtheria, Fever, and every depressing disease. We cheerfully recommend it. Every family should have a few bottles."—Sold by all druggists.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending June 3, 1876.

A—C Austin, J R Andrews, J Asselineau $20, H F Adams, John H Anderson, S D Akin.

B—James M Berry, I H Bass & Bro, Robert Babington, J Lyne Burden, E J Barret, Mrs C Boulig, C B Burr, George W Brown $2, A M Barrington $2, E L Bendell, Barnes & Wilkinson, J H Brunner, John Barcroft, Jeannette M Barrow, O H Blue, Miss S A Berford, J W Burke & Co, Mrs E C Barksdale, Miss E C Bonham $1, E D Beattie $1.25, N H Brainard, M J Barnes.

C—Catholic Publication Society, J W Clarke, S H Cooper, L Curtis, George W Crowder $5, John F Cook $1, John Clegg $1.50, S J Canning, Mrs M A Cuppes $2, J T Cunningham $2, C W Campbell, H C Calmus, J H Cook, Catchling & Ainsworth, W C Curry, Leander C Calhoun $2, B Clegg $5, R Crawford $2.25, J B Cossily $2, H J Chambers, Red Chase, Robert Carter & Bros, J M Curtis, H J Carchilogs.

D—Charles T Dillingham, P L Dallas $5.50, Mrs Sophia Dannenyo $2.50, Pohl & Mead, C H Dinsmore, W D Dentzick $2, G W Davidson $4, Harry B Denham $1, W C Dunn, F Duss.

E—Thomas H Emerson & Bro.

F—Julius Fetchteller, A B Fiaby $2, E E Frederick $7.40, H Foote $1.50, Sydney T Frazer.

G—Gorton & Wallis, H Gwinner & Bro, E F Gates, William M Gamble $4, H M Gillis $4, W A Gillespie, A E Gray, Thomas Garnett $2.

H—R B Howe $1, John A Heard Jr $6, E T Hilliard $10.50, J J Huzlewood, Mrs J E Haigher, Holloman Bros $28, M Hause, T J Haugh, John W Hollan, Miss J P Harrison, W L C Hunnicutt, J K Hall secretary.

I—Robert S Isabell $10.45.

J—H F Johnson, Thomas L James.

K—Christian, Keener, O K Kingsley, Joseph Knight, Rev J Knight $5, Mrs W G Kearney.

L—J B Lippincott & Co, C H Lynch $10, John N Lipscomb $3.15, Robert F Lewis, Frank Leslie, N H Luse $2.

M—Thomas H Mecklenburg, A L McBryde, A C McDonald $2, H McCallum $7.75, C McDonald $2, P J McFerrin, W C Malone, J N McKinnon, G W McFee, Charles Mixer, J W Medlock $1.50, Minnis, Dudley & Minnis $13.25, J C Mize, H E Mathews $4.80, T F Monghni $3.55, John S Moore $10.50, J W McMaster, A E Mason.

N—C C Nash, J T Newcomer four letters, New York State Roofing Company, Miss Fannie P. Nephler, A Nicholson.

O—James Ormond two letters, Postoffice Order (Tuskaloosa) $2.

P—Pott, Young & Co two letters, John Pipes, Mrs Ike Pickens 50 cents, J C Perry $2, C H Pilley $2.50, W R Port, Thomas Price, E E Powell $2, A G Porter, Postmaster Angelina.

R—Bryce Ellis, P P Roberts, A B Stafford agent, T S Randle $2, E J Rancher, Robert Randle $1, Rowell & Chesman $30.

S—S Spencer, St Louis Advertising and Publishing Company $1.82, William A Smith, George M Stoker 50 cents, I N Stoer & Co, T C Stanliter, Scribner, Welford & Co, George S Scofield, Henry St John $15.50, W S Sykes, Mrs E P Speak, S H Schroeder, William Sorsby.

T—H M Trichcart 2 cents, Mrs H A Tyler, M J Thomas $2, J H Taylor $1.00, James A Tryce $3.50, James L Terrell $5, Mrs B Trimble.

W—A W White, J S Wood, Barton W Whitherly $2, H Wright 50 cents, James Wilson $2, J Weaver & Co, R J Wilson, H M Ward, two letters $2.40, Wilson, Hickle & Co, R F Watkins, Mrs Francis E Willard, T H Watkins.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments.

FREE! FREE!

10,000

E. BUTTERICK & CO.'S

CATALOGUES

CONTAINING THE

LATEST SUMMER FASHIONS,

Just received and ready for distribution. Mailed to any address upon application to

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,

91 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, ETC.

1,000 LBS. KALSOMINE, assorted colors, ready for use.
100 cases H. Bell & Co.'s Pure Mixed PAINTS, ready for use.
100 cases assorted COLORS, in oil.
15 tons pure WHITE LEAD, in Kegs and cans.
15 tons French and American ZINC PAINT.
150 barrels DRY COLORS, assorted.
30 barrels LINSEED and LARD OIL.
10 barrels MINERAL SPERM OIL, 300 deg.
10 barrels HEADLIGHT OIL, 175 deg.
100 cases Pratt's ASTRAL OIL, 5 gallon.
25 barrels best VARNISH, assorted.
1,000 boxes French and American WINDOW GLASS. For sale by

SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,

76 Magazine street.

RAWLEY SPRINGS,

IN THE MOUNTAINS OF THE

Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

THE strongest known CHALYBEATE WATER in the United States, and possessing the highest medicinal virtues, both Tonic and Alterative. The elevated location, pure atmosphere, romantic walks, finest scenery, the lawns and forest, the amusements and comforts provided, and the attention paid to guests in its three large Hotels, connected together by wide and spacious covered ways, all contribute to render OLD RAWLEY a favorite resort alike to the invalid and the pleasure-seeker.

For photographic views, for pamphlets and information apply to

ALBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,

Cor. Bienville and Liberty Sts.

CENTENNIAL HYMN.

AS SUNG at the Opening Ceremonies in Philadelphia. Words by Whittier. Music by J. K. Paine, in Boston, for Mixed Voices. Price in Sheet Music form, 30 cents. In Octavo form, for Choruses, 10 cents. No celebration this year will be complete without the singing of this magnificent hymn.

Centennial, Machinery, Horticultural, Memorial and Agricultural March (sheet 30 cts., Whole & Gould's Ed (60 cts.) and New (60 cts.) Marches; Martha Washington's Waltz (60 cts.) and March (60 cts.) Grand March for Brownie (60 cts.) Centennial Waltzes, by Filege (75 cts.) and Gruber's Medley of National Airs (75 cts.) All have splendid Illustrated Titles, and the best of music.

Centennial Collection of National Songs! An elegant and attractive volume, containing the National Songs of this and twelve other countries, in convenient form for Soloist Choirs singing. In Paper, 40 cts.; Boards, 50 cts.

Good News! Charming new S. S. Book. Good News!
Good News! S. Song Book just out. Good News!

Carmina Collegensia! Cloth, $3; Gilt, $4. New, revised, enlarged edition. All the famous College Songs, forming the wittiest, most entertaining, musical and classical collection of genial Songs and Glees for social singing ever brought together.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., BOSTON.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

FOLEY'S

Celebrated Gold Pens

AND PENCILS.

THE FINEST AND BEST.

CIRCULAR.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of extensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Pre-eminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of Fine GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is tested by the long time he has been engaged in covering in their manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made.

Signed for the following gentlemen and over one thousand others:

J. E. Williams, Pres. Metropolitan National Bank, G. S. Coe, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank, J. A. Beardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America, Wm. A. Fall, President Corn Exchange Bank, R. M. Gower, Pres. Nat'l Bank of the Republic, F. O. Tappan, Pres. Gallatin National Bank, J. G. Thompson, Cashier Continental Bank, J. G. Ogden, Cashier New York Co. Nat'l Bank, Clark, Dodge & Co., George B. Arthur & Co., White, Morris & Co., H. C. Morgan & Co., Vermilye & Co., American Express Co., Winslow, Lanier & Co., Adams Express Co., Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co., Daniel D. Smith, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co., Elwood Walter, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co., Wm. L. Jenkins, President Bank of America, J. W. Lewis, Cashier Fulton National Bank, Wm. H. Vox, Cashier Mechanics' National Bank, J. Riedl, Pres. Importers' and Traders' Nat'l Bank, J. M. Paine, Vice Pres. Stage and Leather Nat'l Bank, Wells, Fargo & Co., T. S. Kebbon & Co., United States Exp. Co., S. R. Chittenden & Co., Barclay & Livingston, Johnson & Higgins, A. E. Wilmarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co., Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,

GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,

No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by many of the leading Stationers and Jewelers of New Orleans. eow

1776. The Great Centennial. 1876.

PARTIES desiring information as to the best routes to the

CENTENNIAL,

or to any of the Summer Resorts, or to any other point in the country, should address

H. W. WRENN,

General Passenger Agent Kentucky Route, Atlanta, Ga.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

(LIMITED,)

47 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity, with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & BRO.'S LOCK TIE.
RHANCH CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro., and Rhanch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED) the following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Chism & Boyd, William Dutton, Ogden & Bell, Archer & Rowland, D. L. Benfett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited):

R. W. RAYNE & CO., General Agents.

AN

EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING

OF

PARASOLS!

THIS DAY

AT

DANZIGER'S,

203 ..... CANAL STREET 203

Bet. Burgundy and Rampart, and

NOS. 228 AND 230 ROYAL STREET,

Corner St. Philip.

20,000 PARASOLS, bought at a large bankrupt sale in New York, will be sold at less than half the importation cost. All NEW, FRESH GOODS.

We beg to call particular attention to these Parasols and etc.

Children's Percale Parasols at 25 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, at 50 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, with fringes, at 62½ cts.
Ladies' Silk Centennial Parasols at 50 cts.
Ladies' Silk Parasols, ruffled, at 50 cts.
Ladies' Summer Parasols, silk lined, at 50 cts.
Ladies' Black Silk Ruffled Parasols, silk lined, for mourning and half mourning, at $1.25.
Ladies' extra size Silk Parasols, silk lined, at $1.50.
Ladies' Tourist Parasols, silk, silk lined, with Escrit covering, at $2.50. Very stylish and new.

And a great many other novelties in Parasols, Half Umbrellas, etc., all at less than one-half the importation cost, at

DANZIGER'S,
203 Canal Street,
And 228 and 230 Royal Street.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

CUTLERY, PLATED WARE,

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 117 pieces, for $20 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 121 pieces, for 11 50
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 4 75
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 3 00
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 6 00

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes.

All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Bath Tubs.

Orders from the country will receive our best attention.

NAVRA & OFFNER,
129 Canal street, New Orleans.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,

OCULIST,

11 DAUPHINE STREET 11

NEW ORLEANS.

(Office hours from 10 to 3.) 5p

WALTHAM, ELGIN AND HOWARD WATCHES.

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung complaints, product of our Swamps—is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is delicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase. Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 106 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. A Life Tonic Infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever, etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

ROGERS' EFFERVESCING

CITRATE OF MAGNESIA,

in six-ounce bottles, in powder. This Magnesia is a mild purgative and aperient, very acceptable to the stomach for Sick Headache, Sour or Sick Stomach, and all Febrile cases. Good for all seasons of the year. Prepared by ARTHUR ROGERS, 193 Spring st., N. Y. For sale by all druggists. E. J. HART & CO., wholesale agents, New Orleans. eow

WANTED. All persons who have read my double column advertisement in this paper, describing the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend, to send for new terms. 500 have been sold. J. C. TILTON, Pittsburg, Pa.

FIRWEIN, is the name of a new remedy mentioned in the Journal of Materia Medica for January as particularly valuable in Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all affections of the throat and lungs; those of public speakers, and gives several cases of cure.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, billious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1875: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5ptc

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

OF

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, last smiles of the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

NO. 90 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

BOOTS AND SHOES

AT

578 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 578

Opposite the Magazine Street Market,

(Sign of the Lady's Boot,) New Orleans.

BRANCH STORE, 585 MAGAZINE STREET, Corner of St. Andrew.

Has opened with a fresh stock of Boots and Shoes at the very lowest prices.

This is the greatest Boot and Shoe House in the South, where Boots, Shoes and Hats can be purchased at THE LOWEST PRICES—Cheaper than the Cheapest. A call is all that is asked to convince any one that this is the cheapest and best place to purchase Boots, Shoes and Hats in the South.

Parties at a distance from New Orleans can take their own measure and purchase their Boots or Shoes by mail with the aid of our Card of Measurement. Send, or call and get one.

We manufacture all descriptions of Boots, Shoes and Gaiters at the very lowest prices. All work warranted to be of the best material.

LOUIS GIMMEL, Agent.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE

OF THE

FOURTH DISTRICT,

595 ..... MAGAZINE ST 595

The finest COFFEES, purchased and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

WOOD ..... COAL ..... LUMBER.

NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 351 Dryades street, or at 282 Colliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. S. & M. SMITH.

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,

AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,

Jary & Hause, Proprietors,

has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED ..... WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES: Rev. H. F. Johnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

COAL ..... COAL ..... COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

106 Common St., opposite City Hotel.

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

ADOLPH FINCH,

(Formerly with N. Burke,)

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CARRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC. To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out, and cure better, just better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a pastor lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 282 Delord street.

SULLIVAN & HILGER,

NO. 97 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,

DEALERS IN

Gas Fitters' and Plumbers' Materials,

Gas Fixtures, Pumps, Bath-Tubs, Ranges, Iron, Lead and Cis-Lined Pipes, Sheet Lead, Fittings of all descriptions, Brass, Steam, Water and Gas Cocks, Valves, Plugs, etc. Thirty per cent. discount on Iron Pipe; all other goods in proportion. eow

ROSES 700 SUPERB VARIETIES ROSES! Half a Million Greenhouse Plant Mailing Plants a Specialty; Illustrated Catalogue Free E. Y. TEAS & CO. Richmond Ind eow

Farm, Garden and Household.

Thoughts for the Month.

CORN.

Where corn has not been sufficiently manured, an additional supply may be given it now, say at its second plowing. Supposing it not to be exceeding one foot in height, run a shovel or twister pretty near to the corn on each side, drop manure in each furrow opposite the stalk, and cover with the next furrow. It is a point worthy of decision by careful experiment whether it is best to apply all the manure intended for corn at or before the time of planting, or a part then and a portion afterward. In our climate the tendency with corn is to produce too much stalk compared with the ear. It is rather the reverse in the Northern States—smaller stalks and larger ears in proportion, with better yield. Now if corn is well supplied with manure from the start, is it not probable that stalk production might be encouraged at the expense of earing; and, on the other hand, if most of the manure is applied after the stalk has pretty well fixed its size, might not the manure tend then almost wholly to the development of the ear? Without being able to decide the matter from first experiments, we may state, however, that we have obtained most satisfactory results from manure applied as above to corn in bottom land, increasing the yield from thirty to forty bushels above the natural production of the land.

PEAS.

should be planted in the corn fields now as soon as possible. It is important to have them dropped in such a manner as not to interfere with the next plowing. Where the corn is checked this is easily done. Also in very wide rows, as they can then be planted in the middles, equi-distant from the rows of corn. Where the drills are too narrow to admit of this the best plan is to plant with hoe between hills of corn. Drop not less than six peas in a hill.

COTTON.

Bring cotton to a stand now as quickly as possible, and work it rapidly, to hasten growth of stalk, that it may be ready for fruiting early in the season. When fruiting fairly begins the workings may be at longer intervals, as slower growth is then desirable. Be sure to kill all the May grass. This done, your crop is safe.

HARVEST.

Look well ahead and have everything ready; better to hire extra hands and clean the crop, so that your regular hands may do the harvest work, than to hire extra hands for harvesting; the latter will be sure to charge extravagant prices. Put up grain in small shocks, and in four days of good weather it may be housed or stacked. It is very bad policy to leave grain long in the field after it is cut. "Save that already made" is the best maxim for the farmer—one certainty is worth a great many uncertainties. In stacking oats, make a platform eight to ten inches above ground two logs, with others laid across, will answer on which to build the stack. The oats will keep drier, and the cats will have a better chance at the rats. If oats are stowed away in the barn put butts against the wall and heads out. This will also check the ravages of rats. Select the best field of oats you have, let them get quite ripe before cutting, and save them for seed. Those intended for feeding purposes should be cut as soon as they fairly begin to "turn."

Thresh wheat as soon as possible; dry the grain thoroughly; grind up a year's supply at once; then sun the flour thoroughly; put in sacks and store away in a dry place. It will be just as sweet and good a year hence as the day it was ground.

SWEET POTATOES.

Put off slips as fast as they are ready. Never wait for rain. Grout the slips in a mush of clay and cow dung, put them in a hole, partly fill the latter with dirt, then add a gill of water, and afterward fill with earth. If done late in the afternoon very few will die; but be sure to draw dry dirt to them after the water is applied.—Southern Cultivator.

Indian Corn as Food.

The prejudice existing against the use of maize as an article of human food, among certain classes of people is surprising, and this prejudice is based on ignorance. Our corn is seldom found in Irish or English kitchens although millions of bushels are exported to England every year. The people there are strangers to those New England luxuries—corn bread and puddings—and we suppose it will be a long time before they will know anything of them.

Indian corn is one of the most important and healthful articles of human food that a beneficent Providence has bestowed upon man; and to its high nutritive value is due in a large degree the strength and vigor of the race of men who laid the foundations of this great republic. It was much more largely used fifty or one hundred years ago than now, as fine wheat flour, for some not well-founded reason, has usurped its place in bread-making. In the several forms, however, of hulled corn, popped corn, hominy, samp, corn starch, maizena, etc., vast quantities are consumed by all classes of people.

Meal from Indian corn contains more than four times as much nitrogenous matter as wheat flour, more starch, and nearly as much nitrogenous material; consequently in all cold climates it is admirably adapted to sustain the system by furnishing heat-forming compounds. The oil gives warmth, the nitrogenous principle gives muscular strength. The combination of alimentary compounds in Indian corn renders it alone the mixed diet capable of sustaining man under the most extraordinary circumstances. It holds the elementary principles which constitute the basis of organic life. In this particular it is more remarkable than any other vegetable production known to man. There is a large number of dishes of which corn meal forms the basis, which are exceedingly palatable. What, for instance, is more delicious than cold corn pudding cut in slices and fried in sweet butter and lard? Hot corn cakes, when properly and skillfully made, are almost universally regarded as a luxury, and Boston brown bread is famous everywhere in the country. The reason why corn meal is not more largely used at the present time is that it is quite difficult to obtain it of dealers or grocers in a perfectly pure and sweet state. Millers grind the corn as it comes from the West, mixed with portions of the cob, and saturated with dust and dirt, and this is sold for kitchen as well as for stable use. Much of the Western corn is damaged in transportation, and this is ground up with that which is sound. If good, sweet Northern corn is properly ground in an old-fashioned stone mill, after being winnowed to free it from dust, a meal will result of a rich golden color, and no dish can be prepared from it which will not be palatable and most nutritious. Farmers who are so foolish as to go into the market to purchase corn and meal for their animals should understand the great difference in nutritive value between what they can raise and what they purchase.—Journal of Chemistry.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TRUNKS.

HO! FOR THE CENTENNIAL!

WILLIAM HOGAN,

CANAL STREET 201

HAS READY FOR THE

CENTENNIAL

Gents' English and Ladies' TRUNKS of the celebrated Victoria, Eugenie and Monitor patterns. Also CENTENNIAL TRAVELLING BAGS in great variety, also of fresh importation, and to be sold at low per cent. for the next sixty days. With the finest stock in the city of BOOTS, SHOES and GAITERS, for Gentlemen, Ladies and Misses, all at REASONABLE PRICES. Call and see.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

No. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken for storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. A Furniture and Bedding pot in perfect repair and steamed to order. Moving, Packing, etc., done at the lowest possible rates on application.

HENRY ETHOFF,
155 Camp street.

LOUISIANA

PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY.

R. LUCKNER, SR.,

112 ..... Magazine St. 112

Cigars. NEW ORLEANS.

BAND BOXES with address, three in best, rolled and spoke, shipped free of all charges except freight to any R. R. depot in city, on receipt of Post-office order. Paper Boxes of every description.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS.

GIROD ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND DRYADES, NEW ORLEANS.

JOS. A. SHAKSPEARE. A. SMITH. S. SWOPE.

SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

manufacture every variety of Steam Engines, Sugar Mills, Saw Mills, Draining and Centrifugal Machines, Mill and Gin Gearing, Grate Bars, etc.; Store Fronts, Columns and Ventilators, Blacksmith work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY.

398 MAGAZINE STREET.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.

CHOICE FRUIT SYRUPS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream in quarts, half gallons and larger measures upon order.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.

Orders delivered free of charge to all parts of the city.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,

DEALER IN ICE,

No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the Nelson Market; Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

WILLIAM P. WALSH,

GENERAL COMMERAGE,

13 ..... NORTH FRONT ST. 13

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles of this line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

1031 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 1031

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up. Picture and Frame Repairing. All work guaranteed.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS,

J. B. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES: No. 1 at 3c per pound; No. 2 at 2½c per pound. Address all orders for empty sacks to P. O. Box 260.

BLACKMAN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 ..... CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

LIME, SAND, EDDIONS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay Paving, Building Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pulishing Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART,

15 Gravier street, and 253 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

INSURANCE.

TENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

FACTORS' & TRADERS'

INSURANCE CO.,

37 ..... CARONDELET STREET 37

NEW ORLEANS, May 19, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity with the charter of the Company, publish the following statement of its affairs for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1876, to wit:

Premiums for the year—
On Fire risks	$330,051 30
On River risks	280,692 48
On Marine risks	45,708 03
		$656,651 82
Less—
Unterminated premiums, 1875	$86,500 00
Return premiums	11,023 21	97,553 21
Net earned premiums		$559,071 61
Losses paid:
On Fire risks	$66,731 24
On River risks	191,653 85
On Marine risks	19,593 67
Total	$277,478 76
Reinsurance	36,245 83
Rebate account	14,046 43
State and City Taxes and Licenses	55,488 91
New Orleans Board of Underwriters	3 519 05
Gross general expenses	14,555 21
		$436 355 37
Balance		$182,716 24
Add, interest and discount and savings		108,285 52
		$291,001 76
Less first semi-annual interest paid on capital stock, five per cent., and second now due five per cent		110,000 00
Net profits		$181,001 76
Reserved		81,000 00
Balance divided on net premiums		$87,000 76

The Company have the following assets:

Cash on hand	$378,831 71
Accounts in course of collection	41 627 95
Bills receivable on pledge	485 854 21
Bills receivable for premiums	2s,031 51
Bank and other stocks	257,145 46
City and other bonds	105,267 95
Bonds of Masonic Grand Lodge	5,000 00
Bonds of St. Patrick's Hall Association	5,000 00
Bonds of Association for protection of Jewish Widows and Orphans	2,000 00
Real estate	35,5 3 75
Total	$1,350,765 89

The Trustees have declared a dividend of FIVE PER CENT. for the half year ending April 30, 1876, payable on demand.

THOS. A. PALFREY, President.
THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twelfth day of May, 1876.

EDWARD IVY, Notary Public.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the eighth instant, it was resolved to pay on demand a scrip dividend, being interest of FIVE PER CENT. to April 30, 1876, bearing 6 per cent. per annum on the capital stock of the Company called in, and a cash dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. to stockholders on the amount still paid in of their respective shares, premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREEN WOOD, Vice President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

W. A. Johnson,	W. C. Raymond,
John L. Nunez,	T. Lyell, Lyell,
John Challe,	H. Spowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Reed,
John L. Warren,	Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Buckner,	E. R. Wheelock,
Samuel Hellender,	Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Wales,	Wm. J. Behan,
John L. Adams,	R. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Selcock,	Wm. C. Black,
R. M. Widenor,	Charles Challe,
A. H. May,	L. C. Jurey,
	Wm. Hartwell.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

CARONDELET STREET.

Depositary, Citizens' National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. DEAPELLA, President.
J. E. McCRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maginnis,	H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy,	A. Chapelin,
B. Sadler,	J. Bayle,
H. Labasse,	A. B. Brousseau,
	A. Bonnegrue.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS

SAVINGS INSTITUTION,

15 ..... CANAL STREET 15

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID CROCKART, President.
THOS. WILLIAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN YARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES L. DERBY, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KOHLHAAS, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. Williams,	Charles Derby,
Thos. Allen Yarke,	Robert Crawford,
Charles L. Derby,	Peter Arnedez,
Samuel Hellender,	Joel Hotchkiss,
A. Mithoff,	P. L. Bayon,
J. A. Page,	David Crockart,
[illegible]	[illegible]

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK

AND

SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

54 Camp St.

CAPITAL $300,000

E. C. PALMER, Pr.
JAS. JACKSON, V. P.

DIRECTORS.

E. C. PALMER,	FRED. KING,
J. H. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
	E. J. PALMER.

This Company insures against burglaries, thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital (300,000 security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and $1 per annum, interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WATSON, Cashier.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

65 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXXX, Grangers' Hope XXX, Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX, Grangers' Best XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for Eastern and the sugar sections.

T. W. ROTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinfecting. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

INSURANCE.

TWENTY-SEVENTH

ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

Crescent Mutual Insurance

COMPANY.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 20, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity to the amended charter, submit the following statement of the affairs of the Company on the thirtieth of April, 1876:

Fire premiums	$230,601 26
Marine premiums	37,488 97
River premiums	114,813 26	$378,898 49
Earned premiums, less reinsurance and return premiums		288,247 48
Losses paid and estimated, including all known and unpaid:
On fire	$56 980 16
Marine	18,988 58
On river	71 471 20	$147,340 58
Taxes, expenses, rebate in lieu of participation, less Interest, discount, etc.	83,725 11	231,116 69
Leaving, after paying ten per cent. in cash, interest on capital stock, profits		$57,238 79

The Company have the following assets:

Bills receivable	$54,728 78
Loans on bond and mortgage	56,443 33	$110 772 11
Loans on pledge at call	$120 711 35
Cash	67 388 04	188,099 41
Real estate		121,031 42
City bonds, bank and other stocks		126,161 10
Premiums in course of collection		27,625 77
Total assets		$853,068 71

The above statement is a true and correct transcript from the books of the Company.

THOS. A. ADAMS, President.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twelfth day of May, 1876.

WM. H. HOLMES,
Second Justice of the Peace, Parish of Orleans.

The Board of Trustees resolved that, after paying the annual interest of ten per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, a dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. be paid in cash on and after the twenty-first of June next, to those parties insuring with the Company entitled to receive the same.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	Edward Pilsbury,
Sam'l H. Newman,	John E. King,
Sam'l H. Kennedy,	Fred'k Camerden,
Solon Phelps,	E. L. Harris,
Adam Thoms,	Alglow Stewart,
Henry Abraham,	Joseph Gaines,
P. N. Strong,	George Martin,
Victor Meyer,	Alfred Moulton,
Joseph Bowling,	L. C. Claiborne,
Edward J. Gay,	Edward Nalle,
John M. Saunders,	George W. Scott,
Simon Hernsheimer,	A. Lyon,
Simon Lansenimer,	Judah Brunes,
Joseph B. Wolfe,	Wm. H. Mattingly,
H. E. Post,	John N. Moore,
	Paul E. Mortimer.

HIBERNIA

INSURANCE COMPANY.

OFFICE—NO. 37 CAMP ST.

JOHN HENDERSON, President.
E. IRWIN, Vice President.
THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.

Earnings		$215,1 [illegible]
Losses Paid		74 [illegible]
Net Profits		65,7 [illegible]

At a meeting held last Monday, the first inst., the following-named gentlemen were chosen Directors of this Company to serve for the ensuing year:

E. Irwin	John Henderson,
Thomas Kling,	John G. Ryan,
Thomas Gilmore,	W. F. Castello,
John T. Gibbons,	James A. Gardner,
William Hay,	Eug. le Gaudin,
David Jackson,	John H. Hanna,
	E. J. Gaspiel.

And at a meeting of the Board, held May 8, JOHN HENDERSON, President; E. IRWIN, Vice President, and THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary, were unanimously re-elected.

The Board declared out of the net profits of the Company for the past twelve months 10 per cent. interest; also 4 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital, and 25 per cent. dividend on premiums paid by stockholders ranking with the reduced 1 per cent. on premiums. Said interest and dividends to be placed to the credit of the stock notes.

Interest and dividends on full-paid stock paid in cash at the office of the Company on and after June 1 proximo.

THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.

New Orleans, May 12, 1876.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $200,000
Assets at their marked values 300,000
Income for the year 1875 210,000

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President J. TUYES.
Vice President A. SCHLEICHER.
Secretary J. W. HINKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merath	A. M. Heckmann
Placide Forstall,	A. S. Sweeney,
H. Gally,	J. Dyes,
Charles Laidlie,	W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen,	H. Fatjo,
Pierre Poutz,	D. D. Rogers.

MISCELLANEOUS

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer for a Short Time Only.

Will send, post-paid, free, to each new subscriber of the NEW YORK AGENTS' MONTHLY, a large bundle of 'CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL MEDALS' and Fancy Box Stamps, in Albata Plate, silver finish, the size of a silver trade dollar. The AGENTS' MONTHLY is a Reliable Sixteen Page Paper. Subscription 50 cents per year. Send 2 cents, and you will receive the AGENTS' MONTHLY for nine years post-paid, and the above named articles. Address

CENTENNIAL PUBLISHING CO.,
149 Broadway, New York.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store.

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto: Quick Sales and Small Profits.

H. CASSIDY,

SAIL-MAKER,

AND CANVAS DUCK AGENT,

No. 85 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.

ESTABLISHED IN 18[illegible].

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS, etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

FAVORITE SONGS

New Collection of Sensual Sacred Music, by the Christies, for singing classes and juvenile gatherings. Prof. McIntosh of the Vanderbilt University says It is the best book of the kind. Price 35 cts. by mail. Specimen leaves free. Address W. Carroll & Co., Cincinnati, O.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

"Every Piano in America Should be Graced by a Copy."

$5,000!

—IN GOLD—

WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committees

FOR

RICHARD WAGNER'S

Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.

Now Arranged for Piano by

THEODORE THOMAS,

(Played by his Orchestra nightly.)

And Published by

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI, O.

Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTORY, WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED.

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

Struck in Solid Albata Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a silver Trade dollar, being 1¾ inches in diameter, handsomely put up, and sell readily at sight. The most splendid, Saleable and Meanest ever issued. A Complete outfit of magnificent samples for 25 cents, by Celyx-Fluid mail, post-paid, including the Bust of George Washington, Grand Entrance Illuminated Exhibition Memorial Oil Art Gallery of Historical Hall of Main Building, and the Grand Representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, designed by Trumbull, in gilt. Send by mail on receipt of draft or postal-order for $1 or will ship by express C. O. D. upon receipt of 25 per cent. Agents Circular and price-list, and one sample sent upon receipt of 10 cents. Immense profits. Sells in sight. Extensive fields for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P. O. Box 758. NEW YORK.

THAT MAGIC NAME!

LIVINGSTONE!

Kindles the enthusiasm of the world wherever heard. AGENTS WANTED everywhere to sell his Organ, Life and Explorations, and Last Journals. 650 pages, 100 engravings, low price, quick sales. Extra terms. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & Co., 140 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's safety guard is worth all the Barbar Absurds ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sample sent post-paid on receipt of 75 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 18 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$5,000 AGENTS WANTED.—Samples sent free by mail, with circulars declaring from $5 to $10 per day. I will not employ any article, you sell me their. Address H. B. WILDE & CO., Newark, N. J.

$250 A MONTH.—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable as before. Particulars free. Address J. WORTHINGTON & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

MISCELLANEOUS

TO THE PUBLIC.

ASCERTAIN PARTIES have given out, that I have sold my business to them, and are selling "Sole Agencies" of the finest manufacturers of Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

of the following manufacturers of Grand Point:

DE FAYE BOUSSEL,
LEMY BOUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE BOUSSEL,
E. ST. PIERRE,
And many others;

EDMOND BOUDREAUX,
No. 10 Conti street.

RICE BROS. & CO.,

81 AND 83 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,

NAILS AND CUTLERY,

Tinners' Stock and Tools,

AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

The Charter Oak Stoves.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK

And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed.

JOHN IRIS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

MEDICAL.

DUCONGE'S

PECTORAL BALSAMIC SY

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, well-established virtue and its high reputation in all ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Breast and Throat is so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Lungs, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Gout, or Dysentery and Summer Complaint, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on consumption, it has been found most effectual in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure in truly extraordinary medicine has, over a thousand pounds of the same nature, the decided advantage owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, it requires no particular diet. It is also the best, not only because the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition this Syrup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families whenever needed by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Syrup.—Grown persons can take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night can take two tablespoonfuls of the Syrup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a night's rest.

Children from three to five years old can take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three or four hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 29 Camp St.
And by all Druggists.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFI

INDUCED by the demand, especially existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved by extensive experience, to be safe, generally useful, and peculiarly suited to family practice. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions for general advice as to the treatment of the disease.

No.	For—
1	Fever.
2	Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3	Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4	Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5	Wheezing or spasmodic Cough.
6	Diarrhœa.
7	Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
8	Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
9	Dyspepsia, Constipation.
10	Worm Colic or Fever.
11	Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
12	Toothache, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache.
13	Sick Headache, Vertigo.
14	Sore Throat, Quinsy.
15	Ear Discharges, Deafness.
16	Sore Mouth, Thrush, Nursing Sore Mouth.
17	Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
18	Kidney Affections, Gravel.
19	Suppressed, Scanty or Delaying Periods.
20	Painful Periods.
21	Profuse Periods, Flooding.
22	Painful Periods, Debility, etc.
23	Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lame Back, Pains.
24	Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fever Sores.
25	Sore or Weak Eyes.
26	Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
27	Debility, Physical Weakness.
28	Biliousness.
29	Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions.
30	Sexual Incontinence, Impotency.
31	Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation of.
32	Dropsy.

Mailed free on receipt of price, $1 each. Prepared to suit Bitters, and Chill Powders and Fever.

Agent for HANNING'S DRUGS and DENTAL MATERIALS.

Agent for HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices and cases of expense:

Twenty vials, plain case and book $10
Twenty vials, morocco case and book 12
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book 20

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy,

152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

P. ANGELL, M.D., and S. MANGUM, Homeopathic Physicians.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORING

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint,

HARMLESS, BEAUTIFUL, PERFECT.

This preparation has received the highest encomiums of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has universally excelled all other preparations for the hair. No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.

Has been found by Chemists to contain no Lead, Sulphur, Silver, Bismuth, or any other injurious substance, which are ingredients in the Hair Colorings, Restoratives, &c., now in use.

And it is also saves half its time and labor to ladies supplied with it, and, once used, the Hair or Whiskers, as the case may be, always retains its natural color being so perfectly assimilated by the delicate tissues of the skin, thereby preventing the possibility of detection. Its great recommendation is the combination of tint, producing any desired shade from light brown to the deepest black, and the absence of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery is applied in a single heat, or spoils that can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary in using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, $1, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2231. No. 1

Wholesale Agents—I. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finley & Co., New Orleans, La.; & Co., New Orleans and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIF

Cures All Nervous

PAOLI'S ELECTRO VOLTAIC CHAIN BELT Co. Registered 1874

Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain

GIVES a Continuous, Correct & Delicate Current of Electricity, which can be regulated to suit the case, and will restore Lost Vital Force, Eliminate Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Complaints, Functional Derangements, Paralysis, Impotency, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaint and all Wasted Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CU

After all Other Remedies Have Failed.

It is indorsed by the most Eminent Physicians in Europe and America, and thousands that have been restored to health and strength as by a miracle, testimonials to which can be referred to, and pamphlets and circulars forwarded on application. Send for a circular. Apply or address, with receipt of six cents postage.

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

Mention this paper.

PRICES FROM $5 AND UPWARD

MISCELLANEOUS.

M. H. APPLEGATE

PLUMBER

AND DEALER IN

Cooking Ranges and Boile

Bath Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Air Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns, 116 Poydras St., New Orleans.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvets, Tapestry, Three Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH, English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in variety.
BURIALS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

A. BROUSSARD.

McKENDRICK,

PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER

625 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 625

Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Fitting materials. Bath Tubs, Pumps, Hose, Fixtures, etc. Patents of Hard ready for Gas, for the New Beauty Elevated Oven Range, Gun, and Hearth and Home Cooking Stove.

Scientific.

ome very interesting experi- s have been made in Cork har- ith the Denayrouze submarine When at the bottom of the r, the diver who had charge of nnip read aloud from a news- an account of the examination e prow of the Iron Duke, which distinctly heard through the yrouze speaking-tube, an adapt- of a species of popular enter- ent at once novel and remark- This lamp, which can be d under water, is likely to one of the most useful aids to arine operations that has yet invented, and from the way in fishes and other marine creat- are attracted to light it is prob- that, had the diver in the in- e noted been in a less confined ty, he would, like St. Anthony, had a much larger audience than above the surface of the.

. Coulier has recently contrib- to the Journal de Pharmacie et himie an account of some very kable experiments upon the tion of clouds. The "motes in nbeam" are growing, it would r, in scientific importance; for ur and Burdon-Sanderson have that they are essential to the ses of fermentation and putre- n. Tyndall has very recently that filtered air is incapable using light, and now M. Cou- lls us that these minute specks d matter are at least one pow- gent in the formation of clouds. difficult to conceive how the ided solid matter acts in cloud tion, but M. Masçart, who has repeating M. Coulier's experi- finds that even filtered air has been ozonized regains its of forming clouds perfectly. ol and benzine in vapor are ipated in the same way as t the opening meeting of the t session of the Royal Geo- ical Society the president, Sir awlinson, reviewed the progress society and of geographical very during the past year. He nced that the Prince of Wales, ice patron of the society, had ent the society, as the first geo- ical result of his tour in the a very interesting collection of maps of Upper Egypt and cently acquired dependencies, had been executed in the raphical department of the tian war office by Gen. Stone, of the etat major, from ma- s furnished in one direction by Gordon and the officers serving his orders, and in another by Purdy and the officers of the r expedition. These maps con- much new geographical matter. president referred with great action to Stanley's exploration Nyanza, and exhibited a com- chart of the lake drawn by ey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CEAN SAW MILL.

TOOMER (late of Danner & Toomer,) SUPERINTENDENT.

BER shipped up or down the Mississippi er can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and nage by extra handling orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Wal- k, Ash, Poplar, Mahogony and Cedar ELAND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths. ers 98. Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. dress—TOOMER.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller,)

SAIL MAKER,

.....POYDRAS STREET..... 107

for VOTERN DUCK of all widths and de- ns. Tents, Turpaulins and Flags constantly Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other ng line made to order at shortest notice west prices. J. C. MILLER, No. 107 Poydras street.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

72 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

& Second-Hand Furniture.

ure bought, sold and exchanged. Now oc- he large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., Girod and Julia, just above est. Patrick's for the purpose of taking Furniture on at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing ing promptly attended to.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

s, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF NCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

. Bienville and Chartres Sts., NEW ORLEANS.

tor of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters

TH, PIPPEY & LABA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

rpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

STERY HOODS, WALL PAPER, WIN- Shades, Cornices, Lace and Notting- ham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings Chromos, Engravings, Etc. rames made to order a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the coun- try promptly attended to.

N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive, ST. LOUIS, MO.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS. CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY. Estimates and Samples on application. WM. COULTER & SON 102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

THS!—BATHS!

NO. 102 CONTI STREET

IAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tues- day and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 12 M. For Gentlemen, from 12 M. to 6 P. M. ir and Fresh Water Baths at all hours ay. Polite and special attention to guests. J. KLOCK.

EPSY OR FITS cured by Dr. Ross. Epileptic Remedies. Trial-pack- ages, circulars, evidence of success, etc., ROSS BROS., Richmond, Ind.

BUSINESS CARDS.

FLASPOLLER & NELSON,

WHOLESALE

Grocers and Commission Merchants,

NOS. 84 & 86 TCHOUPITOULAS ST., Cor. Lafayette, New Orleans, La.

THOMAS OWEN,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

CHOICE TEAS, ETC.,

Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.

Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET,

AT

J. L. NEVERS',

SUCCESSORS TO

J. C. POOLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

LOUIS BUSH, Of Lafourche. JOHN B. LEVERT, Of Iberville.

BUSH & LEVERT,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

And General Commission Merchants,

31 PERDIDO ST., NEW ORLEANS.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to or- der. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Shoes and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

CHEAP AND CHOICE FAMILY GRO CERY.

D. MORIARTY,

Nos. 249, 251, 253 and 255 Poydras St.,

(Head of Poydras Market.)

A constant supply of fresh Staple and Fancy Groceries. Pure Green and Black Teas a specialty. Goods delivered free of charge, and satisfaction in quality and price guaranteed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Imple- ments and Plantation Supplies

NEW LEATHER STORE.

A. F. RICAU,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,

Shoe Findings, etc.,

36 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES,

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. SUMME, No. 53 Magazine street, and No. 51 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101..... .....CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artisti- cally.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,

BOOK-BINDER, RULER

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER.

92 ..... Camp Street, 92

(Over James A. Gresham's,) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any de- sired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

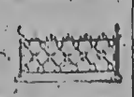
Bet. Canal and Custom-house,

NEW ORLEANS

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Bra- selmann & Adams') wish to inform the com- munity that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always mod- erate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,



ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,

And General Housesmith.

Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fenders and Ve- randas of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shut- ters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.

120 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.

Box 213, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as repre- sented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COM- MISSION MERCHANTS,

70 ..... Carondelet St., 70

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS,

59 ..... CARONDELET ST. 59

NEW ORLEANS.

Liberal cash advances made on shipments of Cotton.

KURSHEEDT & BIENVENU,

MONUMENTS, TOMBS,

HEADSTONES, TABLETS, MANTELS CEME TERY RAILINGS,

And all kinds of Marble Work

111 ....CAMP STREET..... ..120

New Orleans, Louisiana.

CRESCENT MACHINE

AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,

Corner of Fourcher and St. Joseph Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, constructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans

A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

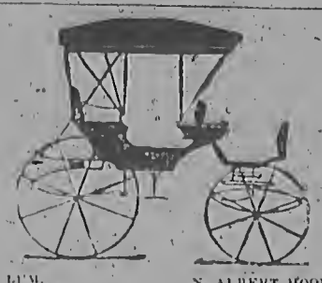
E. RATELLE,

DEALER IN CARPETINGS,

609 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 609

Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUM- BER AND WHOLESALE YARD. Foot of Lyon street, and foot of Bullissat street, Sixth District, New Orleans. Office, No. 154 Tchoupitoulas, be- tween Valence and Bogleaux streets. L. CARBO, Sr., agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large as- sortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths, Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc; also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pick- ets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order to Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 2269, New Orleans, Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.



J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

162 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF

Office, 110 GRAVIER ST. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,

Office and Warehouse: 17 TOULOUSE STREET, New Orleans, La.

Reference—Schmidt & Zeigler, Wholesale Gro- cers, New Orleans; Jules Denis, President Levee Steam Cotton Press; Jules Cassard, Vice-President Germania National Bank; Pike, Brother & Co., Bankers, Nanon Landry, Cashier of People's Bank; Emile Legendre, St. Jacques; Felix T. Poche, St. James.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAY I. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street,) New Orleans.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

—AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS.

501, 503, 505 and 507 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. R. OTTO MOSES,

DENTIST,

247 BARONNE STREET 247

Solicits the patronage of the public, assuring them careful attention to all operations pertaining to his profession, at charges in keeping with the present distressed pecuniary condition of the peo- ple of Louisiana

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence No. 510 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Bourbon street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Sil- ver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

160 ....COMMON STREET..... 160

(Up stairs,) New Orleans.

REMOVAL. A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to PIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Delord street. This office has been se- lected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best serv- ice. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNUM,

SURGEON DENTIST,

508..... MAGAZINE STREET..... 508

Near the Market.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

619 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS,

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 219 CARONDELET STREET

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans, La.,

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice, Louisiana. G. W. RACK. W. H. FOSTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS. COUNSELORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS

J. H. MEHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMIS- SION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and for- warding goods for Merchants and Planters through- out the South and West. Coopers' materials fur- nished at the lowest cash prices to Sugar Planters. Office, 23 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Or- leans, La. Liberal advances made upon consign- ments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR-HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful Gas equal in every re- spect, if not superior, to Coal Gas; at One-Third the Cost.

THE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions at all descriptions, Using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—we use no Burner, Pumps or Blowers to corrode or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all for- eign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Acid. Our Works are as Com- pact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas-making business, could suggest, derive or produce, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and sim- plicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be placed in or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.

Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating pur- chasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

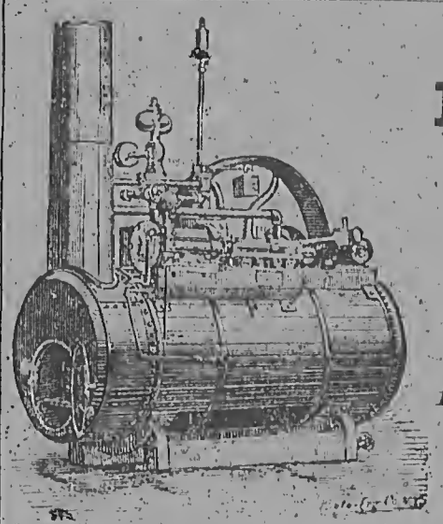
ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.



B. J. WEST,

SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.

Manufactured and sold by

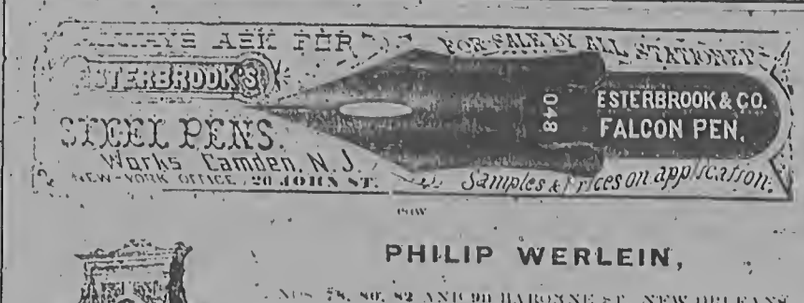
Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes all Dust, Sand and light Trash from cotton be- fore ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

No gin house should be with- out one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, sim- ple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for it self in less than ten days work.



PHILIP WERLEIN,

NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as the Chickering, Dunham, Popular Chas. Parsons, and Mason & Hamlin and Estey Organs.

The largest stock, the best Pianos and Organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices in the South. No trashy, unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA AS IT IS.

251 PAGES.

Its Topography and Valuable Resources,

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

PRICE, 50 CENTS—POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO DEALERS.

10,000 Copies Just Published. 3,000 Copies Sold.

The Editors of New Orleans have given this book a strong indorsement.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

It is a book which has long been wanted and often called for. I am selling copies daily—that are mailed to all parts of the world.

GEORGE ELLIS, Bookseller, Opposite the Postoffice.

During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work. Mr. Dennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS is precisely the book that has been called for. It gives general satisfaction to my patrons in the city and country. If its true character were gener- ally known it would require ten times the present edition of four copies to supply the demand.

P. C. HALEY, Bookseller, 12 Commercial Place, Branch, 138 Poydras street.

An experience of twenty-five years as bookseller in New Orleans will justify me in saying that the book just issued by Mr. Daniel Bennett, LOUISI- ANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by resi- dents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing.

JAMES A. GRESHAM, 92 Camp and 118 Canal street.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain sup- plies of the above book at the wholesale establish- ment of ROBERT J. HARP, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECO- RATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS.—Established in 1830. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs ar- tistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty: Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

GEORGE W. ROPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103..... CANAL STREET..... 103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Laces Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, Wholesale and Retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting Materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Bond Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Caps, Wadding, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and re- tail.

R. RHODES.

FOR THE LAKE!

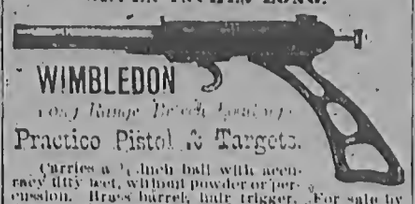
OFFICE OF THE NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO. No. 121 Canal St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.

FOR THE LAKE.—The regular trains over the New Orleans, Metairie Cemeteries and Lake Rail- road will begin running on

SATURDAY, APRIL 22,

For the present trains will leave Metairie Ridge and the Lake EVERY HALF HOUR from 6 o'clock A. M., the last train leaving the Lake at 10 o'clock P. M. Fare from City Station to the Lake TEN CENTS.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Carries a ¼ inch ball with accu- racy fifty feet, without powder or per- cussion. Brass barrel; hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with perma- nent ammunition for target practice in-doors, and for sporting out of doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. A. GRAHAM

57 Liberty street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159..... .....POYDRAS STREET..... 159

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Fly-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and work- manship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Men's, Boys', La- dies' and Children's wear.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.

THIS GIN has been in use for the past three sea- sons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work with the same time, while economizing team or animal power other Gins. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater mar- ket value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every bale ginned. Testi- monials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO., GENERAL AGENTS,

59..... Carondelet St. 59

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE, Agent for the State of Texas 22 Main street, Houston, Texas.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.

No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.

DEALERS IN

MACHINERY

SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPARE OUR PRICES.

MACHINERY

MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.

MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, MILLS AND COTTON PRESSES

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best

Farm Machinery,

OF ALL KINDS,

Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,

Lime, Plaster and Cement.

C. H. STOCKELL & CO.

NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS. SAW & GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS. The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL. OVER 10,000 in use. ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT, BALTIMORE, MD. BEAR FOR CIRCULAR.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Franklin Sts.

We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Draining Ma- chines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Screws, Gin Gearing, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Jud- son's Governors, all kinds of Plantation and Steam- boat work, and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.

Orders left at No. 73, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.

IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.

HANGERS, PULLEYS COUPLINGS, BELT- ING, etc. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list.

GEORGE PLACE,

121 CHAMBERS AND 101 READE STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES, ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No Agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells for Churches and Tow; mounted with the Latest Improvements for Churches, Court Houses, Fire Engine Houses, Factories, Farms, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

E. VANDUZEN & TIFT, 102 & 104 West Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,

NO. 134 CANAL STREET,

New Opposite to New Orleans Savings Institution.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

A long acquaintance with the various kinds of

SEWING MACHINES

has induced us to make a specialty in this line. First-class Machines of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $20. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.

Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giv- ing references.

MRS. ADA GREGG

respectfully offers her services in purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adorn- ment or domestic goods for Ladies and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles men- tioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCE.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss.

Send for catalogue and circular.

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $1, free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, June 6, 1876.

MONETARY.

The movement in currency, gold, stocks and bonds discloses no change. The general tone of the market is steady, but quiet. Quotations unchanged.

Gold, 113 here; in New York, 112⅝.

First-class paper discounts at 8 per cent. per annum, and is in demand; while A1 and mortgage paper is neglected.

New Consolidated State bonds	65½
Consolidated City bonds	45
Citizen's Savings Bank stock	117
Canal and Banking Company stock	97
Mutual National Bank stock	85

GENERAL MARKET.

In our usual round among our mercantile friends we discover a more hopeful feeling manifested. Trade is very dull, especially in provisions and breadstuffs. Prices in the former are weak, and stocks light; the favorable accounts from the West indicate lower prices in the latter. Our country friends, by pursuing the present system of economy—remaining at home, raising big crops of corn, and paying special attention to their hogs, cattle and sheep—will soon lift our beloved country out of the thralldom that has well-nigh crushed and enslaved both farmer and merchant.

COTTON.

The market this week has been steady, but quiet; sales, 10,500 bales. At New York the sales foot up 11,295 bales, with a quiet demand at 12⅜ 16c. for middling. Liverpool—Market reported, up to Saturday, strong and steady; sales, 35,000 bales for four days. Quotations, 6 3-16d. for middling.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middlings.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜
Thursday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜
Friday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜
Saturday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜
Monday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜
Tuesday	7⅞	8⅝	9⅜	10⅛	11⅝	12⅜

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Class—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11@11⅛	11⅛	11
Thursday	11	11⅛	11
Friday	11	11⅛	11
Saturday	11	11⅛	11
Monday	11	11⅛	11
Tuesday	11	11⅛	11

COTTON STATEMENT TO JUNE 6.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875 ..... bales		9,976
Received from that date to May 30, 1876		1,533,850
Received during past week	4,279
Amount of bales from city gins and pickeries	1,836—1,456,527
Total		1,568,353
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to May 30, 1876		1,434,655
Exported past week	20,88
Consumed by factory and burned	1,570—1,476,613
Stock on hand and amount not cleared		109,850
Estimated stock on shipboard		24,000
Amount remaining unsold, about		85,890
Stock at all the United States ports		357,1[illegible]
Receipts at all the ports		4,021,592
Receipts last year to date		3,393,775
Increase at all the ports		628,117

SUGAR.—Market very firm; receipts light. We continue quotations of last week, as follows: Fair 8c., fully fair 8⅛c., prime 8¼c., yellow clarified 9⅛@9½c., white 10@10⅛c.

MOLASSES.—With light receipts the market has stiffened. Prices are as follows: Fair 43@46c., prime 46@50c., strictly prime 52@54c., choice 57c.

RICE.—Small receipts and dull, but at unchanged prices. Louisiana No. 2 is quoted at 2⅞@3⅛c., common 4⅛@4¼c., ordinary 4⅞@5c., fair 5@5¼c., good 5⅞@6c., prime 6⅛@6⅜c ₱ lb.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	FROM	TO
Eggs, ₱ doz:
Creole, good demand	—	18
Attakapas, demand fair	—	12½
Western and country	—	10
CHICKENS, ₱ doz:
Creole, grown	$1 00	$5 50
Creole, half grown	2 00	3 50
Good Country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creole.
WOOL, ₱ lb.:
Burry	10	15
Free of burrs	1	25
BEESWAX, ₱ lb.	27	30
HIDES, ₱ lb.:
Green salted	6	7½
Dry	8	11½
Deer skins	25	28

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $56@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and peeks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood.—For large sound logs, $2 25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2 25@$2 75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.)

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₱ lb. gross.

Fat grass fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$4 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@5c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices AT WHICH COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	420 00	425 00
B. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Timmerill's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 25
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 20	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb.	8	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb.	30	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb.	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb.	— —	1¾
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb.	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gall.	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window-sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	65	1 85	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$4 75
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	25	30
Goshen, choice	30	35
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice G'n	— —	34
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15½
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	38	40
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	3 00	3 25
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	13½	14½
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in tubs	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	5 25
Choice XXX	5 25	5 75
Choice family	5 50	6 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb.	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb.	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	26
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, by t.	17	19½
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Reboot syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c. and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	2¾
Ordinary	— —	4¼
Fair	5¼	5½
Prime to choice	6½	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
Keller's imperial	— —	5
Keller's Dye	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb.	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 20	1 35
Coarse	1 00	1 05
Sugar, in bags:
Fair	8¼	8½
Prime	9	9½
Choice	9¾	10
Yellow clarified	9¾	10
White clarified	10¼	10½
Crushed	11½	11¾
Powdered	11½	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	40
Cinnamon	— —	32
Teas, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong		1 00
Green Imperial		1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	80
White, mixed	— —	70
Oats, ₱ bushel:
Mt. Lebanon	45	48
Texas, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	85	90
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	25 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton seed meal	26 00	28 00
Cow Peas, ₱ bushel	1 50	2 25
Whippowill	— —	1 00
Mixed and clays	1 50	1 75

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11	14½
Shoulders	9½	10
Sides, clear rib	11	11¾
Sides, cured	— —	11¾
Hams, sugar-cured	14	14½
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl.	21 00	21 75
Dry Salted meats:
Shoulders	8	8¼
Hams	— —	10
Clear sides	— —	10½
Clear sides	— —	11½
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice in kegs	— —	11½
Choice, in tierces	— —	13½

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
Dable	— —	10
Jute	— —	13½
Ties, Arrow, best	— —	6
Reard	— —	5½
Twine, hemp	— —	15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole hemlock	27	28
Sole oak	45	46
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	70 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Sher n's raw-bone superphosph.	65 00	— —
Cross bone ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard
Choice brands	— —	7½
Cheese cloths, 4-4	10½	11½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	15½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	11
Checks	14	18
Denims	14	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor and boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mid boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Cullman brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Russells' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the biennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES.

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYESIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to

DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957)
No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES of Wesleyan Female Institute, Staunton, Va., will occur as follows:

Sunday, June 18, 11 A. M.—Commencement sermon by Rev. Alpheus W. Wilson, D. D., of Washington city. Same Sabbath, at 8 P. M.—Annual sermon before the Young Ladies' Christian Association by Rev. S. S. Roszell, D. D., of Harrisonburg, Va.

Monday, June 19, 8 P. M.—Final exercises of the Lee and Jackson Literary Society. Salutatory by Miss Kate Downs, of Texas. Essays by Miss Lizzie Lear, of Mississippi, and Miss Alice Keith, of Kentucky. Valedictory by Miss Loula Figgatt, of Virginia. Annual address before the society by Rev. S. A. Steel, of Richmond, Va., late chaplain of the University of Virginia.

Tuesday, June 20, 8 P. M.—Annual soiree. Instrumental and vocal music, conducted by Prof. Louis Rubenstein and Miss Lizzie Daniel.

Wednesday, June 21, 8 P. M. Closing exercises. Salutatory by Miss Loula Figgatt, of Virginia. Conferring distinctions, gold medals, school diplomas and full diplomas. Valedictory by Miss Annie Landstreet, of Maryland.

WM. A. HARRIS, President.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT VERONA FEMALE COLLEGE.—Sunday, June 25.—Annual sermon by Rev. Dr. Murrah, of Aberdeen, Miss.

Monday, June 26.—Junior exercises, 9.30 A. M. Monday evening, 8 o'clock.—Cantata by the little girls.

Tuesday, June 27, 10 A. M.—Graduating exercises, and annual address by Rev. W. W. Wadsworth, of Columbus, Miss. Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock.—Operetta by the music department.

HOMER DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—The District Conference for Homer district will convene in Arcadia, directly on the stage line from Monroe to Shreveport, July 27, 1876, and continue over the Sabbath following. The preachers in charge will please have their reports prepared, especially on those subjects mentioned on the fifty-first page of the Discipline.

JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

THE District Conference for Selma district, Alabama Conference, will be held at Camden, Ala., beginning on the twenty-seventh of July, and including the thirtieth.

H. H. BLUE, P. E.

THE Meridian District Conference will convene at Waynesboro, Miss., June 23. Preachers will please forward to me the names of all the delegates and local preachers from their several charges.

H. H. SINGLETON.

THE Meridian District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, Miss., beginning on Friday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock, Bishop Paine presiding.

Members should report at Turner & Taylor's store on Thursday, if possible, for assignment to quarters.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Wells the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. H. K. SMITH, P. C.

SEASHORE CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held, commencing on Wednesday, July 19, and continuing from eight to ten days, on the Seashore Camp Ground, situated and fronting directly on the Gulf of Mexico, one mile west of Biloxi, midway between the cities of New Orleans and Mobile, and only distant a few hundred feet from the railroad.

W. H. FOSTER,
President Board of Trustees.
P. HALLARAN, Secretary.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

JACKSON DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson station	June 24, 25
Vernon mission, at Vernon	July 1, 2
Madison circuit, at Pearl River	8, 9
Shuro circuit and Thomastown mission, at Madisonville	15, 16
Canton station	22, 23
Brownsville circuit, at Edwards	29, 30
Camden circuit, at Soule chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Carthage circuit, at Camp Ground	12, 13
Yazoo circuit	19, 20
Bovere mission	26, 27
Yazoo City	Sept. 2, 3
Silver Creek circuit	9, 10

The District Conference of Jackson district will convene at Edwards, Hinds county, Miss., July 27-30, opening at nine A. M. on Thursday. Bishop Paine is expected to preside.

WM. B. HINES, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

East Pascagoula, at Moss Point	June 24, 25
Green Springs, at Hillcrest	July 1, 2
Gloster mission, at Cross Roads	5
Enon, at Soule chapel	8, 9
Taylorville, at Hebron	12
Rankin, at Clear Creek	15, 16
Westville, at Antioch	19
Mount Carmel, at Mount Moriah	22, 23
Columbia, at Columbia	Aug. 12, 13
Pearlington	19, 20
Willie Plains	26, 27

THOMAS PRICE, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Brookhaven station	June 17, 18
Beauregard and Wesson, at Franklin chapel	21, 25
Hazelhurst station	July 1, 2
Southland circuit, at New Hope	8, 9
Crystal Springs station	15, 16
Bayou Pierre circuit, at Tabernacle	22, 23
Providence circuit, at New Hope	29
Georgetown circuit, at Georgetown	29, 30
Crystal Springs camp meeting	Aug. 2-10
Brandywine circuit	12, 13
Spring Ridge circuit	19, 20
Raymond circuit	26, 27
Providence camp meeting, sixteen miles east of Hazlehurst	30, Sept. 1

The District Conference will be held at Crystal Springs, July 13-16. The introductory sermon will be preached on Wednesday night, at eight o'clock, by W. Wadsworth. A sermon on the work of the ministry, and the spiritual qualification necessary to insure success in it, will be preached on the thirteenth instant, at eleven A. M., by John Link.

H. H. MONTGOMERY, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez and Kingston, at Natchez	June 24, 25
Fayette, at Belle Grove	July 1, 2
Rocky Springs, at Grand Gulf	8, 9
Vicksburg	15 16
Port Gibson	22, 24
Clover Hill	29, 30
Rolling Fork	Aug. 5, 6
Cayuga, at Utica	12, 13
Mount Olivet	19, 20
South Warren	26, 27
North Warren	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will begin at Port Gibson on Wednesday, July 19. A Bishop is expected to be in attendance.

F. M. FEATHERSTON, P. E.

WOODVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Woodville station	June 24, 25
Clinton station	31, July 1
Wilkinson circuit	22, 23
Jackson and Pipkin's chapel, at Salem	29, 30
Bayou Sara, at Concord	Aug. 5, 6
Buffalo	12, 13
East Feliciana	19, 20

The District Conference will meet at Midway church, fifteen miles east of Woodville, on Friday, August 25, at ten o'clock. Delegates and preachers, be present, if possible. I hope the preachers will prepare their reports in writing.

J. L. FORSYTH, P. E.

BRANDON DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Forest circuit, at Homewood	June 10, 11
Morton circuit, at Grange House	17, 18
Hickory circuit, at Spring Hill	24, 25
Newton circuit, at Newton	July 1, 2
Fannin circuit, at Richland	8, 9
Trenton circuit, at Polkville	15, 16
Raleigh circuit, at Mount Zion	Aug. 5, 6
Lake circuit	12, 13
Union mission	15, 16
Philadelphia circuit	19, 20
Walnut Grove circuit	26, 27
Brandon station	Sept. 2, 3
Pelahatchie circuit	6, 7

WILL. H. LEITH, P. E.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER, than by any other route, it being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, where the new and handsome Hotels are erected, within ten minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels—a great advantage to visitors who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE. Three Daily Express Trains from Cincinnati, making close connection, without a single wait or lay-over, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be recollected that from New Orleans, via Louisville, the time between New Orleans and New York is only Sixty-two Hours and Eleven Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Steel Rails and Stone Ballast the entire route with double and treble tracks, and the best system of rail road telegraphing in the country—which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historical—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—blending, as it does, in full detail, mountain and valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and tumbling streams; in fact, as the European tourists say: "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great three-night-fare.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can "rock-a-bye in the Mississippi valley," dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is wonderful, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion, as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will acknowledge.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans.

SIDNEY H. JONES,
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875,

AT 5.30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal and Hope street Depot:

DEPART.
Express	7.20 A. M.
Mail	5.30 P. M.
ARRIVE.
Express	11.30 P. M.
Mail	12.30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10.30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING-CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping-Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

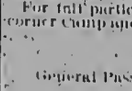
A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

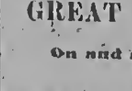
European Passenger Agency.

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE

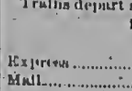


Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first-class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.



WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.



ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unexcelled. Shortest sea route. Superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Safety the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage the very best in all respects through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from $1 up on any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and coins sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

Regular Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans Packet.

FOR CINCINNATI, LOUISVILLE, Evansville, Henderson, Shawneetown, Paducah, Cairo, Memphis and all intermediate points. The Passenger Steamer

MARY HOUSTON,

Charles Miller, Master—A. Elliott Miller, Clerk.

Will leave as follows, viz.:

SATURDAY, April 29, at 5 P. M.
May 20, at 5 P. M.
June 10, at 5 P. M.
July 1, at 5 P. M.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to
W. G. WAYNE, 109 Gravier St.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary & Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS,

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Cotenet, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimeres, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent, if requested.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1 OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2 OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3 OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we obtain a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.
6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.
10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.
18 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates,	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.
4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Pan.
1 85 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.
1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.
1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.
1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.
1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.
75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.
Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice), 180 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style and prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 15. 1876. NO. 24.

A CLOSE, HARD MAN.

hard, chase man was Solomon Ray; thing of value he'd give away;
He hoarded and saved,
He pinched and shaved,
nd the more he had the more he craved.

he hard-earned dollar he tried to gain ought him little bit care and pain;
For little he spent,
And all he lent
made it bring him twenty per cent.

ch was the life of Solomon Ray;
e years went by and his hair grew gray;
His cheeks grew chin,
And his soul within rew hard as the dollar he worked to win.

l he died one day, as all men must,
r time is fleeting and men but dust;
The heirs were gay
That laid him away,
nd that was the end of Solomon Ray.

oys quarreled now who had little cared r Solomon Ray while his life was spared.
His lands were sold,
And his hard earned gold
went to the lawyers, I am told.

men will cheat and pinch and save,
r carry their treasures beyond the grave.
All their gold some day
Will melt away,
e the selfish savings of Solomon Ray.
Christian at Work.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

HILADELPHIA, June 7.—The erican Medical Association adopte following resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the first duty ties and municipalities, first in portance and first in the order of to make a sanitary survey of water supply, to preserve it st all unnecessary and avoida- ontamination.

Resolved, That no municipality ld introduce a water system out at the same time providing respanding and extensive sewer m."

RTLAND, ORE., June 7.—Oregon undoubtedly gone Democratic. Democrats claim twelve major- joint ballot. A new United s senator is involved.

TLADELPHIA, June 8.—The at- ance at the exhibition is daily sing, contrary to the very gen- anticipation that it would fall rom the figures of last week the departure of the Knights plar, and yesterday the total ad- ons were 45,518, of which nearly 0 were cash visitors.

e total receipts for the twenty- days which the exhibition has open; exclusive of to-day, were 252 which is an average of y $11 000 per day; and as the of finance has the running ex- es reduced to $8,000 per day this, nsidered a very satisfactory con- of affairs at this early stage of hibition.

RINGFIELD, MASS., June 8.— ien A. Stearns, president of erst College, died of paralysis of eart this evening.

FOREIGN.

TY OF MEXICO, May 30.—Events g the past two weeks have all in favor of the government, and ate unmistakably the approach- failure of the revolution. The gents have suffered reverses where, and their sympathizers apidly decreasing in numbers. n Alatorre gained a great vic- May 29, in Oaxaca, over the utionary forces. The latter lost y two thousand men killed and ded. Many were taken prison- Among the latter are Gens. Teran and Seamanco. They ost two pieces of artillery. The rument casualties were six red killed and wounded; among tter Gen. Corella.

federals gained another im- nt victory at Flaxcoo on the y-eighth. There are about five and federal troops at Orizaba in that neighborhood, within ay's travel on the railway.

Te Deum was sung in the ca- al here over the defeat of Diaz mantipas.

ins are now running regularly e Mexico and Vera Cruz rail- There has been no interrup- f the road for two weeks.

n. Corthia, who was a prisoner, roken his parole, escaped and a pronunciamiento. This inci- causes no excitement, but if he es the Rio Grande he will prob- ve some trouble to Gen. Vitt- Riva. Hallacia has also issued nunciamiento.

presidential problem is no a solution. Inglesias Mejio erido de Tejada are prominent dates of the government party, iaz and Gomez Palacio of the linary party.

VANA, June 6.—Mexican ad- ists that President Lerdo has the following decree:

he Mexican people are con- to elect the fourth and fifth trates of the Supreme Court. elections will be made by the electoral bodies who, accord- law, elect the President of the lic. The primary elections for ent of the republic will take on the last Sunday in June, he secondary elections on the Sunday in July, 1876.

LERDO DE TEJADA,
President of the Republic."

Mexican government has the mines at San Luis Potosi, Juato and Zacatecas to an Eng- mpany for $500 000 per annum. is prostrated and the govern- is unable to pay its employees. reported that Don Carlos and Carregary and a party of friends, this city, and take no pains to al their identity. They propose via Acapulco to San Francisco, ence to Philadelphia to visit hibition.

rotestant church in Mexico has burned by fanatics.

ris, June 6.—George Sand died at her chatean, at Nohant, surrounded by her friends.

BERNE, June 12.—Serious inundations have occurred in eastern Switzerland from the heavy rains melting the snow in the mountains. The railways are much damaged. A whole canton bridge and houses were carried away. Several persons were drowned at Brauenfield, capital of canton. Four inmates of a house were killed by falling walls.

LIVERPOOL, June 12.—A number of magnificent steamships are idle; such a thing being unparalleled in the history of commerce. The Cunard company are about laying up the Scotia, Calabria and Cuba.

From the Work.

MOBILE DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—Report of Committee on the State of the Church.—The Committee on the State of the Church report:

In the Mobile district we have 18 traveling and 27 local preachers; 3,300 members; 43 Sunday schools, in which there are 315 officers and teachers and 2,221 scholars. We have 35 church buildings, with 10,165 sittings, the value of which amounts to $49,650; other church property worth $22,700.

Our territory extends along the gulf coast from the line of the State of Mississippi, across Alabama into west Florida. We have reason to suppose that nearly the whole of this very large field is visited by the preachers; and the appliances of the church are kept in steady and vigorous operation. With 45 men authorized to preach the gospel, 18 of whom are pastors whose whole time is given to the work, and with very many laymen employed in holding prayer and class meetings, and conducting Sunday schools, we may truthfully assert that we are doing more than any other branch of the church of Christ in this portion of the Alabama Conference.

We fear that many whose names are enrolled on our church books are not in the enjoyment of the life and power of religion; but they are looked after, cared for, and urged to seek and practice godliness. We have reason to believe that the spiritual state of the church is steadily improving, and we are hoping and praying for times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord.

The committee recommend the following:

Resolved, That we will use honest and earnest endeavors to raise all our assessments the present year, and make our district equal if not superior, in this respect, to all other districts in the Alabama Conference, as we did last year.

Resolved, That we urge all our preachers and people to renew and increase their efforts to spread scriptural holiness over all these lands.

E. WADSWORTH,
Chairman.

CENTERVILLE CIRCUIT, NORTHWEST TEXAS CONFERENCE. Mr. Editor: The Centerville circuit is in the southeast corner of the Northwest Texas Conference, comprising the eastern half of Leon county. This is a timbered county, well watered, and contains almost every grade of soil, from the sterile pine hills to the rich bottom lands. It reminds me very much of old Madison county, Miss. Like most timbered countries, quite a variety of fruits are found. Most of them do well. Society is very good, and is more settled than in the more western counties. There is a fine school at this place. Despite the very backward spring, the crop prospect is very fine.

We have had a gracious revival influence at several points on the circuit. About twenty-five members have been received since Conference.

With confidence we are looking forward to our summer campaign against the united hosts of the world, the flesh and the devil, trusting that the Lord will get for himself a great victory. Brethren, let us all join our hearts in prayer to God, that this may be the most glorious year in the annals of Methodism. Whose fault shall it be if God does not bless, and that more abundantly? Hath not the Master said: "According to your faith be it unto you?"

J. E. AKIN.

CENTERVILLE, TEXAS, June 7, 1876.

MARIANA DISTRICT, ALABAMA CONFERENCE. Mr. Editor: I have nearly closed my second round on this district, and am glad to report favorably as to our condition in regard to all the interests of the church. The preachers on the district are all earnestly at work, and in some cases with glorious results. Our financial interests, though not in the condition they ought to be, are, nevertheless, in better condition than heretofore at this season of the year. The collections for missions have been taken, and at this time the assessment for domestic missions is nearly or quite all in hand, while that for foreign missions will all be raised by the first of July, so I hope.

At some of my meetings we have gracious seasons of refreshing, and manifestations of the presence of divine power. On the Holmes Valley circuit, at my last Quarterly Conference, there was undoubted evidence of the progress of a good work. Eighteen additions were made to the membership of the church, and the preacher and people displayed an enthusiasm which portends prosperous times. Yours truly,

HENRY D. MOORE.

MARIANA, FLA., June 1, 1876.

In the course of an article on the operations of the London Missionary Society the English Independent says some strong and graceful as well as true words in praise of foreign missions. "The missionary," it says, "wherever he has gone, has found the savage a miserable sinner, and the gospel of Christ the most effectual means of grappling both with his sin and his misery. A multitude of these poor savages have found great joy in Christ, and have been taught to look forward to a happy immortality. We do not believe that Englishmen are in general incapable of being animated to liberality and to exertion by such a prospect as this, even though they do not believe in the eternal torment of uncounted millions of savages who never heard of Christ. On the whole, we think there is more encouragement to persevere in missions now than there was at any former period. The light of Christianity falls like soft evening sunshine on the thousand isles of the Pacific. Madagascar shows its twelve hundred Christian congregations. In India, in China, native churches have struck root. Civilization without Christianity is to all weak and degraded races a blight and a curse; but the religion of Jesus of Nazareth carries the best civilization—that of the heart—with it as one of its secondary blessings."

The following card is published by Dr. Schaff:

"Statements having appeared in different papers to the effect that certain changes have been made by the American Bible Revision Committee, it is proper to state that all such reports are unauthorized and premature. The work of revision now going on by two co-operative companies in England and the United States is so far confidential and provisional, and it has not been decided yet whether any part of the revised version of the Scriptures will be published before the whole has undergone a final revision, which will occupy several more years.

PHILIP SCHAFF,
President of American Bible Revision Committee.

12 BIBLE HOUSE, NEW YORK, June 2, 1876."

The Church Missionary Intelligencer refers in glowing terms to the reception given by the native Christians at Tinnevelly to the Prince of Wales. The meeting took place at the railroad junction, Maniachi, near the great missionary station Palamcottah. Six thousand native Christians were gathered and one thousand school children. After the formal addresses, offerings of the finest laces, wrought in the girls' schools, were presented to the distinguished visitor. At the suggestion of the missionaries, a mango seedling was placed by the prince into the hands of representatives of the various schools, to be planted on their several compounds, in remembrance of this brief royal visit.

His holiness may be in straitened circumstances, but the cardinals get enough to live on. According to an Italian paper, each prince of the church has an income of $6,000 Cardinal Patrizi has, in addition, $8,000 as Cardinal Vicar of Rome, and an equal sum for his benefices. Cardinal Asnid draws $22 000 from his benefices. Cardinal de Pietro receives $12 000 as Bishop of Albano, and has an equal sum allowed him by Portugal. Cardinal Succoni has almost the same revenue. DeLuca receives $5 000; Bigarri $8 000, Bernardi $10 000, Franchi $12 000 and a larger stipend from Spain, while Chigi belongs to a very rich family.

President Roberts' successor as President of the Republic of Liberia is Rev. and Hon. James S. Payne. He is said to be a native of Richmond, Va., a full blooded African, educated at the Monrovia Academy, Liberia, under the supervision of President Roberts, and one of the oldest and most esteemed citizens of the republic. He has been a minister of the Liberia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church for about twenty years, but for several years past has been granted a supernumerary relation in order to permit him to serve in the civil offices of the Liberian government.

At the session of the Primitive Methodist Church of Canada, held last week in Toronto, a letter was received from the General Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada expressing a desire for organic union with the Primitive Methodists.

The honor of the last Centennial joke must be accorded to Dom Pedro. On learning the number of revolutions of the great Corliss engine per minute, he said: "That beats our South American republics."

Progress.

Much has been said and written on the subject of missions within the last half century. It is, indeed, in some respects, the question of the church of the nineteenth century. It is pleasant to mark the progress of the work, and to consider the triumphs of Christianity in heathen lands as well as in home fields.

As a branch of the great family of Protestant Christians, we look with anxiety to the movements of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Since 1806 we have made some advance, not only in our domestic and foreign work, but in contributions. Several things have conspired to increase the missionary spirit in the church. The board has worked industriously; the Bishops and the General Conference in its committees and by the adoption of plans and measures well matured; the press with energy; the publication of tracts and essays; the pulpit with its appeals; the Quarterly, District and Annual Conferences in their deliberations have all united to enlarge and strengthen the work of evangelizing the world.

To see what progress we have made, let us turn our attention to a few facts:

In 1866 we had a total of white members of 419,404. At the General Conference, April, 1866, two boards of missions were organized—one foreign and the other domestic. The Foreign Board was located at Baltimore. A portion of the time it was served as secretary by the Rev. E. W. Sehon, D. D., a part of the time by Dr. W. E. Munsey, and again, another portion; it was without any secretary; hence the work fell behind. In the four years there was collected for foreign missions, and debt, etc., $79 233 40.

The Domestic Board was located at Nashville; secretary, J. B. McFerrin. Collected in four years, $149,575 80.

In 1870 the boards were again united; J. B. McFerrin, secretary. We had then:

White members, 561 577; raised for missions, $88,675 61; per member, nearly 16 cents.

1871—White members, 660 909; raised for missions, $78,813; per member, a little over 13 cents.

1872—White members, 637 526; raised for missions, $91 139.95; per member, nearly 15 cents.

1873—White members, 659 677; raised for missions, $96 644 31; per member, nearly 15 cents.

1874—White members, 696 764; raised for missions, $101,933.46; per member, nearly 15 cents.

1875—The minutes for this year have not as yet been published. There has, however, no doubt, been an increase in the number of members. There was a handsome increase in the collections. The amount reached $120 862 51; which we think will exceed 15 cents per member.

From the foregoing it will be seen that our increase in the number of members from 1870 to 1874 was 135,187. The increase in the amount of collections by the Conferences was from $88,675 61 to $101,933.46—$13,257 85.

The reader, by a little figuring, will see how far the increase in the contributions have fallen short of the increase of members.

It will be borne in mind that these figures do not include individual contributions, bequests, legacies, etc., which did not come through Annual Conference treasurers, but what has been raised by the Annual Conferences in the regular collections. The entire amount from June, 1875 to June, 1876, including bequests, etc., will amount to about $140 000.

Let each preacher and member consider well this matter, and ask himself if he has done his duty.

While we have reason to thank God and take courage, we have no cause for boasting, but the rather we should feel humiliated for our want of greater progress.

It is to be earnestly hoped that we shall make greater progress in future. Let every man, woman and child be found at work in aid of the cause. Less than two hundred thousand dollars, between now and June 1, 1877, for foreign and domestic missions, will not meet the demands. A very small sum for more than seven hundred thousand members!

O for a baptism of the Spirit!—Missionary Supplement.

And now an English gate keeper's wife makes a Wesleyan minister pay toll on Sunday, although under the law he is exempt if he is on his way to preach. There follows a suit in the case, and a decision again in favor of the preacher. So two things have lately been established by English courts: First, a Wesleyan minister is entitled to be called "Rev.;" second, he is to be considered a minister by all toll-gate keepers and passed free on Sundays. The Wesleyans are to be congratulated on being judicially adjudged as somebody. Christian Union.

INTEREST DUE.—Brethren of the Mississippi Conference who contributed to the sustentation endowment fund of Vanderbilt University will please to send, by the first day of July, the semi-annual interest on their notes. Send $3 in currency at our risk. R. A. YOUNG,
Sec. Board of Trustees; V. U.

Little do rural boys imagine that while they are attending school, and striving to store their minds with useful information, bold, bad men in New York are raising the price of fire-crackers.

Decrease of Crime in England.

In a recent meeting of the Social Science Congress in England was read a long and somewhat prosy speech on the decrease of crime, which, however, presented some facts of interest and value, showing that crime, in proportion to population, is decreasing. In nineteen years, from 1855 to 1874, though 4,175,000 have been added to the population of England, the decrease in committals per year has been 2,298, and in convictions 2 074. This is a gratifying exhibit, and may offset the fears that the world is steadily growing more wicked. It must, however, be remembered that English population is fluctuating. Its more active and also more turbulent elements have steadily been emigrating to other countries offering wider fields of adventure, to say nothing of the forcible expulsion from English shores of many convicted criminals to the English penal colonies. These, of course, must be subtracted from the total of English criminal classes, and there is no doubt that their elimination from society makes succeeding generations less vicious and disposed to crime. It would be really a blessing to the world were one quarter, and possibly more, of its population incapable of perpetuating their kind. There wouldn't be nearly so many people in the world, but they would be of better quality. As it is, England's gain by the exportation of her criminals is the loss of far away Australia, whose peopling by criminals seems now of little consequence, but will some time become a fact of serious import.

Whether crime is increasing or decreasing in the United States is not easily determined. The heterogeneous and changing character of our population would in any event make us no fair test of the world's progress toward either virtue or vice. That we are not so bad as is generally supposed is very probable. The wider publicity given to crime, and even to grosser forms of vice makes American society seem much worse than it is, and of all that we are guilty a very large proportion is justly chargeable to turbulent and vicious elements from abroad which here find a home. The old times were not nearly so virtuous nor even free from gross crimes is generally supposed. There was less publicity, and social lapses or graver guilt was more quickly forgotten. There are very few neighborhoods wherein grave suspicions of arson, and sometimes even of murder, are not remembered—suspicions which in modern days would attain a wide publicity, and culminate in trial and punishment, but which were left to "die a natural death, and all that can now be heard on the subject is the common remark: "Nothing was ever done about it."

ELASTIC GLASS.—The process for the preparation of this remarkable substance, discovered by Bastie, and still in some measure secret, is said to be very simple, cheap, and unattended with danger. All vapors injurious to the health are avoided. The inventor estimates that the whole operation can be completed in a few hours, and that the expense will not reach forty to fifty per cent. of the value of ordinary kinds of glass. Repeated experiments indicate that its resistance to blows is fifty times that of ordinary glass, and that it is unaffected either by sudden cooling, as in cold water, or by heating it in a stove. A plate thrown upon the floor rebounded with a metallic ring, and when forcibly broken separated into very small crystals, instead of into larger and smaller pieces, thus showing a peculiar change in molecular constitution. Samples of it have been made in the form of looking glasses, large plates, lamp chimneys, cups and saucers, cooking utensils, tubes, watch-glasses, etc.

Mr. Moody has reached Chicago. Last Thursday evening he held the first service in his new church. Mr. Moody stated that the building and lot cost $89 207, and that $19 897.77 remained unprovided for. A collection was taken up and $12 356.73 realized. In appealing for contributions Mr. Moody said: "You will notice by the advertisement that this is not called the dedication service. It is only the opening. We will dedicate the building when it is paid for. We have just opened the building to show what has been done, and if our friends like to pay the debt we will dedicate it. We will hold a meeting to-night, Friday night and Sunday to-night; and if by Sunday night the debt is not paid we will lock the church up and keep it locked up until it is paid for." If this policy were generally adopted it would be productive of greater financial ease in Zion.—Independent.

A little while since it was said that Mr. Hepworth's church was to be sold under mortgage. Of course somebody would lose by such a sale. Now has financial salvation come to that church, provided a very prosperous Presbyterian can see his way clear to "afford" the needed relief. Judge Hilton, to whom Mr. Stewart gave a million dollars, and who has succeeded to the immense business of the merchant prince, is a member of that church. And, by the way, the Presbyterians are in luck just now, for Mr. Libbey, the partner of Mr. Hilton, is a member of Dr. John Hall's church. We hope we may not have occasion to see in these gentlemen an illustration of the fact that great fortunes make men small.—Watchman.

Books and Periodicals.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, FROM THE DISCOVERY OF THE CONTINENT. By George Bancroft. In six volumes. Volume I. Thoroughly revised edition. Boston: Little, Brown & Co., 1876.

This volume embraces the most exciting period in the history of the Revolution, extending from July, 1766, to June, 1775, closing with "the result of Bunker Hill battle." We have given favorable estimate of the preceding volumes. In this we find that the great American historian fully sustains his distinguished reputation. The issue of the present edition by Little, Brown & Co. offers the opportunity of securing this valuable work in its most complete form at a low price. We are indebted to the publishers for a copy. For sale by R. J. Harp, Southern Methodist Depository, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

ACHSAH—A NEW ENGLAND LIFE STUDY. By Rev. Peter Pennot. Boston: Lee & Shepard, publishers, 1876.

An entertaining story, graphic delineations of character, plot made up with some skill, and rather an extreme characterization of the typical New England deacon of forty years ago. Yankee provincialisms are humorously woven into the narrative, and we suppose the picture of certain aspects of New England society are given with much truth and accuracy. Except a little undue leaning to what is called "liberal Christianity," the moral and religious tone is not objectionable. For sale by R. J. Harp, Southern Methodist Depository, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

CRIME AND THE FAMILY. By Simeon Nash. Cincinnati: Robert Clarke & Co., 1876.

The author traces crime to the family—to the lack of proper government, training of children in the family. He dwells largely upon teaching, and points out the right and the wrong way. From our hasty examination we should judge the work to be wise, thoughtful and instructive, and one that parents and educators will find useful and helpful. Price by mail, postage paid, $1.25.

CENTENNIAL TRAVELERS.—Parties before starting on their summer tour should supply themselves with the "Travelers' Official Guide," which is considered by railroads to be the most reliable. The price of the large Guide is 50 cents, and the pocket edition 25 cents. The latter contains a handsome lithographic map of Philadelphia, showing the exhibition grounds and buildings.

—The illustrations in the Aldine for June are: Summer Evening at Florence, The Young Fishers, Left in Charge, La Soupe, Flora, La Fornarina, The Hermaphrodite, Venus DeMedici, Dancing Faun, The Knife Sharpener, The Dance of the Infants, The Blacksmith's Shop.

—Record of the Year for July has a fine steel portrait of A. T. Stewart. The table of contents embraces the current events of the day, and samples of the freshest literature.

CHANGE OF TIME IN SOUTHWEST MISSOURI AND INDIAN MISSION CONFERENCES.—The session of the Southwest Missouri Conference, to be held at Miami, Mo., will be held two weeks earlier than the time heretofore published. It will begin October 4, instead of October 18. This change is made for the following reasons:

1. A Baptist convention—previously appointed—would interfere seriously with the accommodation of the Conference at Miami; therefore the citizens desire a change.

2. There is an unusually large and concurrent request from pastors and District Conferences for the session to be brought on earlier than the time first published.

The Indian Mission Conference will begin at Vinita, Indian Territory, October 12, instead of October 25.

TIME OF THE ILLINOIS CONFERENCE.—At the request of several members of the Illinois Conference, the time of holding its session is changed from the fourth of October to the twentieth of September.

R. PAINE.

ACKERMEN, MISS., May 29, 1876.

A writer in the Central Methodist declares that the Itinerancy is a failure in the cities. He advocates appointments for one year, to be continued as long as agreeable to all concerned. This plan is supposed to unite all the advantages of the Itinerancy and of fixed settlements, without the drawbacks of either.

"Thine is the kingdom," we say in our daily prayer. Alas! that even in our own hearts the reign of Christ is so far from being supreme. How frequent the rebellion, how cold the loyalty, how weak the love. Thine shall be the kingdom, O Lord, in my heart, and in all the earth. Even so, come, Lord Jesus, come quickly.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1876.

THE ANGEL OF PATIENCE.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

To weary hearts, to mourning homes,
God's meekest angel gently comes
No power has he to banish pain,
Or give us back our lost again;
And yet, in tenderest love, our dear
And heavenly Father sends him here.

There's quiet in that angel's glance,
There's rest in his still countenance!
He mocks no grief with idle cheer,
Nor wounds with words the mourner's ear
But tells and shows he may not cure
He kindly trains us to endure.

Angel of Patience! sent to calm,
O'er life's rough ways with soothing palm
To lay the storms of hope and fear,
And reconcile life's smile and tear
The throbs of wounded pride to still
And make us own our Father's will!

O thou who mournest on thy way,
With longings for the close of day;
He walks with thee, that angel kind,
And gently whispers: "Be resigned
Bear up, bear on: the end shall tell
The dear Lord ordereth all things well!"

Bishops of the M. E. Church South.

THEIR DUTIES.

That there are many and important duties required by the church of its Bishops, none who are acquainted with our polity can deny. That the performance of these duties involves much labor and great personal sacrifice is also true; and that these servants of God and the church have been equal to the task is patent to every observant man in or out of our branch of the church. Indeed no man is qualified for the office of Bishop who does not feel in his heart that he is entirely the Lord's, and who has not determined faithfully to discharge all the duties and make all the sacrifices required of him by the church.

As men are raised to higher offices in our church there is always a corresponding increase of responsibility. On our Bishops, therefore, are imposed greater responsibilities than on any other officers in our connection—theirs being the highest office.

It is made their duty to preside at the General, Annual and District Conferences; and in case any one of them should refuse to do so he would be subject to charges and expulsion from office by the General Conference. I am aware that there are those who imagine that a Methodist Bishop is not amenable to any body of men; but that is, doubtless, in most instances at least, owing to a lack of information on this subject. Being the creature of the General Conference, he is held by that body to a rigid account of his stewardship.

In answer to the question, "To whom is a Bishop amenable for his conduct?" the Discipline says, on page 125: "To the General Conference, who have power to expel him for improper conduct if they see it necessary." This shows, beyond contradiction, his amenability to the body from whom he derives his office.

As president of a Conference it is also made his duty to decide all questions of law under certain prescribed conditions (Discipline, page 68.) This, I believe, is the duty of the presiding officers of all deliberative bodies. There is this difference, however, between a Bishop and any other presiding officer, viz.: The Bishop, when presiding either in an Annual or District Conference, has not the right of the casting vote in case of a tie vote. They have, and have therefore the advantage of him in that particular.

It is made his duty also to fix the appointments of the preachers in the Annual Conferences under certain restrictions expressed in the Discipline, pages 66, 67 and 68; and also to choose the presiding elders and fix their stations, under certain restrictions specifically set forth on page 68. It is thought by some that this gives him almost unlimited power over the preachers, and that he can compel them to go to any field of labor to which he may assign them. This, however, is a mistaken view of the case, as I think I can demonstrate. On page 127 of the Discipline, in answer to the question, "To whom is a traveling preacher amenable for his conduct?" we have the following: "To the Annual Conference, which shall have power to try, acquit or expel him." Please bear in mind that he is not amenable to the Bishop, but to the Annual Conference.

On page 133 of the Discipline is the following question and answer: "Ques. 6.—What shall be done in the case of a preacher who refuses to attend to the work assigned him? Ans.—No deacon or elder who ceases to travel without the consent of the Annual Conference, certified under the hand of the president of the Conference, except in case of sickness, debility, or other unavoidable circumstances, shall on any account exercise the peculiar functions of his office, or even be allowed to preach among us; but the final determination in all such cases is with the Annual Conference." He is also granted the right of appeal to the General Conference if he is convicted by the Annual Conference of which he is a member.

Now suppose the Bishop, through prejudice or ill will, appoint a preacher to a place where it would be improper for him to go, does any sane man believe that the Annual Conference would censure or expel him for not going? I certainly think not. The reason, too, is quite obvious: for every member of the Conference knows that he would be just as liable to be thus treated as any of his brethren. Allowing, therefore, that he cared nothing for the welfare of his brethren, nor for the good of the cause, self-interest alone would suggest that he vote for the acquittal of his brother; if in his judgment he was justifiable in not going to the work assigned him. And, besides, I have known more than one case of a preacher failing to go to his work, and have never known a case of expulsion therefor when the preacher had a reasonable excuse—the Conference being judge—for his failure.

As the Bishops are held responsible for the superintendency of the work, they should certainly be allowed the privilege of selecting those who are to represent them in their absence—the presiding elders. No general ought to be held responsible for the success of his armies who has not the privilege of selecting his staff officers. These staff officers—the presiding elders—the Bishop selects, and by and with his consent they select the preachers on the various charges in their respective districts. With this arrangement both preachers and laity seem to be perfectly satisfied, with only an occasional exception. As before stated, however, presiding elders and preachers in charge are amenable only to their Annual Conferences—not to the Bishop—and in every case have the right of appeal.

It is his duty also "to change, receive and suspend preachers in the intervals of the Annual Conferences, as necessity may require, and as the Discipline directs." Now, by reference to the Discipline, page 127, it will be seen what are its directions in such cases. I believe it is generally admitted that what is not done legally is not done at all. No man, therefore, can be suspended by the Bishop unless he is declared guilty of "some crime expressly forbidden in God's word," by at least three of his peers; and, if suspended by them without sufficient cause, the punishment can only continue till the session of his next ensuing Annual Conference, at which he is entitled to a trial according to the Discipline, page 129; and that, too, with the further right of appeal to the General Conference.

The duty of ordaining is also imposed on the Bishops—i. e., they are the agents by whom the church ordains. The power of ordination is vested in the church through her representatives—the Annual Conferences and Bishops. No Bishop, however, is allowed to ordain any man until presented with satisfactory evidence of his having been elected to orders by an Annual Conference; nor has he the right to refuse to ordain any man thus elected. By these checks and balances thrown around him it will be readily seen that he cannot mold the ministry to his own liking by ordaining only those whom he wishes to ordain, and refusing ordination to all others.

With equal propriety might this charge be preferred against the presidents and elders in the Methodist Protestant, and the presbyteries of the Baptist Churches, whose duty it is made by their churches to ordain their ministers; or against the Governor of Louisiana for commissioning men to act in such capacities as those to whom their constituents elect them.

With other denominations and with us it is the church that ordains, through her officers selected to conduct the ceremonies of ordination. If, therefore, improper men are ordained, or suitable men are refused ordination, the blame rests elsewhere than on the Bishops. If the party desiring promotion to this sacred office be a local preacher, he must be recommended by the Quarterly and elected by the Annual Conference; and if a traveling preacher, he must be elected by the Annual Conference before ordination can possibly take place. Responsibility, therefore, must and does rest upon one or both of these bodies; and not on the Bishops. If the Bishop should refuse to ordain a man thus elected, or should ordain any one who had not been elected, he would be liable to expulsion from office by the General Conference, without even the right of appeal, and the ordination of the man who had not been elected would be null and void.

The Bishop is also required to "hear and decide appeals of the Quarterly Conferences on questions of law when he shall be presiding in any Annual Conference."

Now, mark you! his decisions are only on questions of law—he has no power to decide on the merits of any case. And his decisions on questions of law are not final, but may be appealed from to the College of Bishops, and may be entirely reversed by them. His decisions, too, are only binding on that particular case, and no longer than their reversal by the College of Bishops.

If I am properly informed, this principle prevails in the courts of justice in our own country, and probably also in those of all the civilized nations of earth. It will be borne in mind that the decisions of the College of Bishops are the decisions of the church, and are final.

The formation of districts, and the union or division of circuits, are duties that devolve upon him. These duties can only be intelligently discharged by consultation with those who are or have been on the works.

He is also required "to travel during the year, as far as practicable, through the presiding elders' districts which may be included in his episcopal district, in order to preach, and to oversee the spiritual and temporal affairs of the church." No officer in the government of the United States has more required of him. Travel through the presiding elders' districts in three or four different States, some of which lie on the Atlantic and some on the Pacific! Why almost any man in Christendom, except a Methodist Bishop, actuated by the Spirit of his heavenly Master, would refuse to do all this. But that is not half. They are required by law, and by the people among whom they travel, to preach. Yes, preach, whether they feel like it or not—preach everywhere and to everybody! They do preach, too. Indeed most of them are designated as "the preaching Bishops." And then, too, they are required "to oversee the spiritual and temporal affairs of the church," and that, too, according to the specific laws enacted by the General Conference and published in the Discipline.

One would think that the church, after imposing so many duties and responsibilities on these men of God, would leave them to the exercise of their own discretion in the performance of many of these duties; but not so. The General Conference, at each of its quadrennial sessions, appoints a committee on episcopacy, whose duty it is diligently to inquire into the manner in which the Bishops have discharged their duties, and report the result of their investigation to said Conference; and if any man or woman knows aught against either of them, officially or morally, it is his or her privilege to report the same, and to have the matter investigated according to the laws of the church, set forth in the Discipline, on page 125.

From the foregoing it will be clearly seen that no member of our connection, either lay or clerical, is more closely guarded by specific law than are the Bishops; and that if they were bad men, and disposed to exercise undue authority, their powers are so circumscribed by law, and the means of bringing them to account so easy and accessible, that they would be deterred therefrom.

THOMAS J. UPTON.

HOMER, La., May 26, 1876.

Thanks to Uncle John.

MY DEAR UNCLE: I have read with much interest and profit your kind letters, warning me so faithfully against those temptations to which I am exposed as a young itinerant. As we young preachers have not the advantages once enjoyed by our class of traveling in association with senior preachers, whose wise counsels and godly lives might save us from many faults and errors of judgment into which we are liable to fall, your thoughtful and prudent epistles are not only greatly needed by us, but are excellent substitutes for such association. For myself, and the hundreds of young members of our Conferences who have read your letters, I thank you most gratefully, and trust you will find abundant remuneration for your labors in the increased zeal and devotion exhibited by us as young itinerants. God bless you, my dear Uncle John, for your faithfulness!

I must thank you, with emphasis, for your last communication on the sin of complaining at our appointments. I am especially delighted to discover that good and true men like yourself denounce such conduct in members of our Conferences. You have prepared me to listen more with contempt than pity to the doleful stories with which I have often been entertained in the few years of my itinerant life. I felt that my vows, taken at my reception into the Conference, were binding on me; but I grew restless, and, to tell the truth, a little discontented, when I heard some facts (or parts of facts) held so tenaciously in the memory of these grumblers. I thought, sure enough, they were the victims of an intended conspiracy; now I know those men were only grumblers, and am thankful to you for exposing them, and revealing to me their true character. I will know hereafter how much importance to attach to their wonderful revelations. I do not believe such men talk so freely among those to whom their characters are known; and, in order that you may see how our devotion to our loved Itinerancy is sometimes tested, I will here give you some of the information retailed by these characters from time to time in my hearing. At the last session of the Conference of which I am a member there seemed to be an unusual amount of grumbling among this disaffected class of our preachers. They heard, or pretended that they heard, some very strange "facts." One of them said, in my hearing, that he had just dined with a prominent member of the Conference, who expressed himself as wondering at the folly of a body of men committing their destiny into the hands of a single man; that the outside world looked on at such deportment with perfect amazement, and, as for himself, he claimed that after long years of service he had a "right" to demand consultation with himself about his appointment. I was greatly distressed at this disclosure, but your letter has satisfied me that my informant was only a "grumbler," and was only trying to make me believe that there were some members of the Conference (the clique) who were always consulted about their destiny for another year.

Another one of these characters took me aside, and, with a manner calculated to awaken my admiration for the superior skill that had enabled him to penetrate the secrets of the "cabinet," so-called, informed me that a member of the Conference had been appointed to a most undesirable work; that from presiding elders he had been assured of the fact, and that he had gone to the Bishop and threatened location unless a change was immediately made, and that the change was accordingly made. My informant went on to state that a second man was selected for that work with the same result. Now I knew that the Bishop's counselors were not allowed to reveal anything about the appointments—that they were solemnly pledged not to do so; and I believed that any of our Bishops, if such a case had turned up, would have said to the complaining brother: "If you will not go where we think best, then locate." But while I knew all this, I was greatly moved at these statements, and thought my informant was half right when he concluded his revelation by saying that if this thing continued congregationalism would result. Since I have read your letter, however, my dear uncle, I am assured that I had only met a "grumbler," discontented himself, and distrustful of those with whom was vested the appointing power. It is a great relief to me to know that conscientious and devoted men, like you are, know these men to be few and uninfluential. Now I will entertain no fears as to the "partialities of Bishops" or the "prejudices of presiding elders."

Again I thank you for your considerate letters, and beg you to continue the use of an instrument you wield so effectually as the pen.

Your nephew, HAL.

THE UNIVERSITY OF HARD KNOCKS.—A great deal of useless sympathy is in this day expended upon those who start out in life without social or monetary help. Those are most to be congratulated who have at the beginning a rough tussle with circumstances. John Ruskin sets it down as one of his calamities that in early life he had "nothing to endure." A petted and dandled childhood makes a weak and insipid man. You say that Ruskin just quoted disproves the theory. No. He is showing in a dejected, splenetic and irritable old age the need of the early endgeling of adversity. He seems fretting himself to death. A little experience of the hardships of life would have helped to make him gratefully happy now. No brawn of character without compulsory exertion. The men who sit strong in their social, financial and political elevations are those who did their own climbing. Misfortune is a rough nurse, but she raises giants. Let our young people, instead of succumbing to the influences that would keep them back and down, take them as the parallel bars, and dumbbells, and weights of a gymnasium, by which they are to get muscle for the strife. Consent not to beg your way to fortune, but achieve it. God is always on the side of the man who does his best. God helps the man who tries to overcome difficulties.—Christian at Work.

REV'S DOINGS.—Dr. DeMarmon, in the New York Medical Journal, says: "For the last ten years the use of spirits has: 1. Imposed upon the nation a direct expense of $600,000,000. 2. Has caused an indirect expense of $700,000,000. 3. Has destroyed 300,000 lives. 4. Has sent 100,000 children to the poor-house. 5. Has committed at least 150,000 people to prisons and work-houses. 6. Has determined at least 1,000 suicides. 7. Has caused the loss, by fire or violence, of at least $11,000,000 worth of property. 8. Has made 200,000 widows and 1,000,000 orphans.

The British and Foreign Bible Society issued 2,682,185 copies of Bibles, Testaments and portions of Scripture last year.

OBITUARIES.

MARLIN TOWNS COLLIER died on the twentieth of March, 1876, in Tallahatchee county, Miss., aged sixty-eight years, less one day. He was born in Oglethorpe county, Ga., March 21, 1808; born again, in Monroe county, in his twentieth year. He married Miss A. E. Myrick, of the same county, in his twenty-first year. In 1835 he married Miss E. M. Wright, of Georgia, with whom he lived fourteen years. In 1850 he married Miss A. E. F. Hardy, of Choctaw county, Miss., formerly of Columbus, Ga., with whom he lived until his death in 1876. There were born to him seventeen children—two of the first marriage, seven of the second and eight of the third marriage. Nine of these children are now living.

From the time that Mr. Collier received Christ as his Savior his faith never wavered. In social life he made those around him happy. His wife and children revered and loved him. His neighbors sought and received his counsel, assistance and sympathies. His hospitality was almost without limit, and his house a place of constant resort. As a citizen he filled the measure of the useful and the good, if not the wise. He never sought office, would not canvass for it, but was elected and represented his county in the State Legislature well and wisely, and while acting as levee commissioner saved the State from exorbitant charges. His public spirit led him to undertake the construction of bridges and the improvement of roads to his own hurt. His religious life was marked by faithfulness and efficiency. He was constant in his attendance on all the means of grace and useful-ness. His family religion consisted in reading the word of God, studying and teaching it, prayer and praise. His example was pure; hence nearly every member of his family of suitable age has been brought to Christ.

He never failed to attend the house of God when in his power. He held official station in the church for about forty years; and as a steward was just, impartial and liberal. His feelings of preference gave place always to justice. From the use of ardent spirits and tobacco he totally abstained. Living in the midst of those who habitually used ardent spirits as a beverage, he would touch not, taste not, handle not that which would intoxicate. He strove for the mastery, and was temperate in all things. A man of a high order of talent, he succeeded in everything he undertook—mechanism, planting, legislating, in social life, and in finding the way of religion. Improving the talents that God had given him, his character came near being of the highest mold. We have no need to apologize for his failings or to excuse his shortcomings—we do not know them. His servants were warmly attached to him, and most of them remained about him to the last. For several of his last years he was paralyzed to a large extent; still he exerted himself to close up his business and get ready to die. A few days before his death he asked his wife the day of the month, and then said: "The twenty-first is my birthday; but I do not expect to live to see it. Indeed it would be better for me to die—better for me, better for you all. My work is done; and if it was the will of the Lord that I should die quickly I should prefer it." On the morning of the twentieth of March he awoke early, without pain or anxiety, and while his wife went out of the room, attending to the affairs of the family, he was taken with apoplexy and died in a few minutes, members of the family reaching him only a few moments before he ceased to breathe. God gave him his desire—he died quickly, to awake to an endless life. He leaves an unblemished name as an inheritance to his children better than riches. His loss will be severely felt by his family and neighbors, but his name will be embalmed in the memory of many. His works will follow him while he is numbered with the blessed dead.

SISTER MARY E. WADE died very suddenly at her home in Richland, Holmes county, Miss., about one P. M., April 19, 1876, in the sixty-seventh year of her age. She was born in Fairfield district, S. C., November 11, 1809. Her parents, Thomas S. and Elizabeth Herbert, emigrated to Butler county, Ala., when she was quite young. There she was raised and educated. In her nineteenth year she was married to James W. Wade, with whom she lived most happily until he was taken from her by death, in 1859. They were blessed with three affectionate children—two daughters and one son—whose greatest happiness consisted in contributing to that of their parents. The daughters still survive, but their noble son was called away when in the prime of early manhood.

She was converted and united herself with the Methodist Episcopal Church South many years ago; and I think all who knew her can testify that by word or deed she never brought reproach upon the cause, which, with all the earnestness of her nature, she had espoused. She often lamented that she did not enjoy as bright an evidence of her acceptance as she desired. She longed for a rejoicing sense of God's love; but this she did not experience. Her spiritual vision was here somewhat obscured.

She was a regular attendant at church when her health and other circumstances would permit. For several years her hearing had been deficient. She frequently remarked that she heard very little that the minister uttered, and consequently did not fully enjoy the sermon; but she thought it her duty to go, and by her example try to induce others who could hear, and perhaps be benefited, to attend. It always pained her to see God's house and his ministry neglected. She was faithful in her private devotions, and loved her Bible.

She was a devoted wife and mother, a faithful and true friend, and was possessed with the most patient, self-sacrificing disposition I ever knew. She considered it a sacred privilege to minister to the sick and afflicted, and was one of the few who followed the injunction: "Let not your left hand know what your right hand doeth."

Her health had been failing for several weeks, but on the day of her death she appeared as well as usual. She was at the dinner table with some of the members of her family, when in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, her change came, and before any one knew that her departure was nigh her spirit was with her God.

Her life leaves no doubt in our minds that she was prepared to appear in his presence, and that she heard his welcome plaudit, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

It is a sad thought that in this world we will never more see her loved face, again hear her kind, gentle voice. But this be our consolation: that dear friend now beaming with angelic brightness; loved voice, now attuned to angel song, singing the praises of God with all the redeemed of Christ. Here she suffered sickness and sorrow, pain and death; there is where they "are felt and feared no more."

A.

AT THE second Quarterly Conference of Brownsville circuit, Jackson district, Mississippi Annual Conference, held at Brownsville, April 9, 1876, on motion of F. M. Williams, preacher in charge, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted, to wit:

Whereas, The great Head of the church has seen fit, in the dispensation of his providence, on March 29, 1876, to remove from our midst our much-esteemed and beloved brother, WILLIAM RATLIF, who was a member of this Quarterly Conference; therefore,

Resolved, That we bow with becoming submission to the loss of our deceased brother, feeling sure of his exaltation to the joys of eternal life; and that we implore the great Head of the church, in his own good time and way, to indemnify the church, the community and the bereaved family for the loss we have severally sustained in the death of our much-lamented Brother Ratlif.

Resolved, That it is the unanimous testimony of the Quarterly Conference, here expressed, that Bro. William Ratlif was a zealous member, and an efficient and faithful steward in the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and that his example is worthy of imitation; he was prompt and faithful in the relations of society, and a great benefactor of the poor.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication, and also that a copy be sent to the bereaved family as evidence and expression of our sympathy in their behalf.

J. B. ROBERTS,
F. M. WILLIAMS.

REV. F. C. JOHNSTON died at his residence in Monroe county, Ala., in January last, in his fifty-fifth year. He was born in Greensboro, Ga., December 3, 1821. He came to Alabama in 1845, and was married to Miss Ann Burnett in 1847, after which he lived a few years in Mississippi. Having then dying, he returned to Alabama, and was married to Miss Martha P. Wyatt, in 1857. He professed religion in 1846, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South. He was licensed to preach in 1849, and served the church faithfully, acceptably and profitably until his death—serving one year of the time as a supply on Sparta circuit. Bro. Johnston was a working preacher, and rendered assistance to the pastor, particularly in the Sabbath schools and in protracted meetings. We are greatly afflicted at the loss of so good and useful a man. His employment during most of his life was teaching schools. He was an Odd Fellow, worthy and accepted by his brethren. He was a member of Mount Grange, in Monroe county, from its organization in 1874, and served to the satisfaction of his brethren in the office of lecturer. He leaves a wife and nine children to mourn their irreparable loss. Bro. Johnston died suddenly of heart disease. No death-bed testimony was left, but we have that which is, if possible, more satisfactory—that of a holy, spotless life. His labors on earth are ended, and he has entered that rest that remains for the people of God.

J. M. SCOTT.

MRS. MARTHA A. FAIN was born in Athens, Ga., in 1811, where she was raised and educated by her father, Mr. Sherman. At the age of fifteen she was converted, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South. In the year 1830 she was happily married to T. J. Fain, who is at this time a worker in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Soon after their union they moved to Ozark, Dale county, Ala., where she commenced her profession of Christianity by a consistent life. Sister Fain was a zealous and faithful member of the church, a good neighbor, a kind mother and a dutiful wife. She left one lovely son—little Bobby—who could but small as he is, feels that he has lost his best friend on earth. Her remains rest by the side of her three infant children, who preceded her to that rest that remaineth for the people of God. She was in bad health for some time, and on the fourteenth of March, 1876, she was taken very ill. All was done for her that her skillful physicians could do, but in a few hours she fell asleep in Jesus, where she will forever rest from care and pain. She leaves a husband, a small son, a large circle of friends to mourn her loss, but, thank God, we do not mourn as those who have no hope.

HER PASTOR.

MRS. SALINA REBECCA ALLEN was born in Augusta, Ga., May 16, 1803, was converted to God and joined the Methodist Church in 1821, and died January 1, 1876. For many years previous to her death she was a member of the church in this town, and gave us an example of consistency of Christian character. Her pastor could always depend on her presence and participation in the services of the church, her unchanging sympathy and many prayers.

A few years ago the writer buried her husband, a veteran of 1812, but, best of all, a faithful soldier of Christ. On Sunday, the ninth of January, he performed the last solemn rites for his companion. She sleeps by her bodies lie in the grave until the resurrection of the just.

Thus we make a brief record of one who, though she was of the humbler walks of life, was rich in faith; and though her piety was unpretending, yet in life and death it gloritied God. Her last feeble utterance gave expression to the experience of a truly religious life, and her hope beyond the grave.

THOMAS PAGE.

AMITE CITY, La.

The district returns of the Episcopal Wesleyans, so far as they have been footed up, show a net increase of eleven thousand members. The figures now reported are larger than in any previous year.

he Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1876.

SIDNEY LANIER'S CANTATA.

AT THE OPENING OF THE CENTENNIAL.

I.

rom this hundred-terraced height ight more large with nobler light ances down you towering years:
Happier sadlies and lordlier tears shine and fall, shine and fall,
While old voices rise and call,
Happier where the to and fro
Weltering of Joy Long Ago
Waves about the waveless base
Far below thy restless place.

II.

ower, Mayflower, slowly hither flying,
ding Westward o'er yon lurking sea, s wildly, Farewell, dear England, sighing, without. But dear in vain, replying, pp'd waves about thee shouted, crying:
No! It shall not be!

III.

amestown, out of thee—
lymouth, thee—thee, Albany—
Winter cries: Ye freeze—away!
Fever cries: Ye burn—away!
Hunger cries: Ye starve—away!
Vengeance cries: Your graves shall stay!

IV.

eo old Shapes and Masks of Things, aped like Faiths or clothed like Kings—ost of Gods once fleshed and fair ew foul Bads in alien air—ar, and this most ooisy lards, gued with lithe and poisoned swords—
rror, Terror, Rage and Crime,
ll in windy night of time,
rled to me from land to sea:
No! Thou shalt not be!

V.

Hark!
guenots whispering you to the dark,
rtians answering you to the dark!
d like an arrow shot true to its mark
rts through the tyrannous heart of Denial.
dience and labor and solemn-soofed Trust,
Foiled, still beginning,
Sailed but not sinking,
rough the stertorous death of the night,
hen wild brother-wars new dark the Light,
ng forgive, and kiss o'er, and replight.

VI.

ow Praise to God's oft-granted grace, ow Praise to Man's undaunted face—
Despite the land, despite the sea, way; I am; and I shall be—w long, Good Angel, O how long?
g me from Heaven a man's new song.

VII.

long as thine Art shall love true love;
long as thy Science truth shall know,
long as thine Eagle-barons no Dove, ook as thy Law thy Law shall grow,
ong as thy God is God above,
ny brother every man below,
long, dear land, good thy love,
thy name shall shine, thy throne shall glow.

VIII.

o, from this height of thine ory Ward and large signals all now's hearts' Mands Heart Id;
heaven, unroll thy chords as friendly flags
furled,
ave the world's best lovers welcome to the rld.

lhers' and Mothers' Duties.

never talk about children," says Moody) and heaven but what tory of two fathers comes right e to me. One lived on the tern country, on the banks of Mississippi river. The world him rich, but how poor he is, or poor he was! Thank God! he h now. One day his oldest son brought home to him unconus; a terrible accident had happ'd, and the family physician was iedly called in. As he came in father said: "Doctor, do you my son will recover?" "No," the doctor, "he is dying and not recover." "Well," says the r, "only bring him to, can't you, we may tell him?" "I don't want to die without knowing that he ying." The doctor said he would but that the boy was fast dying. r awhile the boy did become conus for a moment, and the father d: "My boy, the doctor tells me are dying and cannot live. I d not let you die without letting know it." The young man look- to his father and said: "Fa- , do you tell me I am going to die t away?" "Yes, my boy," said agonized father, "you will be e in a little while." "Oh, father, 't you pray for my lost soul?" the speechless father: "I can't pray, my son." The boy grew nscious, and after a little while gone; and the father said, when rned that boy, that if he could e called him back by prayer he ld have given all he was worth. nd been with that boy all those s, and had never prayed once for Am I talking to a prayerless r and mother to-day? Gather children around you, and show n the way to the kingdom of God. them to go where Christ reigns iumph, that they may be with e other father was a contrast. I t know but he may be in this ence this afternoon. His son had dangerously ill, and when he home one day he found his greatly troubled. She told him e had been a great change since ning, and she thought their boy ying. "I wish," said she, "that would go in and tell him of his ition, for I cannot bear to, and ght to know it if he is dying." father went in, went up to his bedside, placed his hand on the pale forehead, and saw the cold sweat of night was gathering, he saw in a little while the boy d be gone, and he said: "My do you know you are dying?" the young man said: "No. Am ing?" "Yes, my son." "Will to-day?" "Yes, my boy; you at live until night." And the ooked surprised, and yet seemo be glad, and said: "Well, fa- I will be with Jesus to night, t I?" "Yes, my boy, you will to-night with the Savior;" and ather turned away to conceal his , and the boy saw the tears, and "Father, don't you weep for when I go to heaven I will go ght to Jesus, and tell him that since I can remember you have to lead me to him." d has given me two little chil- , and if I know my heart to-day uld rather have such testimony his go home to my Father ugh my children than to have world rolled at my feet. I would r have them come to my grave drop a tear over it, and say, hen my father lived he was more ous for my eternal salvation he was for my temporal good," I would to have all the power world can bestow. A few weeks when my boy was sick, and I 't know but that it would result y, I took my place by the side of his bed, and placed my hand on his forehead, and said: "Willie, suppose you should be really sick (I didn't want him to think he was likely to die,) and you should be taken away, do you think you would be afraid of death?" and a tear trickled down his cheek as he said: "No, papa; last summer I was awful afraid of death, but Jesus has taken it all away now. If I die I should go to him, and he would give me everything I wanted." Ah! how sweet it was to think the little fellow was not afraid of death. It seems to me we ought to teach our children so that they will hail with joy the time they can go to meet Jesus, their blessed Savior. Oh, may the Spirit of the Lord God come upon this assembly to-day, and may we know that our names are written in the kingdom of heaven, and then see that the children whom God has given us are written in the Book of Life.

Curiosities of Superstition.

Louis Napoleon in his will emphasizes the solemn declaration: "With regard to my son, let him keep as a talisman the seal I used to wear attached to my watch." This piece of fetichism would appear to have formed yet another link between the imperial exile that has passed from our midst and those Latin races whose cause he affected to represent, whose superstitious he certainly shared. Indeed the ancient Romans, degraded a priest because his miter fell, and unmade a dictator because a rat squeaked. Cæsar crossed the Rubicon because on the opposite bank he saw a man with a fine figure. His nephew felt confident of winning the battle of Actium, because he met a peasant of the name of Nicolaus mounted on an ass. Wolsey was warned of his doom by a crosier-head; Sejanus, by a flight of crows. Dr. Johnson objected to going under a ladder. Montaigne avoided giving his left foot priority in putting on his stockings. Alexander was believed to have untied the Gordian knot with a slice of his sword. For good luck's sake, Augustus wore some portion of a seacalf; Charlemagne, some trinket of unknown value. Mohammed was all fate; Bonaparte all star and destiny. Cromwell believed in September 3; and Louis Napoleon in December 2. Sylla called himself Felix; the favored child of fortune, and Timoleon turned his house into a Temple of Chance. Alexander, if we may credit the account given by Quintus Curtius, was terrified by blood flowing from inside his soldiers' bread during the siege of Tyre in 332 B. C. His seer, Aristander, foresaw in this crimson efflux at the vital stream out of the commissariat, a happy issue for the Macedonians; and the warriors, thus nerved, took Tyre.

No doubt there was a deal of imposture in alchemy; no doubt, too, the wish for gold was father to the thought of alchemy; but this itself will not account for Henry the Fourth prohibiting alchemy; for God-fearing Henry the Sixth eagerly encouraging it; for Pope John the Twenty Second being an alchemist; for Louis the Thirteenth of France making a Franciscan monk his grand almoner, as the reward of a hundred years' reign promised to his credulity by that pretender to the discovery of the grand elixir; or for Jean de Lisle expiating by an early death in the Bastile his bold attempts to persuade Louis the Fourteenth and his ministers that he possessed the gold-making stone. Among the wide circle of influential believers that alchemy thus entranced were Roger Bacon, Albertus Magnus and St. Thomas Aquinas; and even the transcendent intellects of Leibnitz, Spinoza and Verulam. However, in the pursuit of this phantom, Roger Bacon casually stumbled on the composition of gunpowder; Geber on the properties of acids; Von Helmont on the nature of gas geist or spirit; and Dr. Glauber, of Amsterdam, on the use of the salt which bears his name.

Luther and Veraham believed in witches. In his folio dictionary Johnson defines a witch: "A woman given to unlawful arts." Knighton tells us of persons vexed with keeping devils in the shape of cats. And wise and learned Roman Catholics believe even greater wonders still. For example, Spain, among many images of the Virgin, possesses one at Saragossa which used to restore lost legs; while Austria boasts an image of the Virgin which secures good harvests.—Chambers' Journal.

Timidity of Great Men.

Turenne, being asked whether he was frightened at the beginning of a battle, said: "Yes, I sometimes feel great nervous excitement, but there are many subaltern officers and soldiers who feel none whatever." Conde was much agitated in his first campaign. "My body trembles," he said, "with the actions my soul meditates." Frederick the Great, at Molwitz, gave but little promise of ever becoming a soldier. It is reported of one of the ablest friends of Washington that in his first battle his nerves quite gave way, and that he had to be held to his post by two soldiers; it was as if the hero's legs tried to carry him off in spite of himself. It is obvious to remark that distinguished men, whose nerves have thus completely broken down, may thank their stars for being distinguished. Much is forgiven them, for they did much service. Had they been common soldiers they would have received as little indulgence for the automatic action of their feet as the poor receive for the malady of kleptomania. There is, however, a special reason why allowance should be made for generals whose presence of mind has failed them. A private has only to shut his eyes to danger, and to confront it with that chien de courage of which a great commander spoke with envious disparagement. But the skilled courage of a general is a virtue of a very different order. He must, as it were, have two selves. In deliberation he must calculate the exact amount of danger to which he exposes his troops; and then, in action, this calculation must be erased from his mind. He must often say to himself, "Peace, peace," when he feels there is no peace, and by a sort of military faith he must fight as seeing a safety which is invisible. It is true that Nelson exclaimed: "What is fear? I never saw fear!" But at that time Nelson was young, and against his remark may be set the saying of Charles the Fifth when he saw written on a tombstone: "Here lies a man who never knew fear." "Then," observed the Emperor, "he can never have snuffed a candle with his fingers;" or, as we would say, such a man can never have felt the first touch of the forceps of a dentist. Charles the Fifth, no doubt, spoke from a commander's point of view, and he may, like other commanders, have felt the difficulty of emulating the happy fearlessness of his soldiers.—Fortnightly Review.

Old People.

Old people have names, like other folks—both Christian names and surnames. If women, they may have gained another name by marriage.

Such being the case, I consider any one guilty of great ill manners who is addicted to the habit of addressing old ladies indiscriminately as grandma, and old gentlemen as grandpa; and who will scream, "And how do you do, aunty?" to some venerable single lady whose name they have never troubled themselves to inquire.

There are many persons whose manners to the aged would lead one to suppose they assumed that all who had lived to be old, were both deaf and childish. And it must disturb any one's composure very much to be habitually addressed in a condescending yell, which betokens that nothing in the way of conversation is to be expected, and that he or she, as the case may be, is only being taken a little notice of.

Fortunately childishness is rare, and deafness does not certainly come with years. The oldest lady of the party may be the brightest and the best; and many a pert chatterer might be astonished at the sharp criticism on her manners and appearance which are made by the unknown gentlemen whom she has presumed to dub "grandpa."

In view of this, I offer you a little advice. Ask old people's names, or, if you cannot learn them, address them as sir, or madam. Don't adopt them, by word of mouth, as relations, until they have grown fond enough of you to wish that you should do so, and request it. Speak in ordinary tones until they get out their ear-trumpets. And remember that modest politeness becomes any one better than intrusive familiarity.

When you grow old yourself you will probably be Miss Blinks, just as you are now, and you will like strangers just introduced to you to address you by name, and say, "Happy to know you, Miss Blinks," and add, "Why, how are you, dear?" though you will then be no longer given a comparatively young person.

We who are not yet old are honored by the notice of old persons, and in nowise honor or patronize them by ours.—New York Ledger.

A Wonder-Land.

Between the Indian and Pacific oceans, south of a little southeast of Asia, there lies a continent whose greatest length is about 2,400 miles, with a breadth of 1,700 to 1,900 miles, having a coast line of nearly 8,000 miles embracing an area of perhaps 3,000,000 square miles. If this until recently unexplored country nature appears to have done her work by laws and rules entirely at variance with her accustomed methods elsewhere. The vegetable growth of this land is remarkable, and seems projected upon a gigantic scale. Palm trees grow to the height of seventy to one hundred feet, and the fern tree, a mere stalk until it reaches fifteen or twenty feet in height, suddenly sends out its leaves, four to five feet in length, in every direction. A grass tree produces food for the cattle, and the inner part of the top of the tree, both raw and roasted, is eaten by the natives. Lilies, tulips and honeysuckles reach the proportions of trees, and most beautiful fuchsias clamber to the house and tree-tops. Cherries have stones outside the fruit, and there are trees which shed their bark instead of their leaves.

And the zoology of this wonderful country is no less anomalous and interesting. There are no ruminating animals, no monkeys, elephants, deer, bears, lions, tigers, wolves or other beasts of prey. The wild dog is the only carnivorous animal. No less than forty of its animals are marsupial—with a pocket like the opossum's—while very many of its species have no type elsewhere on the globe. So too of its birds, among which we find birds of paradise, oven birds, black swans, and many other equally curious creatures.—Home and School.

Mr. Spurgeon, of London, tells a good story—one that has a moral and deserves to be remembered. It runs thus:

A poor man who had a very large family gave them a very comfortable support while he was in health. He broke his leg, and was laid up for some weeks. As he would be for some time destitute of the means of grace, it was proposed to hold a prayer meeting at his house. The meeting was led by Deacon Brown. A loud knock at the door interrupted the service. A tall, lank, blue-frocked youngster stood at the door with an ox goad in his hand, and asked to see Deacon Brown. "Father could not attend this meeting, but he sent his prayers, and they are out in the cart." They were brought in, in the shape of potatoes, beef, pork and corn. The meeting broke up without the benediction. Nor did the poor fellow suffer during his whole confinement. The substantial prayers of the donors became means of grace.

See to it that each hour's feelings, thoughts and actions are pure and true. Then will your life be such.

Religious Intelligence.

—The revenues of the Church of England, from its vast aggregate of property, amount to over $25,000,000 yearly.

—The Sunday School Times has heard of a Sunday school pupil who recited four thousand verses of Scripture, all on one Sunday morning.

—Admissions to the Philadelphia Presbyterian churches on profession of faith, during the last year, number 3,244, the largest list of additions ever known.

—The regular Baptists in Virginia have 63,435 white and 110,508 colored members. The Anti-mission Baptists have about 2,500 members; total, 173,943 members.

—A missionary at Cape Town, Africa, has established a school at Wellington on the plan of the Mount Holyoke Seminary, in Massachusetts, and it now has one hundred pupils.

—Mr. Spurgeon stated, at a recent meeting at the pastor's college connected with his church, that the institution began twenty years ago with one student, and that since that time three hundred and fifty students had been educated who are now preaching.

—The London society has a native church of 142 communicants on the Island of Hong-Kong, China. This church supports its two native preachers, and also meets all the expenses of a mission which it has started in Fatchan, and which now numbers one hundred members.

—Rev. Dr. H. H. Jessup writes to the secretaries of the Presbyterian Board that certain zealous Moslems in Constantinople have organized a society for the propagation of their faith in Ugaga, the country of the African King Mtesa, whom Mr. H. M. Stanley fancied that he had, partly at least, "converted to Christianity," and for the Christianization of whose kingdom the English Church Missionary Society lately appropriated $25,000. Africa may be a good field for Mohammedanism; but it is the gospel of Christ, not the Koran, which the millions of that great continent need.

—The latest missionary intelligence from Fiji is of mournful interest, and goes to show that former accounts of the fearful ravages of the epidemic with which the islands were visited last year were not at all exaggerated. The following particulars have been furnished by a correspondent: "At the annual district meeting eight missionaries were present, and thirty-four native ministers. Six candidates for the native ministry were unanimously recommended to the Conference to be received on trial, and six probationers were recommended for ordination. The losses of the Wesleyan Church in this colony by the late epidemic have been very heavy, including 9 native ministers, upward of 150 catechists, 200 local preachers, 700 class-leaders, 8,000 church members, together with a large number of attendants on public worship, making a total of 35,000. The following are the returns for September, 1875: Missionaries, 9; native ministers, 18; catechists, 785; day school teachers, 2,382; class-leaders, 2,233; local preachers, 635; church members, 16,838; on trial for membership, 3,858; attendants on public worship, 81,485."

—A part of the work of the American Board in Western India is among the Mahars, a very low caste of Hindoos. These Mahars live on the gifts which the farmers bestow upon them as sweeps and scavengers. The skin and the flesh of dead animals are left for them. They are allowed to get grass and gleanings in the harvest fields. Every evening those who act as village gate keepers go from house to house and salute their employers in the expectation of getting the broken meats, which are then divided among their clansmen. Latterly the good feeling of the farmers toward the Mahars has ceased. They accuse them of poisoning their cattle, to get the hides, which seems in many cases to be the truth. They have cut off their privileges and refused the gifts on which the Mahars live. This has starved the Mahars out of their old homes, and will probably force them into a somewhat higher stage of civilization. Meantime, however, the missionary work among them has become very much unsettled. But not all the Mahars are so dependent upon their neighbors. As they become Christians they begin to rise in the social scale. A native scholar who lately visited some of the villages in which the American Board is at work speaks very favorably of the change which has come over these once filthy and lazy people, as far as the gospel has reached them. Independent.

—In Japan none seem so ready to accept the gospel and to spread it abroad as the physicians. We have from time to time given examples of this openness to Christian impressions on the part of a class of men who in other heathen countries are bigoted and inaccessible. In the last Missionary Herald we find several fresh instances. One is a physician at Fushimi, a suburb of Kyoto. He has been an inquirer for more than a year, and has been cited before the authorities several times for having Christian meetings at his house. Men come from miles around in order to ask him about this new way. He distributes a great many Bibles and tracts, and is preaching Christ every day with a burning zeal. The other is a native physician of Kobe, who was baptized last year. He is a close student of the Scriptures, and is at work among his friends, neighbors and patients. His house, like every other Japanese residence, has its "god shelf." For a long time these household deities have had their faces turned to the wall; but, after a conversation with the missionary about them, it was thought best to burn them for firewood. From various parts of Japan the missionaries receive intelligence of intense interest in the religion of Jesus on the part of natives who have never come in contact with foreign teachers. Converts, when on their travels in the interior, are fairly besieged by their countrymen desiring information.—Independent.

Our Young People.

ABOUT SOME VEGETABLES.

Lots of little vegetables growing in a garden;
All had different natures, and all grew up according.

Ten little pea-pods hanging on a vine;
One burst open, and then there were nine.

Nine golden pumpkins, wonderful in weight;
Punkin pie was rolled for, then there were eight.

Eight lanky bean-stalks running up to heaven;
Jack the Giant-Killer chopped all but seven.

Seven ripe tomatoes—one an old hen picks.
Spoils it altogether, then there are but six.

Six red peppers terribly alive;
One bit another—and then left five.

Five bashful beet-roots blushing once and more;
One hid his red face and then there were four.

Four watermelons ripens ripe could be;
Some little boys were naughty, and then there were three.

Three plump strawberries glistening with dew;
A robin came a-hopping, and then there were two.

Two ears of corn a-ripening in the sun;
Succotash for dinner left a solitary one.

One little cucumber pickled in a jar;
I wonder if he wonders where his brothers are?

Youth's Companion.

From Our Little Friends.

MOUNT HIGLIHO, BULLOCK CO., ALA.,
May 30, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: I see so many little boys and girls writing that I thought I would write a short letter. I am a little girl fourteen years old the sixth of May. I was glad to hear "How Barney Milked the Boys' Nest." I laughed heartily when I read it, to think how he fooled the other Irishman.

We have a flourishing Sabbath school. I like to go very much. We have a good preacher on this circuit. He has been on this work two years. I like him very much. His name is Mr. W. S. Wade. He talks to us in Sabbath school. He preaches for us every fourth Saturday and Sunday.

I am going to school to my Sister Fannie, near home. I have two little brothers and four sisters. Tell Grandpa Goodale to tell us some more of his nice stories. I like to read them very much. But Toni must not put in his big words; it takes me so long to make them out. But he says they are in the books he studies; so I reckon he must know.

I hope you will publish my letter, for it is the first one I ever wrote to your paper. I will close before I bother you any longer.

I remain your friend,

VIOLA HIGHTOWER.

The Worm and the Butterfly.

Three worms, fat and sleek, lay curled up under a shady fence. They had eaten what dirt they wanted, and gorged themselves with bitter weeds, and, quite overcome with worm comfort, were fast asleep. Suddenly one, impelled by mysterious instinct, left and crawled heavily along to the foot of a post in the fence, up which he laboriously tugged his fat carcass, till he reached the middle rail, along which he diverged, anxiously moving his head to the right and to the left. He was looking for some jutting point; and when he came to a sliver on the rail he stopped there, and, skillfully tying a web to the end of it, and flaing it fast, he swung himself off, and hung suspended. Falling asleep, he rapidly changed to a chrysalis, cased in a nice shell of jointed rings striped with gold, whence its name, which is from an ancient name of gold. Now he dumbly waits for what is to come, dreaming nothing of the triumphant wing mor of the flowery field which are getting ready for his waking hour. In process of time—a short time of a few days—what had been a vile worm bursts its brittle shell and emerges, clinging to the outer surface, a beautiful butterfly, "born again," "a new creature," spreading its lovely wings and confirming its new life in the rays of the sun. Not a worm now! On waking, his friends miss him and sorrow for him. They count him lost. "How he must mourn our congenial company, and how he must lament his luxurious bed in the mud." The butterfly, joyous in the freshness of his glorious existence, has forgotten both worms and worm comforts together, and on brilliant wings of gold and gossamer mounts into his new element, to enjoy that liberty wherewith he hath been made free. Look up at him. How he soars and sails and circles and dives, exulting in new-born happiness, and tasting the zephyr with throbbings of love. Not a purblind worm now, his new eyes are bright and prominent to delight him with multiplied beauty wherever he roams. Now he floats gayly away to triumph over the far-reaching landscape of flowers. Delighted with the poetry of motion and the glories of vision, he swoops along the royal banquet of many-colored, many-flavored cups of nectared sweets spread before him, daintily touching and choosing and sipping, as he goes, out of the endless abundance. His old friends sigh for him; and, as they gnaw at the muck and the weed, calculate the joys he has lost, and solemnly conclude that nothing less than a flaming sword from Sinai can have fenced him away. How they know not the new life "which it hath not entered into the heart of man to conceive." They do not know that he utterly loathes all their comforts and all their delights. Opposite natures tend opposite ways. We need not drive one in the way in which he longs to go. We do not fence fishes from the dry land, nor living men from the graveyard. St. Paul says there is no need of law to fence him from sin, because he is going the other way. All things are untenced and open to him, but he has not an appetite for all.

We may imagine that a worm, urged to become a butterfly, whose genius he has never seen, might haggle as to how much dirt he could be allowed to take along with him. Many inquiring the way to everlasting life—the conditions on which they can become Christians—haggle as to what worldly pleasures may still be allowed to cleave to them. God, by the voice of Solomon, sends the sluggard to the ant for a lesson, and by the finger of nature points these to the worm and the butterfly.—M. Soule, in the Interior.

What O'Clock?

When I was a boy my father one day called me to him, that he might teach me how to know what o'clock it was. He told me the use of the minute finger and the hour hand, and described to me the figures on the dial-plate, until I was pretty perfect in my part.

No sooner had I gained this additional knowledge than I set off scampering to join my companions, but my father called me back again. "Stop, Humphrey," said he, "I have something else to say to you."

Back again I went, wondering what else I had yet to learn, for it seemed to me that I knew all about the clock, quite as well as my father did.

"Humphrey," said he, "I have taught you to know the time of the day; I must now teach you to find out the time of your life."

All this was Dutch to me; so I waited rather impatiently to hear how my father would explain it, for I wanted sadly to go to my marbles.

"The Bible," said he, "describes the years of man to be threescore and ten, or fourscore years. If we divide the fourscore years of an old man's life into twelve parts, like the dial of the clock, it will allow almost seven years for every figure. When a boy is seven years old, then, it is one o'clock of his life, and this is the case with you; when you arrive at fourteen years it will be two o'clock with you; and then at twenty-one years it will be three o'clock, should it please God thus to spare your life. In this manner you may always know the time of your life; and your looking at the clock may perhaps remind you of it. My great grandfather, according to this calculation, died at twelve o'clock; my grandfather at eleven, and my father at ten. At what hour you and I shall die, Humphrey, is only known to him to whom all things are known."

Never since then have I heard the inquiry, "What o'clock is it?" without being reminded of the words of my father.

I know not what o'clock it may be with you, but I know very well what time it is with myself; and that if I mean to do anything in this world which hitherto I have neglected, it is high time to set about it. The words of my father have given a solemnity to the dial-plate of a clock which perhaps it never would have possessed in my esteem if these words had not been spoken. "What o'clock is it with you?"

Make Some One Happy To-Day.

As Mabel was starting for school grandma said: "Good-by, dear; make some one happy to-day," and, leaving a kiss on the rosy cheek, she went back to her knitting.

The wood fire crackled away and blazed, while it sang out: "Good-by, Mabel; make some one happy to-day."

"Good-by, grandma! Good-by, old fire!" And Mabel threw another kiss to each, and bounded off to school, dragging her sled after her.

Just ahead of her was her dear friend, Maud Eastlake. Mabel ran faster than ever to overtake her.

But around the corner, between her and her friend, came Philip Saunders and his little sister, Dora. A good mile they had come this cold morning, and Dora was crying because she was cold and tired.

Mabel ran by and left them; but some echo voice said: "Make some one happy." She looked on at her friend, sighed a little sigh, then turned straight around and ran back to Philip and Dora.

"This horse is too gay," she said to Philip. "Put Dora on, then take hold, and we'll be a span."

"You're real good, Mabel; Dora is real tired. I've helped her all I can." And Philip lifted his little sister on.

"Don't cry, Dora. We'll have you there in five minutes," he said, as they started.

But the tears had already been driven back by the prospects of a ride.

And when at last Philip and Mabel drew up in grand style it was a pretty happy girl they lifted from the sled; Philip, too, had been made happy.

"Thank yo" said Philip again, as they stopped. "You've made us both happy."

"Ah," said Mabel, "that's what I did it for." Then she told what her grandmother had said to her at starting.

"Well," said Philip, "you can count two you have made happy already. It's a good rule. I believe I'll try it too."

"And, grandma," said Mabel, as she told of this and some other things at night, "we ought to count it three, for it made me happy too."—Advent Christian Times.

GOOSE WAITING FOR ITS MASTER. Bishop Stanley relates a laughable anecdote of a goose which formed an attachment to its master, who lived in Elgin. It would follow him wherever he went, even through the crowded market and street. One day, when going down the main street of the town, its master went into a barber's shop to be shaved, when the goose waited patiently outside the door until the shaving process was finished. The bird then accompanied its master to the house of a friend, and afterward went home. Change of dress made no difference in the bird's power of distinguishing its master, for in whatever garb he appeared the goose recognized him, and whenever he spoke it responded with a cry expressive of pleasure.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JUNE 15, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

The Color Line.

The debate in the Northern General Conference on the subject of dividing Annual Conferences on the color line was spirited and protracted. Dr. Scudder, speaking in favor, made this as one point:

The next point he wished to make was the opportunity which this denial of preference would give for proselytism. Probably very few present knew the extent to which this was being carried by the African Church, the Zion Church, and the Methodist Episcopal Colored Church of America. In Alabama he had been told eight hundred went off at one time, and in Tennessee also this work of proselytism was going on with fearful havoc, and nothing but the measure proposed would check it.

A good but rather remarkable argument as coming from that quarter. After proselyting our colored members by wholesale, carrying them over in block, church property and all, by military intervention, the free use of missionary money, and the most artful appeals to the ignorance and prejudices of the negroes, our Northern brethren now complain that these same members are being proselyted by other churches. It ought not to be regarded as any great hardship that what they have secured by the most offensive means conceivable should be taken from them by fairer and more honest methods. If they were clear themselves a protest would be in order; but it is a well-known fact—known to everybody—that nearly the entire membership of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the South, including Americans, Germans and negroes, is the fruit of proselyting.

Those opposed to the division on the color line argued, of course, that caste entered into the question, and that this abomination must never be tolerated. L. D. Davis met this argument as follows:

We hear a great deal said in this subject on the subject of caste as entering into the merits of the question under consideration. Now caste is to us all a hateful word. To our Methodistic ears, educated, as we all are, in the doctrines of free grace and universal love, it is suggestive only of outrage and wrong.

Now, sir, what is caste? In turning to the authorities we find caste defined as a hereditary classification of society, or as a separate order by which communities are divided into higher or lower grades, with the lines of demarkation so distinctly drawn that they cannot be passed over. It is an order of things with which we are all more or less familiar. Wherever it exists all social progress is impossible, and advancement not to be hoped for.

Of course caste, in this its true sense, cannot exist among us, for in this country all doors of commercial, religious and political preferment are open to all men.

But while we denounce the division of society into higher and lower grades by the arbitrary lines of caste, we find the human family divided, by the almighty Creator himself, into several distinct races, the existence of which we cannot ignore. Why God, who made all men, should have so divided them is more than we can tell. But the facts are before us, and we cannot ignore them. God has not made caste, but God has made the distinctions of race, and marked them by colored lines, which we can never wipe out by act of Congress or the vote of the General Conference.

The lines of caste divide men into inferior and higher classes. The race or color lines do nothing of the sort. There is nothing in these that place one man or race above another. The white man and the black man may live side by side, and may mingle in schools, churches and social gatherings, or they may choose to remain entirely separate, and in neither case is there any approach to a decision of the question of inferiority or superiority. Color lines exist, but they have nothing to do with caste.

These facts and considerations show the folly of the argument as attempted to be drawn from the cry of legislation in the interest of caste. We do not legislate in that interest, but in recognition of the race or color lines which the Almighty has himself established. We have been told here that we should take a sponge and wipe out the "color line," as we would erase the marks on a slate. All such talk is absurd. The color lines shall endure while humanity lasts.

Our old contests with slavery, our old fight in behalf of oppressed colored men, our long remembrance of those in bonds as bound with them, our struggles in their behalf, and the glorious success that has crowned our efforts, has created a sentiment among us that is in danger of leading us astray. We can now scarcely bring ourselves to treat our colored brethren as full-grown men, but propose to keep them under tutors and governors. Now, sir, the colored race should be thrown on to its own responsibilities and resources, for its own good. They should have their own Conferences, presiding elders, and whatever is necessary to self reliance and intellectual advancement. Without this separation and independence they can never rise to the dignity of true Christian manhood.

The final action may be regarded as a compromise measure, making divisions upon the color line lawful and possible, but the conditions are such as to make their accomplishment generally impracticable. There is in it, however, some concession to the color liners—a concession that during the next quadrennium will probably ripen into a full admission of the principle for which they contend.

The following are the resolutions, as adopted:

Resolved, That where it is the general desire of the members of an Annual Conference that there should be no division of such Conference into two or more Conferences, embracing in whole or in part the same territory, and where it is not clearly to be seen that such division would favor or improve the state of the work in any Conference, and where the interests and usefulness of even a minority of the members of such Conference, and of the members of the churches of such Conference might be damaged or imperiled by division, it is the opinion of this General Conference that such division should not be made.

Resolved, That whenever it shall be requested by a majority of the white members, and also a majority of the colored members of any Annual Conference, that such Conference should be divided into two or more Conferences, it is the opinion of this General Conference that such a division should then be made, and in that case the Bishop presiding shall be and is hereby authorized to organize a new Conference or Conferences.

The demands of the negroes for a Bishop of their own race was easily disposed of in connection with a similar demand from the Germans, on the ground that no more Bishops were needed for the present, at the same time that the report on the subject disclaimed all prejudice of race or color in reference to this office. The election of Dr. Revels to the editorship of the Southwestern Christian Advocate was a tub thrown to the whale, and designed to soothe the disappointed aspirations of the colored wing. Apart from any considerations of policy, we regard this appointment as eminently just and suitable. The readers and patrons of the paper are mostly colored, and, as the organ of the colored people, it is right that the editor should be of the same race. Besides, we are informed that Dr. Revels is a man of culture and piety, and eminently fitted for the position.

On the whole, we are disposed to think that this color question among our Northern brethren is gradually working toward a sensible solution. The discussions exhibited a good deal of the old leaven of fanaticism and color blindness, and now and then an outburst of Southern phobia. But, on the other hand, among the most intelligent ministers and laymen there was manifested the growth of broad, just and enlightened views, such as intelligent and devoted Southern Christians hold. As the subject becomes generally better understood, and as the fraternal spirit between the sections and the churches is strengthened, we have no doubt that these views will predominate everywhere. As Mr. Davis very forcibly says: "We do not legislate in that interest (of caste,) but in recognition of the race or color lines which the Almighty has himself established." Ten years ago the Northern Church doubtless believed that the color line could and ought to be wiped out, but they are beginning to see that God has himself drawn this line, and that men are conscious of its existence, and compelled to respect it. To quote again from Mr. Davis' speech: "We have been told here that we should take a sponge and wipe out the color line, as we would erase the marks on a slate. All such talk is absurd. The color lines shall endure while humanity lasts." This is true, unless the fanatics are stronger and wiser than God.

Centenary College.

MR. EDITOR: Will not our brethren of the Southwest stand by themselves? Shall we consent to let go anything that we believe to be vital to the success of our church in the States of Mississippi and Louisiana? I am greatly mistaken in the Methodists of these States if they willingly consent to close up any educational institution which they have in hand; certainly not any which has proved itself to be so marked a source of strength as has this college. Institutions at a distance, however precious and useful to the church generally, can furnish us little aid, in the presence of the Catholic and French atmosphere which so widely affects the population of these States.

I suppose that no one department of church enterprise has made a richer return to the Methodism of the Southwest than that which founded this college. The power of our pulpits, the increase of our members in commercial or agricultural wealth, the high standing of our professional men have, all together, not so impressed the public as the rank we have taken as educators of youth. The history of Centenary since 1845 has redounded to the credit of the Mississippi and the Louisiana Conferences. Her alumni have reflected honor upon her. And as an element of power we have never seen the day since its foundation when we could, as a church, afford to do without this stronghold. We are now beleaguered with poverty, but should therefore only the more steadily rally to the support of what we have. Nothing should induce us to give up the thought of educating our sons and daughters—educating them at home, and in one of our own Methodist institutions. The strain suffered by a family in training its boys is the surest and shortest way of recovery from financial wreck. Many parents have absolutely no art in laying up a surplus for their children. What they get goes—goes with the year; and were their income trebled it would still all be consumed. Such persons can well afford to send their sons to college; they cannot afford to do anything else.

The training so many men for professions during a time of felt poverty has been objected to. It may be replied that such an institution as Centenary presents opportunity of training to many who do not care to go through the college course, but wish such knowledge as may fit them for the business of farming or commerce. How much education a planter requires, or a merchant or a mechanic, has not yet been ascertained. I have thought no men need better-drilled mental powers, or more extensive knowledge of political economy, the spirit of the laws and the constitution, the philosophy of history, the science of chemistry and agriculture, than sugar and cotton planters and commission merchants. There may be a different kind of information required by a professional man in the beginning of his career from that which is required by the merchant or farmer; but in the end, when success shall have crowned labor, they equally require for preserving and enjoying the rewards of toil, breadth of information, and a true estimate of the principle which underlie human happiness. Nothing is felt more severely by men who have practically succeeded than narrowness of early training; for one of the chief ends of education is not merely to insure prosperity, but wisely to shape it. A very little substance will suffice to satisfy one's desires whose mental resources are the mainspring of his pleasures; but a great deal might otherwise prove inadequate. And, on the other hand, it is rare that a man whose mind is well furnished ever comes to feel very poor, however narrow his lot. When one's mental and moral resources enlarge with his temporal and business success, we have the most valuable and available of citizens. Such men shape society, regulate the tides of trade, and lay the foundations of the prosperity of the countries in which they live.

These remarks are as applicable to States and communities as to individuals. An exclusive attention to the immediately productive sources of wealth has not unfrequently yielded a certain, but, after all, a narrow and short lived prosperity; while a broader spirit of enterprise and investment, and a more patient waiting for the harvest, have yielded returns which permanently command equally the admiration and the influence of mankind. We find an illustration at hand in the exclusive policy of our own South during the past fifty years. Content to be purely agricultural, she reaped large crops, which were in turn reinvested in the means for making larger crops; and any other course seemed folly if judged by immediate results. Her sons were educated in the schools and her clothing was made in the mills of New England. She imported implements of husbandry and literature from Great Britain, luxuries from France, and fruits from the tropics. With forests which were supplying the world with ship timber, she employed a marine owned everywhere else but at home. She had no foundries, no mines, no machine shops, excepting for occasional repairs. Those investments of capital and labor, so varied, on which other people relied for strength amid the conflicts and sharp competitions of this advanced century, we had persistently avoided, and in this condition of wealth the war found us, yes, found us, as war always will find nations that have only a single idea and a solitary product.

Have we learned anything from the past—anything from its privation, its endurance, its losses, and all those wars which may now be estimated as the legitimate harvest of meager and obsolete theories of the right uses of capital and labor, which so long controlled us?

To continue still to place in the ground all we have will end in putting ourselves there at the last. Rather let us take annually some part of the fruits of our farming, and give a new shape to them; build and maintain schools, factories, foundries, ships and shops, that, when those fail, these may remain, and that our people may present the harmony and strength of a many-sided development, equally vital at all points, whether for production or security, whether for the possession or the enjoyment of wealth.

The near approach of the commencement of our honored college has suggested these reflections; for it stands as one of the few monuments remaining to us of the wisdom of ante-war times—stripped of its endowment, and appealing to the enlarged views of a new period. We have had to annually supplement its tuition receipts in order to enable its faculty to live. I hope to receive from our people the sum ($1,500) this month, and make an appeal to them in this shape. Who will forward me $100 for this permanent Southern investment? The appeal is made both to our own people and to the alumni of the institution.

Most truly yours,

J. C. KEENER.

An Interesting Missionary Speech.

The Northern Presbyterian Assembly, recently in session at Brooklyn, gave prominence to the subject of foreign missions. From the proceedings we take the following:

Upon motion the Rev. Simeon H. Calhoun, of Mount Lebanon, addressed the Assembly. He is seventy years of age; his figure is tall and thin, his shoulders are bent forward, and his face is sallow. His whole appearance indicates a rugged frame, worn by long work. His voice, however, is strong, and his tones are deliberate. For forty years he was a missionary in the Turkish empire; thirty-two years he lived on the Lebanon range, within five miles of the Mediterranean, and 2,400 feet above the level of that sea. In a voice deep and tremulous with emotion, he said it was his hope that he might die in the spot where he had lived so long, and which he loved so well. Mr. Calhoun said:

"Moderator, Friends and Brethren: The Apostle John said in reference to the abundant words uttered by our Lord, and the amazing deeds performed, that if all were put upon record the world would not contain the books that would be written. I have somewhat the feeling that John had when I contemplate this particular cause of foreign missions, reaching in its demands and in its influence to every human habitation from pole to pole. Only the other day I heard some brave words here in reference to putting the cause of foreign missions into a corner. I felt at once that whatever church it be that puts this cause into a corner, God will put that church into a corner. (Applause.) When I heard in regard to the grand procession of children to ocear to-day—50,000—my heart leaped within me, and I said to myself: I must see this procession, these waving banners, these little ones and big ones coming to Zion with songs of everlasting joy upon their lips; but immediately the thought came to me that for many a long year on that distant Lebanon I have been witness to portions of a procession that comprised not 50,000, not 50,000,000, more than twice that number, who are going not to Zion, with the songs and the everlasting joy, but who are going in the other direction, whose feet take hold on death. I feel that this cause is not to be put into a corner. Christ did not so put it when he said: 'Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.' When the Lord uttered that high command, 'Go teach the nations,' he verified it by an appeal to his Father, and by an appeal to the Holy Spirit, in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, and no command has ever been uttered with a sanction greater than that. The remotest man in the remotest island on the face of the earth, according to the Savior's teachings, has the same claim on this everlasting gospel which I have, or you; and, having in my hands this gospel, I am under obligation to see that my distant brother has it also. Our Savior would not have said, 'Go teach all the nations, disciple all the earth, go preach the gospel to every creature,' if every creature was not in need.

"My lot—a happy one—has been cast for forty years in the Turkish empire. Thirty-two of those years I have lived on the goodly Lebanon, within five miles of the Mediterranean Sea, and at a height of about 2,400 feet above the level of that sea; and from the height which crowns the village where I live we can see, through a glass, Tyre and Sarepta, to which the prophet came, and the regions in which the Savior preached. We went there when all was darkness, and you would not have found in all that land one woman in a thousand who could read. A pall of thick darkness had settled down even over the land where the Bible itself had its origin. We have labored there now nearly fifty years; we are emphatically then 'home missionaries,' and I love the Home Missionary Society. We are laboring in the home of the Bible; we are laboring where Isaiah preached, where the apostles founded churches, where Christ himself preached. I have preached a dedication sermon in Galilee, just within hearing of the voice of the Savior, when he brought from Peter that wonderful confession: 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.' We have created churches in the regions of Galilee, and at this very moment I hold, as the trustee and the attorney of the old American Board, some 15 or 16 deeds of parcels of land which now belong to you—land in Beirut, land in Lebanon, in old Syria, in Galilee, and one little portion on Mount Zion. In that deed, which entitles us to that piece of land in Jerusalem, it is described—in the old Arabic deed which is in my hands—as a piece of land adjacent to the tomb of the prophet David, on whom be peace. All these deeds, as is the custom there, had to be transferred not simply in my name as trustee, but in the name of my father, who had been dead more than 30 years. I have lived at Lebanon 32 years, and there I have loved to live; and it is just there that I would love to die, and it is there, if life shall be enough prolonged, that I intend to die.

"The particular department of labor in which I have been engaged has been on Mount Lebanon, in the village of Arbeih—the establishment of a mission seminary for the training of young men to be teachers and native helpers and preachers of the gospel in the Arabic tongue. That school has usually contained about 30 pupils; just now there are 40, and from it have gone forth a greater portion of all the native helpers now laboring throughout Syria. We have sent young men into Egypt, to labor with other societies than ours; to Damascus, to labor with our brethren of the United Presbyterian Church there; to Jerusalem, to Nazareth, to the land of Moab, beyond the Jordan, to the banks of the Euphrates, and on to Bagdad; and we have gathered into the school, to be educated, students from all parts of the country—from Tyre and Sidon, and even Nazareth. Our object has been not only to instruct these youths in the various sciences, and to give them religious instruction on the Sabbath, but we have devoted one hour a day to Bible instruction, beginning it, and going on, from book to book. Until recently we have been without a Bible dictionary in the Arabic language, and without a concordance; and yet many of these men became their own Bible dictionary and their own concordance. (Applause.) Many of them refer to passages of Scripture with a facility which would amaze you."

Dr. Calhoun made an earnest appeal for some individual to consecrate himself to-day to the work on Lebanon. He said: "The missionary work secures the confidence, if it does not secure the heart, of the people where it is done. I have proved this—have been in two civil wars—have seen hundreds slaughtered, and during this period for three months the confidence of the people was wonderful. To the seminary the men and the women brought their goods and their money, and left it in unsealed packages. The doors of the house were left open. The Druzes, robbers and murderers, came and went, but touched not the value of a pin." He recounted many instances of personal experience which proved the truth of his statements, and closed with an eloquent peroration, saying: "Forty years ago I consecrated myself to this work, and not only do not regret it, but desire, whether I live one year or ten years, to give them all to Christ."

The Field Is the World.

The General Conference of 1874 advised that the Bishops should, if they found it practicable, detail one of their number to visit our missions in China and ordain the native preachers. In the opinion of the College of Bishops the time has fully come, and the episcopal plan of visitations for this year accordingly embraces China. The Board of Missions is in full sympathy with the movement, and has made an appropriation for the expenses of the voyage.

By the unanimous voice of my colleagues this service devolves on me. I did not covet it, I did not seek it; but rather sought to avoid it. But in this, as in every case, what the church requires of me I do cheerfully.

I have had a free consultation with the officers of the board as to the details of the tour, and shall act upon their suggestions. The plan is to spend a week or two in Japan, and then proceed to Shanghai, and have an informal Conference with our missionaries, at which time the native preachers will be ordained. While in China I propose to visit Pekin, Sou Chou, and other important points, taking about a month, perhaps. On leaving Shanghai I shall drop down to Hong Kong, on the way to India, and perhaps take a day or two to run up to Canton. The next points will be Madras and Calcutta, in India, looking to an overland trip across Hindostan to Bombay, with perhaps a few deflections to see points of interest. Then must take a week where

The spicy breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylon's isle.

From Ceylon the route will lie, possibly, through the Persian Gulf, Turkey, but more probably through the Red Sea and the Suez Canal to the Mediterranean. Then, of course, I must see Cairo, Alexandria, the Sphinx, the Pyramids, and the Nile on one hand; and Sinai, the Dead Sea, Jerusalem, the Lake of Galilee and Damascus, on the other. And that I hope to see what Protestantism is accomplishing at Rome. It would be a great pleasure to visit Greece, at least to see Athens, but I shall hardly have time for that. I propose to return through France and England, and possibly make a flying trip into Germany.

Leaving from San Francisco, returning by New York, I shall, if life be spared, make the entire circuit of the globe.

The object is, first and mainly, as I have said, to ordain the native preachers in China; and, secondly, to get a near view of the great missionary field, and of the work there done in it, and to communicate such facts as may strike me to our church papers, so that the Southern Methodist public may be fully informed of the present condition and prospects of the great campaign by which the world is to be subjugated to the Son of God.

It is a sort of exploring expedition and contemplates an advance movement of our own church. We hope, by the grace and help of God, to secure a leading position in this war of conquest, and to do our full part toward the coronation of our risen redeemer as Lord of all.

While I did not seek this undertaking, but rather sought to avoid it, I did not resist it, as I have never resisted any work laid on me by the church. And I confess that, with my designation to it, notwithstanding all the discomforts of the voyage and the long absence from home involved in it, I have a feeling of satisfaction in doing this work for the Master. I pray that it may be the beginning of a new era of missionary activity in the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

In entering upon it I commit myself to the care of God and the prayers of his people. E. M. MARVIN.

St. Louis, May 28, 1876.

DR. SEHON.—We are deeply pained to learn that Dr. Sehon is lying apparently at the point of death. When he was with us last month he bore tokens of approaching dissolution, but we trusted that the end was not yet. But the Rev. Joseph F. Ford writes, Louisville, June 3: "Dr. Sehon was stricken down last Thursday afternoon with paralysis, and has not been able to speak a word since. At times he has been unconscious, and at other times he is perfectly himself, and loves especially to hear you talk to him about religion and everything that pertains to it; his countenance brightens while he contemplates the way of getting to heaven. It seems to me that I never saw a Christian's triumph more complete than his. It is truly a pleasure to be in his room. He seems to be sinking fast, but yet he may last several days. The preachers are with him a great deal, and every attention is paid to him that is necessary. There is a great deal of feeling in the city and sympathy for him. He will truly be a great loss to the church, and the community generally. Noble man! may he cross the river in blessed and holy triumph."—Nashville Christian Advocate.

CENTENARY COMMENCEMENT.—We will be seen by reference to our eighth page notices that the commencement exercises of Centenary College, Jackson, La., open on Sunday, July 9, with the annual sermon by Rev. W. E. Munsey, D. D. The board of trustees meet at nine A. M. July 10. Commencement day is July 12. Rev. R. H. Rivers, D. D., delivers the literary address on Tuesday night, July 11. The friends of Centenary will have a feast of reason and a flow of soul. There will be, no doubt, a large attendance. The valedictory of President Andrews will be one of the features of interest on commencement day.

TUSKALOOSA DISTRICT CONFERENCE.—Rev. James S. Coleman, presiding elder of Tuskaloosa district, North Alabama Conference, informs us that the time of holding the Tuskaloosa District Conference has been changed so as to embrace the fifth Sabbath in July, instead of the fourth Sabbath in August. The District Conference begins its session on Thursday, July 27. The change was made on account of the election.

Bro. John A. Peterson, of Milton, Fla., writing of the meeting at Milton, says: "The meeting at last [illegible] counts was going on with increasing interest and power. Some thirty or forty had been converted when I left. Not only did the meeting bless Milton, but I believe every preacher went home with the baptism of fire resting upon him."

We have received the announcement of Vanderbilt University, 1876-7. The total number of students in attendance in all departments this year is three hundred and seven. The pamphlet contains an account of the exercises on Founder's day, the addresses delivered by Bishop McTyeire and Chancellor Garland, and Prof. Lipscomb's [illegible]

I fear that I adore his comforts more than himself, and that I love the apple of life more than the tree of life.—Rutherford.

The New York Observer, writing the General Assemblies, South North, and the restoration of ndly relations, says:

Our reports of the General Assem-es, South and North, occupy much the paper this week. They are of greatest interest. The letter from nnah is specially important, owing the spontaneous character the fraternal movement in the thern body, as it was also in the se at Brooklyn. Both sides had e to the conclusion that it was e for a restoration of those friendly tions which the church of Christ uires, and the action in this it was unanimous in both Assem-s.

nd it is also pleasing to observe t the result in both Assemblies followed by the same demon-tions of sacred satisfaction, the nbers singing heartily the same ology, "Praise God, from whom blessings flow," and then resum-their usual business.

his ratification of the action by solemn service of acknowledging d as the author of the good work, sts the sincerity of the movement, gives the best evidence that, be-of God, it will result in the prog-of his kingdom.

We congratulate the Presbyterians the North and the South on this at event. The last remnant of the is buried, we hope, forever. Let now on all hands study things of ce. Let us put the armies of the d against the common foe, and quer this country for Christ. As od, let us stand shoulder to nlder in the field, and do our duty American Christians and breth-, knowing no North or South, for relations now are fraternal, and cause we love is one and the e.

etters from the South assure us the action of the two General emblies is hailed with great satis-ion by the churches. It is believed a new era of fraternal relations dawned, and that hereafter the n of harmony and brotherly love be supreme and perpetual.

ongratulations pour in upon us all quarters, and we remember o event since the reunion of the and the New Schools that has kened livelier emotions of satis-ion than this restoration of good ing between the Southern and thern General Assemblies.

housands of Christians in both rches already apprehend that y are no longer twain, but one it, and are devising liberal things, ch will attest the cordiality of nction.

HE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The hops at their late session appoint-a week of prayer to be observed oughout the connection, begin-g with the fast on Friday, Au-4.

We are indebted to the secretary, . Sprull e Burford, for a copy of Journal of the Thirty-Fifth An-nnoil of the Diocese of Lou-na, Protestant Episcopal Church.

MARRIED.

LEY—KEYS.—At the residence of Ed. Hamil-Esq., on the twenty-fifth of May, 1876, by the T H McClenahan, Mr. S. L. Alley to Miss A. Keys, all of Carroll parish, La.

NDLEY—BARNES.—On the eleventh of 1876, in the city of Montgomery, by Dr. A. S-ws, Rev. A. C. Handley, of the Alabama ference to Miss Anna R. Barnes.

IGHT—HARRETT.—At the residence of the's father, Capt. William Barrett, on Plains-June 8, by the Rev. J. H. Walker, John M. ght of Terrebonne parish, La., to Miss Maggie rrett, of this city. No cards.

Publisher's Department.

DVICE TO COTTON PLANTERS AND ers.—While you have the time, and before rsh of gathering and marketing the crop upon you thoroughly investigate the mer-the Complete Cotton Cleaner. In the early rs, which usually come to market "gin cut" pped," on account of being ginned green, re consequently graded down and depre-in value, this machine will pay for itself in days by drying the cotton, preparing it for in a light, breezy condition, thus enabling s to get more lint from the seed, to do easier, and in half the more work, and with less, than is now required to run the gins. It ghly removes all dust, dirt, sand, and most light trash from cotton before ginning, y improving the lint one to four grades, and ing the value one to four cents per pound, the same, thus saving great wear and tear gins.

old and well-known house of Frierson & Co., ondelet street, New Orleans, are agents for uch-needed and money-making machine, ll take pleasure in giving any desired in-tion, and furnishing testimonials from prac-planters who are using the Cleaner, and whereof they speak.

for price list and circular, and, in order to sure of getting a machine just when you t, send in your orders early.

TATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUB struction.—The above office is not polit-any party sense, and Mr. R. M. Lusher, fers himself as a candidate for the above n in a card to be found in our advertising ns, does so, as we understand, on purely fa-dent grounds, and seeks the support of his -citizens purely upon claims of moral, liter-nd intellectual fitness for the position. Mr. r has much experience in school matters is a good scholar, and is a man of unques-integrity and honor.

REAT JACKSON ROUTE.—We call ecial attention of travelers to the schedule of ove line. The sleeping car accommodations surpassed. The management of the road is ent. Col. Frost, who is continued in the gement, is an officer of great experience, model of prudence, promptness and energy, as assiduous care for the safety and com-passengers over the line. Col. A. B. Sheldon ell and gracefully the position of general agent. No one could do it better.

OSE who want to secure sewing nes of the best quality and practical utility erred to the advertisement of Messrs. Gruver er in another column. Their agency in this located at No. 5 Chartres street. H. H. Esq., will receive visitors with agreeable y, and show the machines and explain their with most patient care. See advertisement. ve him a call.

SITORS to the city would do well pect Navra & Offner's really fine stock of and glassware. See advertisement.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending June 10, 1876.

A—C G Andrews two letters $2, Philip Allen, A S Andrews $2, B W Adams, H Appleton & Co, J G Andrew $10, Ashley & Erichson.

B—Bourum & Pease, J M Banker, J W Burke & Co, A S Barnes & Co, W E Ballard $1.85, H F Beard, D P Bradford $10, Barnes & Wilkinson, J G Brown, Biglow & Main, W H Bennett $12.50, Horace Bishop.

C—T H Clelland, R M Crowson, John Church & Co two letters, James Carey, John F Collins, C H Chandler $2, L Carley 25 cents, S S Conner, A E Clay $28, Catching & Ainsworth $87.25, J Benjamin Chandler, H C Colomb, T H Casey, Mrs Laura A Colbert.

D—William H Dixon 75 cents, Charles T Dil-lingham two letters, S W Douglass $2.50, W J Ha-Lacey $16.65, W K Douglass, R A Davis.

E—J D Emack, Eagle Pencil Company, Eyrich & Co, John A Ellis $2.50, John W Ellison $12.50, M C Ewing $2.15.

F—W Foster, George T Freeman $2, Lewis R Featherston $11.

G—J W Gaulin, Thomas F Goode $31.50, H D Gayle $8.50, John Gibson, Joseph Gillott & Sons $15, L Gaskins $2, H Gwinner, Ed T Gooltwin $8.52, A L P Green.

H—W A Harris, William Headen & Co, R F Hartley 50 cents, James Hodder $5, G M Hamilton $2, Andrew Hunter, F S Hewes, J W Haskew $2.50, M C Hunter $2.50, C L Hoffman, Harper & Bros, Charles L Harris $1.25.

I—Ivisen, Blakeman, Taylor & Co, J W Irvin.

J—W T Jones, J R John $2, H F Johnson, John A H Jones $2.10, E T Josey.

K—J O Keener, S R Kelly $2.50, Sidney S Key, Miss Kate A Keys, Theodore R Kelly.

L—D C Langford $7.25, T H Lipscomb $2, Elias Longley, W H Lazenby $2, Morgan H Lodvey.

M—D M McCarroll, J McPerkins & Co, Mrs M C Monilon, M E McClure, C McDonald $4, Thomas A Magee $2.50, Lewis Mize $1.50, W S May, H A Musselman & Co, W W Muse, Joseph L Masterson $1.50, D McCree & Son, J Louis Moore, S W Montgomery, Thomas H McClendon H McCallen, J E Mason $6.95, M Marion, A D Miller, McFarland & Axon $83.25, J B McClelland, Jethro Moore.

N—Thomas Nelson & Sons, R D Norsworthy $2, H W Normont $4, Thomas N Norrell $2.50, Ed F Newman $10.75.

O—W P Owen $6, James Ormond, Dates & Warrall, W H Owen $2.50.

P—Potter, Ainsworth & Co, John Pipes, L Patterson, C A Powell, E Phillips $5.50, W H Padilo, $2.50, J R Peavey $11.50, W J Persell, Augustus Purdy, U H Phipps, R J Parker.

R—A H Retford agent five letters, W N Raines, Roberts & Bros, E F S Roberts, Bryce Rails, James S Rencher $2.40, A Richardson, J K Randall $18.10, A C Ramsey $1.25, J H Robertson $1, Mrs Mollie A Reynolds, R H Ross.

S—C Schneider, H L Selman two letters $2, C H Semmer & Co, H R Shepherd two letters $4, R T Sealy $50, N M Skipworth $2.50, Season Standard $1, Rev W T St John $3.50, H B Schuster $1.21, A A Simmons $5, S L Singletary $2, Smith, Dixon & Co, M B Sharbrough $1.60, Joshua F Scurlock, George S. Scofield, J L P Shepherd $11, Levi Spencer $2, Mrs. Sallie Simpson, John C Sattou, J H Sheffield $2.

T—Trenton Postmaster, Charles W Taylor Mrs H N Tyler $10.50, C W Thomas, T C Tubbs.

U—University Publishing Company.

V—M A Van Hook $2, G F Vickers.

W—J W Wissinger, W S Wade $4, W H Woodruff, William Wood & Co, J H Womack $5, P F Witherspoon, Wimberly & Bea, Mrs Alice A Wright, John P Wynn $5, R F Wilkerson, John N Wilkerson, Wilson, Hinkle & Co, Thomas Williams 75 cents, R R Wilson & Co, Wilkinson, Bros & Co, J M Weems $2.10.

Z—J H Zollin & Co $17.50.

GORDON FOOD.—Our neighbor, Samuel Mullen, Esq., has secured the agency for the above-named food, of the merits of which our readers may judge from the following extracts from persons capable of judging, viz:

Yonatt, in his last work on the horse, says:

This valuable compound is not a medicine, nor yet simply a nonsource, but a nutritious, wholesome food, that should be used regularly three times a day, all the year round. The ingredients composing this food are certain health-giving herbs, seeds and roots, which are obtained by animals that are scattered therefore almost herbivorous seeds and roots; being absolutely necessary for the best health, care should be taken not to neglect to feed each animal each time of feeding with a due proportion of the Gordon Food. A variety is necessary to the horse as it is to the man.

Life in the Field, London, England—the newspaper published in the world.

A New Era in Cattle Feeding Perfected.

At last we have secured a food prepared in Athens, Ga., at a price that will set aside all home productions. It appears Mr. Gerald Saunders, who recently sold the controlling interest in the North British Cattle Food Company, whose manufactory was burned to the ground, has, with characteristic energy, proved so beneficial during the cattle plague, is about to open factories at various points in the United States, to supply not only America, but Europe. We can answer for the success here, as the article is superior and cheaper than any spiced food manufactured in England. It is evident a purer food at a lower price can be produced in the United States than in England, as it is well known that all the ingredients composing these spiced foods are grown in America. We shall always feel an interest in the progress of this new undertaking, as we invested in the infancy of our old friends, The North British Cattle Food Company.

See advertisement elsewhere in our issue of to-day.

A CHOICE WATERING PLACE NEAR HOME.—Those who have visited Mount Springs, Ala., are very emphatic in asserting that it is one of the most pleasant public resorts they have ever visited. They speak in the very highest terms of Col. J. D. Towner, the proprietor, as an excellent caterer and an urbane gentleman. The air is invigorating, the waters restorative, and the invalid can enjoy quietude and comfort. Col. Towner has consummated arrangements by which passengers may obtain tickets from New Orleans to go and return for $27, good till November 1, 1876. This favorite watering-place is only fifteen hours' ride from New Orleans. If you go there we recommend the Jackson House.

THE MOBILE LINE has been particularly fortunate in securing as general passenger and ticket agent our much-esteemed friend, Maj. Samuel E. Carey, who has been for many years connected with the Great Jackson Route. The major is an accomplished gentleman, as well as a most popular railroad agent, and we do not think the Mobile road could have been more fortunate in its selection than to secure his services.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.—The Drs. Angell, at 152 Julia street, are experienced in pharmacy, and there is general preference given by those who know them well, to the medicines which they compound. We think they are conscientious, competent, cautious and clever, and recommend their medicines to those who adopt the homeopathic treatment. See advertisement headed "Homeopathic Specifics."

JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.—The testimonials from those who have been benefited by the Annihilator are not only numerous, but very explicit and strongly stated. We cannot for a moment doubt that those whose names are appended to certificates of its efficacy have been greatly relieved, and we have not hesitated to recommend it to those who are suffering.

GROCERIES.—We take pleasure in directing the attention of the city and country readers of our paper to the assortment of excellent groceries in the ample establishment of Mr. E. Petitory, corner of Enterpe and Dryades streets. Try his goods. They will be delivered in any part of the city free of charge.

LEVY BROS., 580 Magazine street, pay particular attention to country orders for dry goods.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LIEBIG'S LIQUID EXTRACT OF BEEF, in pint bottles, should be kept in every American home as a physician. It penetrates the stronghold of disease, and instantly begins the work of cure. Sold by all druggists.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENTS', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camps street, under City Hotel.
New Orleans, La.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,

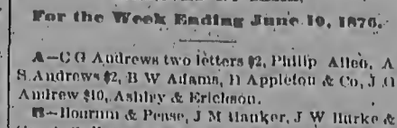
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

IT MAY be observed that no attempt is made to hunt up out-of-the-way or unknown places to find names to indorse Simmons' Liver Regulator:

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.
John W. Beckwith, Bishop of Georgia.
Gen. John B. Gordon, United States Senator.
Hon. John Gill Shorter, ex-Governor of Alabama.
Rev. David Wills, D. D., president of Oglethorpe College.
Bishop Pierce, of Georgia.
Hon. James Jackson (firm Howell Cobb & James Jackson) attorney at law, Macon, Ga.
John H. Cobb.
R. L. Mott, Columbus, Ga.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.



NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875,

AT 5:30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal-Hope street Depot:

DEPART.

Express	7:20 A. M.
Mail	5:30 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Express	11:30 P. M.
Mail	12:30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10:30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELTON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.

INDUCED by the demand, especially under existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved, by extensive experience, to be safe, generally successful, and peculiarly suited to family treatment. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions and general advice as to the treatment of the disease.

No. Nos.—
1. Fever.
2. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3. Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4. Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5. Whooping or Spasmodic Cough.
6. Asthma.
7. Diarrhea.
8. Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
9. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10. Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11. Worm Colic or Fever.
12. Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
13. Toothache, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache.
14. Sick Headache, Vertigo.
15. Sore Throat, Quinsy.
16. Ear Discharges, Deafness.
17. Sore Mouth, Thrush, Nursing Sore Mouth.
18. Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19. Kidney Affections, Gravel.
20. Suppressed, Scanty or Delaying Periods.
21. Profuse Periods, Prolapsus.
22. Painful Periods, Rolling, etc. 23. Piles.
24. Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Muscular Pains.
25. Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fetters, Erysipelas.
26. Sore or Weak Eyes.
27. Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28. Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29. Biliousness.
30. Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions or Weakness. 31. Chronic Congestion, Headache.
32. Disease of Heart, Palpitation etc.

Mailed free on receipt of price. Fifty cents each. Phosphorated Oxiters, and Chill Drops for Ague and Fever.

Agent for RANNING'S BRACES.

Agent for HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices as follows:

Twenty vials, plain case and book	$5 00
Twenty vials, morocco case and book	6 00
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book	10 00

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy,
152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

R. ANGELL, M. D., and S. M. ANGELL, M. D., Homeopathic Physicians.

State Superintendent of Public Education for Louisiana.

CARD.

THE UNDERSIGNED, who was honored by the suffrages of a large majority of the legal electors in the general State election of 1872, is a CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION as State Superintendent, at the similar election to be held in November, 1876. He respectfully solicits the moral influence and voluntary support of all honorable citizens of the State who are in favor of:

1. Reform and economy in the administration of the public school system.

2. A vigilant protection of the school funds from waste or embezzlement.

3. Equal facilities for the moral and mental instruction of all children in the State, by upright and competent teachers, under the guidance of directors who shall be responsible to the communities in whose behalf they act.

4. Schools, where and where feasible, for the training of apt pupils, of proper age, in a practical knowledge of the useful arts and trades; and

5. The prompt and punctual payment of teachers' salaries, and of all other legal and indispensable obligations of school directors.

ROBT. M. LUSHER.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR.

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND, for the permanent cure of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

1. From one to two bottles will cure any new attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
152 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents G. E. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

E. PETITORY,
FAMILY GROCERY,
COR. EUTERPE AND DRYADES STS.,
NEW ORLEANS.

Goods delivered free of charge.

LOUISIANA
PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY.
R. LUCKNER, SR.,
119 Magazine St. 119
(Up stairs.) NEW ORLEANS

BAND BOXES, with address, three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges except freight for $1.15 per dozen, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GORDON FOOD,
FOR HORSES, MULES & CATTLE,

CONCENTRATED, STRENGTHENING, INVIGORATING, PALATABLE AND RENOVATING.

A PREPARED FOOD.

It does not add to the ordinary cost of feeding, although producing the most admirable results, viz: Strong wind, fine appearance, good digestion, and a generally improved spirit.

Its continued use secures perfect health in HORSES, MULES AND CATTLE.

GORDON FOOD IS PACKED IN

Whole sacks, 100 pounds	$8 00
Half sacks, 50 pounds	4 00
Quarter sacks, 25 pounds	2 00

Sent to any address on receipt of price.

SAMUEL MULLEN,
SOLE AGENT.
DEPOT—59 HYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE DEPOT
MOVED TO
NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling imitations of our goods, repainting and painting up old Machines to make them look like new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above make can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.

BLOUNT SPRINGS.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN HEALTH AND PLEASURE RESORT.

DIRECTLY on the line of travel between this city and the Northeast, one hundred and thirty miles north of Montgomery, in the mountainous region of North Alabama. Passengers leaving the city on the 5:30 P. M. train for the East, by way of Mobile, Montgomery and Lindsville take dinner at the JACKSON HOUSE, Blount Springs, next day. Try a summer at this favorite resort where you get the best Mineral Water in America. Send for circular and circular.

Rates of Board—$2 per day; $10 per week; $40 and $50 per month.

Round trip tickets, $27—good until the first of November.

J. H. TOWNER, Proprietor.

FLUTING MACHINES.

Call and see them in operation or send for circular of work, size and rapidity of operation. Contain all the latest improvements and sell quicker than all other machines combined. Price of either style $40.00 including four feet of steam hose, tongs and box, sent with full working directions, on receipt of price to any address by AMERICAN MACHINE CO., Sole Manufacturers, 429 Walnut Street, PHILADELPHIA, Pa.

THIS PAPER IS KEPT ON FILE AT THE OFFICE OF,
N. W. AYER & SON ADVERTISING AGENTS,
733 SANSOM ST., PHILADELPHIA,
Who are our authorized agents, and will receive Advertisements at our LOWEST CASH RATES.

CANE AND SORGHUM
MACHINERY
A SPECIALTY.

Evaporators, Patent of 1876.

Superior to all others, and cheaper.

Send for catalogue, free. Address

S. S. CONNOR,
AMITE CITY, LA.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 298.

FREE! FREE!

10,000

E. BUTTERICK & CO.'S

CATALOGUES

CONTAINING THE

LATEST SUMMER FASHIONS.

Just received and ready for distribution. Mailed to any address upon application to

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,
91 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

RAWLEY SPRINGS,
IN THE MOUNTAINS OF THE
Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

THE strongest known CHALYBEATE WATER in the United States, and possessing the highest medicinal virtues, both Tonic and Alterative. The elevated location, pure atmosphere, romantic walks, rugged scenery, the tennis and ten-pin alleys, the amusements and comforts provided, and the attention paid to guests in its three large Hotels, connected together by wide and spacious covered ways, all contribute to render OLD RAWLEY a favorite resort alike to the invalid and the pleasure-seeker.

For photographic views, for pamphlets and information apply to

ALBERT G. PHELPS, Grocer,
Cor. Prytania and Felicity Sts.
5p

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 137 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFERING
OF PARASOLS!
THIS DAY,
AT DANZIGER'S,

203.....CANAL STREET.....203

Bet. Burgundy and Rampart, and

NOS. 228 AND 230 ROYAL STREET,

Corner St. Philip.

20,000 PARASOLS, bought at a large bankrupt sale in New York, will be sold at less than half of importation cost. All NEW, FRESH GOODS.

We beg to call particular attention to these Parasols and offer:

Children's Percale Parasols at 25 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk fluted, at 50 cts.
Children's Silk Parasols, silk lined, with fringes, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Silk Centennial Parasols at 50 cts.
Ladies' Silk Parasols, ruffled, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Summer Pets, in silk lined, at 60 cts.
Ladies' Black Silk Ruffled Parasols, silk lined, for mourning and half mourning, at $1.25.
Ladies' extra size Silk Parasols, silk lined, at $1.50.
Ladies' Tourist Parasols, silk, silk fluted, with Fern covering, at $2.50. Very stylish and new.
And a great many other novelties in Parasols, Half Umbrellas, etc., all at less than one-half the importation cost, at

DANZIGER'S,
201 Canal street,
And 228 and 230 Royal street.

OFFICE OF THE
American Cotton Tie Co.,
LIMITED,
47 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN
IRON COTTON TIES,
Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SHIELD TIE.
HEARD & ARROUS LOCK TIE.
BRANCH CHOOVES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interest of Messrs. Heard & Bro., and Branch, Crooker & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED). The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tait, Ogden & Bell,
Upton & Boyd, Archer & Borland,
William Upton, D. L. Rankel & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited),
R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

CENTENNIAL HYMN.

AS SUNG at the Opening Concert given in Philadelphia. Words by Whittier. Music by J. K. Paine. In 4 parts, for Mixed Voices. Price in Sheet Music form, 30 cents. In octavo form, for Choruses, 10 cents. No celebration this year will be complete without the singing of this magnificent hymn.

Centennial Machinery, Horticultural, Memorial and Centennial March, seven sheets. Washington's Old Guard and New Recruits March. Martha Washington's Waltz. Waltz and Minuet Quote. Grand March for Dancing Masters. Centennial Waltzes, by Eugene Cowles. And Grobe's Medley of National Airs. All leave spoken of. Centennial Edition, and the best of music.

Centennial Collection of National Songs! An elegant and attractive volume. It contains the National Songs of this and twelve other countries in their correct form for Solo or Choir singing. In Paper, 75 cts.; Boards, $1.00.

Good News! Charming new Good News! Good News! Song Book for Good News!

Carmina Collegensia! Price, 50 cts. $5.00 per dozen. New, the largest collection. All the famous College Songs, forming the wittiest, most entertaining, musical and classical collection of social songs and glees for social singing ever brought together.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Success to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, ETC.

1,000 LBS KALSOMINE, assorted colors, ready for use.
100 cases R. Bell & Co.'s Pure Mixed PAINTS, ready for use.
100 cases assorted COLORS, in oil.
75 tons pure WHITE LEAD, in Kegs and cans.
15 tons French and American ZINC PAINT.
150 barrels DRY COLORS, assorted.
50 barrels LINSEED and LARD OIL.
10 barrels MINERAL SPERM OIL, 45 deg.
5 barrels HEADLIGHT OIL, 175 deg.
100 cases FRATUS PETROLEUM OIL, 150 deg.
25 barrels best VARNISH, assorted.
1,000 boxes French and American WINDOW GLASS. For sale by
SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
70 Magazine street.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,
OCULIST,
14 DAUPHINE STREET 14
NEW ORLEANS
Office hours from 10 to 3. 5p

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Complaints—product of our Swamps—is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is delicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase. Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 116 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Tonic infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever, etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES
NO. 135 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., in bulk done at the lowest possible prices on application to

HENRY UHOFF,
135 Camp street.

WANTED. All persons who have read my double column advertisement in this paper, describing the Steam Washer, or Woman's Friend, to send for new terms. 500,000 have been sold. J. C. TILTON, Pittsburg, Pa.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, billious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my guidance requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5pte

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden, and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. No drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment; for fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Ask the recovered dyspeptics, billious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my guidance requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5pte

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF
Crockery, China, Glassware
CUTLERY, PLATED WARE
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS
IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for $30 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for 6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 120 pieces, for 14 50
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces for 3 75
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 3 50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for 6,00

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also, the celebrated BUTTER CHURN, warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes. All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Bath Tubs.

Orders from the country will receive our best attention.

NAYRA & OFFNER,
129 Canal street, New Orleans.
5p

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines, etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles
OF
LADIES' DRESSES,
IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, fac-similes of the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by
MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
No. 90 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

BOOTS AND SHOES
AT
578.....MAGAZINE STREET.....578
Opposite the Magazine Street Market,
(Sign of the Lady's Boot.) New Orleans.

BRANCH STORE, 585 MAGAZINE STREET, Corner of St. Andrew.

Has opened with a fresh stock of Boots and Shoes at the very lowest prices.

This is the greatest Boot and Shoe House in the south, where Boots, Shoes and Hats can be purchased at THE LOWEST PRICES,—Cheaper than the Cheapest. A call is all that is asked to convince any one that this is the cheapest and best place to purchase Boots, Shoes and Hats in the South.

Parties at a distance from New Orleans can take their own measure and purchase their Boots or Shoes by mail with the aid of our Card of Measurement. Send for card and get one.

We manufacture all descriptions of Boots, Shoes and Hatters at the very lowest prices. All work warranted to be of the best material.

LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE
OF THE
FOURTH DISTRICT,
595.....MAGAZINE ST.....595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,
AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,
Jary & Blousse, Proprietors.

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES.—Rev. H. F. Johnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box F, Little Rock, Ark.

ADOLPH FINCK,
(Formerly with N. Burke.)
FAMILY GROCERY STORE,
COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CARRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 340 Delord street.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Prices of Short-Horns.

In speaking of the extravagant prices now paid for thoroughbred short-horns, the Detroit Free Press says:

From comparative tables of the results of short-horn cattle sales, during the past year, in Great Britain and America, it appears that the total amounts realized at these sales were almost the same for both countries. The returns refer only to the sales of "pedigree short-horns"—that is to say, of animals inscribed in the herd-book, which is for cattle what the stud book is for the turf, and from them we learn that, while the 65 sales held in Great Britain yielded a total of $1 140,440; the first 75 sales in America amounted to $1,0 3 950. Each of the American sales amounted, upon an average, to $17,500, as against $17,480 for each of the English sales. The 2,589 short-horns sold in America averaged $395 each, and the 2 599 sold in Great Britain $435 each. The largest total realized at any one sale was $214 596, for which 84 animals belonging to a Lincolnshire farmer were disposed of in September. The highest price given at this sale was $10 800, and the average for the whole lot was $2 550. Still more remarkable was a sale held in Scotland a week previously, when 35 animals, the property of Lord Dunmore, sold for $131,115. This gives an average of $3 360 for each animal, one of which went for $22,500. At a third sale 31 animals sold for more than $50,000, and several others took place at which the total was over $35 000, and the average over $1 000. The most successful sale held in America was that at which 83 short-horns brought $92 680, with an average of $2 015 for the whole number, one of them reaching $16 125. At two other sales in America totals of rather more than $50,000 were obtained for 35 and for 33 lots, the average in the two cases being slightly over and under $1,500. These figures may be left to speak for themselves, but it is impossible to avoid the suspicion that thoroughbred cattle are bringing prices equal to what a Derby winner would have won a few years ago.

Shoeing Horses.

A writer in the New York Herald states some facts about how horses should be shod, which are worthy the consideration of blacksmiths and farmers as well:

Most of the horseshoers of the country prepare the foot, fit a shoe and secure it to the hoof in the same manner that a wood butcher fits a shoe to an old wood or ox sled. The mechanism of a horse's hoof is one of the most wonderful and ingenious structures that can be found in all the works of the Creator. Beneath and in the rear of every foot there is a frog, which is a tough and elastic pad for preventing injury to the animal whenever he plants his foot on any hard substance. Large rolls or cylinders of India rubber are placed beneath railroad cars to prevent injury to any part of the car, or to the cargo with which it is loaded. The frog beneath the foot of a horse is designed to subserve a similar purpose. But the manner in which most horses are shod hits them up as it were on short stilts, so that the frogs cannot perform their appropriate functions. If we look carefully at a young horse when he is trotting or running it will be perceived that every foot is brought down to the ground in such a manner that the frog receives the powerful blow. By this means all injury to the animal is avoided. Science teaches us to permit the frog to develope and expand downward. But most blacksmiths seem to think that the all wise Creator made a mistake when he formed the hoofs of horses. Hence they fall at the frogs with red-hot burning irons, with edge tools, and with any other appliances that will enable them to remove this extraneous excrescence. Illustrious ninnies! Why, not shave all the rough, hideous osseous beneath their own heels, and leave the bare bones to rest on plates of iron inside of their own boots and shoes?

BLACK TOOTH IN SWINE.—The American Swine Journal says: Black tooth, so called, or swine, is sometimes caused by mechanical injury to teeth, received by chewing the dry and hard kernels of corn. The ailment consists in a state of decay of the tooth caries. Such decayed teeth may be removed by the same instrument as a dentist would apply to one's own tooth under similar circumstances. The symptoms of tooth ache in swine are similar to those exhibited by mankind, viz.: loss of appetite, salivation or slobbering, hanging the head, mostly to the side which is affected, peevishness, loss of all fear of man, and hot, repulsive breath. When hogs are fed on strongly acidulated food for any length of time their teeth may become discolored; but it is a question whether the teeth at the same time are materially injured. So long as no decay or diminution of their substance can be noticed, and while the appetite and chewing faculties of the animal do not appear diminished, no interference will be necessary.

USES OF RAWHIDE.—The skin of an animal, whether cow, calf, colt or horse, that dies on the farm, is worth more at home than at the tanner's. Cut into narrow strips, and shave off the hair with a sharp knife before the kitchen fire, or in your work shop, on stormy days and evenings. You may make them soft by rubbing. A rawhide halter-strap, an inch wide, will hold a horse better and last longer than an inch rope. It is stronger than hoop iron and more durable, and may be used to hoop dry casks and boxes, and for hinges. Try it on a broken thill, or any woodwork that has been split. Put it on wet, and nail it fast. Thin skins make the best bag-string in the world. A rawhide rope is a good substitute for a chain. It is valuable to mend a broken link in a trace chain. For some purposes it is best to use it in its natural state. For other purposes it may be dressed soft. Vermont Chronicle.

A correspondent of the Western Rural says: "I discovered many years ago that wood could be made to last longer than iron in the ground, but thought the process so simple and inexpensive that it was not worth while making any stir about it. I would as soon have poplar, basswood or quaking ash as any other kind of posts. I have taken out basswood posts, after they have set seven years, that were as sound when taken up as when they were first put in the ground. Time and weather seem to have no effect on them. The posts can be prepared for less than two cents apiece. For the benefit of others I will give you the recipe. Take boiled linseed oil and stir in it pulverized charcoal to the consistency of paint. Put a coat of this over the timber, and there is not a man that will live to see it rot."

The London Grocer says the eggs brought to the Paris market are verified by agents appointed by the administration, who are called "mireurs compteurs," and the eggs are submitted to three operations—first, counting to verify the number of eggs in the panniers; passing them through rings to test their size and value; and final inspection, to separate the clean and fresh eggs from those stale or addled. Small eggs in the markets of Paris are those which will pass through a ring of four centimeters. Hence French egg merchants have rings of different sizes to try eggs.

HASTE AND HEALTH.—It is not at all wholesome to be in a hurry. Locomotives have been reported to have moved a mile a minute for short distances. But locomotives have often come to grief for such great rapidity. Multitudes in their haste to get rich are ruined every year. The men who do things masterly, slowly, deliberately, are the men who oftenest succeed in life. People who are habitually in a hurry generally have to do things twice over. The tortoise beats the hare at last. Slow men seldom knock their brains out against a post. Foot-races are injurious to health, as are all forms of competitive exercises; steady labor in the field is the best gymnasium in the world. Either labor or exercise, carried to exhaustion or prostration, or even great tiredness, expressed by "fagged out," always does more harm than the previous exercise has done good. All running up stairs, or to catch up with a vehicle or ferryboat is extremely injurious to every age, sex and condition in life. It ought to be the most pressing necessity which should induce a person over fifty to run over twelve or fifteen yards. Those live longest who are deliberate, whose actions are measured, who never embark in any enterprise without sleeping over it, and who perform all the every-day acts with kindness. Quakers are proverbially calm, quiet people; and they are a thrifty folk the world over.

A poisonous place—A bowling wilderness.

MISCELLANEOUS.

OCEAN SAW MILL.

W. G. TOOMER (late of Palmer & Toomer,) SUPERINTENDENT.

LUMBER shipped up or down the Mississippi river can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and save leakage by extra handling. Large orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Walnut, Oak, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar LUMBER AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge Timber and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths. P. O. Box 98. Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. Cable address TOOMER.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL MAKER,

107 ..... POYDRAS STREET. 107

Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions. Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other work to any line made to order at shortest notice and lowest prices. J. C. MILLER. No. 107 Poydras street.

JOHN S. TWOMEY,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

COR. MAGAZINE AND PHILIP STS.

Goods delivered free of charge to all parts of the city.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,

DEALER IN ICE.

No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

631 ..... MAGAZINE ST. 631

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Lounges cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS,

J. H. & A. J. HINSON, PROPRIETORS,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES. No. 1 at ½c. per pound, No. 2 at ¼c. per pound. Address all orders for empty sacks to P. O. Box 206.

WILLIAM F. WAGNER,

GENERAL COOPERAGE,

13 ..... NORTH FRONT ST. 13

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and Bolting articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plastering Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay, Paving, Building, Country and Arch Bricks, English and Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small White Spirits Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Tar, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART, 15 Gravier street, and 259 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin Sts.

INSURANCE.

TENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

FACTORS' & TRADERS' INSURANCE CO.,

37 ..... CARONDELET STREET 37

NEW ORLEANS, May 18, 1876.

The Trustees in conformity with the charter of the Company, publish the following statement of its affairs for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1876, to wit:

Premiums for the year—
On Fire risks	$330,051 30
On River risks	283,602 49
On Marine risks	46,805 03
		$660,654 82
Less—
Unterminated premiums, 1875	$86,550 00
Return premiums	11,021 21—	97,583 21
Net earned premiums		$563,071 61
Losses paid:
On Fire risks	$66,731 24
On River risks	191,653 85
On Marine risks	19,593 67
Total	$277,478 76
Reinsurance	36,233 84
Rebate account	14,046 43
State and City Taxes and Licenses	55,188 91
New Orleans Board of Underwriters	3,549 05
Gross general expenses	11,558 39
		$436,355 37
Balance		$126,716 24
Add Interest and discount and savings		108,285 52
		$241,001 76
Less first semi-annual interest paid on capital stock, five per cent., and second now due, five per cent.		110,000 00
Net profits		$131,001 76
Reserved		34,000 00
Balance divided on net premiums		$97,001 76

The Company have the following assets:

Cash on hand	$378,831 71
Accounts in course of collection	41,623 95
Bills receivable on pledge	485,851 21
Bills receivable for premiums	28,894 59
Bank and other stocks	257,448 16
City and other bonds	165,261 38
Bonds of Masonic Grand Lodge	5,000 00
Bonds of Odd-Fellows' Hall Association	5,000 00
Bonds of Association for relief of Jewish Widows and Orphans	2,000 00
Real estate	75,8 5 83
Total	$1,38 ,455 40

The foregoing is a true and correct statement from the books of the Company.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
THOS. E. WALKER, Secretary.

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-eighth day of May, 1876.

EDWARD IVY, Notary Public.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the eighteenth instant, it was resolved, to pay on demand a semi-centennial interest of FIVE PER CENT. to April 30, 1876, making ten per cent. per annum on the capital stock of the Company ($1,000,000) and a cash dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. to stockholders on the amount ($181,251 75) of their net participating premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
MOSES GREENWOOD, Vice President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

W. A. Johnson,	W. C. Raymond,
John T. Noble,	T. Lyle Lyon,
John Chalfe,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Boyd,
J. Hoffman,	Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Tucker,	E. B. Wheelock,
Samuel Friedlander,	Cyrus Bussey,
A. A. Yates,	Wm. A. Behan,
John L. Adams,	R. F. Eshleman,
Isaac Seiferth,	Wm. C. Black,
R. J. Walmsley,	Charles Challe,
A. H. May,	L. C. Aubrey,
	Wm. Hartwell.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 ..... CARONDELET STREET 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all lawful claims.

A. CHAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan,	H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy,	A. Cuppella,
R. Saliby,	J. Bayle,
H. Labbosse,	A. R. Brossean,
	A. Bonneaze.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS SAVINGS INSTITUTION.

150 ..... CANAL STREET. 150

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS,

DAVID PRODHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KELSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke,	John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds,	Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison,	Carl Kohn,
A. Moulton,	T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey,	David Urquhart.

Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK

AND

SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

F. D. CONERY,	FREDK WING,
J. B. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. H. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

20 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FERTILIZERS:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Hope XXX, Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX, Grangers' Best XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar sections.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

274 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

INSURANCE.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

Crescent Mutual Insurance COMPANY.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 20, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity to the amended charter, submit the following statement of the affairs of the Company on the thirtieth of April, 1876:

Fire premiums	$250,006 26
Marine premiums	3 ,388 97
River premiums	114,813 26—	$353,308 49
Earned premiums, less reinsurance and return premiums		284,357 46
Losses paid and estimated, including all known and unpaid:
On fire	$56 980 10
Marine	18,918 58
On river	71 471 90—	$147,380 58
Taxes, expenses, rebate in lieu of participation, less interest, discount, etc.		83,728 11— 231,116 69
Leaving, after paying ten per cent. in cash, interest on capital stock, profits		$52,238 79

The Company have the following assets

Bills receivable	$53,728 78
Loans on bond and mortgage	56,443 33—	$110 772 11
Loans on pledge at call	$120 711 37
Cash	67,388 04—	188,099 41
Real estate		123,031 42
City bonds, bank and other stocks		136,161 60
Premiums in course of collection		27,624 77
Total assets		$585,098 71

The above statement is a true and correct transcript from the books of the Company.

THOS. A. ADAMS, President.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-eighth day of May, 1876.

WM. H. HOLMES,
Second Justice of the Peace, Parish of Orleans.

The Board of Trustees resolved that, after paying the annual interest of ten per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, a dividend of TWENTY PER CENT be paid in cash on and after the twelfth day of June next, to those parties insuring with the Company entitled to receive the same.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	Edward Pilsbury,
Sam'l B. Newman,	John E. King,
Sam'l H. Kennedy,	Fred'k Camerden,
John Phelps,	J. L. Harris,
Adam Thoms, jr.,	Andrew Stewart,
Henry Avegham,	Joseph Soule,
P. N. Strong,	Jacob G. Martin,
Victor Meyers,	Alfred Moulton,
Joseph Bowling,	L. C. Jurey,
Edward J. Gay,	Edward Valle,
John M. Sandidge,	George W. Spofford,
Simon Hernsheim,	A. Levi,
Simon Forchheimer,	John Brimson,
Joseph H. Wolfe,	Wm. H. Shillitoe,
R. B. Post,	John V. Moore,
	Paul E. Mortimer.

HIBERNIA INSURANCE COMPANY.

OFFICE—NO. 37 CAMP ST.

JOHN HENDERSON, President.
P. IRWIN, Vice President.
THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.

Earnings		$213,1 3 60
Losses Paid		73,711 66
Net Profits		68,18 60

At an election held on Monday, the 21st inst., the following-named gentlemen were chosen Directors of this Company to serve for the ensuing year:

P. Irwin	John Henderson,
Thomas King,	John G. Gaines,
Thomas Gilmore,	W. J. Castell,
John T. Gibbons,	James A. Gardner,
William Hoyt,	Emile Gaudet,
David Jackson, jr.,	John H. Harris,
	P. J. Gassiott.

And at a meeting of the Board, held May 3, JOHN HENDERSON, President, P. IRWIN, Vice President, and THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary, were all unanimously re-elected.

The Board declared out of the net profits of the Company for the past twelve months 10 per cent. interest; also 1 per cent. dividend on the paid-up capital, and 25 per cent. dividend on premiums paid by stockholders, making, with the rebate, 35 per cent. on premiums. Said interest and dividends to be placed to the credit of the stock notes.

Interest and dividends on full-paid stock paid on and after June 1st proximo.

THOS. F. BRAGG, Secretary.

NEW ORLEANS, May 12, 1876.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital	$80,000 00
Assets at their market value	632,857 36
Income for the year 1875	621,989 94

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HICKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merilli	A. M. Bickham,
Placide Forstall,	A. Schreiber,
H. Gally,	J. Tuyes,
Charles Laitre	W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen,	D. Patio,
Pierre Pontz,	H. D. Rogers.

MISCELLANEOUS

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer For a Short Time Only.

We will send, postpaid, free, to each new subscriber of the "NEW YORK WEEKLY MONITOR," a magnificent CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL MEDAL (in fancy box,) struck in Alloyed Pure Silver, larger than a silver trade dollar. A high relief design. Price, 50 cents each. The AGENTS' MONITOR is a handsome, spicy 8-page paper. Subscription price, 25 cents a year. Send 25 cents, and you will receive the AGENTS' MONITOR for one year, postpaid, and the above fine premium. Address

PENTON PUBLISHING CO.,
126 Broadway, New York.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

H. CASSIDY,

SAIL-MAKER,

AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,

No. 93 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.

ESTABLISHED IN 1838.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS, etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

FAVORITE SONGS

New Collection of Sacred Music, by the Christies, for singing classes and congregations. Prof. Melnotte of the Vanderbilt University, says it is the best book of the kind. Price 60 cts. by mail. Specimen free to clergymen. Address R. W. Carroll & Co., Cincinnati, O.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

"Every Piano in America Should be Graced by a Copy."

$5,000!

—IN GOLD—

WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committees

FOR

RICHARD WAGNER'S

Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.

Now Arranged for Piano by

THEODORE THOMAS.

(Played by his Orchestra nightly.)

And Published by

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI, O.

Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

Struck in solid Albata Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade Dollar, being 1½ inches in diameter, handsomely put up and sell readily at sight. The most valuable souvenir and Memorial ever issued. A complete outfit of the most elegant samples for a cash in advance of $1. Circulars free, including the Bust of "George Washington," Grand Entrance International Exhibition Memorial Hall, Art Gallery, Horticultural Hall, Main Building, and the grand representation of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, displayed by Triumph! Is sent by mail on receipt of draft or postal-key order for $1.00 or will ship by express, C. O. D. upon receipt of express charges. Agents' circulars and prices in Cash and Canvassing, sent upon receipt of 50 cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Extensive fields for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P. O. Box 3270. NEW YORK.

THAT MAGIC NAME!—

LIVINGSTONE!

Kindles the enthusiasm of the world wherever heard. AGENTS WANTED everywhere, to sell his complete Life and Explorations, and Last Journals. 650 pages. Only $2.50. Proof, 10 cts. Terms, facts, and our special Illustrated circular, that tells why any other book, sent free. Write at once, or, if in haste, send 75 cts. for full outfit, postpaid, and you can be at work in your field. Address, quickly, as we expect a rush, J. C. McCURDY & CO., 616 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Shuey's Safety Guard is worth all the Rats at Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sil ver plated sample prepaid on receipt of 50 cents. Address A. D. SHUEY, 148 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$250 A MONTH.—Agents wanted everywhere. Goods in home demand. Lists free. Photographers send Free. A Circular. J. WORTHAM & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED for the DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITIES

A new work by Dr. Wm. Smith and 77 others, being a complete history of the Old and New Testament and the Early Church, 1,000 Engravings. It examines every subject, city, person, event, article, word or thing pertaining to the Church and Christianity, of which nothing of account is left. Agents report 5 to 20 orders a day. One sold 17 first day. Price $5.00. Agents wanted for this and other valuable works. Circulars with terms free. Address SUNDAY-SCHOOL PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

CENTENNIAL BOOK OF BIOGRAPHY

of the great men of the

FIRST 100 YEARS OF OUR INDEPENDENCE.

The book of the period. Everybody wants to read their lives at this grand season. AGENTS WANTED. Address Hallock & Jaynes, Cincinnati, O. Also for our Bible. Everybody buys it. The great business of the year. Send for circular. P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa. and Chicago, Ill.

WANTED AGENTS for the GREAT CENTENNIAL UNIVERSAL HISTORY

To the close of the first 100 years of our National Independence, including an account of the opening Grand Centennial Celebration. 750 pages, fine engravings, low price, quick sales, large profits. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 616 Olive street, St. Louis Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Shuey's Safety Guard is worth all the Rats at Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Silver plated sample prepaid on receipt of 50 cents. Address A. D. SHUEY, 148 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

MISCELLANEOUS

TO THE PUBLIC.

A CERTAIN PARTIES is advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "Chesterfield Manufacturing Co. Perique Tobacco" at Grand Point, St. James parish. I would respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

Of the following manufacturers of Grand Point, viz:

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
ATHUSPAVE ROUSSEL,
E. ST. PEERE,
And many others.

EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 19 Gould street.

RICE BROS. & CO.,

80 AND 91 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,

NAILS AND CUTLERY,

Tinners' Stock and Tools,

AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

The Charter Oak Stoves.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, The undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN BOIS,

Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents wanted to sell a Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

MEDICAL.

DUCONGE'S PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, well-established virtue and its high reputation in all ailments of the Chest, Lungs, Breast and Throat is so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it would be superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach or Lungs, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all Pulmonatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Dyspepsia or Hysentery and Summer Complaints, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, for want of proper care, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on consumption, it has been found most efficacious in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of curing by truly extraordinary medicine has, over most compounds of the same nature, the decided advantage that, owing to its agreeable flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, as it requires no particular diet. It is also the cheapest, not only because the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar concentration this Sirup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families whenever needed by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Sirup. Grown persons can take from four to six spoonfuls in the course of the day, either pure or diluted in a little water, or a less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night can take two tablespoonfuls of the Sirup on going to bed, when it will stop the cough and procure a night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three or four hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 39 Chartres st.
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint,

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, contains no Lead, Sulphur or other compounds which are injurious to the Hair or Poisonous by Absorption.

And in use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month or oftener, will dye Whiskers, Mustaches or the Hair of any natural color, being so perfectly assumed as to defy detection. It is great treasure against the graduation of tint, producing any desired shade, from light brown to the deepest black and instantaneously removes all the dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair or spots that have become bare and restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary when using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, One Dollar, by the Inventor and proprietor.

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2310. New York.

Wholesale Agents—C. C. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finley & Co., New Orleans, La.; Wheelock & Co., New Orleans, and for Safety by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt

Celebrated Centennial Carrier of Electricity Around the Body, and cures all diseases of the Nervous System, Loss of Vital Force, Premature Decline, Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Torpidity of the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Complaints, Functional Derangements, Paralysis and Neuralgia, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaint and Exhausted Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE

After all Other Remedies have Failed.

It is endorsed by the most Eminent Physicians and Scientists, and thousands that are living it, and have been restored to health, give testimony to its great curative power. Pamphlets and circulars forwarded on application or receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

Mention this paper.

PRICES FROM $6 AND UPWARD.

MISCELLANEOUS.

M. H. APPLEGATE,

PLUMBER,

AND DEALER IN

Cooking Ranges and Boilers,

Bath Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Wash Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Air Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Bressed and Plated Corks of all Patterns.

116 Poydras St., New Orleans.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS.

GIROD ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND DRYADES, NEW ORLEANS.

JOS. A. SHAKSPEARE. A. SMITH.

SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

Manufacture every variety of Steam Engines, Sugar Mills, Saw Mills, Draining and Centrifugal Machines, Mill and Gin Gearing, Gas or Electric Light Fronts, Awnings and Ventilators, Blacksmith work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY.

500 MAGAZINE STREET.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.

CHOICE FRUIT SYRUPS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh every day. Assorted and Home-Made Cakes. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., Refitted and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families Ice Cream by quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

BLACKMAN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 ..... CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the College. For terms, which have been reduced [illegible] cost, send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET. 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.

FLOOR OILCLOTHS—English and American.

MATTINGS—500 rolls White, Check and Fancy.

WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.

FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.

HEARTHRUGS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

McKENDRICK,

PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER,

623 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 623

Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials, Bath Tubs, Pumps, Hose, Brass Finishings, etc. Paints ready for use. Agent for the New Departure Elevated Oven Range, and Hearth and Home Cooking Stoves.

Scientific.

THE HISTORY OF ZERO.—Zero, on common thermometer, like the ...iful names of the constellations, ...curious instance of the way wise ...'s errors are made immortal by ...aling popular. It may be worth ...le to stop and say that the word ...f, "zero," comes to us through the ...nish from the Arabic, and means ...oly—hence nothing. In expres... like "90° Fahr," the abbrevia... Fahr. stands for Fahrenheit, a ...ssian merchant of Dantzic on ...shores of the Baltic sea. His ...name was Gabriel Daniel Fah...heit.

...m a boy he was a close observer ...nature, and when only nineteen ...s old, in the remarkably cold ...ter of 1690, he experimented by ...ing snow and salt together, and ...ed that it produced a degree of ...l equal to the coldest day of that ... As that day was the coldest ... the oldest inhabitant" could ...ember, Gabriel was the more ...ck with the coincidence of his ...e scientific discovery, and hastily ...luded that he had found the low... degree of temperature known in ...world; either natural or artificial. ...alled that degree zero, and con...ted a thermometer, or a rude ...ther-glass, with a scale graduated ...from zero to the boiling-point, ...ch he numbered 212.

...me showed that this arrange..., instead of being truly scien..., was as arbitrary as the division ...e Bible into verses and chapters, ...that these two points no more ...esented the real extremes of tem...ture than "from Dan to Beer...a" expressed the exact extremes ...alestine.

...n Fahrenheit's thermometer had ...widely adopted, with its incon...ient scale; and, as it happened, ...thought of any better form un...ls name became an authority. ... Fahrenheit finally abandoned ...e, and gave himself to science. ...n habit made people cling to the ...blished scale, as habit makes the ...lish cling to their old system of ...brous fractional money.

...r nation began to use Fahren...'s thermometer about the mid... of the last century, or not far ... the time when "Old Style" ... exchanged for "New Style" in ...wring of dates.

...e three countries which use ...renheit are Holland, England and ...erica. Russia and Germany use ...ius's thermometer, in which ...boiling-point is counted 80 degrees ...e freezing point. France uses the ...grade" thermometer, so called ...use it marks the boiling point ...hundred degrees from freezing-...t.

...many accounts the centigrade ...m is the best, and the triumph ...nvenience will be attained ...n zero is made the freezing-point, ...when the boiling-point is put ...r 200 degrees from it, and all the ...ivisions are fixed decimally.

...Fahrenheit had done this at ...r even if he had made it one at ...many improvements, after the ...e adopted his error, the luck of ...rmity, which was really his, ...d have secured to his invention ...patronage of the world.

GULF STREAM HEAT.—Simon ...comb's review of "Croll's Cli... and Time," in the American ...rnal of Science and Arts for ..., says:

"The influence of the Gulf Stream ...modifying the climate of north...rn Europe receives especial at...tion, and his views of this influ...e seem quite well grounded. We ... supposed the view that the ...m and equable climate of that ...on was due to the Gulf Stream ...e one universally held, although ...one had attempted to render it ...sible by an actual calculation of ...amount of heat conveyed by that ...am. This calculation Mr. Croll ...s made, and having reduced his ...stimate of the volume of the ...am to one-half, in deference to ...ews of some of his opponents, ...hows that the amount of heat ...ally conveyed away by the ...am is equal to the whole amount ...ch a belt of earth sixty-four ...s broad, extending all round the ...tor, receives from the sun. We ...e the quantity a little less, but ...quivalent to more than the total ...unt of heat which falls on a mill... of square miles at the equator. ...ing all allowances for the uncer...inties of these data, and for the ...that only one of the two branches ...e Gulf Stream passes over to ...estern Europe, it must be ad...ed that the quantity of heat ...le that region receives from the ...Stream is not an inconsiderable ...ion of that which it receives ...the sun."

MISCELLANEOUS.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

& Second-Hand Furniture.

...niture bought, sold and exchanged. Now on ...the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., ...en Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's ..., for the purpose of taking Furniture on ... at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing ...ncling promptly attended to.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

...gs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF ...ENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

...r. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

...rietor of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

PERFECT WINDOWS A SPECIALTY

Estimates and Samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

THE BATHS:

NO. 108 CONTI STREET

...SIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tues...Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 ... to 12 M. For Gentlemen, from 12 M. to 6 P. M. ...ser and Fresh Water Baths at all hours ...day. Public and special ablutions to guests. J. KLOCK.

$5 to $20 Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 11 Nassau ...eet, New York.

BUSINESS CARDS.

FIRST-CLASS

Fancy and Staple Groceries

SOLD AT

JAMES CLARKE'S,

Cor. of Magazine and Seventh Sts.

Teas, Coffees and Flour. Butter and Cheese a specialty. Goods delivered in any part of the city without extra charge.

EDWARD NALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.

NALLE & CAMMACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

No. 103 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL.....COAL.....COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

108 Common St., opposite City Hotel,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

THOMAS OWEN,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

CHOICE TEAS, ETC.

Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.

Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—87 PER 1,000 FEET,

AT

J. L. NEVERS',

SUCCESSORS TO

J. C. PODLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

NO. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Snedlogs and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

16 Tchoupitoulas Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all descriptions of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WOOD.....COAL.....LUMBER.

NO. 850 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 31 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

NEW LEATHER STORE.

A. F. RICAU,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,

Shoe Findings, etc.,

30 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Prytania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES.

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUMME,

No. 50 Magazine street, and No. 61 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,

BOOK BINDER, RULER

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,

92 .....Camp Street, ...92

(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS,

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Canal and Custom-house,

NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Brasselman & Adams') wish to inform the ...quaintance that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their Style and Fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified to by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,

ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,

And General Housesmith.

Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences and Verandahs of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.

129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.

Box 214, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

79 .....Carondelet St.....79

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS,

59 .....CARONDELET ST.....59

NEW ORLEANS.

Liberal cash advances made on shipments of cotton.

CRESCENT MACHINE

AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,

Corner of Poydras and St. Joseph Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, constructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans.

A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

E. RATELLE,

DEALER IN CARPETINGS,

609.....MAGAZINE STREET.....609

Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans.

Floor Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Table and Piano Covers, Crumb Cloths, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Enameled Oil Cloths, Borders, Pins, Gimps, Tassels, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticking and Springs, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of Dubosat street, Sixth District, New Orleans. Office, No. 154 Tchoupitoulas, between Valence and Bordeaux streets. L. CARRO, Sr., agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths, Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc.; also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Mills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 2239, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.

J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

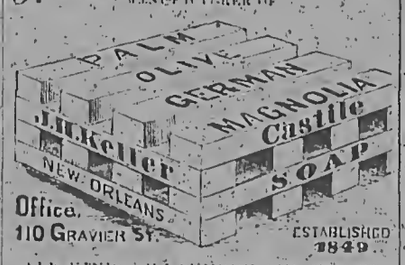
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 GRAVIER ST. ESTABLISHED 1849

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,

103 and 105 Tchoupitoulas and 17 Tolouse Street, New Orleans, La.

References—Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Grocers, New Orleans; Jules Denis, President Levee Steam Cotton Press; Jules Cassard, Vice President Germania National Bank; Pike, Heidenheimer & Co., Bankers, New Orleans; Landry, Cashier of Peoples Bank; Emile Legendre, St. James; Felix F. Poche, St. James.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAY I. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.,

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans.

LOUISIANA STEAM SAW, BLIND

—AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. R. OTTO MOSES,

DENTIST,

217 BARONNE STREET 217

Solicits the patronage of the public, assuring them great attention in all operations pertaining to his profession, at charges in keeping with the present distressed pecuniary condition of the people of Louisiana.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence NO. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Orleans street.) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TICKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

160.....COMMON STREET.....160

(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—ATARD—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to TIVOLI CIRCLE, west side, corner of Leland street. This will it has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that my efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. G. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNUM,

SURGEON DENTIST,

508 MAGAZINE STREET 508

Near the Market.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

419 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 210 CARONDELET STREET

(between Julia and St. Joseph.

New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. W. W. BACK. W. H. FOSTER.

MERRICK, BACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS.

J. H. MCHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for Merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to Sugar Planters. Office, 22 UNION STREET, Lumber Yard, cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR-HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful Gas equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

THE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—we use no Drums, Pumps or Blowers to corrode or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all noxious and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Acid. Our Works are as Compact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas-making business, could suggest, devise or produce, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection both in illuminating gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be offered on or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.

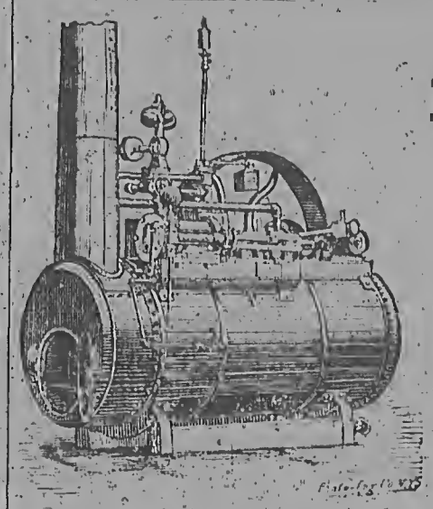
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST,

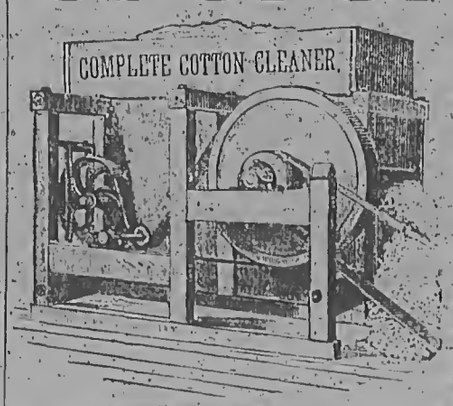
SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.



Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer of ginning,—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

No gin house should be without one of those "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

PHILIP WERLEIN,

NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BIENVILLE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as Chickering, Decker Bros., Boardman, Gray & Hall Pianos, and Mason & Hamlin Organs.

The largest stock, the best 10 makes of Organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices in the South. No trash or unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA AS IT IS.

251 PAGES.

Its Topography and Valuable Resources,

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

PRICE 50 CENTS POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO DEALERS.

10,000 Copies Just Published—3,000 Copies Sold.

The Editors of New Orleans have given this Book a Rousing Indorsement.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

It is a book which has long been wanted and often asked for. I am selling especially that are the best cyclopaedia of the world.

GEORGE KELLY, Bookseller, Opposite the Postoffice.

During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work. Mr. Dennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS just issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, fulfils a want long felt by residents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing.

JAMES A. GRESHAM, 92 Camp and 118 Conti street.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain supplies of the above book at the wholesale establishment of ROBERT J. HARE, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS. Established in 1846. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs artistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

213 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

GEORGE W. ROPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103.....CANAL STREET.....103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Lace Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the lowest rates, and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE E. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT.

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS,

IN

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of most recent Improvements. Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. ALSO the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Paper Shells, Caps, Wads, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

FOR THE LAKE!

OFFICE OF THE

NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO.,

No. 24 Carondelet St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.

FOR THE LAKE. The regular trains over the New Orleans, Metairie Cemeteries and Lake Railroad will begin running on and the present trains will leave Metairie Ridge and the Lake EVERY HALF HOUR from 7 o'clock A. M. to the last regular leaving the Lake at 7 o'clock P. M. Fare from City Station to the Lake TEN CENTS.

SATURDAY, APRIL 22,

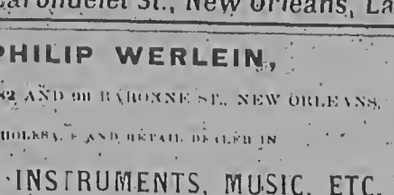
SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Practice Pistol & Targets.

Carries a ½ inch ball with accuracy only to be used without powder or percussion. Brass barrel, hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with permanent ammunition for target practice indoors, and for shooting out of doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

V. V. GRAHAM,

Liberty street, New York.

HEATH, PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nightingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.

Frames made to order a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

159.....POYDRAS STREET.....159

Hand-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

Ready-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and work manship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent.'s, Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

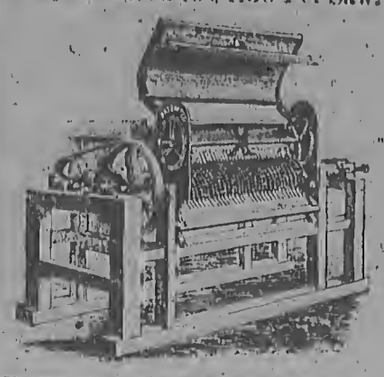
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 18, 1871.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work with the same time while consuming less or minimal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton in this respect of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every no bide gin mill. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

59.....Carondelet St.....59

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE, Agent for the State of Texas 22 Main street, Houston, Texas.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.

No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.

DEALERS IN

SEND FOR CIRCULARS & PRICES

MACHINERY

MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.

MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, AND COTTON PRESSES

MILLS

COMPARE OUR PRICES

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best

Farm Machinery,

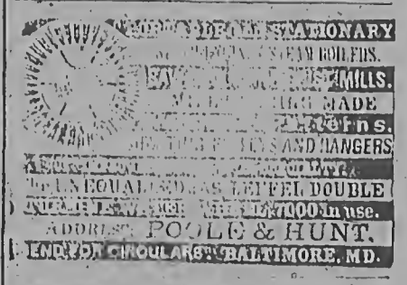
OF ALL KINDS,

Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,

Lime, Plaster and Cement.

C. H. STOCKELL & CO.

NASHVILLE, TENN.



ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.

We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Draining Machines, Saw Mills, Bottom Presses, Newell Screws, Gin Gearing, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Journal Bearings, all kinds of Plantation and Steamboat Work, and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.

Orders left at Box 74, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.

IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.

HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING etc. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list.

GEORGE PLACE,

CHAMBERS AND 103 READE STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES. ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the Celebrated Hayes Patent Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

Vanduzen & Tift, 102 & 104 Second St., Cincinnati, O.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,

NO. 151 CANAL STREET,

Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

A long acquaintance with the various kinds of

SEWING MACHINES

has induced us to make a specialty in this line. First-class sections of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $20. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.

Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giving references.

MRS. ADA GREGG

respectfully offers her services in purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adornment or domestic goods for Ladies' and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

N. B. All inquiries relative to articles mentioned or unpurchased will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCE.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss. Send for catalogue and circular.

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

$5 TO $20 per day at home. Samples worth $1, free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Me.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, June 13, 1876.

MONETARY.

During the past week the discount market has exhibited more animation than usual. Notwithstanding the bulk of the offerings mature in October and November, all first-class and A1 paper was negotiated without difficulty. Quotations unchanged. Exceptional paper, 8 per cent. per annum; A1 commercial, 10@12 per cent.; A1 mortgage, 10@12 per cent.

Gold, 112¼@112¾.

Bonds, stocks and securities quiet, and prices same as last week.

Bank rate—London, 2 per cent.; New York, 2@2½ per cent.

GENERAL MARKET.

Business in the various departments grows more and more quiet, and soon we shall become accustomed to having little or nothing to do, while our hard-working farmers are busy with plow and hoe, cultivating another abundant crop of corn, cotton and sugar. We are glad to know that some of our most enterprising planters are proving their independence of the North by raising their own supplies. Mr. J. Burnside, for instance, saved $100 000 the past year, by having his corn crib at his plantations, instead of at New Orleans. Such an example it is wise to follow.

There is a good demand for cow peas; which are not high, and the large sales show our planters' appreciation of this valuable crop. Pork, bacon and lard continue dull. Flour and corn meal, steady. Corn, oats and hay, quiet.

COTTON.

Market moved steadily until Monday, when, from the favorable advices from Liverpool and an advance of 1-16d., prices were advanced here ¼c. Sales here, 10 100 bales; in New York, 8,690 bales, at 12¼@12¾c. for middling; while at Liverpool the week's sales reach 65 000 bales, of which 27,000 bales were taken in the last two days. Middling Orleans quoted there at 6 5-16d., and market firm.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS:

	Low Ordinary	Ordinary	Strict Ordinary	Low Middling	Middling	Good Middling
Wednesday	7¾	8¼	9¼	10¼	11¾	12¾
Thursday	7¾	8¼	9¼	10¾	11¾	12¾
Friday	7¾	8¼	9⅝	10⅝	11¾	12¾
Saturday	7¾	8¼	9¼	10⅝	11¾	12¾
Monday	7¾	8¼	9¼	10⅝	11¾	12¾
Tuesday	7¾	8¼	9¼	10¾	11¾	12¾

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

(Low—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11	11¾	11
Thursday	11	11¾	11
Friday	11	11¾	10¾@11
Saturday	11	11¾	10¾@11
Monday	11	11¾	11
Tuesday	11	11¾	11

COTTON STATEMENT TO JUNE 13.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875 ....bales.		9,976
Received from that date to June 6, 1876	2,[illegible]29
Received during past week	4,151
Amount of bales from city gins and pickeries	18,895—1,[illegible]975
Total		1,[illegible]951
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to June 6, 1876	1,455 213
Exported, past week	14 8[illegible]
Consumed by factory and burned	1,370—1,471 [illegible]
Stock on hand and amount not cleared	[illegible]
Estimated stock on shipboard	25,[illegible]
Amount remaining unsold, about	71,[illegible]
Stock at all the United States ports	3[illegible]
Receipts at all the ports	1,035,311
Receipts last year to date	3,410,544
Increase at all the ports	624,[illegible]

SUGAR.—Receipts very light, Market quiet, and gimlet rangers generally retiring to summer quarters. Prices: Fair 8¼c., fully fair 8¾c., yellow clarified 9@9½c., white clarified 10@10¼c.

MOLASSES.—Very dull. Quotations nearly nominal. Fair 48@50c., prime 52@54c., choice 56@57c.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	FROM	TO
EGGS, ₱ doz.:
Creole, good demand	— —	18
Attakapas, demand fair	— —	12½
Western and country	— —	10
CHICKENS, ₱ doz.:
Creole, grown	$4 00	$5 00
Creole, half grown	2 00	3 50
Good fat country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creole.
WOOL, ₱ lb.:
Burry	10	15
Free of burrs	15	25
BEESWAX, ₱ lb	27	30
HIDES, ₱ lb.:
Green salted	6	7½
Dry	9	11½
Deerskins	25	28

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $66$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and peck, and 25 inches in diameter, $76$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $56@$7 ₱ 1 000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood—For large sound logs, $2 25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2 75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.)

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Fat grass fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@7c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $15@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	8 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do. with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
H. J. West's corn mills	2[illegible] 00	— —
Tannarill's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	145 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Dearie cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse carts	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	11 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Laggies, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 25	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Dr'er, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gallon	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:
Size of Sashes.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.
8x10	$0 90	$1 70
10x12	1 65	2 25
10x16	2 00	2 95
Blinds, per pair.
	$2 00	3 25
Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$4 50
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75	4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb:
Western, choice	28	30
Goshen, choice	30	32
Coffee, ₱ lb.:
Rio, fair	18½	19¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice to fancy	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15¾
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	35	50
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl:
Best, "K" D	— —	3 00
Cheese, ₱ lb:
Western factory	13½	14¾
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl:
superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	6 00	6 25
Choice XXX	6 50	6 75
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quar'r box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 80
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	26
Illuminating, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, be t	17	18
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1.12
Molasses, in barrels,
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Rapor strips	80	85
Half bbls. ₱ and kegs 10c. more
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb:
No. 2	— —	3¾
Ordinary	— —	4¼
Fair	— —	5¼
Prime to choice	6¼	7¼
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb:
Keller's imperial	— —	5
Resin	— —	4½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 00	1 05
Sugar, in bulk:
Fair	8¼	8¾
Prime	9	9¾
Choice	9¾	9¾
Yellow clarified	9¾	10
White clarified	10¼	10¾
Crushed	11¼	11¾
Powdered	11¼	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	40
Cinnamon	— —	42
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black oolong		1 00
Green imperial		1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	74
White, mixed	— —	67
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. L. mix to common	45	48
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	— —	70
Hay, ₱ cwt:
Prime timothy	— —	3 00
Ordinary	— —	2[illegible] 00
Cotton seed meal	26 00	28 00
Cow Peas ₱ bushel	1 50	2 25
Mixed clay	— —	1 80
Mixed mould	1 75	2 25

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11	11½
Shoulders	9¾	9¾
Sides, clear rib	— —	11¾
Sides, clear	— —	12¼
Hams, sugar cured	11	11¾
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	21 00	21 75
Dry Salt Meats:
Shoulders	8	8½
Hams	— —	10
Clear rib sides	— —	10¾
Clear sides	— —	11¾
Lard, ₱ lb:
Choice, in kegs	— —	11½
Choice, in tierces	— —	10¾

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India		10
Jute		13½
Ties, Arrow, best	— —	6
Beard	— —	6½
Twine, hemp	— —	12

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	42
Calf skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	78 00
Upper, rough ₱ lb	24	28
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stevens raw bone superphosph	45 00	— —
Stevens ammoniated bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, 4-4	— —	7¾
Choice brands, 7-8	10½	14¾
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	15½
Speckle, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard
Common brands	16	13½
Good	19	21
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10½	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	14	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mid boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mid boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Dlwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the biennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John B. Brammer, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The Seashore Camp Meeting will commence on Wednesday, the nineteenth of July, and continue from eight to ten days.

The camp ground is delightfully situated upon the coast, two miles west of Biloxi, Miss., open to and fronting directly upon the Gulf of Mexico, enjoying the cool and refreshing breezes of the sea.

Persons visiting the camp meeting will leave the New Orleans and Mobile railroad at Seashore Camp Ground station from which a shaded walk of a few hundred feet will bring them to the encampment.

Eligible lots for building will be furnished free to persons desiring to erect permanent tents, and can be obtained from the trustees, or the agent representing them upon the grounds, at all times.

All permanent tents are required to be of value of not less than $40, and must be completed at least one week before the commencement of the camp meeting. This rule does not preclude the use of temporary tents, constructed of cloth or other material, for which pleasant positions will be assigned to all persons desiring it.

Favorable reductions of fare and freights on the railroad have been secured. On the New Orleans and Mobile road the fare from New Orleans to camp ground for the round trip, is $2 50; and from Mobile, the round trip, $2.

The camp meeting tickets will be placed on sale at the offices of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, July 18 and continue good until July 30, inclusive. These tickets will not be good to return unless stamped by the agent of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, who will be on the ground. This order will be rigidly enforced by the railroad company. The sale of tickets from local points on this road will begin as above, and at the same rates as last year. Freight will be carried from New Orleans and Mobile to camp ground at full rates, and returned free. Shipments can be made any time after July 10, and continue during the meeting. By the Margate road passage will be all fare one way only. By New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago road one and one-fifth the full fare only. Taking these cars, persons on making known that they are going to the camp meeting will have their ticket punched and return it sound; having it stamped at the camp ground, will return on the same free.

From their new purchase of another hundred acres since the camp meeting last year, the trustees have made a large and desirable addition to the camp ground's, embracing several delightful and refreshing springs, cool and health-giving. The grounds have been cleaned up and improved generally.

Tents, cots, etc., have been provided for rent to persons or families as they may desire.

Provision has been made by the board of trustees, and under their supervision, for a good restaurant. Meals and lodgings will be furnished at reasonable prices. Use of bath-houses free.

Brethren of the Methodist Church, and of other churches, and the communities of the adjacent cities and country, are invited to attend the camp meeting.

Several Bishops and other ministers of talent and distinction from far and near are expected to be present, and to assist in conducting the exercises.

Persons are recommended to make arrangements for their comfort, before the date of the camp meeting, by application to any of the board of trustees: Dr. E. T. Griffin, Moss Point, Miss. William Otis and Hugh L. Hopper, Mobile; J. H. Keller, George W. W. Bodwell, H. O. L. Rayne, R. S. Rickey, P. Halloran and W. H. Foster, New Orleans.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF CENTENARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.—The annual sermon will be preached on July 9, by the Rev. William Mooney, D. D.

Meeting of the board of trustees, July 10, at 9 A. M. Exhibition of Preparatory Department, July 10, 8 P. M.

Tuesday, July 11—Meeting of the alumni, and delivery of diplomas to their graduates by the societies. Eight P. M.—Exhibition of the literary societies, followed by an address from the Rev. R. H. Byers, D.D.

Wednesday, July 12—Commencement day. Speeches by the five graduates, and baccalaureate by the president.

P. D. ANDREWS,
President.

COMMENCEMENT OF CENTENARY FEMALE COLLEGE, SUMMERFIELD, ALA.—June 25.—Commencement sermon by Rev. William E. Mottley.

June 26. Board of trustees meet at 8 o'clock A. M. Exercises of Centenary Male Institute, Eight o'clock P. M.—Students' concert.

June 27, 10 o'clock A. M.—Junior exhibition. Eight o'clock P. M. Annual concert.

June 28, 10 o'clock A. M.—Graduating exercises. Eight o'clock "Annual supper."

Hacks and conveyances from Hunt's stables, Selma, Ala.

J. M. CARWILE,
A. H. MCVOY.

THE Pattville District Conference will convene at Prattville on Wednesday, July 5, at six o'clock P. M. Opening sermon by Rev. J. W. Shores.

A. J. BURNS.

NOTICE TO DELEGATES TO PRATTVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE, JULY 5.—Conveyances will meet you at Vosaday (the first station above Montgomery on the North and South railroad) on Wednesday and Thursday and at Washington, on the Alabama river, on Tuesday evening when the boat is coming down, and on Friday morning when going up. Come to time brethren, and write me beforehand.

J. W. RESH, Pastor.

NOTICE.—Persons attending the District Conference at Newton station will pay full fare to the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad going, and will be returned free on certificate of the Secretary.

WILL. H. LAKIN.

THE District Conference for Selma district, Alabama Conference, will be held at Camden, Ala., beginning on the twenty-seventh of July, and including the thirtieth.

O. R. BLEE, P. E.

HOMER DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—The District Conference for Homer district will convene in Arcadia, directly on the stage line from Monroe to Shreveport, July 27, 1876, and continue over the Sabbath following. The preachers in charge will please have their reports prepared, especially on those subjects mentioned on the fifty-first page of the Discipline.

JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT VERNON FEMALE COLLEGE.—Sunday, June 25.—Annual sermon by Rev. Dr. Murrah, of Aberdeen, Miss.

Monday, June 26.—Junior exercises, 8:30 A. M. Monday evening, 8 o'clock.—Cantata by the little girls.

Tuesday, June 27, 10 A. M.—Graduating exercises, and annual address by Rev. W. W. Wadsworth, of Columbus, Miss. Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock.—Operetta by the music department.

THE Meridian District Conference will convene at Waynesboro, Miss., June 23. Preachers will please forward to me the names of all the delegates and local preachers from their several charges.

H. H. SINGLETON.

THE Meridian District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, Miss., beginning on Friday morning, June 23, at nine o'clock, Bishop Paine presiding.

Members should report at Turner & Taylor's store on Thursday, if possible, for assignment to quarters.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Wells the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. B. K SMITH, P. C.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Enterprise station	June 17, 18
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	" 23
Meridian station	July 1, 2
Wayne circuit, at Andrew chapel	" 8, 9
Quitman circuit, at Quitman	" 15, 16
Shubuta circuit, at Soule chapel	" 22, 23
Paulding circuit, at Philadelphia	" 28, 30
DeKalb circuit, at Prairie chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Spring Dill circuit, at Union	" 12, 13
Lauderdale circuit, at Mount Hebron	" 19, 20
Enterprise mission	" 26, 27
Marion circuit, at Pleasant Hill	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, June 23, 24 and 25.

15 JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

JACKSON DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson station	June 24, 25
Vernon mission, at Vernon	July 1, 2
Madison circuit, at Pearl River	" 8, 9
Starc circuit and Tuscumbia mission, to Madisonville	" 15, 16
Canton station	" 22, 23
Brownsville circuit, at Edwards	" 29, 30
Camden circuit, at Soule chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Carthage circuit, at camp ground	" 12, 13
Yazoo circuit	" 19, 20
Dover circuit	" 26, 27
Yazoo City	Sept. 2, 3
Silver Creek circuit	" 9, 10

The District Conference of Jackson district will convene at Edwards, Hinds county, Miss., July 27-30, opening at nine A. M. on Thursday. Bishop Paine is expected to preside.

8 WM. H. HINES, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

MARIANA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Creek circuit, at Mount Zion	June 17, 18
Cerro Gordo mission, at Sandy Creek	" 24, 25
Holmes' Valley mission, at Orange Hill	July 1, 2
Cochran circuit	" 8, 9
Columbia circuit	" 15, 16
Marianna station	" 17
Geneva circuit, at Elba	" 22, 23
Newton circuit, at Sylvania grove	Aug. 12, 13
Echo circuit, at Brown's chapel	" 19, 20
Ozark circuit, at Haw Bridge	" 26, 27
Greenwood circuit, at Campbellton	Sept. 2, 3

15 HENRY D. MOORE, P. E.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other route, it being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, where the new and handsome Hotels are erected, within ten minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels—a great advantage to visitors who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE.

Three Daily Express Trains from Cincinnati, making close connection, without a single wait or lay-over, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be recollected that from New Orleans, the Louisville, the line between New Orleans and New York is only Seventy Hours and Eleven Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Steel Rails and Stone Ballast the entire route with double and treble tracks, and the best system of railroad telegraphing in the country—which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historical—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—blending, as it does, hill and dale, mountain and valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and climbing vines; in fact, as the European tourists say: "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great thoroughfare.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is wonderful, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will endorse.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans.

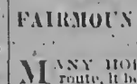
SIDNEY B. JONES
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency.

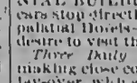
VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE



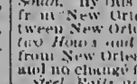
Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first-class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.



New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.



Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unsurpassed. Shortest sea route. Superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews, safety the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage the very best in all respects through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from $5 up on any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and coins sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary & Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of SEA-ISLAND AND FANCY DRY GOODS consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Flannels, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimeres, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent, if requested.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXPENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. O. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain Decorated, equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable, DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,
12 Tea Plates,
12 Soup Plates,
12 Preserve Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,
12 Dinner Cups and Saucers,
1 Soup Tureen,
1 Sauce Boat,
1 Salad Bowl,
2 Covered Dishes,
2 Vegetable Dishes,
2 Pickle Dishes,
4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the above assorted DINNER SET in the best white Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but slop Jar and Foot Tub.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table PLATES.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table PLATES.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1. Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. O. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ROOFS

that leak are costly property. You cannot afford them. The damage to your finished crops and stock from one storm is often more than the cost of putting your barns roofed in over. The yearly loss of agricultural machinery and implements from leaky roofs on outhouses, would more than pay the cost of roofing every shed, crib and outhouse on your farm. Your tools and crops, dripplings of your stable-roof, and the pecuni

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

OL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876. NO. 25.

JUNE.

orld is in June, and it ripples in rhyme—
Sweetheart of life, and own darling of time, ear with glad laughter plays truant to death,
ack as near Eden the cuckoo its breath,
illows that airy old fashion of Eve's, usties abroad in an apron of leaves!
ids her cheek long to the kiss of the sun,
arden and warm like some volume begun, night like a ribbon just marking the page some eloquent thought shall last out the bush has a blossom, a bee or a bird, ly to blow, or a hum to be heard—imperial June of the emerald crown!

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

NCINNATI, June 16, 4.45 P. M.— es was nominated on the sevballot. Hayes, 384; Blaine, 351; tow, 21. Necessary for a choice, lleeler, of New York, was nomi-ed for Vice President on the first ot.

SHVILLE, June 16.—The trus-of the Vanderbilt University just received another donation 300,000.

UGUSTA, June 17.—The rains been very general throughout section. The crops on both sides e Savannah river are submerged.
re is total destruction of crops he bottom lands. The river is y-feet, and still rising. The et threatens the city, but no us results are apprehended. The stopped this afternoon and the ther is clearing up.

NOXVILLE, TENN., June 19.—
ost the entire crop on French
d river was destroyed by the refreshet. There was a twenty-rise up to midnight last night, the river is falling rapidly this ning. The fields and islands are ely submerged to a depth of fifty ne hundred feet. The farmers lose about one-fourth of their Very slight damage was done
he Holston river.

W YORK, June 19.—Commodore derbilt had a return of the chills; was unable to sit up in bed to-

FOREIGN.

NDON, June 14.—The Grand
r has addressed a conciliatory to Prince Milan in explanation
e Servian armament.
vices from Cape Coast report the King of Dahomey will pay ne imposed.
USSELS, June 14.—The riots at erp were increasing at mid-
. The regular troops have fired shots.
s, June 14.—The greeting of the and Emperor William at the y station was cordial.
NDON, June 15.—A letter from erson Davis was read at a meet-at the residence of Earl Shrews-
, for the furtherance of church niversity education in the thern States.
e disturbances were renewed at erp. Thousands are marching ugh the streets, crying: "Down the Ministry!" A Catholic tute was wrecked. There are rbances at Ghent.
stice Sir John Muller granted
der for the release of Winslow.
will be liberated this afternoon.
NDON, June 16.—Reuter's telea from Constantinople says that e the ministers were assembled ncil, a recently dismissed offi-ntered with a revolver, killed inister of war and foreign af-and severely wounded the minisof marine. The assassin was ted. His motive is supposed to venge for dismissal.
dispatch from Berlin to the News affirms that the danger
European war is over for the ner. Furloughs are freely grant-
Russian men-of-war are assemat Sebastopol.
NDON, June 18.—A dispatch to Standard from Constantinople ts that a Turkish fleet, consist-of eight first-class vessels, will hence for Crete within a week important mission.
NDON, June 19.—The Prince of negro resigned the post as sentative of the insurgents in tiations with the Porte.
eutta advices report cholera in ard. Out of two hundred in-ts, one hundred died in three correspondent of the Moscow te telegraphs from Cettigne that urks in Bosnia have unfurled reen flag, which means holy gainst the Christians.

s stated that Servia will send an to Constantinople, to propose nament and peace in return for ssion of territory.

xander Dumas, the younger,
a student in the Quartier
, desired to make a good repast a companion, and found on ex-ng his purse that it contained five francs. "Walt," said he companion, "while I run up and borrow five more from my
, and with the ten we shall like princes." "Well," inquire waiting man on his re-
"have you got the ten?" "I
't even the five," answered Dumas, ruefully; "my father er at borrowing than I."

nan in Kilkenny recently saw a ment of his own death in a paper. He wrote to the editor:
—I notice a few errors in the ary of myself which appeared ur paper on Wednesday last. I orn in Dublin, not Cork, and direment from business in 1860 not owing to ill health, but a trouble I had in connection a horse. The cause of my death ot smallpox. Please make corn."

Republican Platform.

A press dispatch from Cincinnati, of June 15, gives the following summary of the Republican platform, as adopted by the national convention:

1. The platform sets out with the history of the party, and a statement of the duty to protect the rights of all people and the enforcement of the amendments.

2. The permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union, and the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights are duties to which the Republican party is sacredly pledged. (Applause.) The power to provide for the enforcement of the principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendments, is vested by those amendments in the Congress of the United States, and we declare it to be the solemn obligation of the legislative and executive departments of the government to put into immediate and vigorous exercise all their constitutional power for removing any just causes of discontent on the part of any class, and securing every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the exercise of all civil and public rights. (Applause.) To this end we imperatively demand a Congress and chief executive whose courage and fidelity to these duties shall not falter, until the results are placed beyond dispute or recall. (Applause.)

3. In the first act of Congress signed by President Grant the national government assumed to remove any doubts of purpose to discharge all just obligations to public creditors, and solemnly pledged its faith to make provision at the earliest practicable period for the redemption of the United States notes in coin. (Cheers.) Commercial prosperity, public morals and national credit demand that the promise be fulfilled by a continuous and steady progress to specie payments. Loud and long-continued cheers.)

5. Alludes to civil service reform.

6. Refers to schools, and embodies Mr. Blaine's proposed amendment to the constitution.

8. The revenues necessary for current expenditures and the obligation of the public debt must be largely derived from duties upon importations, which, so far as possible, should be adjusted to promote the interests of American labor and advance the prosperity of the whole country.

9. Opposes further grants of lands to corporations and monopolies.

10. A modification of treaties for the protection of adopted citizens, and legislation to protect emigrants.

11. It is the immediate duty of Congress to fully investigate the effect of the importation of Mongolians on the moral and material interests of the country.

12. The party recognizes with approval the advance in securing the rights of women by State Legislatures.

13. Claims sovereign power over Territories to exclude polygamy.

14. Pledges to soldiers and sailors must be fulfilled.

15. We sincerely deprecate all sectional feeling and tendencies. We therefore note with deep solicitude that the Democratic party counts as its chief hope of success upon the electoral vote of a united South, secured through the effort of those who were recently arrayed against the nation, and we invoke the earnest attention of the country to this grave responsibility; that a success thus achieved would reopen sectional strife, and imperil national honor and human rights.

16. Charges the Democratic party with being in character and spirit as when it sympathized with treason; and, alluding to the course of the lower House, warns the country against a party alike unworthy, recreant and incapable.

17. The national administration merits commendation for its honorable work in the management of domestic and foreign affairs, and President Grant deserves the continued and hearty gratitude of the American people for his patriotism, and his immense service in war and peace.

THE ORIOLE DISASTER.—On Friday morning at four o'clock the steamer J. F. Frazer arrived in the city from the Stella plantation, having on board the dead and wounded victims of the explosion of the steamer Oriole, which took place yesterday afternoon.

Among the dead were John Boyer, chief engineer, twenty-three years old; Zachariah Washington, colored, a passenger; Ben Williams, colored, passenger; Louis Jackson, a colored minister from Algiers, who had gone down to bury a brother minister; and two colored women. Capt. Opry, commanding the vessel, was severely bruised; Joseph Sharp, mate, and Henry Kouns, pilot, each had their right leg broken; the fireman, colored, had both eyes blinded; four roustabouts crippled, but not seriously; J. P. Gronere, passenger, slightly injured; J. C. Tremoulet, first clerk, and J. Estoperial, second clerk, slightly injured, and Mr. Crawford, secretary of the Wrecking Association, severely bruised.

The wounded were conveyed to their residences, and the dead left on deck awaiting the action of the coroner, who was notified.—Picayune.

Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all easy; and he that rises late must trot all day, and shall scarce overtake his business at night; while laziness travels so slowly that poverty soon overtakes him.

East Mississippi Female College Commencement.

MR. EDITOR: The examination and commencement exercises of East Mississippi Female College, located at Meridian, Miss., came off June 5-8. The commencement sermon was preached by Rev. C. B. Galloway, on Sunday, the fourth, at the Methodist church, to a large audience. It was highly spoken of by those who heard it. Bro. T. S. West and myself being the only members of the visiting committee present, Bros. Benjamin and Ransom Jones acted with us by request of the president of the college. On Monday morning at nine o'clock the examination of classes commenced. On Monday night, at the Methodist church, a public reading by the pupils proved very interesting, and showed proper culture in this important part of education. This was followed by an address on American Archæology, by Rev. T. S. West.

The examination of classes was continued each day, commencing at nine o'clock A. M. On Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock, a large audience assembled at Bennett's Hall—the same having been secured by the president—to witness the exhibition exercises, which proved highly creditable to the students, and interesting as well as diverting to the audience. On Thursday the examination exercises were closed. We were not only well pleased, but delighted with the manner of examining the classes, and the advancement and proficiency of the pupils. The manner of examining was such that it placed each pupil upon her own resources of knowledge, especially the senior and junior classes, and they acquitted themselves with much credit, showing that they had passed through a rigid course of study. They received very deservedly the commendation of the committee.

On Wednesday evening at an early hour Bennett's Hall was again filled, and the musical concert announced as the entertainment for the evening proved quite a treat to the lovers of music; and the performance of the young ladies on the piano showed that this department of the college is not neglected, but in good hands.

Thursday evening being the time set apart for the commencement exercises, the large hall was filled to overflowing with an intelligent and appreciative audience, that did credit to the city of Meridian. And here, Mr. Editor, we would be glad to comment extensively upon the exercises of the evening, but, knowing your desire to have correspondents boil down their communications, we forbear, and must content ourselves with a brief notice. Eleven young ladies, the graduates of the present session, occupied a prominent position on the stage, and the reading of essays commenced. Showers of bouquets and continued cheering greeted each one at the close of her essay. The graduates were as follows: Miss Ida Aikin, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Belle Lee, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Emma Dunn, Pushmataha, Ala.; Miss Lillian Henderson, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Annie Baldwin, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Annie Hall, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Annie Brooke, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Sallie Reynolds, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Nellie Chisolm, DeKalb, Miss.; Miss Ellie Gould, Meridian, Miss.; Miss Mamie Vail, Meridian, Miss. At the conclusion of the reading of essays the valedictory (by proxy) was read by Miss Lula Rains, of Hickory, Miss., after which the diplomas were delivered by the president, and an interesting baccalaureate address was delivered by Rev. Benjamin Jones. The secretary of the board of trustees announced that the college was now relieved from debt, and that steps had been taken by the board looking to the enlargement of the college buildings. The parting song, "Farewell," by the senior class, closed the exercises of the evening.

The board of trustees held their annual meeting on Thursday at three o'clock P. M., which was very harmonious and satisfactory, and they are determined to use every just measure for the prosperity of the institution. Arrangements have been made to retain President J. W. Adkisson for the next scholastic year. He will be assisted by an able corps of teachers. The past term has been truly gratifying to the friends of the college, the attendance showing a large increase over the previous term. The fall term opens on the eleventh of September. We find the pleasure of a more intimate acquaintance with Bro. Adkisson than we had before enjoyed, and were well pleased with him. He has the reputation of being a fine educator. We are satisfied that he deserves it, and that he is the right man in the right place. We cheerfully recommend East Mississippi Female College to those having daughters to educate.

The hospitality of the citizens of Meridian, the courtesies of the president, and the smiles of the young ladies of the college contributed greatly to the pleasure of the committee, and this visit will ever be a bright spot in our history. We were cordially invited, but could not remain, to attend the levee in honor of the graduating class on Friday evening.

IRVIN MILLER,
For the Committee.

WALNUT GROVE, Miss., June 11, 1876.

Seashore Camp Ground.

"Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined."

MR. EDITOR: Truly the above may be applied to the consecrated ground so well chosen for a place of worship, suited to this enervating climate, where the ocean breeze, with its sanitary influence, blended with the freshness of the balmy air of the groves which surround it, seems peculiarly adapted to the weary, worn pilgrim on his journey heavenward.

What a gathering there would be here if people knew the advantages, and would listen to the call of God, saying: "Gather my saints together unto me—those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice." How much would be accomplished by a union of purpose in advancing the cause of Christ on these occasions, having fellowship one with another, and feeling that the blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin! How many more would come if they only knew the advantages enjoyed in such a location, where, detached from the busy cares of active life, worn and weary, they find a sweet repose in the contemplation of that rest which remains for the people of God in a world to come.

If people get sick over here it results more from imprudence than from the climate. Instances of a speedy recovery from sickness are now before me, where two persons came over from the city, too feeble to walk, and one thought in the last stages of consumption. He said that as soon as he inhaled the air his health and spirits revived, and he is now feeling perfectly well employed in helping to improve the tents, and adding to the comforts of those around him. His brother, a hopeless paralytic, was brought over helpless and was expected to die as soon as he got here, if not on the way, and is now walking about the place, to the utter astonishment of all who knew him. He may not fully recover, but is comparatively comfortable. These are facts wonderful to relate!

The position of this camp ground must be seen to be appreciated. The tabernacle for preaching is the finest we ever saw. In front of the seat, where its waves are rolling in harmony on its clean, sandy shore, it is calculated to impress the mind with the sublimity of God's presence, and call forth songs of praise to him who died that we might enjoy life forever more.

S. M. P.

BOONE, Miss., June 11, 1876.

In Prussia, says an exchange, the official returns show that among the conscripts in 1873 to 1871 there were less than 1 per cent. illiterate; and there was one province, that of Lauenburg, where there was not one who could not read and write. In the empire of Germany the average was 1·6 to of illiterate among recruits for the army and 2·3 to among those for the navy. In Switzerland the average is 2 per cent., one canton, "the Little Land of Appenzell" not having one illiterate. In France the average is 23 per cent. for the army and 14 per cent. in the navy, one department (Haute Bienne) having as many as 56·6 10 per cent. In Belgium the average is 25 per cent.; in England 29·3 10 per cent. In the Austrian-Hungarian empire the difference between certain localities is very marked. The average for the whole country is 54 per cent.; but in Lower Austria the average is only 38 per cent., in Bohemia 31 9 10 per cent., in Silesia 38 per cent., in Hungary 75 8 10 per cent., and in Dalmatia and Istria 99 2 10 per cent. In Russia there were 90 7 10 per cent. of illiterates in 1868, and in 1871 the average was still 88·8 10 per cent.

If "bitters" aid digestion, why is it that those who take them all the time are never well?

Everybody is expected this centennial year to plant a tree. If you can't do that, make a bough.

The Sorrows of Skepticism.

At a recent meeting, in London, of the Victoria (Philosophical) Institute the Rev. Dr. Thornton read a paper on the Sorrows of Skepticism:

He had been led, he said, to employ the title of his paper from an observation of the physiognomies of skeptics, for he never looked at the faces of photographs of those who cherished doubts about the revealed religion without being struck with the expression of pain which they exhibited. Their sorrows might be divided as follows: The sorrow of mere negation, the sorrow of doubt, the sorrow of insufficiency, and the sorrow from the absence of God. With regard to the first, the mind from its very nature sought for the positive and affirmative, and could not rest in the negative or destructive. The whole of skepticism was essentially negative, and its conclusions were destructive. Then as to the sorrow of doubt, as the intellect could not be satisfied with negation alone, so did it also long for assent, and refused to be contented with doubt. Thirdly, he came to the sorrow of insufficiency. He meant by that the regret that many if not all skeptics must feel at finding that they failed to clear away all the difficulties which attended the rejection of revelation. There was a latent feeling that all was not right, and a lurking dissatisfaction with their own method and their own conclusions. In short, it must be one of the sorrows of skepticism to see her despised adversary (religion) still standing fast, assailed at all points, but consistent and undismayed, while she herself was not altogether free from the fear of seeming self-condemned. Then the sorrow from the absence of God. This was a sorrow above sorrows for the skeptics—not merely severance from the ultimate end to which soul and spirit alike looked upward, toward which the moral and intellectual alike desired to struggle. The notion of the existence of a God was implanted in the human mind, and to this personal being, all good, all wise, self-existent, the longings and yearnings of humanity, frail, weak and ignorant, yet ever conscious of a possibility of better things, were eagerly directed. And this was the great sorrow of skepticism: that it cut man off from his highest good.

The cause of temperance, says the Independent, is making large advances in Great Britain. The bill, of which we spoke last week, which provides for closing the public houses in Ireland on Sunday meets with the favor of all classes except the publicans themselves. Protestants and Catholics, rich and poor, gentlemen of all the professions, mechanics of every trade, have united to raise their protest against legalized temptations to drinking on the Sabbath day. At the late meeting of the National Temperance League in Exeter Hall, London, the annual report affirmed that there were many indications that the Christian conscience of the nation is becoming deeply impressed with the conviction that decisive action must now be taken with regard to national intemperance. It said, further, that the Christian church, now awakening from its unaccountable and long continued apathy, was beginning to see that the temperance cause was an indispensable ally in any effective warfare against iniquity; and the largest ecclesiastical buildings, including Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, the City Temple and the Metropolitan Tabernacle, were now open for the advocacy of total abstinence while temperance associations had recently been established, chiefly through the agency of the league, in connection with several of the principal religious denominations. There are 167 temperance branches in connection with the royal navy, with a membership of about 5,000. The secretary also announced a very considerable increase in the income of the league. Many able agents are kept constantly in the field, and meetings are held every night all over the country. The result of all this work is a rapidly growing opinion that grog shops are inconsistent with the public good.

TO THE FRIENDS OF MISSIONS IN THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH. Dear Brethren: We have printed our annual report, and have it now ready for gratuitous distribution. We have also printed a sheet of select missionary information of the most attractive and valuable character. We design to send both of these to every itinerant preacher in our church, whose postoffice address we can obtain. We request of every preacher and friend of missions, to send us names and postoffices of such members and friends of our church as they may deem it advisable to furnish with these publications. We are determined to get the information before the church, and only ask your help that we may do it in the most judicious way. Yours, in the love of Christ,

J. B. McFERRIN,
D. C. KELLEY,
Secretaries.

Flies generate so rapidly that it has been said that three flies will eat a dead horse as quickly as a lion. The grasshopper parasite lays eggs in his body; from these eggs grubs are hatched which develop into flies, and these flies are ready at once to produce an immensely increased progeny.

Locke's Purity and Piety.

The new "Life of John Locke," by Mr. H. R. Fox Bourne, recently published in England, and announced for early publication in this country by Harper & Bros., revives two anecdotes of that eminent Christian philosopher and statesman which are very suggestive for the teaching afforded by his example.

The one exhibits Locke's purity and delicate sense of honor as a public man. During the evil reigns of Charles the Second and James the Second he had been under a cloud, had been discharged from all positions of an official character, and had even been expelled from Oxford University by the order of Charles the Second. His principal residence during these evil days was in Holland, where he had a considerable share in the preparations for the action of the Whig leaders, which ended in the Revolution of 1688 and the accession of William the Third to the British throne. The King always had a high sense of Locke's services and of his abilities, and in 1695 the philosopher was appointed one of the Commissioners of Trade and Plantations, with a salary of £1,000 a year, the duties of which he discharged with such care and diligence as to gain universal approbation. He continued in this office till the year 1700, when he was forced to resign it by his increasing ill health. When he came to this determination he acquainted no person with his design till he placed his commission in the King's hands. William was very unwilling to accept Locke's resignation, and told him he would be well pleased with his continuance in the office, even though he should give little or no attendance, for that he did not wish him to stay in town one day to the hurt of his health. "But," says his biographer, "Mr. Locke told the King that he could not in conscience hold a place to which such a salary was annexed without discharging its duties, and therefore begged leave to be allowed to resign it."

The other anecdote gives us a sight of the great man's closing hours. In the beginning of the summer of 1704 his strength began to fail, and his weakness made him apprehend that his death was near. He often spoke of it, but always with great composure, though he omitted none of the precautions which his skill in medicine could suggest, in order to prolong his life. At length, seeing plainly that he had but a short time to live, he prepared to quit this world with a deep sense of the manifold blessings of God to him, which he took a delight in recounting to his friends, and full of a sincere resignation to the divine will, and of firm hopes in his promises of a future life. For some weeks he was not able to walk, and was carried about the house in a chair. The day before his death, Lady Masham being alone with him, and sitting by his bed, he exhorted her to regard this world only as a state of preparation for a better; and added that he had lived long enough, and thanked God for having passed his life so happily, but that this life appeared to him a mere vanity. He had no sleep that night; but resolved to try to rise the next morning, as he did. He was carried to his study, and placed in an easy chair, where he slept a considerable while at different times. Seeming to be a little refreshed, he would be dressed as he used to be. He then desired Lady Masham, who was reading the Psalms low, while he was dressing, to read aloud; she did so, and he appeared very attentive, till the approach of death preventing him, he desired her to break off, and a few minutes afterward expired, in the seventy-third year of his age.

No comments that we could add would make the moral to be deduced from this great man's example more clear or more forcible for our instruction in public purity or personal holiness. Christian Intelligencer.

A BABY'S SOLILOQUY.—I am here. And it this is what they call the world, I don't think much of it. It's very flannelly world, and smells of paregoric awfully. It's a dreadful light world too, and makes me blink, I tell you. And I don't know what to do with my hands; I think I'll dig my fists in my eyes. No I won't. I'll scrabble at the corner of my blanket and chew it up, and then I'll holler; whatever happens I'll holler; and the more paregoric they give me the louder I'll yell. That old nurse puts the spoon in the corner of my mouth in a very queasy way, and keeps tasting my milk herself all the while. She spilt snuff in it last night, and, when I hollered, trotted me. That came of being a two-days old baby. There's a pin sticking in me now, and, if I say a word about it I'll be trotted or fed; and I would rather have catnip tea. I'll tell you who I am; I found out to-day; I heard the folks say: "Hush! don't wake up Emeline's baby;" and "I suppose that pretty white-faced woman over on the pillow is Emeline.

No, I was mistaken, for a chap was in here just now and wanted to see Bob's baby, and looked at me and said I was a "funny little toad, and looked just like Bob." He smelt of cigars. I wonder who else I belong to? Yes, there's another one—that's "Gamma." "It was Gamma's baby; so it was." I declare I don't know who I belong to; but I'll holler, and may be I'll find out. There comes Snuffy with catnip tea. I'm going to sleep. I wonder why my hands won't go where I want them to?"—The Sanitarian.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876.

EVENING HYMN.

BY F. W. FABER.

Sweet Savior! bless us ere we go;
Thy word into our minds instill,
And make our lukewarm hearts to glow
With lowly love and fervent will.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

The day is done: its hours have run:
And thou hast taken count of all:
The scanty triumphs grace hath won,
The broken vow, the frequent fall.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

Grant us, dear Lord! from all our ways
True absolution and release;
And bless us more than in past days
With purity and love and peace.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

Do more than pardon—give us joy,
Sweet fear and sober liberty,
And loving hearts without alloy,
That can go long to duty's duty.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

Labor is sweet, for thou hast toiled,
And care is light, for thou hast cared:
Let not our works with self be soiled,
Nor in unsimple ways be snared.
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

For all we love—the poor, the sad,
The sinful—unto thee we call:
Oh, let thy mercy make us glad:
Thou art our Jesus and our all:
Through life's long day and death's dark night,
Oh, gentle Jesus! be our light.

Total Depravity.—What Is It?

MR. EDITOR: I am inclined to think a careful review of our former articles will show that I neither misunderstood, nor misstated the position of Bro. Weems on the above subject. I read carefully his article, and gave full weight to both the explanation and illustration of which he speaks, and understood him then, as I understand him now, to affirm that the indwelling depravity is perfect in the first life existence, and therefore cannot be added to by any subsequent act of transgression; that the greater wickedness of adult life is attributable solely to the greater capacities of this age, or, to use his own words: "It is nothing more than the development of the germ of depravity so as to fill and control the developed capacities of mind and heart." Now to this I reply: That the increased capacities of mature mind and life afford a larger sphere for the manifestation of depravity, as well as for righteousness or holiness, is well known to be true; and that this is the general and most obvious cause of the difference between the comparative innocence of childhood and the wickedness of manhood is also admitted; but this is only a part of the truth in the case. I affirm, what his theory denies, that the persistent practice of sin engenders or produces an increased tendency to sin; and this I must call an increase of depravity, for I know of no expression that more aptly defines it than this: "A proneness to sin"—a bias of mind and heart toward evil. Every act of known, intentional sin is not only an expression of an inward desire to commit such a sin, and is strong or feeble in proportion to the ability of the actor, but it also reacts upon the fountain of carnality itself in the soul, reaching inwardly to the very substratum of thought, feeling and being, producing a deterioration and an increased propensity to sin, proportioned only by the grade of crime committed and the number of times it is repeated. This truth is demonstrated in every-day life. The drunkard realizes its force in the fearful growth of his appetite for strong drink, and this frequently, too, after all his powers are mature. Every habitual transgressor finds that the tendency to the vices to which he is addicted outstrips in its progress the growth of every faculty of his nature, not only "filling" them, as Bro. Weems says, but overwhelming them, and bringing them into a state of servile subjection to its despotic power. These practical exhibitions of the law of sin are but verifications of what is announced in the written word: "The wages of sin is death." "He that soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." I know Bro. Weems admits a greater "personal wickedness" even of heart and practice, and yet denies a greater depravity. Now here, to my view, he either unwittingly abandons his position, or else presents an unintelligible, if not an unreal distinction. I would ask: If the heart and life be more wicked, what remains unchanged? Is it the depravity? Then it must be a kind of immutable patrimony, entailed upon Adam's posterity, that is proof against both sin and grace; for if the grade of depravity is the same in all persons, then it has not been affected by either sin or grace since the fall. Who will say this much?

As an obvious example of the effects of sin upon a race or people, I referred to the disparity existing between a native of a land that has been for ages under the ban of heathenism, and one who has been blessed with Christian ancestry. From this he infers that I make the degree of our depravity "depend on the mere accident of birth." I say nay; but upon the general law of sin in connection with another we shall call the law of reproduction, by which everything can and does reproduce only its own kind. It is written: "Adam begat a son in his own likeness, after his own image." And of the vegetable kingdom it is said: "The herb yielding seed and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind." It was in accordance with this law that Adam transmitted his sin to his offspring, as all admit. Then why is the law not also potent and manifest in regard to all other sinners? Who can give a satisfactory reason?

Bro. Weems says I cannot explain by my theory the difference that exists between children of the same parentage. Suppose I cannot—what does this prove? How much of the phenomena of every-day life can we explain? It can be said, however, without fear of mistake, that the apparent discrepancies to which he alludes are not greater than those which occur under the same circumstances in regard to the physical and mental qualities; or, more plainly, the distinctive grade of moral nature of the parents is as easily and uniformly traced in the child as are the mental or physical characteristics. In this, as in many of the great laws of nature, there are circumstances and causes which modify the result, too numerous and complicated for human cognizance. The most, probably, that can be known is that the ancestors are reproduced in the child.

To Bro. Weems' advice not to follow the teachings of phrenology if they conflict with the Bible, I trust I can respond in the language of St. Paul, when exhorted to give to the poor: "The same which I also was forward to do;" though I apprehend no conflict between the works of God, as revealed in nature, and the written word.

I see also a communication in the Advocate from Dr. W. Spillman, in which he endeavors to show a radical distinction between the words depravity and corruption, claiming that a man may be more corrupt, but cannot be more depraved, and intimating that my mistake may arise from a "misunderstanding of the term." He bases his argument upon the etymology of the word, stating that it comes from "vitiatus," which signifies put out of order, crooked, and in its application to man implies: "He was put out of order, crooked, and could only be put in order or made straight by the same Almighty power which formed him out of the dust of the earth." Now let us, if we can, analyze this argument a little.

1. I find that while these words, "corrupt" and "depraved," are not identical in meaning, yet they are so nearly the same as to be rendered as synonyms by the best lexical authority of the land, and in their application to the moral state of man may generally be used interchangeably.

2. So far as I can see, it avails nothing in the present issue whether they are equivalent or not. If we accept the distinction he makes, and the definition he gives, we find that "depraved," like its correlative, "corrupt," is not a superlative or absolute term, but rather a comparative one, admitting of degrees; therefore, if it determines anything concerning the fallen state, it indicates, as I have claimed, that it may be of different grades in different persons; for surely if one man is "out of order," or "crooked," another may be more so. I think Bro. Spillman will have to find a broader and stronger basis for so weighty a doctrine. Yet he builds upon this foundation the following: "The depravity of Adam after the fall was as deep and dark as it was possible for it to be." This may be true, but I find no proof of it, and so grave a doctrine should be well established before it is so unqualifiedly accepted. The only Scripture that I now think of, upon which this doctrine can be based, is found in Genesis vi, 5: "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." Upon this I remark:

1. This must have been a worse depravity than Adam's, or else it would have been no reason for man's destruction at this particular time, at least fifteen hundred years after the fall; whereas it is given by the Lord as the sole reason for so great a judgment; and, corroborating this view, we find in the second verse of the same chapter what appears to be one of the causes of this great and universal degeneracy: "That the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they were fair, and they took them wives of all which they chose."

2. If we accept this view we see the wisdom and necessity for such a wholesale destruction of the human family. The grade of depravity was so deep and dark that in the divine mind the propagation of such a class of beings would have been an unmixed evil—one devoid of the probability of good results.

3. From this and other Scriptures I infer that perfect depravity would not be allowed to propagate or multiply itself.

I will now state in brief in what I conceive the "totality" of depravity to consist: 1. In its embracing all persons, none have escaped its blighting effects. 2. It reaches and vitiates every power and faculty of man's nature—it "leaveneth the whole lump." 3. It exists in all to such a degree as to render them incapable of good without divine aid.

JOHN W. HALL.

OKAHOMA, Miss.

A Reply to Uncle John.

MY DEAR UNCLE JOHN: Your letters have given me a good deal of trouble. I scarcely know whether to call you a fogy, or change my opinion of others who have ideas similar to yours. For instance, there is old Bro. Blank, who calls us young ministers boys. "You boys," he will say, "ought not to smoke, in the presence of those who do not smoke, without leave, and scarcely at all in the presence of ladies or elderly gentlemen." And he even goes so far as to say that ministers of culture, raised in these days of enlightened piety, ought not to use tobacco at all; that to such it is a violation of a plain religious principle laid down in Scripture, wherein it is said: "If eating meat makes my brother to offend, I will eat no more flesh while the world standeth," etc. He further said that, although he was raised in the backwoods, far away from religious or educational advantages, yet his conscience will not allow him to use tobacco; that when he looks out upon earth's teeming millions of blood-bought souls, starving for the bread of life, and remembers that it will cost money to carry it to them, and that it is God's money, and they are God's souls, and that I am accountable for every cent which passes through my hands, he dares not spend money for such a luxury. And when I told him that it was a great help to me in sermonizing—that I did not believe I could prepare a sermon without plenty of good tobacco—he sneered at the idea, and said he thought it a great swindle to palm off on a congregation the inspiration of tobacco for that of the Holy Ghost, and that he did not believe that the Holy Ghost would co-operate with tobacco in the preparation of a sermon. But the old gentleman said so many things about young ministers monopolizing the best bed in the preacher's room, using all the water, leaving no dry corner of the towel, talking too loud when arguing with a senior, laughing too loud, wearing a high hat leaning back, or to either side, fingering a mustache, twirling a fancy walking-cane, talking too much about ladies and matrimony, and I do not know what all, that I set him down as a fogy—a man of neither mental culture nor literary taste, and paid but little attention to what he said.

You allude in your letters to two very contemptible classes of ministers, viz.: the chronic croaker and the expert hinter. I thought you came very near subjecting yourself to be accused of grumbling at the grumbler, which would have been the lowest style of grumbling. But we must not construe all complaining into grumbling. Men have a right to complain; yea, it sometimes becomes their solemn duty to complain at injustice and cruelty. And it would be a very poor, unworthy, selfish and hypocritical get off for us, who have been more fortunate, to turn our backs to such in the day of their trouble, and sneeringly apply to their aching hearts the insulting epithet: "Grumbler." Far better for us, dear uncle, that we should patiently hear their complaints, and, if well founded, adjust ourselves to the task of seeing them righted, even at the cost of personal ease and emolument; for the God of truth and justice has the tears of all such stored away in the great reservoir of heaven; and there will be a flood of them, hot and briny—enough to sweep away all power-abusers—in the great day to come. And even the sycophantic hinter of whom you write is not so bad, after all, as we might at first imagine; for those whom he usually attacks are those who are invulnerable to attacks otherwise made, and if they ever pay their pastor anything it has to be hinted out of them, with hints loud, long and strong; and even then the coat he gets is often moth-eaten, and the calico fady.

But I wish you, in your next, to give us your views on another class of sycophants—or toad-eaters, as Dickens would say—whose aims are more grasping, whose schemes are more subtle, and whose workings are far more satanic in their results.

It will be seen, on investigation, that to-day No. 4 seldom aspires to anything higher than upon a third-rate moth-eaten coat for self, a ten-cent calico gown for wife, a two-bit kylie for little boy, and a fifteen-cent doll for the baby girl. And all these he ropes in hint (not swindle) old Bro. Littlesoul out of; believing, at the same time, that the dear old stingy brother will be more benefited in soul expansion than he and his family will by the acquisition of the much-needed plunder. But to-day No. 2 aims at position, influence and money; and these he will have at the expense of any man, woman or child who may come within the reach of his eager grasp, by fair means if he may, or foul ones if he must. See him fawning around that silvery-locked D. D., or that goggle-eyed P. E. In the presence of the former he is grave and dignified—talks on the awful subject of holiness, and divulges to the old doctor the secret that he intends seeking, preaching and practicing a higher-life religion. But in the presence of the latter he is a clown or monkey, and even uses language too bad to be mentioned, and finally very boldly avows his purpose to vote for the dear presiding elder for the General Conference; or, if he chance to be a presiding elder himself, he will see to it that all his "boys," as he calls the preachers in his district who will be his satellites, shall have good places; or, if he be a station or circuit preacher, then he will flatter the vain, smile at the wicked, and visit the rich. These men do not grumble, for two reasons, viz.: First, because they make their own appointments; and, second, because it will not pay—and they work for pay.

Your affectionate nephew,

JUVENIS.

SEMMES FIELD, ALA., June 7, 1876.

St. Paul's Baptism.

A CORRECTION.

MR. EDITOR: In the ADVOCATE of June 1 I use the following in reference to the baptism of St. Paul, which I hasten to correct: "Besides, the verb 'baptize' is in the aorist infinitive, and not in the imperative." This mistake resulted from the exact likeness in form found in the active, aorist infinitive, and the middle, aorist imperative, together with the absence of the conjunction ("kai") in the original. And yet I was not much further from the truth in my rendering of the passage than the text in our present translation. The rendering, "Arise and be baptized," is not authorized by the middle voice. This rendering is in the passive voice, notwithstanding the original is in the middle voice.

However, this does not change the main purpose of my communication. That purpose was to bring out the fact that St. Paul was baptized while standing up; and, if baptized while standing up, he could not have been immersed; and, if not immersed, he must have been baptized by pouring the water upon him, in the name of the Holy Trinity.

ANGUS DOWLING.

LAWRENCEVILLE, ALA., June 7, 1876.

An Extraordinary Story.

Our English exchange, the Baptist, may well pronounce this an "extraordinary story," yet it is told with such authority, and bears such a family resemblance to other follies of the English Episcopalians, that it may be accepted as true:

"A happy couple, in humble life, recently had their family enlarged by the addition of twins; but in a few days one of the babes sickened and died, and alarming symptoms foretold the speedy departure of the other. In these distressing circumstances the parents sent for the clergyman of the parish, in order that the dear little ones might be fitted for the kingdom of heaven. On his arrival a sad state of things was disclosed. He, of course, soon made the living child a member of Christ, a child of God, and an inheritor of the kingdom of heaven, but what to do with the dead child was past his comprehension. The distressed mother first entreated him to let a few drops of the magic water fall on the dead child's face, but that could not be; then she prayed that as they were both born together, so, in case of the second death, they might both be buried in the same coffin, or, at least, in the same grave. This very natural wish did not harmonize with the theology of the Wiltshire parson, and so it was not granted. The second child died, the funeral was arranged, the two coffins were brought forth, but only one of the babies was committed to the earth in 'sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life,' and when the distressed parents inquired where the other child was to be interred, the reply was to the effect that the other child must be buried at night in unconsecrated ground, 'without service or ceremony, as it had not been baptized. Here, however, a new chapter opened, for the mother declared the buried child was the unbaptized one, and that, being now committed in 'sure and certain hope,' he was safer while she claimed Christian burial for the other on the ground of his having been made 'a member of Christ,' etc. In this dilemma the parson, in no measured terms, denounced the woman as a cheat, and charged her with cheating God, cheating the church, and cheating him also. The reply was a non-plus. 'I am very sorry,' sobbed the mother, 'if I have done wrong; I did not wish to cheat God, nor the church, but I confess I have no scruples about cheating the devil.'"

It was Plutarch, we believe, who remarked that railroad accidents are called calamitous affairs, because the engineers are always by valves.

OBITUARIES.

MISS FRANCES ELIZABETH BEARD, daughter of Levi and Emily Josephine Beard, was born November 20, 1857, in Carroll parish, La. The child of Christian parents, she was baptized in infancy, and when fifteen years old she was duly recognized as a member of the church in Delhi, La., by Rev. J. E. Bradley.

At Midway camp meeting, in October, 1873, she received and professed the full assurance of pardon and peace. After an illness of twenty months she died of consumption, at the residence of Rev. C. T. Manholand, in the parish of Franklin, State of Louisiana, May 25, 1876. One month before her death, at her request, I gave her the holy communion. It was to her a season of grace and comfort. She then informed me that she was well aware of her condition; that her days on earth would be few; in a short time she would be in the conscious enjoyment of the bliss of heaven. On the day before that on which she died she called about her those who had been to her as parents during her orphanage, and asked their pardon for any act by which she might have wronged or grieved them. To her absent brother she sent a message of love, and of earnest entreaty that he would meet her in heaven. Only a little while before she died a friend suggested that she would soon be in heaven, and see her father, mother and sister, who had gone before. She replied: "Yes; and, what is still more precious, I shall see Jesus; and O how I shall cling to his feet! Then I shall be happy; O so happy!" She was well aware of the presence of death, and with the utmost composure she took note of his progress as he unloosed the bands of life. Only five minutes before the last breath she asked the time of day. She then spoke of certain former comrades who would soon greet her on the shining shore; and then, turning with a smile to surviving friends, she asked: "What message do you wish to send to them by me?" One minute more and she ceased to breathe. It was as a child closing its eyes to sleep in the arms of its mother.

B. F. ALEXANDER.

ANOTHER good man is gone. Many hearts are riven. There is weeping on earth, but rejoicing in heaven. The subject of this notice, Dr. BENJAMIN E. KEY, eldest son of A. C. and A. B. Key, was born in Chambers county, Ala., July 18, 1817, and died of consumption, in Hill county, Texas, May 2, 1876. Bro. Key professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, when about twenty years old, and remained a member until called to join the church triumphant. He was married to Miss Sallie C. Zollicoffer, March 12, 1872, with whom he lived happily until separated by death.

He was a good, obedient child, a good husband and father, a good citizen, a good physician, and, best of all, he was a good Christian. It was the writer's privilege to visit him a few days before his death, and at his own request read the Scriptures and prayed with him. He talked freely on the subject of death, and manifested a strong faith and a well-grounded hope. His physicians thought it might give temporary relief to carry him West, and accordingly on the twenty-fifth of April, his friends started with him, and reached his father-in-law's that day, when it was discovered that he could go no farther; and there he remained until "angels came and bore him away to his eternal home." He suffered long and severely, but he bore his sufferings with that fortitude and resignation that ever characterizes the true Christian. He arranged his business as one who was going away to return no more. He was reclined until death, and was exceedingly happy for several hours before he died. He urged all his friends to meet him in heaven, and requested them, if he should become speechless, to ask him for a sign; and just before he died his weeping mother-in-law said to him: "Give me that sign if Jesus is with you still;" and he raised his hand toward heaven and fell asleep in Jesus. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." He leaves a wife and two little children, and many friends and relations to mourn his loss; but their loss is his great gain.

J. J. DAVIS.

SISTER NELLIE DANIEL was born in the State of Georgia on the twenty-eighth of December, 1804. She was the daughter of John Ellis, and Mrs. Sarah Johnston, his wife. In 1810, with her parents, she emigrated to the then Mississippi Territory, and in 1812 removed to the State of Louisiana, and settled in Washington parish, near Franklinton, the parish site, where she spent the remainder of her life, and closed her earthly pilgrimage, at her residence, on the ninth of March, 1876. Sister Daniel embraced religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of Rev. Miles Harper, in 1827 or 1828. [illegible] her vows and the church of [illegible] her brother, Hon. E. P. Ellis, [illegible] of her religious life. In a letter to [illegible] her death, says: "Her religious course, after she embraced religion and joined the church, is and was well known by all who knew her. After that event her main object seemed to be a preparation for death, eternity and judgment. She was an acceptable member of the church for fifty-four or fifty-five years." Long and painful was her illness, often denied the pleasure of conversing with her friends; but when her disease gave way, and her children and friends would express a hope that she would recover, she would say with great earnestness and resignation: "Not my will, but thine, be done, O God!" To the writer she would often say, when bidding her good-by: "Pray for me, that I may have grace to bear my affliction with patience."

She leaves four children and a number of grandchildren and friends to mourn her loss; but they mourn not as those who have no hope. May God bless the bereaved, and unite them all at last where sickness, sorrow, pain or death cannot come.

RUFUS T. DAVIS, Pastor.

HATTIE P. THOMS, youngest daughter of Calvin and Sarah A. Smith, was born in East Feliciana, La., January 18, 1849, and died November 5, 1875. Her mother died when she was an infant, and her father when she was about eight years old, leaving her an orphan. She joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South, in Jackson, La., during the year 1870, and lived a [illegible] member until death. The writer was intimately acquainted with her for two years, talked with her often about her soul's salvation; has seen her weeping and [illegible] after a brighter and clearer evidence of acceptance with God. During the year she frequently came to the altar for prayer, seeking that comfort that the Spirit of God alone can give. She was happily married to James A. Thoms, November 19, 1874. On May 27, 1875, she was badly burned by the explosion of coal oil, which continued to afflict her until her death. She closed her life after a severe illness of a few days, leaving her devoted husband and little babe to mourn their irreparable loss. Though the summons came unexpectedly, and the messenger speedily executed his commission, yet she was neither unprepared nor overtaken by surprise. She earnestly exhorted her husband and friends to meet her in heaven, and sent the writer word that she was going on to await his arrival in that "rest that remaineth to the people of God." May the heart-stricken ones learn to draw consolation from him "who has borne our griefs and carried our sorrows," and who is willing and able to fullness of joy and to an inheritance incorruptible.

D. C. LANGSTON.

DIED, February 27, 1876, [illegible] Carthage, Ala., Mrs. FANNIE H. WHEELER, in the twenty-eighth year of her age. She was the daughter of Andrew S. Hamilton and Ann I. Hamilton, and the wife of [illegible] T. Wheeler, to whom she was married December, 1871.

Possessed of a sensitive and quiet nature she led a retired life; but from early childhood she was the subject of religious convictions, and when only about eight years old she attached herself to the Methodist Episcopal Church South, of which she remained a consistent member until her death. Her life was a beautiful expression of simple, earnest piety. She had been in feeble health for some months, but no one the family apprehended immediate danger. During the night before her death she was taken with a congestive chill, which her friends did not discover until she was dead. When informed that her end was near she gave no signs of alarm, but expressed herself as ready to go. The only thing that seemed to trouble her was the fact that her youngest child had not been baptized. She leaves a husband and children to mourn her loss, but her loss is those who have no hope.

LITTLE MORGAN REAGAN died in Covington, La., on Sunday, June 4, of typhoid fever, aged about two years. He was a good boy, and loved his Sabbath-school. I sent for him to pray for him, and he used to come every day, saying that the good old man more good than the minister. On the day of his death his mother was telling him he wanted the boy to pray. He went and administered to him. He said he was not afraid to die. He was then very happy and almost gone. About an hour before he died he raised up both hands and said: "I see the angels! the angels!" the angels" and instantly died. How soon the lamb of the fold is taken away when we have the heavenly glory! and what a blessed assurance and confirmation of the truth of the Christian faith in one so young! May the little boys and girls of Covington live and die like him.

L. L.

BRO. H. S. HENRY was born in Lincoln county, N. C., September 2, [illegible] and departed this life April 6, 1876, in Livingston parish, La. He professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South, of which he remained a consistent member until his death. His life was a beautiful expression of simple, earnest piety. He had been in feeble health for some months, but no one of the family apprehended immediate danger. During the night before his death he was taken with a congestive chill, which his friends did not discover until he was dead. When informed that his end was near he gave no signs of alarm, but expressed himself as ready to go. The only thing that seemed to trouble him was the fact that his youngest child had not been baptized. He leaves a wife and children to mourn his loss, but their loss is his great gain. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." He leaves a wife and nine children, besides a host of friends, to mourn his loss. Brother Henderson joined the Methodist Church early life, and was an acceptable member as long as he lived. His house was a home for Methodist preachers, and all would partake of his kind hospitality. He moved from Alabama, in 1835 or 1836, to the place where he died. He was in feeble health for more than twelve months previous to his death, during which time he had been blessed with a glorious hope. "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace."

CHARLES H.

MRS. MARY MARIA HILL was born in Sumter, Ala., September 11, 1816. She was married to Rev. J. F. Hill, her surviving husband, October 11, 1836. Soon after her marriage she professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and remained a member of its communion to the day of her death. She died March 25, 1875, steadfast in the faith of the Lord Jesus Christ, leaving as her will and testament behind that her children meet her in heaven.

J. M.

LITTLE PHILIP FERDINAND, son of Charles M. and Sarah Harris, died in 1876. Just as he had entwined himself around the hearts of his parents he was called away to be with the angels. He sustain the bereaved and afflicted parents, and may the father and children live so that they may meet little Ferdie in heaven.

RUFUS T. DAVIS.

EUNICE, June 8, 1876.

WALTER J. ARINGTON was born March 31, 1873, and died January 14, 1876. The Lord said: "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Little Walter was not, for the Lord took him.

L. L.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876.

DAFFODILS.

I stand, as once I stood of old,
Upon a meadow of green and gold;
'Tis sunny April day;
The little daisies kiss my feet,
The blackbird's call is clear and sweet,
And care is far away.

A solemn peace lies on my heart,
So lately wont to throb and smart,
And chafe the human ills;
And all my knee to bend the breeze
That wanders through the bubbling trees
And shakes the daffodils.

How sweet they show to weary eyes,
These hardly yellow blooms that rise
On spindle-slanted stalks!
They need no nurture, thought or care,
No spring will e'er unfurl more fresh and fair,
Over all our common walks.

On meadow green, by leafy edge,
In wood and shade and rushy sedge,
By little lowly rills;
While yet the north wind blows its blast,
Before the storm and sleet are passed,
Laugh out the daffodils.

They rise this year from last year's grave,
And all their golden tassels wave
As blithely now as then.
So I who love their beauty so,
Rise up this year from last year's woe,
And gather flowers again.

What though the feet that walked with mine,
Through last year's days of shade and shine
Among my native hills,
Have wandered from my side, and I
Stand lonely under God's blue sky,
Among the daffodils.

Yet though the hand which held my own
In fond and close clasp, while love's own tone
Grew tenderer with each pain,
Has left my poor hand thus and cold,
I bring the trusting heart of old
To these bright flowers again.

All The Year Round.

Marshall and Jefferson.

Among other distinguished persons encountered by Mr. Picknor during his journey to Virginia in [illegible] was the illustrious Chief Justice Marshall, of whom in a few touches he gives us a faithful portrait. "You will expect," he wrote to his father, "some account of the chief justice of the United States, the first lawyer—not, indeed, the first orator—in the country. You must then imagine before you a man who is tall to awkwardness, with a large head of hair, which looked as if it had not been lately tied or combed, and with dirty hands. You must imagine him, too, with a strangeness in his manners, which arises neither from awkwardness nor from stupidity, but seems to be a curious compound of both; and then perhaps you will have before you a figure something like that of the chief justice." His style and ease in conversation are uncommonly mild, gentle and conciliating; and before I had been with him half an hour I had forgotten the uncouthness of his dress and person, and observed only the quick intelligence of his eye, and the penetration which he discovered in the suggestions which he spoke by the animated expressions of his countenance."

His impressions of Mr. Jefferson, whom he visited at Monticello, and descriptions of the sage's house and of the social regulations which he found existing within it, form the staple of another letter to his father, which is extremely valuable and interesting, as being a contemporaneous sketch, drawn from the life, of the immortal author of the Declaration of Independence and his mode of living.

"Mr. Jefferson lives, you know," writes Mr. Ticknor, "on a mountain which is named Monticello, and which, as you do not know, is a Spanish word for Carter's mountain. The west of this steep, savage hill was precisely and slow as satan's ascent to paradise. We were obliged, to find two-thirds round its sides before we reached the artificial lawn on which the house stands; and when we had arrived there we were about six hundred feet above the stream which flows at its foot. It is a abrupt mountain. The tulip-growth of ancient forest trees conceals its sides, and shades part of its summit. The prospect is admirable. In the center of the lawn, and facing the southeast, Mr. Jefferson has placed his house, which is of brick, two stories high in the wings, with a piazza in front of a receding center, to enter, by a glass folding door, into a hall which reminds you of Goldsmith's 'Man of the Mountain,' by the strange furniture of its walls. On one side hang the head and horns of an elk, a deer and a buffalo; another covered with curiosities which Lewis and Clarke found in their long and perilous expedition. On the third, among many other striking matters, was the head of a mammoth. On the fourth side, in oil and in fresco with a fine painting of the Apostle Peter, is an Indian map on leather, of the southern waters of the Missouri, and an Indian representation of a bloody battle, handed down in their traditions. Through this hall—or, rather museum—we passed to the dining-room, and sent our letters to Mr. Jefferson, who was in his study. Here again we found ourselves surrounded with paintings that seemed good. We had hardly time to glance at the pictures before Mr. Jefferson entered. I was astonished to find him, whom I had always supposed to be a small man, more than six feet high, with dignity in his appearance, and ease and gracefulness in his manner. As dinner approached he took us to the drawing-room—a large and rather elegant room, twenty or thirty feet high, which, with the hall I have described, composed the whole center of the house from top to bottom. The floor of this room is tesselated, and is formed of alternate diamonds of cherry and beech, and kept polished as highly as if it were of the mahogany. Here are the best pictures of the collection. Over the fireplace the Laughing and Weeping Philosophers, dividing the world between them; on its right, the earliest navigators to America—Columbus, Americus Vespucius, Magellan, etc. Everything is done with such regularity that when you know how one day is filled, I suppose you know how it is with the others. At eight o'clock the first bell is rung in the great hall, and at nine the second summons you to the breakfast-room, where you find everything ready. After breakfast every one goes, as inclination leads him, to his chamber, the drawing-room or the library. The children retire to their school-room with their mother (Mrs. Randolph,) Mr. Jefferson rides to his mills on the Rivanna, and returns at about twelve. At half-past three the great bell rings, and those who are disposed resort to the drawing-room, and the rest go to the dining-room at the second call of the bell, which is at four o'clock. The dinner was choice, and served in the French style; but no wine was set on the table till the cloth was removed. The ladies sat until about six, then retired, but returned with the tea-tray a little before seven, and spent the evening with the gentlemen; which was always pleasant, for they are obviously accustomed to join in the conversation, however high the topic may be. At about half-past ten, which seemed to be their usual hour of retiring, I went to my chamber, found there a fire, candle, and a servant in waiting to receive my orders for the morning; and in the morning was waked by his return to build the fire."—Life, Letters and Journal of George Ticknor.

Beds.

As we snuggle between the sheets, and lay our heads on a soft pillow some cold winter's night, it sometimes seems as if nothing but a luxurious couch of this sort could be worth calling as bed. Yet a large part of the world enjoy no such arrangement for sleeping, and could not enjoy it if they had it. Our own ancestors reposed in much less luxurious fashion. In the Eastern countries people commonly spread a mat on the flat roof of their houses, and make that their bed. In Russia the top of the stove is the bedstead. In both cases the sleepers do not undress themselves.

In ancient Egypt—as still in China and Japan—wooden pillows were in vogue, hollowed out to fit the shape of the head. But the ancient Egyptians, while, on account of the heat and vermin, they preferred hard pillows, are said to have considered their comforts at night in the invention of spring mattresses. These were made of strips of leather crossed over each other, and must have been as cool, if not quite as soft and yielding as the wobbling of twine stretched over a frame, on which the natives of India rest.

The Israelites used sheepskins and goat skins stuffed for pillows and in early times the same for bedding, but their bedsteads, at a later period, at least must have been very costly. The prophet Amos speaks of "beds of ivory."

Among the Assyrians, and afterward among the Romans, couches of gold and silver were possessed by the rich. The reason for this splendor was partly that the bed-room was the safe room, for in the same room occupied by day, and where food is eaten, and in which one receives company, the bed is often inconvenient, and sometimes unbearable. A Roman lets the guests recline, and sometimes undresses for supper in a separate room.

Our Anglo-Saxon ancestors were not at all refined in their sleeping arrangements. Their beds consisted of wooden boxes, filled with a bag of straw. In an old illustrated manuscript there is a picture of a king going to bed. He lays a crown on his head, every princely article but night-cap, but has no night-dress.

King Henry the Eighth, of England, is said to have slept upon a straw bed, while his servants lay upon rushes strewn on the floor of the royal kitchen. The Russians, not what we should call luxurious, but so much ceremony was used in going to bed that several chamberlains were employed to undress the royal personage, putting down the bolster, etc. One indispensable part of the ceremony was to thrust a sword into the straw to see that no person was concealed in it.

When feather beds came into use in England they were regarded as articles of great value, and are commonly mentioned in wills. The person to whom a feather bed was bequeathed did not roughly receive anything else, his outfit by night was provided for, if not his welfare by day.

It may be mentioned in connection with beds that a strange superstition was once common in the south of England, in the belief that a passing funeral the whole length of a person's garden. Nursing sons has often been removed from a feather bed to the bare floor, under the notion that the death struggle was prolonged, owing to the presence in the bed of a few pigeon feathers. In England it is still customary to surround the bed with curtains. Americans have adopted the more sensible French fashion of allowing free circulation of air about the sleeper.—Harper's Bazar.

A COMMON MISTAKE.—It is a great mistake to suppose that much can be accomplished after a man has reached the age of thirty or forty years. Nine tenths of our clever men have actually exhibited more vigor of intellect at fifty years of age than at forty. Franklin was forty before he began, in real earnest, the study of natural philosophy. The principal of one of the most flourishing colleges in America was a farm servant until he was past the age when most students have completed their collegiate education. Sir Henry Spelman did not begin the study of science until he was between forty and sixty years of age. Greek was the first foreign language which Cato the elaborated Roman censor, acquired, and he did so in his old age. Alfieri, whose writings have caused a revolution in the dramatic literature of Italy, was left without a tutor in his infancy and wasted his early years; John Ogilby, the author of poetical translations from Virgil and Homer, began the study of Latin when about forty years of age, and Greek in his forty-fourth. Boccaccio, one of the most illustrious writers that ever appeared in Italy, suffered nearly half of his life to pass without improvement. Handel was forty-eight before he published any of his great works. Dr. Thomas Arnold, of Rugby, learned German at forty, in order that he might read Niebuhr in the original.

The most likely thing to become a woman—A little girl.

The Vatican.

The word is often used, but there are many who do not understand its import. The term refers to a collection of buildings on one of the seven hills of Rome, which covers a space of 1,200 feet in length and 1,000 feet in breadth. It is built on the spot once occupied by the garden of the cruel Nero. It owes its origin to the Bishop of Rome, who, in the early part of the sixth century, erected an humble residence on its site. About the year 1161 Pope Eugenius rebuilt it on a magnificent scale. Innocent the Second, a few years afterward, gave it up as a lodging to Peter the Second, King of Arragon. In 1305 Clement the Fifth, at the instigation of the King of France, removed the papal see from Rome to Avignon, when the Vatican remained in a condition of obscurity and neglect for more than seventy years. But soon after the return of the pontifical court to Rome, an event which had been so earnestly prayed for by poor Petrarch, and which finally took place in 1376, the Vatican was put into a state of repair, again enlarged, and it was thenceforward considered as the regular palace and residence of the popes, who, one after the other, added fresh buildings to it, and gradually encircled it with antiquities, statues, pictures and books, until it became the richest depository in the world. The library of the Vatican was commenced 1,300 years ago. It contains 40,000 manuscripts, among which are some by Pliny, St. Charles Borromeo, and many Hebrew, Syriac, Arabian and Armenian Bibles. The whole of the immense buildings composing the Vatican are filled with statues found beneath the ruins of ancient Rome; with paintings by the masters, and with curious medals and antiquities, of almost every description. When it is known that there have been exhumed more than 70,000 statues from the ruined temples and palaces of Rome, the reader can form some idea of the richness of the Vatican.—Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette.

AN OLD JERSEY TRICK.—The story of the knowing turtle, which found its way back 15 its of home over seven miles of a swampy meadow, reminded one of another old turtle which came back every summer for twenty two years to the farm of a friend who lives on the bank of the Raritan. Over the boys' wicket-bed hung a shell, with his initials, "W. S.," also the year in which he found him, and then left him to pursue his travels. Having no fear of ghosts, he made his home in a hollow in an old pear tree having moved it very. The sudden death of the old holidays (the first, sixth, eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-first and twenty sixth days of each month and to prevent the recognition of Sunday. They were successful. Elated with their victory, they next demanded the purging of the schools of such text-books as Wayland's and Haven's "Moral Science," and issued orders forbidding the attendance of students at Christian churches or Bible classes. Their first step was to prohibit the engagement of any minister or teacher of the Christian religion in the government schools. They then boldly attempted to have the foreign instructors teach on Sundays, and take their holidays on the Japanese ichirokn, or "one-six" days. Only the French teachers in the Imperial College agreed to this, the American and English refusing. The baffled school officers took his revenge in refusing to re-engage the American instructor most prominent in advocating the faithful maintenance of Sunday as a day of rest. Three years have now passed, and the significance of the recognition of Sunday as a day of rest in Japan is seen in this: that, whereas in 1872 such a measure so alarmed the anti-Christian or active pagan element in Japan, now, in 1876, that element is not to be feared, and the adoption of Sunday has so far scarcely suggested the thought of opposition. The direct advantage to Christian labor, and especially to preaching, in giving to the native evangelists and missionaries a day that accords with the general public leisure, and audiences disengaged and ready to hear, is simply incalculable. Already the Japanese Christians in committees of two—the apostolic number—are preaching and teaching unchecked and unharmed in many of the interior towns and localities where foreigners are not allowed to go.—Independent.

Religious Intelligence.

—Mr. McAll's mission in Paris continues to prosper. Three new stations have recently been opened. The attendance of workmen is very large, and cases of conversion are numerous.

—It is stated that a prominent Presbyterian church, recently had eighty applications for its vacant pulpit. To twenty-five of these a hearing has been given. The church is still without a pastor.

—Among the evidences of revival in the Maori mission of New Zealand we notice the ordination of three Maoris in connection with the Church Missionary Society of Auckland. This raises the number of Maori ministers to twenty-four.

—Ten members were added to the First Presbyterian church at Canton, China, on the first Sunday in January. This congregation, under the charge of Dr. Hopper, has enjoyed a continuous revival interest, and is one of the best in China.

—Mr. Neesima, the young Japanese missionary educated in this country, was married, January 3, to the sister of Yamamuro, the blind counselor of the city of Kiyoto. It is a marriage which promises to be very helpful to the gospel work in Japan.

—The Roman Catholics, having received large indemnities from the Chinese government for properties possessed by them two hundred years ago, and confiscated at their expulsion, are building a magnificent cathedral at Canton and a similar one in Peking.

—The receipts of the English Wesleyan Missionary Society, for 1875-6 will reach the sum of $920,000. Last year a similar amount was raised, by means of contributions for extraordinary objects. This year the large sum above mentioned is the ordinary income.

—The organic union proposed between the Free Church of Scotland and the Reformed Presbyterian Synod of Scotland was effected on the twenty fourth of May, at Edinburg. "Thus," writes Mr. George H. Stuart, from Philadelphia, "two grand historic churches, which have long been one in fact, are now one in name, thus setting mother churches of the Old World are consolidating their forces for Christ's crown and covenant, the day seeing a glorious example to the great Presbyterian family in America."

—At the meeting of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel which the ceremony was borne by the successor of the martyr, who accompanied the Prince of Wales during his recent tour in India. Wherever he went, he said, there were communities of Christians grown up under the aegis of the British empire, and he remarked that wherever he went the power of the gospel was most marked where it had been least associated with "temporal power." And the man who had been engaged in effecting what seemed to him an enormous revolution in the opinions of those about them were unconscious of what they had done, and were always striving at something higher and better and more complete."

—The recent proclamation of the prime minister of Japan, declaring that hereafter Sunday shall be observed as a day of rest in the government offices throughout the empire, has an encouraging significance to those who watch the progress of Christian ideas in Japan. The five-fold arrangement of the premier, Sanjo, the Ta, Sho, Shi, Fu and Ken as the trunk and branches of the government, from supreme council to county offices, are designated—has a history behind it. In November, 1872, when the Mikado had determined, on abolishing the lunar and adopting the solar calendar, it was intended then to adopt Sunday, out of pure convenience. This good intention was spoiled by the impudence of a French Roman Catholic missionary in Tokio, who fatuously remarked to one of the supreme organizers, that, having adopted the calendar of Christendom, with its Sunday, they might as well at once take the next step, and recognize Christianity. This remark was understood as a taunt; and the native conservatives, hearing of it, immediately took measures to secure the retention of the old holidays (the first, sixth, eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-first and twenty sixth days of each month and to prevent the recognition of Sunday. They were successful. Elated with their victory, they next demanded the purging of the schools of such text-books as Wayland's and Haven's "Moral Science," and issued orders forbidding the attendance of students at Christian churches or Bible classes. Their first step was to prohibit the engagement of any minister or teacher of the Christian religion in the government schools. They then boldly attempted to have the foreign instructors teach on Sundays, and take their holidays on the Japanese ichirokn, or "one-six" days. Only the French teachers in the Imperial College agreed to this, the American and English refusing. The baffled school officers took his revenge in refusing to re-engage the American instructor most prominent in advocating the faithful maintenance of Sunday as a day of rest. Three years have now passed, and the significance of the recognition of Sunday as a day of rest in Japan is seen in this: that, whereas in 1872 such a measure so alarmed the anti-Christian or active pagan element in Japan, now, in 1876, that element is not to be feared, and the adoption of Sunday has so far scarcely suggested the thought of opposition. The direct advantage to Christian labor, and especially to preaching, in giving to the native evangelists and missionaries a day that accords with the general public leisure, and audiences disengaged and ready to hear, is simply incalculable. Already the Japanese Christians in committees of two—the apostolic number—are preaching and teaching unchecked and unharmed in many of the interior towns and localities where foreigners are not allowed to go.—Independent.

Our Young People.

THE GOODEST MOTHER.

BY MARGARET E. SANGSTER.

Evening was falling cold and dark,
And people hurried along the way
As if they were hoping soon to mark
Their own home candles' cheering ray.

Before me toiled to the whirling wind
A woman with hopeless grief and smart,
And after her tugged a sled behind
The bundle she bore'd the best at all.

A dear little rosy-cheeked boy,
With rosy cheeks and a jacket blue,
Laughing an letting'ring, by her joy,
And here's what he said—I tell you true:

"You're the goodest mother that ever was."
A voice as clear as a forest bird's;
And I'm sure the glad young heart had cause
To utter the sweet of the lovely words.

Perhaps the woman had worked all day
Washing or scrubbing; perhaps she sewed;
I know by her weary bed-fall's way
That life or her was an uphill road.

But love was a comfort children dear;
I think what a comfort you might give
To the very best friend you can have here,
The lady fair in whose house you live.

Do you run to wash your step and say,
Or ask no play for a tired ma's pause,
And tell her, in sweet and winning way,
You're nothing goodest mother that ever was."

From Our Little Friends.

OCTAHOMA, MISS., June 1, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Like the other little girls, I will tell you how old I am. I will be ten years old on the fourth day of October. I have been to school, but have not been going all the time since I first commenced. Sometimes we have a teacher, and sometimes we have none. I was five years old when I started to school to my Cousin Maggie. I then went to Mr. Griffin, and then to Miss Dora, and then to Mr. Hall; now I am going to Mr. Hines, who is a son of our beloved presiding elder, W. B. Hines, of the Jackson district, Mississippi Conference.

Mr. Editor, I have told you about going to every-day school, and I am so sorry that I have nothing to tell you and my little friends about Sunday schools. Mamma and papa live so far from the church that I have had very poor opportunities, up to this time, for attending. I think, however, that I will go pretty soon, as Mr. Hines has been made superintendent of a prospective school near my home; and I am so much delighted! Why, I can go every Sunday!

I sometimes think that little children living in a city or town are, or at least ought to be, much smarter than us little folks away out in the wilderness of the interior.

I will not close my already tedious letter without telling you that I consider myself a member of the church. I was baptized by Rev. H. H. Montgomery when I was a little, tiny baby. I want to be a good little girl, and do all the good I can in the world, so that when I die I will go to heaven, and see little Buddie.

JESSIE ROBERTS.

BAY ST. LOUIS, La., May —, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Mamma takes your paper, and I am always glad when it comes, so I can read the Child's Corner. Mr. Whatley is our preacher this year. We all love him, although he has preached only once for us. We live in the country, but we have a church and Sabbath-school near us. I knit a pair of socks to get money for our preacher. Mr. A. E. Clay was our preacher last year. He lived with us, and preached on Wednesday nights. We loved him very much, and were very sorry when he went away. I am nine years old. I have six sisters and five brothers. I do not go to school, but sister teaches us at home. I am studying geography, arithmetic, history and spelling. With kind wishes, I am your little friend.

MAGGIE MCDONALD.

Seven Miles Up in the Air.

On the fifth day of September, 1862, two Englishmen ascended, Glaisher and Coxwell by name, made one of the most remarkable ascents recorded in the history of ballooning. They started from Wolverhampton, England, and the elevation reached was the highest ever attained by man nearly or quite seven miles above the earth.

Mr. Glaisher has given a modest yet thrilling account of this almost fatal adventure. The balloon left the earth at three minutes past one P. M. Nothing important occurred until the party, at forty minutes past one, reached the altitude of four miles from the earth. Discharging sand, they rose to the height of five miles during the next ten minutes. More sand was discharged, and the balloon shot rapidly upward. Soon Mr. Glaisher's sight failed, and he could not read the fine divisions on his instruments. All the time the balloon had been spinning round and round, and the valve-line had become so entangled that Mr. Coxwell had to climb into the ring above the car to adjust it.

At this moment one o'clock and fifty-four minutes Mr. Glaisher looked at the barometer, and found its reading to be nine and three-quarter inches, implying a height of over twenty-nine thousand feet. Wishing to record the observation, he found his right arm powerless. He tried to move the other arm, and found it powerless too.

"Then I tried to shake myself, and succeeded; but I seemed to have no limbs. On looking at the barometer my head fell over my left shoulder; I struggled and shook my body again, but could not move my arms. Getting my head upright for an instant only, it fell on my right shoulder; then I fell backward, my back resting upon the side of the car and my head on its edge. In this position my eyes were directed to Mr. Coxwell in the ring. When I shook my body I seemed to have full power over the muscles of the back, and considerably so over those of the neck, but none over either my arms or my legs. As in the case of the arms, so all muscular power was lost in an instant from my back and neck. I dimly saw Mr. Coxwell, and endeavored to speak, but could not. In an instant intense darkness overcame me, but I was still conscious, with as active a brain as at the present moment while writing this. I thought I had been seized with asphyxia, and believed I should experience nothing more, as death would come unless we descended speedily; other thoughts were entering my mind, when I suddenly became unconscious, as on going to sleep."

Meanwhile Mr. Coxwell was in quite as critical a condition. Hoar-frost was all around the neck of the balloon, and the ring was piercingly cold. He attempted to leave the ring, and found that his hands were frozen. He dropped to the car almost insensible, and discovered that his companion was apparently dead. He tried to get to him, but could not. He wished to open the valve, but his hands were frozen and his arms powerless. Feeling insensibility reaching rapidly over him, he made a desperate effort, caught the valve-line with his teeth, and held the valve open until the balloon took a decided downward turn.

In a few minutes Mr. Glaisher began to revive, and soon became conscious that Mr. Coxwell was trying to rouse him.

"I then heard him speak more emphatically, but could not see, speak or move. I heard him again say, 'Do try; now do!' Then the instruments became dimly visible, then Mr. Coxwell, and very shortly I saw clearly. Mr. Coxwell told me that he had lost the use of his hands, which were black, and I poured brandy over them."

What if Mr. Coxwell had lost the use of his neck also!

It has been said that during the critical moments when Mr. Glaisher was unconscious, and Mr. Coxwell nearly so, the balloon reached the fearful height of seven miles.—James Richardson, in St. Nicholas.

Going to God's House.

On the parlor wall, where the first sunbeam lights it up in the morning, hangs a pictured face in its wreath of immortelles. The merry brown eyes and the smiling mouth have nothing of death in their look; but the unfading wreath speaks of the crown they wear beyond the river. So you do not wonder when loving lips tell you that the little maiden lived twelve beautiful years on earth, and then went home in one swift moment to "the Father's house in the skies."

We have many beautiful memories of her left with us; but none sweeter than of the little prattling child of three years, whose words and ways were full of strange wisdom.

One an old friend of the family called to spend an hour; and, as he said goodby, he lifted the gentle one of life's forms, asking lightly: "Well, but Mary, when shall I see you again?"

"Oh, when we get to God's house!" was her instant reply, her beautiful eyes smiling in his face. The old man went away; but the words haunted him, and when, a few years afterward, he lay dying, he said to those about him:

"Tell little Mary C. I have gone to God's house, and I shall wait to meet her there."

Mary lived for twelve years, full of life and merriment, fairly overflowing with frolic, yet the who knew her best knew how much of deep thoughtfulness was hidden under it all.

"We were one of us so ready for sudden death as Mary," yet no one was more full of hopes and dreams for life.

She had no long sickness—only a slight cold that no one thought worth noticing. At midnight she had a smile and a jest for her brother; in an hour she was gasping for breath, and longing for the morning.

"Oh, if the morning would only come! I can't breathe in the darkness," was her constant cry. But just at morning, with the awful look of death setting on her soft, dimpled face, she opened her eyes wide in a flood of light, exclaiming rapturously: "The perfect day! The perfect day!"

With that glad cry she went home to God's house. The gates opened wide to let her in, and we doubt not there were welcoming hands stretched out to meet her. It was not going away, alone to some strange region. It was a home familiar from childhood, God's house, where our dear Lord went to prepare a place for us.—Sunday School Scholar.

"THE PROPHETIC SPIDERS. A close observer in the Providence Journal gives the following incident: The spiders were wise prophets yesterday morning, for their wonderful instinct taught them that the day would be fine, and that the sun would shine on their gossamer houses. Therefore they spread their pretty lady mantles on the drenched grass, and patiently waited for the storm to pass away. The morning broke with a dreary outlook, but when we saw these fairy structures spread thickly over the lawn, and hanging with dainty grace upon the pendant branches of a fuchsia in full bloom, we felt sure that the little workmen knew what they were doing. Neither were our humble friends mistaken in their calculations, and, snugly sheltered under their silvery tents, they doubtless enjoyed the sunshine quite as well as the superior race, whose perceptions in regard to the condition of the elements are far less delicate and reliable than the instinct possessed by these insignificant insects. We have watched the lady mantles for many years, and seldom have the spiders proved false prophets.—Vermont Christian Messenger.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.
ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.
Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.
AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Sowing Money.

Giving to benevolent objects is sowing money. So Paul intimates to the Corinthians. Every dollar has a living germ in it that will sprout into new life and ripen into a harvest. Expended in other ways for pleasure, appetite and avarice, it may bring temporary returns, but in the end it wastes and perishes. The result of fleshly sowing, in money as in other things, ends in reaping corruption. The dragon's teeth brought forth a crop of armed men. A bad use of money is sure to entail calamities and miseries. The only lasting and safe investment is in devoting it to God and godly enterprises. The only way to keep it forever, and to have it always, is to give it away. The reported declaration of a dying philanthropist is strikingly true: "What I have given I have, and what I have kept I have lost."

And yet the common conception of giving would seem to be that it is the alienation from ourselves of property and means, and that the giver dispossesses himself of that which he contributes. This is so not more than in the case of the husbandman who casts seed into the ground. He does not throw away his bread, but he makes it, and largely increases his store. The bread cast upon the waters is most wisely and judiciously disposed of to the advantage of him who finds it after many days.

That money sown comes back in kind may be true. There are promises which countenance the expectation. "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase; so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine." Paul certainly intimates to the Corinthians that they should not be losers in a temporal way by what they gave in ministering to the saints, but that God would enrich them in everything. There is a principle here, which is taken into the account in the order of Providence, but it is not greatly emphasized in the teachings of Christ and the apostles, and for the reason that it might induce sordidness and covetousness in giving. The penalty of withholding may be impoverishment, and the reward of liberality may be increased worldly prosperity. The pound improved secures the gift of more, while the pound hid away is resumed by the lawful owner. God is not indifferent to our stewardship of temporal things, and an even-handed justice is often exhibited in the condition of those who have abused, or have been faithful to their trust.

But the temporal benefits of liberal giving are the lowest considerations in the Christian's mind. Except so far as these may affect his ability to give, they have a very subordinate influence. He looks not so much for the return of his money as for compensation of a nobler character. He would not be content to receive his money back again, if this were all, because he seeks higher and more durable blessings. Money given is money sown, because the harvest is in spiritual blessedness here, and in an eternal recompense hereafter. The actual good done is an element of satisfaction and exquisite delight, but even more gratifying is the sense of God's approval, and the consciousness that we have done all we could for the glory of God and for the happiness of men.

In whatever way we consider the results of giving—the temporal, the spiritual, the eternal—it has in it the analogy of sowing. In a lower sense, but in an accurate one, money, like the word, is the good seed of the kingdom. The analogy to nature is not pressed unduly when we say of this money-sowing: "That which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die." It must die to the giver before it can be quickened into a higher form of blessings for him: "and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat or of some other grain." It is, indeed, a resurrection—something purer and better than that which is sown, for "it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory." Every farthing rightly given, has this germinant nature. There is a fruitful life in it which can only be developed by sowing—that is, by giving it away. There is but one soil wherein money can be quickened and expanded into a spiritual and immortal harvest, and that is the good ground of religion and benevolence. Here it bursts forth into flowers most fragrant, into fruits like those that hang upon the tree of life, and into foliage whose every stem and leaf is full of healing balm.

Comparatively a small portion of the money in the world is sown. The most is expended upon self, the lusts of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life. It goes into railroads, into estates, into the investments of the stock exchange. It is consumed, wasted, lost in the attempt to keep it, while the consecrated use which transmutes it into imperishable treasure is the rarest of all.

The law holds good in sowing money as in sowing wheat: sparingly, sparingly—abundantly, abundantly. The farmer who sows sparingly reaps accordingly. He enriches himself by scattering his seed with a lavish hand. Few men are wisely liberal. They sow but little—they waste the most that they have. The money God has given them to sow is hoarded, or worse. The seed-corn bears no reasonable proportion to that which goes to the mill. They will reap sparingly—something perhaps—a few thin and blighted ears scattered over a sterile field. In grace and glory sparingly. Of the money we have spent, how much of it has been sown? And a few—passing few—sow abundantly. They are rich in grace and in the great beyond—they have a good reward for all their labor. They will come up in "that day" with joy, and bearing their sheaves with them.

What an auspicious hour is this for sowing money! How can we keep it back, in this spring-time of godly opportunity, when the world, so long fallow, is being broken up, and when mission fields, colleges and churches and the poor are calling for liberal and open-handed devisings.

Death of Rev. E. W. Sehon, D. D.

The death of Dr. Sehon is an event that will excite deep regret throughout the church and country. The positions which he filled for many years as Bible agent and missionary secretary required him to visit all parts of the country, and in almost every section he was personally known and loved by a great many people. He was universally popular, courtly and affable, a model gentleman in his bearing always, and rarely gifted as a speaker. On the platform and in the pulpit he was in his congenial element: graceful, eloquent, and generally tender and persuasive. We saw him last at the General Conference in Louisville, in May, 1871. He was the presiding elder of the Louisville district, and all who were there will remember how well he performed his rather trying and laborious duties in the reception and entertainment of the Conference while filling his place at the same time as a delegate. In reference to this sorrowful bereavement that has fallen upon us the editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate says:

In our last issue we reported the extreme illness of Dr. Sehon. We now report his death. He died June 7. We are sad indeed; so are thousands all over the land. Scarcely any minister was better known throughout the Union, and more beloved, than Dr. Sehon. The editor of this paper has enjoyed his unbroken friendship for nearly forty years. He came to Baltimore as agent of Augusta College when we were stationed there. We, of course, introduced him to our friends, but in a short time he had become acquainted with the great body of our people and others, who were delighted with his fine personal presence, his charming bonhomie, and his eloquent speech. He became a great favorite in the Monumental City. But where was he not a favorite? He visited us in Texas, in company with his late friend, Bishop Morris, when he was agent of the American Bible Society—and we shall never forget how he impressed the islanders—it was in Galveston—when we got him to preach on the steamer Neptune, lying at the wharf. The scene was novel—the noble vessel was crowded—so was the wharf—and the silver tones of his rich voice floated over the placid waters of Galveston Bay, while he proclaimed: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ." We have him in grateful remembrance for his kindness to us when we visited Ohio in 1842 in the interest of the churches we were building in Texas. He made our cause his own. But this was characteristic of his noble soul. He was devoted to his friends, and generous to a fault. He was for several years secretary of our Missionary Society, which brought him into familiar intercourse with us. He was vice president of the Board of Missions at the time of his death. How deeply were the members of the board affected when he looked in upon us at our meeting in May, and spoke his last words—assured, as he and we felt, that we should see his face no more! We did indeed hope that he would live to complete his half century of work in the ministry, which he entered in 1827; but the Head of the church had otherwise ordered it. His fine physique and cheerful spirit warranted the expectation that he would live to a good old age; but troubles of various kinds—among them the loss of beloved children and of all his property (for he was once wealthy)—seemed to prey upon him, and make inroads into his constitution, so that he was taken from us at the comparatively early age of sixty-eight.

The Editor and His Work.

Rev. Dr. Fowler, the new editor of the New York Christian Advocate, in his salutatory, says:

The press has long been the third house. Its control in the interest of righteousness is necessary to the success of the church. The unsanctified press is handling all questions, and forestalling the preacher in fixing the public mind. This arm of the service must be snatched or its own field. The question is no longer: "How can a preacher be an editor?" but rather, "How can he fail to be an editor?" The secular press may sometimes assume that the press has superannuated the pulpit, but the acquaintance lies rather in making it reinforce the pulpit. The work of public instruction by all agencies is kept in perpetual demand by the new layers of young life constantly coming, with the same old ignorance to be cured. Each child must be individually molded. Thus there is always on hand a fresh generation, for the fashioning of which the church and the world are contending. This fresh generation is a fort in the pass between the present and the future. The party that gets in commands that future. Thus the church is under perpetual pressure to seize all advantages and make the most of every opportunity. The press and the pulpit are parallel barrels on the same stock. They are under the same sight, and, loaded alike, they will carry to the same mark. The church must see to it that neither is loaded with blanks.

A thoughtful man, turning from an audience of a few hundred to an audience counted by the hundred thousand, cannot fail to be oppressed with their very numbers and their varied needs. There is not a want in the range of all human experience that does not call to him. The one supreme Want, which we call humanity, cries for that supreme Fullness, which we call God. The saved soul must seek the greatest and all channels of communication.

All the enterprises of the church come to the paper having on the wedding garment, and may not be cast out. What a vigilant secular press is constantly doing for secular life the religious press must do for religious life. Set for the defense of the faith; it can never be off duty. Under orders for the capture of the world, it can never go into winter quarters. Commissioned for the edification, the upbuilding, of believers, it cannot neglect the costly materials.

With much other work, the pulpit must conduct most of the raids into the enemies' territory. Permanent literature must build the forts; Periodical literature must cultivate the captured valleys. While sermons may be swords, and books may be shields, the editor's pen must be, like Fitz James' blade, both "sword and shield." The religious press must not keep the apostles forever on trial for perjury, but must rather send them about their Master's work.

It need hardly be added, after this partial confession, to which the churchly side of my work is hinted at, that the editor, like the first friend of Columbus, must "believe in the impossible." This faith is comparatively easy when it is remembered that the editor is not to own, but to edit, the paper, and is not to furnish, but to use, all the brains of the church.

Success consists in making Methodism do its best for the Savior. This reduces to the axiom: "The whole is equal to all the parts." We you, reader, and I have this paper. If we put all our strength into it, and behind it, it will go as best it can. If you get either an idea or the name of a new subscriber, send it on immediately; the first I will use if I want it; the second I will use anyway.

Tribute of the Board of Missions to the Late Rev. E. W. Sehon, D. D.

At a meeting of the Board of Missions, June 14, 1876, the president stated that since the last meeting of the board the Rev. Dr. Sehon, vice president, had "passed through death triumphant home," whereupon the following members were appointed a committee to prepare suitable resolutions to be entered upon the journal of the board, testifying the sincere and ardent affection of the members to their late associate, to wit: the Rev. Drs. Young, Kelley and Cunnyngham. The committee reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Rev. Edmund W. Sehon, D. D., by the several offices of manager, secretary and vice president, has been connected with the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church South for the last twenty-five years;

And whereas, It has pleased God, in his wise providence, to remove him from our counsels by death, June 7, 1876; therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of Dr. Sehon this board has lost one of its most intelligent and devoted members, and the cause of missions an eloquent and successful advocate.

Resolved, That our country has lost a useful and patriotic citizen, and the church one of its most zealous and gifted ministers.

Resolved, That we send a representative to the memorial service that may be held in honor of our deceased brother at the next session of the Louisville Conference.

Resolved, That we tender the sympathies of this board to the family of Dr. Sehon, and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to them, and to the Christian Advocate for publication.

ROBERT A. YOUNG.
D. C. KELLEY.
W. G. E. CUNNYNGHAM.

Several members of the board bore oral testimony to the noble character and eminent services of Dr. Sehon, whose loss is most sincerely and deeply deplored.

JOHN B. McFERRIN, Sec.

MISSION ROOM M. E. CHURCH SOUTH,
Nashville, Tenn., June 14, 1876.

Good News from Warrington, Fla.

WARRINGTON, PENSACOLA NAVY YARD,
June 19, 1876.

DEAR DOCTOR: With a joy unspeakable I write to tell you of the glorious revival we are in the midst of here.

Our good layman, Bros. Philibert and Magruder, whom you met at Conference, came to this work, like myself, in the spirit in which you left us at Milton. Two weeks ago we began with our horizon like Elijah's, having only a little cloud, yet full enough to make our faith strong. Now, blessed be God, the sky is full of glory clouds, and the Spirit is poured upon this place in a most wonderful manner.

I have never seen such a revival. From the smallest child in the Sunday school up to the old gray-haired man, the working of God's Spirit is startlingly manifest. Not only do the women and children crowd the altar, but as many of grown men and youths, and they of the best people and business men in the place. Whole families unite around the altar. Young converts go out and speak for Jesus, and urge their friends to come to him. Men compelled to be absent send earnest requests for prayer. The end cannot be seen. We seem no nearer than when we began. Bless God, we wish never to see the end!

I have been preaching two weeks with no ministerial assistance, and am almost worn out; but God has made preachers out of all the converts, and I am not alone. We received twenty-four members to-day, and have about fifteen applications, and nearly all of both are grown persons. Pray for us.

Yours, PRESTON NASH.

Joint Fraternal Commission.

Having just received, as senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, though the Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., the following official communication from the late General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in answer to our fraternal delegates, it is hereby forwarded for publication:

BALTIMORE, Md., May 19, 1876.

"At the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held in this city, it was [illegible] tion of Clinton B. Fisk,

"Resolved, That in order to remove all obstacles to fraternity between the two churches, our Board of Bishops are instructed to appoint a commission, consisting of three ministers and two laymen, to meet a similar commission authorized by the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and to adjust all existing difficulties."

(Signed) CLINTON B. FISK,
A. C. GEORGE,
OLIVER HOYT,
F. C. HOLLIDAY,
JOHN D. BLAKE,
WM. R. CLARK,
JAS. W. W. HOUTON,
Committee.

"In accordance therewith, the following commissioners were appointed, viz: Morris D'C. Crawford, Enoch L. Fancher, Erasmus Q. Fuller, Clinton B. Fisk, John P. Newman.

GEORGE W. WOODRUFF,
Sec. of Gen. Conf. M. E. C. C.

The way being now open "to adjust all existing difficulties" between the two churches, the commissioners already appointed in behalf of the Methodist Episcopal Church South are hereby notified of this fact, and will endeavor to effect the purpose of their commission at as early a day as may suit the convenience of both parties. The names of our commissioners are: E. H. Myers, D. D., R. K. Hargrove, D. D., T. M. Finney, D. D., Gen. R. B. Vance, Hon. David Clopton.

R. PAINE,
Assistant Secretary.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 6, 1876.

For all particulars concerning the Seashore Camp Meeting our readers are referred to an extended notice of the trustees on the eighth page. Let all who expect to attend read that notice and keep it by them for reference. It is time now to begin the necessary preparations. It is best for all to make arrangements before the time.

The Germans—Our Mission.

MR. EDITOR: Of all nations represented in the United States, the Germans are the most pliable, and most readily yield to American usages and views of life. Everywhere, away from home, the French are stolidly French. The same is the case with the Spaniards, Italians, Irish, etc. But in about twenty years after their arrival here all the peculiarly German protuberances of the Germans have been rubbed off, and you find them almost fully Americanized. Of course there are some fossiliferous exceptions, who, like the Chinese, retain their "cue" as long as they live. They will continue to spend their evenings away from their families at the beer-house, talk vociferously, without any one specially listening, against Christianity and its advocates, and denounce all things sacred to the pious heart as pernicious superstition. But, on the whole, the Germans are decidedly cosmopolitan, and readily conform to the habits and customs of the nations with whom they mingle.

The Methodist Church has done much to encourage the speedy conflux of the different national streams into one peculiarly American river. Because of its Anglo American origin and tendency, you will find that those foreigners who fully embrace Methodism are at the same time more or less nationally changed.

The Southern Methodist Church especially has been aware of this, and has acted in accordance therewith. Our German missions were not called into life in order to perpetuate Germanism. The German language had to be employed in order to reach those who understood no other; but our design has always been, as soon as our members should be sufficiently Americanized and understand the English language so as to feel at home in our American churches, to turn them over to them. If I mistake not, and in case immigration should continue to decrease, it will be necessary, in less than ten years, to have English preaching in most of our German churches, for awhile at least, once every Sabbath.

This accounts for the comparatively little success of some of our German missions: They are designed to be nothing more than a "hopper" to the general church mill. A considerable proportion of the membership in our American churches are the fruit of our German missionary operations. Much more could have been accomplished in this respect if our American preachers had deemed it worth while to pay special attention to our German work, and if our Board of Missions had had the means to send German missionaries to every city and town in the Southern States where Germans have settled.

The Northern Methodist Church has not altogether worked on this plan, and I have suffered ill at their hands because I have advocated with pen and speech the submersion of our German missions into the American work as soon as practicable. The Northern German Methodists are decidedly German, and their leading men seem to do all in their power to establish and perpetuate a German Methodist ecclesiasticism. I suppose their Western Book Concern has stereotype plates for German books amounting to at least $100,000 in value. They clamor for a German Bishop. Their English Sunday school literature is hardly ever mentioned in their official German organ, much less recommended to be introduced in connection with their German periodicals. In short, they do their best to perpetuate Germanism among them. Hence their Herculean efforts to disintegrate and absorb our German churches in the South. They fear that our German churches possibly might be lost to their cherished Germanism.

Will not our American brethren continue to extend aid and comfort to the German missionaries of the Church South?

J. H. A. AHRENS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 19, 1876.

President Andrews sends us good news from Jackson, La., as follows:

MR. EDITOR: We have just concluded a most gracious revival in Jackson, La. There were thirty-two accessions to the church and thirty-five conversions. Six of the college students professed religion and six joined the church. Among the converts are several of our oldest and most honored citizens. Family altars have been erected. One of the students, a descendant of one of the distinguished fathers of the Mississippi Conference, has consecrated himself to the ministry. Bros. C. D. Cecil, N. R. Young, J. W. McElmeen and C. Keener rendered most valuable service, as also the noble corps of local preachers in our midst.

C. H. ANDREWS.

JACKSON, La., June 16, 1876.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Bishops at their late session appointed a week of prayer to be observed throughout the connection, beginning with the first on Friday, August 4.

Southern University, Greensboro, Alabama.

The following note from the [illegible] retary will inform our readers [illegible] the commencement exercises of [illegible] institution. It will be an occ[illegible] of great interest, and those who [illegible] able to attend will be well rewa[illegible] for their trouble. The univer[illegible] should have a warm place in [illegible] hearts of Alabama Methodists, [illegible] we trust there will be a growing [illegible] earnest interest in its support.

MR. EDITOR: You number among your readers many friends of the Southern University who will [illegible] an interest in its approaching [illegible] mencement exercises. The ser[illegible] is to be preached July 2, by [illegible] Marshall, and the literary addres[illegible] be made the Tuesday following, [illegible] Hon. John W. A. Sanford. Th[illegible] will be the other usual exer[illegible] prize declamations, society exhi[illegible] tions and graduating orations. T[illegible] declamations on such occasions [illegible] always popular, and from the ch[illegible] acter of the young men who [illegible] take part in the other exercises [illegible] entertainment of unusual inter[illegible] may be safely promised. May [illegible] hope for your presence, and for t[illegible] of other brethren of your Conf[illegible] ence?

H.

GREENSBORO, ALA., June 14, 1876.

One long agony is over. The [illegible] publican candidate for President [illegible] Gov. R. B. Hayes, of Ohio; for V[illegible] President, Hon. William A. Wh[illegible] er, of New York. Mr. Hayes [illegible] born in Vermont. In early life [illegible] emigrated to Ohio, is a lawyer [illegible] profession. He has been three ti[illegible] sent to Congress, and is now filli[illegible] third term as Governor of Ohio. [illegible] is an out and out hard money [illegible] and his character is said to be wi[illegible] out stain. Mr. Wheeler has ser[illegible] in Congress, and is best known to [illegible] by his connection with what is ge[illegible] erally called "the Wheeler co[illegible] promise." The nomination of th[illegible] gentlemen was an utter rout [illegible] Grantism, and perhaps also of t[illegible] extremists in the party. If the R[illegible] publican ticket should be elected, [illegible] may hope for something better [illegible] the Grant administration has gi[illegible] us. Hayes and Wheeler make a strong ticket, and one that the op[illegible] posing party will find hard to bea[illegible] The Democratic convention me[illegible] in St. Louis on the twenty-seven[illegible] of June. The nominations made, th[illegible] two great national parties will ent[illegible] upon one of the most spirited co[illegible] tests since the foundation of the go[illegible] ernment.

A correspondent pleads for week-day excursion trains to the Seashore Camp Meeting, putting the fare [illegible] for the round trip. We think [illegible] arrangement desirable, but the [illegible] tees inform us that they have [illegible] tained the lowest terms that [illegible] railroad officials are willing to gra[illegible] With our correspondent we agr[illegible] that the Sunday excursion train [illegible] fare $1 for the round trip—should [illegible] avoided by people who have any [illegible] gard for the Sabbath. We ha[illegible] turned over the communication [illegible] the trustees. They assure us how[illegible] ever, that the published rates are [illegible] the best they can obtain.

Rev. A. E. Clay, pastor, has shown us his subscription list for building [illegible] church at Morgan City. It foots up [illegible] including lot, materials and money [illegible] the sum of $1,276. The lot is the [illegible] gift of Mrs. H. E. Lawrence, and is valued at $300. Mr. John N. Pha[illegible] gives $300, Mr. Morgan $50. The [illegible] balance is in smaller subscriptions, ranging from $25 to $2 50. We think this result is encouraging, and we have no doubt the church will be built and paid for this year.

A press dispatch from Nashville announces that Vanderbilt University has received another donation of $300,000. We hope the new [illegible] and that we are to have at least one well-endowed university in the Southern Methodist Church.

The commencement of Centenary Seminary, Baton Rouge, La., takes place on Thursday, June 29. We doubt not it will be an occasion of great interest. The Institution is among the best in our country for the education of young ladies.

Mrs. Ellen E. Hebron announces her new poem, "Faith, or Earth's Paradise," as now ready for publication. For particulars we refer our readers to the advertisement in this week's ADVOCATE.

We are indebted to the marshals for the programme of commencement exercises of Randolph Macon College. Commencement day was June 15.

"Then only can we pray with hope when we have done our best. And though the means cannot effect that which we desire, yet God will have us use the likeliest means on our part to effect it. In vain shall Moses be upon the hill if Joshua be not in the valley. Prayer without means is a mockery of God.—Bishop Hall, 1574.

The soul that suffers is stronger than the soul that rejoices.—Elizabeth Sheppard.

The Theater.

he Free Church Presbytery of oburg recently addressed to its rches a pastoral letter on theatri- ainments, in which the follow- judicious counsel is given:

o and you in determining what uty in this matter, suffer us to re- d you that it is not with an ident ter or drama that, as practical istians, you have to do. The ques- with which you are called to deal nt whether a pure stage is a con- ivable or a possible thing; nor are ualified to pronounce a judgment the moral character of all dramas, all actors of plays. As little do we you to pass judgment upon those have tried, or who are trying, to ate and purify the stage, or on the al or spiritual state of all who ent the theater. We simply you to determine for yourselves r own duty, and the line of cour- which it becomes you to take in rence to your families.

e ask you to bear in mind, first, the theater in this country has in the past been a school of vir- or morality. It has been the ally the occasion of much immorality sin. Evidence of this is furnish y the undeniable fact that public es and dens of immorality have tiplied in the neighborhood of aters, and that many have traced r first marked declension from paths of virtue to their visits to theater. On this point the testi- y of Richard Cecil, when a young , is very striking: "The at- sphere of the playhouse is poison- I remember how it was with elf. I have looked at my watch— play is almost done—I must go y dungeon! There is my father aling with his infirmities—there y mother with her Bible! What I do? Is there any other place ? Why, if I have a shilling in pocket, I will find out that e."

ithout entering into any minute cism of the character and spirit heatrical representations, let us whether the moral tone of the e has not always had a down- d tendency, from the temptation er which it lies to gratify the taste he mass of those who frequent it? got true that very often expres- s are used and sentiments utter- which cannot but give a shock to nt and virtuous minds? Is it an atmosphere that you relish yourselves, or that you desire r sons and daughters to breathe? an it be that any countenance to an institution is compatible with r prayer, "Lead us not into tempta- n," or with your solemn vows at table of the Lord?

Books and Periodicals.

T OR, EASE. A pastoral idyl. y: A. B. add C. in council, following the last 1875, on the question: Pray or play. A trib rth the council. Boston: Published for the au or by Lee & Shepard, 1876.

he little tells as much about the tents as need be known. It is a of colloquy in simple rhyme, y smooth, spirited and sentil- ial. Tolerable reading for a rm, sleepy afternoon in June. sale by R. J. Harp, Southern thodist Depository, 110 and 112 up street, New Orleans.

The Galaxy for July has: July 876, Washington's Headquarters Newburg, Life Among the Re ins, What Makes the Poet? On loquedins, A Word with Max Mul Souvenirs of a Man of Letters, ling with the Sioux on the Yel stone, and other articles.

Ware's Valley Monthly, for May a varied table of contents, of ch we note: Thrilling Adven s with Indians, President Lin and the National Monument, bbs and Ramblers Abroad, stern Cavaliers, Progress of the ublic, From Wakarusa to Appo tox.

he Congregationalist has an ar le by the Rev. Washington Glad , solving the standing conun m of the croakers: Why don't masses go to church? He points that the comparison of church ngs with the census returns is a t fallacious procedure. A large portion of the population is un- to attend church. Some are too to go, and some are too young. y are sick or infirm, and many e must stay at home to care for invalids and the infants. Care- statistics prepared in England w that fully forty-two per cent. of population is providentially de- ed from church every Sunday; only about fifty-eight per cent. those returned by the census can be onably expected in our churches any given Lord's day." Besides, or three services are held every Sath, and the same persons do attend all the services. When these facts are borne in mind, appalling lack of church facili- which so troubles some anxious rts is seen to be very largely a bug- .

ith relies upon the truth of what hath promised, and Hope waits the enjoyment of the good in the ulse, but more especially for the y which is to be revealed. This e of glory is full of rejoicing, be- se everything which Hope looks nd draws its joy from depends on truth and faithfulness of a cov- nt God. There can be no failing his part, and therefore on the be- er's there can be no disappoint- nt.—Romaine.

nder the new episcopal plan pted by our Bishops, says the New k Christian Advocate, Bishop drews is to visit our Conferences Europe and India, and Bishop ven our Conferences in Liberia. hop Andrews will embark for rope in about three weeks, and hop Haven for Liberia during the ing autumn.

MARRIED.

MARSHALL—RHODES.—At the residence of the bride's father, near Evergreen, on the seventeenth of May, 1876, by Rev. Fred. White, Mr. John T. Rhodes to Miss Lucie Marshall, all of Avoyelles parish, La.

LONGMIRE—McCORMICK.—May 11, 1876, near Cheneyville, La., by Rev. Fred. White, Mr. John Longmire to Miss Mary McCormick, all of Rapides parish, La.

GREEN—RAINES.—At the residence of Col. William N. Raines, of Hickory, Miss., on the eleventh of June, 1876, by Rev. Dr. T. S. West, Mr. J. F. Green to Miss A. V. Raines.

BRANTLY—TARVER.—June 1, 1876, at the residence of the bride's stepfather, A. Chadwick, by Rev. Irvin Miller, Mr. Ed. Brantly to Miss Mattie Tarver.

The production of pig iron in the United States in 1875 is reported officially at about 2,100,000 net tons, a falling off of about 600,000 tons as compared with the production of 1874. The consumption of pig iron in 1875 was less than in any year since 1871.

A Boston Sunday school informs the public by circular that it will soon celebrate its "annual anniversary."

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgements of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL.

For the Week Ending June 17, 1876.

A—N W Ayer & Son, J J Austin $2.50, T C Andrews $2.50, H F Adams $4.15, Sax in A Anderson, Philip Allen, J Atkinson.

B—Mrs C A Benjamin, Bones J Brown, A S Barnes & Co, J F Blanc, James J Billingsley $2.75, W Bryan $4.65, Henry Bennett, H Bradford $1.50, J M Black $1.50, W Buchanan, J H Brügner two letters, D P Bradford $2.50, J H Barnes & Co, George W Beers, Gaylor S Boyd $4.70, John H Bonner $4.25.

C—J E Creary, Beverly Claradine two letters, Holmes L Coleman $2, B H Cleland, John F Cook, H Copeland $5, A H Copeland, Lyman Curley, E W Carr $1, Mrs A C Carpenter Spooms, A W Campbell $4.50, T J Crawford $2, J W Copeland $2.

D—Charles T Dillingham two letters, W L Dougert and others, Daniel Dennett, J J Davis, P H Dotson & Co, W John De Lacey, Turpin Dudley $5.40, R A Davis $2.

E—John C Emack two letters, Miss Matthie Erwin $2, Joseph D Ehrs, John W Ellison $2, Eyrich & Co.

F—W F Ferris $5.60, E H Faust, Jesse Fulton $4, S C Forsaith & Co, J H Ford & Co, French & Co.

G—Miss Kitty Gillis $2, A E Gourlay $4, J M Gladden, John A Green $2.

H—Mrs E J Harding $10, Mrs Ellen Hebron, Mrs Ben Hardaway $2, V G Hayes $20, Graham, Hilliard & Spiller.

I—J W Irion $2.

J—Silver Jones $2, Benjamin Jones, $2.

L—Joseph Litchfield $2, D C Langford $1, H P Lewis, Mrs Virginia Livingston.

M—Henry Metcalf, M E Mecher $1, A D McVoy, P A McFerrin $1.50, J L Matthews, James W Mc Lauren $2, W McClock $25, Morgan Express Company, A H Moss $1, Mrs Sallie M Mercer, W F Mosely, John W McMasters $2.10, W B May $10.52, McFarland & Avery, Irvin Miller, William Martin $1.50, J E Mason, T F Mangum, S W Montgomery $3.20, J Parker Martin.

N—J T Newcomer, E P Nix $2.80, John F Neal.

O—James Orangod, W P Oliver.

P—H W Peyton, Potter, Ainsworth & Co, Hiscox T Pearson $5, C H Phillips, J W Powell $11.50, J W Pike, John Primlap.

R—A H Redmond seven letters, A Richardson, F M Roberts 25 cents, J F S Roberts, A D F Randolph & Co, Hood & Lathrop, J C Richardson, Mrs M W Read, Miss Julia E Rucker, John F Richardson $7.50, W H Ruffold $17, F H Reneau.

S—H H Singleton two letters, A J Sanderson, M Shurbrough $1.60, M J Salter $2, J J Shwardt, J W Smithell $2, Smith, Olton & Co, S H Schroeder $2.50, A P Sage $2.50, C M Stone & Co, B H Schuster, John C Stevens $4.50, W A Sampey $2, D Joseph M Scott.

T—Eggleston, Lamb & Co $5.50, James Tharp.

U—Thomas J Upton.

V—George P Vickers.

W—W C Wells & Co, W H Wilkinson, Mrs M C Withers $1.60, Isaac Wolford $2, W H Wandell, J M Weems, Thomas Williams Streets, B P White $1, Mrs N H Wagner $2.50, Mrs M J Wesson, D J Wright $2, J A Walsh, W H Marlow, A H Winfield, Walter Wilson.

Martha Washington Female College,

ABINGDON, VA. We have to acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the catalogue of the sixteenth session of the above institution. We are glad to note an increasing liberality shown over the last session. There are nine professors and assistants, forming an able faculty, and fully covering the course proposed in the curriculum. The election of Prof. Warren Dupre to the vacancy caused by the resignation of President Jones has fully met the most sanguine expectations of the friends of the institution. They could not have found a more popular successor to Maj. Jones, whose place it was difficult to fill. We intend to [illegible] to another column of this issue of the ADVOCATE.

Hibernia National Bank.

The statement of the Hibernia National Bank, to June 15, 1876, appears in our advertising columns. The election of Messrs. John J. Adams, P. C. Morris, Adam Thomson and Andrew Stewart to fill vacancies will be a pleasant duty to the patrons as it is to the stockholders of the bank. It would be difficult to find four gentlemen whose names would inspire more confidence. The choice of J. C. Morris, Esq., for the presidency we regard as equally judicious, and we predict for the bank a prosperous term under their management.

Dixie Bee-Hive.

The Dixie Bee-Hive, advertised elsewhere, is superior to any hive we have ever seen, in our judgment and we invite the special attention of those raising bees. Mr. George A. Vincent, No. 20 North Peters street, has them for sale.

Roofing.

We invite attention to the advertisement of the Cuban Asphaltum Roofing, and Asphalt Varnish, for painting metal roofs, gutters and boilers. William Francis McLean, 185 Gravier street, proprietor.

One of the most attractive of the Canal street stores is Navra & Offner's China and glassware establishment.

Levy Bros., 480 Magazine street, make a specialty of black alpacas.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel,
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good Goods, sell at one price, and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

A New House Remedy.—Little as many may think, it is proved by experiment that by mixing with one feed, each day, about a tablespoonful of Simmons' Liver Regulator, horses that are let down will improve in health, because heartly eaters, shed all well, and get in condition sooner than by any other remedy. It slightly moves the bowels if given in larger doses, and is easily administered by mixing the powder with the food; for stock will eat it. Maj. Bacon, the great stock farmer of South Carolina, uses it for stock and chickens with great success.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENT'S, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camp street, under City Hotel
New Orleans, La.

MRS. F. MORRELL, Bangor, Me., July 2, 1873, writes: "Six months ago my friends thought me incurable, suffering from weakness, disordered stomach and fever. The doctors gave me no benefit. I was persuaded by Dr. Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator; after using three bottles began to improve, and to-day feel perfectly well." Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ROOFING.

MADE OF

PURE CUBAN ASPHALTUM,

WHICH is well known to be indestructible, and is not affected by heat to make it run, or cold this will cause it to crack. Fresh and salt-water will not affect it. It is also spark and ember-proof, and is the LIGHTEST, MOST DURABLE AND CHEAPEST ROOFING ever offered to the Southern public. Sold in United States, or in the form of Paint.

Is also a patented article, but made from the Asphaltum of our own mines in Cuba.

Also ASPHALT VARNISH, for painting Metal Roofs, Gutters, Boilers, and every kind of metal surfaces. It preserves metal from rust, and wood from decay.

For further information address or call on

WM. FRANCIS McLEAN,
185 GRAVIER STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Martha Washington Female College

ABINGDON, VA.

WARREN DUPRE, A. M., late Professor of Natural Science in Wofford College, S. C., has been elected President of the above institution. He is assisted by a full and able corps of professors in all the departments.

The situation is one of the most delightful in the mountains of Virginia, and abounds in valuable mineral waters.

It has been for years the summer resort for many of the best families in the Southern States.

The College is endorsed and commended by many citizens of Abingdon, whose daughters are under liberal tuition. [illegible] graduates.

☞ Two Hundred and Ten Dollars will pay for board and tuition for ten months. Extras small and [illegible].

Next session begins SEPTEMBER 21.

For further particulars send for catalogue.

DIXIE BEE-HIVE.

PRICE $3 PUT IT READY FOR USE.

Nothing to get out of order. Any one can manage them. The most profitable hives.

This is the cheapest, simplest and most complete Hive suitable for Southern Apiaries.

HONEY EXTRACTOR..... $12

For sale by

GEO. A. VINCENT,

Dealer in Wood, Hides, Honey, Moss and Country Produce in general,

No. 20 N. PETERS ST. NEW ORLEANS.

OUR CHILDREN.

I. The Family.
II. The Sabbath School.

A BOOK FOR PARENTS, TEACHERS AND PREACHERS.

BY ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, D. D.,
President of Emory College.

Dr. Luyleck Pierce Writes an Admirable Introduction.

In the best style of Printing, 12mo. Price, $1.50, postpaid to any address. For sale by R. F. Harp, New Orleans.

Nelson & Phillips, New York.
A. H. Redford, Agent, Nashville, Tenn.
J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.
B. F. Johnson, St. Louis.
Hendricks & Waddell, Cincinnati.
P. A. Yo Willard, Richmond, Va.
J. B. Bobbitt, Raleigh, N. C.
B. H. Caroll, Baltimore, Md.

WANTED.

10,000 SUBSCRIBERS

FOR

Faith, or Earthly Paradise.

A CENTENNIAL Dramatic Poem of 270 pages, 10 Acts and 18 Scenes, which are laid in and around Baltimore and Washington city. "Faith" is the heroine, a Missionary to China the hero, a poet, a statesman and a President of the United States are leading characters. His narrative will be found interesting to old and young. Its object the elevation of the moral and social status of all classes of American society, from the President down to the lowest grade. Hence it will be found suitable for the libraries of the young, and of Sunday Schools.

The manuscript of "Faith" is now ready for publication, and will be put in press as soon as One Thousand subscribers are obtained. Terms: One half cash in advance, the remainder to be paid upon delivery of books. Muslin bound copies, full gilt, size, $1.25, paper binding, 75 cents each. Ladies and gentlemen, girls and boys, throughout the United States are requested to act as agents, to whom 25 per cent. commission will be allowed. Remit by Postoffice Order or Bank Check, and receipts will be immediately forwarded. For further particulars address

MRS. ELLEN F. HEBRON,
Care of Dr. J. L. Hebron,
Vicksburg, Miss.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR

BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send for me for a card which explains HOW TO PAY MUCH OWN MONEY, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CASH PRICES. Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be prepaid to any R. R. depot. Where the order exceeds $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price list of ready made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S UPPER CITY BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street.
Sign of the Lady's Boot.
Branch 581 Magazine St., corner St. Andrew.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

Gold Rings

WE send a plain solid 18 karat Gold Engagement or Wedding Ring by mail, at short notice, on receipt of price. Put every wedding ring sent with a $5 $5.50, $6, $6.50, $7, $7.50, $8, $9, $10, $11, $12 and $15 bill. In ordering measure the largest joint of the finger. You desire fitted with a narrow piece of still paper. We engrave any name, motto or date free of charge. Money may be sent safely in a registered letter. BURNES & BIRD, Jewelers, 224 Main St., Louisville, Ky.

9tw

SULLIVAN & BILGER,

NO. 97 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,

DEALERS IN

Gas Fitters' and Plumbers' Materials,

Cast Fixtures, Pumps, Bath-Tubs, Rubber, Iron, Lead and Tin Lined Pipes, Sheet Lead, Fittings of all descriptions, Brass, Steam, Water and Gas Cocks, Valves, Plugs, etc. Thirty per cent. discount on Iron Pipe; all other goods in proportion. cow

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Hibernia National Bank.

ACTUAL CONDITION,

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 15, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Notes and bills discounted	$168,021 50
Deduct bad and doubtful	31,000 00	$137,021 59
Fifty United States five per cent. bonds, 1881, $1,000 each, valued at 117		58,500 00
$152,250 New Orleans city seven per cent. bonds of 1870, valued at 35		53,287 50
Real estate		9,911 63
Furniture and fixtures		2,890 00
Current funds—
In vault	$335,150 27
In New York	211,959 32
In Dublin and London	12,711 71
In sundry banks	4,037 89
In United States treasury	2,250 00	570,066 22
		$1,008,586 61

LIABILITIES.

Circulating notes	$47,000 00
Dividends not called for	391 00
Deposits	567,901 69	$615,292 69
		$155,620 25

We certify that we have personally examined the portfolio and other resources of this bank, and its liabilities, and that the foregoing statement is true.

J. C. MORRIS,
EMILE GAUCHE,
ANDREW STEWART,
ADAM THOMSON,
JOHN T. ADAMS,
P. IRWIN,
THOMAS SMITH,
Directors.

HIBERNIA NATIONAL BANK,

NEW ORLEANS, June 17, 1876.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, this day, the resignation of Messrs. William Hart, John Henderson, P. Pearsh and E. A. Yorke having been tendered and accepted, Messrs. John T. Adams, J. C. Morris, Andrew Stewart and Adam Thomson were duly elected Directors for the current term.

And Mr. Thomas Smith having resigned his office, Mr. J. C. Morris was unanimously elected President.

The Board is now constituted as follows:

J. C. Morris, John T. Adams,
Emile Gauche, P. Irwin,
Andrew Stewart, Thomas Smith,
Adam Thomson.

JOHN G. DEVEREIX, Cashier.

NEW CHURCH MUSIC BOOK!

THE SALUTATION! By L. O. EMERSON. Price $12 per doz.

This book is first-class. Mr. Emerson often sums the issue of his popular "Church Harmonies," shows the marks of his unrivaled talent in providing for the tastes and wants of The Singing public. We have been a long time in preparing a copious collection of easy Glees and Part Songs for practice, and a large number of new Metrical Tunes, Chants, Anthems, Sentences, Anthems, etc., providing freshness and variety in every [illegible]. Price for single copy $1.38, for which it will be mailed, post free, to any address.

A decidedly pretty and sweet Sabbath School Song Book is GOOD NEWS. Books at first sight. Specimen copies mailed, post-free, for 40 cents.

Buy our Centennial Collection of National Songs, for use on all Centennial occasions. Price in paper, 30 cents; in boards, 50 cents.

☞ In press, and will be ready in time for the Fall Trade, the following three books:

The American Church Book, easy Glees and four-part Songs for Choirs; also The Encore (or Singing Classes and Conventions), by L. O. Emerson; also the Oratorio of Joshua, by Handel, and a new collection of part Songs, for Men's Voices, by W. O. Perkins.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875,
AT 5:30 P. M.,

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Gallipolis street Depot:

DEPART.

Express	7:30 A. M.
Mail	4:30 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Express	11:30 P. M.
Mail	12:30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10:30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Camp street, corner of Common.

A. H. SHERIDAN, Agent.
E. B. FROST, General Manager.

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, ETC.

1,000 LBS. KEYSOMINE, assorted colors; ready for use.
100 cases R. Bell & Co.'s Pure Mixed PAINTS, ready for use.
100 cases assorted COLORS, in oil.
75 tons pure WHITE LEAD, in kegs and cans.
25 tons French and American ZINC PAINT.
150 barrels DRY COLORS, assorted.
30 barrels LINSEED and LARD OIL.
10 barrels MINERAL SPERM OIL, 600 deg.
10 barrels HEADLIGHT OIL, 175 deg.
100 cases PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL, 300 deg.
25 barrels best VARNISH, assorted.
1,000 boxes French and American WINDOW GLASS. For sale by
SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
76 Magazine street.

THIS PAPER IS KEPT ON FILE AT THE OFFICE OF

N. W. AYER & SON ADVERTISING AGENTS,

733 SANSOM ST., PHILADELPHIA,

Who are our authorized agents, and will receive Advertisements at our LOWEST CASH RATES.

ROGERS' EFFERVESCING CITRATE OF MAGNESIA,

Is a six-ounce bottle of effervescing powder. This Magnesia is a mild purgative and aperient, very acceptable to the stomach for Sick Headache, Sour or Sick Stomach, and all Febrile cases. Good for all seasons of the year. Prepared by ARTHUR ROGERS, 193 Spring st., N. Y. For sale by all druggists. E. J. Hart & Co., wholesale agents, New Orleans. 9tw

---

ROSES 700 SUPERB VARIETIES ROSES! Half a Million Greenhouse Plants Making Plants a Specialty. Illustrated Catalogue Free. E. Y. TEAS & CO., Richmond Ind. 9tw

---

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOLEY'S

Celebrated Gold Pens

AND PENCILS.

THE FINEST AND BEST.

CIRCULAR.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of expensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness in mark and durability in use. Pre-eminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of Fine GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is tested by the long time he has been engaged in our city in their manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made.

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others:

J. E. Williams, Pres't Metropolitan National Bank, G. S. Coe, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank, J. A. Beardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America, Wm. A. Hall, President Corn Exchange Bank, R. H. Lowry, Pres. Nat'l Bank of the Republic, E. D. Tappan, Pres. Gallatin National Bank, C. F. Thompson, Cashier Continental Bank, F. O. Ogden, Cashier New York Co. Nat'l Bank, Clark, Dodge & Co., George H. Arnold & Co., Wilde, Morris & Co., H. I. Morgan & Co., Vermilye & Co., American Express Co., Winslow, Lanier & Co., Adams Express Co., Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co., Daniel D. Smith, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co., Elwood Walker, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co., Wm. E. Jenkins, President Bank of America, J. W. Lewis, Cashier Fourth National Bank, Wm. H. Cox, Cashier Merchants' National Bank, J. Buell, Pres. Importers and Traders' Nat'l Bank, J. M. Crane, Cash'r Shoe and Leather Nat'l Bank, Wells, Fargo & Co., T. Ketchum & Co., United States Exp. Co., S. B. Chittenden & Co., Barclay & Livingston, Johnson & Higgins, A. E. Wilmarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co., Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,

GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,

No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by many of the leading Stationers and Jewelers of New Orleans. 9stw

---

OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

LIMITED,

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW ANTI-SLIP TIE.
REARDAN BROS. LOCK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Co., and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO., LIMITED, and the following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Fall, Ogden & Bell,
Linton & Boyd, Archer & Borland,
William Tilled, A. E. Rainel & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co., Limited:

R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

CANE AND SORGHUM

MACHINERY

A SPECIALTY.

Evaporators, Patent of 1876.

Superior to all others, and cheaper.

Send for catalogue, free. Address

S. S. CONNOR,
AMITE CITY, LA.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST. NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care, quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods in Rawest style prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 208.

FREE! FREE!

10,000

E. BUTTERICK & CO.'S

CATALOGUES

CONTAINING THE

LATEST SUMMER FASHIONS.

Just received and ready for distribution. Mailed to any address upon application to

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,
81 CANAL ST. NEW ORLEANS.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,

OCULIST,

14 DAUPHINE STREET 14

NEW ORLEANS.

Office hours from 10 to 3. 9tu

E. PETUTORY,

FAMILY GROCERY,

COR. ELYSIAN FIELDS AND DRYADES STS.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Goods delivered free of charge.

McKENDRICK,

PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER,

No. 625 MAGAZINE STREET No. 625

Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials. Bath Tubs, Pumps, Horse Fur nishings, etc. Patents re-fixed ready for use. Agent for the New Bronze Elevated Oven Range, Paragon and Hearth and Range Cooking Stoves.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1874: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5ptc

---

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, molding so calumnies as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected. If you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden, and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the seeming suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. No drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment; in fact nature in many instances gives timely warning of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1874: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5ptc

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

CUTLERY, PLATED WARE

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 115 pieces, for	$20 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 112 pieces, for	14 50
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	3 25
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for	3 50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for	9 10

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes.

All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Ash Tubs.

Orders from the country will receive our best attention.

NAVRA & OFFNER,
129 Canal street, New Orleans.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's wear, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

IN

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, the same as of the Fashions of 1776.

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,

NO. 110 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

RAWLEY SPRINGS,

IN THE MOUNTAINS OF THE

Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

THE strongest known CHALYBEATE WATER in the United States, and possessing the highest medical virtues, both Tonic and Alterative. The elevated location in pure atmospheric, romantic walks, rugged scenery, the bowls and terraces, their ensemble and comforts provided, and the attention paid to guests by the three large Hotels, connected together by wide and spacious covered ways, all contribute to render OLD RAWLEY a favorite resort alike to the invalid and the pleasure seeker.

For pamphlet with views, for pamphlets and information apply to

ALBERT H. PHELPS, Keeper,
Cor. Pryania and Felicity Sts.

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Complaints produced our Swamp-ee is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is delicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase. Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 100 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Late Tonic infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

---

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,

AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,

Jary & Hausse, Proprietors.

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES: Rev. H. F. Johnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells; Wheo, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Box 85, Little Rock, Ark.

ADOLPH FINCK,

(Formerly with N. Burke.)

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CARRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.

To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and will recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a planter lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 321 Delord street.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Pekin Ducks.

This breed of ducks, which appears to be fast coming into public favor, says the Southern Plantation, were imported by Mr. J. E. Palmer, in March, 1873, from Shanghai. They grow very large and heavy; and Mr. Palmer mentions that he took them for geese when he first saw them among some white China geese. Mr. Palmer says one of the imported ducks laid one hundred and thirty-three eggs the first season, and two hundred and one eggs the second; from which it appears they are good layers as well as great feeders. In 1875 he imported four drakes and six ducks more. There seems to be little difficulty in feeding them to a weight of eight to eleven pounds.

In addition to the above, which we clip from an exchange, we copy the following, by W. Cliff, in the Poultry Journal:

We have in this remarkable breed of ducks, introduced last year, the results of long years of thorough breeding for economical ends. Where the population is so dense as in China they are compelled to economize in the use of animal food, and much more attention is paid to the breeding of fish and poultry than in this country. Many live upon rafts, or in boats, and keep large flocks of ducks as a means of subsistence. The Pekins, without much doubt, belong to the Mallard family, and are the largest of all the varieties that spring from that stock. They cross readily with the Rouens and Aylesburys, making larger birds than these, but not equal to the Pekins. There is not much doubt that their grades will prove fertile, though it will take another year to test this matter. Some of the Rouen grades come out clear white, but are readily distinguished from the pure Pekins by the shape of their bills and smaller size. Some of them are nearly solid black, and remarkable for their glossy plumage. It is possible that this cross may be used to advantage in increasing the size of the Black Cayugas, and their fecundity—points in which that very fine variety is lacking. Other grades come out looking very much like finely-bred Rouens, only with a slight derangement of the plumage. The cross with the Aylesburys seems more natural; the grades are readily distinguished by their lighter bills, smaller size, and different build behind. So far as the observation of this season goes, there is an improvement to be made upon the Pekins in size, or beauty of form and plumage, by the cross. Rouens and Aylesburys are increased in size. We claim for the Pekins a comely form, of snowy whiteness, that makes them very desirable pets for the lawn, or for small bodies of water in cultivated grounds. They are a very hardy bird, and, judging by the experience of the past two seasons, are more easily raised than either Rouens or Aylesburys. The eggs hatch, in warm weather, in about twenty-five days, coming out two or three days sooner than the other varieties. They seem larger and stronger at birth, and, after a week with the hen, may safely be put in flocks of about fifteen, and, with a barrel or box for shelter, will take care of themselves.

Bots in Horses.

Rarey says: "In twenty-seven years' time I never find a horse to die of the bots. I believe that almost everybody is convinced that the bots come from eggs or nits which are deposited upon the horse's hair, by that troublesome fly resembling a bee in color. This has always been my opinion. Now it is generally known that a horse that has the bots does not appear to suffer until he is too far gone to be cured. To prevent fatal effects of the disease, I have made it a practice to give my horses, in the month of September, the following remedy:

"Of olive oil, honey and lemon juice, each two ounces and a half. Mix and give this to the horse; the next day purge well. Whether a horse be inclined to have the bots, this remedy will do him no harm."

A correspondent of the Department of Agriculture says:

"It appears from remarks of different writers that none know of any certain remedy. I know of a remedy that is safe and certain, discovered in the following way: About thirty years ago a friend of mine lost, by bots, a fine horse. He took from the stomach of the dead animal about a gill of bots, and brought them to my office to experiment upon. He made preparations of every remedy he had ever heard of, and put some of them into each. Most of them had no effect, a few affected them slightly, but sage tea more than anything else—killed them in fifteen hours. He concluded that he would kill them with nitric acid, but it had no more effect upon them than water; the third day they were as lively as when put in. A handful of tansy was growing by my office. He took a handful of that, bruised it, and added a little water, then squeezed out the juice and put some in; they were dead in one minute. Since then I have given it to every horse I have seen affected with bots, and I have never known it to fail of giving entire relief. My friend had another horse affected with bots several years later. He gave him a dose of tansy in the evening, and a dose of salts in the morning. The next morning he took up from the excretions about three half pints of bots."—Farmers' Union.

OATMEAL, BONE AND MUSCLE.—Liebig has shown that oatmeal is almost as nutritious as the very best English beef, and that it is richer than wheaten bread in the elements that go to form bone and muscle. Prof. Forbes, of Edinburg, during some twenty years, measured the breadth and height, and also tested the strength of both the arms and loins of the students in the university—a very numerous class, and of various nationalities, drawn to Edinburg by the fame of his teaching. He found that in height, breadth of chest and shoulders, and strength of arms and loins, the Belgians were at the bottom of the list; a little above them, the French; very much higher, the English; and highest of all, the Scotch and Scotch-Irish, from Ulster, who, like the natives of Scotland, are fed in their early years with at least one meal a day of good oatmeal porridge. Speaking of oatmeal, an exchange remarks that a very good drink is made by putting about two spoonfuls of the meal into a tumbler of water. The Western hunters and trappers consider it the best of drinks, as it is at once nourishing, assimilating and satisfying.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GORDON FOOD,

FOR

HORSES, MULES & CATTLE.

CONCENTRATED, STRENGTHENING, INVIGORATING, PALATABLE AND RENOVATING.

A PREPARED FOOD.

It does not add to the ordinary cost of feeding, although producing the most admirable results—viz: Strong wind, fine appearance, good digestion, and a generally improved health.

It is continued to secure perfect health in HORSES, MULES AND CATTLE.

GORDON FOOD IS PACKED IN

Whole sacks, 50 pounds	$8 00
Half sacks, 25 pounds	4 00
Quarter sacks, 25 pounds	2 00

Sent to any address on receipt of price.

SAMUEL MULLEN,

SOLE AGENT,

DEPOT—59 POYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

State Superintendent of Public Education for Louisiana.

CARD.

THE UNDERSIGNED, who was honored by the suffrages of a large majority of the legal voters in the general state election of 1872, is a CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION as State Superintendent, at the similar election to be held in November, 1876. He respectfully solicits the liberal influence and voluntary support of all honorable citizens of the State who are in favor of

1. Reform and economy in the administration of the public school system.

2. A vigilant protection of the school funds from waste or embezzlement.

3. Equal facilities for the moral and mental instruction of all children in the State, by upright and competent teachers, under the guidance of directors who shall be responsible to the communities in which they act.

4. Schools, when and where feasible, for the training of apt pupils, of proper age, in a practical knowledge of the useful arts and trades; and

5. The prompt and punctual payment of teachers' salaries, and of all other legal and indispensable obligations of school directors.

ROBT. M. LUSHER.

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE DEPOT

REMOVED TO

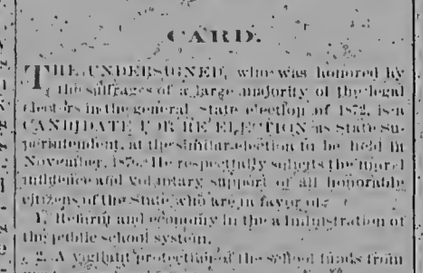
NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch and Lock-Stitch Machines with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk Twist, Spool Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received and for sale at the lowest cash prices. The above goods are manufactured by and for the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company, and warranted the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grangers and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling fraudulent imitations of our goods, repainting and patching up old Machines to make them look new, and selling them as such. No new goods of the above grades can be purchased in New Orleans except from us, at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted.

H. H. TRUE,
General Southern Agent.



BLOUNT SPRINGS.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN HEALTH AND PLEASURE RESORT.

DIRECTLY on the line of travel between this city and the Northeast, one hundred and thirty miles north of Montgomery, in a spur of the mountains of North Alabama. Passengers leaving the city at the 5 P. M. train for the East by way of Mobile, Montgomery and Louisville take dinner at the JACKSON HOUSE, Blount Springs, next day. Free summer at this favorite resort, where you get the best Mineral Water in America. Send for circular and circular.

Rates of Board: $2 per day; $12 per week; $45 per month.

Round trip tickets, $27, good until the first of November.

J. D. TOWNER, Proprietor.

LOUISIANA

PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY

R. LUCKNER, SR.,

112 Magazine St 112

(Upstairs.) NEW ORLEANS

BAND BOXES, with address, three in nest, round and square, shipped free of all charges except freight for $5 per dozen, on receipt of Post-office Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,

DEALER IN ICE.

No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS,

A. B. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 3c. per pound; No. 2 at 2c. per pound. All kinds of orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 2267.

CARPET WAREHOUSE.

17 CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
BURLAPS, Tarlor and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.

A. BROUSSEAU.

INSURANCE.

TENTH ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

FACTORS' & TRADERS'

INSURANCE CO.,

37 CARONDELET STREET 37

NEW ORLEANS, May 15, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity with the charter of the Company, publish the following statement of its affairs for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1876, to wit:

Premiums for the year—

On Fire risks	$330,051 30
On River risks	281,692 49
On Marine risks	46,908 03
		$660,651 82
Less—
Unterminated premiums, 1875	$56,590 00
Return premiums	11,021 21	97,583 21
Net earned premiums		$563,071 61
Losses paid:
On Fire risks	$66,311 21
On River risks	191,653 85
On Marine risks	19,593 67
Total	$277,478 73
Reinsurance	36,231 83
Rebate account	14,046 43
State and City Taxes and Licenses	55,188 91
New Orleans Board of Underwriters	3,519 05
Gross general expenses	41,355 22
		$426,355 37
Balance		$136,716 24
Add interest and discount and savings		108 285 52
		$245,001 76
Less first semi-annual interest paid on capital stock, five per cent., and second ditto, five per cent.		100 000 00
Net profits		$134,901 76
Reserved		31,000 00
Balance divided on net premiums		$97,901 76

The Company have the following assets:

Cash on hand	$373,534 71
Accounts in course of collection	31,621 06
Bills receivable on pledge	485 851 21
Bills received for premiums	28,594 53
Bank and other stocks	257,348 16
City and other bonds	108,503 38
Bonds of Masonic Grand Lodge	5,000 00
Bonds of Odd Fellows' Hall Association	5,000 00
Bonds of Association for relief of Jewish Widows and Orphans	2,000 00
Real estate	555 5 85
Total	$1,388,559 40

The foregoing is a true and correct statement from the books of the Company.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.

THOS. F. WALKER, Secretary.

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
Parish of Orleans, City of New Orleans:

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twentieth day of May, 1876.

EDWARD IVY, Notary Public.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the eighteenth instant, it was resolved to pay on demand a second semi-annual interest of FIVE PER CENT. to April 30, 1876, making ten per cent. per annum on the capital stock of the Company ($1,000,000) and a scrip dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. to stockholders on the amount ($1,584,167) of their net participating premiums for the year ending April 30, 1876.

ED. A. PALFREY, President.
JOHN CHAFFE, Vice President.
THOMAS F. WALKER, Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

W. A. Johnson,	W. C. Raymond,
John F. Noble,	T. Eyre Lyon,
John Chaffe,	S. H. Snowden,
Richard Milliken,	S. H. Boyd,
Adolph L. Warren,	Joseph McElroy,
R. T. Bickner,	E. B. Wheelock,
Sam'l Friedlander,	Cyrus Hussey,
A. A. Yates,	Wm. J. Behan,
Alvin L. Adams,	H. P. Eshleman,
Isaac Schoreck,	Wm. U. Black,
R. M. Walmsley,	Charles Chaffe,
A. H. May,	L. C. Jurey,
	Wm. Hartwell.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 CARONDELET STREET 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. CHIAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan,	H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy,	A. Chiapella,
R. Soby,	J. Reyne,
H. Labasse,	A. H. Broussseau,
	A. Bonneeaze.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS

SAVINGS INSTITUTION.

151 CANAL STREET 151

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID PROPHIET, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second V. President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KLEINLAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke,	John C. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds,	Christian Schmelzer,
Samuel Emerson,	Carl Kohn,
A. Moulton,	T. L. Rayne,
J. A. Palfrey,	David Urquhart.

3 per cent. interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK

AND

SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,

51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

H. KENNERY,	FREDK. WING,
J. H. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. R. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
	E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

105 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Hope XXX, Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX, Grangers' Best XXXX, which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar sections.

T. W. BOTHICK,

UNDERTAKER,

271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

INSURANCE.

TWENTY-SEVENTH

ANNUAL STATEMENT

OF THE

Crescent Mutual Insurance

COMPANY.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 20, 1876.

The Trustees, in conformity to the amended charter, submit the following statement of the affairs of the Company on the thirtieth of April, 1876:

First premiums	$201,006 26
Marine premiums	37,488 97
River premiums	114,813 26	$353,308 49
Earned premiums, less reinsurance and return premiums		283,357 48
Losses paid and estimated, including all known and unpaid:
On fire	$56,980 10
Marine	18,938 58
On river	71,471 80	$147,390 48
Taxes, expenses, rebate in lieu of participation, less interest, discount, etc.	83,728 14	231,116 62
Leaving, after paying ten per cent. in cash, interest on capital stock, profits		$52,240 79

The Company have the following assets:

Bills receivable	$54,758 78
Loans on bond and mortgage	86,413 33	$140,772 11
Loans on pledge at call	$120,711 57
Cash	67,388 04	188,099 61
Real estate		123,031 42
City bonds, bank and other stocks		120,161 00
Premiums in course of collection		27,625 77
Total assets		$585,688 71

The above statement is a true and correct transcript from the books of the Company.

THOS. A. ADAMS, President.
HENRY V. OGDEN, Secretary.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twentieth day of May, 1876.

WM. H. HOLMES,
Second Justice of the Peace, Parish of Orleans.

The Board of Trustees resolved that, after paying the annual interest of four per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, a dividend of TWENTY PER CENT. be paid in cash on and after the twelfth day of June next to those parties insuring with the Company entitled to receive the same.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams,	Edward Pusbary,
Sam'l B. Newman,	John F. King,
Sam'l H. Kennedy,	Fredk. Comeadet,
John Phelps,	J. L. Harris,
Adolf Thomas, jr.,	Andrew Stewart,
Henry Abrahams,	Joseph Simon,
P. N. Strong,	Leon de Martin,
Victor Meyer,	Alfred Montleon,
Joseph Bowling,	L. J. Jurey,
Edward J. Gay,	Edward Nalle,
John M. Shindler,	George W. Scudrid,
Simon Hernsheim,	A. Lovi,
Simon Forchheimer,	John Brunost,
Joseph H. Wolfe,	Wm. H. Matthews,
R. B. Post,	John V. Moore,
	Paul E. Mortimer.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $500,000
Assets at the first of January, 1876 [illegible]
Income for the year 1875 [illegible]

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies, payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merlli,	A. M. Blackman,
Placide Forstall,	A. S. Richard,
H. Gally,	J. Tuyes,
Charles Latino,	W. A. Bell,
W. Vale Benthuysen,	L. Lacin,
Pierre Poutz,	H. H. Rogers.

MISCELLANEOUS.

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer For a Short Time Only.

We will send, postpaid, free, to each new subscriber for the NEW YORK WEEKLY, a magnificent CENTENNIAL MEDAL. The Medal is a fancy box, struck in Albata Plate silver, larger than a silver trade dollar, 1¾ inch in diameter. Price, 50 cents each. The Weekly is a large, handsome, spicy 16 page paper. Subscription price, 75 cents a year. Send 75 cents, and you will receive the WEEKLY and MEDAL for one year, post paid, and the above list of premiums. Address

PEERLESS PUBLISHING CO.,
26 Broadway, New York.

J. A. LACROIX,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

Pontchartrain Cheap Store,

COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

H. CASSIDY,

SAIL-MAKER,

AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,

No. 95 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.

ESTABLISHED IN 1836.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS, etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS.

GIROD ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND BRYANES, NEW ORLEANS.

JOS. A. SHAKSPEARE, A. SMITH, S. SWIGG.

SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

manufacture every variety of Steam Engines, Sugar Mills, Saw Mills, Distilling and Centrifugal Machines, Mill and Gin Gearing, Grate Bars, Iron Store Fronts, Columns, and Ventilators. Blacksmith work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY.

500 MAGAZINE STREET.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY,

CHOICE FRUIT SYRUPS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home Made Candies.

Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream in quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

BLACKMAN'S

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

"Every Piano in America Should be Graced by a Copy."

$5,000!

—IN GOLD—

WAS PAID BY THE Women's Centennial Committees

FOR

RICHARD WAGNER'S

Grand CENTENNIAL MARCH.

Now Arranged for Piano by

THEODORE THOMAS,

(Played by his Orchestra nightly.)

And Published by

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,

CINCINNATI, O.

Price, $1, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail. For sale by Music dealers everywhere.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREROOMS,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.

HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

Struck in Solid Albata Plate, equal in appearance to Silver and Color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD,

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade dollar, being 1¾ inches in diameter, handsomely put up, and sell readily at sight. The most popular Souvenir and Memorial ever issued. A complete outfit of magnificent samples for agents, in velvet-lined morocco case, including the first of "George Washington," Grand Entrance International Exhibition; Memorial Hall, Art Gallery, Horticultural Hall; Main Building, and the grandest representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, designed by Trumbull. In gilt, sent by mail on receipt of draft or postoffice order for $2.50, or will ship by express, C. O. D., upon receipt of one-quarter express charges. Agents' circular and price list, and our complete, sent upon receipt of 10 cents. Immense profits. Seeds already. Extensive fields. Greater prizes. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P.O. Box 5270. NEW YORK.

THAT MAGIC NAME!

LIVINGSTONE!

Kindles the enthusiasm of the world wherever heard. AGENTS WANTED everywhere to sell his Complete LIFE and Explorations, his Last Journals, 650 pages, 8vo, only $2.50. Proof, by facts, and our special illustrated circulars, that it outsells any other book, sent free. Write at once; or if mislaid or worn out, send for outfit for it and another time book, to our nearest address, LIVINGSTONE PUBLISHERS, St. Louis, Mo.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED for the DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITIES

now in press by Dr. WM. SMITH and 77 others, being a condensation of the [illegible] 2,000 engravings, many wood, others photographic [illegible] Agents wanted in all parts of the country. Address [illegible]

ANOTHER PUBLISHING CO. starting.

CENTENNIAL BOOK OF BIOGRAPHY

OF THE CELEBRATION OF THE

FIRST 100 YEARS OF OUR INDEPENDENCE.

The story of America's [illegible] Every body wants to read the lives of the Centennial season. AGENTS WANTED. Address for [illegible] and [illegible] book. Every body buys it. The greatest success of the year. Send for circular. P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa., and Chicago, Ill.

WANTED AGENTS for the GREAT CENTENNIAL UNIVERSAL HISTORY

In the closing the first 100 years of our National Independence, including an account of the visiting Great Centennial Exhibition. 700 pages, 100 engravings, low price, quick sales. Extra terms. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 500 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Singer's Safety Guard! won't roll. Our Barber Arms every invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sold over plated Stem-winding Watches, Sample, by mail, on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SINGER, 18 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$250 A MONTH [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AS CERTAIN PARTIES are advertising themselves as being "Sole Agents" for the Gold Medal Perique "Tobacco" of Locard Point, St. James parish, I would respectfully state that I am

THE ONLY AUTHORIZED AGENT

Of the following manufacturers of Locard Point:

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
E. ST. PIERRE,
And many others.
EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 19 Conti street.

RICE BROS. & CO.,

80 AND 91 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

HARDWARE,

NAILS AND CUTLERY,

Tinners' Stock and Tools,

AND HORSE FURNISHING GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

The Charter Oak Stoves.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK

And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed. JOHN ROSS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter, Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

MEDICAL.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS

INDUCED by the demand, especially existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved, by extensive experience, to be safe, generally effectual, and peculiarly suited to family use. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions, and general advice as to the treatment of the sick.

No. For—

1 Fever. 2. Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.
3. Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4. Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5. Whooping or Spasmodic Cough. 6. Asthma.
7. Diarrhœa. 8. Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
9. Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10. Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11. Worm Colic or Fever.
12. Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
13. Toothache, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache.
14. Sick Headache, Vertigo.
15. Sore Throat, Quinsy.
16. Ear Discharges, Deafness.
17. Sore Mouth, Thrush, Nursing Sore Mouth.
18. Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19. Kidney Affections, Gravel.
20. Suppressed, Scanty or Delaying Periods.
21. Profuse Periods, Profluvium.
22. Painful Periods, Bearing, etc. 23. Piles.
24. Rheumatism; Lumbago, Lameness, Pains.
25. Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fetters, Erysipelas.
26. Sore or Weak Eyes.
27. Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28. Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29. Dropsy.
30. Nervous Debility; Seminal Emissions; Impotency, Sexual Incapacity.
31. Chronic Congestion, Inflammation.
32. Disease of Heart, Palpitation etc.

Mailed free on receipt of price. Fifty cents. Phosphorated Bitters, and Chill Drops for Chills and Fever.

Agent for BANNING'S BRACES.

Agent for HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices as follows:

Twenty vials, plain case and book
Twenty vials, morocco case and book
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy,
152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

R. ANGELL, M. D., and S. M. ANGELL, Homeopathic Physicians.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND the permanent cure of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

What the Annihilator will do:

1. From one to two bottles will cure any attack of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.
2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism or Neuralgia.

I am one of the best regulators of the day known. N. JENKINS.

To Camp street.

Wholesale Agents—C. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

DUCONGE'S

PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful remedy, which has established Virtue and its high attainments of the Closet, Lungs, Breast and Throat, so well known, and has been tested for years by such extensive patronage that it may be superfluous, at this late day, to enter at length as to its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Inflammation of the Throat, Sinking or Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

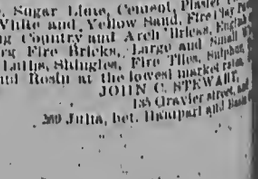
It has been found highly beneficial in Consumption, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Influenza, Pleurisy, Pain in the Side or Breast, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Summer Complaints, especially to those years of Cholera and Dysentery, of proper care, so much dreaded as the harbinger of that dire and hurried appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Medicine applied to a single lock or whiskers that have been restored to their original shade without rubbing all over the head, as is necessary in using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any part of the United States upon receipt of price, by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2530. New York.

Wholesale Agents—T. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finley & Co., New Orleans; Fitch & Co., New Orleans, and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE



Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt

CURES a Continuous Current of Electricity Around the Body, and cures all diseases for which a Current of Electricity is required, such as Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Complaint, Dyspepsia, Spinal Complaint and Female Weakness. Gives a Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE

After all Other Remedies Have Failed.

It is endorsed by the most Eminent Physicians of Europe and America, and thousands that have used it, and have been restored to health, give testimony as to its great curative powers. Pamphlets and circulars forwarded on application or receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

Say what paper.

PRICES FROM $6 AND UPWARD.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,

GENERAL COOPERAGE,

43 SOUTH FRONT ST.

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Hogsheads, Molasses, Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

FAVORITE SONGS

New Collection Gems of Sacred Music, by the [illegible] for singing classes and concerts. Price [illegible] of the Vanderbilt University, and [illegible] the kind. Price 60 cts. by mail. Specimen [illegible] Address C. H. Ditson & Co., Boston, [illegible]

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster Paris, Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay for Building Country and Arch Brick, Fire Brick, Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small Size Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates, for sale by JOHN C. STEWART,
135 Gravier street, and
369 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin sts.

Scientific.

A good deal of attention is being of late to the variable stars, es- lly by Schonfeld, of Mannheim, Schmidt, of Athens. The latter, recent number of the Astro- sche Nachrichten, gives the re- of his observations upon the of Algol since 1840. He finds eriod, to be 2 days, 20 hours, 48', from one minimum of bright- to the next. The period, how- is quite constant, but seems to hortening a few seconds in the ury. The star remains most of time of the second magnitude it as bright as the pole star; when the fit comes on it begins ade, and in about 4 hours, 30' diminished to the fourth magni- with only about one-fourth of rdinary light. It remains faint t 15 minutes, and in 4½ hours recovers its pristine brilliancy.

The French Gazette des Hopi- contains an article on "The ct of the Sun on Lunatics." Dr. za, director of the Lunatic Asy- at Allessandria (Piedmont,) con- eil the idea that the solar rays t have some curative power in ses of the brain. His conclu- s from his experiments are these: e violet rays are, of all others, e that possess the most intense ro-chemical power; the red light so very rich in calorific rays; light, on the contrary, is quite id of them, as well as of chem- and electric ones. Its beneficent ence is hard to explain; as it is absolute negation of all the ex- ments, it succeeds admirably in ing the furious excitement of iacs."

A French chemist has disproved experiment the old notion held miners that a man cannot be ged by an atmosphere which support the combustion of a .

barometer doesn't depend on diet. ass eats thistles and nettles, the pest of food, and is the dullest of nals.

MISCELLANEOUS.

OCEAN SAW MILL.

C. TODMEH (late of Palmer & Todmeh) SUPERINTENDENT,

LUMBER shipped up or down the Mississippi River can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and drayage by extortion thing.

Orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Walnut, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar LUMBER AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge Timber, Ties, Shingles and Laths.

Box 98. Branch office 62 Perdido St. Mississippi. Address—TODMEH.

M. H. APPLEGATE,

PLUMBER,

AND DEALER IN

Cooking Ranges and Boilers,

Bells, Water Closets, Washstands, Kitchen Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Air Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns, 146 Poydras St., New Orleans, La.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL-MAKER,

.....POYDRAS STREET, ...107

Agent for COTTON DUCK of all widths and for Awnings, Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and Shutter Lining line made to order at shortest notice and lowest prices.

J. C. MILLER.
No. 107 Poydras Street.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now on the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on Storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Cor. Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Proprietor of the celebrated Perchant Elixir.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

2 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

HEATH PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nottingham Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings, Chromos, Engravings, Etc.

Frames made to order a specialty.

No. 90 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

UPHOLSTERING.

UPHOLSTERER,

.....MAGAZINE ST..... 651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and Stair Carpet relaid. All work guaranteed.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY

Designs and Samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

BATHS!—BATHS!

NO. 108 CONTI STREET

RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. For Gentlemen from 12 M. to 6 P. M. Shampooing and Fresh Water Baths at all hours every day. Polite and special attention to guests.

J. KLOCK.

$5 to $5 | Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 111 Nassau street, New York.

BUSINESS CARDS.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE
OF THE
FOURTH DISTRICT,
595.....MAGAZINE ST.....595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

EDWARD SALLÉ. R. C. CAMMACK.

SALLÉ & CAMMACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

No. 123 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL.....COAL.....COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

100 Common St., opposite City Hotel,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in sacks or in bulk to inland markets at rates. City trade supplied.

THOMAS OWEN,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

CHOICE TEAS, ETC.,

Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans

Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET.

AT

J. L. NEVERS',

SUCCESSOR TO

L. C. FOILEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

MARTIN, WEYDIG,

No. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

Firemen's and Military Equipments made to order. Dealers in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Lines, Leather and Fire Buckets, Horse Shoes and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

13 Tulon Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase of all description of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WOOD.....COAL.....LUMBER.

NO. 851 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato Streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine sawed and Split Wood at Levee rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Agent for Alpha Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 851 Dryades street, or at the Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

SAM. SMITH.

NEW LEATHER STORE.

A. F. RICAU,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,

Shoe Findings, etc.,

30 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS

Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Peymania Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish Kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS,

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. M'EMME,
No. 34 Magazine street, and
No. 71 Dryades Street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 ..... CANAL STREET 101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,

BOOK BINDER, RULER

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,

102 ..... Camp Street. 102

(Over James A. Gresham's.) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Conti and Custom-house,

NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Hardeman & Adams') wish to inform the community that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT,

ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,

And General Housesmith.

Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences of Varandas of all kinds made to order. Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.

120 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Second.

(box 203, Mechanics' Exchange

BUSINESS CARDS.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans

A full assortment of Paints, Oil Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Caledonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

E. RATELLE,

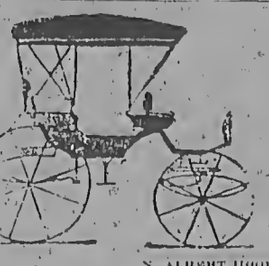
DEALER IN CARPETINGS,

609 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 609

Bet. St. Andrew and Josephine, New Orleans

Floor Oil Cloths, China Matting, Window Shades, Table and Piano Covers, Crumb Cloths, Rugs, Mats, Carriage, Table and Enameled Oil Cloths, Hurlaps, Pins, Clamps, Tassels, Hair Cloth, Bed Ticking and Springs, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of Bullseant street, Sixth District, New Orleans. Office, No. 15 4 Pelhamplonthis, between Valance and Bordeaux Streets. L. CARILO, sr., Agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths. Square Walnut, Oak, Ash Plank etc.; also all kinds of Lumber. Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 2230, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange.



J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

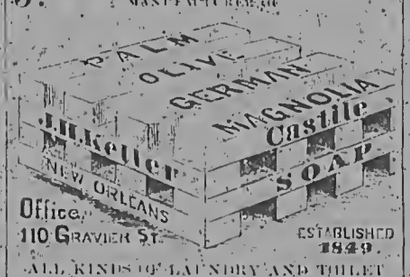
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

102 Gravier and 43 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 GRAVIER ST. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE,

Office and Warehouse, 17 TOULOUSE STREET, New Orleans, La.

References: Schmidt & Zoller, Wholesale Brewers, New Orleans; Jules Dessis, President Lever Steam Cotton Press; Miles Cassard, Vice President Hermann National Bank; Pike, Shriver & Co., Bankers; Naval Laundry, Cashier of People's Bank; Emile Legendre, St. James; Felix F. Poilleve, St. James.

JOHN I. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. BENNETT.

JOHN I. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.

Nos. 43, 45 and 47 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street.) New Orleans

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND

—AND—

DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS

301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. R. OTTO MOSES,

DENTIST,

217 BARONNE STREET 217

Solicits the patronage of the public, assuring them of careful attention in all operations pertaining to his profession, at charges in keeping with the present distressed pecuniary condition of the people of Louisiana.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence: No. 511 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Greatings Street,) one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas admirably used for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TUCKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Late of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

140 ..... COMMON STREET 140

(Upstairs.) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—APARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence on Napoleon avenue, to PYTOLI CHAPELE, west side, corner of Delord street. Parties will find it has been selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that no efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. HARNUM,

SURGEON DENTIST,

508 ..... MAGAZINE STREET 508

Near the Market.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

1110 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 218 CARONDELET STREET

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief-Justice Louisiana. W. W. RACE. W. H. FOSTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

New Orleans

J. H. MEHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Shingles, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for Merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to sugar Planters. Office, 22 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR-HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful Gas equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

THE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, Using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—we use no Drums, Pumps or Blowers to surround or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all foreign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Acid. Our Works are as Compact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as speaking and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas making business, could suggest, derive or produce, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be placed in or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.

Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention to our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights for Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

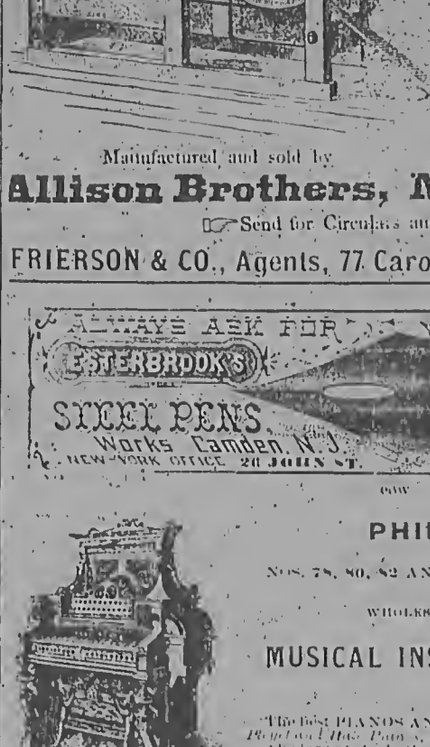
ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

3 TO 15 HORSE POWER.



B. J. WEST,

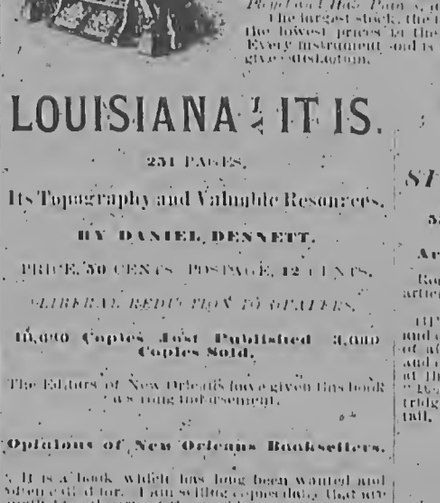
SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.



The Complete Cotton Cleaner. A New, Valuable, and Money making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner.—thoroughly removes all Burr, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

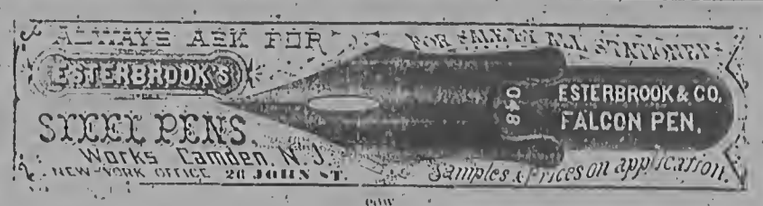
No gin-house should be without one of these "cleaners." It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

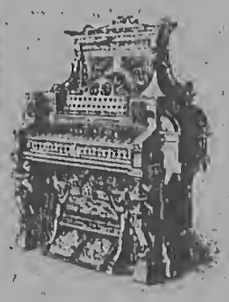
Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.





PHILIP WERLEIN,

NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 90 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as the Chickering, Needham, Peloubet & Dale, Pease, and Hazelton Pianos, and Estey Organs.

The largest stock, the best Pianos and Organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices in the South. No trashy unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to prove represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA! IT IS.

251 PAGES,

Its Topography and Valuable Resources.

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

PRICE, 50 CENTS. POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO STATERS.

10,000 Copies Just Published 3,000 Copies Sold.

The Editors of New Orleans have given this book a long and favorable notice.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

"It is a book which has long been wanted and which ought to sell. I am selling it rapidly, and will mail it to all parts of the world."

GEORGE E. ELLIS, Bookseller,
Opposite the Postoffice.

"During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work." Mr. DENNETT'S LOUISIANA AS IT IS precisely the book that has been called for. I feel general satisfaction in my part as to the city and country. At its price a greater work could not be published. I would respectfully refer to the present edition of 3,000 copies to supply the demand.

A. C. HALEY, Bookseller,
121 Commercial Place,
Branch, 141 Poydras street.

"An experience of twenty-five years as bookseller in New Orleans will fully justify me in saying that the book just issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, LOUISIANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by residents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing."

JAMES A. GRESHAM,
92 Camp and 118 Carondelet street.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain specimens of the above book at the wholesale establishment of ROBERT L. HAVIS, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS, Established in 1846, Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic Buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs artistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

GEORGE W. HOPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103 ..... CANAL STREET 103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Lace Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE F. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT,

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS,

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen;

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting material of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, all to be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder, Shot, Fley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., at the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES.

FOR THE LAKE!

OFFICE OF THE

NEW ORLEANS CITY RAILROAD CO.,

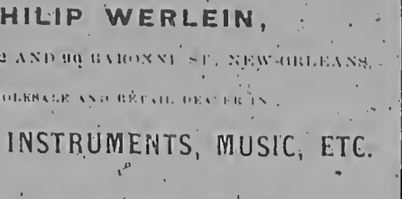
No. 141 Canal St., New Orleans, April 21, 1876.

FOR THE LAKE.—The regular trains over the New Orleans Metairie cemeteries and Lake Railroad will begin running on

SATURDAY, APRIL 22,

For the present trains will leave Metairie Ridge at the Lake EVERY HALF HOUR from 6 o'clock A. M. the last train leaving the Lake at 10 o'clock P. M. Fare from City Station to the Lake, TEN CENTS.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Practice Pistol & Targets.

Carries a No. 1 inch ball with accuracy fully equal to without powder or percussion. Draws barrel, hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with permanent amendation for target practice in-doors and for sporting out-of-doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. A. GRAHAM,
61 Liberty street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

150 ..... POYDRAS STREET 150

Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gents', Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

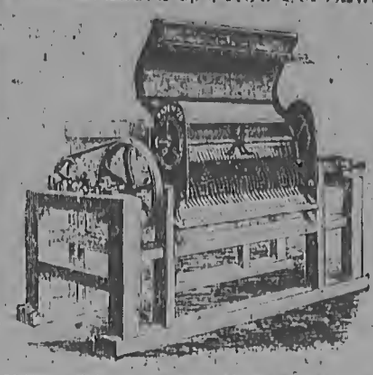
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time while economizing fuel or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very close, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton on this account of a greater market value. This improved valve, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every 100 bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

50 ..... Carondelet St. 59

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. E. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22 ..... Main Street 22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.

No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.

DEALERS IN

MACHINERY

SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPLETE PRICES.

MACHINERY

MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.

MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, MILLS AND COTTON PRESSES

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best

Farm Machinery,

OF ALL KINDS;

Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,

Lime, Plaster and Cement.

C. H. STOCKELL & CO.,

NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE & STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES & BOILERS.
SAW & GRIST MILLS.
MILL GEARING MADE
AND REPAIRED.
SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.
The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL. 7000 in use.
ADDRESS POOLE & HUNT,
BALTIMORE, MD.
SEND FOR CIRCULARS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Deford and Foucher Sts.

We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Planting Machines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Sugar Drip Gearing, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Judson's Governors, all kinds of Plantation and Steam-boat work and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.

Orders left at Box 75, Mechanics' and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.

IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.

HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING etc., Send for Illustrated Catalogue and price list.

GEORGE PLACE,

121 CHAMBERS AND 103 READE STREET,

NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, Schools, Farms, Factories, Court-houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Fully Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

Vanduzen & Tift, 102 & 104 Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,

NO. 151 CANAL STREET,

Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Having acquaintance with the various kinds of

SEWING MACHINES

has induced us to make a specialty in this line. First-class Machines of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Fuller-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $30. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones.

Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments to the country to parties giving references.

MRS. ADA GREGG

respectfully offers her services in purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adornment or domestic goods for Ladies' and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trousseaux, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles mentioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half prices. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCES.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss.

Send for catalogue and circular.

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, June 20, 1876.

MONETARY.

Quietness prevails in bank and insurance parlors, unless now and then some needy one breaks the spell by offering a small note to assist him in meeting the demands of his business, which is done as coolly as possible, at regular rates.

Now and then sales of premium bonds are effected at 34½@35½.

Prices of bank, insurance and city railroad stocks, as well as others, unchanged.

Gold, 112½@112¾.

GENERAL MARKET.

The general market discloses no new features except in provisions, which, owing to large foreign orders being filled in New York and Western cities, are stiffer, while sales are very light. Breadstuffs are quiet. Orders from the country are "few and far between." Groceries move slowly, but steadily. Hardware, dry goods, and boots and shoes are in demand, but only to a limited degree. From the light loads our jackets carry-out it would seem our friends are well supplied, or are determined to make old clothes do a little longer. This is the only way out of our poverty: Stop buying until you have the cash to pay down. Then you can obtain bargains.

COTTON.

The market has shown a healthy steadiness during the past week, and sales to the extent of 12,900 bales are reported at regular prices. The New York market also shows that spinners have more confidence. Sales there, 13,504 bales, at 12 5-16c. for middling Orleans. Liverpool, with a stock of 1,026,000 bales, of which 605,000 is American, has sold 65,000 bales, on a basis of 6 5-16d. The world's visible supply on the sixteenth was 2,606,310 bales.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½
Thursday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½
Friday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½
Saturday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½
Monday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½
Tuesday	7½	8½	9½	10½	11½	12½

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Cash—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11	11½	11
Thursday	11½	11½	11
Friday	11½	11½	11½
Saturday	11½	11½	11½
Monday	11½	11½	11½
Tuesday	11½	11½	11½

COTTON STATEMENT TO JUNE 20.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875, bales	6,976
Received from that date to June 13, 1876	1,542,280
Received during past week	3,670
Amount of bales from city gins and pickeries	18,795—1,561,345
Total	1,571,621
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to June 13, 1876	1,476,118
Exported past week	18,750
Consumed by factory and burned	1,570—1,496,223
Stock on hand and amount not cleared	84,141
Estimated stock on shipboard	15,000
Amount remaining unsold, about	69,101
Stock at all the United States ports	528,180
Receipts at all the ports	4,004,836
Receipts last year to date	3,448,280
Increase at all the ports	52,656

SUGAR.—Receipts very light. Market quiet, and gimlet rangers generally retiring to summer quarters. Prices: Fair 8c., fully fair 8¼c., yellow clarified 9¼@9½c., white clarified 10@10¼c.

MOLASSES.—Very dull. Quotations nearly nominal. Fair 48@50c., prime 52@54c., choice 55@57c.

RICE.—Not much doing and very little on hand. We quote Louisiana No. 2 at 2½@3c., common 4@4¼c., ordinary 4¼@4¾c., fair 5@5¼c., good 5¾@6c., prime 6¼@6½c. ₱ lb.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	FROM	TO
Eggs, ₱ doz:
Creole, good demand	—	18
Attakapas, demand fair	—	12½
Western and country	—	10
Chickens, ₱ doz:
Creole, grown	$4 00	$5 50
Creole, half-grown	2 00	3 50
Good fat country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creole.
Wool, ₱ lb:
Burry	10	15
Free of burrs	15	25
Beeswax, ₱ lb	27	30
Hides, ₱ lb:
Green-salted	6	7½
Dry	9	11½
Deer skins	25	28

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $6@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and pecks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood—For large sound logs, $2.25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2.75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.)

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₱ lb. gross.

Fat grass-fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@7c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel-tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	125 00	425 00
H. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	55 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ M.:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ M. feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ M	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 20	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gal	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights:

Size of lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	50	$1 50	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25

Sash Doors:	Single.	Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50	$4 75
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00	4 25
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —	4 25

Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$4 75 4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	25	30
Gosheu, choice	30	32
Coffee, ₱ lb.
Rio, fair	18½	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O G		34
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	38	40
Sweet	28	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz.:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.	— —	3 00
Beef, K D	— —	— —
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	10	12
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	23 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	6 25
Choice XXX	6 50	6 75
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 00
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	5	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	25
Lubricating, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	17	19
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Rapid strips	80	85
Half bbls, 5c. and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb.:
No. 2	— —	3½
Ordinary	— —	4½
Fair	5½	5¾
Prime to choice	6¼	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb:
Keller's magnum	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb.	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	35
Coarse	1 05	1 15
Sugar, in bbls:
Fair	8¼	8¾
Prime	9	9¼
Choice	9¾	9¾
Yellow clarified	9¾	10
White clarified	10¼	10¾
Crushed	11½	11¾
Powdered	11¼	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Allspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	60
Cinnamon	— —	52
Tea, ₱ lb.:
Black Oolong		1 00
Green imperial		1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	78	80
White, mixed	— —	67
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis to Galena	45	48
Bran, choice, ₱ t of lbs	— —	80
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	25 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton seed meal	26 00	27 00
Cow Peas ₱ bushel	1 50	1 75
Mixed clay	— —	1 50
Mixed and clay	1 75	2 25

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breakfast	11	14½
Shoulders	9½	10½
Sides, clear rib	— —	11½
Sides, clear	— —	12½
Hams, sugar-cured	14	15
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	21 50	22 00
Dry Salted meat:
Shoulders	— —	8½
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice, in kegs	— —	10½
Choice, in tierces	— —	13

BALING STUFFS.

Bagging:
Dundee	— —	11
Jute	10½	11
Ties, Arrow, best, per bundle, m 30
Ties and buckles	— —	3 50
Beard	— —	3 00
Twine, hemp	— —	15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Sole, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf-skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Sierra's raw-bone superphosph	65 00	— —
Sierra's bone-ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, ½	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, ½	— —	7½
Choice brands, 4-4	10½	14½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	15½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	16 50
Russets' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 50

Special Notices.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the biennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to

DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957.)
No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The Seashore Camp Meeting will commence on Wednesday, the nineteenth of July, and continue from eight to ten days.

The camp ground is delightfully situated upon the coast, two miles west of Biloxi, Miss., open to and fronting directly upon the Gulf of Mexico, enjoying the cool and refreshing breezes of the sea.

Persons visiting the camp meeting will leave the New Orleans and Mobile railroad at Seashore Camp Ground station from which a shaded walk of a few hundred feet will bring them to the encampment.

Eligible lots for building will be furnished free to persons desiring to erect permanent tents, and can be obtained from the trustees, or the agent representing them upon the grounds, at all times.

All permanent tents are required to be of value of not less than $10, and must be completed at least one week before the commencement of the camp meeting. This rule does not preclude the use of temporary tents, constructed of cloth or other material for which pleasant positions will be assigned to all persons desiring it.

Favorable reductions of fare and freights on the railroad have been secured. On the New Orleans and Mobile road the fare from New Orleans to camp ground, for the round trip, is $2 50; and from Mobile, the round trip, $2.

The camp meeting tickets will be placed on sale at the offices of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, July 18, and continue good until July 30, inclusive. These tickets will not be good to return unless stamped by the agent of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, who will be on the ground. This order will be rigidly enforced by the railroad company. The sale of tickets from local points on this road will begin as above, and at the same rates as last year. Freight will be carried from New Orleans and Mobile to camp ground, at full rates, and returned free. Shipments can be made any time after July 10, and continue during the meeting. By the Morgan road passage will be full price one way only. By New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago road one and one-fifth the full fare only. Taking these cars, persons on making known that they are going to the camp meeting will have their ticket punched and retain it, and, having it stamped at the camp ground, will return on the same free.

From their new purchase of another hundred acres since the camp meeting last year, the trustees have made a large and desirable addition to the camp grounds, embracing several delightful and refreshing springs, cool and health-giving. The grounds have been cleaned up and improved generally.

Tents, cots, etc., have been provided for rent to persons or families as they may desire.

Provision has been made by the board of trustees, and under their supervision, for a good restaurant. Meals and lodgings will be furnished at reasonable prices. Use of bath-houses free.

Brethren of the Methodist Church, and of other churches, and the communities of the adjacent cities and country, are invited to attend the camp meeting.

Several Bishops and other ministers of talent and distinction from far and near are expected to be present, and to assist in conducting the exercises.

Persons are recommended to make arrangements for their comfort, before the date of the camp meeting, by application to any of the board of trustees: Dr. E. T. Griffin, Moss Point, Miss. William Otis and Hugh L. Hopper, Mobile; J. H. Keller, George W. W. Goodwyn, R. O. L. Rayne, R. S. Rickey, P. Hallaran and W. H. Foster, New Orleans.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF CENTENARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.—The annual sermon will be preached on July 9, by the Rev. William C. Murrey, D. D.

Meeting of the board of trustees, July 10, at 9 A. M. Exhibition of Preparatory Department, July 10, 8 P. M.

Tuesday, July 11.—Meeting of the alumni; and delivery of diplomas to their graduates by the societies. Eight P. M.—Exhibition of the literary societies, followed by an address from the Rev. R. H. Rivers, D. D.

Wednesday, July 12.—Commencement day. Speeches by the five graduates, and baccalaureate by the president.

P. G. ANDREWS,
President.

COMMENCEMENT OF CENTENARY FEMALE COLLEGE, SUMMERFIELD, ALA.—June 25.—Commencement sermon by Rev. William E. Motley.

June 26.—Board of trustees meet at 8 o'clock A. M. Exercises of Centenary Male Institute. Eight o'clock P. M.—Students' concert.

June 27, 10 o'clock A. M.—Junior exhibition. Eight o'clock P. M.—Annual concert.

June 28, 10 o'clock A. M.—Graduating exercises. Eight o'clock.—Alumni supper.

Hacks and conveyances from Hunt's stables, Selma, Ala.

J. M. CREWS.
A. H. McVOY.

THE Prattville District Conference will convene at Prattville on Wednesday, July 5, at eight o'clock P. M. Opening sermon by Rev. J. W. Shores.

A. J. BIGGS.

NOTICE TO DELEGATES TO PRATTVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE, JULY 5.—Conveyances will meet you at Coosada (the first station above Montgomery on the North and South railroad) on Wednesday and Thursday, and at Washington, on the Alabama river, on Tuesday evening when the boat is going down, and on Friday morning when going up. Come to time, brethren, and write me beforehand.

J. W. RUSH, Pastor.

NOTICE.—Persons attending the District Conference at Newton station will pay full fare to the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad going, and will be returned free on certificate of the secretary.

WILL. H. LEITH.

THE District Conference for Selma district, Alabama Conference, will be held at Camden, Ala., beginning on the twenty-seventh of July, and including the thirtieth.

O. R. BLOE, P. E.

HOMER DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—The District Conference for Homer district will convene in Arcadia, directly on the stage line from Monroe to Shreveport, July 27, 1876, and continue over the Sabbath following. The preachers in charge will please have their reports prepared, especially on those subjects mentioned on the fifty-first page of the Discipline.

JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

NOTICE.—The camp meeting at the Union camp ground, Grove Hill circuit, will commence on Friday night, the first of September. A cordial invitation is extended to all who may be disposed to attend, and especially to our ministering brethren. Preparation will be made for the accommodation of all who may be in attendance. We hope to have a good attendance of people and preachers and a gracious revival of religion from the presence of the Lord.

BASHOM C. GLENN, Pastor.

GROVE HILL, ALA., June 14, 1876. 22

WESLEY CHAPEL CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting will be held, commencing August 25 and lasting some eight days, at the camp ground one mile north of Woodville, Lincoln parish, La. Preachers are specially invited to attend.

J. LANE BORDEN, P. C.
22 Vernon Ct., Louisiana Conference.

THE District Conference for Vicksburg district, Mississippi Conference, will be held at Port Gibson, beginning July 19. Preachers in charge will please forward me the names of delegates and local preachers who will be in attendance.

E. H. MOUNGER.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

THE Brandon District Conference will convene at Newton, June 29, 1876. Preachers in charge of circuits, stations and missions are requested to immediately forward to Jared Watts the names of lay delegates and local preachers, as well as visitors, who are expected to attend.

J. H. K. SMITH, P. C.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Enterprise station	June 17, 18
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	July 1, 2
Meridian station	22
Wayne circuit, at Andrew chapel	8, 9
Quitman circuit, at Quitman	15, 16
Shubuta circuit, at Soule chapel	22, 23
Paulding circuit, at Philadelphia	29, 30
DeKalb circuit, at Prairie chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Spring Hill circuit, at Union	12, 13
Lauderdale circuit, at Mount Isabron	19, 20
Enterprise mission	26, 27
Marion circuit, at Pleasant Hill	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, June 23, 24 and 25.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

JACKSON DISTRICT.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson station	June 24, 25
Vernon mission, at Vernon	July 1, 2
Madison circuit, at Pearl River	8, 9
Shuro circuit and Thomastown mission, at Madisonville	15, 16
Canton station	22, 23
Brownsville circuit, at Edwards	29, 30
Camden circuit, at Soule chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Carthage circuit, at camp ground	12, 13
Yazoo circuit	19, 20
Hoyer's circuit	26, 27
Vazoo City	Sept. 2, 3
Silver Creek circuit	9, 10

The District Conference of Jackson district will convene at Edwards, Hinds county, Miss., July 27-30, opening at nine A. M. on Thursday. Bishop Paine is expected to preside.

WM. B. HINES, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

MARIANA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Creek circuit, at Mount Zion	June 17, 18
Perro Gordo mission, at Sandy Creek	24, 25
Holmes' Valley mission, at Orange Hill	July 1, 2
Calhoun circuit	8, 9
Cahaba circuit	15, 16
Marianna station	18
Geneva circuit, at Edna	22, 23
Newton circuit, at Sylvan Grove	Aug. 12, 13
Echo circuit, at Brown's chapel	19, 20
Ozark circuit, at Blow Ridge	26, 27
Greenwood circuit, at Campbellton	Sept. 2, 3

15 HENRY H. MOORE, P. E.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other route, it being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, where the new and handsome Hotels are erected, within ten minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels—a great advantage to visitors who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL JUBILEE.

Three Daily Express Trains from Cincinnati, making close connection, without a single wait or lay-over, with all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be recollected that if an New Orleans, via Louisville, the time between New Orleans and New York is only Sixty-two Hours and Eleven Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Steel Rails and Stone Ballast, the entire route; with double and treble tracks, and the best system of railroad telegraphing in the country—which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historical—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—blending, as it does, hill and dale, mountain and valley, waterfalls and cascades; mountain rivers and limpid brooks; in fact, as the European tourist says: "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great thoroughfare.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is worthy of, even in this advanced age of progress—but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion, as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will so state.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Camp and Common streets, New Orleans,

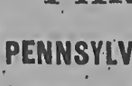
SIDNEY H. JAMES,
General Ass't Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency.

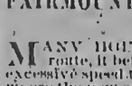
VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE



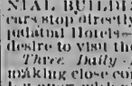
Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort in saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and connecting by first-class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.



New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.



Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unexcelled. Shortest sea route, superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Safety the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage, the very best in all respects—through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from $5 up on any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and coins sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary and Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS, consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannels, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent, if requested.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$4 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

18 00 will buy a very elegant Porcelain Decorated ivory opal or French China (in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but slop Jar and Foot Tub.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET.

Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 130 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ROOFS

that leak are costly properly. You cannot s... them. The damage to your housed crops ... sults from one storm is often more than the ... putting your flurn-roof in old r... The yearly ... of agricultural machinery and implements ... from leaky roofs on outhouses, would ... pay the cost of roofing every shed, crib and ... house on your farm. Your stock suffers ... drippings of your stable-roof, and the neces... their lying in wet stalls. These evils affect ... erty, but when your house-roof leaks it is ... yet; then comfort departs, and you have a ... full of pails and pans to catch the steady ... there are wet ceilings and falling plast... spoiled furniture, damp bedding and rheuma... there is the anxious wife, wearied with runn... stairs to guard against new leaks; it is dec... ruin and property wasted. You cann

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1876. NO. 26.

THE BREEZES OF JUNE.

BY PAUL D. DAYNE.

Oh! sweet and soft,
Returning oft,
As oft they pass lovingly,
The warm June breezes come and go,
Through golden rounds of murmurous blow,
Still length to sigh,
Waft talm and die,
Far down the panting primrose sky.
Divinely!

Though soft and low
These breezes blow,
Their voice is passion's wholly;
Ah! our hearts on faith to meet
Burden of their music sweet,
Ere set in sighs,
Saints, falters, dies,
Down the rich path of sunset skies—
Half glad, but melancholy!

Send, send thine ear!
Oh! hark and hear
What vows each lillie newcomer,
The warm June breeze but comes and goes,
Whispering to the coral rose,
And star-pale lily, trembling nigh,
Are set in such fast harmony
As unions die,
Wax faint and die,
On the unchiel bosom, passionate sky,
Of youthful summer!

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The important military order mentioned in the dispatches last night does not go into effect until the first of July. The full significance of the order cannot be explained in brief, but it may be well to mention the fact that desperate efforts are to be made to carry the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas for the Republicans in November, and this order is the first move in the programme.

The Federal officeholders in the States mentioned are to be reconstructed, especially the United States marshals and their deputies. None but the most uncompromising, and, may be added, unscrupulous Radicals are to be placed in charge of these offices. The Attorney General will overhaul the list of marshals and assistants, and in this work he is being assisted by the extreme radical politicians, in and out of Congress.—Picayune

Gen. Schofield has been ordered to West Point; Gen. McDowell to the military division of the Pacific and Gen. Ruger to the department of the South. The division of the South will be discontinued.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—A dispatch from Paris, Ky., says a fourth of the northern portion of that city at half-past six in the afternoon, demolishing ten or twelve houses, injuring a colored Methodist church, uprooting a large number of trees and doing other damage. Only two persons were injured, one seriously. Nicholasville, Ky., the lightning struck a house, igniting two kegs of powder. The explosion demolished the building and seriously injured a colored woman.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—At three o'clock this morning the House passed the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The military order, which goes into effect July 1, throws Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana and Mississippi under Gen. Sheridan.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Maj. Gen. J. Schofield will relieve Col. T. Ruger, brevet major general, as superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., by the first of September.

Maj. Gen. Irvin McDowell is assigned to the command of the military division of the Pacific, in place of Maj. Gen. Schofield, and will assume command July 1.

The military division of the South is discontinued and the department of the South is annexed to the division of the Atlantic. The States of Alabama and the parts of Kentucky and Tennessee lying west of the Tennessee river will be embraced within the department of the South.

The military posts on the gulf coast within the State of Florida will be included within the department of the South.

Col. Thomas H. Ruger, of the Nineteenth Infantry, is assigned to the command of the department of the South, according to his brevet rank of major general. The next senior, Col. G. Pennypacker, Sixth Infantry, will temporarily command the department until the arrival of Col. Ruger.

FOREIGN.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 16.—The military situation remains unchanged. The pronunciados are said to number about eight thousand men, badly armed and provisioned, at Tlaxcala, San Juan de Lomosplac, fifteen miles apart.

The government general, Alatorre, with five thousand well-armed and equipped troops, is at Apizaco, the junction of the Vera Cruz and Mexico and Puebla railroads, ready to march to the relief of either of these places if they are attacked.

Gen. Alatorre expects reinforcements from Gen. Escalada's command at Matamoras, by way of Vera Cruz. After their arrival he will commence active and vigorous operations against the pronunciados with the bulk of his forces. This will alter the situation considerably, and probably give a death-blow to the revolution.

The revolutionary chiefs in Oaxaca and other States treat foreigners with much severity, especially Americans, who are all in favor of constitutional government. Gustavus Nolte, an American citizen, and three other foreigners, supposed to be Americans, were massacred at Numerol. Guadalupe said the affair grew out of a private feud, and was not connected with politics.

LONDON, June 21.—Dr. E. D. Dickson, physician of the British embassy at Constantinople, writes to the Times from that city, under date of the thirteenth instant, as follows:

"Undoubtedly the disease which is prevailing in Mesopotamia is real plague. Since the beginning of June, with a rise of temperature to about 104 degrees, another characteristic of the plague has been exhibited in the rapidly diminished number of attacks and deaths. The scourge will doubtless cease entirely during the great heat of summer. During the month of May the number of attacks at Bagdad was 2079, and deaths 1,222."

BERLIN, June 21.—A captain and six lieutenants of the Chinese army arrived here, bearing a request from the Chinese government to serve a term in the Prussian army. They propose to study the German military system. The request was granted.

VIENNA, June 22.—It is certain the Servian mission to Constantinople has been abandoned, showing there is no hope of obtaining anything from the Porte by negotiations.

The second van of Servian militia are being mobilized and sent to the frontier. All available hands are working day and night at Cronstadt, preparing the Russian fleet for sea.

LONDON, June 24.—A special dispatch to the Standard, dated Constantinople, June 21, via Athens, says: Great uneasiness prevails and is increasing. The palace of Sultan Murad is surrounded day and night by pickets of cavalry.

The Russian residents are sending their families away. Ibrahim Pasha has been placed under arrest. There are various rumors that he is implicated in the Russian intrigue, and that he assisted Abdul Aziz in disposing of his treasure.

The censorship of the press is extremely severe. Three Turkish and three French journals are now suspended. The government is fast becoming unpopular, and will speedily fall if it does not abandon its undecided attitude.

LONDON, June 26.—An explosion took place to day in the Bailey pit, near Sheffield. Five dead bodies have already been taken out. There were only six men in the pit. They were all killed.

From the Work.

WINNSBORO, LA.—Mr. Editor: At an early hour on the morning of June 7 the church, which was beautifully decorated with evergreens and mottoes, began to fill, and by ten o'clock was densely crowded with visitors, while the Sunday school, teachers and scholars, were grouped around the piano, on an elevated platform in one end of the building. Just behind them, in large green letters on a white background, was the motto, "The Sunday School Army;" and above floated a beautiful banner with the motto, "Pilgrim Band," in letters of evergreen on a white ground.

After various soul-stirring songs by the little choir, and a prayer by Rev. A. W. Moore, our zealous superintendent, R. T. Young, made a short but beautiful and appropriate address, and then introduced Capt. W. P. Power, who spoke at greater length, and won the attention of the audience by his chaste and eloquent remarks.

The next feature was the distribution of prizes by T. W. Young, followed by a neat and elegant address from W. W. Campbell, and concluding with more hymns and the benediction, after which the scholars formed in procession and marched to the grove, where dinner had been prepared. Dinner over, the young folks joined in a game of croquet, while the older ones occupied rustic seats under the trees.

The exercises passed off pleasantly. The children's singing was such as to win the admiration of visitors, and reflect credit upon their teacher. We had a lovely day, and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

If space permitted I would like to give you a history of our Sunday school, and tell you how, through the indefatigable efforts of a few, it grew from the small nucleus of five little boys into a large and flourishing school, drawing within its charmed circle some for whom preaching has few attractions.

At night the Winnsboro Dramatic Club gave an entertainment for the benefit of our church, which is not yet paid for, and made $226. This was their third entertainment, and already they have reduced the debt two thirds, having realized about $750 on their three entertainments. Things looked rather desperate before the club took the matter in hand, as the builder had judgment against the church, and it was about to be sold; but now we have until next fall to finish paying for it. M.

JUNE 15, 1876.

Many very good people are annoyed by sleepiness in church. The following remedy is recommended: Lift the foot seven inches from the floor, and hold it in suspense, without support for the limb, and repeat the remedy if the attack returns.

Missionary Work Required in New Orleans.

MR. EDITOR: Out of a population of two hundred and twenty-five thousand souls in this city, the writer has no adequate means of ascertaining the exact number of Roman Catholics, Methodists, Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Baptists, Unitarians, Universalists, Swedenborgians, and colored church members, and therefore does not venture to approximate the number of non-churchmen who make no pretension to religion. But this latter class must amount to many thousands. The members of these different denominations generally attend their own churches. The increased membership of the orthodox churches is generally supplied by the children of Christian parents, whose early life has been one of religious discipline and Sabbath school culture. A church that keeps itself in this city, preserves its order and rank, feels that much is accomplished. Among all the combined activities of Christians, taking the aggregate effort of all the Protestant churches, there is not, so far as our information extends, more than one purely missionary enterprise on foot. No paid colporteur of Bibles, no special tract distribution, little systematic and efficient jail or hospital visiting, no street preaching, no general and promiscuous house visiting, no Young Men's Christian Association, and no enterprise or effort in existence here which is specially directed toward the saving of the thousands who are perishing in their sins. This remark, of course, must be understood as referring to work outside of what is generally recognized as the legitimate pastorate.

The most active and vigorous efforts made in this city are put forth by the Roman Catholic Church. But their work is entirely for the secular or financial interests of their organization. The priesthood endeavor to hold the heart in bondage, while they unloose the pocket-books of their proselytes. There has not been in New Orleans since its existence, in so far as its history is generally known, a single period of great religious feeling among the people. No ripple has ever broken the stillness of this sea upon whose treacherous bosom so many thousands have been conveyed to the dark regions of despair.

The question may be asked: "What can be done?" Some of the great evangelists have been here and the people were not moved. We do not need foreign assistance. This is a work which God's ministry and people themselves, in this city, can accomplish under the leadership and inspiration of Christ. But it will cost more labor, self-sacrifice and unabating zeal than the church has heretofore evidenced. Every preacher knows that he has never accomplished anything until his soul became inflamed with holy fire, and every power was at work.

Do the churches expect their ministers to be the only workers? This is the mistake into which most churches fall. Yet the experience of every successful preacher is that his own efforts were almost paralyzed until the church began to co-operate actively and enthusiastically with him. It would be a matter of easy prophecy to say that New Orleans would be shaken to its foundation if the churches in it, as the early Christian church, assembled themselves before the Lord, every member of them, to invoke the Spirit's presence, and to pray that sinners might be moved by the truth. It is a question of prayer and consecration, of doing as well as saying. Moody found in Scotland and England that the only way to reach the masses was to go after them. Christian young men and women banded themselves, two by two, as street missionaries, visited house after house, prayed, sang and exhorted, and left personal invitations to attend the meetings. The result was overcrowded houses.

The church itself must have before it the value of the soul. Every member must feel his own obligation to others growing out of his reception of light and grace, and must realize that Christ desires him to bring some soul to the fountain of life.

This work cannot be individual, but should be collective. Should all the Christian denominations here meet in convention, and with their representative ministers organize themselves into a great and divinely ordained agency of carrying the gospel to the people; elect a suitable preacher as general superintendent; select a large and commodious building—say the Exposition Hall; establish a series of nightly meetings, leaving the preacher of each evening to the choice of the general superintendent; begin house visitation on every street in the city, entering every house where no objection is met—the churches and ministers forgetting all differences of doctrine, and preaching the gospel of grace to the last—thousands of souls would be saved!

M. P.

Northern Texas.

PILOT POINT, DENTON CO., TEXAS, June 15, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: In perusing the columns of your interesting and popular paper I have read but little, very little, from the pen of any one in this part of the vineyard; and if it is not presuming too much, allow me to give you a brief synopsis of our labors in this part of northern Texas. And to begin, our people are alive to almost every interest of the church, especially the Sunday school department. I have never seen more interest manifested anywhere than here on that subject; even where there are no organized classes the world has fled from satan as far as the Sunday school. We have had some revival meetings, at which times and places not a few sinners have been awakened and converted.

Finances are low, though crops are finer than ever known before, and pastors and people are "waking up," and we all hope for better days, if they never come, though come they will if we will but remain faithful. We were very glad to learn that Bishop Pierce was coming to spend the summer with us; and well we may be, for every Texan feels, although he had been slighted. In all the other conferences we can hear of the Bishops presiding even in District Conferences; but in Texas heretofore it has been by the "skin of our teeth" that we secured episcopal service even in an Annual Conference. This looks hard, but still we labor. "Woe unto us if we preach not the gospel." Our calling is of God, our commission from Heaven. We have fought with "beasts," men and devils, we have hazarded our lives and property, carrying our guns across the pommel of our saddles; we have scoured Texan frontiers and pressed our claims within the wigwam of the savage. "Much fruit may we bear to thy glory, O Lord!"

We hear some little of the Centennial, but take little or no interest in it. There has been too much corruption discovered for a Texan. We do not want to be defiled; though S. Paxon says if we would just go up North and get some of those great ideas, some of us would do right well, considering where we came from. But we beg leave to join issue with that old "blue stocking," and claim that we have as much common sense as he enjoys; and Heaven help us if we have no more! The only trouble we have had to amount to anything was caused by this representative of the American Sunday School Union. He publicly insulted every Methodist preacher in this (Sherman) district, at a convention (Sunday school, so called) held at Sherman. But I guess we will have no more trouble from that source. God forbid! May God, in his infinite mercy, prosper his cause, aid us all in our efforts, and bring us all in the unity of the faith, etc.

J. W. HILL.

A Detroiter of liberal education, says the Free Press, has been greatly annoyed because his wife and other women are not better posted on history and other matters connected with the growth or welfare of the country. The other day he carried home a big history, and handed it to his spouse with the remark: "There, Mary, I want you to commence at page 1, and see if you can't learn something." She agreed to become his pupil, and when he came home to supper he found her reading away, hair down, slippers on, all the dres out but one, and no sign of supper. "Why, how's this?" he inquired. "Are you sick?" "Sick! No." "Well, where's my supper?" "I don't know anything about your supper," she replied, as she settled back in her chair, "but I can tell you about the first discovery of Florida."

Bridget—"Sure, Maria and me was discushin' over what was thim things on the pitcher over the mantel." Mistress—"Why, Bridget, those are Raphael's angels." Bridget—"Och, thin the both of us wuz wrong. I said they wuz twins, and Maria said they wuz hats."

A Specific Against Hydrophobia.

The British Medical Journal says: "Dr. Grzyvala, of Krivac Ozero, Podolia, for whose trustworthiness Prof. Gubler, of Paris, vouches, declares that, after a series of crucial trials, which he describes at length, he has found that, after having had opportunities of treating at least one hundred cases of men bitten by rabid dogs with the Xanthium spigosum, he has never in any one of these cases failed to ward off hydrophobia. He gives some startling examples. During the Crimean war a family of twelve persons had been bitten by a hydrophobia wolf. Six of them entered his wards in the hospital of Oselianka, government of Podolia, district of Balta. They were treated with infusion of the leaves of the Xanthium, and all recovered. The six others, who were treated by the actual cautery and the daily use of Acnista tinctoria and other drugs, died with hydrophobia in the course of twelve to sixty days. He recounts many other facts not less striking. For an adult the dose is sixty centigrammes of the dry powder, repeated three times a day, and continued during six weeks. Children under twelve take half that quantity. The dose for animals is much larger. A herd of thirty oxen had been bitten by a mad wolf. Eight had succumbed, with symptoms of hydrophobia. The commissary of police came to Dr. Grzyvala for his "antirabic powder." He gave three ounces of the powder, with bran, daily to each of the animals. None of them suffered from the disease. These are examples of which Dr. Grzyvala says he has a hundred others. Fiat experimentum. We have heard too often of specifics for hydrophobia not to regard this last claimant with sorrowful suspicion. But the herb is, at least, a harmless one. Its ordinary properties seem to be mainly sudorific; and since animals suffering from rabies are only too frequently at hand, and the remedy is one which grows plentifully in the middle regions of France, as well as Podolia, let us hope that our French colleagues will lose no time in putting this prophylactic to the test.

SINGING IN CHINESE.—A Hard Field.—Mr. Walker wrote from Foochow, October 27, reporting a visit to some congregations a few miles southwest from Foochow:

At the small village of Thong Ha I spent a very pleasant afternoon and evening in the chapel, with the help of two or three church members, singing and expounding hymns. There is one very serious drawback to the use of music as a means of preaching the gospel in China. In singing the word the tunes cannot be given, and this destroys the sense; for in Chinese, as a rule, every articulate sound represents at least two or three different words, while the more common, such as "ting, ling and sing," often represent two or three dozen different words, and without the help of the tones they have no meaning whatever. So when a hymn is sung to a Chinese audience, who are not already familiar with it, it has scarcely more meaning to them than it would have to a foreigner just arrived. In fact I have sometimes just sung a foreign hymn to the audience, and then interpreted and expounded it, and it seemed to answer as well as a native hymn.—Missionary Herald.

THE HAPPIEST SEASON OF LIFE.—A venerable man, of eighty-five, having been asked, "Which is the happiest season of life?" thus answered the question: When spring comes, and, under the influence of the gentle warmth of the atmosphere, the buds commence to show themselves and to turn into flowers, I think in myself: Oh, what a beautiful season is spring! Then when summer comes and covers the trees with thick foliage, where the birds are so happy in singing their pretty songs, I say to myself: Oh, summer is a fine thing! Then when autumn arrives, and I see the same trees laden with the finest and most tempting fruits, I cry out: Oh, how magnificent is autumn! And finally, when the rude and hard winter makes its appearance, and there are neither leaves nor fruits on the trees, then, through their naked branches I look upward and perceive, better than I could ever before, the splendid stars that glitter in the sky.—From the French.

Geologists show us the ripple-marks and rain-drops in the sand stone, which was once the beach of an ancient sea, and which bears in these enduring marks the memorial of some play of the summer waves; or some dropping of the summer shower in a remote, incalculable past, which, light as they seemed to be, have left these perpetual traces of their presence to a distant future. So the influences that circle round the young soul may be as light as the zephyrs that roll softly up the gentle wave as it reaches the smiling strand, or as transient as the shower whose hasty drops are dotted on its surface; yet, when ages of unmeasured cycles shall have rolled away, the ripple-marks and rain-drops of these passing facts shall be found chiseled into the enduring character, as with the point of a diamond upon the rock forever.

"I take my tex dis morning," said a colored preacher, "from dat position ob de Scriptures what de Postol Paul puts his pistol to de Fesions."

Joseph A. Mayhin.

At an adjourned meeting of the board of directors of the Southwestern Bible Society, convened on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 13, to take action in regard to the recent decease of the society's first and only president, Joseph A. Mayhin, Esq., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Since, in the exercise of his sovereign wisdom, our heavenly Father has called hence, to the enjoyment of the rest that remaineth for his people, our beloved brother and honored president, Joseph A. Mayhin, who died on the morning of Monday, May 15, in the eighty-second year of his age; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in this death, by which for the first time its presidential chair is vacated, the Southwestern Bible Society mourns its loss of an officer most faithful and efficient, a counselor eminent for prudence and catholicity of spirit, and a friend and advocate tried and proven through all the years of its history.

Resolved, That as a society founded to promote the circulation of the Holy Scriptures we have ever been able to point with admiration to the daily life and conversation of our departed president as characteristically that of one whose "delight was in the law of the Lord," and in that law meditated day and night.

Resolved, That in his peaceful death we recognize a fitting close to a long and active career, conspicuous up to its latest hours for the constant exercise of a genuine Christian philanthropy, so that we may say of him with confident assurance: "Them that sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."

Resolved, That while we extend to the bereaved household, whence has been taken its loved and venerated head, our cordial sympathy, we rejoice that to them is bequeathed the rich legacy of such an example, since in their memory of the departed father, and the contemplation of his present happiness, is most clearly illustrated the inspired proverb: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold."

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the religious and secular papers of our city, and that a copy of the same be furnished to the family of our late president.

WM. H. FOSTER,
Chairman.
M. M. GREENWOOD,
Sec. pro tem.

OUT-DOOR EXERCISES FOR MOTHERS.—Consider it your religious duty to take out-door exercise without fail each day. Sweeping and trotting around the house will not take its place; the exhilaration of the open air and change of scene are absolutely necessary. O, I know all about "Lucy's gown that is not finished," and "Tommy's jacket," and even "his" coat, his buttonless coat, thrown in your lap, as if to add the last ounce to the camel's back; still I say: Up and out! Is it not more important that your children, at their tender years, should not be left motherless, and that they should not be born to that feeble constitution of body which will blight every early blessing? Let buttons and strings go; you will take hold of them with more vigor and patience when you do return bright and refreshed; and if every stitch be not finished at just such a moment (and it is discouraging not to be able to systematize in your labor, even with your best efforts,) still remember that "she who hath done what she could" is entitled to no mean praise. Your husband is undoubtedly "the best of men," though there are some malicious people who might say that that is not saying much for him. Still he would never, to the end of time, dream what you were dying of; so accept my advice, and take the matter in hand yourself.—Fanny Fern.

The Rev. Dr. Ritchie, of Edinburg, though a very clever man, once met with his match. When examining a student as to the classes he had attended, he said: "And you attended the class for mathematics?" "Yes." "How many sides has a circle?" "Two," said the student. "What are they?" "What a laugh in the court the student's answer produced when he said: "An inside and an outside!" The doctor next inquired: "And you attended the moral philosophy class also?" "Yes." "Well, you would hear lectures on various subjects. Did you ever hear one on cause and effect?" "Yes." "Does an effect ever go before a cause?" "Yes." "Give me an instance." "A man wheeling a barrow." The doctor then sat down and proposed no more questions.

SCOLDING A CHURCH.—"It is simply ridiculous for any one to be yelling and stamping at a jaded, emaciated, wind-broken, spavined, knock-kneed and down-at-the-heel church, to urge it to activity in every good work."

So says the very figurative Presbyterian Banner. The best way to spur up churches, like horses, is to put the whip in the manger.—Christian Observer.

A countryman in Savannah, observing a gang of negroes laboring on the streets, each wearing a ball and chain, asked one why that ball was chained to his leg. "To keep people from stealing it. Heap of thieves about here."

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1876.

WHY HE TAKES THEM.

The flock stood by the rapid river
And would not cross,
Although the shepherd kind and tender
Called them to follow.
And fields of green, and verdant hills, sweet smiled
The further shore,
The danger all their fearful vision filled
Of crossing over.

He stretched his kindly arms and gently called them
They would not hear
The deep, broad river's rapid stream appalled them
Though pleasant stood
And mountain fair beyond the dark'ning river,
Rose to their view,
And in the distance, bright and fast'ning ever,
Were pastures new.

The shepherd took a lamb, and safely bore it
While in his arms
To where the pastures brightly gleamed before it,
And it was well.
Were hushed. The mother heard its voice of pleading,
And, crossing over,
The flock behind her followed in her leading,
Unto the shore.

O stricken hearts, all torn with grief and bleeding,
A Shepherd's voice
Ye would not hear, nor follow where he leadeth,
Of your own choice.
And so he takes your lambs into his keeping,
That eyes still dim
And dark with sorrow's clouds, and sad with weeping,
May look to him,
And see beyond the darkly rolling river
Those gone before,
And to the fields with verdure green forever,
Cross safely over.

Christian Observer.

Paul a Methodist.

MR. EDITOR: I sent you an article, a short time since, entitled "Paul not a Baptist Preacher." I now send one to prove that he was a Methodist preacher. I do not wish to be understood as asserting that the denomination called Methodist was in existence in his day, for at that time the church was not divided into sects or denominations. There were no Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians or even Campbellites then. The people of God were called by the general name of Christians, or disciples of Jesus. Since that time the followers of Christ have become divided in the interpretation of the doctrines, modes and government of the church, which has led to their division into different sects, which has been going on through various ages, even down to A. D. 1823, when the Campbellites, I believe the latest of the sects took their rise, assuming the imposing title of "THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH!" Each of these parties has its peculiar interpretation of the doctrines and teachings of the gospel; and when I claim Paul as a Methodist, I of course refer to his experimental and doctrinal views of the gospel of Christ. I assert, therefore:

1. That Paul was a Methodist because he believed in present, free and full salvation, by faith, for all men, without exception or limitation. He says: "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor, that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man."—Hebrews ii, 9. "And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them and rose again." Second Corinthians v, 15. "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." Second Corinthians vi, 2.

2. Because he believed in entire sanctification as attainable in this life. He says: "Therefore, leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection." Hebrews vi, 1. He prays for the Thessalonians: "And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly." And, to prove that it was to be accomplished in this life, he goes on to say: "I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." First Thessalonians v, 23. It is evident that an inspired apostle would never pray for that which was not according to the will of God. Again, he declares that Christian perfection was the object of the gospel, as follows: "And he gave some apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ; till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." Ephesians iv, 11-13.

3. Because he believed in the possibility of the final and total apostasy of justified believers. Not by any means the necessity, but the dangerous possibility, of apostasy. He admonishes the Hebrews to advancement in holiness by the consideration that if they should fall away, after certain attainments, it would be impossible to renew them again to repentance. Hebrews vi, 6. He says to the Corinthians: "But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection; lest that, by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway."—First Corinthians ix, 27. Again, he says: "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."—First Corinthians x, 12. Dr. Clarke says this should have been translated: "Let him who most confidently standeth." There is no propriety in warning one who only thinks he stands against falling; it would be mere trifling.

4. Paul was a Methodist because he believed in heartfelt religion—in a joyful sense of his personal acceptance with God—in a bright and blissful hope of heaven. He exhorts the Thessalonians: "Rejoice evermore, pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."—First Thessalonians v, 16-18. Again, he says to the Philippians: "Rejoice in the Lord always; and again I say, Rejoice."—Philippians iv, 4. To the Corinthians he says, in his enumeration of the triumphs of grace in him: "As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing."—Second Corinthians vi, 10. Here he asserts that even in the midst of the afflictions incident to this life there was a constant vein of religious comfort inspiring his soul. His religion made him happy.

5. Again, he was a Methodist because he baptized households without respect to age, and it is exceedingly improbable that in so many instances there should have been no children in the family. He baptized the household of Stephanus (First Corinthians i, 16); also the household of Lydia (Acts xvi, 15); and the Philippian jailer and all his family (Acts xvi, 33). He clearly teaches that "God constituted in his church originally the membership of infants, and this right was never taken away. Infants are still continued exactly in the same relation to God and his church in which they were under former dispensations." Nothing but the external forms and ceremonies have been changed. Christ has been the great propitiatory sacrifice for sin from the beginning, and all the sacrifices, ceremonies and offerings of the Old Testament were but types of his great atonement and he has always been the only meritorious ground of the sinner's pardon, from Adam to the last inhabitant of earth.

Finally, he was a Methodist because he believed in the necessity of good works. His faith was not a mere assent of the mind to the truth of the Christian religion, nor a mere conformity to outward forms and ceremonies; but an active, working principle, which led him to the performance of Christian duty, and active and zealous efforts for the temporal and eternal welfare of his fellow-creatures. He says to the Philippians: "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure."—Philippians ii, 12. From which we learn that, although we are entirely dependent upon God's grace for power to work, we are to do the work. It requires the same diligence and faithfulness to retain grace as to obtain it in the outset.

No inspired writer more fully insists on our entire dependence upon God's grace for power to perform the conditions and duties of religion; yet none urges the necessity of man's obedience to the precepts and ordinances of Christ more extensively. A large portion of his various epistles is composed of instructions with regard to the duties of believers. He was a working man, and insisted continually on the performance of good works, not as meritorious in themselves, but to honor God.

Paul was truly an itinerant Methodist—he was emphatically a traveling preacher. He speaks of conferences, of bishops, elders, presbyters and deacons, but never of associations, synods or baptisteries. Your correspondent would by no means be understood to deprive his brethren of other denominations of their claims to the Christian name and character, but desires to show that the Methodists have as clear a title as any others, if not clearer; and we hope we shall be so happy as to meet them all where all distinctions shall be done away forever.

PEDO-BAPTIST.

CLEVELAND, MISS., June 7, 1876.

Letter to a Lady

WHO HAD LAST HER DAUGHTER AT SCHOOL.

SELECTED.

DEAR MRS. ——: I am not permitted to come to see you, but I am thinking about you, and I often talk to our Father about you. Oh! the unimaginable compassions of the mighty heart of love!

"Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him."

Do you not find it sweet to believe that your covenant God enters into all your feelings now, and feels for you that deep, tender pity you felt for your suffering child? The dear Savior, so far from forbidding your tears, weeps with you, and bids your friends do the same; and this because he knows what sympathy is worth to the human heart.

The removal of one we tenderly love is, to our sensitive natures and limited vision, afflicting. You rejoice in her joy, but still you cannot help grieving that you shall see her sweet face no more. For a time she is lost to you; but then that is to her advantage. You cheerfully consented to her going away to school, because you felt that it would be for her good; and when you missed her in the family circle, and felt sad, and longed to see her, you cheered yourself by thinking that your loss was her gain. When you received letters from her from time to time, giving evidence that she was happy and improving, you were satisfied, and quite willing to wait till the time was out without seeing her.

Now the Lord Jesus Christ has taken her into his school. Oh! what a gain this is to her every way! How rapidly she is advancing now in all knowledge! What a continual enlargement of capacity! What purity, what happiness, what perfect sanctify!

Perhaps you will say: "If we could only hear from her occasionally as we used to do." Mount upon the wings of faith, and you shall hear from her every day. She writes you no letters now, but in that beautiful letter, which her God and our God has written, special mention is made of our departed ones. Yes, you can hear from her every day by this letter. I was looking into it this morning, and found that she was well and happy. Revelation vii, 15-17: "Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in the temple; and he that sitteth upon the throne shall dwell among them. They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and lead them to living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe all tears from their eyes."

"And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

She has glorious companions. Hebrews xii, 23: "The general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and God the judge of all, and the spirits of just men made perfect."

She has not shed a tear, or felt a pain, or seen a dark hour, and she was assured by the Lord of the place that she never should. Revelation xxi, 4; xxii, 5: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, nor any more pain; for the former things are passed away." "And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of sun; for the Lord giveth them light; and they shall reign forever and ever."

She was learning the new song which no man can learn save those who are redeemed from the earth: "Unto him who hath loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood." Revelation i, 5.

There was an attempt made to describe her happiness, but language broke down under it. The letter spoke of "rest," "fullness of joy," "an exceeding weight of glory," but altogether beyond our highest conception. First Corinthians ii, 9: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

Would you inquire whether, in a state so new, so strange, so dazzling, far away from those dear ones hitherto so essential to her happiness, she is every way and entirely contented? If you will look into the letter you will find an answer. Psalms xvii, 15: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness. I shall be satisfied when I awake in thy likeness."

Would you ask whether she still thinks of her parents, brothers and sisters with interest? Oh, yes! for poor Dives did as much. Does she watch your progress in the divine life? You will find an answer in Hebrews xii, 1: "Wherefore, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."

Perhaps you inquire whether, so changed as she is, and so far away, there will any longer be points of sympathy between you? Yes; for whenever you feel like singing, "Alleluia! for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth," then her heart and her song blend again with yours. Whenever you rejoice over a new convert you know she is rejoicing with you. Is it not a pleasant thought that one way reminds us of adding to the happiness of departed Christian friends—by laboring for the salvation of the sinner?

It is pleasant thus to dwell on the happiness of the departed; but there is another consideration, which, to the Christian, is most precious—the thought that it is the Lord who hath done this. It is "the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." "The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice." Oh, it is good to be in his hands, and to have those we love in his hands! I love to think of that glorious plan of his, rolling on, rolling on. What if it does roll over and crush some of our little plans?

May you, my dear ——, be sweetly sustained in this affliction, and be enabled to glorify God by your cheerful acquiescence. I hope you will indulge in these tender recollections which nourish grief and cripple faith. For months after my affliction I sought consolation rather than sanctification. I think it will be so with you. May you have so deep a delight, and peace, and repose in the presence, favor and love of God, as shall greatly abate your sensibility to pain. We shall soon get home.

Yours in the bonds of Christian love,

Moral Affinity.

"And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen, that he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place."—Acts i, 24, 25.

It is not my intention to enter into an exegesis of the passage of Scripture at the head of this article, nor to tell you or the readers of the ADVOCATE what my opinion is as to where he went. One thing, however, is certain: he went to that place that he had an affinity for. And this much may be said of every man, saint or sinner, all go to their own place, or the place they have the greatest affinity for; and it may be further added that every man chooses his own place, and by his acts creates within himself an affinity for that place; so that if there were no angelic hands to escort the ransomed souls to heaven, or devils to drag the wicked down to hell, that self-created affinity would secure to each a safe passage. Were it possible for a soul polluted with sin and having no affinity for heaven to enter that holy place, it would be no place of happiness or enjoyment to such a soul; for how could the impure, the unjust, the unsanctified in heart and life and temper, be happy in heaven? The holy associations of that place, the blaze of its eternal day and full-orbed glory would confound such an one. It would be to such like setting up a monument of ice under the noonday blaze of a tropical sun. Not one chord in the soul of such an one would beat in unison with the joyful symphonies of that "temple not made with hands."

It is a law of rational intelligence, fixed and incontrovertible, that intellectual beings can be happy only in kindred associations. Take a man of a fully depraved disposition and habits, one devoid of all holy aspirations, who has steeled his heart and conscience against every fear of judgment to come, and every emotion of love and gratitude to his heavenly Father, and who can glory in his own shame; take such an one from scenes, employments and associations in which he has sought his happiness, and place him in the company of the sanctified, where every word he hears will utter to him an awful reproach; let him hear nothing but the language of sanctification, the music of heavenly harping—could he, I ask, be happy there? Would not every word, every note that would fall upon his ear be as a scorpion sting, every sound hateful to his ears and heart, and would he not cry out in his misery for some strong arm to snatch him from his own condemnation, or some dark cloud, if possible, to hide him from himself?

Reader, have you an affinity for heaven? If not, do you desire to have such an affinity? Or, to change the figure, to have a magnetic attraction for heaven? If so, cultivate a growing acquaintance with Christ: take exercise, indoor and outdoor, in all the graces of the Spirit; become a co-worker with God, and thereby create in thy heart an affinity for heaven. Heaven will be inhabited by every man who, while living, has heaven in his soul. If Christ be formed in the man "the hope of glory," all the powers of earth and hell combined cannot keep such a soul out of heaven when once freed from its clay tenement. It is sometimes the case that the dying saint, before his soul is released from its prison-house of clay, is permitted to look almost into the inner courts of heaven, and to hear the mellow chimes of the celestial bells stealing softly upon his ear, saying: "Come, come up higher—come up to thy long-sought home, the city of God, and reap joy and gladness forever." At other times the saint of God, who has sown to the Spirit, and watered the seed with many tears, trembles as he approaches the dark valley of the shadow of death. With many and deep sighs and groanings, that could not be uttered, he has looked forward for a bright light to illuminate the dark valley, and sweet strains of music to whisper him away. But lo! they have not come. Still he has a sweet peace within, and, as one wearied in much serving, he closes his eyes in sleep, and dreams as he never dreamed before—of heaven, and of seeing and conversing with loved ones there, who are all clothed in robes made white in the blood of the Lamb; and hears music—anthems he never heard before, but in perfect unison with the well-tuned chords of his soul. At length he makes the attempt to unite in the sweet anthem, and in the attempt he wakens and looks back, and finds that he has passed through that dreaded valley, and what he thought was a dream is a joyful reality; and as he looks around upon that mansioned city he sees with astonishment that every tear he had shed was then a brilliant gem, and that his sighs were the inspiration of God, and that the fruit of his labor and heartfelt groanings was truly great.

W. SPILLMAN.

ENTERPRISE, MISS., May, 1876.

A Curious Letter.

Mr. Wesley wrote the following letter to Mr. S——, at Armah, in Ireland, April 21, 1769:

BE active, be diligent, avoid all laziness, sloth, indolence. Fly from every appearance of it, else you will never be more than half a Christian. Be cleanly. In this let the Methodists take pattern by Quakers. Avoid all nastiness, dirt, slovenliness, both in your person, clothes, house, and all about you. Do not stink above ground. This is a chief fruit of laziness; use all diligence to be clean; as one says:

"Let thy house's sweetness bear witness upon Each part of thy person, clothes and bedplace."

Whatever clothes you have let them be whole—no rents, no tatters, no rags. These are a scandal to either man or woman, being another fruit of vile laziness. Mend your clothes or I shall never expect you to mend our lives. Let none ever see a ragged Methodist. Use no tobacco unless prescribed by a physician. It is an unclean and unwholesome self-indulgence; and the more customary it is the more resolutely should you break off from every degree of that evil custom. I see no snuff unless prescribed by a physician. I suppose no other nation in Europe is in such vile bondage to this silly, nasty, dirty custom as the Irish are. Touch no dram. It is liquid fire. It is a sure though slow poison. It saps the very springs of life. In Ireland, above all countries in the world, I would sacredly abstain from this, because the evil is so general; and to this and snuff and smoky cabins I impute the blindness which is so common throughout that nation.—Wesley's Letters, page 91.

OBITUARIES.

ANOTHER one has joined the blessed dead. ELLEN VONSTEIN, daughter of Rev. A. B. and N. H. Stewart, and wife of Rev. A. B. Stewart, was born in Jasper county, Mo., November 17, 1845. Early in childhood she came with her parents to Yazoo county, Miss., where she joined the Methodist Church, at old Mount Olivet, in her fourteenth or fifteenth year.

She finished her education at Judsonia, under Bro. Mc. Underhill, Bro. Hargrove was married to the Rev. A. B. Stewart, of the Mississippi Conference, November 26, 1868, and on the 3d of February, 1869, near Mount Olivet church, where she first gave herself to God, her husband being the pastor in charge. After an illness of nearly five weeks, on the 19th of April, 1876, two months and nineteen days before the completion of her thirty-first year, she passed away. During her long-protracted illness she manifested the greatest Christian patience, and her early connection with the church she has proven herself one of Christ's most faithful followers. Having connected herself with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at the age of fifteen, she cheerfully submitted to every appointment to which her husband was sent, gladly entering into the good work of saving souls to Christ, and proving herself a helpmate indeed in her husband's labors as pastor and minister.

During the early part of her very severe illness I visited her. When I approached the bedside and extended my hand her face lit up with a pleasant smile, and when, in answer to her question, "Where did you expect to find me this morning?" I replied, "Not here," her face growing brighter with a still more heavenly radiance, she answered: "Yes, my body you would have found below, but my soul would have been in heaven, waiting there to greet you when you come." Thus she had lived, and thus she was able to rejoice in the hope of the glory of God. Her testimony to all during her great affliction was that of strong and undefying faith in her blessed Master. From her childhood up she has been looked upon as a model of piety, and remarkable for her strictness of adherence to the discipline of her beloved church. The associations of the home circle were of infinitely more pleasure to her than the frivolous scenes and sinful pleasures of the ball-room or places of doubtful propriety. Such places she never attended, deeming them unworthy the approval of a Christian man or woman. Yes, it has been my pleasure to hear her now aged and stricken father thank God that he had raised two daughters who had, during such times of youthful demoralization, faithfully withstood all such worldly allurements.

As a friend, sister, daughter, mother, wife and Christian her name will ever be held as sacred by those with whom she was associated while on earth. Only a few days before her death she wrote the obituary of her beloved brother, W. E. Hollaman, which appeared in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. Scarcely did she think then that the Master would so soon summons her to share in his pleasures. Sister Stewart leaves a father and mother, two sisters and a brother to mourn her loss, who, through her faith, which still speaketh, rejoice in hope of glory. She also leaves three children under five years of age, and a most heart-broken husband, for whom comes our special duty as brethren to in this sad bereavement.

Her cousin,

T. B. HOLL——

THE workmen die, but the M—— carries forward his work. Bro. C—— BREWSTER a faithful worker and a Christian of this (Sugar Loaf) circuit, Hempstead county, Arkansas Conference, M—— Episcopal Church South, ceased from labors on the eighteenth of February. Bro. Brewster was born in Florida on the seventh of November, 1817. The years of his life were spent in the M—— Church, forty of which he served the church officially as steward and class-leader. His house was emphatically the weary traveler's home, many of whom, not only in Arkansas but in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama while reading these sad lines, will recall kind hospitalities enjoyed under this brother's roof. Being blessed with that combination of gifts—the ability and will—he was pre-eminently qualified for the delicate and responsible position that the church conferred upon him, and his death has created a vacuum that the Quarterly Conference will find exceedingly difficult to fill. His sufferings, it was thought, were occasioned by a combination of diseases, which culminated in dropsy. The writer was with him in his last sickness, and found him resting implicitly upon the strong arm of the Savior. Blessed are those servants whom the Lord, when he cometh, shall find watching. May this afflictive dispensation of providence of God be sanctified to the church and disconsolate wife and children.

SIDNEY S. K——

SISTER SARAH ANN TATUM, daughter of Stephen and Mary Curry, was born in Orangeburg district, S. C., February 19, 1818, and died at Smith station, Lowndes county, Ala., March 19, 1876. She was married to Mr. A. K. Tatum, February 2, 1841. In this union, with her husband, she moved to Lowndes county, Miss., and from there to Marion county, Ala., in 1850, where they resided county about the year 1851.

We know but little of her early life, except that she joined the Methodist Church while young. On the ninth of September, 1866, she was converted while at camp-meeting. After she made profession of religion she gave abundant evidence of the change. She was a faithful member many years, being a regular attendant upon the means of grace when her health would permit. After the death of her husband she moved to the home of her son, Dr. W. A. Tatum, where she remained until her death. When I came to this place I was informed that she was sick, and soon passed to the house. She was very low, and remained in this condition for several days. Her husband and five children, with many friends, were in the room. All these, and her many friends in the church and community, were weeping as if there was no hope. But she was not weeping. She was rejoicing in the hope of a glorious immortality. She was perfectly resigned to the will of God, and where weeping is no more.

S. H.

JOSEPH D. FLOWERS was born May 21, 1812, and died January 19, 1876, at Rocky Springs, Claiborne county, Miss. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1857. For a great many years he was a consistent, and, for the most part, well-to-do citizen. During his long illness he was much afflicted in his mind, and for the most part during his long illness for the most part was confined to his bed. What, however, he did say from time to time proved a blessing above price to his family and friends. His pain and helplessness he found to be nothing when he had not in health and strength the peace of God which passeth all understanding.

"At peace with the world, with his family, with his Creator. What a blessed reflection at the mercy we are to receive everlasting to everlasting, passed away from earth, and assuredly walks the streets of gold, arrayed in garments of white, with the redeemed of the Son of God."

W. H. FERN——, Claiborne.

SISTER MARGARET E. MCINT—— (formerly Miss Perkins) was born October 1844; was married to John McIntire May 1863, and died April 19, 1876. Sister McIntire was a devoted wife, mother, friend and sister, and, best of all, was not forgetful of her duties as a Christian. She expressed herself as being ready and willing to go, and departed with the full assurance of finding a resting-place with God. After many friends manifested their high appreciation of her by laying aside their various home duties, and one of the most busy seasons of the year, to assist in depositing her remains in the grave. Nor was the only token of respect there were but few eyes looking upon the scene that did not shed tears to her memory.

LEWIS R. FEATHERSTON.

LITTLE GEORGE WHELAN was born April 28, 1873, and died December 1875. Little Thomas WHELAN was born April 28, 1871, and died February 7, 1876. These were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Whelan, of Rocky Springs, Miss. They were dear little boys. O how inviting to the parents is the prospect of meeting their angel children in the spirit land!

LEWIS R. FEATHERSTON.

God chooses that men should be tried, but let a man beware of tempting his neighbor. God knows how and how much, and when and when. Man is his brother's keeper and must keep him according to his knowledge.—George MacDonald.

Without the Spirit St. Peter trembled at the voice of a maid servant; with the Spirit he withstood kings and princes.—St. Jerome.

he Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1870.

TWILIGHT VOICES.

hat are the whispering voices
That awake at twilight fall?
o they come from the golden sunset,
With their haunting, haunting call?

hey tell me of bre zy spring-times,
And of dreamy summer eves, oil of snow-wreaths merrily shaken
From the shining ivy leaves.

ut the far-off treble changed
To a longer tone, and so, know that the voices tell me
Only of long ago.

hat are the tuneful voices
That of early dawn are born
o they come from the orient portals
Of the palace of the morn?

hey tell of a golden city,
With pearl and jasper bright, nd of shining forms that beckon
Out of the dazzling light.

Then a rush of far-off harpings
Blends with the visions clear, nd I know that the night is passing,
And I know that the day is near!

C. H., in Good Words.

Anecdote of Jefferson.

any amusing anecdotes are handown to us of Thomas Jefferson, of those who were politically opd to him. Here is one worthing. Mr. Jefferson was in the t of driving himself in a gig, n he made his visit to his compent, Monticello, at Charlottes, Va. He preferred this mode of elling to the stage coach, and of ways there were none than his n Washington and his rural resie. On one of his trips he saw a poorly clad, trudging along the side, and accosted him asking if he would like a ride. The boy pptly and frankly accepted the tation, and soon charmed his unwn friend by his ingenuous, boys conversation. After a time Mr. erson asked his companion if he ever heard of Tom Jefferson.

Oyes," was the quick response. y dad says he's the biggest rascal lived."

othing daunted by this unexpectandor, the President continued conversation; and when, in reply lusions purposely made to Tomson, the lad would exclaim that d said that he was a traitor to his try," he would say, in expostuon: "O perhaps you would not him such a bad fellow, after all." nding reached the point where his panion must leave him Mr. Jefon said, as the boy lightly leaped e ground:

You can tell your dad you had a with Tom Jefferson, and he is such a bad fellow."

Jogged if I do!" exclaimed the h. "Dat would give me the sticking Fever had if he knew I'd been riding with you."

ill amused at the youngster's stence, Mr. Jefferson said, in a lly tone:

Now, my little fellow, I want to come and see me at the White se in Washington; and you'll I am not as bad as your dad s me."

boy, with a bare acknowledg- of the friendly invitation, ran oward his home. He was, how r, sufficiently impressed to tell d that he was asked to go and the President at the White House. mean to go.

Nonsense!" sneered the parent; hen you go there he will ask you, o in the world you are."

No, he won't," persisted the lad, d I'm a going."

e was as good as his word. His supplies—a hoop-skirt suit and a ge of under-clothing, had just n completed; and one morning, ning the new suit, and a new t, and putting the remainder of personal effects up in a handkerf, he twisted a stick through his gage, put it over his shoulder, and ed briskly off to walk to Washton to see his friend. In due time brave youngster reached the capcity, and, inquiring the way to White House, soon found himat the entrance. To the servant appeared in response to his vigus blows on the panel of the door boldly demanded to see "Tom" erson.

He's at dinner, and has company," replied the attendant, not a e astonished at the audacity of travel-soiled boy with his bun-

That's nothing," promptly the ng adventurer answered; "he me to come here to see him, and come, and I ain't going off without seeing him."

here was no choice but to obey; he servant went to the dining- and told his master that a boy outside who said he must see the sident, as he had been told to e. Mr. Jefferson at once ordered intruder to be brought in; and shabby youth, with his bundle over his shoulder, found himself the midst of a "State" dinner ty. But nothing daunted by his uge position, when the President genuine astonishment exclaimed, Who under the sun are you?" the ngster ejaculated:

Now that's just what dad said 'd say if I came here. I'm arles Morgan, and you axed me to e when I was riding with you her day."

So I did," replied the President; recollection of the incident revivg; "and now you are here, sit n with us and take some dinner." nother plate was ordered to be ged on the table; and Charles rgan took a seat with undiminish- assurance among the fine ladies l gentlemen. Mr. Jefferson direct- the dusty bundle, to which the lad ng to the last, to be taken to a r bed-room, and announced his ention of keeping the owner reof as his guest.

fter a few days, during which the sident had greatly enjoyed the spoken frankness and fearless nae of the acquaintance picked up the wayside, he inquired of young rgan what he could do for him.

What would you like to be when are a man, my fine fellow?" he ed.

I want to be a colonel," was the wer, in which Charlie persisted reply to the question, wherever put to him, until one day a play-fellow was brought to him in the shape of a young midshipman. When, after enjoying the society of his new acquaintance for a short time, the President once more questioned him as to his wishes in regard to his future, he made up his mind with his customary decision that nothing but the navy would meet his desires.

To his great delight, Mr. Jefferson told him his wishes in this respect could be gratified. The sequel to the story is easily told. The boy entered the navy, and served his country nobly during the remainder of his life. And Commodore Morgan, I am told by those who knew him best, always preserved the utmost simplicity of character and the fearlessness which so attracted "Tom" Jefferson when he met the outspoken Charlie Morgan on the Virginia highway.—Gertrude Mortimer, in Ladies' Repository.

Jet.

"Jet," says All the Year Round, "a sort of semi-jewelry in its usual applications, is one of those many substances which have a kind of mysterious brotherhood with coal. The beautiful pearly white paraffine for candles comes from coal; so does the benzoline which we use in our handy little sponge lamps; so do the gorgeous magenta and aniline dyes and pigments; and so, some people think, does jet. In this last-named instance, if coal is to be mentioned at all, we should rather say that jet is a kind of coal, not that it is produced from coal. Be this as it may, jet, a shining black substance, is found in seams dissociated from all other black minerals; not in the coal regions, but in other districts of England, notably near Whitby, in Yorkshire." It occurs also in Spain, in Saxony, and in the amber district on the Prussian shores of the Baltic."

What is it? Scientific men call it a variety of coal, and it shows most of the distinguishing properties of coal. "But the Whitby folks can adduce many reasons for thinking that jet, in some of its forms at any rate, must have been at one time in a semi-liquid state, quite unlike coal derived from a lignitous origin. Mr. Simpson, curator of the Whitby Museum, states that that collection comprises among its specimens a large mass of bone which has had the exterior converted into or replaced by jet. This jet coating is about a quarter of an inch thick. The jetty matter appears to have entered into the pores of the bone, and there to have hardened; during this hardening or mineralizing process the bony matter has been gradually displaced and supplanted by jet, the original form of the bone being maintained. Another person for thinking that the jet, or some of it, must once have been in a gummy or semi-liquid state is that bits of vegetable and mineral substances are sometimes found imbedded in it, as flies, wings, and small fragments are in amber. Cavities and fissures in the adjacent rocky strata are also sometimes found filled with it, as if it had flowed into them originally. The stratum called 'jet rock,' in which the Whitby jet is mostly found, is a kind of shale, which, when distilled, yields ten gallons of oil per ton. That in a remote geological era there was an intimate relation between this oil and the jet is probable, though its exact nature cannot now be determined. The Yorkshire coast for many miles north and south of Whitby, is a storehouse of jet."

Cædmon, the Saxon poet, who is buried in Whitby Abbey, says of it:

> "Jet's admired a gemm, the kyndoins find:
> Like fir'mid flotta it resists as wee drons kynd,
> Its back and shining, smouth and ever bigh;
> Ys if draw up straws if rubbed till hot and brig."

The first allusion is to the electrical qualities of the substance.

Jet is made up thus: "Let us suppose that pieces of jet, varying much in size and shape, are brought to the workshop. The rough jet has a kind of exterior skin or crust, often marked by impressions and ammonites and other fossils, and presenting various tints of bluish brown. This skin is removed by means of a large chisel. At the sawing-bench the piece is then cut up with saws. This process requires much discrimination, seeing that the size and shape of the piece must determine the kind, size and number of ornaments obtained from it; the great object is to waste as little of the substance as possible. From the saw-bench the jet passes into the hands of the carvers and turners. The turning is effected by a careful use of small lathes. The carving is effected by grinding rather than cutting, grindstones of various kinds being used, and the jet applied to them in succession—first to grind away, then to polish. In this way most of the beads, necklaces, bracelets, crosses, brooches, lockets, chain links, etc., are made, as well as bas-reliefs, floral designs and monograms. A clever workman will get twenty per cent. more value out of the same piece of jet than a man of less skill and judgment, by adapting his design to the size and shape of the piece.

"Jet is usually found in such thin seams that nearly all the ornaments and articles made of it are flat and of small thickness; cementing is occasionally adopted, where two pieces are suitable for being joined face to face; but all attempts to work up fragments, cuttings, turnings and powder into a paste or homogeneous mass have hitherto failed. This can be done with amber, and with the meerschaum clay for pipe-bowls; but no mode has yet been devised for adopting the same course with jet."

There was a comical blunder in one of the original inscriptions of the marble monument which formerly stood at the eastern approach of the Market Street bridge, Philadelphia, and is still preserved on the grounds of the gas works. The inscription originally ran: "Elevated above all floods ever known." Soon after its erection some wag pencilled under these words: "Except Noah's." Whereupon the words "in this river" were very judiciously added.

The voices of the night—Those blessed babies.

Russian Priests.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Globe writes of the priests in Russia:

It is hard to say that a well-organized and tolerant religion like the orthodox one of Russia does more harm than good; yet such seems to be the case. In very few villages do you find the priests doing any practical good; on the contrary, you find everywhere traces of their doing positive harm to peasants whose spiritual welfare they are supposed to look after. In many villages we find them drunken and immoral. One was pointed out to us as being the hardest drinker in the district. At one church we entered we caught the priests gabbling through the Sunday morning service because they wished to make hay in the afternoon. At the Torjok Monastery, where we called on the priest directly after matins had been performed, we found him drinking gin with several friends, and he was quite vexed because we refused to stay and get drunk with him. Everywhere we found the Russo-Greek priests ready for a game at cards, a gossip or a drinking bout, but nowhere did we find them teaching the people, checking drunkenness or improving the minds of their flocks. In towns the "popes" were not much better. At Nijni a priest, seeing us enter his church, came up and showed us over the place. He smelled horribly of beer, and made fun at the very images he had been praying to a few minutes earlier. It was a very common sight in these Nijni and Moscow churches to see men working at one end of the church and service being performed at the other. The worst scenes we witnessed, however, during our trip to Orenburg were those we saw last Sunday at the Troitsa Monastery, near Moscow, one of the most sacred shrines in Russia. The day chanced to be the principal day of the year at the monastery, and the shrine of St. Sergius was visited by thousands of pilgrims. Outside the walls there was quite a fair; inside was not much better. Hordes of beggars clamored for coppers, and fought among themselves for them at the doors of the churches. Everywhere a brisk trade was being done in holy candles, so much so, that in one church the sound of money, as it was received in exchange for candles, was so great that it almost drowned the voice of the priest officiating. There was nothing to remind one that the day was a Sabbath. The gin shops round the monastery did as thriving a trade as the shrine itself, and in the evening we saw several priests reeling about the platform of the railway station. Everywhere we saw new churches being built, old ones being repaired, new dresses, new crosses; everywhere signs of gracefully and less grotesque excess in the embellishments of the services of the church; everywhere immense sums of money being received in petty from peasants; everywhere unmistakable signs of outward prosperity; but nowhere did we see the church elevating the morals of the peasants, or assisting them to rise from the slough of laziness, lying and petty roguery, in which long ages of serfdom have plunged them.

ALL FOR JESUS. From last month's number of Child's Millions we give the following interesting case, reported by Mr. Williamson, of Chinkiang:

Among the candidates for baptism there was a man who gained his livelihood by fortune-telling. He had previously been examined for baptism, and had made a good profession of faith in Christ; there was little doubt of his sincerity; but he was a fortune-teller, and as such could not be received into a Christian church. He was exhorted to seek some other mode of supporting himself, and did so, but without success.

Again the period for examination of candidates came round; and, more eager than before, he presented himself among seven others. Most reluctantly he was again refused, and urged to have faith in God, and follow Jesus at all cost. The poor man went away sorrowing. It was not felt wise to hold out any promise of help to him, but much prayer was offered to God that he would help him; and he did so by giving the needed strength and grace.

The morning for baptisms arrived, and the native church, with a congregation of unbelievers, was gathered together to witness the baptism of the three who had been accepted. The service was about to commence, when in came the fortune-teller, carrying a bundle wrapped in a piece of carpet. A bright and happy countenance told its own story, and said more emphatically than words could utter: "All for Jesus." He opened his parcel, and displayed the books, tablets and other articles used in his profession; they were his worldly all, but he proceeded to destroy them; and, taking them into the court-yard adjoining the chapel, set them on fire, to the delight of the Christians and to the astonishment of the heathen.

The circling smoke continued to ascend in the sight of all during the service; and, ere the smouldering fire had consumed the last vestige of them, he and the others were baptized in the name of that Savior who had lain down his life for them.—Illustrated Missionary News.

GOING TO THE HEATHEN.—A minister once announced to his astonished congregation that he was going on a mission to the heathen during the present week.

After service many of his people gathered around him, asking him why he had never told them before of his intention of leaving them.

"O, friends," he replied, "I am not going out of this town at all!"

It would not require a sea voyage for most of our ministers to preach to the heathen; for Boston and all our cities and manufacturing towns are full of those who know not God. Here is a missionary field, white for the harvest; for those of us who cannot go to foreign lands and the isles of the sea.

Religious Intelligence.

—A society of Mohammedans has been started in Constantinople for the purpose of propagating the religion of the prophet of Mecca, in Central Africa.

—The Methodists in New York are very strong. Many of the churches are costly and elegant. Pew rents are high, and choirs are paid from $3,000 to $5,000 a year.

—Lord Radstock has left England for St. Petersburg, where he will conduct a series of religious meetings similar to those which he held in that city about a year ago.

—The official statistics of England show that the number of Methodists, or Wesleyans, in the British army and navy is 6,828. Besides, there are 2,943 in the militia of Great Britain. The records show, that the best soldiers are the religious men.

—The Presbyterian, speaking of recent ingatherings in the Presbyterian churches of Philadelphia, says the largest accessions reported were: Bethesda 367, Tabernacle 73, Eastburn Mariners' 68, Westminster 60. Others ranged from 13 to 50. There were also considerable accessions by certificate—48 to Bethany.

—The London society has definitely resolved to undertake the mission to Lake Tanganyika. They have dispatched Rev. Roger Price, the son-in-law of Dr. Moffat, to Zanzibar to make preliminary inquiries on important points. In addition to the gift of $25,000, an equal sum is to be raised before the work is actually begun.

—It is asserted that Cardinal Manning will go to Rome in order to defend before the Sacred Congregations a scheme which has been submitted to him, and on which he has been engaged for two years, for the union of a portion of the English ritualistic clergy with the Roman Catholic Church. The Pope is believed to be in favor of the scheme, but the Sacred Congregations are opposed to it.

—Cairo is the most Mohammedan city in the world. It has the finest library of Moslem literature, and its printing-press has a reputation wherever the name of Mohammed is revered. There are upward of 500 mosques in the city. The chief of them is called Al-Azhar, the splendid and has 10,000 enrolled students, who are instructed in theology, law and mathematics. But although Cairo is externally more religious even than Mecca, the faith of the people in their system is dying out. The wave of the Wahabi revival does not seem to have reached Egypt. The mosques are poorly attended, and educated Mohammedans are skeptical.

CATHOLICISM IN THE UNITED STATES. According to the best and latest Roman Catholic authority, Sadlier's Roman Catholic Directory for 1870, the Catholic Church has in the United States 1 cardinal archbishop, 10 other archbishops, 50 bishops, 3,071 priests, 3,393 churches, chapels and stations where mass is regularly said and a Roman Catholic population of about 6,000,000 persons. This latter item, of course, includes in the estimate all the men, women and children of Catholic families, and is considered rather an overestimate at that. The Jesuits have, according to Appleton's Cyclopedia, the following colleges in the United States: Boston College, Boston; College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, Mass.; St. Francis Xavier's, New York; St. John's, Frederick, Md.; Loyola, Baltimore; Gonzaga, Georgetown, D. C.; Spring Hill, near Mobile, Ala.; St. Louis University, St. Louis, Mo.; College of the Immaculate Conception, New Orleans; St. Charles, Grand Coteau, La.; St. Joseph's, Bardstown, Ky.; St. Xavier's, Cincinnati; St. Ignatius, San Francisco; and Santa Clara, Cal. In Canada the Jesuits conduct St. Mary's College, Montreal, founded in 1848; and they have recently petitioned the Dominion Parliament for the restoration of the estates owned by the order before its suppression in France and her colonies. The number of degrees in the United States, and Canada in 1871 was 1,062.

—The Chronicle of the London society publishes the letter of one of its missionaries in China, who has recently paid a visit to Japan. In reviewing the progress of the mission work in various cities of the empire, the writer refers particularly to the "Union" churches, whose cause the Independent espoused editorially two years ago. One of these churches is at Yokohama, and has one hundred and fifty members. The other is at Tokio, and has also what for Japan is a very large membership. These churches enjoy the counsel and ministrations of foreign missionaries, but sustain and regulate their own work without any formal connection with the churches of England and America. Passing to the general phases of the mission, the writer compares them with the missionary enterprises in China. There is in China a far greater religious liberty, but in Japan a much livelier interest in the gospel. The converts in the latter country belong to higher classes of society, a circumstance which is partly due to the fact that the Western civilization, which the upper classes in Japan so greatly admire, is connected with Christianity and its literature. The writer does not think that the interests of the gospel will suffer from Japanese fickleness, as this people have shown a great tenacity of religious conviction in cleaving to a foreign Confucianism and Buddhism for a thousand years. Many of them once showed an intense enthusiasm for Roman Catholicism, which even ages of bitter persecution have not been able entirely to quench; and those who now accept Protestantism show the same active and aggressive spirit, though under higher and purer forms. It cannot, however, be concealed that the government has simply suspended, and not given up its hostility to Christianity. The decrees against it are at present a dead letter; but whether this will remain the case depends upon the growth of Christianity and of Western influences in general.—Independent.

Our Young People.

WHAT'S A BOY LIKE?

BY GEORGE COOPER.

Like a wasp, like a sprite,
Like a goose, like my cat,
Like a top, like a kite,
Like an owl, like a wheel,
Like the wind, like a staff,
Like a knife, like a crow,
Like a thorn, like a nail,
Like a hawk, like a doe,

Like the sea, like a weasel,
Like a witch, like the sun,
Like a cloud, like a veil,
Like a book, like a gun,
Like a smile, like a tree,
Like a lamb, like the moon,
Like a bird, like a bee,
Like a horse, like a tune!

Like a colt, like a whip,
Like a mouse, like a mill,
Like a bell, like a ship,
Like a jay, like a rill,
Like a shower, like a rest,
Like a rug, like a toy,
Like a lad, like a lad,
Most of all, like a boy.

Keep Still.

Some big folks forget that they once were little, and want children to act just like men and women.

Little Robbie was sent into the country to his aunt once when his dear mamma was ill. Everybody was careful to see his clothes, and his stout boots, and his warm stockings put into the big bag his papa was to take for him. But no one thought of Dick, his headless rocking-horse, of his drummer boy, or his dog and trumpet, and they were far more to Robbie than all his clothes or shoes were.

This aunt's house was very neat. You could not find a speck of dirt in it; nor a bit of paper, nor a chicken's feather on the lawn. No flowers were allowed in these except those which Aunt Phebe put up still and straight in her parlor vases.

The dear little boy hunted round for a big stick to ride, in place of Dick, and, having found one, galloped joyfully into the sitting-room to show his aunt what a horseman he was.

"O Rob!" she cried out, "carry that old stick into the shed, and do keep still."

"That isn't a old stick," said Rob in surprise. "That's a hoss, auntie!"

"I don't wonder your mother's sick," said auntie, "if you are so noisy all the time at home. You must keep still here, Rob, or you'll make me crazy."

So the good child put away Dick, and got the big dinner bell, and went up-stairs and down, and out on the piazza, which he called the deck, calling on the passengers to pay their fare.

"Now, Rob, you will craze me," said his aunt. "Give me the bell, and sit down on the lowest step of the piazza and keep still."

So Rob folded his dear little hands on his lap; he fixed his eyes on the jumping-stone before the door, and drew a long sigh. After a little he said: "O auntie, dear, I do pity stones so."

"Pity stones? What for, Robbie?"

"'Cause they have to keep so still all their lives. I'm so glad I ain't a stone!"

"There's no danger of your turning into a stone, Rob; you don't keep still long enough."

"Oh dear, how stones must ache, keepin' still always. I ache now, just in this little speck of a time. I'm glad I ain't a fence, nor a tree, nor a rag baby that can't move till somebody pulls you! O auntie, my head aches, and my hands and feet are cold, and my eyes are crooked, keepin' still such a long time!"

"Your mouth is all right, little boy," said the lady. "That hasn't kept still at all."

Then grandma came in, and asked what was the matter, and Rob said: "I'm all hard. I've been sittin' such an awful long time."

"One minute," said Aunt Phebe.

"O auntie, it's an hour, a awful long hour, and I'm all asleep but my head! Can't I get up, say?"

"Yes," said grandma. "You may come up in my room and make a train of cars with the chairs."

"Won't you be crazy, grandma?"

"No, my dear, noise does not trouble me much. But it is a good plan for little boys to learn to be still, so that they will not trouble those who are not well. To-morrow morning I wish you would fold your hands and sit still one minute, and again in the afternoon. We will call that your 'lesson in silence.' By and by you can sit still two, three and five minutes, to please those who do not like a noise."

"Yes, grandma, dear, I will; but I hope mamma will soon be well, I'm so tired of keeping still," said the dear little boy.

The Greatest Toothache Ever Known.

If any of you should have a toothache, my poor children, and it's very likely that you will, just look into the brook, or any other mirror, with your tear-dimmed eyes, and notice how small is the little white tormentor that is causing so much pain. Then, by way of comfort, I want you to reflect how much worse it would be if this tiny white thing were an elephant's great tusk with toothache all through it.

Perhaps you will say, that elephants can't have toothache. Then listen to the sad story of Chunee, the elephant of Exeter Change.

At Exeter Change, in the great city of London, there was, many years ago, a menagerie in the second story of a building. Here the elephant, Chunee by name—a very quiet, well-trained beast was confined in a cage, under which the floor had been strengthened to support his weight. Chunee never came out, but seemed very happy, for all that. Suddenly he became raving mad, and screamed and trumpeted, and endeavored vigorously to tear away the iron bars of his cage.

Now if he had succeeded in getting out upon the floor Mr. Chunee would have immediately dropped through into an apothecary shop below. If he had fallen into the scales his exact weight might have been ascertained, after a fashion; but, in other respects, a mad elephant in a drug store would have been far worse than a bull in a China shop. If he had been sane he might have had a nice time eating the liquorice and congli lozenges and sugar-coated pills and candy; but, as he wasn't sane, the accident was not to be desired.

Well Chunee grew more and more wild and dangerous, until, at last, the "beef-eaters," who are the keepers of the Tower of London, were called upon to destroy the poor beast. They discharged many balls from their old-fashioned muskets into his body; but loss of blood seemed to increase his fury and not lessen his strength. There were no rifle teams in those days to reach his brain with a single shot, so a piece of artillery was actually brought up, and poor Chunee, obeying his keeper's voice, even in his rage, kneeled down, and was shot to death with a cannon ball.

Then the surgeons discovered that the elephant had been suffering from the greatest toothache ever known. His tusk, preserved in the warehouse of the East India Company, shows this.

Now just think of what an awful thing six feet of toothache must have been, and pity poor Chunee!—St. Nicholas.

How to Make Sunshine.

"Sunshine! Why, we have plenty of that every day," says a dear little friend at my side.

Yes, we certainly have plenty of it outside of us, and it is the most beautiful thing in the world, because it makes everything pleasant that it looks upon. Do the young people who read this paper ever think how beautiful and how useful the sunlight is?—how it wraps the world in its bright mantle till the earth's old heart grows warm and young again, and the grass and flowers spring forth? how it wanders all over the world, into every nook and corner, with its cheering smile?—how it glances in the trees, and plays through the thick branches, till the little birds twitter and warble with delight in their leafy nests?

But it is another kind of sunshine I mean we are to make. Your own heart is the sun, and your home is the little world which you are to fill with happiness.

Do you suppose the sun ever sees anything dark with that great, bright eye of his? Why, no; for the moment he looks at anything it grows bright, and nothing can be dark where he is looking. Just so, if you always carry a heart full of sunshine with you, everything will seem beautiful and bright. But if your own heart gets clouded with impatience or discontent you will find the pleasantest place on earth very gloomy and disagreeable.

How different would our life be if we were only determined, in spite of discouragements, to be cheerful and happy ourselves, and to add, by every possible means, to the welfare and the happiness of those around us!

But can every one be happy who wishes it? Surely every one desires happiness; then why do so many fail in the attempt to gain it?

Because they do not try in the right way. Our only way to be happy is the one in which God is happy, and that is by being good and doing good. Those who earnestly try this never fail of success.

"But can every one be good?" says my little friend, thoughtfully, and with downcast eyes.

Yes, dear, every one can be good by the help of God, who willingly gives the help of his Spirit to all who sincerely ask for it.—Early Days.

HOW A CRICKET SAVED A SHIP. In Southey's "History of Brazil" he tells how Cabeza de Vaca was in a great ship going to South America with four hundred men and thirty horses; and after they had crossed the equator the commander discovered that there were only three casks of water left. He gave orders to make the nearest land, and for three days they sailed for the coast. A poor, sick soldier, who had left Cadiz with them, brought a grillo, or ground cricket, with him, thinking its cheerful voice would amuse him on the long, dreary voyage. But, to his great disappointment, the little insect was perfectly silent the whole way.

The fourth morning after the ship had changed her course the cricket, who knew what she was about, set up her shrillest note. The soldier at once gave warning to the officers in charge of the vessel, and they soon saw high, jagged rocks just ahead of them. The watch had been careless, and the great ship, in a few moments, would have been dashed to pieces on the ledges if this puny creature had not scented the land and told them of their danger. Then they cruised along for some days, and the cricket sang for them every night, just as cheerily as if she had been in far-off Spain, till they got to their destined port, the Island of Catalina.

THE FOX AND THE GOAT.—A fox went to a well to quench his thirst; all at once he fell in, and he did not know how to get out. By-and-by a goat came to the same well to drink. He saw the fox, and said to him: "Is it nice to be down there to drink?"

"Nice!" said the fox. "I should think it is. Just come down and try it. You need not take my word for it." Down went the goat, and then the sly fox got on the horns of the goat, and so got out of the well, while the poor goat was left to get out of it in the best way he could, or to die in it.

Fools are too apt to trust to the fair words of rogues.

If we stop the first lie we stop all the rest; if we do not use the first profane word we shall never use the second. If we are not disobedient the first time, we shall never be disobedient. It is doing the first sin that does all the mischief.—Children's Friend.

The man who volunteers to pay borrowed money acts as a surprise party.

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to Rev. LINUS PARKER 112, Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.
REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers, hereafter at the following rates, including postage

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

The Moral Conditions of Faith.

Faith is the condition of pardon and of all spiritual blessings. It is done unto us according to our faith. As we believe so we are. Justification is by faith without the works of the law. God is the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus. But faith has its conditions—conditions which may be practically summed up as perfect and thorough honesty and sincerity of purpose. It is only in a penitent state of mind that the sinner can believe to the saving of his soul.

Nathaniel's faith was that of a guileless man—a man simply bent upon knowing the truth and doing his duty. He so far put aside prejudice as to come and see for himself, and with the determination to follow his convictions of right whithersoever these might lead. It was easy for him to take Christ for his Savior, and to make the confession: "Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel." Nathaniel was honest with himself, and hence upon comparatively slight but sufficient evidence he yielded at once. The trouble with skeptics of nearly every class is that they are not thoroughly honest with themselves. They come to the Bible with a purpose not to believe, or they lack the disposition and willingness to do the will of God. Christ uttered a great and searching truth when he declared to the caviling Jews: "If any man will do his will he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself." An honest purpose, a sincere willingness to obey God, is the open door to the knowledge of the doctrine of salvation. He shall know of the doctrine, he shall certainly attain to a saving experience. The moral conditions of faith are in him, and his justification is near. Faith this spirit of submission and obedience to the will of God is reached the knowledge of the doctrine is impossible, and faith cannot be exercised. There may be severe struggles of soul, and conflict with doubt, but the main tenderance is overcome when there is a willingness to do the will of God.

The same important truth is contained in the declaration: "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness." It is, of course, not a regenerated heart, but a heart imbued with the purpose to do the will of God, and deeply penitent. In order to the exercise of faith the heart must be truly contrite, sin must be renounced, and there must be an absolute surrender to the divine authority. The inward battle of faith is fought at the outpost, or rather in the citadel of the heart. When rightly disposed in heart, belief is not the difficult thing that we sometimes imagine. The hard thing is to be perfectly honest with ourselves, and get clear of self-will and rebellion against God. No man can believe unto righteousness until in his heart he has given up sin in every form; and until the doing of God's will becomes the absorbing desire. Men are readily deceived about themselves, fancying that they are honest and sincere when they are not. "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked. Who can know it?" Is the seeker after faith sure that he is actuated by the single purpose to do the will of God? Does he come with the contrite spirit, and are there no reservations in his heart? It is written: "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." It may happen, under the blinding influences of sin, that men may be conscious, sincere at the same time that the truth is not in them.

We are often at a loss how to explain the difficulties of apparently truth-loving people. But, if Christ's words be true, the sincere purpose is wanting, and the real obstacles to faith are altogether moral. It is not in the evidences, not in the lack of light, not in the intellect, but in the heart. The carnal mind is enmity against God, and such is the deceitfulness of the heart that skeptics and all unbelievers may mistake the cause of their infidelity. It may be the pride of science as in Huxley, the pride of philosophy as in Strauss, or a flippant sentimentalism as in Renan. At bottom the moral conditions are lacking. The heart to believe is not in those who complain of the difficulties of faith. Honest doubt will soon give way where there is an honest heart. Where the heart is rightly disposed the belief unto righteousness becomes easy.

It becomes the inquirer to look carefully into himself, and to see that the moral conditions of faith are present. It must be so, since Jesus says it: "If any man will do my will he shall know of the doctrine." Paul meant something when he said: "With the heart man believeth unto righteousness." It was the guileless Israelite who believed so easily and so wonderfully. If we cannot believe there must be something wrong in ourselves, and Scripture locates the wrong just where it must be—in our indisposition to do God's will, in the state of our hearts, in the absence of that deep and thorough honesty of soul that leads to confession of sin, and the forsaking of it. God works in us to will and to do of his good pleasure. He helps us just where help is most needed, he touches the will—the mainspring of our spiritual being—and adjusts and rectifies the moral nature, and secures the conditions in which faith is possible.

Unbelief is represented as "an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the living God." It sounds like undue severity thus to characterize the doubt which we have regarded as something honest and sincere. It may be well, however, to endure the probe, and suffer the word of God, as a sharp knife, to open the diseased part. And why should we not, in wrestling with the evil that is in us, be willing to know all, and pray for honesty, for the spirit of obedience, and for that state of heart that shall make faith possible and bring us to the knowledge of the doctrine of Christ? We are justified by faith, but it is with the heart that man believeth unto righteousness.

Fire Crackers.

"As a nation we ought to feel grateful to the celestials who have conferred the boon of fire crackers upon us." To the boys, who are growing up, and upon whom the Chinese question will come for its settlement; we can address no stronger argument. Our nation's natal day would have fallen into neglect but for an invention which keeps up the smell of gunpowder, and makes a larger amount of smoke and noise for the money than anything we know of.

The fire cracker is the educator of our youth in patriotism; its influence is precisely where it is most needed—in the hearts of the young—stirring the young blood with the memories of battles fought for freedom, and quickening the seeds of liberty in those who are to be the statesmen, politicians and voters of the coming generation. Orations, biggins, bunting, and the tedious reading of that prolix and antiquated document, yclept "The Declaration of Independence," are of small interest in comparison. To the average boy a bunch of fire crackers is more than all the other exuberant demonstrations of "the day we celebrate." Sometimes mischief is done in the use of them. Faces are burned, eyes put out, horses are frightened and bones broken, and occasionally, a city is nearly burned up, as in the case of Portland several years ago. But these are small sacrifices if the spirit of '76 can only be kept alive, and the liberty tree be kept green and flourishing for another hundred years.

Especially in this centennial year, and on this Fourth of July of all others, joy should be unconfined, and the flowery kingdom should be exhausted of its utmost resources in order that there may be no lack of enthusiasm, and no stint in the expression of devotion. We believe that a resolution or petition was recently introduced into Congress looking to the abatement of fire crackers, but such an infringement of the rights of States and persons is not likely to be countenanced by a body of experienced and patriotic legislators. The authorities of our cities also have taken the subject in hand, but their ordinances are so flatly against the American grain that not much attention is paid to them. Liberty or death is the watchword of the boys of to-day, as it was of the men a century ago. The conflict is practically irrepressible, and it is not hard to tell how it will end.

We must have fire crackers, or imperil the perpetuity of republican institutions. If this is a nation, one and indivisible, and not a mere confederacy of independent States, we must by all means cherish the sentiment that breathed in the fathers. The traditions of their heroism, sacrifices and courage have come down to us, associated with the racket and smell of the oriental invention, and it is easy to see how our liberties might be lost by reckless interference with the time-honored observance. If we allow nothing for "indirect damages," we know of nothing so cheap as the cracker patriotism, and it is certainly as sincere and substantial as the most that is exhibited in other forms of national glorification. And where do we find so much genuine pleasure for the youthful mind as is here embodied and compacted into a little cylinder of pasteboard and dirt, crammed with a grain or two of powder, and set off with a cotton string?

Exposing Spirits.

Seldom was a good-natured audience more thoroughly entertained than the crowd that gathered at Chickering Hall on Friday evening, to witness the marvelous feats of young Mr. Bishop. From allusions in the introductory addresses we inferred that some proportion of the throng were Spiritualists, and before the entertainment closed there were frequent and amusing indications of their presence and pertinacity. Young Bishop, after the musical and oratorical preliminaries, was seated upon a camp stool. His arms, tightly tied together at the wrists, were pinioned behind his back to an iron ring inserted in a post. By a tight band around his neck, his head was fastened to the upper part of the post. His legs were tightly tied together at the ankles, and the rope was held by a person in the audience, so that any movement of the feet would be manifest. Coins were placed upon his toes. All these fastenings were made by several well-known gentlemen, who were constrained to give themselves to this warm work by invitations from the platform, seconded by hearty applause from an audience that knew them well. Around this thoroughly bound and helpless youth was a three sided screen, open at the front. In his lap were placed some bells and a tambourine, a white sheet only a few feet square was drawn across the front, and the spiritual cabinet was ready. As the piano began to play, there began behind the sliget the most demonstrative accompaniment of bell ringing tambourine pounding and jingling, continuing with the bells flying up into the air and the explosion of firearms. At the instant the tambourine careered over the screen, there was a cry of "Light!" the sheet fell, and there in the full blaze of a calcium light, shining from the gallery, sat the young man tied, tethered motionless. This sudden revelation of the youth tied like a St. Sebastian, at the very moment in which he seemed to be engaged in the most obstreperous performances, added greatly to the incredibility of the feats. But the audience made quite as much noise with their uproarious laughter as with their well-merited and prolonged applause. While they were astonished at the inexplicability of the phenomena, they were utterly confused at the absurdity of such miracles when claimed to be the work of disembodied spirits. For more than an hour the seance continued. Upon a chair behind the sheet was placed a board with a nail and hammer. In a moment there is heard a vigorous hammering, the sheet falls, and the nail is found driven through and through the board. His hands are frequently examined, and all the gentlemen assure the audience that his wrists are securely fastened to the ring and post, as at the outset. Upon his knees is placed a goblet of colored liquid, and after but a moment of concealment the sheet is dropped, and behold the inverted glass between his teeth, almost emptied, and as it is drained the assistant takes it from his mouth, amid the shouts of the spectators. His head is flat against the post, and not a drop stains the immaculate shirt bosom. But when one such feat can be performed, of course the number may be multiplied indefinitely. What would account for one would account for all. After one of the most astounding, a voice exclaimed in tones so profound as to leave no doubt as to its sincerity: "I contend that this is the agency of spirits." After another, some spectator became very persistent in his queries as to whether the young man could not slip his arms through the bands, and whether he could not do this or that. In answer it was said that before the evening was over all such curiosity would be abundantly gratified, and meanwhile the examiners assured the audience that the victim was actually bound just as closely and firmly as it appeared.

But the crowning test, after the most approved mediumistic method, was yet to be applied. Within the screen one of the medical gentlemen took his seat. When his eyes were bandaged, he placed his foot upon the feet, his hand upon the knees, his other hand upon the forehead of the wonder-worker. In the lap of the latter was placed a fife and a guitar. At the instant the sheet is lifted both Pandemonium and the Guynacutus seem to be let loose—the fife screams, the guitar twangs and bangs as though it would demolish the flesh and blast the spirit. As the sheet falls, and the medical man is seen holding on to his motionless companion, the effect is so utterly ludicrous that laughter long and hearty follows. Fun is said to be much a matter of contrast, and it would be difficult to devise a more striking contrast than this between the cantankerous guitar, the furious fife, and the immobility of these figures within the shrine of discord. Two gentlemen in succession, who applied this test, assured the audience that they could not detect any motion in the person that they held so firmly.

According to promise, although much exhausted by long continued exertion in a position itself extremely trying, Mr. Bishop repeated some of his feats in full view of all. Upon his lap was placed the empty pail which he had again and again inverted upon his head within two seconds' time. With no sheet to intercept the view, the pail seems to be endowed with life, it sinks downward and backward with a movement of the performer's abdomen, it topples toward his face, it is caught or flopped upward either by his teeth or his lap, and falls over his head. It takes but a moment, and the movement is so rapid and peculiar that the explanation is almost as marvelous as the previous mystery. Equally dexterous was the gyration of his body by which he brought the chair, board and hammer within reach of his tightly-tethered hands, and in this most constrained and unnatural position actually drove the nail with the force and precision of a good mechanic. One such revelation was just as satisfactory as a hundred. It was evident that this youth had such suppleness, muscularity and peculiar conformation that he was able to triumph over what would be insuperable physical disabilities in another. Not one of the imagined solutions had proved correct. He had no confederate, he had not slipped his arms through the bandage, he had not pulled the ring out of the post and worked with liberated arms. As far as could be seen, it was mainly a matter of so disposing of his lithe and limber body that he could bring his lap and its contents within reach of his anchored hands. He had solved the problem of utilizing what has hitherto been considered only an objectionable peculiarity, for when he had no right hand, and no left hand it was evident that he could do wonders with that which was behind.

But all this did not satisfy a venerable gentleman, who rose from his seat as the audience retired, and, with much clearness and deliberation, began an address in defense of the claims of Spiritualism. There were some hisses, and remonstrances in the form of such cries as "Hire a hall." But the defender of Katie King continued with the greatest calmness and dignity, until a thundering blast from the great organ extinguished his light just as effectually as though a stream of Croton had been played upon him by the district fire department.

Such are the lying wonders of the baldest imposture that ever yet found followers among the class that can read. Skeptics regard Christian believers as very credulous. But it was a leading literary monthly of Boston that was compelled to accompany its published issue with an explanatory note, declaring that it was not responsible for the convictions of Robert Dale Owen. Such charming simplicity, such unsuspicious faith, in this century of progress, is to be found only among the accomplished conductors of literary magazines who have but little regard for the sturdy faith once delivered to the saints. We do not think there is a religious journal in America so credulous as to celebrate the disgusting knavery of Spiritualism. — New York Observer.

E Pluribus Unum.

MR. EDITOR: The following letter, received from one of the preachers in this district, reads like a chapter in Dr. Redford's "Western Cavaliers:"

JESUP, 1876.

Dear Brother: Your unavoidable absence was quite a disappointment to all present on last Sabbath. Unfortunately on Thursday I took a very severe chill and fever, which was followed up on Friday and Saturday. On Saturday morning I started with Bro. McB to church, propped up with quinine. On the way we met Bro. F in a "dug-out." Soon after our arrival I took sick again, suffering most excruciating pain in the head. We were about starting home at half past twelve, when C's "dug-out" arrived with Bro. D and son and Bro. G and son. The roll was called, etc., when we adjourned subject to call. I could not even stand up, and was taken home on my back in the bottom of the boat. The water was deep enough in front of the church to get our boats to the steps. Much medicine, taken on Saturday night, enabled me to feel better on Sabbath morning, and as my soul had been longing, yea, even fainting, to visit the courts of the Lord, I went, in the face of being called "self-willed." There were present twenty-five persons, not including a few children and several "colored breddren." I preached as well as I could, but of course it was in much weakness. I have received during the past quarter $2 in actual cash. I came back with Bro. F. on Monday in his "dug-out;" took possession of the craft and came here to-day. After next Sabbath I intend to float down with it to F. chapel.

Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain your brother in Christ,

Paul says to the church at Corinth: "And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation." If the afflictions of the ministry are the measures of the spiritual prosperity of the church, then what a volume of "consolation and salvation" is coming upon the church during this summer and autumn. "Two dollars in actual cash this quarter!" Shades of Post-Oak! What a cheap gospel! P. E.

M. E. Church in Mexico.

Speaking of their work in Mexico, the New York Christian Advocate says:

Rev. William Butler, D. D., superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal mission work in Mexico, arrived a few days since from the Mexican capital. He expresses the opinion that the revolution under Diaz has no promise of success. Even if it should succeed, such success would not result in any serious peril to our work, as both parties in the strife are friendly to the Protestant cause.

Dr. Butler comes on a four months' furlough. His purpose is to secure, if possible, funds for enlarging and perfecting the publishing department of our mission work in that country. Our church has already in the city of Mexico a printing office, and a considerable requisite outfit, gotten up under the supervision of Dr. Butler. It is doing a good service in sending out in the vernacular of the people tracts, catechisms, the sermons of Mr. Wesley, and our Ritual. The plan of Dr. Butler is to enlarge the work of our press there, to extend the catalogue of its publications, and to issue at an early date an illustrated evangelical weekly paper of good style, and thoroughly adapted to the wants of the better classes of the people. The number of Spanish-speaking people on the globe is estimated at from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000. Any movement, therefore, which will provide for an increased supply of wholesome and fresh evangelical literature is invested with an importance vastly beyond that arising from its relation to the single community or country in which its headquarters should be located.

"If the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South, both of which have important and rapidly growing interests in Mexico, could unite in supporting the publication movement contemplated, and if, in addition to them, our Wesleyan brethren in England, who also have considerable missionary work among the Spanish-speaking peoples, would aid in the movement, it would certainly promise results of incalculable value not only to Methodism in particular, but also to the cause of Protestant evangelization in general. United action is the demand of the hour. We are not yet fully informed of Dr. Butler's plans in detail, as we have not yet had the opportunity of personal conference with him on the subject; but, so far as has been communicated to us by information indirectly given, we most heartily approve them. But more concerning them hereafter."

Meeting of the Joint Commission.

The commissioners appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church, and those appointed by the Methodist Episcopal Church South, "to adjust all existing difficulties," "in order to remove all obstacles to formal fraternity" between said churches, will convene in joint session at Cape May, N. J., on August 16, 1876.

Previous to such meeting any parties who desire to submit to the joint commission any conflicting claims relating to church property should prepare accurate statements of the facts, and of the questions involved, including such evidence as either party may wish to submit, and forward the same to Rev M D'C Crawford D. D., 322 West Fifty-Second street, New York city, or to Rev E H. Myers, D. D., 58 Barnard street, Savannah, Ga.

M. D'C. CRAWFORD,
Chair'n Com. M. E. Church.
E. H. MYERS,
Chair'n Com. M. E. Church South.

ENCOURAGE YOUR MINISTER.—This is from the Christian at Work:

Under the delusion that a cheering word may spoil the pastor, there are many parishioners who, however well they may be profited, never utter any encouragement. The fact is that there are so many disheartenments in a clergyman's life that he can stand expressions of approbation better than almost any one else. There are so many heavy weights put in on the wrong side of the scales that it needs a good many pounds of approval to make the even balance. When, therefore, your pastor preaches a sermon that comforts your sorrow, or makes new revelation of your duty, or kindles a more blissful anticipation of realms ahead, rush out and stop his gig and tell him so. Soft, meaningless adulations sicken a minister, but positive statement of good done is to a preacher and pastor inspiration. Here and there a minister may be so well pleased with his own sermons that his self-conceit and vanity applaud him so loudly any other praise would be supererogation. But the most of clergymen whom we have known feel, after preaching, a depression of soul. They think they have come short of the theme or the occasion. This is a nervous reaction, during which a pastor needs confidence. Speaking out of our own experience, from nine-tenths of our public services we feel a desire to walk up some unfrequented street, so that we may see no one in what we feel to be the hour of our disgrace. Generally the saddest moments of our life are between ten and twelve o'clock of Sabbath night, after the day's engagements are over. Once in about six weeks we feel delighted with our own sermon, in which case we always find afterward that the service was nearly fruitless, souls neither saved nor comforted.

Chappell Hill Female College and Soule University were to have their commencement exercises June 23-28. We are glad to notice that the past scholastic year has been marked by wonderful success.

Books and Periodicals.

HOW TO WRITE LETTERS. By Willis Westlake, A. M. Philadelphia: Porter & Coates, 1876.

This is an elegantly bound volume, and filled with useful information. Young people especially will do well to read and keep them. It is a manual of correspondence showing the correct structure, composition, punctuation, forms, varieties and uses of the various kinds of letters, notes and cards. For sale by George Ellis, New Orleans.

LITERATURE FOR LITTLE FOLKS. By Elizabeth Lloyd. Philadelphia: Porter & Coates, 1876.

A 12mo of 143 pages, illustrated, containing selections from standard authors, and easy lessons in composition. A good book for beginners, and not without interest to older people, on account of the classic literature of their childhood, which the volume contains. For sale by George Ellis, New Orleans.

WAS IT AN INHERITANCE? OR NOT. By NIE GRANT. A narrative. By Mrs. H. V. Goff. Philadelphia: Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, 1876.

A temperance story, and a long one—352 pages, 12mo, handsomely bound. Price, $1.50. For sale by Eyrich, New Orleans.

—Scribner's Monthly for July is handsomely illustrated. Among the most entertaining articles we note The Story of the Signing, A Centennial Lady, Reminiscences of Audubon, Harvard University, Centennial Bells, The Stuart Portraits of Washington, The River Mississippi and its Old Roman Poet.

—The Aldine, part 12, contains the following illustrations: Shoshone Wild Swans, Cephalus and Procris, Mount Hayden and Mount Moran, The Falls of Snake River, Kenmarvan, So Beautiful! Exhibition English Design in Silverware, The Great Castle of Schwerin.

—St. Nicholas for July has: The Mother's Stratagem, One Hundred Years of American History, The Queen and the Countess, Windsor Castle, How the Storks Came and Went, The Vikings in America, and other articles, besides a wonderful variety of illustrations.

—The Atlantic Monthly for July has: From Jaffa to Jerusalem, The Old Woman's Gossip, Campaigning, Battle of Gettysburg, The States and the Railroads, A Sennight of the Centennial. The notes on recent literature, art, music and education are full and able, as usual.

—The Southern Musical Journal for June has: The Popular "Sardine Life Waltzes," by Strauss price 75 cents; and Ctarihel's favorite ballad "Come Back to Erin" price, 40 cents. Both of these choice pieces can be had for 75 cents by addressing the publishers.

—Lippincott's Magazine for July has: A Glimpse of Philadelphia in July, 1776, On the Eastern Shore, Letters from South Africa, An Episode of the Revolution, The Market of Paris, and other articles.

—"Are we Forgotten When we are Gone?" is the title of a song and music by Maj. J. Barton. For sale by P. Werlein, New Orleans.

The last remaining State in Christendom, vassal to the Vatican, the Interior has declared its independence of papal dictation. The Pope's legate left Spain in wrath a few days ago, when the Cortes, by a two thirds vote, declared in favor of religious toleration. So that there is not now a State remaining in the world which does not reject the Pope's arrogant claims and defy his power. Ten years ago the Vatican was supreme in Austria in all parts of Italy with its islands, and in Spain, and was little short of supreme in many of the German kingdoms and principalities, in France and in Brazil, and several other Spanish American States. One by one the bonds have been cast off by those nations, each fetter, as it was broken, bringing a wail and a malediction from Rome. The civilized world has, for the last decade, been like a rapidly growing boy—outgrowing the new garments faster than Mother Church can sew them together.

We are requested to give notice that the Women's Christian Temperance Union meets every Tuesday at six P. M., at the Carondelet Street church. The exercises consist chiefly of singing and prayer. The objects of the organization are good, and we trust that it may meet with abundant encouragement.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Bishops at their late session appointed a week of prayer to be observed throughout the connection, beginning with the fast on Friday, August 4.

The influence of faith is seen in the fact that it relieves the mind from all perplexity of doubt, and the heart from all anxiety, as to unseen and eternal things. It is, as one has said, "the repose of the intellect and the repose of the affections." It believes God's word and "stays quiet." God has testified that the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, "cleanseth from all sin."

A good life is valuable, but a bad one often costs more.

Saying "Please."

o could help loving fair-haired, -eyed little Bonnell? He is one se mischievous eight-year-olds ne must pet in spite of one's And yet he is not all mischief. Now and then he makes one's open with astonishment, and hands go up with the exclamn-hat a child!"

nell's pa is rather careless about ous matters, and sits down at able without thinking of the ng.

," said the little fellow the day, "nin says God made you.

e, pa?"

es, he made me."

ell, pa, are you glad he made hy, Bonnell, of course I am; questions you do ask."

child's mind was evidently ng out a problem, but he did actly know what it was.

er a pause:

a, what does Uncle Sam ask a ng at the table for?"

reckon because he wants to."

e says he wants to thank God s dinner, but I told him that orked for your dinner and it. God does not give it to you, e, pa?"

ell, yes; I suppose he gives me too."

nell looked up with astonish- and then fell to vigorously is knife and fork. Suddenly ed again:

, does God want Uncle Sam to him?"

s, child, I suppose so."

e silence.

I'm mighty glad God is not ou, for if he was we would get anything more to eat, and 've'd starve."

hy, Bonnell, what do you was just thinking. You would ve sister Nat apple, 'cos she not say 'Please,' and if Gigi is ort of way he never would give thing more, because we do not him, like Uncle Sam."

quiet, Bonnell; you do not what you are talking about."

rest of the meal was eaten in e, but that very night at tea ell's father astonished his fam- by saying "Please" to God.—Presbyterian.

RGEON'S WORK IN THE SUN-SCHOOL.—Recently Mr. Spur- gave a very interesting account steps by which he ascended to esent pulpit. He commenced he was about sixteen years old, after his conversion, to dis- e tracts, and, by persevering in bors within a certain district, to have a sort of diocese in- he was a familiar and wel- fact. Having much to do with ople, the next step naturally 'ench their children; and so but a short time before he was Sunday school. In the Sab- hool he made several addresses children, which were liked so that it was arranged that he speak to them every Sunday. always been found that a table the spread for the children the old folks will soon come to they cannot also partake of the So it was in this case. The kept dropping in, until before youngster had more people him in the afternoon than the er had in the morning. The n easily be imagined.

special points to be noticed in ecinct autobiography are: I mmenced to work immediately he became a convert. Those- sors of religion rarely amount thing who do not, like him, tly go to work for the Master. growth. He did not all at once to a pulpit rostrum. He climb- He was gradually fitted for his Sunday school work. That is theological seminary. 3. He ed his present large congrega- preaching to the children.—Congregationalist.

AT COULD THE NO IN HEAVEN?—bout thirty years ago or more, stage coaches still ran, that an ent old clergyman, who had a bservation of the world, was ng on the top of the coach. It old, wintry weather, and the man, as he drove his horses y, poured forth such a volley ths and foul language as to all the passengers. The old man, who was sitting close to said nothing, but fixed his ng blue eyes upon him with a of extreme wonder and aston- nt. At last the coachman be- uneasy, and, turning round to said: "What makes you look sir, in that way?"

clergyman said, with his eyes pon him: "I cannot imagine you will do in heaven! There horses or coaches or saddles or e public houses in heaven. will be no one to swear at, or on you can use bad language. not think what you will do you get to heaven."

TH VS. PRESUMPTION.—It is l of the Israelites: "By faith assed through the Red sea as y land, which the Egyptians ng to do were drowned."—Heb. xi. 29. It was faith with the tes, because they had the of the divine protection. It resumption with the Egyp- for they were rushing on "the bosses of Jehovah's buckler." evening, we are told, after a march through the desert, mied was camping with his ers, and overheard one of them: "I will loose my camel and it it to God;" on which Mo- ed took him up: "Friend, tie ued, and commit it to God"—, do whatever is thine to do, en leave the issue with God.

erfect contempt of the world, a desire to go forward in virtue; e of discipline, the painful- of repentance, the readiness of nce, the denying of ourselves, e bearing any affliction for the Christ patiently, will give us onfidence—we shall die happy. —A Kempis.

MILTON'S DAILY LIFE.—Milton lived, in a small house in London, or in the country, in Buckinghamshire. Of all consolations, work is the most fortifying and the most healthy, because it solaces a man not by bringing him ease, but by requiring effort. Every morning he had a chapter of the Bible read to him in Hebrew, and remained for some time in silence grave, in order to meditate on what he had heard. He never went to a place of worship. Independent in religion as in all else, he was sufficient to himself. He studied till mid-day; then, after an hour's exercise, he played the organ or bass viol. Then he resumed his studies till six, and in the evening enjoyed the society of his friends. When any one came to visit him he was usually found in a room hung with old green hangings, seated in an arm chair, and dressed quietly in black. He had been very beautiful in his youth, and his English cheeks, once delicate as a young girl's, retained their color almost to the end.

Few men have done such honor to their kind. Amidst so many trials (a scrivener caused him to lose $10,000; at the Restoration he was refused payment of $10,000 due him from the excise office; his house was burned in the great fire; when he died he only left $7,500, including the produce of his library;) a pure and lofty joy, altogether worthy of him, had been granted to him; the poet, buried under the Puritan, had reappeared more sublime than ever, to give to Christianity a second Homer.—Taine.

GRACEFULNESS IN GIRLS.—The Hindoo girls are graceful and exquisitely formed. From their earliest childhood they are accustomed to carry burdens on their heads. The water for family use is always brought by the girls in earthen jars, carefully poised in this way. This exercise is said to strengthen the muscles of the back, while the chest is thrown forward. No crooked backs are seen in Hindoostan. Dr. Henry Spry, one of the company's medical officers, says that "this exercise of carrying small vessels of water on the head might be advantageously introduced into our boarding schools and private families, and that it should entirely supersede the present machinery of dumb-bells, blackboards, skipping ropes, etc. The young lady ought to be taught to carry the jar, as these Hindoo women do, without ever touching it with her hand." The same practice of carrying water leads to precisely the same results in the south of Spain and in the south of Italy, as in India. A Neapolitan female peasant will carry on her head a vessel full of water to the very brim over a rough road and not spill a drop of it, and the acquisition of this art or knack gives her the same erect and elastic gait, and the same expanded chest, and well-formed back and shoulders.

USE OF PAPER.—Of the 1,300,000,000 of human beings inhabiting the globe, 370,000,000 have no paper nor writing material of any kind; 500,000,000 of the Mongolian race use a paper made from the stalks and leaves of plants; 10,000,000 use for graphic purposes tablets of wood; 130,000,000—the Persians, Hindoos, Armenians and Syrians—have paper made from cotton, while the remaining 300,000,000 use the ordinary staple. The annual consumption by this latter number is estimated at 1,800,000,000 pounds, at average of six pounds to the person, which has increased from two and a half pounds during the last fifty years. To produce this amount of paper 200,000,000 pounds of woolen rags, 800,000,000 pounds of cotton rags, besides great quantities of linen rags, straw, wood and other materials, are yearly consumed. The paper is manufactured in 3,000 mills, employing 90,000 male and 180,000 female laborers. The proportionate amounts manufactured of the different kinds of paper are stated to be: of writing paper, 300,000,000 pounds; of printing paper, 900,000,000 pounds; of wall paper, 100,000,000 pounds; and 200,000,000 pounds of cartoons, blotting paper, etc.

Spurgeon says: "If you wish to ruin your throats you can speedily do so; but, if you wish to preserve them, note what is now laid before you. I have often compared the voice to a drum. If the drummer should always strike in one place on the head of his drum the skin would soon wear into a hole; but how much longer it would have lasted him if he had varied his thumping, and had used the entire surface of the drum-head! So it is with a man's voice. If he uses always the same tone he will wear a hole in that part of the throat which is most exercised in pronouncing that monotone, and very soon he will suffer from bronchitis. I have heard surgeons affirm that dissenting bronchitis differs from the Church of England article. There is an ecclesiastical twang which is much admired in the establishment—a sort of steeple-in-the-throat grandeur, an aristocratic, theologic, parsonic, supernatural, infra-human mouthing of language and rolling over of words."

A little three-year-old, when gathering flowers, found one with an unusually short stem, and exclaimed that he "found it sitting down."

The author of the saying, "You must always take a man as you find him," was a constable.

MARRIED.

MORRIS—WATERS.—On the twenty-first of June, 1876, in Washington Street church, Houston, Tex., by Rev. R. T. Nabors, Rev. L. Z. T. Morris, of the Texas Conference, and Miss Isabella Waters, of Houston, Tex.

LAKE BREEZES.—The opening of the New Orleans City Railroad, and equipping it with delightful coaches, to run through to the lake without change, affords our people an opportunity of enjoying their spare evenings on the beach at the trifling cost of twenty cents. The time table of the road will be found in our advertising columns.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL.

For the Week Ending June 24, 1876.

A—E & H T Anthony & Co, W T Ashford $25, J E Allen, Phillip Allen $2, C G Andrews, L S Austin $2, J N Andrew, W F Alderman, W H Ardis, A C Allen.

B—Ritchie J Briggs, W H Bennett, J T Buckley, Barnes & Wilkinson, J Bamerid, C H Briggs & Co, E W Barber, C W Barrett two letters, J W Burke & Co, R Brown, D P Bradford $6, Mrs R M Barrington $1, Mrs E C Barksdale, Buffalo Hardware Company, H J Baldwin, J W Bryan, E R Bareus, J D Bodine.

C—James Corey, W J Carleton, S S Connor, A E Clay, T H Cleland 80 cents, John Church & Co, Thomas R Curtis $1.25, R Cole $1, Beverly Carradine two letters 35 cents, Thomas Fallon, T M Casanova, J Sidney Carleton, T Cameron, R Crawford, M Cognenheim 80 cents, S H Cooper, W J Carnes.

D—Warren Dutro, F A Daughtry, P M Dixon, W B Dennis $5, W J Delacey, C H Dutton $8, F H Dunkerson & Co, M M Dawson.

E—Esterbrook Steel Pen Company, J M Elkin.

F—J B Ford, F B Foust, Thomas Franklin, B T Fullilove, J R Ferguson, William Fotsch, S J Franks.

G—H Gwinner & Bro, Buseron C Glenn, Ed P Goodwin, J S Glasgow, James Gethins, E F Gates, William Greenbury.

H—Holbrook Bros, Joseph Hillman, Thomas A Henderson $1, P Howard $2, James F Higgins for Lenox $3.75, F C Hoeft $125, Mrs M M Harris, A B Haygood, J H Harper, George Hampton, H C Harris, Thomas J Humphries $2, C S Hart $2, J C Johnson $6, Addison Jones, Jackson & Jones.

K—R N Kittrell, J Kirk $6, J D Kesler, Theodore E Kelly, Kilgore & Gillett $18.54, Kohler, Stark & Co.

L—F Leyholdt, Lorenzo Lee, George M Leverman $25, H A Little $1.35, Mrs P Lyle $1.70, W B Lewis $17.50, H P Lewis $6, Mrs Lillie $1, Thomas S Lane, W E M Lithfield.

M—F T Mangum, Thomas McLaughlin, Nicholas Muller & Sons, J J McCook & Co $27.90, A F Milligan, J H Miller, W H Morris, B F Marshall, David Merchant $13.85, D W Mclean $7, Mrs A C Mengle $2, W Francis McLean, Mrs R F Moore $2.

N—R A Nobles, S S Norwood $2, R D Norsworthy $., Neill & Co.

O—Oates & Worrall $5, James Ormond.

P—S M Pettengill & Co two letters, John B Peavey, George A Prince & Co $25, Payne, Holder & Co, Pacific R R Company, Thomas Ritter, H C Parrish, J M Pelton $1.65, J W Potts, Francis M Peterson $2.

Q—W H Heather (agent), four letters, Thomas P Randle, Ira H Roberts $1 $2, W W Richards 10 cents, A Richardson $1.50, H Ray, E P Rogers $1.75, J C Richards $1, B S Rayner, Rowell & Chesman, J M Ross $30.72.

S—J M Simpson St Louis Advertising and Publishing Company $4.85, W A Spurlock, H Sutherland, E C Selectman & Co, George S Seufeld, R J Spangler, R A Snow $1.85, Thomas M Smith $1.10, W H Sinclair, Mrs W R Spencer, C S Sandell $1.75, W D Slaughter, Mrs W R Stuart, T W Smith $.

T—Elliott A Timmons $6, E W Tarrant, C M E Dickey $1, E M Turgeon.

V—F H Van Valkenburg $20, Mrs M Vaughn.

W—W H Wood, John G Williams, J W Wells, Mrs M J Wesson $1, John P Wynn, J H Winnie, K Thomas, Ward, White, Saying, White $10, George H Wiley, James W G Wilkins $2, A West $2.50, W S Williams $2, W H Wells, Mrs E H Wilkerson, J E White (cash).

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE, North Carolina.—The above-named institution is regarded by those of our friends who are familiar with its management as one of the very best in the country and the community in which it is located is composed of the most substantial and intelligent people. The influences brought to bear upon the character of the pupils are of a most desirable kind. We take pleasure in directing the attention of those who are interested in the advertisement to be found elsewhere in our columns.

ORANGE TREES.—We have never seen orange trees of the same age anywhere equal to those of the Messrs. of Mr. W. R. Stuart, of Ocean Springs, Miss., advertised in another column. Mr. [illegible] has spent much time and taken much pains in procuring the best means known [illegible] as well as to prepare for [illegible] public, and those needing young trees should read his advertisement.

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.—Messrs. Roberts & Co., proprietors of the Louisiana Sash, Blind and Door Factory, occupying [illegible] Gravier street, are prompt, reliable and skilful manufacturers and dealers. White Pine planing, &c. Sand, lime, cypress, and all kinds of building material.

CIGAR MANUFACTURER.—Those wishing a pure, and wish to obtain the [illegible] manufactured, should read the advertisement of M. Requelme in our columns. He is at No. 11 Decatur street, opposite the post office and is one of our most active dealers, as well as an extensive manufacturer.

BLADON SPRINGS.—The advertisement of this popular watering place appears in another column. The advantages of these springs for [illegible] are too well known to need comment. Under the management of the present proprietor, Mr. [illegible] Conner & Co., is ably conducted.

NAVRA & GUTNER will fill orders [illegible] for chromos and glassware with care and speed.

Read Levy Bros.' advertisement in to-day's paper.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENT'S, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camp Street, under City Hotel
Opposite the City Hotel. New Orleans, La.

PIERSON & HEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel.
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep [illegible] goods, sell at one price and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited, and a liberal deduction made to them.

TO PREVENT drunkenness don't drink; but, if you have been drinking, none of it will not suffer you. While you are [illegible] nervous and distressed [illegible] resort to Simmons' Liver Regulator, as a tonic, to arouse your torpid liver to action, enliven your spirits, dissipate the blues, and drive away despondency. Nine cases out of ten it is your heavy liver that causes your desire to get rid of yourself in intoxication. We know hundreds that have tried our remedy, and it has proved their salvation.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.—Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef, in pint bottles, enriches the blood, aids Digestion, cures Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debility, Chills, Fever, Ague, and female complaints. Sold by all druggists.

$15 to $5! Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 111 Nassau street, New York.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

"I am certain that the work will prove of decided value to all who make use of it."—Dudley Buck.

PALMER'S

THEORY OF MUSIC

(JUST READY.)

A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO THE STUDY OF

Thorough Bass, Harmony & Composition

For Acquiring a Knowledge of the Science,

IN A SHORT TIME,

With or Without the Aid of a Teacher.

Including 730 Questions, Illustrated by 582 Examples from the best Writers.

BY H. R. PALMER.

"I shall recommend it to my pupils and others as a book from which they can obtain the most useful information with the least effort and in the easiest way."—Wilhem Mason.

"It will meet a want which has never before been met."—L. O. Emerson.

"It is the best work of the kind that has ever come under my observation."—Joseph Ramdisch.

Bound in Cloth—Price, by Mail, $1.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
PUBLISHERS, CINCINNATI, O.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

OF

W. R. STUART,

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, BRAZILIAN, grafted on sour stock; and SWEET SEEDLINGS, we [illegible]. Price, from 20 cts to $1 each, according to age and number wanted.

Also SOUR SEEDLINGS, for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 10 cents to 50 cents, according to number wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any point. No fruit tree will stand transplanting and transporting better than the orange.

Limes and Trifoliata Trees a specialty. 1E.

NEW CHURCH MUSIC BOOK!

THE SALUTATION! By L. O. Emerson. Price $12 per doz.

This book, together by Mr. Emerson, adds still the issue of his popular "[illegible]" shows the marks of his unexcelled talent in providing for the tastes and wants of the singing public. We have been a fine Song School Course, a capital collection of easy Glees and Part Songs for practice, and a large number of new Metrical Tunes, Chants, Motets, Sentences, Anthems, etc., preceding freshness and variety in every piece. Price, for single copy, $1.25, for which it will be mailed, post free, to any address.

A decidedly pretty and sweet Sabbath School Song Book is GOOD NEWS. It takes at first sight. Specimen pages mailed, post free, for 6 cents.

For our Centennial Collection of National Songs, for use on all Centennial occasions. Price in paper, 30 cents, in boards, 40 cents.

Try the following similarly books:

The American Chorus Book, easy Glees and four part Songs for Societies. Also The Emprire for Singing Classes and Conventions, by L. O. Emerson; also the Oratorio of Joshua, by Handel; and a new collection of part Songs, for Male Voices, by W. O. Perkins.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.

C. H. Ditson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

BLADON SPRINGS,

ALABAMA.

PERSONS WISHING TO VISIT THESE FAMOUS SPRINGS WILL TAKE THE MOBILE TRAIN ON

Tuesday and Saturday Mornings,

And connect with the Boats that [illegible] Mobile at [illegible] P. M. on the same day.

Rates of Board:

Board, per month	$50 00
Per Week	15 00
Per day	2 50

Liberal rates will be given to families.

[illegible] & SUMNAS, Agents for New Orleans.
JAMES CONNER & CO.,
Proprietors.

M. REQUELME,

CIGAR MANUFACTURER,

11 DECATUR STREET,

OPPOSITE P. O. AND POST OFFICE, NEW ORLEANS.

Dealers always supplied with the [illegible] Brands of Cigars, Tobacco, &c.

$20 Per Thousand Upward.

A large assortment of Key West and Domestic CHEWING TOBACCO.

CHOICE!

FAMILY PICKLES.

17 CASES GHERKINS AND MIXED Pickles, just received by the Steamer Crescent City, from E. P. Brooks, Boston, and for sale by

NEW SHAKER PRESERVES.

Thirty cases of the present crop of CHERRIES AND STRAWBERRIES (bottled in the State of South Carolina by Whitney Family of Shakers), the best Preserves before them.

FANCY GOSHEN BUTTER, that we are receiving now, is in the language of the shippers, "[illegible]" and our customers indorse the statement.

ALBERT C. PIPE & CO., Grocers,
Cor. Perdido and Tchoupitoulas Sts.

Martha Washington Female College

ABINGDON, VA.

WARREN DUPRE, A. M., late Professor of Natural Science in Wofford College, S. C., has been elected President of the above institution. He is assisted by a full and efficient corps of professors in all the departments.

The situation is one of the most delightful in the mountains of Virginia, and abounds in valuable mineral waters.

It has been for years the summer resort for many of the best families in the Southern States.

The College is endorsed and commended by many eminent scholars, whose daughters are numbered among its graduates.

Two Hundred and Ten Dollars will pay for board and tuition for ten months. Extra and preparatory.

Next session begins SEPTEMBER 21.

For further particulars send for catalogue.

The Great Southern Remedy!

JACOB'S

CHOLERA, DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA CORDIAL.

A SOVEREIGN remedy for Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Flatulent Colic, Weakness of Stomach and Bowels, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debility, etc. For sale by druggists and dealers throughout the [illegible].

GENERAL DEPOT:

RHEIN & HOGART, Wholesale Druggists,
214 Fulton Street, New York.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND —AND— DOOR FACTORY,

ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,

501, 503, 505 and 507 Gravier Street,

Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

New Orleans City Railroad.

FROM CLAY STATUE TO THE LAKE WITHOUT CHANGE OF CARS.

Fare for the round trip to the Lake and return,

TWENTY CENTS.

TRAINS WILL LEAVE AS FOLLOWS:

From Clay Statue.		From the Lake.
6 o'clock	A. M.	7 o'clock	A. M.
7	A. M.	8	A. M.
8	A. M.	9	A. M.
9	A. M.	10	A. M.
10	A. M.	11	A. M.
11	A. M.	12	M.
12	M.	1	P. M.
1	P. M.	2	P. M.
2	P. M.	3	P. M.
3	P. M.	3.45	P. M.
3.30	P. M.	4.15	P. M.
4	P. M.	4.45	P. M.
4.30	P. M.	5.15	P. M.
5	P. M.	5.45	P. M.
5.30	P. M.	6.15	P. M.
6	P. M.	6.45	P. M.
6.30	P. M.	7.15	P. M.
7	P. M.	7.45	P. M.
7.30	P. M.	8.30	P. M.
8	P. M.	9	P. M.
8.30	P. M.	10	P. M.

Trains will stop, going and returning, at Carondelet, Rampart, Claiborne and Galvez streets only.

Greensboro Female College,

GREENSBORO, N. C.

THE Fall Session will begin on Wednesday, AUGUST 23, and continue 20 weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights)	$75 00
Tuition in regular English course	25 00

For catalogue apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.

N. H. D. WILSON,
President Board of Trustees.

OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

LIMITED.

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & JONES' JACK TIE.
BRANCH, CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We also beg to inform the public that the interests of Messrs. Beard & Bro. and Branch, Crookes & Co. are now merged in and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Pell,	Ogden & Bell,
Fisher & Boyd,	Archer & Borland,
William Dillon	T. L. Rabbet & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co., Limited,
R. W. RAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS, ANDCHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE

On and after October 31, 1875,

A. M. and P. M.

Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Canal street depot:

DEPART.

Express	7.30 A. M.
Mail	P. M.

ARRIVE.

Express	11.30 P. M.
Mail	12.40 A. M.
Accommodation	6.00 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale, and information given at No. 1 Carondelet street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
T. D. HOST, General Manager.

CANE AND SORGHUM

MACHINERY

A SPECIALTY.

Evaporators, Patent of 1876.

Superior and cheaper.

Send for catalogue and price list. Address

S. S. CONNOR,
AMERICUS, GA.

FREE! FREE!

10,000

E. BUTTERICK & CO.'S

CATALOGUES

CONTAINING THE

LATEST STYLES FASHIONS.

Just received and ready for distribution. Mailed by any address upon application to

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,
47 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,

OCULIST,

11 DAUPHINE STREET 11

NEW ORLEANS.

Office hours from 10 to 3. 5p

PAINTS, OILS, GLASS, ETC.

1,000 LBS KALSOMINE, assorted colors, ready for use.
100 cases R. Bell & Co.'s Pure Mixed PAINTS, ready for use.
100 cases assorted COLORS, in oil.
15 tons pure WHITE LEAD, in kegs and cans.
15 tons French and American ZINC PAINT.
150 barrels DRY COLORS, assorted.
50 barrels LINSEED and LARD OIL.
10 barrels MINERAL SPERM OIL, 300 deg.
10 barrels HEADLIGHT OIL, 175 deg.
100 cases PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL, 150 deg.
25 barrels best VARNISH, assorted.
1,000 boxes French and American WINDOW GLASS. For sale by
SAMUEL M. TODD & CO.,
78 Magazine street.

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine. Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 6, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5plte

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF

Crockery, China, Glassware

CUTLERY, PLATED WARE

AND

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS

IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves:

A real French China DINNER SET, 117 pieces, for	$20 00
A real English China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 120 pieces, for	11 50
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for	3 75
A Stone China HAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for	3 50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for	6 00

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes. All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Bath Tubs.

Orders from the country will receive our best attention.

NAVRA & GUTNER,
128 Camp street, New Orleans.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for ladies' and children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be assiduously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles

LADIES' DRESSES,

IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

TENPENNY APRONS, RICHES AND KERCHIEFS in Shades of the Fashions of 1870

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
No. 102 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST. NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rugs, Bones, Metals,

AND all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care, quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 2205.

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Catarrh, Throat and Lung Complaints, produced from our Swamps is the most effective Remedy that has ever been offered. Contains NO POISON, and is harmless. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase. Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 106 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Tonic, infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,
AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,

Jary & Hussar, Proprietors,

has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED.....WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES: Rev. H. F. Johnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

ADOLPH FISCH,

(Formerly with N. Burke,)

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

(COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES SIS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CABIN'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.

To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out more faster, but better and cheaper; so please call with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything, from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CABIN & CO.,
No. 14 Delord street.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Coverings for Wounds of Trees.

It often happens that, either by intention, as in pruning, or by accident, trees are wounded in various ways. A common practice is to cover large wounds with coal tar; but this is objected to by some as injurious to the tree. Experiments made in the orchards and gardens of the Pomological Institute, at Ruthlengen, in Germany, go to show, however, that its use in covering large wounds is not injurious; but that, on the contrary, a callous surface forms under the tar, on the edges of the wound, and that the wounded part is thus protected from decay. There is, nevertheless, another objection, for if the tar is applied a little too thick, the sun melts it and it runs down on the bark of the tree. This can be obviated by mixing and stirring, and thus incorporating with the tar about three or four times its weight of powdered slate, known as slate flour—the mixture being known as plastic slate, and used for roofing purposes. It is easily applied with an oil knife or flat stick, and, though it hardens on the surface, it remains soft and elastic underneath. The heat of the sun does not melt it, nor does the coldest winter weather cause it to crack, neither does it peel off.

The same mixture is also useful for other purposes in the garden. Leaky water pots, barrels, pails, shutters, sashes, etc., can be easily repaired with it, and much annoyance and loss of time be thus avoided. It will stick to any surface, provided it be not oily; and, as it does not harden when kept in a mass, it is always ready for use. A gallon will last for a long time.—Massachusetts Plowman.

Tea.

ITS CULTURE IN CALIFORNIA.

A writer in the Chronicle, who has traveled extensively, says: "The tea plant grows better in California than in China; but to the aqueous infusion it yields no theine, which is the esteemed element. The tea plant grows well in California. We have seen a million of them, in full and luxuriant growth, among the foothills between Georgetown and Placerville. We tasted the infusion from its leaves, served Japan fashion, which differs materially from Chinese methods. Instead of iron plates, heat is applied to the leaf from Japan through a porous paper, expressly made, so that there is no burning or overheating. We have taken tea which came from Assam and also from the vast tea gardens of the snowy Himalayas; and between teas of China and Japan there is a marked difference. The teas of India are too rank. They are only used to give pronounced flavor to the teas of China, which are growing year by year more insipid. We are not surprised to find in this first tea of California quite a difference from all others. It was not rank, but delicate; and, considering that it was rudely prepared and fired through Japan tea paper in haste for our industrial fair, we judged that tea-culture may be a success in California when it can be economically aided by machine preparation. The tea plants of El Dorado were all destroyed by a casualty that is avoidable in the future. The experiment otherwise proved that, with irrigation, tea will grow first rate in our foot-hills, and all the better where snow covers the brush for sixty days."

HOW MIRRORS ARE SILVERED. The following description of "silvering" plate glass for mirrors is mainly founded upon the method pursued at St. Cobin and Ravenhead. "After polishing, each glass tablet intended to make a looking-glass is silvered, or, more correctly, coated on one side with an amalgam of tin. In the preparation of this amalgam tinfoil is used, but it must be beaten from the finest tin, and possess a surface similar to that of polished silver. The art of silvering is simple, and merely requires dexterity. The glass plate having been thoroughly cleansed from all grease and dirt with putty powder and wood ashes, the workman proceeds to lay a sheet of tinfoil upon the table, carefully pressing out with a cloth dabber all wrinkles and places likely to form air bubbles. He spreads over it a quantity of mercury, taking care that all parts are equally covered, and then the glass plate is pushed gently on to the surface, commencing at one edge. The glass is allowed to remain for twenty-four hours. It is then removed to a wooden incline, similar to a reading desk, to allow the mercury to drain off. As the amalgam gradually sets the incline is increased, till finally the plate reaches the perpendicular, when the process is finished, and the mirror removed to the store-room. Iron Age.

A NEW VEGETABLE. Foreign horticultural papers are praising the quality of a new plant that promises to be quite an acquisition to our list of esculent vegetables. It was grown in the horticultural gardens at Chiswick, under the name of Witloof, which is Flemish for "Whiteleaf." Although but a mere variety of the common chicory (Cichorium Intybus), it is far superior to the species in the way of a salad. The top is blanched and used precisely as sea-kale, while the side shoots, which are produced after the cutting of the crown, are served as a salad. It has been grown for several years just around Brussels, and by the gardeners there is considered a great delicacy. It is highly recommended by the Journal of Horticulture, especially for forcing purposes, which thinks there is a rich reward awaiting the enterprising gardener who shall undertake its cultivation.—New York Tribune.

LUCERNE.—Having had a considerable experience with lucerne, or alfalfa, in the River Platte region of South America, and also here, I write to say that I think it the most valuable grass sown. It will yield four crops a year here, and all stock are fond of it, and it does not salivate like clover. It should be sown on rich land, well prepared, twenty pounds of seed per acre, broadcast. It is time, land and labor thrown away to drill it or to work it. The first crop may have weeds, and the second a few, but the third will be clear lucerne; this used to be my experience in South America, where weeds grew faster than in any other place I ever knew. I think spring the best time to sow, but it will do in the fall. I sowed some the sixth of last October, and in a week's time will begin cutting the fourth crop. It should not be grazed, and when cut it should be cut off even with the ground, so that no stubble will form. It makes a good hay when properly cured.—A. O. B., Accomac C. H., Va., in New York Tribune.

THE UNION-JACK.—The term "union-jack" is one which is partly of obvious signification, and in part somewhat perplexing. The "union" between England and Scotland, to which the flag owed its origin, evidently supplied the first half of the compound title borne by the flag itself. But the expression "jack" involves some difficulty. Several solutions of this difficulty have been submitted, but with a single exception only they are by far too subtle to be considered satisfactory. A learned and judicious antiquary has recorded it as his opinion that the flag of the union between England and Scotland, having taken place in the reign of King James, by whose command the new flag was introduced, the name of the King in French, "Jaques," would have been certainly used in heraldic documents; the union flag of King "Jaques" would very naturally be called after the name of its royal author, Jaques union, or Union Jaques, and so by a simple process we arrive at union-jack.

"Suppose," said a lawyer to a witness he was trying to badger, "suppose I should tell you that I could bring a dozen men of your town to this court-room who would say they would not believe you on oath, what would you say?" And calmly the witness made his reply: "I would say you lied." A gentle smile diffused itself all over the court-room, and the garrulled witness stepped down.

"Is your house a warm one, landlord," asked a gentleman in search of a house. "It ought to be," was the reply. "The painter gave it two coats recently."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Hibernia National Bank.

ACTUAL CONDITION.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 15, 1876.

LIABILITIES.

Notes and bills discounted $1 50
Dedepted and due to $1 00 $1 00
Fully United States five per cent. bonds, ... 2 00
Real estate 2 00
Furniture and fixtures 2 00
Current funds—
In Vault 2 00
In New York 2 00
In Dublin and London 2 00
In solvent banks 2 00
In United States treasury 2 00

LIABILITIES.

Circulating notes $1 00
Dividends not called for 2 00
Deposits 2 00

We certify that we have personally examined the portfolio and other resources of this bank, and its liabilities, and that the foregoing statement is true.

J. C. MORRIS,
EMILE GAUCHÉ,
ANDREW STEWART,
ADAM THOMSON,
JOHN L. ADAMS,
P. HOWIN,
THOMAS SMITH,
Directors.

HIBERNIA NATIONAL BANK,
NEW ORLEANS, June 17, 1876.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, this day, the resignation of Messrs. William Hart, John Henderson, P. Poursine and E. A. Yorke having been tendered and accepted, Messrs. John L. Adams, J. C. Morris, Andrew Stewart and Adam Thomson were duly elected Directors for the current term.

And Mr. Thomas Smith thereupon resigned his office, and J. C. Morris was unanimously elected President.

The Bank now resumes business.

J. C. Morris, John L. Adams,
Emile Gauché, P. Howin,
Andrew Stewart, Thomas Smith,
Adam Thomson,
JOHN S. DEVERIN, Cashier.

ROOFING.

MADE OF

PURE CUBAN ASPHALTUM,

WHICH is well known to be indestructible, and is not affected by heat (to make it run, or cold (to cause it to crack. Frost and salt water atmospheres so destructive to metal roofs, do not affect it. It is also spark and cinder proof. It is the LIGHTEST, MOST DURABLE AND CHEAPEST ROOFING ever offered to the South or country. Sold in coiled Sheets, or in the form of Paint.

It is not a patented article, but made from the Asphaltum of our own mines in Cuba.

Also ASPHALT VARNISH, for painting Metal Roofs, Gutters, Rollers, and every kind of metal surfaces. It preserves metal from rust, and wood from decay.

For further information address or call on

WM. FRANCIS McLEAN,
185 CHARTRES STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

PELICAN
IMPROVED RICE MILLS,
J. B. & A. JOHNSON, Proprietors,
154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.
MILLING RATES: No. 1 at ¼c. per pound; No. 2 at ⅛c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 2607.

T. W. ROTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.
Embalming and Disinterring. Hearses carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS
SAVINGS INSTITUTION,
15 ..... CANAL STREET 15

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KURSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John G. Gaines,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Seimetzler,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Moulton, T. L. Hayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

☞ Interest allowed on deposits.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK
AND
SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,
51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL $500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY, FREDK WING,
J. H. KELLER, W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT, JAS. JACKSON,
E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and Six per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GORDON FOOD,

FOR HORSES, MULES & CATTLE.

CONCENTRATED, STRENGTHENING, INVIGORATING, PALATABLE AND RENOVATING.

A PREPARED FOOD.

It does not add to the ordinary cost of feeding, although producing the most admirable results, viz: Strong wind, fine appearance, good digestion, health generally improved spirits.

Its continued use secures perfect health in HORSES, MULES AND CATTLE.

GORDON FOOD IS PACKED IN

Whole sacks, 50 pounds ..... 50 cts
Half sacks, 25 pound ..... 13 cts
Quarter sacks, 12½ pound ..... 7 cts

Sent to any address on receipt of price.

SAMUEL MILLER,
SOLE AGENT,
Depot—530 PEYDRAS ST., New Orleans.

COUNTRY ORDERS

FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to get Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send for our price list, which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling anyone in the country to get a good fitting Boot or Shoe at reasonable rates. GAMES' CITY PRICES.

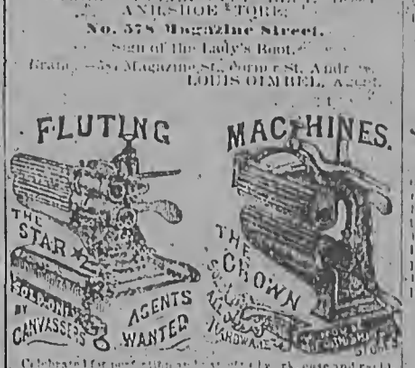
When we are not known we will require a small deposit, or the goods will be sent C. O. D., at the risk of the purchaser, as we do not open accounts with strangers.

Where Cash accompanies $20 we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Time is sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packet have agents.

Prices list of ladies' and gents' goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail, on application.

GAMBLE'S "PEERLESS" BLUE FRONT ANKLE SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street,
Sign of the Lady's Boot.
Entry—578 Magazine St., corner St. Andrew.
LOUIS GUMBEL, Agent.



Celebrated for perfection and rapidity of operation. Will flute, crimp and ruffle in one operation. Will flute, crimp and ruffle quicker than all other machines combined. Sold on easy terms. Price of either style $6 in. $6.00 inch flute, crimp, ruffle and tuck, sent with full working directions, on receipt of price to any address by

AMERICAN MACHINE CO., Sole Manufacturers,
C. G. Ghost Street, PHILADELPHIA, Pa.

BLOUNT SPRINGS.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN HEALTH AND PLEASURE RESORT.

DIRECTLY on the line of travel between Pensacola and the Northeast, one hundred and forty miles North of Montgomery, in the healthiest region of North Alabama. Passengers leave the city on the 5:15 P. M. train for the East by way of Mobile, Montgomery and Louisville. Lake dinner at the JACKSON HOUSE, Blount Springs, next day. Try a summer at this favorite resort where you get the best Mineral Water in America. Send for circular and circular.

Rates of Board $2.50 per day, $14 per week, $50 per month.

Round trip tickets, $25, good until the first of November.

J. D. DOWNER, Proprietor.

DIXIE BEE-HIVE.

PRICE $3 PER SET, READY FOR USE.

Nothing in them to get out of order. Any one can manage them. The most perfect hive ever made.

Pronounced the cheapest, simplest and most complete Hive and guide for Southern Apiarists.

HONEY EXTRACTORY $12
Just for sale by
GEO. A. VINCENT,
Dealer in Wood, Hides, Honey, Moss and Produce in general,
No. 29 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS.

THIS PAPER IS KEPT ON FILE AT THE OFFICE OF
N. W. AYER & SON ADVERTISING AGENTS,
733 SANSOM ST., PHILADELPHIA,
Who are our authorized agents, and will receive Advertisements at our LOWEST CASH RATES.

WM. B. RINGROSE,
NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,
DEALER IN
New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage, at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT
ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Painless. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CAMPTON, 187 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

INSURANCE.

New Orleans Insurance Co.

CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $500,000 00
Assets at their market value 553,857 46
Income for the year 1875 ..... 624,189 94

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES.
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merith, A. M. Bickham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Ballite, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, D. Fitts,
Pierre Pouiz, D. D. Rogers.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 ..... CARONDELET STREET 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses of claims.

A. CHIAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan, H. Gally,
L. D. Sarpy, A. Chiapella,
B. Sabey, J. Bofill,
H. Labasse, A. B. Bronsseau.
A. Chiapella.

MISCELLANEOUS.

State Superintendent of Public Education for Louisiana.

CARD.

THE UNDERSIGNED, who was honored by the suffrages of a large majority of the legal electors in the general state election of 1872, is a CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION as State Superintendent, at the similar election to be held in November, 1876. He respectfully solicits the moral influence and voluntary support of all honorable citizens of the State who are in favor of:

1. Reform and economy in the administration of the public school system.

2. A vigilant protection of the school funds from waste or embezzlement.

3. Equal facilities for the moral and mental instruction of all children in the State, by vigilant and competent teachers, under the guidance of directors, who shall be responsible for the right investment in whose behalf they act.

4. Schools, when and where feasible, for the training of apt pupils, of proper age, in a practical knowledge of the useful arts and trades; and

5. The prompt and full payment of teachers, salaries, and of all other legal and indispensable obligations of school directors.

ROBT. M. LUSHER.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,
93 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,
COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,
AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other heavy produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances on cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the GRANGERS' BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Special XXXX, Grangers' Hope XXXX,
Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX;
Grangers' Best XXXX,

which we work at Western prices. We also handle sugar and Molasses by the hhds. or bbls. at the lowest prices.

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer for a Short Time Only.

We will send, post-paid, free, to each new subscriber of THE NEW YORK AGENTS' MONTHLY, a most elegant CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL MEDAL, on fancy tint, struck in Albata Plate Silver, larger than a two-trade dollar, of inch diameter. Price, 50 cents each. The AGENTS MONTHLY is a handsome, 48-page paper. Subscription price, 75 cents a year. Send 25 cents, and you will receive the AGENTS MONTHLY for one year post paid, and the above medal gratis. Address

FENTON PUBLISHING CO.,
150 Broadway, New York.

H. CASSIDY,
SAIL-MAKER,
AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,
No. 45 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
ESTABLISHED IN 1836.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS etc. Flags of all Nations on hand.

CISTERN-MAKER.

H. BRODERICK,
NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,
Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans.

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns. Second hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS,
HIPPOLYTE ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND DRYADES, NEW ORLEANS.
JOS. SHAKSPEARE. V. SMITH. S. SWORD.
SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

Manufacturers of every variety of Steam Engines, Saw Mills, Saw Mills, Planing and Tonguing and Grooving Machines, Mill and Gin Gearing, Gratings, Grate Bars, etc., Store Fronts, Shutters and Ventilators, Blacksmith Work of all Kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY,
300 MAGAZINE STREET,
COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY;
CHOICE FRUIT SYRUPS.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon. Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Home Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream in quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.
WILLIAM MYERS,
DEALER IN ICE,
No. 138 Harmony Street,
Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.
Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,
17 ..... CHARTRES STREET 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH, English and American.
MATTINGS, Soft rolls, White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Tickle and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
DRUGGETS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. BROUSSEAU.

BLACKMAN'S
COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
131 ..... CARONDELET ST. 131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and board them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

OUR CHILDREN.

I. The Family.
II. The Sunday School.

A BOOK FOR PARENTS, TEACHERS AND PREACHERS.

BY ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, D. D.,
President of Emory College.

Dr. Lovick Pierce Writes an Admirable Introduction.

In the best style of Printing, 12mo. Price, $1.50, postpaid to any address. For sale by

R. J. Harp, New Orleans.
Nelson & Phillips, New York.
A. H. Redford, Agent, Nashville, Tenn.
J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.
L. D. Demeröe, St. Louis.
Hitchcock & Walden, Cincinnati.
T. L. D. Walford, Richmond, Va.
J. B. Bobbitt, Raleigh, N. C.
H. H. Carroll, Baltimore, Md.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S
STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,
No. 91 John Street, New York.
JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON.
HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED:
CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,
Struck in solid Albata Plate, equal in appearance, wear and color to
SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of finely Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a silver Trade dollar, being 1¾ inches in diameter, handsomely put up and sell readily at sight. The most valuable Souvenirs and Memorials ever issued. A complete outfit of magnificent samples for agents, in velvet-lined morocco case, including the Bust of "George Washington," Grand Entrance International Exhibition; Memorial Hall; Art Gallery; Horticultural Hall; Main Building, and the grand representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, designed by Trumbull; in gilt, sent by mail on receipt of draft or postoffice order for $3.50, or will ship by express, C. O. D., upon receipt of express charges. Agents, circular and price list, and one sample, sent upon receipt of 50 cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Extensive fields for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P. O. Box 2270. NEW YORK.

THAT MAGIC NAME!
LIVINGSTONE!

Riddles, the enthusiasm of the world where'er heard. AGENTS WANTED everywhere to sell Boys' Complete Life and Explorations, and Last Journals. 650 pages, only $2.50. Webster, in facts, and our splendid illustrated circulars, that it outsells any other book, sent free. Write at once, or 10th paste to-day for full outfit for it will surely be the book to open the golden gates. LIVINGSTONE PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED for the
DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITIES

now ready by Dr. Wm. Smith and 77 others, being the combination of the Dictionary of the Bible and Classical Antiquities. It explains every subject, religious, mythic, legal, political, pertaining to the Jewish, Christian, and Classical life, of which anything shall ever be heard without the best explanation. It requires no partisanship; the Bible is its best text book. Could become the best book ever sold by agents, and will keep them at work when any other, but owing to its peculiar merits and cheapness this step will keep for years. Sells at sight, and it can be used in half hours' spare time by simply keeping the book in sight.

Directions for Taking the Step. Any one can take from four to six specimens a day, at the city, either pure or diluted for a day or a less quantity at intervals of three hours.

Persons unemployed during the day can take two to four specimens in the evening, when it will stop the work and procure a night's rest.

Children from three to five years old can take from four to six teaspoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 9 Chartres,
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,
Or Turner's Dixie Tint
HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of its kind. No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.

It is free from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead Sulphur or other Compounds which are Poisonous to the Hair or Poisonous by Absorption.

And its use saves both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month or so, to the Hair or Whiskers, will restore the original natural color being so perfectly assimilated as to defy detection. It is a great recommendation that it is a production of itself, producing any desired shade from light brown to the deepest black and entirely absence of that dry and burned appearance produced by other Hair Dyes. The Mystery can be applied to a single hair or spots that have become white can be restored to their original shade without applying all over the head, as is necessary in using other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price. Order by the Inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2551, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—L. L. Lyons, New Orleans; Wheelock, Finlay & Co., New Orleans; E. T. Allen & Co., New Orleans and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

All Nervous Diseases Cured

Established 1874.

Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt

GIVES a Continuous Current of Electricity Around the Body, and cures all diseases arising from a Loss of Vital Force, Fits, Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Diseases, Functional Derangements, Paralysis, Impotency, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaint and Loss of Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE

After all Other Remedies Have Failed.

It is endorsed by the most Eminent Physicians in Europe and America, and thousands that are living, and have been restored to health, give testimony as to its great curative powers. Testimonials and circulars forwarded on application or receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

☞ Say what paper.

PRICES FROM $5 AND UPWARDS.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,
GENERAL COOPERAGE,
13 ..... NORTH FRONT ST.

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

FAVORITE SONG

New Collection (Centennial Series) of Sacred Music, by the Composer of "Silver Chimes," for singing classes and conventions. Price 35 cents. For sale by the Methodist Publishing Houses. It is the best book of the kind. Price post-paid by mail. Specimen pages sent free. Address W. C. Parrish & Co., Cincinnati, O.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plaster Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay, Building Country and Arch Bricks, Lining and Flushing Fire Bricks, Large and Small Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates for sale by.

JOHN C. STEWART,
133 Gravier street, and
259 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin.

Scientific.

he report of Prof. Hayden, in e of the United States geolog- urvey of the Territories for 1875, ins a detailed account of the nalls of Colorado, observed by Earnest Ingersoll, and affords interesting information re- ng their distribution.

rof. Tyndall is reported to have in a recent lecture before the l Society, that "spontaneous ation is an impossibility," and ontrefaction and infection would known in an optically pure at- here." This opinion is founded fact that "where air is ren- optically clear by filtering it gh fire, acids or cotton-wool, ons which in the atmosphere rapidly fill with life remain anged."

ix new asteroids this year thus iz.: 158, discovered by Knorre, rlin, January 4; 159, discovered aurl Henry, at Paris, January 30, discovered by Peters, at Clin- N. Y., February 24; No. 161, by on, at Ann Arbor, on April 16; 62, by Prosper Henry, at Paris, pril 21; and No. 163, by Per- at Toulouse, on April 27. No. iscovered by Palisa, on Novem- 2 last, has been named Xan- e. (So now even she is raoked g the goddesses. What would tes say?) No. 157 (discovered rseilles, on December 11 is call- Ajara; and No. 158 has re- d the name of Koronis. No. 152 med Atala, and No. 153, the distant of the whole family, a period of nearly eight years, e known as Hilda.

ES CAUSED BY IRON RUST.— seems a queer nutting, but it is quite plausible, by a recent sh writer, who says: "When of iron is placed in contact timber, excluded from the at- here, and aided by a slightly ed temperature, the oxide parts its oxygen, is converted into inely divided particles of me- igon, having such an affinity ygen that, when afterward ex- to the action of the atmos- heat any other oxygen assimi- so rapidly that these particles ne suddenly red-hot, and, if in ent quantity, will produce a erature far beyond the ignitible of dry timber." This, if true, ecount for many of the myste- fires which are constantly ing.

he puddle, no less than the sea world, will read with interest important statement recently by Dr. Richardson in the course ectures delivered before the Eligh Society of Arts. Speaking of trate of amyl, which has with- se last few years obtained a ble importance owing to its ordinary action on the human Dr. Richardson said that a dis- shed chemist, Prof. Guthrie, years ago, while distilling over e of amyl from amylic alcohol, ed that the vapor, when in- quickened his circulation, and him feel as if he had been run- There was flushing of the rapid action of his heart, and lessness. In 1861, Dr. Rich- made a careful and prolonged of the action of this singular and discovered that it pro- its effect by causing an ex- relaxation at first of the blood s, and afterward of the nerve ers of the body. To such an did this agent thus relax that Richardson found it would even ce the tetanic spasm produce trychnia, and, having thus dis- ed its action, he ventured to se its use for removing the in some of the extremest odic diseases. The results, he , have more than realized his tations. Under the influence agent one of the most agoniz- known human maladies, an pectoris, has been brought under control that the paroxysms have regularly prevented, and in stance, at least, altogether re- d. Even tetanus or lockjaw een subdued by it, and in two ces of an extreme kind so ef- ally as to warrant the credit of may be truly called a cure. It estly to be hoped that further iment may confirm this good and that Dr. Richardson, to we already owe the intro- on of ether spray as an anæs- may really have vanquished rrible foe which he has been ating.

MISCELLANEOUS.

CEAN SAW MILL.

TOOMER (late of Danner & Toomer,) SUPERINTENDENT.

HER shipped up or down the Mississippi r can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and nage by extra handling. ubbers a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Wal- k, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar LAND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths. Box 98, Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. dress TOOMER.

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL-MAKER,

.....POYDRAS STREET..... ...107

for COTTON DUCK of all widths and des- s, Tents, Tarpaulins and Flags constantly Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other ing done to order at shortest notice owest prices. J. C. MILLER, No. 107 Poydras street.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

s, Chemicals, Patent Medicines

PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF NCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES, r. Bienville and Charters Sts., NEW ORLEANS, ietor of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters.

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS. CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY Estimates and Samples on application. WM. COULTER, & SON 102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

BUSINESS CARDS.

E. PETITORY, FAMILY GROCERY, COR. EUTERPE AND DRYADES STS., NEW ORLEANS. Goods delivered free of charge.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE OF THE FOURTH DISTRICT, 595.....MAGAZINE ST.....595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPERIAL TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

EDWARD SALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.

SALLE & CAMMACK, COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, No. 193 Gravier Street, New Orleans. Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL.....COAL.....COAL.

R. D. WOOD & BROS., 2nd Common St., opposite City Hotel. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all Kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by boat-load or by car from the canal, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

THOMAS OWEN, DEALER IN Fancy and Staple Groceries, CHOICE TEAS, ETC., Cor. Dryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans. Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET, AT J. L. NEVERS', Successors to E. C. PUDLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

MARTIN WEYDIG, No. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS, MANUFACTURER OF SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE, Dealers and Manufacturers supplied on the most favorable terms. Leather and R. R. Shoe Oils. Shoe and Fire Buckets, Horse Shoes and Brads, Lap Dusters, Buggy Robes, Oil Nets, and Whips of all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and carefully executed.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT. AIKEN & WATT, COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS, 193 Union Street, New Orleans, La. Special attention given to sale of the produce of all descriptions of Planters. Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WOOD.....COAL.....LUMBER. NO. 351 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Lehigh and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Viele, Blum & Lemoine Sawed Shingles, at 100 Shorts, 1 bell. Orders left at my office, 91 Dryades street, or at 282 Carondelet street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed. SAM. SMITH.

NEW LEATHER STORE. A. F. RICAU, IMPORTER AND DEALER IN French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins, Shoe Findings, &c., 38 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS. Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN, DEALER IN WOOD, COAL AND ICE, Corner Philip and Peymalia Streets, NEW ORLEANS, LA. Meat and Fish kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS, OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES, At Low Figures for Cash. Country Merchants and Peddlers will find it to their advantage to call before purchasing elsewhere. H. MUMM, No. 54 Magazine street, and No. 70 Bienville street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS, GENERAL ENGRAVER, 101.....CANAL STREET.....101 Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed. Seals and Stamps for Notaries, Corporations, Merchants, Druggists, Physicians, Lodges, Societies, etc., etc. Jewelry and Silverware marked and engraved.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY, BOOK BINDER, RULER AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER, 92.....Camp Street.....92 (Over James A. Grosjean & Co.'s) New Orleans. Music Books and Portfolios bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON, DEALER IN MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS, Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street, Between Canal and Custom-house, NEW ORLEANS.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Rea, Seaman & Adams) wish to inform their numerous customers that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their stock is and will ever be kept complete, and their prices cannot be equalled by their competitors. Ladies will do well to call early with their Holiday Orders in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and artistic. Promptness to operate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EBERT, ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS, And General Housesmith.  Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences and Verandas of all kinds made to order, also Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings. 129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod, Box 214, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. BRISWOLD & CO., (LATE OF CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,) WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS AND SILVERWARE, Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. H. WALLACE & CO., COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS, 70.....Carondelet St.....70 NEW ORLEANS, LA. Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods at every description at lowest cash prices.

CRESCENT MACHINE AND BLACKSMITH SHOP, Corner of Foucher and St. Joseph Sts., NEW ORLEANS. JOHN BLACKADDER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter, constructs new Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery at every description. Prices to suit the times.

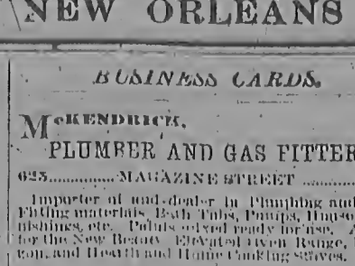
BUSINESS CARDS.

McKENDRICK, PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER, 625.....MAGAZINE STREET.....625 Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials, Bath Tubs, Pumps, Hose, Fur nishings, etc. Pulls cut and ready for use. Agent for the New Bronze Elevated Oven Range, Parisian and Hearth and Home Cooking Stoves.

H. SPIEGEL, UPHOLSTERER, 651 MAGAZINE ST. 651 Near Jackson, New Orleans. Parlor sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and fall openings planned and tacked. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER, And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc. No. 157 and 159 Old Levee St., Between Bienville and St. Peter, New Orleans. A full assortment of Paints, Oil, Gaskets, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keeps a complete assortment of French and Columbian Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

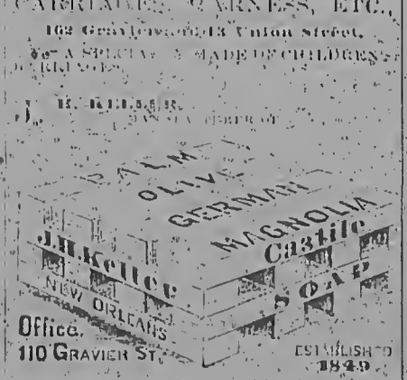
MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of Independence street, 8th District, New Orleans. Office, No. 15 Tchoupitoulas, between Valmont and Hotchkiss streets. L. CARBO, Sr., Agent. Keep constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spreaders, all sizes and lengths. Square Valmut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., at all kinds of Lumber. Cypress Shingles, Stave, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Chapboards, Fire wood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Parties coming South can find a large assortment of Timber and Boards. Address P. O. Box 2,58, New Orleans Postoffice or Box No. 62, Mechanics' and Lumber Exchange.



N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LEE & CO., MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC., 162 Gravier and 213 Union Street. A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S Solid Seats.

J. B. KELLER, DEALER IN



ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAP.

FLORIAN RAY. ELVIN THOMAS.

LANGLAS & LEGENDRE, COMMISSION MERCHANTS AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE, 17 COMMON STREET, (Upstairs,) New Orleans.

PERSONAL CARDS.

DR. OTTO JOSSE, DENTIST, 217 BAUDIN STREET 217 Near Esplanade Avenue.

DR. JOHN W. SADDS, SURGEON DENTIST, Office and Residence No. 53 DAUPHINE ST., (Late Operating Office one door from corner of Spain, No. 51 Dauphine.) Chloroform Only Used as an Anæsthetic for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite base.

A. L. TUCKER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, (Office in Parish Jail, St. Mary Parish, La.) 169.....COMMON STREET.....169 (Upstairs,) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Nashville ave., cor. to FRANKLIN street, to my old stand, corner of Bienville street. I have still on hand a large assortment of Coffins and Fine Metal Sticks and Spreads, all sizes and lengths. Square Walnut, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc., at all kinds of Lumber. Cypress Shingles, Stave, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Chapboards, Fire wood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Bills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Parties coming South can find a large assortment of Timber and Boards. Address P. O. Box 2,58, New Orleans Postoffice or Box No. 62, Mechanics' and Lumber Exchange.

DR. JOHN W. SADDS, SURGEON DENTIST, No. 53 DAUPHINE ST., (Late Operating Office one door from corner of Spain, No. 51 Dauphine.) Chloroform Only Used as an Anæsthetic for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite base.

A. L. TUCKER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, (Office in Parish Jail, St. Mary Parish, La.) 169.....COMMON STREET.....169 (Upstairs,) New Orleans.

JAMES W. BARNES, SURGEON DENTIST, 508 MAGAZINE STREET. 508 Near the Market.

DR. C. J. BICHIAM, RESIDENCE AND OFFICE, 649 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson, NEW ORLEANS. Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS, NO. 218 CARONDELET STREET, Between Julia and St. Joseph. New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. C. W. RACE. W. H. TORTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FORSTER, ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS AND SOLICITORS, Corner of Camp street and Commercial Place, NEW ORLEANS.

J. H. MCHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for Merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to sugar Planters. Office, 22 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful light equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

THESE WORKS are so very simple as to defy almost lengthy description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas Maker that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, Using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from a sanitary and hygienic point of view—we use no Drains, Pumps or Blowers to get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all foreign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Pipe, Water or Acid. Our Works are of the Simplest Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas-making business, could suggest, derive or produce, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be placed on or removed from any premises much more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.

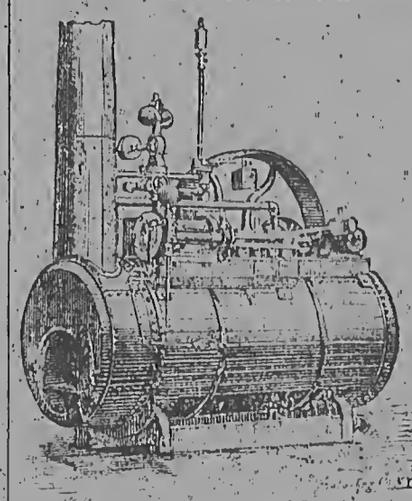
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The operation our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights For Sale. The best opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

5 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST,

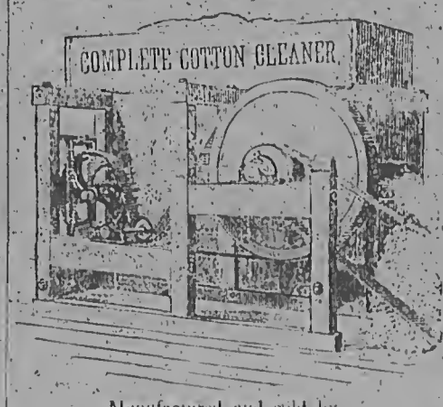
SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.



The Complete Cotton Cleaner, a New, Valuable and Money-making Machine, to every Cotton producer or ginner,—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

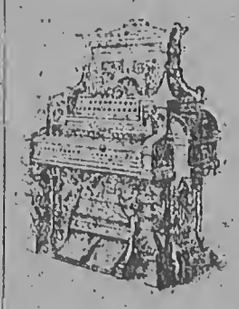
No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.



PHILIP WERLEIN, Nos. 78, 80, 82 AND 84 BARONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as Chickering, Decker Bros., Weber, Hallet Davis & Co., Mason & Hamlin and Clough & Warren. The largest stock, the best Pianos and Organs, the easiest terms and the lowest prices in the South. No trades, unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA! IT IS.

231 PAGES,

Its Topography and Valuable Resources,

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

SENT, 50 CENTS POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO DEALERS.

10,000 Copies Just Published—3,000 Copies Sold!

The Press of New Orleans have given this book a strong indorsement.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

It is a book which has long been wanted and of extended sale. I am selling copies daily that are mailed to all parts of the world. GEORGE WILLIS, Bookseller, Opposite the Postoffice.

During my long experience as a Bookseller in this city, I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work. Mr. DENNETT'S LOUISIANA AS IT IS so precisely the book that has been called for, it gives general satisfaction to my patrons in the city and country. It is a true character with the generality known it would require ten times the present edition of 10,000 copies to supply the demand. C. C. HALEY, Bookseller, 19 Commercial Place, Branch, 153 Poydras street.

After experience of twenty five years as bookseller in New Orleans will readily refer to saying that the book last issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, LOUISIANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by residents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing. JAMES A. GRESHAM, 92 Camp and 118 Canal street.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain Supplies of Our above book at the wholesale establishment of ROBERT J. HARP, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS. Established in 1858. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs artistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

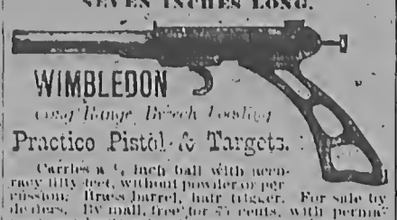
ADOLPH SITTER, GLASS STAINER, Particular Attention Paid to Church Work. Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to. 212 N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive, ST. LOUIS, MO.

GEORGE W. ROPER, DEALER IN Fancy Goods and Millinery, 103.....CANAL STREET.....103 NEW ORLEANS, LA. Ladies' Lace Hoods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

RICHARD RHODES, LATE F. CHARLEVILLE, SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT, 55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS. Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen. Rods, Reels, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail. GUNS, RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of the best importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needed by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated "Dead Shot" Gunpowder Shot, Eley's Shells, Percussion Caps, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail. R. RHODES

M. H. APPLEGATE, PLUMBER, AND DEALER IN Cooking Ranges and Boilers, Bath Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Kitchen Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Ale Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns, 116 Poydras St., New Orleans, La. REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Practice Pistol & Targets.

Carries a ⅛ inch ball with accuracy fifty feet, without powder or percussion. Brass barrel, hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free, for 75 cents, with permanent ammunition for target practice in-doors and for sporting out of doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. A. GRAHAM, Liberty Street, New York.

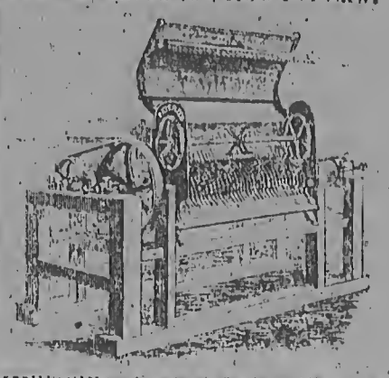
HEATH, PIPPEY & LAHA, IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nolting, Lamp Curtains, Mirrors, Moldings Chromos, Engravings, Etc. Frames made to order a specialty. No. 181 Camp Street, NEW ORLEANS.

ATTENTION! M. ANDRIEU, 159.....POYDRAS STREET.....159 Home-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair. City-made Heels and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent's, Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED "Revolving Head" Cotton Gin, PATENTED JULY 15, 1874.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed than any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work within the same time with the consumption of less or no more power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing cotton of this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every 100 bales ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO., GENERAL AGENTS, 59.....Carondelet St.....59 NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE, AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS, 22.....Main Street.....22 HOUSTON, TEXAS.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO. No. 12 Union St. New Orleans, La. DEALERS IN MACHINERY. SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPARE OUR PRICES. MACHINERY MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES. MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, AND COTTON PRESSES MILLS

SOUTHERN FARMERS' DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best Farm Machinery, OF ALL KINDS. Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers, Lime, Plaster and Cement, D. H. STOCKELL & CO. NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE and STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS. SAW, FLOUR, AND GRIST MILLS. MILL GEARING MADE FROM WOOD PATTERNS. SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS. No. 12 IMPROVED DESIGN A SPECIALTY. The UNEQUALLED JAS. LEFFEL DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL, 7000 in use. ADDRESS, POOLE & HUNT. SEND FOR CIRCULARS. BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1845.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY, Cor. Delord and Fourcher Sts. We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Boilers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Braming Machines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell, Screw, Gin Gearing, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Journals or Chairs, all kinds of Plantation and Steamboat work, and every description of Machinery by the South. LEEDS & CO. Orders left at Box 70, Mechanics and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY. IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING. HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING, &c. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list. GEORGE PLACE, 121 CHAMBERS AND 103 READE STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY, Bell Founders, West Troy, New York. FIFTY years established. CHURCH BELLS and CHIMES. ACADEMY, FACTORY, BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Established in 1837. Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the Patent Rotary Hangings. For Churches, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Departments, Plantations, Steamboats, Etc. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, 102 & 104 Second St., Cin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WILLIAM GREGG. MRS. ADA GREGG

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau, NO. 151 CANAL STREET, Next door to New Orleans Savings Institution. NEW ORLEANS, LA.

A large acquaintance with the various kinds of SEWING MACHINES has induced us to make a specialty of this line. First-class Machines of all kinds at lowest rates. The New Under Feed Buckeye Hand Machine, only $25. We repair all Machines at low rates. We take old Machines in part payment for new ones. Sewing Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments to the country to parties giving references.

MRS. ADA GREGG respectfully offers her services in purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adornment or domestic goods for Ladies and Children's use, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Trimmings, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article of Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

N. B.—All inquiries relative to articles mentioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCE.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss. Send for catalogue and circular.

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, June 27, 1876.

MONETARY.

The condition of our market is unchanged. The same dullness prevails. Money-lenders scrutinize closely each piece of paper offered for discount. Money is plenty, but to obtain it, except on strictly first-class collaterals, is difficult at any price. We note the fact that the Louisiana National Bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. Stock market quiet. Gold, 112, with a light demand for it. A1 commercial paper, 10@12; exceptional paper, 8. First-class mortgage paper, 9@10.

The following report from the Clearinghouse exhibits the movement in our banks up to Friday last:

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE ASSOCIATED BANKS,

At the close of business, Friday, June 23, 1876.

RESOURCES.

Specie	$20,338 12
Currency	4,381,088 91
Clearinghouse exchanges	860,206 98
Checks on other local banks and bankers	11,367 59
Domestic and foreign exchange	3,356,203 37
Due from distant banks and bankers	427,781 67
Loans and discounts	9,311,165 29
Other cash assets	4,000 154 19
Total	$23,148,338 02

LIABILITIES.

Circulation	$852,018 50
Deposits	13,218,052 2
Due distant banks and bankers	1,120,651 37
Other cash liabilities	579,813 02
Total	$15,890,534 41

I. N. MAYNARD, Manager.

GENERAL MARKET.

In our ramblings among the storekeepers we notice that all are quiet, and have accepted the situation of affairs with a degree of composure well suited to the times; but our leading merchants are hopeful, and consider the future promises better days for our city. Many think bottom has been reached, and that we are slowly but steadily on the up grade. Stocks of merchandise, breadstuffs and provisions are quite light, while the demand is small. Shipments from the West are larger this week than last.

COTTON.

The three great markets of the world—Liverpool, New Orleans and New York—have moved with steadiness the past week. On Monday there was a slight depression, which necessitated a reduction of an 1c. in prices.

Sales at Liverpool, 48,000 bales, against 65,000 bales last week; at New York, 4,316 bales, against 13,504 bales last week; at New Orleans, 9,050 bales, against 12,900 bales last week. World's visible supply, 2,554,829 bales.

We hear that two bales of new crop are expected from the Rio Grande, by the steamer Harris, on Thursday, and will be exhibited at the Exchange; but this does not prove that the crop is earlier than last season. Reports from the country are desired relative to the condition of crops of sugar, corn and cotton.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛
Thursday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛
Friday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛
Saturday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛
Monday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛
Tuesday	7⅞	8⅜	9⅝	10⅞	11⅜	12⅛

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

	Mobile, Middling.	Galveston, Middling.	Memphis Middling.
Wednesday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Thursday	10⅞	11⅛	11@11⅛
Friday	11⅛	11⅛	11@11⅛
Saturday	11⅛@11⅜	11⅛	11@11⅛
Monday	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Tuesday	11⅛	11⅛	11@11⅛

COTTON STATEMENT TO JUNE 27.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875	bales.	9,976
Received from that date to June 20, 1876		1,515,910
Received during past week		2,866
Amount of bales from city gins and pickeries		18,398—1,567,150
Total		1,576,980
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to June 20, 1876		1,488,853
Exported past week		6,786
Consumed by factory and burned		1,370—1,497,009
Stock on hand and amount not cleared		79,971
Estimated stock on shipboard		22,500
Amount remaining unsold, about		7,471
Stock at all the United States ports		309,880
Receipts at all the ports		4,055,167
Receipts last year to date		3,142,166
Increase at all the ports		913,001

SUGAR.—Receipts very light. Market quiet, and gimlet rangers generally retiring to summer quarters. Prices: Fair 8⅛c., fully fair 8¼c., yellow clarified 9@9¼c., white clarified 10@10⅛c.

MOLASSES.—Very dull. Quotations nearly nominal. Fair 48@50c., prime 52@54c., choice 55@57c.

RICE.—Not much doing and very little on hand. We quote Louisiana No. 2 at 2½@3c., common 4@4⅛c., ordinary 4⅝@4¾c., fair 5@5⅛c., good 5⅞@6c., prime 6⅛@6⅜c. ₱ lb.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	from	to
Eggs, ₱ doz:
Prime, good demand	—	18c.
Attakapas, demand fair	—	12½
Western and country	—	10
Chickens, ₱ doz:
Creole, grown	$3 00	$4 50
Creole, half grown	2 00	3 50
Good fat country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creole.
Wool, ₱ lb:
Hurry	10	15
Free of burrs	18	21
Beeswax, ₱ lb	27	30
Hides, ₱ lb:
Green salted	6	7½
Dry	9	11½
Deer skins	25	28

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₱ lb, gross.

Fat grass fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$8 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@7c. ₱ lb, gross. Must fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb, gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice fancy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED.

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$1 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
U. J. West's corn mill	200 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	145 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skelt	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	100 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	8	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	11 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	2 25
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	18 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles, ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	—	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	3 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 16 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	—
Pat. Dryer, ₱ lb	12	15
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1½
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gall	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Window Sash, 12 lights: Size of lights.	Sash per path. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
8x10	60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	85	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 05	3 25
Sash Doors:	Single.		Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50		$4 50
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00		— —
3 feet x 7 feet 6 inches	— —		4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —		$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	— —		3 75
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1½ in. thick	$3 75		4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb:
Western choice	25	30
Goshen, choice	30	32
Coffee, ₱ lb:
Rio, fair	18	19½
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O G	— —	31
Candles, ₱ lb:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb:
Cocoa	38	60
Sweet	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, K D	— —	3 00
Cheese, ₱ lb:
Western factory	10	12
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	2 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	5 00	5 25
Choice XXX	5 50	6 75
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 50
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingersnaps	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	26
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, best	— —	45
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels,
Centennial	— —	35
Cuffy	— —	30
Porto Rico, choice	55	60
Refined and Raffued syrups	80	85
Half bbls., 5c. and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb:
No. 2	— —	2½
Ordinary	— —	3½
Fair	— —	5½
Prime to choice	6¼	6¾
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb:
Keller's magnolia	— —	5
Keller's olive	— —	5
Starch, ₱ lb	1	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	1 35
Coarse	1 05	1 10
Sugar, in bols:
Fair	8¼	8¾
Prime	9	9¼
Choice	9¾	10¼
Yellow clarified	10	10¾
White clarified	10¾	11¼
Crushed	11¼	11¾
Powdered	11¼	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Alspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	40
Cinnamon	— —	40
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong	1 00	— —
Green Imperial	1 25	— —
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	50	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	65	1 00
Smoking	90	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, choice	— —	75
White, mixed	— —	70
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis to Mulen	45	48
Bran, choice, ₱ Cwt	— —	80
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	25 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton Seed, meal	26 00	28 00
Cow Peas, ₱ bushel	1 50	2 25
Mixed clay	— —	1 50
Mixed red clay	1 75	2 25

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb:
Breakfast	10	11½
Shoulder	9½	9¾
Sides, clear rib	— —	11½
Sides, clear	— —	12½
Hams, sugar cured	11	13
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	21 50	22 00
Dry Salted meat:
Shoulders	— —	8½
Lard, ₱ lb:
Choice, in kegs	— —	11½
Choice, in tierces	— —	11½

BAGGING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	— —	14
Jute	10½	11
Ties, Arrow, best, per hundred, at 50
Ties and buckles	— —	3 50
Board	— —	3 00
Twine, hemp	— —	15

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb:
Sole, hemlock	25	28
Sole, oak	34	40
Upper	35	45
Calf-skins, ₱ dozen	20 00	75 00
Tanned, rough, ₱ lb	24	26
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Stern's raw-bone superphosph	55 00	— —
Stern's fine ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	8
Standard brands, 7-8	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, 4-4	— —	7½
Choice brands, 7-8	10	11½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	5½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard
Common brands	10	11½
Good	19	22
Osnaburgs:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	11
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	28

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Unlined calf boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common lined boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Unlined calf brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	18 00
Misses' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 00

Special Notices.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grave, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the triennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES, By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 9574) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The Seashore Camp Meeting will commence on Wednesday, the nineteenth of July, and continue from eight to ten days.

The camp ground is delightfully situated upon the coast, two miles west of Biloxi, Miss., open to and fronting directly upon the Gulf of Mexico, enjoying the cool and refreshing breezes of the sea.

Persons visiting the camp meeting will leave the New Orleans and Mobile railroad at Seashore Camp Ground station from which a shaded walk of a few hundred feet will bring them to the encampment.

Eligible lots or building will be furnished free to persons desiring to erect permanent tents, and can be obtained from the trustees, or the agent, representing them upon the ground, at all times.

All permanent tents are required to be of value of not less than $10, and must be completed at least one week before the commencement of the camp meeting. This rule does not preclude the use of temporary tents, constructed of cloth or other material for which pleasant positions will be assigned to all persons desiring it.

Favorable reductions of fare and freights on the railroad have been secured. On the New Orleans and Mobile road the fare from New Orleans to camp ground, for the round trip, is $4 75; from Mobile, the round trip, $2; and from Pensacola, Fla., the round trip, $7 60.

The camp meeting tickets will be placed on sale at the offices of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, July 18, and continue good until July 30, inclusive. These tickets will not be good to return unless stamped by the agent of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, who will be on the ground. This order will be rigidly enforced by the railroad company. The sale of tickets from local points on this road will begin as above, and at the same rates as last year. Freight will be carried from New Orleans and Mobile to camp ground at half rates, and returned free. Shipments can be made any time after July 10, and continue during the meeting. By the Morgan road passage will be all rail, or one way only. By New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago road one and one fifth the full fare only. Taking these cars, persons on making known that they are going to the camp meeting will have their ticket punched and return it, and, having paid single fare to the camp ground, will return on the same free.

From their new purchase of another hundred acres since the camp meeting last year, the trustees have made a large and desirable addition to the camp ground, embracing several delightful and refreshing springs, cool and health-giving. The grounds have been cleaned up and improved generally.

Tents, cots, etc., have been provided for rent to persons or families as they may desire.

Provision has been made by the board of trustees, and under their supervision, for a good restaurant. Meals and lodgings will be furnished at reasonable prices. Use of bath-houses free.

Brethren of the Methodist Church, and of other churches, and the communities of the adjacent cities and country, are invited to attend the camp meeting.

Several Bishops and other ministers of talent and distinction from far and near are expected to be present, and to assist at conducting the exercises.

Persons are recommended to make arrangements for their comfort, before the date of the camp meeting, by application to any of the board of trustees: Dr. E. T. Griffin, Moss Point, Miss. William Otis and Hugh L. Hopper, Mobile; J. H. Keller, George W. W. Goodwen, R. G. L. Rayne, H. S. Hickey, P. Ballereau and W. H. Foster, New Orleans.

THE Alexandria District Conference and District Camp Meeting will convene at the Castor Sulphur Springs, Catahoula parish, La., twenty miles southwest of Columbia, on the ninth of August, 1876.

Pastors will please inform themselves fully as to the condition of their charges, so as to be able to answer the questions indicated in chapter 2, section 3 page 51 of the Discipline.

We would kindly urge upon all ministers and delegates, the importance of attending this conference and camp meeting. Ample provision will be made for taking care of all ministers and delegates.

The Castor Sulphur Springs are unsurpassed for their superior medicinal properties, the situation is all that could be desired and we pray that the expected large attendance at the District Conference and camp meeting will be benefited bodily and spiritually.

S. H. COOPER, P. E.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF PENSKNARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA. The annual sermon will be preached on July 9, by the Rev. William E. Munsey, D. D.

Meeting of the board of trustees, July 10, at 9 A. M. Exhibition of Preparatory Department, July 10, 8 P. M.

Tuesday, July 11. Meeting of the alumni, and delivery of diplomas to their graduates by the societies. Eight P. M. Exhibition of the literary societies, followed by an address from the Rev. R. H. Rivers, D. D.

Wednesday, July 12. Commencement day. Speeches by the five graduates, and baccalaureate by the president.

C. G. ANDREWS, President.

THE Prattville District Conference will convene at Prattville on Wednesday, July 5, at eight o'clock, P. M. Opening sermon by Rev. J. W. Shares.

A. J. Ruttons.

NOTICE TO DELEGATES TO PRATTVILLE DISTRICT CONFERENCE, JULY 5.—Conveyances will meet you at Coosada (the first station above Montgomery on the North and South railroad) on Wednesday and Thursday; and at Washington, on the Alabama river, on Thursday evening when the boat is going down, and on Friday morning when going up. Come to time, brethren, and write me beforehand.

J. W. RUSH, Pastor.

THE Selma District Conference for Selma district, Alabama Conference, will be held at Camden, Ala., beginning on the twenty-seventh of July, and including the 31st inst.

H. R. REVES, P. E.

HOMER DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—The District Conference for Homer district will convene in Arcadia, directly on the stage line from Monroe to Shreveport, July 27, 1876, and continue over the Sabbath following. The preachers in charge will please have their reports prepared, especially on those subjects mentioned on the fifty-first page of the Discipline.

JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

NOTICE.—The camp meeting at the Union camp ground, Grove Hill circuit, will commence on Friday night, the first of September. A cordial invitation is extended to all who may be disposed to attend, and especially to our ministering brethren. Preparation will be made for the accommodation of all who may be in attendance. We hope to have a good attendance of people and preachers and a gracious revival of religion from the presence of the Lord.

BASCOM C. GLENN, Pastor.

GROVE HILL, ALA., June 11, 1876. 22

WESLEY CHAPEL CAMP MEETING. A camp meeting will be held, commencing August 25 and lasting some eight days, at the camp ground one mile north of Woodville, Lincoln parish, La. Preachers are specially invited to attend.

J. LANE HORNER, P. C.,
22 Vernon Ct., Louisiana Conference.

THE District Conference for Vicksburg district Mississippi Conference, will be held at Port Gibson, beginning July 19. Preachers in charge will please forward me the names of delegates and local preachers who will be in attendance.

E. H. MORNGER.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Enterprise station	June 17, 18
Waynesboro circuit, at Waynesboro	" 24
Meridian station	July 1, 2
Wayne circuit, at Andrew chapel	" 8, 9
Quitman circuit, at Quitman	" 15, 16
Shubuta circuit, at Soule chapel	" 22, 23
Paddock circuit, at Philadelphia	" 29, 30
DeKalb circuit, at Prairie chapel	Aug. 5, 6
Spring Hill circuit, at Union	" 12, 13
Lauderdale circuit, at Mount Hebron	" 19, 20
Enterprise mission	" 26, 27
Marion circuit, at Pleasant Hill	Sept. 2, 3

The District Conference will be held at Waynesboro, June 23, 24 and 25.

JOHN A. ELLIS, P. E.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Whitmore circuit	Aug. 19, 20
Durant circuit	" 26, 27
Kosciusko station	Sept. 2, 3
Liberty camp meeting	" 8, 10
Zion	" 16, 17
Athens	" 23, 24
Newport	" 30, Oct. 1
Richland	Oct. 7, 8
Bloomfield	" 14, 15
Black Hawk	" 21, 22
Valden	" 28, 29
Winona and Carrollton	Nov. 4, 5
Bethlehem	" 11, 12

J. W. KNOTT, P. E.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

MARIANA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Big Creek circuit, at Mount Zion	June 17, 18
Cerro Gordo mission, at Sandy creek	" 24, 25
Holmes' Valley mission, at Orange Hill	July 1, 2
Cedarn circuit	" 8, 9
Columbia circuit	" 15, 16
Marianna station	" 18
Geneva circuit, at Elim	" 22, 23
Newton circuit, at Sylvan Grove	Aug. 12, 13
Echo circuit, at Brown's chapel	" 19, 20
Ozark circuit, at Haw Ridge	" 26, 27
Greenwood circuit, at Campbellton	Sept. 2, 3

HENRY D. MOORE, P. E.

RAILROADS.

The Real Centennial Route!

PAN-HANDLE

AND

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.

The Only Line Running Passenger Coaches on to the Grounds of

FAIRMOUNT PARK, at Philadelphia.

MANY HOURS QUICKER than any other route, (being the shortest, and not requiring excessive speed to reach the Centennial Grounds, except the new and handsome Hotels are erected within five minutes' walk of the MAIN CENTENNIAL BUILDING. The Pennsylvania Railroad cars stop directly in front of these magnificent and palatial Hotels, a great advantage to visitors, who desire to visit the entire NATIONAL DRILLER.

Three Daily Express Trains from Cincinnati making close connection, without a single wait or layover, which all trains from New Orleans and the South. By this route, it must be perceived that from New Orleans, or Louisville, the time, between New Orleans and New York is only Sixty-two Hours and Eleven Minutes. But one change from New Orleans to New York or Philadelphia, and no change from Cincinnati.

Steel Rails and Stone Ballast the entire route with double and treble tracks, and the best system of rail road telegraphing in the country which insures perfect safety. The scenery along the line of the route is historical—combining nature with art, and forming a perfect panorama of the country—heralding, as it does, hill and dale, mountains and valley, waterfalls and cascades, mountain rivers and murmuring brooks; in fact, as the European tourists say: "It is the Alpine country of America." All the principal manufacturing towns and State capitals (Columbus, Harrisburg and Trenton) are along this great line to Centennial.

No Other Route Offers Equal Facilities. The traveler, by this route, can breakfast in the Mississippi valley, dine at the capital of Pennsylvania, and take supper at New York. This is worthy of note, even in this advanced age of progress; but the PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE is equal to the occasion, as every traveler who knows the difference in routes will concede.

For full particulars call at the Railroad offices, corner Carondelet and Common streets, New Orleans.

SIDNEY H. JONES,
General S. W. Agent, Cincinnati.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WASHINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency,

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE

Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde Built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for cabin and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York, Glasgow and Belfast, and contemplating by first class steamers with Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin and saloon accommodations unexcelled. Shortest sea route. Superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews. Safety the governing rule. Fifteen weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passengers the very best in all respects through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes of excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from £5 up on any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and exchange sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

BATHS!—BATHS!

NO. 102 CONTI STREET

RUSSIAN VAPOR BATHS on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. For Ladies, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. For Gentlemen from 12 M. to 6 P. M. Sulphur and Fresh-Water Baths at all hours every day. Polite and special attention to guests.

J. KLOCK.

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary and Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Invite the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

530 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Delaines, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money returned or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent if requested.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$1 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gobleor Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

15 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain Decorated (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes,

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but slop jar and Foot Pan.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET.

Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice) 100 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, in good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES:

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—53 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SEWING MACHINE SA

FOR 1875.

The Singer Manuf'g Co. 24

Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Co.
Remington Sewing Machine Co.
Howe Machine Co. (estimated)
Weed Sewing Machine Co.
Domestic Sewing Machine Co.
Grover & Baker S. M. Co. (estimated)
Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Co.
American H. H., etc., Sewing Machine Co.
Gold Medal Sewing Machine Co.
Wil

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1876. NO. 27.

THE SHELL.

See what a lovely shell,
Small and pure as a pearl,
Lying close to my foot:
Frail, but a work divine,
Made so fairly well,
With delicate spire and whorl;
How exquisitely minute,
A miracle of design!

What is it? A learned man
Could give it a chimsy name:
Let him name it who can,
The beauty would be the same.

The tiny cell is forlorn,
Void of the little dying will
That made it stir on the shore.
Did he stand at the diamond door
Of his house in a rainbow frill,
Did he pace, when he was pearled,
A golden floor as a fairy horn,
Through his dim sea-water-world?

Slight, to be crushed with a tap
Of my finger-nail on the sand,
Small, but a work divine,
Frail, but of force to withstand,
Year upon year, the shock
Of extreme seas that stoop
The three-decker's oaken spine
Athwart the ledges of rock,
Here on the Breton strand!

Tennyson.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

CHARLESTON, June 28.—The celebration at Fort Moultrie took place in the parade grounds under a granite tent. Over five thousand persons were present. An address of welcome to the visitors was delivered by Gov. Chamberlain, after which Gen. Kershaw pronounced the oration.

To-night the city is brilliantly lighted, several banquets are going on, and the houses of leading citizens are thrown open for entertainment of the military guests. Nothing has occurred to mar the celebration but the heat, which has been exceptionally severe, and has prostrated hundreds with sunstroke. Only one case, so far, has proved fatal.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Four children—Katy Jones, Lary and Franky Cooney—aged respectively nine, seven, five and three years, were found starving to-day in a Washington street tenement house. Their father is dead, and their mother was sent to prison on Monday last for assault and battery. They were taken in charge by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

RICHMOND, July 1.—A battalion of the first regiment of Virginia volunteers, composed of companies A, B and C, left this morning for Philadelphia to participate in the Centennial parade on the fourth. The battalion numbers one hundred and fifty men, and is commanded by Maj. A. S. Ordway, of the first regiment. They will be absent eight days.

DENVER, July 2.—The returns thus far received indicate that the proposed State constitution has been ratified by an overwhelming majority. The day was treated by all classes as a holiday, stores and other places of business being closed and exclusive attention given to the election. Colorado will vote for President this year.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, June 29.—The Paris correspondent of the Standard reports that a regular war panic prevailed on the bourse yesterday, founded on the belief that it would be impossible to confine war between Turkey and Servia to the limits of the Ottoman empire, and that a collision between Russia and Great Britain would eventually result.

The Times says there is little hope of maintaining peace.

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Reuter Telegram Company says that Prince Milan left that place for the army at five o'clock this morning, amid the cheers of the populace and salutes from his batteries. All his ministers accompany him as far as Paramandria, twenty-four miles from Belgrade. It is expected that upon joining the army Prince Milan will issue a proclamation to the Servian nation. The Servian metropolitan and all the bishops have gone to the frontier to bless the troops.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 30. The representative of Russia at Belgrade acting on a direct order of the Emperor, has to the last moment done everything in his power to persuade Prince Milan from invading Turkish territory. The Prince, however, declares that, being urged by the people, he could not remain a passive spectator after the acts committed by the Turks in Bosnia and their violation of Servian territory. Had the Porte accepted the suggestion of appointing him viceroy of Bosnia, on condition of his recognizing the Sultan's full sovereignty, the Prince believed that the insurrection and consequently threatening aspect of affairs would have been avoided. The Porte would not negotiate with Servia, and he was compelled to yield to the public feeling of the country and must act accordingly.

HAMILTON, ONT., July 1. The following decision has been given by Judge Sinclair in the Jones extradition case: "I think the prisoner must be committed for extradition. The evidence adduced before me is, in my opinion, on the authorities cited, quite sufficient to justify me in making the warrant asked for."

The prisoner's counsel's plea that, as the prisoners had been tried, convicted and escaped before sentence, the provisions of the Ashburton treaty did not apply. The treaty can only be carried by a fair and liberal construction. It would be a reproach to our system of administering the law and of constructing treaties like this, which have for their object the proper punishment of crimes, if requisition could be made only on a plea that the prisoner charged had not been tried and convicted. I think the fact of conviction only strengthens the case against this prisoner, and that he cannot be allowed to set up his wrongful act of breaking jail and escaping before sentence as an answer to the claim for extradition. I therefore think the prisoner's case comes within the true spirit of the treaty, and that the ground of objection fails."

LONDON, July 1.—In the House the home rule motion was rejected—291 to 61.

BELGRADE, July 2.—The manifesto of Prince Milan was promulgated on Saturday, and a state of siege proclaimed throughout Servia.

LONDON, July 3.—The Times editorial says the Princes of Servia and of Montenegro have entered upon a great enterprise, and must be allowed to fight it out. We do not mean to say that if their efforts proved so successful as to cause a complete break up of the union between the European provinces and Turkey, we might not be constrained to express our opinion as to the destination as to some one or two of them, but there are remote contingencies the anticipation whereof would not justify our interfering to restrain the princes. Now we hope and believe that no body in England dreams of such an interference. If this thought has been harbored anywhere it must be dissipated as soon as it assumes practical shape. The article concludes with a forecast of the result of the conflict highly unfavorable to Turkey.

Democratic Convention.

THE PLATFORM.—NOMINATION OF TILDEN AND HENDRICKS.

ST. LOUIS, June 28.—The convention was called to order at 2.15 P. M. Judge Meredith, of Virginia, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the report, stating that a great many resolutions were presented, all of which had been carefully examined and discussed before coming to an agreement. He requested Gov. Dorsheimer, of New York, to read it to the convention, as follows:

THE PLATFORM.

We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, do here declare the administration of the federal government to be in urgent need of immediate reform; do hereby enjoin upon the members of this convention and of the Democratic party in each State a zealous effort and co-operation to this end, and do hereby appeal to our fellow-citizens of every former political connection to undertake with us this first and most pressing patriotic duty. For the Democracy of the whole country we do here reaffirm our faith in the permanency of the federal Union, our devotion to the constitution of the United States, with its amendments universally accepted as a final settlement of the controversies that engendered civil war, and do here record our steadfast confidence in the perpetuity of republican self-government; in absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority, the vital principle of republics; in the supremacy of the civil over the military authority; in the total separation of Church and State, for the sake alike of civil and religious freedom; in the equality of all citizens before the just laws of their own enactment; in the liberty of individual conduct, unvexed by sumptuary laws. To the faithful education of the rising generation, that they may preserve, enjoy and transmit these best conditions of human happiness and hope, we behold the noblest products of a hundred years of changeful history. But while upholding the fond of our Union and the great charter of these our rights, it behooves a free people to practice also that eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty. Reform is necessary to rebuild and establish in the hearts of the whole people the Union eleven years ago happily rescued from the danger of a corrupt centralism, which, after inflicting upon ten States the rapacity of carpet-bag tyrannies, has honeycombed the officers of the federal government itself with incapacity, waste and fraud, infected States and municipalities with the contagion of misrule, and locked fast the prosperity of our industrious people in the paralysis of hard times. Reform is necessary to establish a sound currency, restore the public credit and maintain the national honor. We denounce the failure for all these eleven years to make good the promise of the legal-tender notes which are a changing standard of value in the hands of the people, and the non-payment of which is a disregard of the plighted faith of the nation.

We denounce the improvidence which, in eleven years of peace, has taken from the people, in federal taxes, thirteen times the whole amount of legal tender notes, and squandered four times this sum in useless expense, without accumulating any reserve for their redemption.

We denounce the financial imbecility and immorality of that party, which, during the eleven years of peace, has made no advance toward resumption; that instead has obstructed resumption by wasting our resources and exhausting all our surplus income, and, while annually professing to intend a speedy return to specie payments, has annually enacted fresh hinderances thereto. As such a hinderance we denounce the resumption clause of the act of 1875, and we here demand its repeal. We demand a judicious system of preparation by public economies, by official retrenchments, and by wise finance, which shall enable the nation to insure the whole world of its perfect ability and its perfect readiness to meet any of its promises at the call of the creditor entitled to payment. We believe such a system, well devised, and, above all, intrusted to competent hands for execution, creating at no time an artificial scarcity of currency, and at no time alarming the public mind into a withdrawal of that vaster machinery of credit by which ninety-five per cent. of all business transactions are performed—a system open, public, and inspiring general confidence—would, from the day of its adoption, bring healing on its wings to all our harassed industry, and set in motion the wheels of commerce, manufactures, and the mechanical arts, restore employment to labor, and renew in all its national source the prosperity of the people. Reform is necessary in the sum and mode of federal taxation, to the end that capital may be set free from distress, and labor lightly burdened.

We denounce the present tariff, levied upon nearly four thousand articles, as a masterpiece of injustice, inequality and false pretense; it yields a dwindling, not a yearly rising revenue; it has impoverished many industries to subsidize a few; it prohibits imports that might purchase the products of American labor; it has degraded American commerce from the first to an inferior upon the high seas; it has cut down the sales of American manufactures at home and abroad, and depleted the returns of American agricultural industry, followed by half our people; it costs the people five times more than it produces to the treasury, obstructs the processes of production and wastes the fruits of labor; it promotes fraud and fosters smuggling, enriches dishonest officials and bankrupts honest merchants. We demand that all custom-house taxation shall be only for revenue. Reform is necessary in the scale of public expense, federal, State and municipal. Federal taxation has swollen from $16,000,000 gold in 1860 to $450,000,000 currency in 1870. Our aggregate taxation from $181,000,000 gold in 1860, to $730,000,000 currency in 1870, or in one decade from less than $5 per head to more than $18 per head. Since the peace the people have paid to their tax gatherers more than thrice the sum of the national debt, and more than twice that amount for the federal government alone. We demand a vigorous frugality in every department, and from every officer of the government. Reform is necessary to put a stop to the profligate waste of public lands, and their diversion from actual settlers by the party in power, which has squandered two hundred millions of acres upon railroads alone, and out of more than twice that aggregate has disposed of less than a sixth directly to the tillers of the soil. Reform is necessary to correct the omissions of the Republican Congress, and the errors of our treaties and our diplomacy, which stripped our fellow-citizens of foreign birth and kindred race, recrossing the Atlantic, of the shield of American citizenship, and have exposed our brethren of the Pacific slope to the incursions of a race not sprung from the same great parent stock; in fact now denied by law citizenship through naturalization, as being neither accustomed to the traditions of a progressive civilization, or exercised in liberty under equal laws.

We denounce the policy which thus discards the liberty-loving German and tolerates the revival of the coolie trade in Mongolian women for immoral purposes, and Mongolian men hired to perform servile labor contracts, and demand such modifications of the treaty with the Chinese empire, or such legislation by Congress within a constitutional limitation, as shall prevent the further importation or immigration of the Mongolian race. Reform is necessary, and can never be effected but by making it the controlling issue of the elections, and lifting it above the two false issues with which the office-holding class and the party in power seek to smother it; the issues with which they would enkindle sectarian strife in respect to the public schools, of which the establishment and support belong exclusively to the several States, and which the Democratic party has cherished from their foundation, and resolved to maintain without partiality or preference for any class, sect or creed, and without contributing from the treasury to any; the false issue by which they seek to light the dying embers of sectional hate between kindred peoples once unnaturally estranged, but now reunited in one indivisible republic and a common destiny.

Reform is necessary in the civil service. Experience proves that efficient, economical conduct of the governmental business is not possible if its civil service be subjected to change at every election, and be a prize offered at the ballot box as a brief reward of party zeal, instead of posts of honor, assigned for proved competency, and held for fidelity in the public employ; that the dispensing of patronage should neither be a tax upon the time of all our public men, nor the instrument of their ambition. Here, again, professions falsified in the performance attest that the party in power can work out no practical or salutary reform.

Reform is necessary even more in the higher grades of public service. The President, Vice-President, judges, senators, representatives, cabinet officers—these and all others in authority—are the people's servants. Their offices are not a private perquisite—they are a public trust. When the annals of this republic—the disgrace and censure of a vice president; a late speaker of the House of Representatives marketing his ruling as a presiding officer; three senators profiting secretly by their votes as law-makers; five chairmen of the leading committees of the late House of Representatives exposed in jobbery; a late Secretary of the Treasury forcing balances in the public accounts; a late Attorney General misappropriating public funds; a Secretary of the Navy enriched or enriching friends by percentages levied on the profits of contractors with his department; an embassador to England censured in a dishonorable speculation; the President's private secretary barely escaping conviction upon trial for guilty complicity in frauds upon the revenue; a Secretary of War impeached for high crimes and confessed misdemeanors—the demonstration is complete that the first step must be the public choice of honest men from another party, lest the disease of one political organization infest the whole body politic; and thereby, making no change of men or party, we can get no change of measures and no reform.

All these abuses, wrongs and crimes, the product of sixteen years of ascendency of the Republican party, create a necessity of reform confessed by the Republicans themselves. But their reformers are voted down in convention and displaced from the cabinet. The party's mass of honest votes is powerless to resist the eighty thousand office-holders, its leaders and guides. Reform can only be had by a peaceful civic revolution. We demand a change of system, a change of administration, a change of parties, that we may have a change of men.

The reading was frequently interrupted by applause.

The balloting resulted as follows:

FIRST BALLOT.

Adleo	56
Tilden	535
Parker	98
Hancock	75
Hayard	27
Hendricks	140

SECOND BALLOT.

Allen	54
Tilden	867
Parker	68
Hancock	71
Hendricks	108
Fine-man	2

Iowa changed 20 for Tilden; Illinois changed 21 for Tilden and 18 for Hendricks; Missouri changed 20 for Tilden and 10 for Hendricks.

At the close of the second ballot, without waiting for the announcement from the chair, the convention rose and gave long, tumultuous cheers. For ten minutes the excitement and noise almost drowned the music by the band.

Various other States announced changes amid great confusion, including Delaware, which went solid for Tilden.

Pennsylvania moved to make it unanimous.

Indiana seconded Pennsylvania's motion to make the nomination unanimous. Adopted.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Hendricks was nominated for Vice President on the first ballot.

The Seashore Camp Ground.

MR. EDITOR: The nearness of any event intensifies the interest centering therein. In this centennial year, in which there is so much of interest to American hearts as they look back at the work accomplished, or, standing on the present, look forward to all that is yet to be done—this is the year of anxieties and doubts. Amid all of these excitements, political and centennial, is there time to turn aside and spend a short season in worshiping and praising God? To those who are wearied with the heat and dust of the city, with its hurly-burly of rattling wheels and the tinkling car bells, the Seashore Camp Ground offers a sure and safe retreat, and it is very near the "mercy seat." To the farmer, who has sowed the seed, and watched for the early and later rain, the weeding and laying by of the crop, this resort is the place above all others; for here he is by the sea side and sea breeze, which cools the heated brow, and is the breath of commerce that wafts his products away to foreign shores. To every one, of whatever class or condition, this Seashore Camp Ground is the place to frequent.

The inducements to Christians to visit these grounds are greater than those of any other watering place on the sea shore. Here we are associated with fellow Christians. Here on these delightful grounds, beneath the waving boughs of oaks and magnolias, with their refreshing shade, one can surely look from nature up to nature's God. How near the approach to God, with the murmuring waves singing their mysterious songs as they break in gentle cadences on the sandy beach! And as we gaze on the whiteness of the sea shore sand, with its silvery, dazzling light, how the mind turns to the bright jasper walls and pearly gates of the New Jerusalem.

Since the last camp meeting the grounds have been greatly improved by setting out shade trees, and enlarged by the purchase of the tract of land west of and adjoining the original tract, on which are the celebrated springs of the sea shore, well known as the Mineral Springs. The waters of these springs are strongly impregnated with mineral qualities—two are sulphur, and one iron; and although there has been no analysis of the waters, yet from the experience of invalids, who have visited the grounds, they undoubtedly possess great curative qualities. The water flows out freely, and is almost as cold as ice water. Indeed, to drink of the water and see the springs alone, were there nothing else to see, would be almost worth the cost of the trip. But beside and beyond the natural attractions of the Seashore Camp Ground is the greater attraction of the camp meeting to be held on these grounds in July, commencing on the nineteenth and continuing for ten days. During these meetings we have the best of religious services—preaching, prayer, singing, and experience meetings. As Christians do we long for more holiness of heart and life, for deeper depths of humility and higher heights of perfect love? The camp meeting, with its songs of praise, and prayers of faith, and sermons preached in power, will be the helping hand to aid us on. Are you cold, lukewarm, forgetting the first love? Here is the place to start afresh, and have the love of God shed abroad with greater power in our hearts. Have you a friend, a child, not converted—careless, indifferent to the interests of their souls? Here is the place to bring them, for the services are almost continuous, and the hardest hearts will melt under the direct rays of gospel truth and life, as seen and heard on this blessed ground.

What are the prospects for a good meeting and a large attendance? Better than ever before. The public tents have all been rented, and the trustees are having four or five more erected. Those who were present last year are coming, and are bringing others with them. Can't you leave your business, your farm, your house, and join God's people in this week of service in this our centennial year?—join all the hosts who will gather by the sea side in singing, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow?" The psalmist of old sang: "I was glad when they said, Let us go up to the house of the Lord." So let our hearts join the refrain, and we will also say: "It was good to wait on the Lord." "Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad, let the sea roar; then shall the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord," and join the praises of his people.

R.

State Female College.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

It is with pleasure that we reproduce the following extracts from the editorial columns of the Western Methodist. "The State Female College has many friends and alumni within the bounds of our circulation, and they will be glad to learn of its continued prosperity.

During the past eleven months the hearts and thoughts of the many friends of the State Female College have been turned toward it with feelings of anxious solicitude. The sense of the terrible loss it had sustained in the death of its president, Dr. Collins, and the fact that this event would in all likelihood produce some change in its hitherto careful management, produced a natural anxiety on the part of the interested public, and serious fears were entertained that, under the influence of commercial depression, and its own great loss, it might not be able to triumph over the difficulties that surrounded and threatened it.

But the new president, Mrs. Collins, and those she called to her help, threw themselves into their noble work with an energy that at once challenged success. God raised up strong friends for the school on every hand, who not only gave it the comforting words of sympathy, but the substantial aid of patronage and influence. It was with a thrill of pleasure that they saw its halls fill up, last September, almost to their normal number, and the attendance steadily increase down to the very close.

There is no further doubt as to the future of the college. Those who have the work in hand have shown themselves capable of executing their task. All the school work has been as thoroughly and successfully done as ever in its past career. In its financial arrangements and management it has been, considering the times, wonderfully successful. No indebtedness hangs over its head to threaten its existence; its officers and faculty are cheerful and enthusiastic in its service; repairs have been kept up, and everything about it maintained in the very best condition. It remains thoroughly and heartily Methodist in its alliances, and Christian above all things. Let its friends cling to it as they have, and they can make it, as its managers intend, the greatest school of its class in the South.

Periodicals.

Appleton's Journal is now published as a monthly. It is devoted to popular literature, and all matters of taste and general culture, and it will prove to be one of the most entertaining magazines of the day. The number for July is handsomely illustrated. In the table of contents we note: Out of Londoo, Six Hotels, A Forest Retreat, Two Holy Mounts, Santa Barbara, Gobelin Tapestry, Ceramic Art at the Exhibition, and other articles. Price of the monthly Journal, $3 a year.

A gentleman, while out taking a drive, had the misfortune to have his carriage upset, and himself and a newly engaged young Scottish coachman thrown into the road. The gentleman was not seriously hurt, his principal loss being that of his wig. He found his servant standing in the middle of the road, bathing his head with one hand, through the fingers of which the blood was freely trickling, while he gazed with a stupefied sense of horror upon his master's wig, which he held at arm's length in his other hand. "Weel, Sandy, are you much hurt?" inquired the master compassionately. "Hurt!" exclaimed Sandy, in a tone that betrayed an injury to his feelings by the bare inquiry. "Ay, I'm doating, I'll leeve to see the morn after this. Din ye no see I hae lost the tap o' my head?"

She sat by the window, reading and rocking, and when she heard the child scream she put her finger on the line she was reading and called to the hired girl: "Sarah, go and tell that tarnal young 'un into the house." She had commenced another chapter when the poodle, walking up and down in front of the gate, was snapped up by a big cur. The book was thrown across the room as his yells were heard, the woman jumped up and ran, and as she reached the gate she screamed: "Sarah! Sarah! the poor darling dog will never get over this shock to his nervous system!"

"Yes, I want my daughter to study rhetoric," replied a Vermont mother, "for she can't fry pancakes now without smoking the house all up."

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1876.

GRAPES, WINE AND VINEGAR.

Weary and wasted, sick worn-out,
You sigh and shake white hairs, and say
"Ah; you will find the fruit one day
Of life and empire, do but doubt!"

Age rhymes to sage, and let us give
The hoary head its honors due;
Grant youth its privileges too
And tolloos how do, think and live.

Which has more chance to see aright
The many-colored shows of time—
Fresh human eyes in healthy prime,
Or custom-dull'd and failing sight?

Gone from the primrose and the rose
Their diversely delicious breath,
Since no fine waiting visit'd
An old, perhaps a smelly, nose?

Youth has its truth: I'd rather trust
Of two extremes, the ardent boy,
Excess of life and hope and joy,
Than this dejection and disgust.

Vinegar of experience—"drink"
Why so, and set our teeth on edge?
Nay, even grant what you allege,
We'll not anticipate, I think.

Who miss'd or loses, earlier truth,
Though old, we shall not count it sage;
Rare the strong mellow'd wine of age
From sunshine-ripen'd grapes of youth.

Fraser's Magazine.

Bad Signs.

"Give, therefore, thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between the good and bad."

Well, Mr. Editor, I have never found any fault with that prayer. If Solomon did pray it in his sleep. His knowledge of human nature was better, with "his eyes shut," and his mind at rest, or inactive (and that, too, before the spirit of revelation was given), than ours is, perhaps, with all our senses thoroughly awakened and aroused. Now as God was pleased to answer his prayer, as seen in certain wise discriminations in after life, I suppose we have a right to pray in like manner, and expect a similar answer.

But to get at the gist of the matter at once, without "going around it a time or two," I have a few questions to propound. The preacher, we will suppose, is on his work—and at work too; in time becomes acquainted with the general state of affairs; knows the spiritual status of his congregation. He finds out that all is not as it should be. Worldliness, love of fashion and display, lukewarmness in every stage, indifference, want of reverence in the house of God, conformity to the world in its maxims, ways and principles, lack of sympathy with the preacher and his message, are all seen to exist in some degree. This sends him to his knees. He goes to his study, his heart sinking within him like a barometer before the coming storm. He mourns, weeps and prays. "Oh Lord Jesus," he says, "turn thy face toward Zion at this place. Let the outpouring of the Spirit be felt among the people. Give thy servant words that leave the blood-drops of Calvary on them, and may the bright, sharp, two-edged sword of the Spirit be so skillfully wielded that the mighty may fall before its piercing thrust, and the slain of the Lord be many." He enters the pulpit in such a frame of mind. His frame quivers; the word of God trembles on his lips; his tongue is loosed. "The thoughts of many hearts are revealed; the piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow," takes place as the result. Well, now for the question: You walk down the street the next morning, and meet Bro. N. on the opposite side. He bows coldly with a "How are you?" and passes on. A little further down you meet Bro. T., face to face, who speaks in a cold, formal manner to you, with not so pleasant a smile on his face as usual and somehow hasn't got much to say this morning. You walk into Bro. O.'s store, but he is so busy that he hasn't got ~~time to chat, as formerly~~; and yet he looks as if he would say: "You were after me" yesterday." Now what would you say to all this? I think your answer would be: "Well, I won't say anything, but I think it's a bad sign." You step out of the store and meet Sister M., and the muscles of her neck don't seem to be so pliable as of old, judging from the nod of the head. You call at Sister Y.'s, who meets you at the door, in response to the call of the bell, and says: "Good morning, Mr. X. (she used to say brother.) Won't you walk in?" and in you go. You've been "counting" on a good time here. You start the conversation in "the usual way," but it "don't work" this time. Somehow words don't seem to "flow apace," as before. You feel within yourself that this won't do; and by making short meter of everything you walk out in L. M. time, to prepare for the coming Sabbath the best way possible. Well, Mr. Editor, "how now?" And again the response rings in my ears: "A bad sign."

Does any one doubt if this ever takes place, he could soon be satisfied if he would take a little trouble to find out. Go, brother, whoever thou art that reads this, and ask your pastor if he knows anything of this in his own experience, and the answer will flash out in his own countenance in such a way that it will need no words for a reply. If we should go through the districts of the Louisiana Conference this fact would doubtless get the attestation—whether in the country, towns or cities—of many if not all the preachers laboring within its bounds.

But, Mr. Editor, how about the week-night meeting—i. e., the prayer meeting? One would think it a great privilege to take advantage of the promise of Jesus to meet him where two or three are gathered in his name, and receive his smiles into their very souls; and go away nearer the cross and heaven than when they came. I said privilege because I meant it. The church is supposed to be in such a spiritual state that she calls for an assembling of God's people during the week and only expects the pastor to lead her in the worship. She sees it's too long a strain from Sabbath to Sabbath or meal to meal, and calls for a lunch in the interim thereby giving God the Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday night. But sir when the voluntary called-for meeting is not had, and the preacher seems almost forcing an attendance when he holds the week-night meeting, I bring up the question again: "How now?" And the answer still is: "A bad sign."

I have sometimes thought the week was like a great bridge over a mighty stream; and, for fear that the weight might become too great for its strength, the church runs up a pier, in the way of a prayer meeting, midway the arch, for safety, and thus passes over the dangerous chasm without fear of damage.

If the promise of Christ to two or three stands firm and steadfast, and for eighteen hundred years has not failed in a single instance, I ask: What Christian can afford to stay away from the prayer meeting? And this brings the matter home to the heart of each professed disciple. "Brother," I seem to hear you exclaim, "I haven't got time to attend during the week." Then you haven't time to meet Christ; and this is a "bad sign." You say: "I can't leave my business till late at night, and so I can't well go." Then you value your business more than you do the meeting with Jesus. You say: "I can't shut my doors on my customers, and drive them from my counters, perhaps insult them and lose their patronage." Then you esteem their favor and money more than you do the favor and riches of Christ; and all these are bad signs. Then Sister So-and-So says she was "unwell, and so very tired," and she couldn't go; but she could work hard all day and go to the fair at night. Another says: "It was so cold and wet I was afraid to go out;" and yet I met her the next morning in the rain and mud, just coming from the shop, with bundles in her arms. Oh, Mr. Editor, it were good that male and female knew, or remembered, that Christ can't and won't bless empty pews. What would you think if these same brethren and sisters could find time, most any night, yea, on the prayer meeting night, to go out to lectures, fairs, suppers, panoramic shows, etc.; take all the children, and pay their money in addition, thereby sometimes upholding infidels and enemies of Christ in their ungodliness and work of death; and who at the same time complain, in the very excuses rendered, that we should expect them, under all the "peculiar circumstances," to attend the prayer meeting?

What moral benefit are they to the church of Christ? How is she sustained and honored by them? Who sees their lights burning, and glorifying Jesus and the Father of us all? What help are they to the preacher in his conflict with the powers of darkness? Oh, sir, if earth or heaven or hell were to answer this question, each would say: "None, none, none!" And this, I think, is a "bad sign." How much time do these brethren and sisters spend in public worship? Perhaps two hours during the week, if they go to church twice on the Sabbath; but some only go at the eleven o'clock service. Think of it! Out of one hundred and sixty-eight hours God gets two, at most, of public worship from them, and the other one hundred and sixty-six are used in making cotton, sugar, greenbacks, writing business letters, and that, too, on Sunday. But say they give all the Sabbath day to God—one in seven—I ask: "Is it enough?" Who wants a clerk or book-keeper or runner who only puts in one-seventh of the time for his employer, and gives the other six-sevenths of the time to a rival house? Who would have properly he can use only one-seventh of the time, and what use can Christ have with a man or woman one-seventh of the time, and who gives the other six-sevenths to the world, the flesh and the devil? I think my readers seem to feel it's "a bad sign" to find empty pews on the week-night meeting.

This attendance is a test of one's piety. No man or woman deserves any praise for going to church on Sunday. The most abandoned and wicked men do this, because, however, they have no other place to go to. The usual places of resort and amusement, the wine or beer shop, the theater (at least in some places,) are all closed, and they go there "to pass away the time." They are employed during the week in their different occupations, and hence are never out except on Sunday. Now, sir, shall a real child of God never be seen out at the chapel except when these children of Belial go too? Oh, may the time speedily come when this reproach shall be taken away from God's people, for it is "a bad sign."

The man who goes to prayer meeting through rain, sleet, mud and snow will find it set down to his credit in the day of judgment. He will have a higher seat in heaven—be closer to its great Light, even Jesus, the Lord God—and will shine brighter there than some, even as he did here below. "If God speaks to us in a meeting mid-week, it is because there is something that needs to be said before the next Sunday." Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs, the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil."

MACHAIRA.

"One Woman Has Translated the Whole Bible."

MR. EDITOR: I do not propose to refute again Mrs. Sadler's article in the ADVOCATE of June 8; but I do propose to examine, in the light of recorded facts, her sweeping declaration that "no one man has ever translated the whole Bible from the original Greek." When fully examined this assertion will be found to lack authority, the same as another she made in regard to the preaching of the first woman who took "an apple for her lord."

That "one woman has translated the whole Bible" I am willing to admit, and that, too, with gratitude; but that "no one man has ever translated the whole Bible" I will most respectfully examine in the light of the following facts:

1. "Ulphilas, * * * about A. D. 370, * * * with unwearied industry translated the Old and New Testament into the Gothic tongue." This translator was "versed in Gothic, Greek and Latin."—Townley's Scripture History, pages 38, 39. This translation was from the original Greek, and that by one man.

2. "A translation of the sacred volume into the Amharic, or vulgar language of Abyssinia, was made by Abu Rumi, an Abyssinian, under the direction of M. Asselin de Cherville, French consul at Cairo."—Townley's Scripture History, pages 41, 42 43.

3. "Jerome, the translator of the Vulgate, was the most eminent biblical scholar of the fourth century."—Ibid., page 47. "Jerome is also well known; he is the author of what is called the Vulgate, a Latin version, from the Hebrew and Greek, of the whole Old and New Testament."—Dr. A. Clarke. This translation from the Hebrew and Greek was made by one man.

4. "During the eighth century a translation was made of the Old and New Testament into the Georgian language, by St. Euphemius, whose autograph of the version is said still to be preserved in the Iberian or Georgian monastery at Mount Athos."—Townley's Scripture History, page 105.

5. "Another Polish version is reported to have been made by Andrew de Jassowitz, about 1440, by order of Sophia, wife of Casimir Jogellon, King of Poland."—Ibid., page 172.

6. "Archbishop Usher assigns a translation of the whole Bible to the year 1290, and says that several copies have been preserved at Oxford. These copies have been regarded as corrected ones of Wiclif's version."—Ibid., page 175. That John De Wycliffe made a full translation of the Scriptures is thus certified by Lingard, the distinguished Roman Catholic historian: "Wiclif made a new translation, multiplied the copies by the aid of transcribers, and by his poor priests recommended it to the perusal of their hearers." "Such was the opposition of the hierarchy that ten years afterward a bill was brought into the House of Lords to forbid the perusal of the English Bible by the laity."—Life of De Wycliffe, pages 101, 105. All this shows what "the morning star" of the great Reformation did—and he was one man!

7. "In the year 1357, or; according to Wharton, in 1387, John Trevisa, a Cornishman, canon of Westburg, in Wiltshire, and vicar of Berkley, in Yorkshire, and one who had been a great traveler, is said to have finished a translation of the Old and New Testaments, at the desire of his munificent patron, Thomas Lord Berkley."—Townley's Scripture History, page 177.

8. Martin Luther, the great reformer, made a translation of the whole Bible from the Hebrew and Greek and Latin, but before he would proclaim this version, into German, as authority, he "wisely called in to his assistance Melancthon and other professors, that each might contribute toward the perfection of the whole." "Nothing could exceed the zeal and fidelity of Luther in the prosecution of this work;" and yet "he declared to his friends that he had sometimes employed fourteen or fifteen days before he could satisfy himself in translating a single word."—Ibid., pages 207, 208. This almost superhuman work of giving the word of God to the Germans is characterized by the learned Franck as "precious and inestimable." And yet in modern times "one woman" has far surpassed any one man, in all the past mighty ages, in causing the whole Bible to be understood by the people.

I have several other names "booked" for this communication, but I forbear, at least for the present.

Now in the light of the above recorded facts, how stands the following declaration of Mrs. Sadler: "One woman has translated the whole Bible from the original Greek. The manuscripts are now in the hands of the publishers. Of course it will not have standard authority, but it will show what a woman is capable of doing. No one man has ever done the same."

ANGUS DOWLING.

LAWRENCEVILLE, GA., June 21, 1876.

Christian Consolation.

FIRST PAPER.

"The Lord," cries the psalmist of Israel, "is my shepherd; I shall not want." And from an abiding confidence in this promise proceedeth the consolation of our holy religion. David carried, locked in his heart, a consciousness of God's providence—that he directed his every step; and this accounts for the serenity of mind which ever characterizes "the man after God's own heart." If misfortunes overtook him he acknowledged in them the hand of God, and that they were necessary to his welfare. The words of St. Paul on this subject afford abundant consolation to weary hearts, and should be the watchword of every Christian soul. "For," says he, "we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose."—Romans viii, 28.

The despondency which often takes possession of Christians on account of trial is mainly due to the want of finding God in everything. We often hear Christians say: "I find no difficulty in submitting to things that come from God; but I do find it exceedingly difficult to submit to human oppression." Know, O devout soul! that nothing comes to thee save by the knowledge and consent of thy heavenly Father. No temptation, no trial, however severe, touches thee before it has passed the chancery of heaven, and received the seal of the King of kings. And though it comes through human agency, you must acknowledge it as fresh from the hand of him "who doeth all things well." Beware lest thou treat lightly the promise of him who, though he was rich, became poor, that we might enjoy with him the riches of his kingdom. "I will not suffer you to be tempted above what you are able to bear." "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." "My grace is sufficient for you."

Each trial should be made a stepping-stone to heaven. As the piece of ragged marble receives a beautiful polish when subjected to the sculptor's instrument, so our souls become brighter and our faith stronger for every temptation we successfully encounter. The love of God for his creatures cannot receive addition—it is infinite. He knows what trials are calculated to cause us to make the greatest advancement in his cause. His wisdom is infinite, his judgments are inscrutable! We now see through a glass darkly, but when we shall have "passed over the river, and lay us down to rest under the shade of trees of the eternal Jerusalem," we shall see clearly the source of the Christian's consolation. But for the present we have but to go forward, "having on the whole armor of God, and our feet shod with preparation of the gospel," resting in the promise that we shall one day lay aside our weapons for a crown of peace.

Bunyan saw in the house of the Interpreter the devil continually throwing water upon the fire of faith burning in the soul; but this mischief was more than counterbalanced by Christ, who as continually poured upon it the oil of his grace. Then how precious the promise: "My grace is sufficient!".

Oftentimes we become dejected, and feel forsaken of God; the fire of our faith burns low, and the "pleasant way," which but a few brief moments ago was all sunshine and flowers, is now covered with thick darkness and piercing thorns. But God has not indeed forsaken us.

"Behind a frowning providence
He hides a smiling face;"

and if we falter not "we shall see his salvation." It were not well for us, while here, to behold his face without interruption. Those clouds are but the ministers of his love; and, though seemingly impenetrable, the eye of faith undaunted will finally pierce their murky depths, and there see the face of our blessed Redeemer, radiant with love and mercy. Then "Look above, O trembling soul!

The sun still shines for thee."

Gold must undergo the intense heat of the mint master's furnace to be cleansed of all impurities, and receive the national impress, before it is ready for the treasury of the country. So likewise our souls must undergo, as it were, the fiery furnace of trial, be cleansed of every sin, and receive the impress of the kingdom of heaven, before we are ready for its treasury. If we fail to be cleansed by the free offering of Jesus Christ, fail to undergo what he is pleased we should undergo for his sake, we shall be counted as dross—as unfit for the pure and incorruptible treasury of God, and shall receive our portion in the "burning lake."

Our hearts should ever go out in the sentiments of Christian song:

"Nearer to thee, my God,
Nearer to thee;
E'en though it be a cross,
That raiseth me.
Still all my song shall be:
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee."

D.

OBITUARIES.

MRS. NANCY J. KIRKPATRICK was born in Greene county, Tenn., July 13, 1813, and died in Jackson, Miss., June 3, 1876. She was converted to God and joined the Methodist Church when only fifteen years of age, and from that time to her peaceful, beautiful death was faithful and consistent in all the relations of life. In Greene county, Ala., in May, 1831, she married Mr. W. McKirkpatrick, with whom she removed to Mississippi, and who, with four children, mourns her loss. Those most intimately acquainted with her daily walk express the highest appreciation of her sincere faith and many Christian excellencies of character. Religion was not postponed to the sick-room and death-hour, but for long years, amid the vicissitudes of an eventful life, she reflected and enjoyed its purity and power. Many times before her last lingering illness she had experienced a joy bush-side, and has left a shining example of the constraining and elevating power of the gospel. For weeks before she fell asleep in death she shouted praises to God. Friends were sent for, and around her bed were exhorted to love God and seek his purifying favor. Two of her children were received into the church at her bedside, amid the rejoicing of a dying mother and the weeping of many friends, such an inspiring scene I never witnessed. To each child, her aged husband, pastor and friends she left a saintly blessing. Many times she welcomed death with a loud voice, and rejoiced at the prospect of going home. It did not seem like the coming of the king of terrors—you could not feel that death was near. It was more like a return home of an absent loved one. With a face radiant with hope three weeks of shouting God's praise, and exhorting all to meet her in heaven she rested in the arms of Jesus. Her death has established many doubting ones, and confirmed the faith of all who witnessed the triumph of grace. To the community it has preached an eloquent and effective sermon, whose echo will last out the ages. May God comfort the bereaved ones, and give them such an experience.

CHARLES B. GALLOWAY.

BRO. L. D. CORLEY was born in the State of Georgia, January 10, 1821; was converted and joined the church, under the ministry of the Rev. John P. Wynn, July 22, 1871, and died February 24, 1876.

Bro. Corley's change from nature to grace was indeed, as it should have been, perceptible to all who knew him. Old things passed away, and all things became new. So striking and complete was his conversion that it became a topic of conversation among his friends, and until his death he delighted to talk about and sing about it, and rejoice over it. Redeeming love was his theme at all times and places.

Bro. Corley was attacked with pneumonia after returning home from church, where he had spent the greater portion of the day in the services of the sanctuary, which consisted in prayer meeting, preaching, and closing with an experience meeting, in which he was the last member to speak, which he did in a manner that touched our hearts, brought tears from our eyes, and caused us to rejoice that he had been plucked, as a brand from the burning. Bro. Corley seemed at all times to be in the enjoyment of religion, and in death he gave us undoubted testimony of the presence of the Savior. He died calmly and serenely, quietly falling asleep, pillowing his head on Jesus' bosom.

"Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ;
The battle's fought, the victory's won;
Enter thy Master's joy."

J. L. P. SHEPPARD.

BRO. JOSEPH WILSON died at his residence in Brandon, Miss., May 31, 1876, aged fifty-five years. He was born in Ireland, May 8, 1821; came to the United States when fourteen years old; spent several years in Philadelphia and St. Louis; came to Jackson, Miss., in 1846; joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1851; and was married to Mrs. Ella Cameron in 1855, with whom he lived to sweetest union for twenty-one years, she leaves her, with six interesting children, to mourn the loss of a most tender and affectionate husband and father. But "they sorrow not as others who have no hope." He has left them a heritage of a pious example, and the fair name of an upright citizen. He had been a citizen of Rankin county for twenty years and of Brandon for six years, and his integrity of character and the purity of his Christian devotion commanded the respect and confidence of all.

He was firm in his Christian principles, loved the church, and was faithful to its ordinances. He filled the offices of Sabbath-school superintendent, steward and trustee in the church with fidelity and efficiency many years. He erected a family altar after his marriage, the light of which was never gone out.

He was taken sick just at the close of a protracted meeting, which had continued nearly two weeks. He shared largely in the spiritual comforts of the meeting, of which he gave abundant testimony in a talk he gave at the last service he attended. As he spoke of the goodness of God to him in the past, his present joys and future hopes, in his usually modest, placid face glowed with a heavenly radiance that attracted all eyes. But we knew not that he was so near the golden city. His last illness was attended with intense suffering, and the disease did its work rapidly. But death had no terrors for him. His last words touching the subject were: "It is for the best. I am ready." About half-past ten o'clock P. M., May 31, he sank calmly on his faltering trust in God, and

"Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams," he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus.

R. S. WOODS.

JOHN W. SMITH was born in the State of Mississippi, January 30, 1820; was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in the year 1845; received license to preach in the year 1847, and died February 5, 1876.

Bro. Smith was said to have preached the best sermon that ever fell from his lips the night that he was taken sick, to a large congregation of his neighbors and friends. He went home from church, and took to bed, never more to rise in health. His illness was short but extremely painful; but he suffered it all with the fortitude of a Christian. He felt sure from the onset of the disease that his departure was at hand. He felt no fear, but often expressed himself perfectly happy, anticipating, no doubt, an abundant entrance into the everlasting kingdom of God.

It was said by Bro. L. D. Corley, who witnessed his departure, to have been a blessed privilege to be there. So victorious was his faith, over the grim monster—death. Bro. Smith reached his robust unimpaired through all his suffering; knew and greeted his friends kindly to the last; had kind words and good advice for all. It was the writer's privilege to converse freely with him on religious subjects previous to his death, and to accompany him passing through the last Jordan. So it proved. He departed peacefully, pronouncing a benediction on those with whom he had labored.

J. L. P. SHEPPARD.

PHILIP WILLINGHAM was born in Person county, N. C., March 2, 1812; moved to Bedford county, Tenn., while a young man; was married to Miss Frances L. Beasley in 1831, who died some years ago. In 1855, he made Alabama his home, and settled, first in Greene county and then in Sumter. His second marriage was in 1863, to Miss Carrie Powers, of Greene county. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1861. At his residence, near Rogers's Station, Sumter county, he breathed his last, April 3, 1876.

Death has taken from us, in Bro. Willingham, a most worthy man. Through more than threescore years his life was a consistent exhibition of true honor and purity. To every action had as its main-spring worthy and exalted motives. He was loyal to truth, whatever might be the surroundings. He was prompt in meeting all his obligations—true to his word. Emphatically he was a true man, a sincere friend, a scriptural neighbor, a tender and considerate husband, a loving father and an earnest Christian. A priceless heritage for his bereaved family. May they follow in his steps to the "better land."

C. B. GALLOWAY.

THE WORLD OF INSECTS.—The American Entomologist gives the following calculation of the amount of labor necessary to fully describe the insect world:

One volume of 625 pages would describe 500 species. To describe the 500,000 species will consequently require just 1,000 volumes—occupying a shelf 166 feet long—or enough to fill seven book cases six feet high and four feet wide. In describing the species a great deal of observation and close inspection is necessary to differentiate all the habits, variations and other changes to make blunders, so as not to have species and varieties mixed together. No person can get through the labor safely on an average of more than one species a day; and, counting 365 days to the year, it would consume the hard labor of one man for 1,369 years, if he should live as long. Much more time, or more, would be required for the illustrations, making 3,332 years; or it would take the life of 83 persons, each working 40 years, to get through with the book.

ORIENTAL SAILORS.—Some idea of the number of Asiatics who periodically visit Great Britain as crews of steamers, chiefly through the canal, may be formed from the fact that in the one year, ending October last, the missionary of Col. Hughes' Strangers' Home for Asiatics visited and spoke to 4,624 natives of India, 2,190 Malays and East Africans, 190 Malays, 220 Manillas, 171 Chinese, 32 Burmese, Cingalese and Japanese—total 5,948. Of these, 5,374 were Mohammedans, 388 Roman Catholics, 1 Buddhists, 35 Hindoos (low caste), and 46 Protestant Christians.

A lawyer who consumes three hours in arguing a question of law relating to the ownership of a barrel of apples is indignant at his client for exceeding twenty-five minutes in unfolding one of the great principles of morality, on whose observance the tolerable existence of society depends.—Christian Register.

The Christian Advocate.

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1876.

ONE DAY OUT OF SEVEN.

...ink cannot always slog;
...ll-nes at times they ask, to nurse spent feeling:
...e see some new, bright thing,
Ere a fresh burst of song, fresh joy revealing.

...lowers cannot always blow;
Some Sabbath rest they need of silent winter:
...e from its sheath below
...Shoots up a small, green blade, brown earth in splinter.

...ngues cannot always speak;
...filled I to this loud world of noise and clatter,
...ve us this once-a-week,
To let the sown seed grow, not always scatter.

Spectator.

...ligious Character of Washington

BY REV. WILLIAM HALL.

At a meeting of the New Jersey ...storical Society, a few years ago, at ...merville, N. J., an anecdote was ...ted by the late Rev. Prof. John ...ndfit, of New-Brunswick, of much ...erest in relation to this subject. It ..., in substance, that at one time, ...en Washington had passed a ...ht with his suite at a tavern in ...neton, in the morning, before ...uming their journey, he called the ...pany together, and, saying that ...was accustomed to begin his day's ...ies with a devotional service, read ...assage from the Bible, and then ...ered a beautiful extempore prayer. ...t this meeting of the Historical ...ety the religious character of our ...t Revolutionary leader was the ...e of some interlocutory remarks, ...hich the Rev. Dr. Messler, pas... of the Reformed church of Som...ille, and other prominent liter...gentlemen, took part. The inci...t mentioned by Dr. Proudfit had to this discussion, the conclusion which was that Washington, in ...w of the reported facts of his life, ...r be acknowledged to have been a ...n of decidedly Christian senti...nts and practice.

...similar fact to the before-men...ed was among the Revolutionary ...iniscences of the late Mr. Cor...ius Dorenus, who in his boyhood ...sionally saw Gen. Washington ...his father's house in old Pequon...k, N. J., when passing from one ...tonment of the army to another ...at was in 1781. It has been ...tly referred to by a writer in the ...ark Daily Advertiser, who gives ...Rev. Gerrit C. Schenck, of New ...ey, as his authority for this recol...ction.

...e story of Valley Forge, lately ...anew in the columns of the New ...k Observer, by the graphic pen o... Headley, adds another tribute of ...ence to the view already given. ...lso the early home education of ...future savior and father of his ...try. Mr. Elliott, in writing of ...y, the mother of Washington, ...s remarks: "I believe in the ...ls of religion, she inculcated a ...r obedience to its injunctions, ...planted the seed and cherished ...growth which bore such rich and ...rous fruit." Surely in that crit...period of the nation's history, ...the storm-cloud of the seven ...s war for independence, with ...s sad variety of want and ...swept over the land, was no ...e for throwing overboard the ...ciples of religious duty. And it ...e justice to his memory to believe ..., while some who wore and ...ght and sacrificed much for the ...dgment of our national inde...dence in the great field of conflict ...eemingly forget their depend...upon God, his true "excellency," ...commander in chief. The Gen...al host was not one of them, ...e from all other records, the or...s assert, fully accorded to him ...e impartial biographer, Dr. Jared ...ks, has forever shielded his name ...m any associations with the camp ...infidel. The public documents, ...letters of Washington abound ...expressions of his deep sense of ...responsibility and dependence ...n One "whose kingdom ruleth ...all."

...illustration of this we here quote ...sage from one of his Revolution...letters, casually lighted on in his ...minous correspondence. It was ...ten March 26, 1781, to Gen. Arm..., from New Windsor, near ...burg, on the Hudson, and is as ...ws:

"Our affairs are brought to a peril...crisis, that the hand of Provi...ce, I trust may be more conspicu...in our deliverance. The many ...arkable interpositions of the ...ne government, in the hours of ...deepest distress, have been too ...ious to suffer us to doubt the ...vine issue of the present contest."—New York Observer.

The Jesuits and the Bible.

...ey hate the Bible; hence the ...x Expurgatory, approved by the ...ncil of Trent, and confirmed by ...Clement the Eighth, 1595. In ...index the Scriptures, in the vul...ongue, are forbidden to all per... without special license. The ...ment in the Vatican bates it, ...has fulminated several windy ...es against the American Bible ...ety. I do not see why, if the ...ines and order of their church—...ows and ritualistic ceremonies ...e in their chapels and cathedrals ...Sunday—are sanctioned by the ..., the teachings and example of ...Christ and the apostolic church ...there much display of scarlet ...white canonicals, and lighted ...les, great or small, and tawdry ..., when the apostles were gather...together in Jerusalem on the day ...entecost, when thousands were ...erted by the faithful declaration ...el's ward by Peter? I ask again ...the Jesuits and the Romish ...rchy hate the Bible? The more ...light, the less priestcraft, and ...reasuring from indulgences and ...es for the dead would run very ...Hence these Jesuits, as soon ...ey land on our shores, have the ...nce to intrigue and use their ...ficial arts to shut out this pre...gift of God to our sinful world, ...our houses, from the people, ...rom our public schools, and as a ...they tell us the Bible is sectu... This is indeed a sham, to cover ...al ground of their opposition, to ...prejudice the public mind against the use of the Bible in our public schools. Hence the move of these Romish emissaries upon our school boards, not always by official application, but by tampering with these boards, by covert agencies, especially if many of these school officials be foreigners or infidels, or of loose and easy morals, or of no morals at all, or the devotees of King Gambrinus. If either of these boards are found to be composed of sensible men, who think for themselves, and are men of honor and entertain proper respect for public opinion, these artful emissaries of Rome move very cautiously; but when they ask some slight modification in the rules of the board, and are snubbed, and the board moves on in silent contempt for their insolent proposition, they will try their skill on some other boards. These foreign intruders make some insolent demand on a school board in an adjacent town, but this board moves on, without the slightest notice of these foreign emissaries. Have they moved down on Chicago to try their skill on our school board? Perhaps they found these officials all right on the wrong side—that they were hand and glove with the Jesuits in their crusade against the Bible reading in our public schools.—From a Tract by Rev. W. Robston.

MOORISH ART.—It is a matter of interesting and curious study to note how it is that, while we Christians have borrowed and adapted to our use so much of Oriental decorations, the Moors, though constantly in contact with other nations, have never, either in Spain or elsewhere, admitted any mixture of Christian art. Jealously and carefully have they ever retained their own mode of building, their own fashion of decorating, and it must be allowed that in both respects their refinement and exquisite taste would only have been deteriorated by any change.

The skill also with which they adapted their buildings to the exigencies of climate is very remarkable. In southern towns, where the heat of summer is the danger to be guarded against, their rooms were lofty, cool and dark, and a refreshing current of air could be passed through the fretted decorations of the roof. At Granada and other colder towns every great house could be thoroughly warmed by hot air. This was conveyed from the bath room by brick passages into chambers in the walls, and was let into the apartments through perforated tiles placed near the floor. Nothing could be simpler or more skilful than such an arrangement.

Lord Seaforth, who was born deaf and dumb, was to dine one day with Lord Melville. Just before the time of the company's arrival, Lady Melville sent into the drawing room a boy of her acquaintance who could talk with her fingers, to divert people, that she might receive Lord Seaforth. Presently Lord Guilford entered the room; and the lady, taking him for Lord Seaforth began to play her fingers nimbly; Lord Guilford did the same, and they had been carrying on a conversation in this manner for about ten minutes when Lady Melville found them. Her female friend immediately said: "Well, I have been talking away to this dumb man." "Dumb!" cried Lord Guilford; "bless me, I thought you were dumb." —Rogers' Table Talk.

THE DANGER OF RICHES.—A poor widow in her poverty, like her in Scripture, had been always ready to bestow her mite freely in the cause of charity or religion, until by some turn in the wheel of fortune she suddenly became wealthy. When she no longer proffered aid, but waited to be called on, and then gave only coldly, reluctantly and stintedly. On her pastor's remonstrance in regard to her change of feeling and practice, she made the striking but melancholy reply: "Ah! sir, when I had a shilling purse I had a guinea heart, but now that I have a guinea purse I am afflicted with a shilling heart. In my poverty I never had any distrust of Providence or anxiety about the future, but now I am haunted with fears of poverty."

THE LION AND THE ASS.—On one occasion Mr. Burke had just risen in the House of Commons, with some papers in his hand, on the subject of which he intended to make a motion, when a rough-hewn member, who had no ear for eloquence, rudely started up and said: "Mr. Speaker, I hope the honorable gentleman does not mean to read that large bundle of papers, and to bore us with a long speech into the bargain." Mr. Burke was so enraged as to be incapable of utterance, and absolutely made for the door to go out, when George Selwyn stopped him with the remark that "it was the only time in his life he had seen the table realized or a lion put to flight by the braying of an ass."

Says Prof. Moses Stuart: "Whichever the Scriptures speak of wine as a comfort, a blessing, or a libation to God, and rank it with such articles as corn and oil, they mean they can mean—only such wine as contained no alcohol that could have a mischievous tendency; that wherever they denounce it, prohibit it, and connect it with drunkenness and revelry, they can mean only alcoholic or intoxicating wine. If I take the position that God's word and works harmonize, I must take the position that the Bible before us is such as I have represented it to be. I cannot refuse to take this position without virtually impeaching the Scriptures of contradiction or inconsistency."

"You have a considerable floating population in this village, haven't you?" asked a stranger of one of the citizens of a village on the Mississippi. "Well, yes—rather," was the reply. "About half the year the water is up to the second-story windows."

A reporter once aptly called an unsuccessful printers' strike a "typographical error."

NIGHT IN THE MOON.—At last, however, night sets in. Gratefully it comes after the sun has gathered up his smiting beam and gone down to his rest. All at once we are plunged into comparative obscurity, for again there is no twilight to stay the steps of departing day. At one stride comes the dark. But, looking up into the sky, we behold a vast orb, which pours down a milder and more beneficent splendor than the great lord of the system. It is such a moon as we terrestrials cannot boast; for it is not less than thirteen times as large and luminous as our own. There it hangs in the firmament, without apparent change of place, as if "fixed in its everlasting seat;" but not without change of surface; for this great globe is a painted panorama, and, turning round majestically on its axis, presents its oceans and continents in grand succession. As Europe and Africa, looking the Mediterranean in their embrace, roll away to the right, the stormy Atlantic offers its waters to view, then the two Americas, with their huge forests and vast prairies, pass under inspection. Then the grand basin of the Pacific, lit up with island fires, meets the gazer's eye, and as this glides over the scene the eastern rim of Asia and the upper portion of Australia sail into sight. The Indian ocean, and afterward the Arabian sea, spread themselves out in their subdued splendor, and thus, in four and-twenty hours, "the great rotundity we tread" turns its picture countenance to the moon, and grandly repays the listening luminaries by repeating, to the best of its ability, the story of its birth. Nor is the sky less marvelous in another respect; for the absence of any atmospheric diffusion of light permits the constellations to shine out with a distinctness which is never paralleled on earth. They glitter like diamond points set in a firmament of ebony. Stars and clusters which we never see by the naked eye flock into view, and crowd the lunar heavens.—British Quarterly.

A WIFE'S POWER.—A good wife is to a man wisdom, strength and courage; a bad one is confusion, weakness and despair. No condition is hopeless to a man where the wife possesses firmness, decision and economy. There is no outward propriety which can counteract indolence, extravagance and folly at home. No spirit can endure bad influence. Man is strong; but his heart is not adamant. He needs a tranquil mind; and especially if he is an intelligent man, with a whole head, he needs a sound force in the conflict of life. To recover his composure, home must be a place of peace and comfort. There his soul renews its strength and goes forth with renewed vigor to encounter the labor and troubles of life. But if at home he finds no rest, and is there met with bad temper, jealousy and gloom, or assailed with complaints and censure, hope vanishes, and he sinks into despair.

STRIPPING STEP.—Ministers of the gospel, laymen and the religious press, all combined, are striking heavy and heavy blows at the great sins, and the little ones are left alone, unmolested, while those upon whom they rest are in the most danger.

But few men ever jump from the second floor to the first when there is a stairway. The reason is obvious: he fears that such a leap would be fatal. He sees the end, and knows that it would be pain. But, he can walk down, step by step, unhurt. Men are not so free to indulge in what we call great sins, because well they see the end, yea, they feel it. But then they can indulge in the so called little sins, and the end is not so vividly present to them; and thus thousands are going to torment and eternal damnation step by step.

Let Christian effort give attention to this matter, and may be we can awaken some from this sleep ere they reach the bottom steps of woe.—Local.

TRAVELING BY THE COMPASS.—A story is told of an old hunter in Michigan, who, when the country was new, got lost in the woods several times. He was told to buy a pocket compass, which he did, and a friend explained to him its use. He soon got lost and lay out, as usual. When found he was asked why he did not travel by the compass. He said that he did not dare to. He wished to go north, and he tried hard to make the thing point north, but 'twa'n't no use; 'twould dodge, diddle, diddle, diddle right around and point southeast every time!"

A good many people fail of the right direction in life, for the same reason of the inshop of fair Wolverine friends. They are afraid to take the Bible and follow just as it points.

THE LORD WILL PROVIDE.—Whether there be a prophet beside the brook, or a raven who brings the prophet his daily bread; whether they be a million of pilgrims spending forty years in the desert, or those lilies on the mountain-side, God feels his servants and cheers them; and while they to day are doing his work, he is taking care for their morrow.

He that hath given thee his Son, what can he deny? He that hath given thee an ocean will not deny thee a drop! If thou must the kernel, thou shalt not want the shell! If thy father vouchsafe thee bread, manna, the ring, a kiss—he cannot well refuse thee the husks! Seek first the kingdom of God, and all these shall be added be cast in as paper and pack thread to the bargain.

An inquisitive but badly posted tourist went down to visit Mount Vernon, not long since, and after making many inquiries, and noting down the answers, he said to the superintendent:

"Ah, may I look you if Gen. Washington was in the battle?"

"He was, sir," replied the superintendent.

"And on which side, Union or rebel?"

"Rebel, sir," was the reply, which was carefully noted down.

Religious Intelligence.

—At the first anniversary of the Metropolitan Lay Mission, held at City Road chapel, London, the reports showed thirty-six paid and five hundred voluntary agents at work under the auspices of this mission.

—The Canada Christian Advocate reports that a number of the missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Canada are generally in a prosperous state. Most of the stations report an increase of members, but many a financial failing off.

—As the native church develops into strength the foreign missionaries become superintendents, rather than pastors. Thus in the Church Missionary districts of Tinnevelly, India, Dr. Sargent has twenty-four and Mr. Dibb twelve native pastors working under him.

—Lieut. Cameron, who has recently returned from his trip across the continent of Africa, speaks of the natural wealth of the country west of the great interior lakes. He believes that this region will become a center of civilization and productive trade. It is, therefore, all the more desirable that Christianity should be early in the field.

—The Church of England is making arrangements to send a missionary expedition to Lake Nyassa, similar to the Scottish mission expedition now at the lake. A boat for the navigation of the lake is partly built, and a medical missionary and some mechanics have been engaged. The entire amount of money needed for the expedition has not yet been subscribed.

—Strong drink is becoming the curse of the South Sea Islands. Rarotonga, of the Hervey group, where the work of the London society has grown up almost into a self-support, is happily being spared this scourge. At a general meeting of the pastors, deacons and teachers of the churches thanks were given to God for the success which has attended the police regulations prohibiting the import of intoxicating drinks, and the whole assemblage was pledged to total abstinence endeavor among their people.

—In the treaty lately concluded between Russia and Japan, by which Saghalien was ceded to the former and the Kurile Islands to the latter country, it was stipulated that the Russians and others in the Kurile Islands should enjoy complete religious liberty, after having become the subjects of Japan. It is thought that this treaty provision will be the entering wedge for larger liberty of conscience throughout Japan, and that ere long the government will legally tolerate the Christianity which it now tacitly permits.

—The Church Missionary Intelligencer devotes considerable space to the discussion of a vernacular literature for India. The school system which has for nearly a generation been so carefully fostered by the government has produced a multitude of Hindoo readers. The question is: What shall they read? Native enterprise has not been slow in supplying vast quantities of a cheap and often a very indecent literature. In 1872-3 there were published in Bengal 1072 books; in the Northwest Provinces, 97; in Madras, 387. In some respects the mission presses have also been very active. There is an abundance of controversial books, suited to a stage of missionary activity when Hindooism was more aggressive than it is now. School-books also, inculcating Christian principles in connection with science, are very plentiful. Upon the whole, however, a Christian literature for India is yet to be created. The translations of the Scriptures have laid the proper basis for it. The Bible, written by Orientals, shows its divine origin in its marvelous adaptation to Hindoo tastes and modes of thought. Little books, like "The Peep of Day" and "Line upon Line," have been so directly derived from the Scriptures as to share their adaptation to the popular mind. We cannot say so much, however, of the general Christian literature as it now exists. The books are often stiff translations. Their whole style of thought, their very binding attributes, is entirely foreign and unsuited to the Hindoo taste. Mrs. Mullens, with her graceful Bengali tale, entitled "Phulmoni and Karuna," led the way into a popular Christian literature, in which she has as yet had but few followers. The Hindoos love allegory, story and poetry, especially the latter. A pleasing Christian poem will always sell well and pay its cost. Several Christian laymen—like Col Roughgh, Sir W. Muir and Mrs. H. Carre Tucker—have succeeded in stirring up a new interest in the matter of a vernacular literature which shall really meet the popular mind. At the suggestion of the latter gentleman, three great societies—the Christian Vernacular Education Society, the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and the Religious Tract Society—have combined in larger and more systematic efforts to supply better books. A meeting of the representatives of various societies was held at Allahabad, in February, 1875, in order to systematize the book and tract work in the Hindoo and Urdu languages. Frequently the missionary societies have with their publications traversed each other's ground, instead of taking their respective places in a well-ordered scheme. The colporteur and sales system has been very imperfectly managed. The attempt is now being made to rectify these evils, and especially to encourage native literary talent. Ultimately India will have to depend for its Christian prose, and especially for its Christian poetry, on native Christian writers. The work of supplying a literature for India, which is not so much a nation as a continent of nations, is a stupendous one. It needs to be done in twelve or fifteen languages, for Hindoos, Mohammedans and aborigines. Next to the preaching of the gospel it is the most important Christian agency now to be exerted, and we rejoice that the subject is enlisting so much skilled thought and energy.—Independent.

Our Young People.

LITTLE TOTTLER.

Duly beginning the journey,
Many a mile to go;
Little feet, how they patter,
Wand'ring to and fro;
Trying again so gravely,
Laughing in baby glee,
Halting its line in mother's lap,
Proud as a baby can be.

Talking the oddest of lingoings
Ever before was heard;
But mother—you'd hardly think so—
Understands every word.
Tottering now and falling,
Eyes are going heavy;
Kisses and plenty of love words;
Willing again to try.

Father of all, oh! guide them,
The pattering little feet,
While they are treading the uphill road,
Braving the dust and heat.
And then, when they grow weary,
Keep them in pathways blest,
And when their journey is ended,
Savior, oh! give them rest.

The Children's Friend.

From Our Little Friends.

FLOYD, LA., June 17, 1876.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Since I see you have so much patience with your little correspondents, I have been almost on my tip-toes to write a letter and see how it would look in print; and sometimes after school I get a pen and scribble all over a half sheet of paper to send you; but mamma says you could not read a word of it, and promised to write one for me if I would tell her what I wished to say.

My papa takes the ADVOCATE—has been a regular subscriber for eighteen years—and says he can't do without it. I can't read it myself, but pa and ma read the Child's Corner for me. I am only five and a half years old. I was baptized by our former presiding elder, Rev. B. F. Alexander, and was named for a Bishop. I almost know I'll be one, because mamma says that Bro. Alexander prayed the most fervent prayer for me, when I was baptized, that she ever heard offered for a babe. I am going to school to Prof. Taylor, of this village, who merits and receives the esteem of all. He is also our Sunday school superintendent, and is learning the children to sing, as well as pray and repeat Scripture. I learn a verse every Sunday, and hope soon to be able to do my own writing. But, Mr. Editor, don't think that I'll bother you about "Barney and the Bays," Nessie, because I know it must be a very hard task to keep as much patience as you have. I tried the meaning of patience when papa put me on quit putting on my boots for me, and said: "Be patient, sonny, and you'll succeed."

Now my good and dear Mr. Editor, this is a long letter for the first; but if you will do me the honor to print it, you'll scarcely hear from me thus a dozen times until I am ripe for a Bishop. Good-by, dear Mr. Editor. God bless you and yours! Your trusting friend,

KEENER SISSON MCCLENDON.

CHINA GROVE P. O., MISS.,
June 17, 1876.

MR. EDITOR: I see so many little boys and girls writing that I thought I would write a short letter. I am a little boy of ten summers. I am always glad to read the pieces in your paper, or hear my mother read them; and I think they are so nice. I want to tell the little folks about my New Year present. It is a pretty book, "Glad Tidings" is the name of my book. It was sent to me from Texas. It has so many pretty pieces that I wish all the boys and girls had one like it to read. We have a flourishing Sunday school at China Grove. We have a good superintendent—Mr. D. O. Sumner. He is always at his post, ready to hear our lessons, and then give us the praise, if we deserve any. I will close before I weary your patience.

THOMAS B. REGAN.

A Sad Day.

"We had a sad day at our house last week, auntie," said little Katie. "The sun did not rise clear and the wind was very cold. Sam stepped on Nellie's shoe-string, when she was going down to breakfast, and she fell all the way down and cut her face on his skates that he had thrown on the hall floor the night before. Trip stole one of baby's kid shoes and chewed it all up. When papa saw the little tare ties popping about she thought they were for her to play with or to eat; so she caught them between her sharp claws and her teeth, and scratched and bit them till the blood came. Mamma and all of us had to kiss her little foot twenty times before it got over the pain. May lost her spelling book, and it was found under the big apple tree all wet and spoilt with the dew. She was late to school, and so was 'kept in,' and that made her cry so that she had the headache all the evening.

"In the afternoon Sam climbed up on the shelves of the China closet to reach papa's pistol. The shelf gave way, and he came down all mixed up with broken China and glass. His hands and face were badly cut, and mamma was very much grieved with him beside.

"We were all glad when bed-time came, so that we could get asleep and be out of danger; and mamma was more glad than any one else. Wasn't it an unlucky day?"

"No, I do not call it so," said the kind aunt. "God sends the ruin, in love, to make grain and fruit grow for our comfort. If Nellie's shoe-string had been tied at the proper time, and Sam's skates hung up in their place, she would not have fallen and cut her face.

"If nurse had put baby's shoe in the toilet basket in the closet Trip would have found something nicer and cheaper to eat his new teeth on. Nurse's carelessness did not make that 'an unlucky day.' Had dear little May put her book on the shelf made for it in her room she would have saved herself being 'kept in,' and crying till she had the headache.

"Sam's trouble among the China and glass came from a greater fault than carelessness. He was disobeying his father. It may have been mercy instead of 'bad luck' which brought him and the dishes down; for, had he reached the pistol, it might have gone off in his hands and killed him. If you all 'turn over a new leaf' you will find that 'bad luck' vanishes before good order, as the clouds do before the sun," said Aunt Miriam.

The Caterpillar and the Lark.

"I believe everything I am told," said the Caterpillar, with as grave a face as if it were a fact.

"Then I will tell you something else," cried the Lark; "you will one day be a butterfly."

"Wretched bird!" exclaimed the Caterpillar. "You jest with my infirmity. Go away! I will listen to you no more."

"I told you you would not believe me," said the Lark, nettled in his turn.

"I believe everything I am told that is," said she hesitated, "everything that is reasonable. But to tell me that butterflies' eggs are caterpillars, and that caterpillars leave off crawling and get wings and become butterflies! Lark, you are too wise to believe such nonsense yourself, for you know it is impossible."

"I know no such thing," said the Lark warmly. "Whether I hover over the cornfields of earth, or go up into the depths of the sky, I see so many wonderful things I know no reason why there should not be more. Oh, Caterpillar, it is because you crawl; because you never get beyond your cabbage leaf, that you call anything impossible."

"Nonsense!" shouted the Caterpillar; "I know what's possible and what's not possible as well as you do. Look at my long green body, and these endless legs, and then talk to me about having wings and painted feathery coat! Fool—"

"And fool you!" cried the indignant Lark. "Fool to attempt to reason about what you cannot understand! Do you not hear how my song swells with joy as I soar upward to the mysterious, wonderful world beyond? Oh, Caterpillar, what comes to you from there, receive, as I do upon trust."

"How am I to learn that?" asked the Caterpillar.

At that moment she felt something at her side. She looked around—eight or ten little caterpillars were moving about. They had broken from the butterfly's eggs! Shame and amazement filled our green friend's heart, but joy soon followed; for, as the first wonder was possible, the second might be, so too. And the Caterpillar talked all the rest of her life to her relatives about the time when she should be a butterfly.—Parables from Nature.

HE'S A BRICK.—If it is slang, it is really classical slang. And yet of the thousands who use the term, how few—how very few—know its origin or its primitive significance. Truly, it is a heroic thing to say of a man to call him a brick. The word so used, if not twisted from its original intent, implies all that is brave, patriotic and loyal.

Plutarch, in his life of Agesilaus, gives us the origin of the quaint and familiar expression.

On a certain occasion an embassador from Epirus, on a diplomatic mission, was shown by the King over his capital. The embassador knew of the monarch's fame—knew that though only nominally King of Sparta, he was yet ruler of Greece—and he had looked to see massive walls rearing, and their embattled towers for the defense of the town; but he found nothing of the kind. He marveled much at this, and spoke of it to the King.

"Sire," he said, "I have visited most of the principal towns, and I find no wall reared for defense. Why is this?"

"Indeed, Sir Embassador," replied Agesilaus, "thou canst not have looked carefully. Come with me to-morrow morning, and I will show you the walls of Sparta."

Accordingly, on the following morning, the King led his guest out upon the plains, where his army was drawn up in full battle array, and, pointing proudly to the serried hosts, he said:

"There thou beholdest the walls of Sparta—ten thousand men, and every man a brick!"—School Journal.

CALABASH TREE.—One of my birds has just been telling me about a tree that, he said, "grew dishes." In his native islands—of the West Indies—he has seen a tree, in height and size resembling an apple tree, called a calabash tree. It has wedge-shaped leaves, large, whitish, fleshy blossoms, that grow—where do you think?—not like those of most other fruits, on the smaller and outermost branches, but on the trunk and big branches. The fruit that succeeds the flower is much like a common gourd, only a good deal stronger, and it often measures twelve inches in diameter. The hard shell of this fruit is cut into various shapes by the natives, and is sometimes handsomely carved. It is made into drinking cups, dishes, pails, and even pots. Yes, they say that these calabashes actually can be used over the fire for boiling water, just as you would use a pot. But the calabash pot gives out after a few such trials, and is unfit for further service.—St. Nicholas Magazine.

"Spawntaneous generation" is what a Cincinnati paper calls that storm of frogs' eggs.

A pig will not eat when he is not hungry. Why should we?

The Christian Advocate.

Organ of the Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences of the M. E. Church South.

THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1876.

REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D., Editor.

ROBT. J. HARP, PUBLISHER.

OFFICE—112 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Address, on all matters of business, Rev. R. J. HARP, 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

Address all communications designed for publication to REV. LINUS PARKER 112 Camp street New Orleans.

AGENTS—All the members of the Patronizing Conferences.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

REV. EDWARD WADSWORTH, D. D
REV. A. J. BRIGGS.
REV. J. W. RUSH.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

REV. W. H. WATKINS, D. D.
REV. JAMES A. GODFREY.
REV. J. G. JONES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

REV. JOHN MATHEWS.
REV. LINUS PARKER, D. D.

CHANGE OF RATES.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate will be furnished to subscribers hereafter at the following rates, including postage:

One Year	$2 00
Six Months	1 15
Three Months	75

To all Ministers of the Gospel and widows of deceased traveling preachers, half the above rates.

FREE ONE YEAR

to any person forwarding to us four new yearly subscribers, with EIGHT DOLLARS.

Clouds After the Rain.

Clouds returning after the rain is the Preacher's description of old age. It is as if sorrow were to come upon sorrow, trouble upon trouble. There is rain at all seasons; but there is a season—the winter-time of life—when the clouds come back upon us with all the gathered volume of a whole life of misfortune. Very few comparatively become old, and yet a considerable argument of the royal Preacher for early piety is based upon its necessity as the support and comfort of age. Youth has health and hope, middle life has strength and abundant occupation, and in both there are conditions of pleasure and enjoyment somewhat independent of religion. But to the old, in whom desire has failed, and for whom youthful pleasures and the employments of mature years are no more, what is there left if the comfort of religion be not theirs?

The sorrows of old age are partly in the ties of domestic affection that have been severed. The wife or the husband is long since gone; some or all of the children have dropped into the grave. Parents, in the order of nature, have passed away, and the friends and associates of youth have nearly all disappeared. Old age is almost necessarily a state of loneliness, and stands apart and solitary, though surrounded by the younger elements of society. Nothing is more common, and nothing more pathetically true, than the plaint of age: "I am left alone"—alone, although jostled and crowded by the living, restless throng. Then infirmities of body have usually so increased that positive pleasure is lost, and hours free from uneasiness and pain are rare. The fresh, clear eye of youth is dimmed. The soul can never more look out upon the forms and colors of this beautiful world as it once did. The exquisitely-tinted clouds and sky, and the varied landscape, wear a subdued and faded aspect. The ear has parted with its fine sense of sound, and the rapture of melody is a thing of the past. These avenues of so much delight in the earlier years are partially closed, and the sensations which they yield are stripped of the zest which they once possessed. The touch has lost its delicacy, the smell can no longer regale with the breath of pleasant odors, and the taste has lost the nice discrimination which detected the savor of the choicest food. It is the lot of the aged to be thus in a large measure shut out from the material world, and to live and move in a world but half open to the physical senses.

If poverty comes, there is this aggravation in it: the absolute impossibility of restoring the broken fortune. The tree is not quite fallen, but it is so nearly down that "there it shall be." It is so nearly prone that nothing can ever lift it again to its place. As far as this world is concerned, there is no future of restored prosperity and activity. Life, with its opportunities and possibilities, is left behind, and the soul is confronted with the labor and sorrow of a few brief years, and then the grave and eternity. Life in all of its stages has its storms and tempests; in every period—of infancy, youth and maturity—there are sufferings and afflictions; but old age is marked by the return of the clouds after the rain. After the period of vicissitude, of alternate light and shadow, of rain and sunshine, comes the unbroken, the settled and somber winter of our years.

As religion is the preparation for death, it is also the preparation for old age. In the Preacher's estimate of the matter we must remember God in our youth if we would be sure of his favor in old age. When the clouds return after the rain, and the pitiless tempests beat upon us, it will be too late. Aged sinners seldom seek God; they rarely turn to Christ. The near approach of death, and accumulating infirmities do not usually turn the tide of unbelief and indifference into the channels of penitence and faith. If the winter come upon us without religion, its days of darkness will lie without relief. There will be no spiritual comfort, no blessed hope, no light from the throne above. Old age without Christ is the most dismal, the most forlorn, the most fearful condition that is conceivable in this world, and separated but by a very thin partition from the outer darkness of the final catastrophe.

With a sure hope of eternal life, with the comfort of the Holy Spirit, and with the heart throbbing with love, how different! The clouds that return after the rain are then lined with silver, there is a bow of promise upon the darkest, and none is without its rift through which the light of heaven breaks upon the believing soul. It is a somewhat somber picture which the Old Testament preacher draws of old age, but it is accurate and to the life of the average experience. There is in it, however, the assurance that godliness brightens up the scene, and imparts a peculiar glory to that period which is most encompassed with infirmity and sorrow. Aged Christians are almost uniformly happy. Gradually and leisurely they are disrobing—throwing off the earthly, that they may be clothed upon with the house which is from heaven, and that mortality may be swallowed up of life. Cut off from the outer world, in a great measure, they have resources within themselves—the recollections of a devoted and useful life, communion with God, and an eternity of blessedness opening before them.

"The eye is dim, and the ear is dull, and the heart beats slowly and wearily; "but as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." In old age especially are these prepared things revealed by the Spirit. The winter's store has been gathering, and there is abundant cheer for the days when leaden skies and howling blasts are without. The clouds that return after the rain, however dark and tempestuous they may seem, bring no evil to the children of God. Rather they afford occasion for the revelation of peculiar mercies, and for the most striking illustrations of infinite tenderness and faithfulness. In no other circumstances do we realize so fully that time predicted by the ancient seer, when "the man"—Christ—"shall be as a hiding-place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest."

Brandon District Conference.

Newton, the place of meeting, is on the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad, in Newton county, Miss., and about thirty miles west of Meridian. Our way to it was somewhat roundabout, being by Mobile and Meridian. Leaving New Orleans on Thursday at seven A. M., we were at our destination on Friday morning at three A. M. Notwithstanding the early hour, our host, Dr. J. T. Watts, was at the depot. Many thanks to him, and to his wife and daughters, for a pleasant home and most generous and agreeable entertainment. The Conference had been in session one day, and on Friday, June 30, the business was considerably advanced, with an attendance of nearly sixty members and delegates. The pastors were all present except two, and a good attendance of laymen. Bro. Leith, the presiding elder, is well in the saddle, and knows his work thoroughly. In the performance of his duties he has traveled twenty-five hundred miles up to date this year. He must have a place among our Southern cavaliers—when the book shall be written. Bishop Paine was in the chair nearly the whole time, performing its duties vigorously and searchingly, and with little apparent weariness. We were more than repaid for the trip by the privilege of once more seeing his face and enjoying his society. He is looking a little more aged, and there is less firmness and confidence in his step than when we saw him two years ago, but in some important respects he is in decidedly better health. There is no decline in mind, memory or voice, and his Sunday morning sermon was admirable every way. We hope he will take our advice and rest during the balance of the heated term, so that he may be fresh for the fall and winter. There were no committees. Verbal reports from pastors and laymen were made on the subjects indicated in the Discipline. Everything was thoroughly sifted, and the interests of the district were carefully reviewed. The spiritual condition is hopeful. One bad feature of the Sunday school work is that there are a great many union schools. The support of the preachers—now at the end, nearly, of the third quarter—is rather discouraging. About the best was where one-fourth had been received, and there were instances where only a fifth and a tenth had been collected. One brother reported his entire receipts as $12; but he had a farm, and was also confident that his allowance would be forthcoming at the end of the year. This indeed seemed to be the persuasion of nearly all: that the pastors' salaries would be paid before the meeting of the Annual Conference. The preachers are cheerful and confident, and love and trust their people. But they must and do suffer from this delay. The Bishop insisted upon the more excellent way of paying at least quarterly, and we hope his counsels and admonitions will be heeded. The disciplinary system of assessing the members is in general operation, but in many charges they have no system whatever. The collections for missions, Bishops and superannuates have not been made, as a rule. These are also being put off to the end of the year—a very bad way. It was hinted several times that the times are hard, and no money in the country. We have heard this rumor in other places, and there may be some truth in it; but there must be a little money, and surely the Lord's tenth is in it. There was considerable religious interest—large and overflowing congregations, mourners at the altar, and several conversions. The pastor, Bro. B. L. K. Smith, with the assistance of some of the brethren, purposed continuing the meeting. The last hours of the District Conference (Saturday afternoon) were devoted to the local preachers and their work. Every local preacher's name was called, and an account rendered. This is a new thing, so far as our observation goes, but it may turn out to be a very good one. President Adkisson was present and represented the East Mississippi Female College. This institution is prospering, its prospects every way most flattering, out of debt, and a plan is on foot to raise $10,000 or more for building purposes. The editor was cordially received, patiently heard, and grand resolves were made to increase the circulation of the ADVOCATE. We were gratified to meet a good many friends and subscribers in Newton. We did not know before that the people set so much by our paper. Delegates to the Annual Conference—A. G. Mayers, Irvin Miller, W. M. Thornton, Jared Watts. Alternates—James Freeney, L. M. Whorton.

Provident Disciples.

Humanizing divine ideas, by an easy translation conforming them to the conditions of our earthly life, is an ingenious but futile work of man.

The scribe who, in offering himself for discipleship, had so well arranged his matters that he could say with a fixed resolution of purpose, and without reserve, "I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest," had made everything secure. The reply of our Lord was an unexpected but marvelously keen-sighted criticism upon his careful but altogether too human provision for the work of salvation: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head." The figures illustrate the scribe, and not anything in the lot of poverty, self-chosen by our Lord. The first denotes facility for concealment, the second prosperity secured. The scribe's preparation for discipleship consisted of a prudential arrangement to avoid danger and possible adversity.

If he was admitted to discipleship it was with this distinct notification: that he could find no place for his "cave" and his "nest." The mission of Christ made no account of dangers and conveniences. Those who made much of them would find it difficult to keep up with Christ, and would secure little profit from their following.

Another case in point occurred at a later period, when the disciples adopted extraordinary means to meet the exigency of their situation by devoting all their property to the common use. Their example was inspiring, and some of the more prudent were drawn into it a measure farther than their presentiments justified. They providently, therefore, reserved a competence from their proceeds, and donated the remainder. The provident instinct and habit were thus strikingly illustrated by the two notable disciples—Ananias and Sapphira; and the danger to faith of this purely human virtue is convincingly set forth in the exemplary treatment of these persons.

There are many aspects under which this purely human providence shows itself dissimilar and averse to the circumstances of the earthly life of Christ. In following the nearest comparison we must look not solely upon the person Christ, but the entire outcome, and impress of the personality of Christ upon all that represents him in the world—his cause and following. It will appear that while the disciples in large numbers have "their "caves" and their "nests," "the Son of man hath not (literally) where to lay his head." The dissimilarity is thus brought out. The "caves" and "nests," exponents of provident discipleship, so completely occupy the space that there is no room for the circumstantials of a Christly life; no place for Christ—that is, concrete Christianity—to appear.

By means of foresight and provision the Christian disciple may not taste the danger or loss—fixed circumstances of Christ's leadership. Thus the "caves" and "nests" which we bring into our discipleship not only save us from a personal tasting of genuine Christianity, its dangers and its losses, but they deprive us of the inspiration that comes only by tasting.

This picturesque way of setting forth the hazardous in Christ's calling is the Lord's own invention; and, although by skillful maneuvering the idea may be displaced, the fact remains still, and he will lose the opportunity of successful training who, guarding against the present, waits for the revelations of the future.

"I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest" are brave words, and a suitable introduction to the exercises of discipleship, provided the "caves" and the "nests" are left behind. Otherwise they fall as far below "a life of trust" as dividing the price let down the provident Ananias and his wife.

DOUBLE U.

Decline of Popery in Europe.

Dr. Herbert Vaughan, the Romish Bishop of Salford, has lately returned from a visit to the "prisoner of the Vatican," and, though he brings cheerful news as to the health of the holy father, he has been telling the "faithful" in Lancashire that things on the Continent, and especially in Italy, look very gloomy indeed. He assures them that a Liberal conspiracy has been entered into through out the Continent, the effects of which are painful to contemplate, and still more painful to feel. He suggests that in Italy the new ruling power is going at such a terrible pace that we may expect soon to see it abolishing the decalogue. From these doleful words of Dr. Vaughan it is safe to conclude that the wholesome current of progress, arrested by such men as he, must have set in very strongly; and this inference is certainly sustained by the political incidents in Italy, France and Spain, which are reported simultaneously with the lugubrious speech of the ex-editor of the Tablet.

In the first-named of these countries (Italy) the political unity of which cannot be said to be fully consolidated so long as its institutions repose on the basis of the present restricted suffrage, a royal commission has been appointed to draw up a scheme for the extension of the franchise, and all who know the antecedents of the leading members of the new Italian cabinet are expecting to see a decided step in advance taken, though, of course, the great mass of people—thanks to the protracted rule of the priests in the past—are by far too ignorant to permit of their being suddenly added to the electorate.

In France, where the efforts that are being made by the Republican majority to effect the divorce of the Church from the State provoked the holding of a great Ultramontane conference, the most of whose proceedings were conducted in secret session, we see the government issuing an order with respect to the circulation of newspapers, which has almost a freak English feeling about it, and which is one of many heralds proclaiming that for our neighbors on the other side of "the silver streak" better days are at hand.

At Madrid the discussions in the Cortes during the past week have been mainly on religious questions, and the tone of the debates has been exceedingly hopeful. It is true that Senor Ortiz did not succeed in carrying an amendment which sought to reintroduce the more liberal article on religious tolerance contained in the constitution of 1869, though even for that a sturdy band of thirty-three senators voted in the division; but, on the other hand, the Ultramontane factions were powerless against the overwhelming majority which declared in favor of continuing to Protestants the measure of tolerance which they at present enjoy. Perhaps the most significant incident in the debate was that which occurred at the close of the great speech of Senor Ortiz, when he demanded to know of the Ultramontane members whether their party would close all the Protestant places of worship at present existing in Spain, and expel all Protestants from the country. To this question Senor Ferdinand Alvarez replied, with brutal frankness, that they would. But we perceive one token of the great change which has come over the spirit of the land of the Inquisition when we note the words that are added by the Parliamentary reporter. The answer of the leader of the priest party, we are told, "caused a great sensation." It evidently shocked the majority in the assembly pretty much in the same way as it would have shocked an English audience. For an amendment proposing that Dissenters should be restricted to private worship only twelve votes could be mustered, the majority which thrust out the hateful thing numbering one hundred and sixty-three. Thus we find that in Madrid, as at Versailles and in Rome, things are moving in a healthy flow; and we cannot wonder that English reactionaries like Dr. Vaughan, of Salford, are in a somewhat despondent mood when they survey the position of affairs on the Continent. The great heart of England, however, rejoices in the fresh tokens that lands long cursed with superstition are coming, slowly it may be, yet surely, into the clear daylight of civil and religious liberty.—Belfast Witness.

Another Gift from Commodore Vanderbilt.

Of this Dr. Summers has the following notice in the Nashville Christian Advocate:

While the faculty of the Vanderbilt University were in special session on Friday, June 16, Bishop McTyeire quietly surprised them with the glad tidings that Commodore Vanderbilt had added $300,000 to his former donations to the university; whereupon, as might be supposed, all other business was suspended, and a committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions expressing grateful appreciation of this noble act of generosity. On the next day, Saturday, June 17, the following report was presented by the committee, and unanimously adopted by the faculty:

ACTION OF THE FACULTY.

The committee appointed to report suitable action to be taken by the faculty in regard to the recent generous donation of Mr. Vanderbilt to the university, report the following:

Whereas, Bishop McTyeire, president of the board of trust, has informed the faculty that Mr. Vanderbilt has added $300,000 to his previous donations to the university which bears his honored name—the bonds to that amount having been deposited in the bank, subject to the disposal of the board of trust for the ends specified—thus raising his noble beneficence to $1,000,000; therefore, be it Resolved, by the Faculty of Vanderbilt University, That they express their profound gratitude to Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of this university, for this additional act of munificence and testimonial of kind regard for the institution with which they have the honor to be connected.

Resolved, That this donation of Mr. Vanderbilt is the more highly appreciated—being both liberal and opportune—as it will enable the board of trust to develop its plans and purposes so as more fully to meet the ends contemplated in the founding of this seat of learning.

Resolved, That this benefaction is the more thankfully appreciated as it comes at a time when the people of the South represented by this university are in circumstances of great straitness, so that they cannot furnish the means absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the university.

Resolved, That while they thus thankfully recognize the great kindness of Mr. Vanderbilt, they cannot but express their devout gratitude to God for raising up so bountiful a patron and so liberal a benefactor; and with their gratitude they blend their prayers for his restoration to health and for the preservation of his life, so that he may long live to witness the successful development of his designs in founding and nurturing the institution which bears his name, and will be a monument of his enlightened liberality in coming ages; and they further pray that, "whensoe'er he hence departs, he may depart in peace," and find his reward in paradise.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Mr. Vanderbilt.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be furnished to the Christian Advocate, published in Nashville, and to the Western Methodist, published in Memphis, and to the secular newspapers of Nashville, for publication.

We call attention to the notices of the District Conferences on our eighth page. It will be seen that the "Montgomery District" Conference meets at Auburn, Ala., on Thursday, July 27. We are glad to note that the District Conferences this year have been attended with more than usual interest, and with revival power. We would like to attend many of them, but cannot well do so. We hope, however, that the ADVOCATE will not be forgotten by the brethren. In these times the publisher needs the hearty co-operation of all in meeting the heavy expenditures necessary to keep the paper a going. Brethren, don't forget the ADVOCATE at the District Conferences. Its increased circulation will help all the interests of the church.

Rev. James A. Duncan, on account of his health, has resigned the presidency of Randolph Macon College. He has accepted the position of president of the board of trustees, and will return to the pastoral work at the meeting of the Virginia Conference, in November. It will be difficult for the college to supply Dr. Duncan's place, and his resignation is universally regretted.

The Republican Convention of Louisiana, on Monday, July 3, made the following nominations: S. B. Packard for Governor, C. C. Antoine for Lieutenant Governor, W. G. Brown for Superintendent of Public Education. Antoine and Brown are colored.

Vanderbilt Commencement—Sunday.

Sunday, June 18, was a glorious day:

Sweet day, so cool, so calm, so bright,
Bridal of earth and sky.

The university bell sent out its mellow tones on the circumambient air, and called together a large and imposing assembly to the first commencement service in the Vanderbilt chapel. After a voluntary by the university choir, the noble old hymn, "Come, thou almighty King," was sung; prayer was offered by the Rev. Anson West; lessons were read by the dean of the theological faculty, followed by the hymn, "Blessed be the Father and his love;" and then came the sermon by the Rev. R. A. Moran, D. D. He selected a grand theme—"The recapitulation of all things in Christ" (Ephesians i, 10), and nobly did he vindicate the wisdom of the faculty in selecting him to preach the first commencement sermon; he developed the glorious subject in a masterful and most eloquent discourse which we will not attempt to describe, but which we hope to see in print. The large audience seemed to be enchained during its entire delivery. They were prepared to unite in singing Charles Wesley's immortal hymn—said to have been a favorite with Bishop Soule—"A thousand oracles divine"—and to unite with the venerable Father Neil, of the Presbyterian Church, in the appropriate and fervent prayer at the close. We ought to state that, both in the discourse and in the prayer, the founder of the university was gratefully remembered, and ardent prayers were offered for his restoration to health and late removal to the better world.

In the afternoon Dr. Winfield delivered just such a discourse as was needed to close the exercises of commencement Sunday, and with the pulpit services of the session. His theme was Proverbs i, 10: "My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not." He gave the students a world of good advice, in a most affectionate and impressive manner, which they received with the most devout attention. The university choir led in the singing of appropriate hymns: "Let everlasting glories crown," "How shall young secure their hearts?" "When we with fear and hope survey," and the whole service was well completed with an impressive and a comprehensive prayer by Dr. Oliver.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

Death of Mrs. James R. McDowell.

Sister McDowell was a daughter of Dr. C. K. Marshall. The bereaved parents and kindred will receive the prayerful sympathies of their many friends. Dr. Watkins, in a note dated Vicksburg, June 29, says:

Our brother, Dr. Marshall, and his family, have been called to the endurance of a most distressing bereavement. Their youngest daughter, Mrs. James R. McDowell, one of the most lovely and accomplished ladies we ever knew, died on the twenty-seventh instant, after an illness of only two days.

The Vicksburg Daily Tribune of June 29 says:

The funeral of Mrs. James R. McDowell was very largely attended last evening by the very best representatives of society of Vicksburg, and the presence of so large a number of ladies and gentlemen of the city was a touching tribute to the worth of one of the loveliest of her sex. The Rev. Dr. Watkins, of the Methodist Church, performed the funeral services at the house and at the grave. His tribute to the deceased was beautiful and eloquent, but his heart was in his throat, and his voice was frequently inaudible. The afflicted family have the warm sympathy of the community.

The Nation is moved, says the Methodist, to some sharp words concerning a reported saying of Dr. Townsend in an address before the theological school of the Boston University. The doctor is said to have praised "the coolness with which Mr. Blaine had for the second time faced and routed the riff raff of secession on the floor of Congress." We hope Dr. Townsend said nothing of the sort, for two reasons: 1. On the floor of Congress there was no question of secession, but one affecting the character of Mr. Blaine. Theological students need to be warned, both by precept and example, against descending from the gospel to the kind of politics to which this contest belongs. Let us add, as a caution, that a good many Methodists, are, at such seasons as this, a good deal disturbed by the covert or open political preaching with which they are treated, and ministers who are more interested in the success of particular candidates than in the salvation of souls had better leave the pulpit for the stump.

SATISFIED.—A presiding elder writing about other things, says incidentally:

I am delighted with the style and conduct of the ADVOCATE—could offer no amendment. It is the church and family paper I know. God bless you and the publisher in your arduous and self-sacrificing work.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The Bishops at their late session appointed a week of prayer to be observed throughout the connection, beginning with the fast on Friday, August 4.

Some might suppose that sorrow and serenity do not go together, inasmuch as gloom is apt to be connected with sorrow. But with Christ there is nothing of the kind. Even among the purer and better natures of earth, who have sorrow, there is nothing dark and forbidding. It is really a question whether any human countenance is perfect in its expression without a certain tinge of sadness.—Reid.

panese Ware at the Exhibition.

The collection of porcelain and tery which most powerfully im- sses the imagination of the Ameri- visitors to the exhibition, both n its pompous splendor and the ltiplicity of articles, is that of pan; and a brief account does but nt justice to a department that ht tax the narrative powers Scheherezade in the "Arabian hts" adequately to describe. We familiar with the peculiarities of to. Satsuma and Taxio porcelain pottery, and know by heart the Kioto with its brilliant colors; know the crackle also, and can n a glance the Idue or red Japan celain, decorated with the favorite of chrysanthemum, for the sight hem meets us in every Idne China or private dwelling. But the s porcelain, in the Japanese collection, is much more rare, and is ptuous and splendid beyond my er. Here are displayed a variety lacquered porcelain forms—jars, es and other objects—but chief ong them are two immense jars, emtling in shape elongated pine- les. They are six or eight feet h, and graceful and tall as palm e. The color of the body of these e is a blnish white, and this is ered closely with a fine blue pat- . The blue decoration would e made them elegant without addition, but this close pattern n but a background over which Japanese artist has elaborated e forms in color, and lacquered es sumptuous in the extreme—graceful necks of peacocks, ng aromd the long necks of the s, with sweeping tails that ne- nearly half the length of the . They are painted above the under-pattern, and gold inlaid lacquer-work makes the feathers he tails, which is sometimes bur- ed brown gold, and in other es red and green and pink gold; le the eyes of the peacocks' tails w the blue of the under-pattern eath them. Tufts of palm trees, large of gold lacquer, shine like stars upon the sides of these s, and are very conspicuous e the under color. The habit of ing in Japan, with different rs of gold, is very splendid in its lts, for no substance combines er than gold with other tones or rs. We wish the custom might adopted here of mixing broken s of paint into our gilding, as in ese of these Arita vases, where see streaks running through the surface of the metal that re- ble the dust of vermilion or icles of emerald green or rose der.

sides these superb jars, there is ndid collection of whitish vases, se surface resembles the polish e inside of a shell. Not entirely the glaze upon these articles is t brilliant. But the chief attrac- consists of lively leaves and ers, ivy and grape leaves, of ral colors, and shaped and in- ted, veined and twisted, like those nature. This porcelain in its ure looks as if it might consist of , and, though its color is white, aze makes it iridescent to the ve often see in the inside of ter-shell. Some other vases in roup are formed of blue and ested in rough surfaces, and ed by white, unglazed orna- . In this collection there are note richly-colored pieces of pot- or porcelain than various old s and covered jars. Some irregu- shaped bowls are here besides, ividual in form as the printi- lamps in the Cesnola collection e Metropolitan gallery, that ap- to have been sent by the rs into their pleasant forms. e old articles, which are formed arse, grily glazed porcelain and ery, are painted in very deep and maroons, green, sulphur yellow purple, so dark that in places appear nearly black. The key grus, or the little leaves that thr s form, are of a most irregular e; and this indication of their g hand-work gives them a vastly ter charm than is derived from most precise printed patterns tel with a stencil plate upon pean China. The colors, too, uite irregular in their depth of , and greens run from a deep ze color to a pale apple green in ame figure from no motive ap- ntly, except that the designer's had become empty of color, he thought it unnecessary to more. This pottery is very ly glazed and resembles in re our ordinary milk-pans and pots.—Appleton's Journal.

is not needful that we should interest in all things—only in thing, and in some things. has constituted us differently, and another, and he has set us e world fertile in choices. He indifferent who cultivates this or that, this study or that, this er, keener, stronger interest, h obscures or forecloses that g something—something which st pure, then vigorous, whole- and of good report—God ex- each one to interest himself, with his might.

RTH GEORGIA CONFERENCE.—ge of Time.—Having been in d to change the time of the h Mississippi Conference, I now ounce that the North Georgia erence is changed from the ty-ninth of November to the of December.

G. F. PIERCE.

ANGE OF TIME.—The time of Vicksburg District Conference, eet in Port Gibson, Miss., is ged from July 19 to October 12.

F. M. FEATHERSTUN, P. E.

Scotch minister, who was famed is dryness in the pulpit, called e of his aged hearers, and, as partook of a cup of tea. He re- ed to the guid wife that her tea an very slowly. "Deed, ay," the guid wife, "it's like yersel'; an unco bad delivery." The ch have a charming frankness of ch.

MARRIED.

LOVE—HUDSON.—June 22, 1876, in Yazoo county, Miss., by Rev. R. D. Norsworthy, Mr. Robert H. Love and Miss Emma Hudson.

RUTLEDGE-PERDUE.—At the residence of the bride's father, in Crenshaw county, Ala., by the Rev. A. M. Jones, June 22, 1876, Mr. Augustus Rutledge and Miss Nettie Perdue.

There was great practical good sense in the advice given by the celebrated Dr. Routh to a student who asked for counsel as to studying divinity. "Advise to you, sir, in studying divinity?" said the doctor. "Did you say that you 'wished I would give you a few words of advice,' sir? * * * Then let me recommend to you the practice of always verifying your references, sir."

Sunday boots squeak worse than every-day ones. So do Sunday Christians.

Publisher's Department.

Acknowledgments of Letters and Funds

RECEIVED BY MAIL,

For the Week Ending July 1, 1876.

A—American Sunday School Union, N W Ayer & Son, William T Ashford, H F Adams, Edwin Alden, C G Andrews $5, Philip Allen.

B—L R Throoyne, R F Beazley, Barnum & Pease, Daniel F Beatty, Ralph Bradley $2, J W Burke & Co two letters, George P Bratdt 65 cents, T T Beall $1, J M Black $1.45, Barnes & Wilkinson, James E Bradley two letters, E S Bogel, J R Barden, J W Bryan, Isaac F Billow, C W Bearn Jr $2, W E Bales.

C—Jesper M Calvin 50 cents, L Emmie Carley $1.80, J Crowder $5, S S Connor, Louis Cook, Campbell Printing Press and Manufacturing Company, Robert Carter & Bro, B F Darrow, John J Collins, Mrs A H Carpenter 25 cents.

D—Davidson Rubber Company, C B Dullose, W Dameron, Charles P Dillingham four letters, Daniel Dennett, Charles H Dilson & Co, Joel T Daves, two letters $2.50, Oliver Dilson & Co, Mrs Augusta Douglas 75 cents, Robert A Davis, A Dowling $2.

E—Esterbrook Steel Pen Company, R A Ellis.

F—E A Flowers $3.15, M D Fly, John L Ferguson.

G—Charles B Galloway $2, L A Graves, Edward E G Green, John T Graham $2, H T Gray, Gorton & Wailes $2.50, E J P Goodwin $16.50.

H—A S Heindel $50, R H Henly, H D Howes, J H Holcomb, A E Hardly, R J Hainmel, W R Hines, J W Hearne, Thomas P Harper, John A Heard Jr $2.25, W W Horner, Thomas W Hines, H W Hawkins, Harper & Bros.

J—Johnson, H F Johnson, J N Johnson.

K—W H Kirk, Theodore E Kelly, J W Knott, J C Keener, Louis Kendall $2, John G Kraiter $5.

L—Miss E M Layehace 50 cents, E J Legrand, James K Lane, Thomas J Lowry two letters, D C Langford $6, D A Little $5, L H Legette $50, J C Lowe, A J Lamar $2, John Leonhard $5.10, Lee & Shepard, G R Lynch $2.

M—R W McKilley, W P Mosely $8, Morgan Envelope Company, J M Mason, A Millspaugh, Mrs Lizzie A Maguire, John Massey, Sol C Murray $10, Ezekiel Mixer, James L Mathison $1.50, S A McLemore $1.50, Thomas H McClendon $12, A G Moore, E M Montgomery.

N—Joseph D Newsom $13.50, R D Norsworthy $.

O—James Ormond two letters E M Owens.

P—J M Pugh, P H Phair, Michael Pickett, S M Pettengill & Co, John Pringle $1.10, F W Pike 25 cents, O J Penn, J F Patterson $2, J W Perry $2, M S Parks, Cornelius Pierpont, L Parker.

R—A H Redford agent Seven letters, Samuel Rayner, Lewis A Reed, Robert H Read.

S—J H Stone $2, F W Stratton $1.50, Smith, Dixon & Co, R A Sidey, C W Swafford, Thomas M Smith, George S Stonfield, H B Safford, John D Sulit, W B Salter, J T Strather $3, St Helena Spencer, A P Sage, J L P Sheppard, L P Smith, R L Selman $1.50, R G Sewell, A Seely, J F Scarlock.

T—D W Tippen, Mrs B Trauble $2, T Turnage 60 cents, Mrs S F H Tarrant, Albert H Thomas.

V—W G Veal.

W—Mrs M D White $2.50, E M White, Thomas S West $10, R L Wilson, H J Wright 50 cents, Miss M J Wright 25 cents, George H Wiley $48, A H Weatherby $2, Samuel White, R J Walker, S F Williams $2.50 Words, John K White, A R Winfield, S P Ward 5 cents, J C Weaver, F J Worthy, Miss Bettie Wise $1.50, J P Woodfolk, W J Wooten $1, Mrs N H Wagley, Horace Waters & Sons, Wilkinson Bros & Co.

Y—T W Young, E H York, Agt.

THE GREAT LOUISVILLE ROUTE.

The traveling community, who travel for pleasure or profit, should recollect that passengers leaving New Orleans by either the Jackson road, or the New Orleans and Mobile railway, arrive at New York and other eastern points from eight to twenty four hours in advance of all other routes, which publish "the one change of cars." By this route there is but one change of cars to New York or the Philadelphia Centennial, or to Baltimore and Washington. The trains that connect at Cincinnati with the Louisville line run directly on to the grounds of the Centennial. To Niagara Falls passengers save seventeen hours and forty minutes by this reliable route. Sleeping car accommodations direct to Cincinnati, and then on to New York or Niagara Falls. The Louisville railway is the only route south of the Ohio river that is stone-ballasted and steel-railed, and the route passes through the healthiest portions of Kentucky and Tennessee—the high regions of those States. The cars are of the newest designs, and the Pullman Palace on all trains. The eating stations along the line are all first-class. For full information please call on Capt. Joseph H. Smith, general Southern agent, Camp and Common streets.

PHOTOGRAPHER.—Those in need of a faithful likeness should visit the art gallery of J. A. Sheldon, 131 Poydras street, where he is taking pictures in keeping with the times. He has recently gone to great and valuable expense in fitting up his gallery, which is now very attractive, and one of the finest in the city. Remember the place—formerly occupied by E. Lilienthal.

COTTON PRESS.—The Balanced Screw Cotton Press, advertised elsewhere, has some advantages over other presses that it would be well for planters to consider. These advantages are briefly stated in the advertisement, but more full and explicit information can be obtained by sending to D. R. Lemman, Esq., No. 3 Perdido street, for circulars.

MACHINERY.—All persons interested in steam engines, mills or any kind of plantation machinery are referred to the advertisement of H. Dudley Coleman, Esq., one of our most enterprising citizens. We have known Mr. Coleman for a number of years, and can safely recommend him to those interested.

BOOKSELLER AND STATIONER.—A. P. Harrington, Esq., having bought out the interest of James A. Gresham, will carry on the business of bookseller, stationer and news dealer at 118 Canal street. Mr. Harrington has experience in the business, and is well and favorably known to the trade.

CRAWFORD HOUSE, CINCINNATI.—Parties visiting Cincinnati this summer, either on pleasure or business, will find the above house a most desirable stopping-place. It is first-class in every particular, as well as being the most reasonable in charges. See advertisement.

PAN-HANDLE ROUTE.—Travelers visiting the Centennial should read the advertisement of the Pan-Handle route. Col. Wallington is the general Southern agent.

LEVY BROS., 580 Magazine street, guarantee their Hella kid glove.

SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.—The Louisiana Savings Bank and Safe Deposit Company is under the management of an excellent board of directors and officers. It insures against loss by burglars, thieves and fires at low rates, and gives six per cent. interest on small deposits. We direct attention to the advertisement in another place.

BITTERICK'S PATTERNS have been brought into extensive use by the Singer Manufacturing Company, and thousands of persons have attested their convenience and economy. See cut in our advertising columns, and send to the company, as directed, for catalogue.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.—P. P. Carroll, Esq., attorney and counselor at law, 27 Carondelet street, offers his services to the public, and guarantees prompt attention. See card in another column.

AT NAVRA & OFFNER'S China Palace, on Canal street, all articles of China and glassware can be procured at reasonable prices.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

R. F. W. BACHMAN, FINE BOOTS AND SHOES, 18 Camp street, under the City Hotel. The largest and best-selected stock in the South; and in elegance of style, fineness of material, perfection of workmanship and fit our line of

LADIES', GENTS', MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S CUSTOM-MADE BOOTS AND SHOES

is unsurpassed. Our stock is peculiarly adapted for Family and Plantation Wear, and at prices as moderate as can be found in any market.

R. F. W. BACHMAN,
18 Camp street, under City Hotel
1e New Orleans, La.

PIERSON & DEWS,
NOS. 13 AND 15 CAMP STREET,
Opposite the City Hotel.
CLOTHING & FURNISHING GOODS
FOR MEN AND BOYS.

We invite visitors from the country to look at our stock. We keep good goods, sell at one price and mark it in plain figures. Clergymen's trade solicited; and a liberal deduction made to them.

THROW off that despondent spirit, crush that feeling of despair, be cheerful, happy and well. Take Simmons' Liver Regulator. It is no humbug; its virtues can be proved by hundreds right here at home. Examine the certificates. It has cured the worst cases of Dropsy, Dyspepsia, and prevents Chills, Fever, etc.

"I have been a dyspeptic for years; began to use the Simmons Liver Regulator two years ago; it has acted like a charm in my case.

REV. J. C. HOLMES, Clayton, Ala."

PERSONS who are subject to Headache, Weakness, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Depression should never be without Dr. Hoff's Liquid Extract of Buchu. Get pint bottles. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BALANCED SCREW
COTTON PRESS.

THIS is the most valuable improvement ever made upon the Screw Cotton Press. It obtains 40 to 50 per cent. more good qualities, and adds thereto a rapidity which is astonishing.

The improvements consists in making the nut in two parts. The nut is opened and closed upon the screw by means of levers. With the nut open, the screw and follower are set down upon the cotton, then the nut is closed and the pressing is done in the usual manner. So in open the nut, and raise up the screw and follower instead of screwing it up. This raising and lowering the screw, by means of the counterbalance, saves revolving the press at least sixty times, reducing the time and labor of pressing cotton one half.

This Press has taken the premium over all competitors at the recent State Fairs of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Machinery Purchasing Agency.

I will give my personal attention to the purchase of Plantation Machinery of every description, at manufacturers' prices.

Send for circulars.

D. R. LEMMAN,
No. 3 Perdido St., near St. Charles St.,
New Orleans, La.

A. P. HARRINGTON,
BOOKSELLER, STATIONER
AND NEWS DEALER.
118 CANAL STREET 118
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Printing and Binding promptly executed at the lowest rates. Subscriptions taken for Magazines and Newspapers, payable in advance.

Having bought the interest of Mr JAMES A. GRESHAM in the store No. 118 Canal street, I respectfully solicit the patronage of the trade and the reading public.

A. P. HARRINGTON.

LOUISIANA SAVINGS BANK AND
SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY,
51 Camp Street.

CAPITAL.....$500,000

E. C. PALMER, President.
JAS. JACKSON, Vice President.

DIRECTORS.

ED. CONERY,	FRED'K WING,
J. H. KELLER,	W. H. THOMAS,
W. B. SCHMIDT,	JAS. JACKSON,
	E. C. PALMER.

This Company insures against loss by Burglars, Thieves and Fire at low rates, and its capital gives security to Depositors.

Small Deposits received and 5 per cent. interest per annum, paid semi-annually.

JOHN S. WALTON, Cashier.

State Female College,
MEMPHIS, TENN.

MRS. HARRIET N. COLLINS, PRESIDENT.

ASSISTED by a faculty of ELEVEN officers and teachers of long experience in each department of the institution.

Prices reduced to suit the times. Location beautiful and pre-eminently healthy. Gives a thorough educational, with advantages of a home, superior facilities for instruction in Music and Painting. College year begins SEPTEMBER 1st. Send for catalogues containing full particulars. Address

JOHN S. COLLINS A.M., Secretary.

P. P. CARROLL,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
27 ..... CARONDELET STREET 27

Guarantees prompt attention to all legal business placed in his hands. Collections and claims attended to.

CANE AND SORGHUM
MACHINERY
AS A SPECIALTY.

EVAPORATORS, patent of 1876. Superior to all others, and cheaper. Send for catalogue, free. Address S. S. CANNON, cow Amite City, La.

LOUISIANA STEAM SASH, BLIND
—AND—
DOOR FACTORY,
ROBERTS & CO., PROPRIETORS,
301, 303, 305 and 307 Gravier Street,
Country orders solicited. New Orleans.

Spectacles

OUR Pebble (stone) Spectacles and Eye Glasses are the best for failing sight. Cut from real Stone (perfectly transparent and hard like a diamond, they cannot be scratched, one pair will last longer than five pairs of the best glass, and preserve the sight besides. Illustrated Priced Catalogue showing how to order, sent free to any address. Spectacles sent safely by mail, and warranted to suit. OAGNES & BRO., Opticians, 724 Main St., bet. Sixth and Seventh, Louisville, Ky.

ofw

$15 to $51 Send for particulars. Catalogue free. E. NASSON & CO., 111 Nassau street, New York.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CRAWFORD HOUSE,

FRANK W. RUSKIRK, Cashier ..... JOHN McINTYRE, Book-Keeper.
JOHN B. CONNELLY, Clerk.

Cor. Sixth and Walnut Streets, Cincinnati, Ohio.

I pride myself in providing for my Guests the best living, cleanest house and more civility for less money than any other house in the city. ☞ COME AND SEE ME. ☜ tf FRANK J. OAKES, Proprietor.

H. DUDLEY COLEMAN & BRO.
No. 12 Union St. New Orleans La.
DEALERS IN
MACHINERY
SEND FOR CIRCULARS. COMPARE OUR PRICES.
MACHINERY
MILL STONES, IRONS & PORTABLE STEAM ENGINES.
MAKE FLOUR, CORN, SAW, AND COTTON PRESSES MILLS

DIRECT TO THE World's Fair & Exposition
OF PHILADELPHIA,
VIA THE GREAT
PAN-HANDLE
AND PENNSYLVANIA LINE!
The Quickest and Only Direct Route RUNNING
3 EXPRESS TRAINS!
WITH
Drawing Room and Sleeping Cars THROUGH TO PITTSBURG,
HARRISBURG,
PHILADELPHIA
AND NEW YORK.

The Quick and Favorite Route to BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

But One Change Necessary to BOSTON & NEW ENGLAND CITIES.

Ask the Agent for Tickets via Pan-Handle & Pennsylvania Line

Rates for Single & Round-Trip Tickets Always as Low as by the Circuitous Lines.

Through Tickets, Time Tables, Sleeping Car accommodations, Excursion Route Books and further information can be obtained at all principal Railroad Ticket Offices in the South and West, or by addressing

SIDNEY H. JONES,
General S. W. Pass. Agent, Cincinnati, O.
W. L. O'BRIEN,
General Pass. and Ticket Agent, Columbus, O.
W. M. WALLINGTON,
General Southern Agent, New Orleans.

NEW MUSIC! NEW MUSIC!

GOV. RUTHERFORD B. HAYES'
GRAND MARCH. With a fine portrait. Music of the best. By E. MACK. 40 cents.

THE SALUTATION! Our new church Music Book for 1876-7 commends itself at once by the variety, freshness and musical excellence of its contents. By L. O. EMERSON. Single copy, $1.25. Per dozen, $12.

Welcome to All Nations.

Written by Dr. O. W. HOLMES to Keller's American Hymn, to be sung at July 4 Centennial celebration, Philadelphia. Octavo form for Societies, 10 cents.

Centennial Hymn. As sung at the opening of the Exhibition. Words by WHITTIER. Music by PAINE. Sheet music, 30 cents; octavo form for Societies, 10 cents, arranged for Orchestra, 75.

Centennial Collection of National Songs. Elegant and attractive volume. Paper, 30 cents, boards, 50 cents.

GOOD NEWS!

GOOD NEWS is the taking name of one of the prettiest and best of Sabbath School song books ever made. Send for specimen pages (free) or specimen copy (35 cents).

Any book or piece sent, postpaid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO.,
BOSTON.
C. H. Dilson & Co., 711 Broadway, New York. | J. E. Ditson & Co., Successors to Lee & Walker, Philadelphia.

CHOICE
FAMILY PICKLES.

17 CASES GHERKINS AND MIXED, from C. D. Brooks, Boston. The best ever offered for sale.

NEW SHAKER PRESERVES.

Thirty cases of the present crop of CHERRIES AND STRAWBERRIES from the Shaker village of South Union, Ky., where everybody knows the best Preserves come from.

FANCY GOSHEN BUTTER,

that we are receiving now, is, in the language of the shippers, "The finest in the country," and our customers indorse the statement.

ALBERT O. PHELPS, Grocer,
5p Cor. Peytania and Felicity Sts.

ROGERS' EFFERVESCING
CITRATE OF MAGNESIA,

In six-ounce bottles, in powder. This Magnesia is a mild purgative and aperient, very acceptable to the stomach for Sick Headache, Sour or Sick Stomach, and all Febrile cases. Good for all seasons of the year. Prepared by ARTHUR ROGERS, 193 Spring St., N.Y. For sale by all druggists. E. J. HART & Co., wholesale agents, New Orleans. cow

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOLEY'S
Celebrated Gold Pens
AND PENCILS.
THE FINEST AND BEST.

CIRCULAR.—To those engaged in mercantile pursuits, any invention that will facilitate their labor is highly worthy of notice, as well as of extensive patronage. One of the most important inventions of the present age is that of a pen that possesses the necessary qualities of firmness to mark and durability in use. Preëminently such are those of JOHN FOLEY, manufacturer of Fine GOLD PENS AND PENCILS, No. 2 Astor House. Their superior value is tested by the long time he has been engaged in our city in their manufacture. We, the subscribers, who know the value of FOLEY'S PENS from constant use of them for a number of years, cheerfully recommend them to those who wish for the best and most perfect Gold Pen ever made. &

Signed by the following gentlemen and over one thousand others:

J. E. Williams, Pres. Metropolitan National Bank.
G. St. Leger, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank.
J. A. Beardsley, Cashier Nat'l Bank of N. America.
Wm. A. Full, President Con Exchange Bank.
R. H. Lowry, Pres. Natl Bank of the Republic.
E. D. Tappan, Pres. Gallatin National Bank.
C. F. Thompson, Cashier Commercial Bank.
I. H. Ogden, Cashier New York Co. N'at'l Bank.
Clark, Dodge & Co. — George D. Arthur & Co.
White, Morris & Co. — H. T. Morgan & Co.
Verantlye & Co. — American Express Co.
Winslow, Lanier & Co. — Adams Express Co.
Chas. Dennis, Vice Pres. Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co.
Daniel D. Smith, Pres. Commercial Ins. Co.
Elwood Walter, Pres. Mercantile Mutual Ins. Co.
Wm. L. Jenkins, President Bank of America.
J. W. Lewis, Cashier Union National Bank.
Wm. H. Cox, Cashier Mechanics' National Bank.
J. Rudl, Pres. Importers' and Traders' Nat'l Bank.
J. M. Crane, Cashier Shoe and Leather Nat'l Bank.
Wells, Fargo & Co. — T. Ketchum & Co.
United States Exp. Co., S. R. Chittenden & Co.
Barclay & Livingston. — J. Anson & Higgins.
A. F. Willmarth, Vice Pres. Home Fire Ins. Co.
Morris Franklin, Pres. New York Life Ins. Co.

JOHN FOLEY,
GOLD PEN MANUFACTURER,
No. 2 Astor House, Broadway, N. Y.

Sold by many of the leading Stationers and Jewelers of New Orleans. cow

New Orleans City Railroad.

FROM CLAY STATUE TO THE LAKE WITHOUT CHANGE OF CARS.

Fare for the round trip to the Lake and return,

TWENTY CENTS.

TRAINS WILL LEAVE AS FOLLOWS:

From Clay Statue. o'clock		From the Lake. o'clock
6	A. M.	7	A. M.
7	A. M.	8	A. M.
8	A. M.	9	A. M.
9	A. M.	10	A. M.
10	A. M.	11	A. M.
11	A. M.	12	M.
12	M.	1	P. M.
1	P. M.	2	P. M.
2	P. M.	3	P. M.
3	P. M.	3.45	P. M.
3.30	P. M.	4.15	P. M.
4	P. M.	4.45	P. M.
4.30	P. M.	5.15	P. M.
5	P. M.	5.45	P. M.
5.30	P. M.	6.15	P. M.
6	P. M.	6.45	P. M.
6.30	P. M.	7.15	P. M.
7	P. M.	7.45	P. M.
7.30	P. M.	8.20	P. M.
8	P. M.	9	P. M.
8.30	P. M.	10	P. M.

Trains will stop going and returning, at Esplanade, Hampart, Claiborne and Galvez streets only.

Diseases of the Eye and Ear.

DR. C. BEARD,
OCULIST,
11 ..... DAUPHINE STREET 11
NEW ORLEANS.
Office hours from 10 to 3. 5p

M. RIQUELME,
CIGAR MANUFACTURER,
11 DECATUR STREET,
OPPOSITE POSTOFFICE, NEW ORLEANS,

Has always on hand the best brands of Cigars, ranging from $20 Per Thousand Upward.

Also a fine assortment of SMOKING AND CHEWING TOBACCO.

The Great Southern Remedy!
JACOB'S
CHOLERA, DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA CORDIAL.

A SOVEREIGN remedy for Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhea, Flatulent Colic, Weakness of Stomach and Bowels, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debility, etc. For sale by druggists and dealers throughout the south.

GENERAL DEPOT:
BREEN & HOBART, Wholesale Druggists,
214 Fulton Street, New York.

SULLIVAN & HULGH,
NO. 97 CAMP ST., NEW ORLEANS,
DEALERS IN
Gas Fitters' and Plumbers' Materials,

Gas Fixtures, Pumps, Bath-Tubs, Ranges, Iron, Lead and Tin-Lined Pipes, Sheet Lead, Fittings of all descriptions, Brass, Steam, Water and Gas Cocks, Valves, Plugs, etc. Thirty per cent. discount on Iron Pipe; all other goods in proportion. cow

MEDICAL.

IF YOU FEEL DULL, DROWSY, DEBILITATED, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

ASK the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator.

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden, and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. No drastic, violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment; in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance at the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Ask the recovered dyspeptics, bilious sufferers, victims of fever and ague, the mercurial-diseased patient, how they recovered health, cheerful spirits and good appetite. They will tell you by taking Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Extract of a letter from Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872: "I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than more active remedies." 5ptc

MISCELLANEOUS.

CHINA PALACE.

THE LARGEST STOCK OF
Crockery, China, Glassware
CUTLERY, PLATED WARE
AND
HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS
IN THE SOUTH.

☞ Look at our prices and judge for yourselves: ☜

A real French China DINNER SET, 145 pieces, for..... $20 00
A real French China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for.. 6 75
A Stone China DINNER SET, 120 pieces, for.. 11 50
A Stone China TEA SET, 44 pieces, for..... 3 75
A Stone China CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for..... 3 50
Decorated CHAMBER SET, 11 pieces, for..... 6 00

Sole Agents for the celebrated SHAW REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS. The best and cheapest in the country.

Also the celebrated BUTTER CHURN. Warranted to make butter in from three to ten minutes.

All kinds of Ice Cream Freezers, Water Coolers and Bath Tubs.

Orders from the country will receive our best attention.

NAVRA & OFFNER,
5p 122 Canal street, New Orleans.

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE

RESPECTFULLY offers her services in selecting, purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel or personal adornment for Ladies' and Children's use, including MILLINERY, DRY GOODS, JEWELRY, BRIDAL TROUSSEAUX, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Trimmings, Underwear, Sewing Machines etc.

Scrupulous care with reference to the price and quality, and fidelity to the interest and fulfillment of the wishes of correspondents, will be sedulously carried out.

Spring and Summer Styles
OF
LADIES' DRESSES,
IN IMPORTED FRENCH PATTERNS,

CENTENNIAL APRONS, RUCHES AND KERCHIEFS, in shades of the Fashions of 1776

Just received by

MRS. H. MOGRIDGE,
NO. 98 CANAL STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

W. M. EVANS,

NO. 33 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

SOLICITS CONSIGNMENTS OF

Wool, Moss, Hides, Rags, Bones, Metals,

And all descriptions of PRODUCE.

Personal and careful attention given to all business intrusted to my care. Quick sales and prompt returns made. Will fill orders for all descriptions of goods at lowest cash prices. Advances made on consignments. P. O. Box 238.

The New Louisiana Remedy

FOR Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Complaints—product of our Swamps—is the most effective Remedy that has ever appeared. Contains NO POISON, and is delicious. The proofs are overwhelming, and daily increase! Nearly ELEVEN PAGES of names of HOME REFERENCES at the Depot, 100 CAMP STREET, New Orleans. Life Tonic infallible for Chills, Swamp Fever, etc. Sold by Country Merchants and Druggists. 5p

BOUDRO'S RESTAURANT,
AT THE LAKE END, PONTCHARTRAIN RAILROAD,
Jary & Hauser, Proprietors.

Has been refitted and refurnished for the season and is now open. No house in the country can excel it for Cookery and Wines. Prices suited to the times.

WANTED ..... WANTED.

A SITUATION by a first-class PROFESSOR OF MUSIC, Vocal and Instrumental.

REFERENCES.—Rev. H. Eschohnson, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss.; Rev. M. H. Wells, Waco, Tex. Address

KELLOGG & CO.,
Lock Box E, Little Rock, Ark.

ADOLPH FINCK,
(Formerly with N. Burke,)
FAMILY GROCERY STORE,
COR. FELICITY ROAD AND DRYADES STS.

Always on hand, and for sale cheap, a first-class stock of choice Family Groceries. Goods delivered free of charge.

CABRE'S CABINS, LUMBER, ETC.—To meet the demand for our Cabins we have added such machinery as enables us to turn them out not only faster, but better and cheaper; so come on with your orders. Not forgetting that as Lumber Merchants we date back a quarter of a century, and with recently established telegraph communication with our Pearl River Mills, we can furnish at short notice anything from a plaster lath to a ship spar.

W. W. CARRE & CO.,
No. 350 Delord street.

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Me.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Grafting the Pear.

I wish to say something derived from my experience in grafting the pear. I took kindly to every new variety of this fruit offered by the nurserymen. Ultimately I found that the soil or climate in my situation was not favorable to all the sorts pressed upon amateurs, and I then had recourse to the kinds found to be advisable under the circumstances, using the unproductive stocks for working over into those that were suited to better results. I do not think that my method of grafting is in common use; but it is far to be preferred to any other. I proceed in this way: In the spring I cut the clons from the trees I desire to propagate, and bury them half their length in the earth at the foot of the tree. These will do to graft for two or three months. When the bark will separate easily from the wood, I saw off the limbs square upon my stocks, at any length from the ground, make a slit downward on the side, and insert the cion, properly shaved off one-half and fitted with a shoulder, into its place. One stock will serve for several clons, according to its size. Stocks three inches in diameter will serve for four clons. The grafts must be bound on and waxed in the usual way, and when the work is carefully performed not one in a hundred will fail.

It is not necessary, however, to make the provision for clons which I have described, except for early operations. Grafting by this style may be done nearly all summer, resort being made to the standing trees for the clons. Early in the season the old wood or twigs of last year's growth may be used. If any growth has been made, cut back the immature part of the buds more fully matured, or to those which have not started. Later, the new growth is admirably adapted to this purpose. The clons will immediately put out and make a fine growth the same season. This method saves the trouble of splitting the stock, and fitting the cion exactly is more readily performed, and may be practiced at any time from the latter part of May till August with the most perfect success. I sometimes use a cion with three or four twigs, or with half a dozen buds, and insert two or more in the same stock, according to its size. Any one who has never seen grafting done in this way will be surprised to see how effectually it works. The apple can be grafted in the same style, and perhaps other fruits; but the smaller growth of the pear, especially when cultivated by the dwarf system, renders it peculiarly adapted to the latter.

I am indebted to my own experience for what I recommend as above. The method partakes of the principle of budding, or inoculation, with the advantage of a vigorous growth during the first season, and as avoiding the necessity of special preparation in providing for clons. It admits also of greater leisure in performing the operation, the season in which it may be done extending over a period of nearly or quite three months. Perhaps its greatest merit will be found in the perfect union of stock and cion, which takes place in a few weeks of time.—Correspondent of Country Gentleman.

BEE-RAISING.—Bees are as useful as chickens, and as easily raised. They afford us a luxurious food, healthy, and might be cheap. Bees need little feeding, little expense and attention. They want only a comfortable home, covered from the storm and sun, and protected from the marauding miller. They will make their own living, and do considerable toward the living of the farmer. Not many swarms can be kept prosperously in one place, but every farmer may raise honey for home use and a little to spare. Every gardener, every villager might do it. A single swarm of bees, well attended to, will soon produce as many swarms as can be successfully kept in one place. All that bees make is clear gain. They get their treasure from the flowers. We should have bees enough in the country to have one always sipping at every flower. The flower is all the time producing honey. The bee should be all the time gathering it. If we had a bee all the time at every flower, honey enough would be procured to supply the world. It is a means of health, wealth and pleasure. Let bees be cultivated; let every farmer have them. They are as useful as cows and far less troublesome. A little attention will teach one to manage them.—Rural Sun.

ONE CHAPTER IN THE PICKLE BUSINESS.—Being in Lewiston one day last week, we made a brief call on Mr. L. B. Knight, of the firm of L. B. Knight & Co., whose name has become quite well known throughout the State in connection with the business of putting up and selling Maine pickles, and who has not inappropriately been styled the "Maine pickle man." What he don't know about pickles is hardly worth knowing.

In preparing the cucumbers for pickles Mr. Knight "greens" them very lightly, but in such a way as to make a plump, fine-looking, solid and crisp pickle, the process consisting of soaking them in cold water brought up to a moderate heat, in which the cucumbers remain but a short time. The English pickles are not "greened" at all, but have a sort of brown look; and for certain markets Mr. Knight puts up large quantities of pickles after this style. No alum is used, and only the purest white wine vinegar, which is manufactured expressly for his own use.—S. L. Boardman.

WHEN TO PICK PEARS.—A subscriber asks "whether pears should be allowed to ripen on the tree or be picked before they are ripe?" Pears should never be allowed to become fully ripe before gathering. They should be picked eight or ten days before they become ripe. Their quality will be higher and they will look better, if properly handled, than if left on the tree. It is quite an art to handle pears after picking, so they will color up finely and command the highest price in market. They want to be kept in a proper temperature, and some persons spread them out on the floor and cover them with woolen blankets to heighten their color. In the South pears do well, and with proper skill and experience they can put their pears into market and command nearly the prices of California pears.

PLANT A GRAPE VINE FIRST.—Not one farmer in twenty will buy grapes or other fruit, except apples, for himself and family; but grapes are so easily and cheaply grown that no family should be without a few grape vines. Grapes can be got in bearing earlier than any other fruit, excepting strawberries. The first duty of a settler on new land is to plant half a dozen grape vines, and after that as many as he can afford. Fresh fruit is necessary to the health of a family, and nothing is more quickly, easily or cheaply grown than grapes.

People have generally three epochs in their confidence in man. In the first they believe him to be everything that is good, and they are lavish with their friendship and confidence. In the next they have had experience, which has smitten down their confidence, and they then have to be careful not to mistrust every one, and to put the worst construction on everything. Later in life they learn that the greater number of men have much more good in them than bad, and that, when even there is cause to blame, there is more reason to pity than condemn; and there a spirit of confidence again awakens within them.—Frederika Bremer.

When a child picks flowers in the field, and brings us the whole handful, one up and one down, all thrown together, then in each individual one we see more clearly the beauty, the harmony in color and form than is so good to our sight. We arrange them, and altogether they blend in a beautiful whole, so that we do not look at one, but at the whole bouquet. This perception of the harmony of beauty is an instinct in us, lying in our eyes and in our ears—these bridges between our souls and the created things, even in the beating of the waves of the air made manifest in sound.—Hans Christian Anderson.

Two village worthies met on the street one day. "Jamie," says the richer of the two, "are ye never gaun to pay me that account? I'm ill all for siller the noo." "O," says Jamie, "I hae na seen ye this lang time. Ought ye cheenge a twenty-pund note?" "Ay cudd I," says the laird, drawing out his pocket book. "Ah, weel," says Jamie, "ye're na needin' siller, then," and walked on.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GORDON FOOD,

FOR

HORSES, MULES & CATTLE.

CONCENTRATED, STRENGTHENING, INVIGORATING, PALATABLE AND RENOVATING.

A PREPARED FOOD.

It plays no role and to the ordinary rest of feeding, although producing the most admirable result viz: Strong wind, fine appearance, good digestion, and a generally improved health.

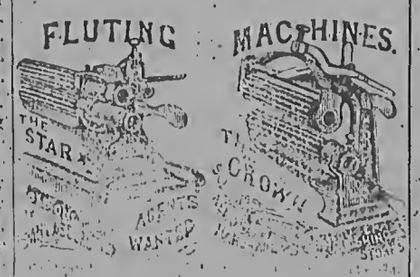
Its continued use secures perfect health in HORSES, MULES AND CATTLE.

GORDON FOOD IS PACKED IN

Whole sacks, 100 pounds $3 50
Half sacks, 50 pounds 1 75
Quarter sacks, 25 pounds 2 00

Sent to any address on receipt of price.

SAMUEL MULLEN,
SOLE AGENT,
DEPOT—5th POYDRAS ST., New Orleans.



BLADON SPRINGS,
ALABAMA.

PERSONS WISHING TO VISIT THESE FAMOUS SPRINGS WILL TAKE THE MOBILE TRAIN ON

Tuesday and Saturday Mornings,

And connect with the Boats that leave Mobile at 5 o'clock P. M. on the same days.

Rates of Board.

Board, per month $30 00
Per week 10 00
Per day 2 00

Liberal rates will be made for families.

ISAACSON & SEIXAS, Agents for New Orleans.
JAMES CONNER & CO.,
Proprietors.

FREE! FREE!

10,000

E. BUTTERICK & CO.'S

CATALOGUES

CONTAINING THE

LATEST SUMMER FASHIONS,

Just received and ready for distribution. Mailed to any address upon application to

The Singer Manufacturing Co.,
91 CANAL ST., NEW ORLEANS.

T. W. HOTHICK,
UNDERTAKER,
271 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

Embalming and Disinterring. Bodies carefully shipped. Carriages and Cabs for hire.

EDUCATIONAL.

Martha Washington Female College
ABINGDON, VA.

WARREN DUPRE, A. M., late Professor of Natural Science in Wofford College, S. C., has been elected President of the above Institution. He is assisted by a full and able corps of professors in all the departments.

The situation is one of the most delightful in the mountains of Virginia, and abounds in valuable mineral waters.

It has been for years the summer resort for many of the best families in the Southern States.

The College is endorsed and commended by many eminent scholars, whose daughters are numbered among its graduates.

☞ Two Hundred and Ten Dollars will pay for board and tuition for ten months. Extras moderate.

Next session begins SEPTEMBER 21.

For further particulars send for catalogue.

Greensboro Female College,
GREENSBORO, N. C.

THE Fall Session will begin on Wednesday, AUGUST 23, and continue 20 weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights).....$75 00
Tuition in regular English course 25 00

For catalogue apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President

N. H. D. WILSON,
President Board of Trustees.

BLACKMAN'S
COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

131 .....CARONDELET ST.....131

Parents can here give their sons a thorough business education, and guard them at the college. For terms, which have been reduced Twenty Per Cent., send for catalogue and circular to

J. W. BLACKMAN,
New Orleans, La.

SAVINGS BANKS.

NEW ORLEANS
SAVINGS INSTITUTION.

154 .....CANAL STREET.....154

Incorporated March 15, 1855.

OFFICERS.

DAVID URQUHART, President.
THOS. A. ADAMS, First Vice President.
THOS. ALLEN CLARKE, Second Vice President.
CHARLES J. LEEDS, Third Vice President.
CHARLES KIDSHAW, Treasurer.

TRUSTEES.

Thos. A. Adams, George Jones,
Thos. Allen Clarke, John D. Gabus,
Charles J. Leeds, Christian Schneider,
Samuel Jamison, Carl Kohn,
A. Monlton, T. L. Bayne,
E. A. Palfrey, David Urquhart.

☞ Interest allowed on deposits.

MISCELLANEOUS.

COUNTRY ORDERS
FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.

PARTIES who wish to buy Boots and Shoes FOR CASH are invited to send to me for a card which explains HOW TO TAKE YOUR OWN MEASURE, thus enabling any one in the country to get a good-fitting Boot or Shoe direct from the city at the LOWEST CITY PRICES.

Where we are favored with orders that exceed $10 the Freight thereon will be prepaid at our expense. Where the order exceeds $20, we will also pay the cost of sending the money to us, whether by Express, Money Order, Registered Letter, Bank Draft or otherwise.

Goods sent C. O. D. to all points where the Express Company or Packets have agents.

Price list of ready-made goods, also instructions how to take your own measure, will be sent by mail upon application.

GIMBEL'S EPICUREAN BLUE BOOT AND SHOE STORE,
No. 578 Magazine Street.
☞ Go to the Lady's Boot.

Branch—567 Magazine St., corner St. Andrew.
LOUIS GIMBEL, Agent.

BLOUNT SPRINGS.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN HEALTH AND PLEASURE RESORT.

DIRECTLY on the line of travel between this city and the Northeast, one hundred and thirty miles north of Montgomery, in the mountainous region of North Alabama. Passengers leaving the city on the 5:30 P. M. train for the East, by way of Mobile, Montgomery and Louisville, take dinner at the JACKSON HOUSE, Blount Springs, next day. Try a summer at this favorite resort where you get the best Mineral Water in America. Send for pamphlet circular.

Rates of Board: $2 per day; $10 per week; $35 and $50 per month.

Round trip tickets, $25—good until the first of November.

J. D. DOWNEY, Proprietor.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AS CERTAIN PARTIES are deceitfully calling themselves as being "Sole Agents" of the "Best manufacturers of Penique Tobacco" of Grand Point, St. James parish, I would respectfully state that I am

THE DULY AUTHORIZED AGENT

Of the following manufacturers of Grand Point:

OCTAVE ROUSSEL,
LEWIS ROUSSEL,
AUGUSTAVE ROUSSEL,
F. St. PIERRE,
And many others.

EDMOND BOURGEOIS,
No. 19 Conti street.

DIXIE BEE-HIVE.

PRICE $3 PUT UP READY FOR USE.

Nothing in them to get out of order. Any one can manage them. The most profitable hive.

This is the cheapest, simplest and most complete Hive suitable for Southern Apiaries.

HONEY EXTRACTORS $12

For sale by

GEO. A. VINCENT,
Dealer in Wood, Rakes, Hoes, Tobacco and Country Produce in general,
No. 20 N. PETERS ST., NEW ORLEANS.

THIS PAPER IS KEPT ON FILE AT THE OFFICE OF

N. W. AYER & SON ADVERTISING AGENTS,

733 SANSOM ST., PHILADELPHIA,

Who are our authorized agents, and will receive Advertisements at our LOWEST CASH RATES.

WM. B. RINGROSE,

NO. 172 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS,

DEALER IN

New & Second-Hand Furniture.

Furniture bought, sold and exchanged. Now occupies the large and spacious store, 172 Camp St., between Girod and Julia, just above St. Patrick's Church, for the purpose of taking Furniture on storage at the lowest rates. Jobbing, repairing and moving promptly attended to.

FURNITURE AND MATTRESSES

NO. 155 CAMP STREET.

THE undersigned has a large stock of Furniture, which he will dispose of at prices that will DEFY COMPETITION. Give me a call and see for yourselves.

Furniture taken on storage. Repairs made at lowest rates. All Furniture and Bedding put in perfect repair and delivered to order. Moving, Packing, etc., by hill, done at the lowest possible prices on application to

HENRY ITROFF,
155 Camp street.

FOR LADIES ONLY.—Lady Agents wanted to sell a Skirt-Supporting Corset and Skirt Supporter. Address or apply to MME. GRISWOLD, 21 E. Sixteenth street, New York.

INSURANCE.

New Orleans Insurance Co.
CORNER CAMP AND CANAL STS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1805.

Capital $300,000 00
Assets at their market value 182,827 96
Income for the year 1875 ..... 124,030 94

The company insures FIRE, MARINE AND RIVER RISKS. Issues Marine policies payable in London in case of loss.

President—J. TUYES,
Vice President—A. SCHREIBER.
Secretary—J. W. HINCKS.

DIRECTORS.

Ernest Merlin, A. M. Blekham,
Placide Forstall, A. Schreiber,
H. Gally, J. Tuyes,
Charles Lallie, W. A. Bell,
W. Van Benthuysen, D. Fallo,
Pierre Pomz, D. D. Rogers.

UNION INSURANCE COMPANY
OF NEW ORLEANS,

3 .....CARONDELET STREET..... 3

Near the Union National Bank.

This Company, incorporated in 1857, insures against the risks of Sea, River and Fire, and settles promptly all losses or claims.

A. CHIAPELLA, President.
J. M. CRAWFORD, Secretary.

DIRECTORS.

Victor Maignan, H. Gally,
L. D. Surby, A. Chiapella,
R. Sabty, J. Bayle,
H. Labesse, A. R. Bronsseau.

MISCELLANEOUS

State Superintendent of Public Education for Louisiana.

CARD.

THE UNDERSIGNED, who was honored by the suffrages of a large majority of the legal electors in the general state election of 1872, is a CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION as State Superintendent, at the similar election to be held in November, 1876. He respectfully solicits the moral influence and voluntary support of all honorable citizens of the State who are in favor of:

1. Reform and economy in the administration of the public school system.

2. A vigilant protection of the school funds from waste or embezzlement.

3. Equal facilities for the moral and mental instruction of all children in the State, by upright and competent teachers, under the guidance of directors who shall be responsible to the communities in whose behalf they act.

4. Schools, when and where feasible, for the training of apt pupils, of proper age, in a practical knowledge of the useful arts and trades; and

5. The prompt and punctual payment of teachers' salaries, and of all other legal and indispensable obligations of school directors.

ROBT. M. LUSHER.

LOOK TO YOUR SHIPMENTS.

ODELL & WRIGHT,

65 DECATUR ST., NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

COTTON & SUGAR FACTORS,

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

Obtain Always Best Market Prices.

The sale of Moss, Wool and Hides, and other leaves produce, specially attended to. Liberal advances in cash or merchandise. We are familiar with the products we handle. We are Sole Agents for the BRANDER'S BRANDS OF FLOUR:

Grangers' Friend XXX, Grangers' Hope XXX,
Grangers' Pride XXXX, Grangers' Extra XXXX,
Grangers' Best XXXX,

which we will sell at Western prices. We also purchase Sugar and Molasses for those outside the sugar sections.

50 CENTS FREE.

Special Offer—for a Short Time Only.

Will send, postpaid, free, to each new subscriber of Leo's NEW YORK AGENTS' MONTHLY, a magnificent CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL MEDAL of Liberty (size,) struck in Admiral Photo Silver, larger than a silver trade dollar. Or both for 50 cents. Price, 50 cents each. The AGENTS' MONTHLY is a handsome, spicy 16-page paper. Subscription price, 25 cents a year. Send 25 cents, and you will receive the AGENTS' MONTHLY for one year, postpaid, and the above medal gratis. Address

PENTON PUBLISHING CO.,
150 Broadway, New York

H. CASSIDY,
SAIL-MAKER,
AND COTTON DUCK AGENT,

No. 93 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.

ESTABLISHED IN 1839.

Manufacturer of TENTS, AWNINGS, TARPAULINS etc. Flags on all Nations on hand.

CISTERN-MAKER.

R. BRODERICK,

NOS. 132, 134 AND 136 JULIA ST.,

Between Camp and Magazine, New Orleans,

Constantly on hand an assortment of Cisterns Second-hand Cisterns always on hand. All orders promptly attended to.

SHAKSPEARE IRON WORKS,

GIROD ST., BETWEEN BARONNE AND BIENVILLE, NEW ORLEANS.

JOS. A. SHAKSPEARE, A. SMITH, S. SWORD.

SHAKSPEARE, SMITH & CO.

manufacture every variety of Steam Engines, Sugar Mills, Saw Mills, Building and Centrifugal Machines, Mill and Ship Gearing, Grate Bars, Iron Store Fronts, Columns and Ventilators. Blacksmith work of all kinds.

GARDEN CONFECTIONERY,

590 MAGAZINE STREET.

COOL SODA, MEAD AND VICHY.

CHOICE FRUITS, ICES.

Ladies' Ice Cream Saloon.—Fresh Pastry every day. Assorted and Plain Made Candies. Orders for Weddings, Parties, Suppers, etc., solicited and personally attended to.

We make a specialty of furnishing families with Ice Cream in quarts, half gallons and larger measures, upon order.

GARDEN DISTRICT ICE DEPOT.

WILLIAM MYERS,
DEALER IN ICE,
No. 138 Harmony Street,

Opposite the Ninth St. Market, Fourth District.

Families supplied, wholesale or retail, at short notice.

CARPET WAREHOUSE,

17 ..... CHARTRES STREET..... 17

CARPETINGS—Wilton, Axminster, Velvet, Brussels, Tapestry, Three-Ply, etc.
FLOOR OIL CLOTH—English and American.
MATTINGS—800 rolls White, Check and Fancy.
WINDOW SHADES, Table and Piano Covers.
FURNITURE and CURTAIN GOODS in great variety.
BURLAPS, Table and Enamel OIL CLOTHS.
A. GIRAUDEAU.

PELICAN

IMPROVED RICE MILLS,

J. H. & A. JOHNSON, PROPRIETORS,

154, 156 and 158 Magazine St., New Orleans.

MILLING RATES—No. 1 at 3/4c. per pound; No. 2 at 1/2c. per pound. Address all orders for empty Sacks to P. O. Box 2405.

BOOKS, STATIONERY, ETC.

"I am certain that the work will prove of decided value to all who make use of it."—Dudley Buck.

PALMER'S

THEORY OF MUSIC

(JUST READY.)

A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO THE STUDY OF

Thorough Bass, Harmony & Composition

For Acquiring a Knowledge of the Science,

IN A SHORT TIME,

With or Without the Aid of a Teacher.

Including 730 Questions, Illustrated by 552 Examples from the best Writers.

BY H. R. PALMER.

"I shall recommend it to my pupils and others as a book from which they can obtain the most useful information with the least effort and in the easiest way."—William Mason.

"It will meet a want which has never before been met."—L. O. Emerson.

"It is the best work of the kind that has ever come under my observation."—Adolph Baumbach.

Bound in Cloth—Price, by Mail, $1.

JOHN CHURCH & CO.,
PUBLISHERS, CINCINNATI, O.

OUR CHILDREN.

I. The Family.
II. The Sunday School.

A BOOK FOR PARENTS, TEACHERS AND PREACHERS.

BY ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD, D. D.,
President of Emory College.

Dr. Lovick Pierce Writes an Admirable Introduction.

In the best style of Printing, 12mo. Price, $1.50, postpaid to any address. For sale by

R. J. Harp, New Orleans.
Nelson & Phillips, New York.
A. B. Bedford, Agent, Nashville, Tenn.
J. W. Burke & Co., Macon, Ga.
E. G. Cameron, St. Louis.
Hitchcock & Walden, Cincinnati.
T. L. D. Watford, Richmond, Va.
J. B. Bobbitt, Raleigh, N. C.
D. H. Carroll, Baltimore, Md.

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S

STEEL PENS.

SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

MANUFACTURERS' WAREHOUSE,

No. 91 John Street, New York.

JOSEPH GILLOTT & SON,
HENRY HOE, Sole Agent.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS,

Struck in solid Aluminum Plate, equal in appearance, Weight and color to

SOLID SILVER OR GOLD.

Presenting a large variety of beautiful Designs in Relief.

These Medallions are larger than a Silver Trade Dollar, but less in diameter, handsomely gilt up, and sell readily at sight. The most valuable Souvenirs and Mementos ever issued. A complete initial album, with over samples for a cents, in velvet lined morocco case, embracing the Head of George Washington, Grand Entrance into Memorial Exhibition, Memorial Hall, Art Gallery, Horticultural Hall, Main Building, and the grand representation of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, designed by Trumbull; all gilt; sent by mail on receipt of draft or postoffice order for $3.50, or will ship by express, C. O. D., upon receipt of one cent charge. Agents' circular and price list, and one samples sent upon receipt of 25 cents. Immense profits. Sells at sight. Extensive fields for enterprise. Address

U. S. MEDALLION CO., 212 Broadway,
P. O. Box 7250. NEW YORK

BOOK AGENTS WANTED for the DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITIES

a new work, by Dr. WM. SMITH and 77 others, being a reconstruction of the Dictionary of the Bible. 3000 Engravings. It explains every subject, rite, ceremony, article, word, or thing pertaining to the Christian Religion, including of which anything at all can be said. Agents are pouring orders in. One sold 11 first week, another 75 first day. Circulars with consent terms free. Address ANCHOR PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

CENTENNIAL BOOK OF BIOGRAPHY

of the great men of the

FIRST 100 YEARS OF OUR INDEPENDENCE.

The glory of America is her great men. Everybody wants to read their lives at this Centennial season. AGENTS WANTED. Agents selling Dictionaries should sell this book also. Everybody buys it. The greatest success of the year. Send for circular. P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa., and Chicago, Ill.

WANTED AGENTS for the GREAT CENTENNIAL UNIVERSAL HISTORY

is the cheapest and best 100 years of our National Independence, including an account of the recent Grand Centennial Exhibition. 700 pages, fine engravings, low price, quick sales. Extra terms. Send for circular. J. C. McCURDY & CO., 616 Olive st., St. Louis, Mo.

"DON'T FORGET IT!" Slinger's Safety Guard is worth all the Burglar Alarms ever invented. Agents wanted everywhere. Sell at sight. Sent prepaid on receipt of 25 cents. Address A. H. SLINGER, 18 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business strictly honorable. Particulars sent free. Address A. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Conn.

MISCELLANEOUS

A. A. LACROIX,
PROPRIETOR OF THE
Pontchartrain Cheap Store,
COR. FRENCHMEN AND VICTORY STREETS.

Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Children's

BOOTS AND SHOES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Always on hand, a full assortment of first-class goods at prices which defy competition. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. My Motto—Quick Sales and Small Profits.

LOUISIANA
PAPER BOX MANUFACTORY
R. LUCKNER, SR.,

112 ..... Magazine St 112
(Upstairs.) NEW ORLEANS

CARD BOXES, with address, three in best, round and square, shipped free of all charges except freight for $1.50 per dozen, on receipt of Postoffice Order. Paper Boxes of every description.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Returning thanks for past favors, the undersigned desires to inform his friends and the public that he has removed to

152 and 154 Camp St., cor. Calliope,

WHERE HE CONTINUES TO

BUY, SELL, STORE, REMOVE, PACK
And Repair Furniture

of every description. Pictures and Looking-glasses framed.

JOHN ROIS,
Nos. 152 and 154 Camp street.

MEDICAL.

HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS

INDUCED by the demand, especially under existing circumstances, for Medicines adapted to domestic practice, I present the following HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS as having proved, by extensive experience, to be safe, generally curative, and peculiarly suited to family use. Each Medicine is accompanied by directions and general advice as to the treatment of the disease.

No.	For—
1	Fever, Congha, Colds, Bronchitis.
3	Catarrh, Acute and Chronic.
4	Croup, Hoarse Cough.
5	Whooping or Spasmodic Cough.
6	Asthma.
7	Diarrhea.
8	Dysentery, Bilious Colic.
9	Cholera, Cholera Morbus.
10	Dyspepsia, Constipation.
11	Worm Colic or Fever.
12	Colic, Crying and Wakefulness of Children.
13	Toothache, Neuralgia, Nervous Headache.
14	Sick Headache, Vertigo.
15	Sore Throat, Quinsy.
16	Ear Discharges, Deafness.
17	Sore Mouth, Thrush, Nursing Sore Mouth.
18	Urinary Affections, Wetting the Bed.
19	Kidney Affections, Gravel.
20	Suppressed, Scanty or Delaying Periods.
21	Profuse Periods, Prolapsus.
22	Painful Periods, Itching, etc.
23	Piles.
24	Rheumatism, Lumbago, Lameness, Muscular Pains.
25	Salt Rheum, Eruptions, Fetters, Erysipelas.
26	Sore or Weak Eyes.
27	Scrofula, Ulcers, Swelled Glands.
28	Debility, Physical Weakness, Nervousness.
29	Biliousness.
30	Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions or Impotency.
31	Chronic Congestion, Headache.
32	Disease of Heart, Palpitation etc.

Manual free on receipt of price. Fifty cents. Phosphorated Bitters, and Chill Drops for Ague and Fever.

Agent for BANNING'S BRACES.
Agent for HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS AND CASES. Prices as follows:

Twenty vials, plain case and book .....
Twenty vials, morocco case and book .....
Thirty-five vials, morocco case and book .....

Angell's Homeopathic Pharmacy
152 JULIA ST., NEW ORLEANS.

R. ANGELL, M. D., and S. M. ANGELL, M. D.,
Homeopathic Physicians.

N. JENKINS' ANNIHILATOR

A PURELY VEGETABLE COMPOUND the permanent cure of

Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia

What the Annihilator will do:

1. From nine to twelve bottles will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

2. From two to twelve bottles, according to duration of disease, will cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout or Neuralgia.

It is one of the best regulators of the circulation of the blood known.

N. JENKINS,
106 Camp street, New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—G. R. FINLAY & CO., New Orleans.

DUCONGE'S

PECTORAL BALSAMIC SIRUP

NEARLY half a century has elapsed since the discovery of this wonderful compound, and well-established virtue and its high reputation in all diseases of the Chest, Lungs, Throat and Bronchia, so well known, and has been tested for so many years by such extensive patronage, that it needs no superfluous, at this late day, to dwell at length on its efficacy in Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Throat, Stomach, or Bowels, Spitting of Blood and Whooping Cough.

It has been found highly beneficial in all inflammatory disorders, such as Rheumatism, Diarrhea of Dysentery and Summer Complaint, and especially in those cases of Cholerine which, in a mild or proper cure, so often degenerate into confirmed Cholera.

In all affections of the Lungs, verging on Consumption, it has been found most effectual in preventing that most awful scourge when timely resorted to.

Besides its acknowledged certainty of cure, it is a truly extraordinary medicine, as, over one hundred pounds of the same, minus the alcohol contained in it, that owing to its purgative flavor, it can be administered without the least difficulty to children, as it requires no particular diet. It is a concentrated essence, and consequently, the bottles contain more than any other, but owing to its peculiar composition this syrup will keep for years without spoiling, and it can be used in families as a beverage instead of tea, by simply keeping the bottle well corked.

Directions for Taking the Syrup. Grown persons can take a tea-spoonful in a wine-glass full of water, either pure or diluted to a large or less quantity at intervals of three or four hours.

Persons much troubled during the night can take two tablespoonfuls of the Syrup on going to bed, which it will keep them through and procure a night's rest.

Children from three to five years old may take a tea-spoonful during the day, and from five to six tea-spoonfuls during the day, in suitable quantities, at intervals of three or four hours. For sale by

A. CARROUCHE,
Agent for New Orleans, 30 Tariff street.
And by all druggists.

THE ONLY TRUE AND PERFECT HAIR COLORER!

THE MYSTERY,

Or Turner's Hair Tint

HARMLESS! BEAUTIFUL! PERMANENT!

This preparation has received the indorsement of the scientific world, and wherever introduced has superseded all other preparations of the kind. No washing or preparation of the hair necessary before using.

Rejected from all Deleterious Ingredients, such as Lead, Sulphur or other poisons, which are injurious to the Hair or Poisonous by Absorption.

And has no reserves, both time and labor, as a few drops applied with a comb, once a month, restores the Hair or Whiskers, and gives the most natural color, being so perfectly assimilated to the secretions. Its great recommendation is the gradation of tint, producing any desired shade from light brown to the deepest black and the absence of that dry and injured appearance produced by other Hair dyes. The Mystery can be applied in a single hair or spots that have turned gray, and can be restored to their original shade without coloring all over the head, as is necessary in coloring other Hair Dyes.

Sample box sent free by mail to any address in the United States upon receipt of price, or it is for sale by the inventor and proprietor,

JAMES TURNER, Chemist,
P. O. Box 2570. New Orleans.

Wholesale Agents—L. L. Lyons, New York; Wheelock, Finley & Co., New Orleans; P. Conner & Co., New Orleans and for sale by druggists everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IS LIFE

Paoli's Electro-Voltaic Chain Belt

GIVES a Continuous Current of Electricity Around the Body, and cures all diseases arising from a Loss of Vital Force, Exhausted Nervous Debility, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Kidney Complaints, Functional Derangements, Paralysis, Sciatica, Impotency, Epilepsy, Spinal Complaint and Exhaustion of Vital Energy, and will

EFFECT A PERMANENT CURE

After all Other Remedies Have Failed.

It is indorsed by the most Eminent Physicians in Europe and America, and thousands that are using it, and have been restored to health, give testimony as to its great curative powers. Pamphlets and circulars forwarded on application or receipt of six cents postage. Apply or address

PAOLI BELT CO.,
12 Union Square, New York.

☞ Say what paper.

PRICES FROM $6 AND UPWARD.

WILLIAM F. WALSH,

GENERAL COOPERAGE,

13 .....NORTH FRONT ST.....

Keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Sugar, Hogsheads, Molasses Barrels, and all other articles in his line, which he offers for sale on reasonable terms.

FAVORITE SONG

New Collection Items of Secret Music, by the Famous for singing classes and congregations. Prof. Richard of the Vanderbilt University, says it is the best book of the kind. Price 60cts. by mail. Specimen leaves free. Address R. W. Carroll & Co., Publishers, Cincinnati, O.

LIME, SAND, BRICKS, ETC.

Lime, Sugar Lime, Cement, Plaster, Plaster Hair, White and Yellow Sand, Fire Clay For Building Country and Arch Bricks, English Pittsburg Fire Bricks, Large and Small Sizes, Shells, Laths, Shingles, Fire Tiles, Sulphur, Pitch and Rosin at the lowest market rates. For sale by JOHN C. STEWART, 135 Drayer street, and 209 Julia, bet. Rampart and Basin.

Scientific.

—It has been found that the young of the blind beetles of Mammoth Cave are eyeless, as well as the adult. These, as well as a number of other forms, are figured and noticed by the editor of the American Naturalist.

—It has been found by Dr. Gunther, according to the American Naturalist, that the young sword-fish differs from the adult not only in having no "sword," but in having the scapular arch prolonged into a horn at the lower part, while the pectoral fins are wanting. Though there is no sword, the jaws are long, of equal length, and both are furnished with teeth. As the fish grows the scapular horn disappears, the pectoral fins grow, and the upper jaw is developed in excess of the lower. The long teeth disappear, and the upper jaw grows into the toothless, sword-like weapon which gives the fish its peculiar character.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY IN PAINT.—After years of chemical experiments an inventor has found the secret of combining liquid glass and the asphaltum with other chemicals, under a high degree of heat, by which he has obtained positive colors in all tints, that never fade or change. It penetrates and fills the pores, petrifies the wood, and so fastens itself within the wood that it becomes absolutely fire and water-proof, making its durability almost without limit. Its surface is elastic, cannot peel off. Water has no effect upon it, while its adhesiveness causes it to resist every kind of exposure. It protects metal from rust and the effects of climate. For ships, tanks, water-tanks, railroad cars, bridges, iron and tin roofs it will be invaluable. It has one remarkable quality of receiving a high polish equal to varnish, by friction, which adapts it to panel work after painting. A general use will rapidly follow its introduction, and is said to cost no more than white lead, while in every way superior to it. These merits should make it a national paint.

PAPER BED COVERING.—A suggestion that has frequently been made in the newspapers, that a sheet of brown paper used as a bed cover-lid between or on top of other wrappings will impart additional warmth and be as serviceable as a blanket, has been acted upon by Mr. Loder, who has taken out a patent for paper blankets. They are perforated at intervals of about four inches, in order to promote the ventilation and the density of the brown paper material interrupts. These paper blankets may prove a boon to the poor, and as they are economical, and would be fit for use in any emergency, they would be acceptable in hospitals, for the supply of which Mr. Loder has already obtained two or three contracts.

—Rules to those seeking the truth. We are under obligation to learn the best methods of stating the truth. When the truth we are to give, is not anything involved, intricate, something to be learned by long study, the method by far is not to tell many, but tell of Christ, and so present the substance of the whole matter before the souls of inquirers.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. ADA GREGG,

Gregg's Purchasing Bureau,

NO. 451 CANAL STREET,

Office to New Orleans Savings Institution,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.,

In consequence of the numerous calls for a knowledge with the various kinds of

SEWING MACHINES

I have concluded to make a specialty in this line. Sell all kinds at lowest rates for cash. Under-Feed Buckeye Hand Machine. Also repair all Machines at low rates. Will take Machines in part payment for new ones. Sell Machines, Pianos and Organs sold on monthly payments in the country to parties giving references.

MRS. ADA GREGG

Kindly offers her services by purchasing and forwarding any article of apparel, personal adornment, or domestic goods for Ladies' and Children's wear, including Millinery, Dry Goods, Jewelry, Fancy and Toilet Articles, Patterns, Underwear, Corsets, Bridal Trousseaux, etc. Any article for Ladies' and Children's wear manufactured in the latest styles, under her own supervision.

All inquiries relative to articles mentioned or unmentioned will be answered free of charge.

Second-hand Machines, in good order, at half price. The best Needles for all Machines.

REFERENCE.—J. L. Power, Jackson, Miss.

For circular or catalogue and circulars,

GREGG'S PURCHASING BUREAU,

J. C. MILLER,

(Formerly of Cassidy & Miller.)

SAIL-MAKER,

—POYDRAS STREET.....107

Manufacturer of COTTON DUCK of all widths and descriptions, Tents, Paraphilis and Flags constantly on hand. Awnings, Gallery Curtains and all other work in his line made to order at shortest notice and lowest prices.

J. C. MILLER,

No. 107 Poydras street.

ADOLPH SUTTER,

GLASS STAINER.

Particular Attention Paid to Church Work.

Orders from all parts of the country promptly attended to.

N. SEVENTH ST., bet. Pine and Olive,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

H. PIPPEY & LARA,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths,

MILLINERY GOODS, WALL PAPER, WINDOW Shades, Cornices, Lace and Nutting-ham Curtains, Mirrors, Mouldings and Cornices, Engravings, Etc.

Curtains made to order—a specialty.

No. 99 Camp Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

H. J. RIVET,

DEALER IN

Chemicals, Patent Medicines

PERFUMERY, AND IMPORTER OF FRENCH PROPRIETARY MEDICINES,

Bienville and Chartres Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Agent of the celebrated Peychaud Bitters

GLASS STAINERS

CUTTERS, AND EMBOSSERS.

CHURCH WINDOWS A SPECIALTY

Estimates and Samples on application.

WM. COULTER & SON

102 & 104 E. 2d St., CINCINNATI, O.

BUSINESS CARDS.

E. PETITORY,

FAMILY GROCERY,

COR. EUTERPE AND DRYADES STS.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Goods delivered free of charge.

THE NEW COFFEE AND TEA STORE

OF THE

FOURTH DISTRICT,

595.....MAGAZINE ST.....595

The finest COFFEES, parched and ground fresh every day by steam, and the choicest IMPORTED TEAS, guaranteed pure, and at twenty per cent. under ruling prices, by

J. T. SHAW, Proprietor.

EDWARD SALLE. R. C. CAMMACK.

SALLE & CAMMACK,

COTTON FACTORS

AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

No. 193 Gravier Street, New Orleans.

Liberal cash advances made on consignments of Cotton, Wool, Tobacco, and Produce generally.

COAL.....COAL.....COAL.

B. D. WOOD & BROS.,

106 Common St., opposite City Hotel,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in all kinds of COAL. Pittsburg Coal delivered by Boat-load or less on the coast, and shipped in casks or in bulk at lowest market rates. City trade supplied.

THOMAS OWEN,

DEALER IN

Fancy and Staple Groceries,

CHOICE TEAS, ETC.,

Cor. Bryades & Thalia Sts., New Orleans.

Goods delivered free of charge.

LUMBER—$7 PER 1,000 FEET,

AT

J. L. NEVERS',

SUCCESSORS TO

J. C. POOLEY, 315 JULIA STREET.

MARTIN WEYDIG,

No. 170 POYDRAS ST., NEW ORLEANS,

MANUFACTURER OF

SADDLES, HARNESS AND HOSE.

French and Military Equipments made to order. Dealer in all kinds of Leather and Rubber Hose, Leather and Rubber Pipes, Suctions and Fire Buckets, Horse Sheets and Blankets, Lap Dusters, Rocky Robes, Fly Nets and Whips, and all kinds of Saddlery Hardware. Country orders promptly and satisfactorily attended to.

ANDREW J. AIKEN. JOHN W. WATT.

AIKEN & WATT,

COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

16 Union Street, New Orleans, La.

Special attention given to orders for the purchase and shipment of Produce, Agricultural Implements and Plantation Supplies.

WOOD.....COAL.....LUMBER.

NO. 831 DRYADES STREET, between Clio and Erato streets. Best quality of Oak, Ash and Pine. Sawed and Split Wood at lowest rates. Pittsburg and Anthracite Coal and Charcoal at the lowest market prices. Also agent for Abita Mills. Lumber sawed to order at the shortest notice. Orders left at my office, 831 Dryades street, or at 282 Calliope street, will receive prompt attention. Satisfaction guaranteed.

SAM. SMITH.

NEW LEATHER STORE.

A. F. RICAU,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

French and American Calf, Kip, Morocco and Sheep Skins,

Shoe Findings, etc.

38 CHARTRES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Country orders promptly attended to.

WILLIAM VELDEN,

DEALER IN

WOOD, COAL AND ICE,

Corner Philip and Peychaud Streets,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Meat and Fish kept on Ice free of charge.

BOOTS, SHOES AND TRUNKS.

OF VARIOUS QUALITIES AND PRICES.

At Low Figures for Cash.

Country Merchants and Planters will do well to give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MUMME,

No. 55 Magazine street, and No. 451 Dryades street.

JOHN A. CAIRNS,

GENERAL ENGRAVER,

101 CANAL STREET.....101

Wedding and Visiting Cards neatly engraved and printed.

Special attention given to Crests, Monograms and Seals. Jewelry and Silverware marked artistically.

ADOLPHE J. LEROY,

BOOK BINDER, RULER

AND BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,

92.....Camp Street.....92

(Over James A. Gresham's,) New Orleans.

Music Books and Periodicals bound in any desired style.

F. R. HARDON,

DEALER IN

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Nos. 27 and 29 Chartres Street,

Bet. Canal and Customhouse,

NEW ORLEANS

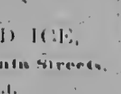
MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS (over Brasselman & Adams') wish to inform the community that they are in constant receipt of the LATEST FASHIONS. Their style and fit cannot be rivaled, and their punctuality can be testified by their customers. Ladies would do well to call early with their Holiday Dresses, in order to have ample time to display their skill in producing something elegant and tasty. Prices always moderate.

MRS. FRICKE & WILLIAMS.

WILLIAM EHERT,

ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS,

And General Housesmith.



Iron Railings, Tomb Railings, Fences and Verandas of all kinds made to order; also Iron Shutters, Doors, Window and Door Gratings.

129 and 131 Magazine St., Cor. Girod.

Box 213, Mechanics' Exchange.

A. B. GRISWOLD & CO.,

COR. CANAL AND ROYAL STS.,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, DIAMONDS

AND SILVERWARE.

Watches and Jewelry repaired in the best manner. Goods sent C. O. D., and returnable if not suitable. Everything guaranteed to be as represented.

D. B. WALLACE & CO.,

COTTON FACTORS AND GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

70.....Carondelet St.....70

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Will give special attention to the sale of Cotton and other Produce, and will fill all orders for goods of every description at lowest cash prices.

CRESCENT MACHINE

AND BLACKSMITH SHOP,

Corner of Fourcher and St. Joseph Sts.,

NEW ORLEANS.

JOHN BLACKADER, Iron Turner, Planer and Screw Cutter; coins rects now Machinery, and gives personal attention to repairs on Machinery of every description. Prices to suit the times.

BUSINESS CARDS.

McKENDRICK,

PLUMBER AND GAS FITTER,

625.....MAGAZINE STREET.....625

Importer of and dealer in Plumbing and Gas Fitting materials, Bath Tubs, Pumps, House Furnishings, etc. Paints mixed ready for use. Agent for the New Beauty Elevated Oven Range, Paragon, and Hearth and Home Cooking Stoves.

H. SPIERING,

UPHOLSTERER,

651.....MAGAZINE ST.....651

Near Jackson, New Orleans.

Parlor Sets manufactured at New York prices. Spring, Hair and Moss Mattresses made. Loose Covers cut and made to order. Carpets laid, and taken up, cleaned and relaid. All work guaranteed.

G. SCIACCALUGA, IMPORTER,

And Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

GROCERIES, SHIP CHANDLERY, Etc.

Nos. 157 and 159 Old Levee St.,

Between Jefferson and St. Peter, New Orleans

A full assortment of Paints, Oil Oakum, Hemp and Manilla Rope. Keep a complete assortment of French and Catalonia Wines, Italian Macaroni and Vermicelli, etc.

MISSISSIPPI SHIP TIMBER, LUMBER AND WOOD YARD, foot of Lyon street, and foot of Dufossat street; Sixth District, New Orleans. Office, No. 15 4 Tchoupitoulas, between Valence and Race-ourse streets. L. CARRO, Sr., agent. Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of Cypress and Pine Mast Sticks and Spars of all sizes and lengths. Square Timber, Oak, Ash, Pine, etc.; also all kinds of Lumber, Cypress Shingles, Staves, Barrel Headings, Pickets, Clapboards, Firewood, etc., by wholesale and retail. Mills sawed to order in Pine or Cypress. Direct communications to Box 2263, New Orleans Postoffice, or Box No. 22, Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange.

J. A. LUM. N. ALBERT HOOKER.

J. A. LUM & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

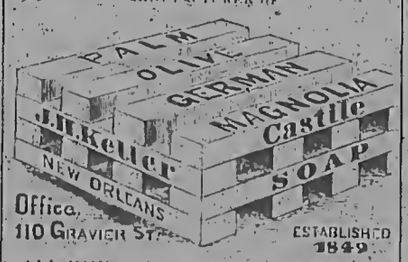
CARRIAGES, HARNESS, ETC.,

102 Gravier and 13 Union Street.

A SPECIALTY MADE OF CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

J. H. KELLER,

MANUFACTURER OF



Office, 110 GRAVIER ST. ESTABLISHED 1849.

ALL KINDS OF LAUNDRY AND TOILET SOAPS.

FLORIAN LANGE. FELIX LEGENDRE.

LANGE & LEGENDRE,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND DEALERS IN COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Office and Warehouse—17 TOULOUSE STREET, New Orleans, La.

References—Schmidt & Ziegler, Wholesale Grocers, New Orleans; Jules Fiehl, President Levee Steam Cotton Press, Jules Cassard, Vice President Germania National Bank; Pike, Brother & Co., Bankers, North Carolina; Cashier of Cooper's Bank, Emile Legendre, St. James's Fehr F. Poche, St. James.

JOHN L. ADAMS. JAY L. ADAMS. WM. H. RENAUD.

JOHN L. ADAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

AND DEALERS IN

PROVISIONS, LARD, OIL, ETC.

Nos. 13, 15 and 17 Peters Street,

(Formerly New Levee street,) New Orleans.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. R. OTTO HOSES,

DENTIST,

217 BAYONNE STREET 217

Solicits the patronage of the public, assuring them of careful attention to all operations pertaining to his profession, at charges in keeping with the present distressed pecuniary condition of the people of Louisiana.

DR. JOHN W. ADAMS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office and Residence—NO. 341 DAUPHINE ST.,

(Late Gresham street, one door from corner of Spain, New Orleans.

Nitrous Oxide Gas is administered for the painless extraction of Teeth. Teeth inserted on Gold, Silver and Vulcanite bases.

A. L. TICKER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

(Lake of Franklin, St. Mary Parish, La.)

160.....COMMON STREET.....160

(Upstairs,) New Orleans.

REMOVAL.—A CARD.—In obedience to the expressed wishes of many of my patrons I have removed my office from my residence, on Napoleon avenue, to PIVOLI CIRCLE west side, corner of Delord street. This still is my choice selected by reason of its affording excellent rooms and fine light, and for its central location and ease of access by car lines.

My patrons need scarcely be reminded that my efforts will be spared to render them the best service. In Dentistry the best is always the cheapest.

J. R. WALKER, D. D. S.

JAMES W. BARNUM,

SURGEON DENTIST,

508 MAGAZINE STREET.....508

Near the Market,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

DR. C. J. BICKHAM,

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

1151 Magazine St., Corner of Jackson,

NEW ORLEANS.

Office Hours—Eight to nine A. M. and three to four P. M.

DR. J. J. LYONS,

NO. 210 CARONDELET STREET

Between Julia and St. Joseph,

New Orleans, La.

E. T. MERRICK, formerly Chief Justice Louisiana. G. W. RACK. W. H. FOSTER.

MERRICK, RACE & FOSTER,

ATTORNEYS, COUNSELORS

AND SOLICITORS,

Corner of Camp Street and Commercial Place,

NEW ORLEANS

J. H. MEHAFFEY, GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANT, and dealer in Staves, Firewood, Lime, Lumber and Coopers' materials. Special attention given to filling orders and forwarding goods for Merchants and Planters throughout the South and West. Coopers' materials furnished at the lowest cash prices to sugar Planters. Office, 22 UNION STREET. Lumber Yard cor. Levee and Market streets, First District, New Orleans, La. Liberal advances made upon consignments of Staves, Lumber and Western Produce.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GAS AT LIVING PRICES.

Hyam's Celebrated Portable Gas Works,

FOR LIGHTING HOTELS, PRIVATE RESIDENCES, CHURCHES, SUGAR-HOUSES, FACTORIES, MILLS, etc., with a brilliant and powerful Gas, equal in every respect, if not superior, to Coal Gas, at One-Third the Cost.

THE WORKS are so very simple as to be almost beyond description, being nothing more than the well-known Gas-Meter that has been in use Sixty Years.

There are at present, in the different sections of the country, over Four Thousand dwellings, churches, halls, mills, factories, hotels, and public and private institutions of all descriptions, using this Quality of Gas in preference to that of Coal Gas, owing to its richness, purity, and the soft and pleasing light given by it. Also from an economical and hygienic point of view—as we use no Pumps, Pumps or Blowers to corrode or get out of order, and dispense entirely with the use of any and all foreign and dangerous substances or elements, such as Fire, Water or Acid. Our Works are as Compact, Simple of Construction, Safe and Reliable as science and mechanism, coupled with an experience of over thirty years in the gas meter and gas-making business, could suggest, devise or predict, and think we have at last gained the Acme of Perfection, both in illuminating gas and simplicity of manufacture. The Works occupy but very little more space than a gas meter, and require no more attention than an eight-day clock, making Every Man His Own Gas-Maker, placing him entirely independent of any and all Gas Companies. The Works can be placed on or removed from any premises more readily than a gas meter; they are attached to the regular gas-pipes. No change whatever in pipes or fixtures.

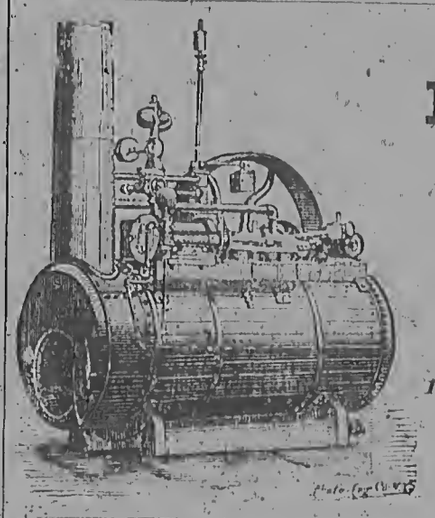
Works sent to any part of the country or world, with full directions for setting, which can be done by any one who can handle a wrench or pliers. The attention our Works require does not consume over Two Hours a Year.

Owing to the receipt of numerous orders from all sections of the South, parties contemplating purchasing will do well to order immediately. We cannot promise to ship any Works within three weeks from receipt of order.

State and County Rights for Sale. The finest opportunity of obtaining a safe, legitimate and highly lucrative business ever offered to the public. Call and Examine.

ACME GAS COMPANY,

106 CAMP STREET, NEW ORLEANS.



PAYNE'S

Portable Engines.

3 TO 15 HORSE POWER.

B. J. WEST,

SOLE AGENT,

115 and 117 Magazine Street,

NEW ORLEANS.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST, ETC.

C. C. C.

The Complete Cotton Cleaner. A New, Valuable and Money-making Machine to every Cotton producer or ginner—thoroughly removes all Dust, Dirt, Sand and light Trash from cotton before ginning, and improves the quality of the lint from one to four grades.

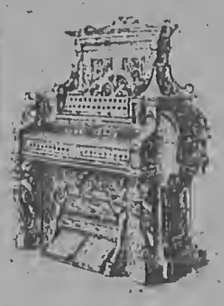
No gin house should be without one of these "cleaners". It is light, simple, and easily adjusted to either Horse or Steam power, occasioning little or no increased draft, is readily understood, simple in operation, not liable to get out of order, and will pay for itself in less than ten days work.

Manufactured and sold by

Allison Brothers, Memphis, Tenn.

Send for Circulars and Price list.

FRIERSON & CO., Agents, 77 Carondelet St., New Orleans, La.



PHILIP WERLEIN,

NOS. 78, 80, 82 AND 80 BAYONNE ST., NEW ORLEANS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, MUSIC, ETC.

The best PIANOS AND ORGANS, such as the Chickering, Hallet, Davis and Cole Pianos, and Mason & Hamlin and Estey Organs. Catalogues sent, the best Pianos and Organs the world affords and the lowest prices in the South. No trashy, unreliable Pianos kept. Every instrument sold is fully warranted to be as represented, and to give satisfaction.

LOUISIANA AS IT IS.

251 PAGES,

Its Topography and Valuable Resources.

BY DANIEL DENNETT.

PRICE 50 CENTS POSTAGE, 12 CENTS.

LIBERAL REDUCTION TO DEALERS.

30,000 Copies Just Published—3,000 Copies Sold.

The Editors of New Orleans have given this book a strong indorsement.

Opinions of New Orleans Booksellers.

It is a book which has long been wanted and at last we call it for. I am selling rapidly that are mailed to all parts of the world.

E. FORGUE & ELLIS, Booksellers, Opposite the Postoffice.

During my long experience as a bookseller in this city I have had thousands of inquiries for such a work. Mr. Dennett's LOUISIANA AS IT IS is precisely the book that has been called for. It gives general satisfaction to buyers to the city and country. Its true character were generally known it would replace ten times the present edition of 30,000 copies to supply the demand.

C. F. HALEY, Bookseller, 93 Commercial Place, Branch, 150 Poydras street.

An experience of twenty-five years as bookseller in New Orleans will justify me in saying that the book just issued by Mr. Daniel Dennett, LOUISIANA AS IT IS, supplies a want long felt by residents and strangers. The demand for the book is active, and is steadily increasing.

JAMES A. GRESHAM, 92 Camp and 118 Canal street.

Dealers in the city and country can obtain supplies of the above book at the wholesale establishment of ROBERT J. HARP, 110 and 112 Camp street, New Orleans.

STAINED GLASS WORKS

GALLERY OF ARCHITECTURAL DECORATIVE ART.

WILLIAM GIBSON'S SONS.—Established in 1853. Ecclesiastical Decorations, Plain and Ornamental Windows for Churches and Domestic Buildings. The ideas of Artists and Amateurs artistically carried out. Designs for Memorial Windows a specialty. Gibson's Building, N. E. corner of Broadway and Thirteenth street, New York.

GEORGE W. ROPER,

DEALER IN

Fancy Goods and Millinery,

103.....CANAL STREET.....103

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Ladies' Lace Goods, Corsets and Underwear. The trade supplied at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

RICHARD RHODES,

LATE E. CHARLEVILLE,

SPORTSMEN'S DEPOT.

55 ST. CHARLES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Articles of All Kinds for Fishermen.

Rods, Nets, Hooks, Lines, and every desirable article for the Angler, wholesale and retail.

GUNS RIFLES and PISTOLS of every variety and of direct importation. Also Sporting materials of all kinds, Game Bags, Shot Pouches, Flasks and every article needful by Hunters, will be sold at the lowest prices for cash. Also the celebrated Dead Shot Gunpowder, Shot, Eley's Shells, Cartridges, etc., of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

R. RHODES

M. H. APPLEGATE,

PLUMBER,

AND DEALER IN

Cooking Ranges and Boilers,

Bath Tubs, Water Closets, Washstands, Kitchen Sinks, Lift and Force Pumps, Ale Pumps, Sheet Lead and Lead Pipe, Brass and Plated Cocks of all Patterns, 116 Poydras St., New Orleans, La.

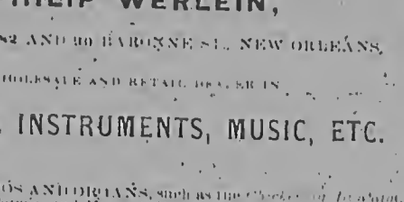
REPAIRING NEATLY DONE.

SEVEN INCHES LONG.



Long-Range Breech Loading

Practice Pistol & Targets.

Carries a ½ inch ball with accuracy fifty feet, without powder or percussion. Brass barrel, hair trigger. For sale by dealers. By mail, free for 75 cents, with permanent ammunition for target practice in-doors and for sporting out of doors.

AGENTS WANTED.

A. A. GRAHAM,

56 Liberty street, New York.

ATTENTION!

M. ANDRIEU,

150.....POYDRAS STREET.....150

Hump-Made Shoes at $3.50 a Pair.

City-made Boots and Shoes of all kinds and styles, made of the very best material and workmanship, and at less prices than any other store in this city. Keeps all kinds for Gent.'s, Boys', Ladies' and Children's wear.

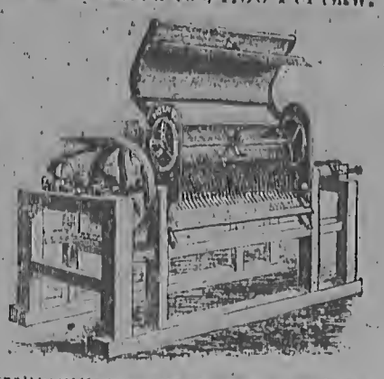
MACHINERY, TIES, ETC.

DANIEL PRATT'S IMPROVED

"Revolving Head" Cotton Gin.

PATENTED JULY 15, 1873.

Price Reduced to $4.50 Per Saw.



THIS GIN has been in use for the past three seasons, and several recent improvements have been added. It obviates all friction in the cotton box, prevents the roll from breaking, and gives a Larger Yield of Lint from the Same Amount of Seed that any other Gin in use. The Revolving Head lightens the draft and causes the Gin to run faster with less driving power, thus doing a great deal more work with the same time while economizing team or animal power than any other Gin. The seed being ginned very clean, the length of the staple is increased, producing a lint on this account of a greater market value. This improved value, given by length of staple, with extra production of lint, added to increased amount of work done, more than covers the cost of the Gin in every bale ginned. Testimonials sent by mail on application.

JOS. B. WOLFE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS,

59.....Carondelet St.....59

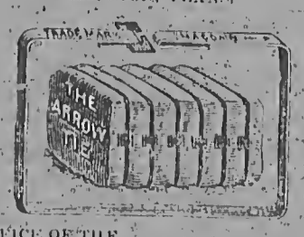
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEN. F. WOLFE,

AGENT FOR THE STATE OF TEXAS,

22.....Main Street.....22

HOUSTON, TEXAS.



OFFICE OF THE

American Cotton Tie Co.,

(LIMITED.)

17 CARONDELET ST., NEW ORLEANS.

TO DEALERS IN

IRON COTTON TIES,

Planters and Country Merchants Generally.

We beg to inform you that we are prepared, through our regularly established Agents, to supply the trade in any quantity with the following celebrated Ties:

THE ARROW AND SIDE SLOT.
BEARD & BROS. LOCK TIE.
BRANCH CROOKES & CO.'S LOCK TIE.

We take pleasure in informing the public that the interest of Messrs. Beard & Bro., and Branch & Crookes & Co. are now merged into and with the AMERICAN COTTON TIE CO. (LIMITED.) The following are the New Orleans Agents:

Stone & Tutt, Ogden & Hill,
Chism & Reed, Argyle & Rorland,
William Nelson, D. A. Rantlett & Co.

For the American Cotton Tie Co. (Limited.)

R. W. PAYNE & CO.,
General Agents.

SOUTHERN FARMERS DEPOT FOR SUPPLIES

The Cheapest and Best

Farm Machinery,

OF ALL KINDS,

Plows, Seeds, Fertilizers,

Lime, Plaster and Cement.

C. H. STOCKELL & CO.,

NASHVILLE, TENN.

PORTABLE AND STATIONARY STEAM ENGINES, STEAM BOILERS.

GRIST MILLS.

MILL GEARING MADE

SHAFTING, PULLEYS AND HANGERS.

The UNEQUALED FLAX BELT DOUBLE PLY PURE GUM RUBBER BELTING.

ALDES' POOLE & HUNT,

FROM 1 TO 7 LIGHT ST., BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED IN 1825.

LEEDS' FOUNDRY,

Cor. Delord and Foucher Sts.

We are prepared to manufacture Steam Engines, Rollers, Sugar Mills, Sugar Kettles, Draining Machines, Saw Mills, Cotton Presses, Newell Screws, Hot Coaching, Furnace Mouths, Grate Bars, Andiron Casters, all kinds of Plantation and Steam-boat Work, and every description of Machinery for the South. LEEDS & CO.

Orders left at Box 74, Mechanics and Dealers' Exchange, will receive prompt attention.

MACHINERY.

IRON AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

COLD-ROLLED SHAFTING.

HANGERS, PULLEYS, COUPLINGS, BELTING etc. Send for illustrated catalogue and price list.

GEORGE PLACE,

124 CHAMBERS AND 613 READE STREET,

NEW YORK CITY.

MENEELY & COMPANY,

Bell Founders, West Troy, New York.

FIFTY years established. Church BELLS and CHIMES; ACADEMY, FACTORY BELLS, etc. Improved Patent Mountings. Catalogues free. No agencies.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY.

Established in 1837.

Superior Bells of Copper and Tin, mounted with the best Rotary Hangings, for Churches, School, Farms, Factories, Court Houses, Fire Alarms, Tower Clocks, etc. Full Warranted. Illustrated Catalogue sent Free.

Vanduzen & Tift, 102 & 104 Second St., Cin.

OCEAN SAW MILL.

W. G. TOOMER (late of Danner & Toomer,)

SUPERINTENDENT.

LUMBER shipped up or down the Mississippi River can be loaded at the Mill Wharf, and save drayage by extra handling.

Cargo orders a specialty for Pine, Cypress, Walnut, Oak, Ash, Poplar, Mahogany and Cedar LUMBER AND TIMBER. Also Railroad Bridge Timber and Cross Ties, Shingles and Laths.

P. O. Box 98. Branch office at Pascagoula, Miss. Cable address—TOOMER.

OPIUM AND MORPHINE HABIT. ABSOLUTELY and SPEEDILY CURED. Publicity. No publicity. Send stamp for particulars. DR. CARLTON, 167 Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

New Orleans Markets.

ADVOCATE OFFICE,
New Orleans, Tuesday, July 4, 1876.

MONETARY.

We have no excitement in our money market. Borrowers and lenders meet and discuss the dull times, and build up each other's faith in the future, dwelling on Col. Ead's success at the mouth of the river, favorable reports of crops from the interior, and prospects of being liberated from the grip of rascally officers, who no doubt will fight hard to retain their ill-gotten wealth. Confidence increases daily, and hope consequently cheers many who are struggling. Stocks and bonds unchanged. Exceptional paper, 8 per cent.; A1, 10@12 per cent. per annum. Gold, 112¼.

GENERAL MARKET.

The general market is very quiet. Some goods, of course, must be bought about the first, which creates a little stir for the first week of each month; but thence to the end stagnation exists, of course. Our packets carry light loads, and the smaller boats running up our tributaries have to lay over to get a paying trip. Prices of goods are low, except for hog products. We notice that dry goods are offered at very low figures, and cash customers in almost all lines can buy at a slight advance on cost and carriage. New Orleans is, no doubt, the cheapest place for our people to purchase at, and if freights were reasonable we would see a large increase of orders.

COTTON.

Our market has ruled quiet, easy and dull, with a decline of 1c. on Wednesday, ⅛c. on Friday, and ⅛c on Monday, and sales of 3,750 bales for the week; while the New York market, for three days, sold 2,815 bales at 12 3 16c. In Liverpool sales foot up 31 000 bales at 6d. for middling Orleans. The large buyers have nearly all gone, and the gathering at the Cotton Exchange is small. The amount offering is not probably over 35,000 bales; and much of that in small numbers. There is not much prospect of an improvement in prices for some time, and those holding have missed it this time. We refer our readers to the following tabular statements for further particulars.

DAILY EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

	Low Ordinary.	Ordinary.	Good Ordinary.	Low Middling.	Middling.	Good Middling.
Wednesday	7¼	8¼	9¼	10⅛	11⅛	12⅛
Thursday	7¼	8¼	9⅛	10⅛	11⅛	12⅛
Friday	7⅛	8⅛	9⅛	10⅛	11⅛	12⅛
Saturday	7⅛	8⅛	9⅛	10⅛	11⅛	12⅛
Monday	7	8	9¼	10⅛	11¼	12⅛
Tuesday	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....

DAILY QUOTATIONS AT THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT MARKETS.

Cross—Middling.

	Mobile.	Galveston.	Memphis.
Wednesday	11⅛	11¼	11
Thursday	11⅛	11¼	11
Friday	11⅛	11¼	11
Saturday	11	11¼	11
Monday	11	11¼	11
Tuesday	Holiday.	.....	.....

COTTON STATEMENT TO JULY 1.

Amount on hand Sept. 1, 1875 ..... bales		9,976
Received from that date to June 27, 1876		1,518,600
Received during past week		3,358
Amount of bulings from city gins and pickeries	18,398	1,570,762
Total		1,580,338
Exported from Sept. 1, 1875, to June 27, 1876	1,495 639
Exported last week	9,426
Consumed by factory and burned	1,370	1,506,435
Stock on hand and amount not cleared		73,903
Estimated stock on shipboard		24,000
Amount remaining unsold, about		49,903
Stock at all the United States ports		309,880
Receipts at all the ports		4,664,532
Receipts last year to date		3,436,457
Increase at all the ports		627,075

SUGAR.—Receipts very light. Market quiet, and gimlet rangers generally retiring to summer quarters. Prices: Fair 8¼c., fully fair 8⅝c., yellow clarified 9@9⅛c., white clarified 10@10⅛c.

MISCELLANEOUS PRODUCTS.

	From	To
Eggs, ₱ doz.:
Creole, good demand	—	18
Attakapas, demand fair	— —	12½
Western and country	— —	10
Chickens, ₱ doz.:
Creole, grown	$1 00	$5 50
Creole, half grown	2 00	3 50
Good fat country chickens bring 25 to 50c. per dozen less than Creole.
Wool, ₱ lb.:
Burry	10	15
Free of burrs	15	25
Beeswax, ₱ lb	27	30
Hides, ₱ lb.:
Green salted	6	7½
Dry	9	11½
Deer skins	25	28

CATTLE MARKET.

Choice corn-fed beeves are in demand at 4@5c. ₱ lb. gross.

Fat grass fed beef cattle sell readily at $25@$35 ₱ head. Poor cattle dull at $12@$20 ₱ head.

Fat calves, up to year olds, $7@$12 ₱ head. Poor ones very dull at $5@$6 ₱ head.

Fat sheep in demand at $3@$5 ₱ head. Poor ones unsalable.

Hogs, corn-fed, at 5@7c. ₱ lb. gross. Mast-fed dull at 3@4c. ₱ lb. gross.

Milch cows sell according to quantity of milk given. Choice dairy milkers, giving 4 to 5 gallons per day, $80@$100 ₱ head. Fair milkers, say giving from 1½ to 3 gallons per day, $35@$75 ₱ head. Common stock very hard to sell at $18@$25 ₱ head.

TIMBER MARKET.

Yellow pine logs, of 20 inches diameter and over, $6@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Cypress logs, sound timber, free from shake and pecks, and 25 inches in diameter, $7@$10 ₱ 1,000 feet.

Black walnut logs, averaging 34 inches in diameter, and not less than 14 feet long, $20@$25 ₱ 1,000 feet.

White oak logs, of 20 inches in diameter and over, $14@$18.

Poplar logs, of 20 inches and over in diameter, $5@$7 ₱ 1,000 feet.

(All rafts are carefully measured, and cubic contents reduced to board measure.)

Cotton wood.—For large sound logs, $2.25@$3 ₱ cord.

Ash logs, of 12 inches and over, $2.25@$2.75 ₱ cord.

Sycamore logs, $2.50 ₱ cord.

(Logs measured in cubic measure and contents reduced to cords.)

Demand is good for wood logs at present. There is an occasional call for magnolia, beech and cherry.

Report of Dealers' Cash Prices

AT WHICH

COUNTRY ORDERS CAN BE FILLED

REVISED AND CORRECTED WEEKLY

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

ARTICLES.	FROM	TO
Cotton scrapers	$4 00	— —
Cotton sweeps	3 00	4 50
Cultivators, Diam. and shovel tooth	6 25	9 00
Cultivators, riding and walking	20 00	35 00
Shovels and spades	6 35	14 00
Axes	9 50	13 00
Shovel plows	3 00	5 50
Half do., with cutters	6 00	8 00
Manly's double-shovel plow	5 00	7 00
Corn mills, Coleman's	120 00	425 00
H. J. West's corn mill	280 00	— —
Tunnard's corn and pea planter	15 00	— —
Cotton planter	15 00	— —
Wagons, Carts, Etc.:
Wagon, two-horse	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	100 00	115 00
Wagon, two-horse, thim. skein	65 00	75 00
Wagon, four-horse	90 00	100 00
Cane wagon	— —	200 00
Ox wagon	80 00	125 00
Ox cart, complete	115 00	— —
Cane cart	110 00	115 00
Tongue cart, complete	— —	120 00
Plantation cart	— —	85 00
Bagasse cart	65 00	75 00
Iron, ₱ lb.:
Swedes, assorted	7	7½
Hoop	4½	7½
Sheet	4½	7
Nail rods	9	10
Castings, American	4½	5½

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Bricks, ₱ 1,000:
Lake	10 50	14 00
Country	9 00	10 00
English fire	45 00	47 00
Lime, ₱ bbl.:
Western	1 50	1 75
Cement	2 00	2 25
Plaster Paris	2 25	2 50
Lumber, ₱ 1,000 feet:
Flooring, dressed	16 00	18 00
Flooring, rough	— —	16 00
Ceiling, dressed	10 00	12 00
Weatherboards, dressed	14 00	16 00
Weatherboards, rough	— —	— —
Scantling	10 00	12 00
Shingles ₱ 1,000	— —	3 75
Nails, best brands	3 20	— —
Smaller sizes proportionately higher	— —	— —
Glass, ₱ box of 50 feet:
French, 8 by 10	— —	3 50
French, 10 by 12	6 75	4 00
French, 10 by 14 to 12 by 20	4 00	4 25
French, 14 by 18 to 18 by 24	4 25	4 75
White Lead, best, ₱ lb	6	10
Paris Green, ₱ lb	30	— —
Pat. Dr'cr, ₱ lb	12	14
Whiting, ₱ lb	— —	1¾
Putty, in bladders, ₱ lb	— —	4½
Linseed Oil, ₱ gall	— —	70

SASH, BLINDS AND DOORS.

Size of lights.	Sash per pair. Unglazed.	Glazed.	Blinds, per pair.
Window Sash, 12 lights:
8x10	60	$1 70	$2 00
10x12	65	1 95	2 25
10x16	$1 00	2 95	3 25
Sash Doors:	Single.		Double.
3 feet x 7 feet	$3 50		$4 70
3 feet x 8 feet	4 00		— —
3 feet x 7 6 or 6 inches	— —		4 25
Panel Doors:
2 ft. 8 in. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —		$3 25
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	— —		3 45
3 ft. x 7 ft. 1¾ in. thick	$3 75		4 00

GROCERIES.

Butter, ₱ lb.:
Western, choice	25	30
Goshen, choice	30	32
Coffee, ₱ lb.
Rio, fair	18¾	19¾
Rio, good	20	21
Rio, prime	21½	22½
Java, choice O G	— —	34
Candles, ₱ lb.:
Star, best brands	— —	15
Chocolate, ₱ lb.:
Cocoa	38	60
Vanilla	18	33
Canned Fruits, ₱ doz:
Peaches, strawberries and pears	2 25	2 50
Corn Meal, ₱ bbl.:
Best, K. D.	— —	3 00
Cheese, ₱ lb.:
Western factory	10	12
N. Y. cream and English dairy	17	21
Fish:
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in bbls	— —	29 00
Mackerel, extra No. 1, in kits	— —	3 00
Sardines, quarter boxes	— —	15½
Flour, ₱ bbl.:
Superfine	— —	4 25
XX	4 75	5 00
XXX	6 00	6 25
Choice XXX	6 50	6 75
Choice family	7 50	8 00
Fruits:
Dried apples, ₱ lb	10	10½
Dried peaches, ₱ lb	9½	10
Raisins, ₱ quarter box	— —	80
Raisins, ₱ half box	— —	1 60
Raisins, ₱ whole box	— —	2 75
Bananas, ₱ bunch	1 00	3 00
Crackers, ₱ lb.:
Soda	5	6
Butter	6	7
Sugar	8	9
Gingernuts	9	12½
Oil:
Coal, in cans, best	23	26
Insurance, in cans	— —	50
Coal, in barrels, bbl	17	18
Lard, in barrels, best	1 10	1 12
Molasses, in barrels:
Common	— —	45
Fair	— —	50
Prime to choice	55	60
Golden and Roquet syrups	80	85
Half bbls. 5c and kegs 10c. more.
Rice, Louisiana, ₱ lb:
No. 2	— —	2¾
Ordinary	— —	4¾
Fair	5¼	5¾
Prime to choice	6½	7½
Soap, in boxes, ₱ lb.:
Keller's magnum	— —	5
Keller's Eye	— —	6½
Starch, ₱ lb	4	5
Salt, in sacks:
Fine	1 30	1
Coarse	1 05	1 13
Sugar, in bbls.:
Fair	8¼	8¾
Prime	8¾	9¼
Choice	9⅜	9¾
Yellow clarified	9¾	10
White clarified	10¼	10¾
Crushed	11¼	11¾
Powdered	11⅛	11¾
Spices, ₱ lb:
Alspice	— —	18
Pepper	— —	20
Cloves	— —	50
Cinnamon	— —	62
Tea, ₱ lb:
Black Oolong		1 00
Greeb Imperial		1 25
Tobacco, manufactured, ₱ lb:
Chewing, common	45	50
Chewing, fair	0	55
Chewing, prime	60	65
Chewing, choice	85	1 00
Smoking	40	1 00

GRAIN AND FEED.

Corn, ₱ bushel:
Yellow, shelled	78	80
White, mixed	— —	67
Oats, ₱ bushel:
St. Louis to Gulpons	45	48
Bran, choice, ₱ 100 lbs	— —	80
Hay, ₱ ton:
Prime timothy	— —	25 00
Ordinary	— —	20 00
Cotton Seed Meal	26 00	28 00
Cow Pea, ₱ bushel	1 50	2 25
Mixed clay	— —	1 50
Mixed sand clay	1 75	2 25

PROVISIONS.

Bacon, ₱ lb.:
Breasts	11	14½
Shoulders	9½	10
Sides, clear rib	—	11½
Sides, clear	—	12
Hams, sugar cured	14	15
Mess Pork, ₱ bbl	21 50	22 00
Dry Salted:
Shoulders	— —	8½
Sides	— —	11½
Lard, ₱ lb.:
Choice in kegs	— —	11½
Choice, in Cerces	— —	13

BAGGING STUFFS.

Bagging:
India	— —	11
Jute	13½	14
Ties, Arrow best, per bundle, at 30	— —	3 35
" dog and buckles	— —	3 30
" Bear	— —	3 40
Twine, hemp	— —	65

SUNDRIES.

Leather, ₱ lb.:
Sole, hemlock	27	28
Side, oak	35	40
Harness	35	45
Calf skins, Rogers	20 00	75 00
Texas, rough, ₱ lb	24	28
Fertilizers, ₱ ton:
Sterrett's raw-bone superphosph	65 00	— —
Sterrett's fine ground bone	45 00	— —
Cotton Seed:
In sacks	12 00	— —

DRY GOODS.

Brown Domestic, ₱ yard:
Standard brands, ¾	— —	8
Standard brands, 4-4	— —	9½
Bleached Domestic, ₱ yard:
Choice brands, ⅞	— —	7½
Choice brands, 4-4	10½	14½
Calico, ₱ yard:
Common brands	— —	15½
Sprague, Allen & Hamilton	8	9
Ticking, ₱ yard:
Common brands	10	13½
Good	19	22
Gunnebags:
Eight ounce	11½	12
Stripes	10	14
Checks	14	18
Denims	12	20

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Batchelor mud boots, ₱ doz	36 00	42 00
Common mud boots, ₱ doz	— —	30 00
Common brogans, ₱ doz	12 00	15 00
Batchelor brogans, ₱ doz	15 00	18 00
Russetts' brogans, ₱ doz	16 00	19 00

Special Notices.

THE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—Rev. F. M. Grace, A. M., once a professor in the East Tennessee University, and afterward president of Hiwassee College, puts into his paper, the Iron Age, Birmingham, the following notice:

"Hiwassee College closed its annual exercises May 25. We learn from the biennial catalogue that the number of students was one hundred and eighty-six, many of them from Alabama and other gulf States. There is no better school in the world for a boy than Hiwassee. Address President John H. Brunner, Hiwassee College, East Tennessee."

A Gem worth Reading!—A Diamond worth Seeing!

SAVE YOUR EYES!

Restore your Sight!

THROW AWAY your SPECTACLES,

By reading our Illustrated PHYSIOLOGY AND ANATOMY of the EYE SIGHT. Tells how to Restore Impaired Vision and Overworked Eyes; how to cure Weak, Watery, Inflamed, and Near-Sighted Eyes, and all other Diseases of the Eyes.

WASTE NO MORE MONEY BY ADJUSTING HUGE GLASSES ON YOUR NOSE AND DISFIGURING YOUR FACE. Pamphlet of 100 pages Mailed Free. Send your address to us also.

Agents Wanted,

Gents or Ladies. $5 to $10 a day guaranteed. Full particulars sent free. Write immediately, to DR. J. BALL & CO., (P. O. Box 957) No. 91 Liberty St., New York City, N. Y.

Religious Notices.

SEASHORE CAMP GROUND.—The Seashore Camp Meeting will commence on Wednesday, the nineteenth of July, and continue from eight to ten days.

The camp ground is delightfully situated upon the coast, two miles west of Biloxi, Miss., open to and fronting directly upon the Gulf of Mexico, enjoying the cool and refreshing breezes of the sea.

Persons visiting the camp meeting will leave the New Orleans and Mobile railroad at Seashore Camp Ground station, from which a shaded walk of a few hundred feet will bring them to the encampment.

Eligible lots for building will be furnished free to persons desiring to erect permanent tents, and can be obtained from the trustees, or the agent representing them upon the grounds, at all times.

All permanent tents are required to be of value of not less than $10, and must be completed at least one week before the commencement of the camp meeting. This rule does not preclude the use of temporary tents, constructed of cloth or other material for which pleasant positions will be assigned to all persons desiring it.

Favorable reductions of fare and freights on the railroad have been secured. On the New Orleans and Mobile road the fare from New Orleans to camp ground, for the round trip, is $1 50; from Mobile, the round trip, $2; and from all way stations at proportionate rates. From Pensacola, Fla., the round trip, $7 00.

The camp meeting tickets will be placed on sale at the offices of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, and at all regular way stations, on and after July 17, and continue good until July 30, inclosive. These tickets will not be good to return unless stamped by the agent of the New Orleans and Mobile railroad, who will be on the ground. This order will be rigidly enforced by the railroad company. The sale of tickets from local points on this road will begin as above, and at the same rates as last year. Freight will be carried from New Orleans and Mobile to camp ground at full rates, and returned free. Shipments can be made any time after July 16, and continue during the meeting. By the Margno road passage will be full fare one way only. By New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago road one and one-fifth the full fare only. Taking these cars, persons on making known that they are going to the camp meeting will have their ticket punched and retain it, and, having it stamped at the camp ground, will return on the same free.

From their new purchase of another hundred acres since the camp meeting last year, the trustees have made a large and desirable addition to the camp grounds, embracing several delightful and refreshing springs, cool and health-giving. The grounds have been cleaned up and improved generally.

Tents, pots, etc., have been provided for rent to persons or families as they may desire.

Provision has been made by the board of trustees, and under their supervision, for a good restaurant. Meals and lodgings will be furnished at reasonable prices. Use of bath-houses free.

Brethren of the Methodist Church, and of other churches, and the communities of the adjacent cities and country, are invited to attend the camp meeting.

Several Bishops and other ministers of talent and distinction from far and near are expected to be present, and to assist in conducting the exercises.

Persons are recommended to make arrangements for their comfort, before the date of the camp meeting, by application to any of the board of trustees: Dr. E. T. Grillin, Moss Point, Miss. William Otis and Hugh L. Hopper, Mobile; J. P. Keller, George W. W. Goodwyn, H. O. L. Rayne, H. S. Rickey, P. Halbran and W. H. Foster, New Orleans.

THE District Conference for the Montgomery district, Alabama Conference, will meet in Auburn on Thursday, July 27. The opening sermon will be preached at eleven A. M. As the meeting embraces the fifth Sabbath, it is hoped the preachers will arrange to stay till the close.

M. S. ANDREWS, P. E.

NOTICE.—The District Conference for Bethel district, Louisiana Conference, will convene in Bastrop, La., August 10, 1876.

T. W. CARTER, P. E.

THE Alexandria District Conference and District Camp Meeting will convene at the Castor Sulphur Springs, Catahoula parish, La., twenty miles southwest of Columbia, on the ninth of August, 1876.

Persons will please inform themselves fully as to the condition of their charges, so as to be able to answer the questions included in chapter 2, section 4 page 51 of the Discipline.

We would kindly impress upon all, ministers and delegates, the importance of attending this Conference and camp meeting. Ample provision will be made for taking care of ministers and delegates.

The Castor Sulphur Springs are unsurpassed for their superior medicinal qualities, the situation is all that can be desired, and we pray that the expected large attendance of the District Conference and camp meeting will be benefited bodily and spiritually.

S. H. COOPER, P. E.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF CENTENARY COLLEGE OF LOUISIANA.—The annual sermon will be preached on July 9, by the Rev. William E. Mosher, D. D.

Meeting of the board of trustees, July 10, at 9 A. M. Exhibition of Preparatory Department, July 10, 8 P. M.

Tuesday, July 11.—Meeting of the alumni, and delivery of diplomas to their graduates by the societies. Eight P. M.—Exhibition of the literary societies, followed by an address from the Rev. R. H. Rivers, D. D.

Wednesday July 12.—Commencement day. Speeches by the five graduates, and baccalaureate by the president.

C. G. ANDREWS, President.

THE District Conference for Selma district, Alabama Conference, will be held at Camden, Ala., beginning on the twenty-seventh of July, and including the thirtieth.

O. R. BLUE, P. E.

HOMER DISTRICT, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.—The District Conference for Homer district will convene in Arcadia, directly on the stage line from Monroe to Shreveport, July 27, 1876, and continue over the Sabbath following. The preachers in charge will please have their reports prepared, especially on those subjects mentioned on the fifty-first page of the Discipline.

JOHN A. MILLER, P. E.

NOTICE.—The camp meeting at the Union camp ground, Grove Hill circuit, will commence on Friday night, the first of September. A cordial invitation is extended to all who may be disposed to attend, and especially to our ministering brethren. Preparation will be made for the accommodation of all who may be in attendance. We hope to have a good attendance of people and preachers and a gracious revival of religion from the presence of the Lord.

HASDOM C. GLENN, Pastor.

GROVE HILL, ALA., June 14, 1876. 32

WESLEY CHAPEL CAMP MEETING. A camp meeting will be held, commencing August 25 and lasting some eight days, at the camp ground one mile north of Woodville, Lincoln parish, La. Preachers are especially invited to attend.

J. LANE BURDEN, P. C.,
22 Vernon Ct., Louisiana Conference.

THE District Conference for Vicksburg district, Mississippi Conference, will be held at Port Gibson, beginning October 12. Preachers in charge will please forward me the names of delegates and local preachers who will be in attendance.

E. H. MOUNGER.

MEETING OF THE PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.—The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will hold its annual meeting at the Seashore Camp Ground, July 20, 1876.

Appointments for Quarterly Meetings.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona circuit	Aug. 19, 20
Durant circuit	26, 27
Kosciusko station	Sept. 2, 3
Liberty (camp meeting)	9 10
Zilpha	16, 17
Attala	23, 24
Newport	30, Oct. 1
Richland	Oct. 7, 8
Ebenezer	14, 15
Black Hawk	21, 22
Walden	28, 29
Winona and Carrollton	Nov. 4, 5
Bellefontaine	11, 12

29 J. W. KNOTT, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Shreveport station	July 8, 9
Mooringsport at Mooringsport	15, 16
Caddo, at Long street	22, 23
Mansfield station	29, 30
Amaconco, at Beech Grove	Aug. 5, 6
Natchitoches circuit, at Price's place	5, 6
Natchitoches station	5, 6
Springville circuit, at East Point	12, 13
Webster, at Andrew chapel	19, 20
DeSoto (Bethel camp meeting)	19, 20
South Bossier	19, 20
North Bossier	26, 27
Pleasant Hill (Benton camp meeting)	Sept. 2, 3

6 JOEL T. HAYES, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Moreau street (Quarterly Conference), 7 P. M.	July 8
St. Charles avenue, at 7 P. M.	15
Algiers, at 7 P. M.	29
Baton Rouge	Aug. 5, 6
Plaquemine	12, 13
Lafourche	19, 20
Carondelet street, at 7 P. M.	19
Felicity street, at 7 P. M.	25
Louisiana avenue, at 7 P. M.	Sept. 2

6 J. B. WALKER, P. E.

RAILROADS.

NEW ORLEANS, ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO RAILROAD CO.

GREAT JACKSON ROUTE.

On and after October 31, 1875, AT 5.30 P. M., Trains depart and arrive as follows, from Carondelet street Depot:

DEPART.

Express	7.30 A. M.
Mail	5.30 P. M.

ARRIVE.

Express	11.30 P. M.
Mail	12.30 A. M.
Accommodation (on Monday)	10.30 A. M.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING-CARS THROUGH TO ST. LOUIS, CHICAGO AND CINCINNATI.

Only one change of Sleeping-Cars to Eastern cities.

Tickets for sale and information given at No. 22 Canal street, corner of Common.

A. D. SHELDON, Agent.
E. D. FROST, General Manager.

STEAMSHIPS, ETC.

European Passenger Agency.

VIA NEW ORLEANS, NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA OR BALTIMORE.

STATE LINE

Of New, Full-Powered, Clyde-built Iron Screw Steamers, combining all modern improvements of safety and comfort for saloon and steerage passengers. Sailing between New York Glasgow or Belfast, and embracing by first-class steamers Mth Liverpool, Londonderry, Hull, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Havre and Copenhagen.

WHITE STAR LINE.

New York, Queenstown and Liverpool. Sailing every Saturday.

ALLAN LINE.

Ocean Mail Steamers via Quebec and via Baltimore.

Passage, all classes, between principal points in Europe and America. Cabin accommodations unexcelled. Shortest sea route, superior ships, experienced officers and disciplined crews, strictly the governing rule. Three weekly sailings each way. Emigrant and steerage passage the very best in all respects. Through to New Orleans, Alabama and Texas at lower rates than by any other line.

Through tickets to any point in Europe. All classes at excursion tickets at reduced rates.

Prepaid emigrant tickets from any place in the Old Country.

Sight drafts from $5 up on any city in Europe, Great Britain or Ireland.

For circulars and other information, tickets or staterooms, apply to

A. K. MILLER & CO.,
35 Carondelet St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Tickets, drafts and coins sold at the very lowest rates. Saloon, second cabin and steerage passengers will find it advantageous to make arrangements at this office.

20,000

ORANGE TREES!

BY

W. R. STUART,

OCEAN SPRINGS, MISS.

LOUISIANA SWEET, MANDARIN, BRAZILIAN, grafted on sour stock, and SWEET SEEDLINGS, well rooted. Price, from 20 cents to $1 each, according to age and number wanted.

Also SOUR SEEDLINGS, for grafting or budding, and for ornamental trees, from 10 cents to 25 cents, according to number wanted.

Trees carefully packed and shipped to any point. No fruit tree will stand transplanting and transporting better than the orange.

I make Orange Trees a specialty. tf

ROSES 700 SUPERB VARIETIES ROSES
Half a Million Greenhouse Plants
Mailing Plants a Specialty
Illustrated Catalogue Free
E. Y. TEAS & CO., Richmond In.
6m

DRY GOODS.

Wallace, Cary and Co.

IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS

IN

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC

DRY GOODS,

11 & 13 MAGAZINE ST.,

AND

79, 81, 83, 85, 87 and 89 Common St.,

NEW ORLEANS.

Ask to the attention of the trade to their extensive and complete assortment of

DRY GOODS,

Dress Goods, Hosiery & Notions,

Now opening and being received by every steamer.

Liberal Terms to All.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO

CASH BUYERS.

LEVY BROS.,

580 MAGAZINE ST., NEW ORLEANS

THE MOST POPULAR

DRY GOODS HOUSE

IN NEW ORLEANS.

Keep constantly on hand a select stock of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS consisting of Bleached and Unbleached Cotton, Calicoes, Flannel, Dress Goods, Hosiery, Corsets, Ribbons, Cassimere, Heinlons, Merinoes, Blankets, etc.

A Specialty Made of Black Alpaca.

Our BELLA Kid Gloves are guaranteed, and money refunded or another pair given in case they rip or tear while putting them on.

Orders from the country strictly attended to, and samples sent if requested.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.

CAREFUL OBSERVERS

IN THE MATTER OF

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS

Will find it to their interest to examine

THE EXTENSIVE AND COMPLETE STOCK

OF

HOUSEWARE,

Of every description, kept by

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,

NO. 29 CAMP AND 116 COMMON ST.,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

And they will establish these facts:

1. OUR STOCK IS THE BEST.
2. OUR PRICES ARE THE CHEAPEST.
3. OUR METHODS ARE THE FAIREST.

With more than thirty years' experience in the Crockery trade, we claim a knowledge of the wants of this community second to no one, and can fill them better than any house in the Southwest.

Please note what a little money will do toward adding to your

HOUSEHOLD COMFORTS.

$7 00 will buy a White Granite TEA SET of 44 pieces.

6 50 will buy a French China TEA SET, same number of pieces.

10 00 will buy a French China Gold or Colored Band TEA SET, same number of pieces.

18 00 will buy an elegant Porcelain DeTerre (nearly equal to French China in appearance, and far more durable) DINNER SET, comprising 124 pieces, to wit:

12 Dinner Plates,	1 Soup Tureen,
12 Tea Plates,	1 Sauce Boat,
12 Soup Plates,	1 Salad Dish,
12 Preserve Plates	2 Covered Dishes,
12 Butter Plates,	2 Vegetable Dishes,
12 Tea Cups and Saucers,	2 Pickle Dishes,
12 Dinner Coffee Cups and Saucers,	4 Meat Dishes.

15 00 will buy the same assorted DINNER SET in the best White Granite Ware.

4 00 will buy the best White Granite CHAMBER SET, known as 11 pieces, comprising everything but Slop Jar and Foot Pots.

1 35 per dozen will buy the best White Granite DINNER PLATES.

1 25 per dozen will buy the best White Granite BREAKFAST PLATES.

1 10 per dozen will buy the best White Granite TEA PLATES.

1 00 per dozen will buy good Table GOBLETS.

1 75 per dozen will buy the best Pressed Table GOBLETS.

75 cents will buy a beautiful Glass BERRY SET, Sugar, Cream, Butter and Spoon Holder.

Plain French China DINNER SETS (first choice,) 160 pieces, $30.

Gold Band and Decorated DINNER SETS at extraordinarily low prices and everything else required for housekeeping in any style at prices within the reach of every one.

The above list contemplates first class, regular goods, of good shapes and sizes, and will give entire satisfaction wherever they are placed.

Charges for packing and drayage: Dinner sets, $1; Tea sets, 50 cents.

We invite inquiries. Catalogues sent on application.

W. C. SHEPARD & CO.,
No. 29 Camp street and 116 Common street,
New Orleans.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

GUARANTEED U. S. STANDARD.

FAIRBANKS'

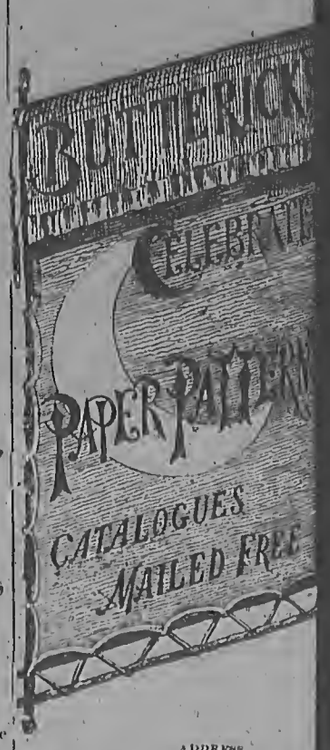
COTTON AND SUGAR BEAMS.

Branch House—83 Camp Street.

FAIRBANKS & CO.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LATEST STYLES



ADDRESS

The Singer Manufacturing Co.

91.....CANAL STREET.....

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.

Organs & Melodeons

The Oldest, Largest and Most Perfect Factory in the United States. Nearly 56,000

NOW IN USE.

No other Musical Instrument ever had the same popularity.

Send for Price Lists.

Address BUFFALO, N. Y.

The fact of ours being the oldest and largest factory in the United States, with more instruments now in use, is a sufficient guarantee of our responsibility and the merits of our instruments.

8p GEO. A. PRINCE.

JUST ISSUED.

OUR NEW

CHURCH RECORD

THE most complete Historical and Statistical REGISTER ever issued, comprising an Index Alphabetical Register for Church Members, Register of Official Members, of Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths; Register of Admissions, Quarterly and Church Conference; Tables for Collections; and an Annual Summary of Yearly Work, and Condition of the Church. The Register contains about 250 pages, size 15 inches; of good heavy paper, handsomely bound, and will be supplied to Churches for $5 each.

ADDRESS

ROBT. J. HARP, Agent,

NOS. 110 AND 112 CAMP STREET,

NEW ORLEANS.

CROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE

MOVED TO

NO. 5 CHARTRES STREET.

A NEW STOCK of the Elastic Stitch Stitch Machines, with a complete assortment of Needles, Parts, Attachments, Silk, Twist, Cotton, Linen Thread, Oil, etc., just received for sale at the lowest cash prices. The Goods are manufactured by and for the Baker Sewing Machine Company, and are the best in the market.

Caution to Our Patrons, Grange and Their Agents.

There are parties here who are selling duds of our goods, repainting and passing Machines to make them look like new, and them as such. No new goods of the kind can be purchased in New Orleans except at No. 5 Chartres street. Agents wanted at No. 5 Chartres street.

H.

The Christian Advocate.

PUBLISHED BY ROBT. J. HARP, FOR THE ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA CONFERENCES, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH SOUTH.

VOL. 22. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1876. NO. 28.

OVERBOARD THE TEA IT GOES.

A REVOLUTIONARY JINGLE.

O take your taxers home, King George,
Their tyrant rule is o'er;
We love our cup of tea quite well,
But we love our freedom more.

Chorus.—Then overboard it goes, my boys,
Where darkling waters roar;
We love our cup of tea full well,
But we love our freedom more.

So then we'll steep our roots and herbs,
And throw yours in the sea,
And let the shrimps and porpoises
Pay your taxes on your tea.

Chorus.—Then overboard it goes, my boys,
Where darkling waters, etc.

We'll let the shrimps and all such like
Drink yours down in the sea;
We Yankee boys are on a strike,
And we'll pay no tax on tea.

Chorus.—Then overboard it goes, my boys,
Where darkling waters, etc.

News of the Week.

DOMESTIC.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Mr. Cadwalader, the acting Secretary of State, presented Mr. Schlozer, the German minister, to the President, for the purpose of delivering an autograph letter of congratulation from the Emperor of Germany.

Mr. Schlozer, in presenting the letter, stated that he was instructed by his majesty to deliver upon the fourth day of July, to the President in person, an autograph letter of congratulation upon the occasion of the centennial anniversary, and wished to add his personal good wishes for the United States.

The President briefly replied, assuring him of his satisfaction in receiving this evidence of good feeling on the part of his majesty, and that his kind expressions for the United States were fully appreciated, and that the letter should be properly acknowledged. A translation of the letter is as follows:

BERLIN, June 19, 1876.

William, by the grace of God, Emperor of Germany, King of Prussia, etc., to the President of the United States of America:

Great and Good Friend: It has been vouchsafed to you to celebrate the centennial festival of the day upon which the great republic over which you preside entered the rank of independent nations. The purposes of its founders have, by a wise application of the teachings of the history of the foundation of nations, with insight into the distant future, been realized by a development without a parallel. To congratulate the American upon the occasion affords me so much the greater pleasure because, since the treaty of friendship which my ancestor, of glorious memory, King Frederic the Second, who now rests with God, concluded with the United States, undisturbed friendship has continually existed between Germany and America, and has been developed and strengthened by the ever-increasing importance of their mutual relations, and began an intercourse which is becoming more and more fruitful in every domain of commerce and science. That the welfare of the United States and the friendship of the two countries may continue to increase is my sincere desire and confident hope. Accept the renewed assurance of my unqualified esteem.

(Signed) WILLIAM.
(Countersigned) VON BISMARCK.

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—The ceremonies of unveiling the statue of Alexander Von Humboldt, erected by the Germans in East Fairmount Park, came off this morning. The officers and members of the Humboldt Monument Association and members of the different German societies—musical, beneficial and social—formed a procession at half-past seven o'clock, and marched to the spot where the monument is erected, where a large crowd had already assembled.

An efficient orchestra and a large chorus were present. The ceremonies were opened by the performance by Aist of an overture, followed by Beethoven's chorus, "Die Ehre Gottes," sung by musical societies.

The president of the Monument Association, Mr. George K. Ziegler, then delivered an address in German, at the conclusion of which he removed the flag which covered the statue. This was greeted with cheers. Mr. Ziegler then made an address in English, and presented the statue to the Fairmount Park Commission. "Deutsches Voelker Gebet" was then sung.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, July 5.—A fearful storm swept over this city last night. Rain commenced falling about ten o'clock and continued for three hours, with a solid sheet of water, accompanied by thunder and lightning. Death and destruction are visible on every side. All bridges on wagon roads and railroads were swept away, and no trains can arrive or depart for several days. Houses were carried down stream by the torrents and their occupants drowned. Cellars were filled with water, the streets washed out and live stock drowned.

The village of Rockdale, twenty-seven miles from this city, built in a ravine, on a stream, was inundated at the dead hour of night, while the storm was raging and lightning flashing, by the breaking away of a mill dam some distance up the stream, and every building in the place, save a mill, was carried down or moved from its foundation.

After the storm had abated forty-two persons were missing. Nineteen dead bodies of men, women and children were picked up along the stream. Search is being made for those still missing. The railroad bridge at this place was carried away and the road made impassable. All railroads have suffered with washouts. No trains arrived or departed to-day.

